Actually I have heard an argument about this and the explanation I am more okay by (recites in Arabic) certainly this is not an Islamic state. So you can't say you can't seek elective positions. Almost in every society now, we have one, one at least even a little are numbers of non-Muslims, let's assumes all the Muslims sit back and they say they are not going for elective position and all the non-Muslims goes and fix it and they happen to be those that are ruling over us. So how will you feel about it? It doesn't make, it's not rational. So I don't bud that idea.

KD2 [20348-20603]

No, Muslims are allowed to seek political office because only with that, they can govern well and provide to the citizens all they need in their society. So, there is no any form of claiming divinity when a Muslim tries to contest for a political office.

KD3 [16243-16552]

The statement Muslim seeking political offices in reality are contravening Islam and trying to claim divinity is false. You don't seek, at times, may be people might appoint and in a particular place where nobody can do the job, and you the one you are sure you can do it, there is no harm for you coming up.

KD4 [36539-37075]

This position is inaccurate, is unacceptable, it is unrealistic because we cannot say that as a Muslim when you are seeking a political office or in any office in a secular state, you are seeking for divinity or you are trying to contradict divinity. I disagree with this. If you look at our present president especially in Nigeria, he is a Muslim and you cannot say that because he is occupying a political office, he is no more a Muslim or he is contradicting his religion. It is totally unacceptable, unbelievable and we reject it.

KD5 [18719-19043]

Hmm I think this position is not correct and it may be correct. In an Islamic state or sharia state, appointment of leaders is based on nomination, but in a secular state, I think contesting for an, for a political office is necessary, as I said earlier. It's even obligatory for a Muslim to contest for a political office.

KD6 [33526-33931]

How are they doing mubaya'at to their leader, the so called the jihadist? How Abubakar Shekau gave one ah saying... What they mean by mubaya'a is that I elect you as my leader, I allow you to lead me. Is it not politics? What he sees that he cannot control it again. He gives it to the one that he knows that maybe he can control it. So, he submits to his what? His will. So he still he still has a leader.

KD7 [25365-25879]

You are see we are in a situation now where we cannot afford for Muslims not to come out and contest for seats, but in the election, they should bear in mind the promises they make because God will hold them to account for such promises. But they are allowed to come out and vote, is like you marketing your wares in a market and somebody prefers to buy yours over that of the other person. If you do not bring your market, your wares to the market, how we will know you are selling them talk less of to buy them?

KD8 [47440-47977]

Well, it is said that normally you are not the one that say you will occupy a particular office. You are not the one to say you seeking for a particular or a political office, but your behavior, your disposition, your knowledge, your humility should now make people to say you should seek for it. So in other words, is like you are not the one seeking for it, but it is people that are pushing you to seek for it because they saw you to be an instrument of change and if you refuse to do it, they are expected to force you to accept it.

KD9 [31544-32191]

In the society we live today that is not very accurate. True Muslims actually supposed in fact it is the true Muslim that should be seeking political ah positions now in the situation we find ourselves. It is actually true Muslim that would begin the step to making the society become a sharia compliant society. Is it a Muslim that doesn't know is left from the right that should seek political position? No. It is that Muslim that is conscious that knows Islam that should go in there and make the changes. So he doesn't like the society or the system that is why he is going there to make good changes it doesn't mean that he is leaving Islam.

KD10 [25336-25816]

Yes, according to the sharia a Muslim should not seek for political office. If you seek for political office Allah will not assist you, but if people ask you to go, if you are nominated that one is correct. You get me right? But not that it is that you seek for it. Like in Nigeria today people are seeking for the political office, is that not? And you see what happens at the end of the day hmm, but if they are nominated that you should vie for this post. Are you getting me?

KD11 [28399-28704]

Very inaccurate especially in our own kind of or in a situation and the reality in which we are finding ourselves. You mean if a non-Muslim feels he has ah he could contribute positively to the development of his religion and to humanity ah should indeed vie for any position, could vie for any position.

KD13 [12496-12509]

It is wrong

KD14 [15738-16265]

Yes hmm people should not seek elective office, but at times even though you don't seek elective office maybe that your particular community or state between the people there they might find you maybe you are the right person for the job and will ask you to come out and a situation you know maybe in that particular area maybe those that came up for that political places if they are not capable and you know yourself you are not capable and you want to do it sincerely there is no harm for you to come and say you can do it.

KD15 [23144-23315]

Ah true Muslim can seek elective so far he will be honest and he will be among the good ones. I think it is okay for a Muslim to seek for a sit in an office or something.

KD16 [13582-14177]

I disagree in totality with that because the concept of leadership is mandatory. Wherever there are people there must be a leader and how do we get to that position of leadership is through election, isn't it? And the scholars of Usul have said that (reciting in Arabic) if something is compulsory is mandatory whatever facilitates you reaching to that thing is also mandatory. So if the concept of leadership is compulsory, then to go the path that will take you to leadership is also compulsory, therefore, the concept of politics is mandatory to both Muslims and non-Muslims to participate.

KD17 [42300-43285]

Why should a Muslim not seek elective office in a secular state like this? Does it mean that we should leave everything to the non-Muslims? Then they will say one day leave your room then they will compel you to become a non-Muslim, don't you see that? How would we fight for our own rights? How will we fight for our own share of the booty, of the national cake if don't have Muslims in positions there that could also fight for our own rights? So why would you say Muslims should not contest for these posts? This is a democratic, like in Nigeria now we are practicing democracy and you have to come outside and campaign, contest, belong to a party. Although yes we know it is wrong in the Islamic state, there is no electioneering, no campaigning, there is a committee which I say the shura which conducts this electioneering affairs that does not mean that people should not come out and contest. This is the situation we find ourselves so we have to play according to the cards.

KD18 [20033-20160]

It is yes, the Muslim can seek a political power in a state or in a country to, in a country, in a secular state or countries.

KD19 [26297-26623]

No. I disagree that statement is not correct because in a complex society like Nigeria, if true Muslims or rather if Muslims decide not to seek for political office, they may end up being ruled by non-believers and the repercussion will be much. So in a democratic setting, Islam allows Muslims to seek for political offices.

KD20 [19988-20313]

A true Muslim can seek for a political office in the sense that if he has the qualification, and the people voted him and as far as he is going to follow the Sunna of the prophet of Islam (SAW) and when the people vote him, he should not try to divide the house or the state or the country, they should try to live in peace.

KD21 [18973-19159]

I don't think this statement is eh is accurate. If Muslims are not to, if Muslims are not to vie for political offices, then who is to represent them? Who is to fight for their rights?

KD23 [20136-20533]

No. I did not believe with this because Muslims should contest and ah look for position in ah political office because the world has changed because ah because ah they are not, because sharia is not on ground since sharia is not on ground that is it is politics that is on ground. So it is compulsory to contest and look for a position in the political office so that you will govern your people.

KD24 [62183-62217]

Is not accurate, is not accurate.

KD25 [81532-82248]

Hmn to some extent is accurate because since the prophet ah said eh you will continue to clamour for leadership, but if it will be a source of sadness to you on the day of resurrection so that is true. (he recites in Arabic) so to some extent ah Muslims aren't supposed to be ah seen to hastening to getting authority, but if somebody deserves it ah even if he does not contest it, but people said no, he must come out because they believe he is a good person ah then, not just through this ah ah politics or politicking kind of things that the politicians use money to, some most of them siphon them or embezzle public funds, but anybody who must have elected them should know that God will call him into account.

KD26 [23238-23413]

I don't think so. Muslims seeking political office to better the lives of Muslims is allowed, but Muslims seeking political office for their personal gains, no, no, at all.

KD27 [23669-23700]

I don't think it is accurate.

KD28 [28791-29459]

It is not accurate in the sense that Muslims should not seek any political offices is not accurate. Well if they know the implication of seeking political position, they should know how they are going to protect position of Islam whatever, is not on the personal interest, they should know the implication of whatever politics it is. Once you understand what politics is and you know if you are going to do it you are not going to go against Islamic injunction and you know you cannot go by the Islamic law and regulations and what is necessary to govern and Islamic or seeking political position where you know you will not be able to defend your Islamic religion.

KD29 [17421-17689]

The position that eh true Muslim should not seek for an elective position is a misrepresentation, is a misrepresentation and is un-Islamic ah Muslims should go for an elective position because it is through that they will exhibit their Islamic conducts and teachings.

KD30 [30740-31380]

I think it is accurate to a lot of extent because eh it is believed that ah if unless if someone has a hidden, has a hidden agenda you don't have to be coming out and be telling people that I am a trustworthy, vote for me. You see all these things are contradicting what it should be and that is not how it supposed to be, that is why it is always best to look at the, bring out the criteria, look at these criteria and see people that deserve to, that satisfied all the criteria so that we can be able to take the best out of them. I think this is part of the problem or the weakness of democracy which has brought us to where we are now.

KD31 [18684-18743]

That's that's not true because there is politics in Islam.

KD32 [25962-26632]

This is very wrong. This is very, very wrong, this is not Islamic teachings, so there is no any sharia law, there is no any sharia from Allah or his prophet that eh stops Muslims from participating in politics, there is none. So this are some of people that have little knowledge or that trying to sell their own selfish interest using the image of Islam that are trying to make such point, but this is not Islam and we have seen in many countries true people practicing Islam participate in politics. Like in Nigeria we have many Muslims participating in politics, so all these people spreading this they are saying it out of their own selfish manner not Islamic view.

KD33 [21865-21931]

Ahh well is not accurate Muslim are free to seek political office

KD34 [23482-23914]

Hmm that position is not accurate at all. Muslims should always seek a position, as I said earlier that is Nigeria is a secular state and each religion has its own representative in the society. If Muslims did not seek a political power that means we don't have a representative there, we don't have a voice there and we won't even put somebody that is good which is part of the teachings of Islam into the so called constitution.

KD35 [25297-25584]

I don't believe in that because there is a prophet of God who was seeking to be given a minister of ah is it agriculture or so, so if only a prophet should seek for that then no any other person will tell us that and we agree with that is just a rumor mongering, is just a blatant lie.

KN1 [54924-55370]

Scholars have made a comment concerning Prophet Joseph that is prophet Yusuf and there is a particular verse in the Qur'an on him it is a complete chapter suratul Yusuf when he interpreted the dream of the king at the end of the day he told the king you should appoint me the overseer of the academy or a sort of minister or prime minister of the economic planning or something of that sort. So he is a prophet of God what do you say about that?

KN1 [55438-55574]

Not my opinion, I am telling you the stand of some of the scholars concerning this position and they back their position based on this

KN1 [55628-55658]

They can seek elective office

KN4 [44868-44960]

No, it is not true. A Muslim can contest election of an office depending on his strengths.

KN5 [24898-25671]

No, it is not actually ahh I think there is one hadith I am not sure of its certainty it is saying (he recites a verse) that you should turn according to how the reign is turning, according to how the century or the time is going, you cannot say you are in an Islamic state if you do not contest for Islamic office then the rotten people might have contest Islamic even the Muslims we have rotten Muslims they might have contest for a good office and ah for the leadership of the people and may likely win at the end of the day bad practices are going to be much in a state; so also Muslim generally should contest and when political offices whether to try as much as possible to be stopping things that are being un-Islamic in the government activities of administration.

KN6 [28588-28830]

Is not accurate, true Muslim can, true Muslim will try even if this office is not good with the ashara, you will try to get this office and you will try to correct at least to give some corrections. So I will not agree with this statement.

KN7 [25044-25532]

It is inaccurate, very, very inaccurate in the sense that if you don't ehm, seek for this offices, how will you achieve them? How will you attain this position? You will never attain them in the sense that ehm in a political setting, we have the right to vote and you have the right to be voted for. If you don't seek for this position, how will you be voted for? And if another Muslim does not, does not seek for that position, how will you vote for him? So it is ehm, it is inaccurate.

KN8 [26746-26878]

I think it is wrong. Muslims are free to also context inasmuch as you see yourself to be capable as competent enough for the post.

KN9 [23458-23738]

This position is very accurate because anybody or any Muslim who shows his true intent on a position is clearly not eligible for that position. You are not supposed to advertise the position you wanted. It is the duty of the people to advise you to occupy a certain position, yes.

KN10 [17852-18146]

This is true because I can remember that prophet Mohammed (SAW) says that any person that come and say you choose me or you vote me for such office, don't vote him. It is you that you will choose a righteous person that can be in that office. So it is true. That is -it is a correct statement.

KN11 [24456-24966]

Muslim seeking political office in the reality are contravening Islam and trying to claim divinity, no when the question is trying to say when a Muslim seeks a political office he is claiming divinity? No. It is not true. And true Muslim should not seek elective office. To some extent you can say yes, you cannot say people to vote me but even prophet Yusuf, if you believe in yourself Prophet Joseph, that is Yusuf, he asks his people to make him to be in power, so if you believe in yourself, you can seek.

KN13 [27550-27871]

Hmm, I don't think it is accurate because definitely you have to seek political power, that is why we said it earlier, politics, Islam and society and the state, they are all related. So for you to actually be a Muslim and you want to be leader, you must seek political power, because even power is directly from Allah.

KN14 [21221-21394]

Yes, yes of course. True Muslims should not come and say you should ah you should vote for me. It is people that will assess him and say this is the kind of person we want.

KN15 [19770-20011]

Yes, Muslims should not ask for people to vote for them when they are you know looking into elections for an office, so their quality will determine you know the state of the state of quality for them to be voted or for them not to be voted.

KN16 [10580-10637]

Yes, Muslims should not ask for people for vote for him.

KN18 [40615-40645]

Is not correct, is not right

KN18 [40660-40771]

Muslims can contest and seek offices, and where-what of if that state is democratic? Is Islamic and democratic?

KN19 [24582-24655]

A true Muslims can seek elective because if truly they wish to deliver

KN20 [18441-18456]

Totally wrong.

KN21 [12108-12129]

It isn't accurate.

KN22 [25362-25401]

This position is absolutely in accurate

KN23 [16970-17183]

It is not accurate because in a secular society you just have to participate. You can even be a, you can, there is provision for a Muslim to participate in an act that is not Islamic to bring progress to Islam.

KN24 [16891-16911]

No it is inaccurate

KN25 [25984-26400]

This statement, this positional statement is very accurate. This is because during the time of the Caliphs it was assumed that anybody showing the intent for a particular position is not and I repeat is not eligible to obtain that position. It is only the people who would judge based on your character, your previous interaction with people and assume that you are fit for the mantle or title or specific position.

KN26 [25372-25412]

Yes they should. That is no-they should

KN27 [19181-19577]

I don't think it is accurate enough, accurate enough in the sense that if you don't vote, how will you be voted for? You have the right in a sharia state that is democratic enough, you have the right to vote and be voted for. If another Muslim does not contest, how will you vote for him? And if you yourself does not contest, how will you be voted for? So I don't think it is accurate enough.

KN28 [15356-15439]

Well I believe this is inaccurate and the statement itself is not really correct.

KN29 [183-223]

It is not accurate it is totally wrong

KN30 [15671-15709]

No I don't agree, it is not accurate.

KN31 [23291-23330]

Exactly Islamically that is how it is

KN32 [11420-11472]

Ah no sir I don't think this position is accurate.

KN33 [8943-8965]

No, it is inaccurate.

KN34 [14301-14378]

I don't think this is true. They are just all misconceiving the whole idea.

KN35 [15776-15921]

Actually if a true Muslim couldn't seek for political office then who do you want to be there? So the Muslims are the right people to be there.

KN36 [15972-16191]

True Muslims can seek electoral office but they should do their things that will not temper with the sharia or Islamic tenets or they should do their things that all will always support Islam or sharia in the society.

KN37 [14540-14588]

It is not accurate. It is not accurate at all.

KN38 [10553-10578]

Very wrong, non accurate

KN39 [18526-18566]

Actually this position is not accurate.

KN40 [15623-15796]

Good Muslims should not be seeking for elective offices because it is base on the qualities that he or she has that will make the people to appoint him or her as a leader.

KN41 [12987-13177]

This statement is accurate in the sense that a true Muslim should not seek for people or force people to vote him or rather he should be voted, I mean he should allow people to appoint him.

KN42 [29610-30674]

Allah has said that in order for us to live in peace and tolerance with one another, well no matter the situation we find ourselves, we should always fear Allah. There is no way we can do that if we are not transparent. So a Muslim is only going against the preaching of Allah if he is appointed in a position and he doesn't do his best. He cheats or he goes contrary with Islamic laws. Islamic laws have always said that people should, people should follow religious thinking. So if you are put in position of trust, you should do your best for the sake of Allah. So they are not punished for being in the post, they are actually punished for not doing justly while in the post not for being in the post. There is no, there is no sin in wanting to contest to better the life of people around you or to better the lives of your fellow people, your fellow citizens. The sinning there is for you now to get the post and for you now to do or for you to, what is it called, perpetrate yourself in office. That is the sin and not when you are contesting for the post.

KN43 [22770-22967]

This is a very wrong ah statement because even our Islamic scholars in Kano here are contesting for political offices and a number of them serve in different government, so this is ah, very wrong.

KN44 [17804-17882]

That are contravening Islam and trying, I wouldn't like to answer that question

KN45 [24795-25201]

This is also not accurate and is not part of Islam. I think there is no even any serious scholar yah in Islam that has ever even professed his view. Muslims are free, are free to seek ehh political offices through election even ah let's say if they don't, then how can they protect the right of the Muslims ehh in any democratic government. They must subject themselves to election and electioneering, yah.

KN46 [43446-43493]

Inaccurate completely, absolutely inaccurate.

KN47 [41992-42034]

This position I think is misleading also.

KN48 [13108-13283]

Yah I support the idea, because ehn if no matter what, it is so hard for them to still be following that their believe when they have already enthroned that state of theirs.

KN49 [23045-23205]

Actually every true Muslims have a right as long as it is democratic and constitutional to vie or to seek for any political office, no matter how high or low.

KN50 [11641-11665]

Ahh this is inaccurate.

KN52 [33438-34609]

Wow this position for me is not accurate because if you are talking about a situation, for instance, where you have Muslims existing as a minority in a giving political context, in a society, you know, how would the Muslims then address the problem of discrimination and marginalization if they do not participate in the process of decision making, you know? So by avoiding political participation and I think they are doing more harm or disservice to Islam as a religion. Why can't they be part of the system and then contribute their quarter to the development of their own religion and to addressing those problem of injustice or marginalization and discrimination they think they are experiencing in the society. So I think it is a must, it is something that must be done. Muslims must be part of politics, to participate in politics. I think the way I understand, the responsibility and burdens that come with leadership positions, you know, a true Muslim, a Muslim who is pious enough should avoid those positions, but if that is the case then what do you do, at the end of the day you will all have people who are not qualified to be in position of leadership.

KN53 [15415-15436]

It is not accurate.

KN54 [8698-8772]

Well in the modern world, Muslims must come out and seek elective offices.

KN55 [9539-9603]

Islam strongly believes in leadership, therefore not accurate.

KN56 [15604-15988]

Actually even going by contemporary times, what happened between Muhammadu Buhari and Goodluck Jonathan, you see there is no way that this statement can be accurate. Why because in the modern world where democracy is been practiced, there is no way that a Muslim would just go and sit at home and hope to be in the political process. Muslims have to come out and contest election.

KN57 [15342-15396]

I disagree with this. Islam we believe in leadership

KN58 [34413-34803]

Yah it is true, true Muslims should not seek elective offices like the way it is obtainable now because in Islam, we don't believe in campaigning, is part of the modern day democracy. As I said earlier on, in Islam leaders emerge through certain qualities they exhibit. A leader is chosen rather than selected. He is picked because of the certain qualities he exhibits. So that is it.

KN59 [28053-28616]

Actually I can agree to some extent to this position because power and divinity is stressed upon Allah you understand as a Muslim when you kind of want to like claim power as if you are kind of intervening into Gods affair's and God power, but to some extent you can seek for an elective office whereby not you particularly seeking for, but for people to kind of recommend that office for you, maybe due to your capability in that office or maybe your hali in Hausa your habit, your character the people can say ah sir we want you to contest for so, so office.

KN60 [26071-26227]

It is inaccurate actually, prophet Yusuf has sought for a political office and he was given and he is a prophet and a messenger of Allah and he does it.

KN61 [13040-13060]

It is not correct.

KN62 [41553-42075]

No. That is not true. Muslims should seek for whatever political office they find fit to actually seek for or they so wish because ahh in my understanding, in my belief, you understand, ahh Muslims can actually be the Alpha and Omega of a state or in a state through this political offices. Once a Muslim leader is actually ahh let me say, get that very chance to be in a certain office, the office of the governor, the office of a president, you understand, yah I think Islamic, an Islamic state can be run, yes, hmm mm.

KN63 [30689-31099]

Is not true. Muslims should seek political office. That is the only way they can guarantee the right of other Muslims. Okay if you have to go, move backward and allow others to take over ruling us, just bringing any law that doesn't abide by the Islamic principles, in fact Muslims should seek political office at least, it will go a long way to guarantee our own security, our own principle as a Muslim.

KN64 [22164-22221]

No. You can, you can, you can seek for elective office.

KN65 [27355-27370]

Is inaccurate.

KN66 [15917-15939]

That isn't accurate.

KN67 [16416-16665]

I think, I think it is not quite accurate because there are may be some situations in which a Muslim can asked because there may be, there was a companion of the prophet that asked to be appointed. So I think it is not, it depends on the situation.

KN68 [8256-8278]

This is not accurate.

KN69 [29541-29870]

Well if you take this to this Nigeria context, we can place it under doctrine of necessity because Nigeria as an entity, it is not purely an Islamic state and such we are following what we know as constitution. We are just following ah this constitution as Muslim because of necessity, because of that necessity, we can do that.

KN71 [50164-51578]

Very much inaccurate, very much inaccurate. In the Qur'an, Yusuf alayhissalam said to the Azeez,(he recites a verse of the Qur'an), he was a prophet of Allah, he is now seeking for a political office to hold and he was made the minister of natural resources in Misra. Abazab got to the prophet and said ya Rasulillah give me part of what Allah has offered unto you. The prophet (SAW) did not condemn him he only said Abazab (he recited a verse). It is not seeking the elective position that matters, but who are you to seek that elective position? Can you do it or you cannot. If you are convinced that you can do it, just go and do it. If you are not convinced, leave it to the one who can do it. But to say that when you seek an elective position, then you are contravening Islam, let me give you an example that you will understand, just a clear example. We are in a mosque that we wanted to pray, we cannot appoint a leader as we did not know ourselves and you know within yourself that you can lead a perfect prayer, what are you suppose to do? (you can head it) why? Should you refuse now to come forward and take over, then you have put the whole people in shambles. You are destroying them. So that is also in a state when everybody is shying away from leadership, if you know you can deliver, go and deliver it because when you refuse to do it then the burden of the... before that society will be on you.

KN72 [27139-27343]

Yes, in a situation where a state is an Islamic that is it is follow the whole Islamic teachings, no one among the people can seek for any office, but in a secular where there is Muslims and non-Muslims...

KN73 [27446-27865]

This is what I'm saying; if it is an Islamic state, there is no issue of election. It is only an issue of shura or council. They are the ones that appoint a leader from the people. So ai there is no anything that will make a Muslim to feel that let me be a leader because when you are satisfied that you'll be a leader, you just heard it just like from the sky that you are a leader unknowingly. That is how Islam is.

KN74 [38552-38674]

This statement is not, I am not agreeing with this, Muslim can seek a political office, he can seek a political office,

KN75 [41397-42016]

If a Muslim know himself personally that he can do justice among his people to hold trust amana for his own people, he can seek for political office, we take reference to what happen during the time of ehh the history of prophet Yusuf who said that they should give him a treasury to hold in Israel, in Egypt because of his own trusty but because of that, we can use that reference and any Muslim that have, is capable and is trustworthy of self should know that he is capable of holding any treasury in a government parastatal should hold in order for them to have a transition government among the Muslim community.

KN76 [29892-30225]

Well this position is inaccurate because if you ask all Muslim that they should not participate in an election or they should not seek any political offices, then you are relegating them to the background and there is no any other place in, there is no any society that or religion that can relegate its followers to the background.

KN78 [46228-47011]

I think the point of, there is an elaborate explanation by some of our Jurist in history, ah it is true, there is a clear text, there is a clear teaching of Muhammad (SAW) that discourage any person from vying, from aspiring to a political office, but of course, as I said earlier, the, the secondary source of Islamic sharia is there to serve certain purposes, and one of the purposes is to look into the deeper meaning of those primary teachings, and one of the option or one of the optional, one of the option they gave is the fact that if under certain circumstances, that person is by necessity the only person who is capable of having certain power, certain knowledge, of course, he would be ahh he is recommended ahh he is, he can stand a chance of either calling for a vote.

KN80 [36452-36603]

Is not accurate. Muslims ah all Muslims have the right to perform ahh their legal activities provided the activities would not temper and harm Islam.

KN80 [36662-36870]

Yes should seek because of the interest of his people, in order to protect the interest of the ahh ahh ahh people and whatever he would do in that particular position should be in consonance with the Islam.

KN81 [22436-22625]

This statement is wrong, it is wrong. Muslims can seek political office to defend their religious rights in a secular state. So nobody is restricted for a Muslim, you understand, no right.

KN82 [25610-26099]

This position is true because Muslims are discouraged from seeking political office, but he may be appointed if the society feel deemed, if they feel that this person deserves to hold political office. It is not bad when he is ah invited to run, but he himself is discouraged by the holy prophet to be seeking that office as what happen to Abu Zhar when he requested for the prophet to appoint him as one of the governors. Prophet (SAW) stopped him from requesting political office.

KN83 [16378-16524]

Ahh actually this statement is very wrong. Muslims can seek political office to help his fellow Muslims and unity of his country where he lives.

KN84 [19122-19277]

I strongly believe this statement is very wrong and inaccurate. Muslims have the right to seek political office either in secular state or Islamic state.

KN85 [24693-25321]

Ahh actually this statement is incorrect. I do not agree with it. Muslims today in a modern day democratic practice, nobody will be elected without coming out to say that I want to contest and in so many cases it is people ahh ahh group of people or people in the society that will say okay so ans so and so person should contest, therefore, people ah Muslims should come out to vie for elective offices, they should try to seek for election into political offices in order to protect and safeguard the Islamic principle. To say that when they contest, they are now trying to claim divinity is not true, no, no, no not at all.

ZA1 [27546-27592]

The positions not accurate, is not accurate

ZA2 [27129-27518]

Yes, that statement is true when we are going back to the teachings of emm the creator because by the teaching he said the prophet is even saying that whoever vies in for post he should not be given because he said he is giving fear to that person. That person that said give me this office, there is a fear that he may have something in mind that is why he want this office that is why.

ZA4 [42660-42999]

Yes sometimes you see some Muslims are very, they are good, they have good morality if they don't have power, but if they have power they become cheats, they become corrupt, womanizers, killers and all that. So you have ... into destruction for you not getting is better for you, is better for a Muslim to separate himself from leadership.

ZA5 [24472-24577]

No, no. You have to seek for office emm if not because of anything at least for the sake of your people.

ZA6 [58119-59187]

Ahh am not an Islamic scholar, but as far as I, as much as I know it is proper for a Muslims to seek political office only if he can bring about justice, only if he can be a good leader so to say, only if he can be a good leader. But Islamically amongst Muslim if you are looking for a, if someone is to, if there is a vacant position of which people are supposed to be appointed or elected, the person that comes to say I can do it usually is not the person that can do it, the people are supposed to look at the best person among that is in the Muslim situation now, the best person, the best scholar among and then appoint him as the leader. But in the this situation is a necessity now, where you have a lot of people and the best people are not even willing to come out and then as Muslims of course you cannot stay and say it is, you won't, you cannot, then definitely the non-Muslim will all lead over you that means the whole of the political offices will be held by the non-Muslims, so it is necessary for Muslims to come out and seek for political offices.

ZA7 [25688-26004]

Ahh well I don't think that is accurate enough because there is no way, there is no where in Islamic teachings that says Muslims should not seek political offices. So I think we have as much right as any other person to seek political offices and seeking of political offices does not mean we are claiming divinity.

ZA8 [57726-58831]

Yes, now in Islam is very true. If you are a true Muslim, you will not want, you will not come out for political office because there is a very very big burden attached to it. Now if, starting from ahh maigida, as a maigida, the responsibility of your wife, your children is on you, their will being, their protection, their welfare, their education, their feeding all is under you. Now you leave maigida, now you go to mai unguwa. If you are elected as mai unguwa, the responsibility of every living soul in that Unguwa is on you. God will question you for it on the Day of Judgment. When so, so person is this, what did you do as the mai unguwa? God will question you. Now come to ehm counselor, chairman, vice ehm senator whatsoever up to governor, are you getting it? So a true Muslim will run away from that because he knows the burden attached to it because if he is knowledgeable and he is a true Muslim, he knows that God will question you on every soul that is under you when you are a leader. That is why you see true Muslim, they will never ever come out to be seeking for political office.

ZA9 [29626-30264]

I believe things moved, we are since, there are exceptions to some certain rules. If Muslims should say because election is not allowed or is not encouraged in Islam, they should not contest in an election where they will elect people that will lead them, that means the process of getting a leader is restricted to other religions as such the Muslims will find it difficult, a bit difficult to practice their din. Yes, I think that point is just, we have like things we incorporate into religion and I think this point is part of this thing, we have election is essential, I encourage, I don't think that point is accurate. It is not.

ZA10 [28245-28433]

It is not accurate because in any state being it Islamic or secular state a Muslim is suppose to seek for that post because, like I have said earlier, Muslims should always be the leader.

ZA11 [9517-9642]

Well, starting with appointment of position in the society, according to Islam, you don't contest for it people see you fit.

ZA11 [23311-23577]

That's correct according to the teachings of the prophets (SAW); you don't aspire for the office, you don't aspire for the office. When they see the qualities in you, they call you upon for the office. So to some contexts, according to the teachings, it is correct.

ZA12 [14091-14217]

They should seek, but even in Islam we know that power is intoxicating just the way one catches himself when he is on power.

ZA13 [14319-14342]

I disagree with this.

ZA14 [18638-18834]

Why do you say a Muslim should not seek election into, ahm seek for position? It is wrong, everybody have the right to participate even not because of anything, but for the sake of his religion.

ZA15 [21873-22049]

I do not agree, why I am saying so is as a Muslim you are supposed to, you don't just sit down, you have to because the only way you can make change is to get those offices.

ZA16 [15457-15474]

Is not correct.

ZA18 [21368-21629]

No. This is not accurate. It is wrong. They can seek for whatever position. You know dama the essence of looking for this kind of or seeking for these positions is to make, is to make good use of them to do what is right for the populace, the entire populace.

ZA19 [28969-29867]

Well this position could not be as accurate as some people expect it. Of course it is accurate to fundamentalists, I mean those who uphold religions, I mean they upheld religions as do other affairs, but when you get yourself under the umbrella of a secular state; presidential system of government, parliament system of government and so many other forms of government, you cannot do away with actually ah, so what I mean, in essence, you cannot say Muslims should not seek for political offices because when they do not seek for political offices and dwell in that particular state, they will be dominated by the other non-Muslims of which it might reach to the extent where they might not be allowed to practice their religions, to embark in trades and so many other things peacefully and harmoniously. So it requires encouraging for Muslims also to participate in ah getting electoral offices.

ZA20 [18533-19226]

That one is all about timing, frames of reference, frame of reference of time. A Muslim who is asked not to elect not to seek for any elective post that was during the prophet (SAW) when things were alright then. You are not expected you know to ask for any post, to ask for leadership, to ask for any support to be given or be conferred with any title of leadership because then the society was decent ah, so today you know if you can take an arm to wage war in defense of you community then equally you have to take your time and ask for the position to defend your country, defend your society and community. This is where it becomes necessary for a Muslim to ask for elective position.

ZA21 [23004-23663]

This is inaccurate because as a matter of fact, it is necessity and necessity they say is a mother of convention. So whenever something is necessary you must do it. This electioneering campaign and politic and what have you, it has to do with necessity. If we are not trooping to go into politics certainly non-Muslims will cover all the places and they will be seeking for political office and eventually they will be our leaders. When they eventually emerge as our leaders they will do whatever they feel like doing. So it is a matter of necessity for all Muslims to come out and participate and partake fully in the issue of politics and elections.

ZA22 [21085-21295]

It is very inaccurate because if you have two evils one is greater and one is lesser you have to go for the lesser one. If Muslims resist all these political offices, what do you think the situation will be?

ZA23 [29105-30279]

Well there are sayings of the holy prophet (SAW) that who come out to contest for any political office we should not give that office to him. And the Qur'an also informs us of the prophet Yusuf scenario. He was the one who said he can accurately handle the store. He contested for it and he was given. So if you will merge the two it depends on the situation you find yourself. If we are living in an ideal situation, then a true Muslim should not come out to contest elections for any post. If you are due for it, people will nominate you. but in a situation where if you didn't show your interest and you can do better, the way Islam wants the leadership to go about you can do better and you didn't show up and people may not say ah let that person come up even if they will say you must contest, because the only thing they will do if you say no I will not spend my money to buy nomination form as it happened in Kano, when Mallam Ibrahim Shekarau emerged to be the contestant of governorship election, he was not the one who bought the form for himself. It was people that gathered money and bought the form for him. Do you get that? But he must go for the campaigns.

ZA24 [35414-35788]

In fact in Nigeria here for example we cannot fold our hands and say since Islam does not allow us to vote and seek for political office so we should not contest. It is said if you are not there how can you ask how they shared it. If you are there you can even correct one mistake out of a hundred mistakes therefore you have done something. You have corrected a mistake.

ZA25 [31175-31437]

I will tell the person which kind of system. In an Islamic eh if it is an Islamic state, yes you are free to make yourself available to serve the state. But if it is in a secular system it is just based on laluri that Muslims are allowed to vie for a position.

ZA26 [15641-15771]

Muslims should strive to have elective office to show a good moral, to show they are good mind so that others should follow them.

ZA27 [14124-14261]

No actually since we are in a secular society if somebody is pious and he knows he can govern such person can go ahead and seek for it.

ZA28 [27130-27317]

Hmm well in a setting where somebody will be in a position by vote, if it is by vote here I say it is necessary for a Muslim to seek for a position, if it is by vote. So he should seek.

ZA30 [50423-50441]

It is very wrong.

ZA31 [21612-22047]

It is not accurate; it is inaccurate, which all I can say it is not true. Religion, Islam didn't stop you or didn't stop anybody from joining politics, but what Islam, what Islam is saying is that if you know, if you know you are a true Muslim and you can treat people equally without bias, you can lead people, you can join politics. If you know that you can't control yourself, you will be biased, so Islam is advising not to do so.

ZA32 [56512-57124]

Ah is not true. True Muslims can seek for elective offices, if you look at the even the Yusuf alayhissalam, he asked that they should be put as what, on the treasury of Muslims, on the treasury of that, ah at that time, king of Misra, he said (he recites the Qur'an). He asked that they should be put as a leader, he requested and he was given. Once that person knows that he will be, he will be just-ful, you understand, and he will try to bring some positive issues, which will support the lives of humanity, so it is expected, it is even recommended to ask for leadership, for elective office, that is that.

ZA33 [15710-16031]

This position to me is not an accurate position. Islam allows Muslims to seek whatsoever positions they feel like seeking as long as seeking that position does not contradict the teaching of the holy Qur'an and the Sunna of the prophet (SAW). So therefore they should seek all kinds of elective office from head to toe.

ZA34 [34286-35577]

Exactly, as I explained at the beginning that one of the problems of our state or our country is some people try to maybe join politics with religion. It is because I am a Muslim, I belong to this group, I do, do this that is why he wants to use such to seek for that political office. In reality politics is different, religion is one side. Somebody can be elected based on his character and behavior, how did he interact or how did he come about connection with other people. Then what did he do before and what is he doing now that is what people are supposed to look at not because of he is religion of this, he is a religion of this, no. Rasul (SAW) never appointed somebody because he belongs to this but he looks at your capabilities. Can we remember when Mu'azu bin Jabar (Rabiyyalahu) and one of the best companions of the prophet (SAW) came to prophet (SAW) and said oh Rasul (SAW) make me as a leader to my community, Rasul (SAW) said oh ya Mu'az anta rajulin da if -you a weak person you cannot lead. So don't look at your relationship with somebody but look at his character. Rasul (SAW) clearly told Mua'z if it is to abide by what maybe you are close to him, Mua'z is very close to Rasul (SAW) he could just have appointed him, but he said you are weak. That is that.

ZA35 [14598-14607]

No idea.

ZA36 [22132-22356]

hmm toh, it is based on their faith I can say, it is based on their faith. If they are faithful, they know they can handle it, it is ok, but if they know they would deviate, toh it is better that they don't even go into it.

ZA37 [29780-29827]

Why not? Muslim can seek for elective offices.

ZA38 [33509-33851]

I disagree with that. All Muslims should seek for a political office, actually it is not normal, you could allow people to take you for you to represent them, we are in the era whereby this issue of democracy have overshadow almost all our activities in life, our political activities in life, then we must seek for these things, we must.

ZA39 [45094-45685]

Actually under, strictly speaking under Islamic law or under sharia or under Islamic state, a Muslim or a person should not seek office to govern the affairs of people rather it is the people that would look for him to come and govern their Affairs, but where in a democratic state which Islam is not fully operational, a Muslim by the condition that is the condition of democracy or as we said under a democratic state, has no option. If standing is the only way you can be recognized to attract people to vote for you, then as a Muslim also is allowed to do the same like all other people.

Th11.7: Political Leaders Usurping God's Sovereignty

FG1 [40436-40453]

It is not true

FG1 [40455-40826]

For me it may be true because the moment you mount he mantle of leadership, the leaders usually see themselves as semi-gods in the system so they usually, some of them, even in Islam, even in the religion now we have scholars that are at their peak so they will see themselves as people given authority and that those authority must be abide irrespective of any

KD1 [47426-47820]

That's not true because even in the holy Quran Allah (SBUH) said (he recites the Qur'an) he says he will send to the world a vicegerent. So you can't say because, you can't even, you can't share in God's sovereignty, so that's not a possibility, when we are talking about sharing God's sovereignty as in making laws. But that does not change God's sovereignty, so I beg, that's not correct.

KD2 [18931-19163]

Political leaders are not usurping God's sovereignty because what they do is purely human activities, they are not engage in spiritual activities or spiritual leadership, only God has sovereignty, God is supreme, Allah is supreme.

KD3 [14655-14869]

Yes sovereignty belongs to God and my comment on, yes that all political leaders are usurping God's sovereignty is that yes people are ruled based on, that is people are given rulers based on their own character.

KD4 [30953-31898]

In Islam sovereignty belongs to Allah but if you look at the secular state or the, what I call the contemporary federal democracy or liberal democracy in which we are practicing or emulating, if I can use that word, from the western culture whereby sovereignty totally belongs to the people. That is in the case of Britain and then in the case of England, you say that the sovereignty belongs to the Queen or the King that is when they practice the monarchy system of government. So you will see that there are two different things, they are too different, they are diametrically opposed. In an Islamic state, sovereignty belongs to Allah which is totality, which is totally accepted. Sovereignty cannot belong to the people just as the liberal government perceives or sovereignty belongs to the king, the monarch just as in the monarchical system of government. So you see that both are two different things and you cannot merge them together.

KD5 [16570-16875]

Yes, sovereignty belongs to God as it is been told in Islam that Allah gives leadership to whoever he wishes to and he takes it off whoever he wishes to. So, I think leaders are not usurping God's sovereignty by leading, but rather they are exercising the burden that Allah (SBUH) put on them. That's it.

KD6 [31650-32163]

Sovereignty belongs to Allah for he has his own, let's say subordinate, Lord, am not saying subordinate please astaghafurullah, he has his own Khalifa. I don't know how to put that in English, Khalifa means his representative. Allah says I, even when the annabi Adam (alayhis salam) was coming to the world, God call him his representative, to represent him not his subordinate, to represent him. So, all our rulers are representing Allah because he is the one that give them, nobody can give that except Allah.

KD7 [23523-23814]

Sovereignty belongs to God. The rulers or the governments, they are not usurping God, they are servants of God, they are there to practice their own, they are there to practice God's worship in that position where they are, we are all under God and we are given different responsibilities.

KD8 [44861-45582]

Yes, it amounts to, it may amount to usurpation. Usurpation in the sense that when they are compelling you to do those things that God said you should not do, it amounts to usurpation, you know, usurpation in quotes because nobody can usurp God's power, but it amounts to usurpation of God's power because God is saying, he is saying that you should not do this, another person is saying you should do it. Like gay marriage, God is saying you should not do it, they are saying that you should do it. So, it amounts to usurpation which a Muslim cannot tolerate that, yes, All those things that are, that are forbidden by God, nobody can compel you to do them as a Muslim, you will not agree and you will not believe that

KD9 [28694-29149]

If you are a Muslim, you are a leader and you are following the rule ah you are obeying Allah, you are a leader in this world you are not usurping Allah's command or Allah's ruler-ship or leadership, but as it is I don't, I can't get it. But you are not usurping his power. You are still under Allah because you know Allah is the sovereign, he has the sovereign power. So you are not if you are a Muslim definitely you are not. You know you can't. Aha so

KD10 [22791-22968]

Sovereignty, you mean the kingdom belongs to Allah alone? Yes everything belongs to Allah alone, everything, everything in the samawat and the earth it belongs to Allah alone.

KD11 [25747-26155]

In Islamic state sovereignty belongs to God and in the secular state depending on such state, some vested it in the constitution like in the case of Nigeria and other states vest sovereignty in the hands of the people, whichever way you want to look at it either from the secular prospective or the religious, sovereignty means supreme law, the supreme power, where the supreme power of land is vested in.

KD13 [11532-11543]

Accepted.

KD14 [13944-14139]

Yes it belongs to God and anybody that is there has to, sovereignty belongs to God and political leader that it is in that particular position is just ah is more or less a representative of God.

KD15 [20627-21037]

Ahm actually what I can say about this is that, God cannot come down from heaven and rule us. There must be a messenger, as I said earlier on, God send down some messenger and prophet to us to lead us so in a state or a community or a country there must be a leader to guide the followers. So sovereignty of ah politics or whatever is okay so far as it won't go against the law of God so everything is okay.

KD16 [11675-12096]

Actually to some extent I disagree although people capitalize on the verse of the Qur'an that says (quotes the verse) truly that it is because it is the wordings of Allah (SBUH) which cannot be corrected, but if somebody manipulated maybe rig an election in other to occupy an office and you now associate that to Allah (SBUH) that is a different thing entirely because you don't associate what is wrong to Allah (SBUH).

KD17 [38127-38895]

Yes, the power belongs to Allah, but you no human being, human being can do anything to get to some post. Does it mean that if person kills people just to get a post he is usurping the sovereignty or it is the will of Allah, then you just leave it like that. Somebody cheats to pass an exam and you know he passed the exam, he presented the result that he passed the exam, does that mean that he knows the course? He cheated, ... no, no, no but by the time you try your best, you read and you pass that exam that's all. So it does not mean that because you are in political power or because you squeeze your way to get political power you are putting the will of Allah. Yes it is because Allah has already willed it that you are there, but you are not doing right thing.

KD18 [17928-18058]

Yes, the power belongs to almighty Allah and he gives some parts of his power to whoever he wishes to give it to. Yes that's it.

KD18 [18103-18112]

They are.

KD19 [24301-24554]

Ah yes, it is only Allah that is sovereign and this sovereignty of God here in the planet are given to the people, so if the people decided to give full authority and sovereignty to a leader, they are not usurping God's sovereignty, in my own opinion.

KD20 [17808-18064]

Yes, I think all power belongs to Almighty Allah and he gives them all to whoever he wish to give it to, and whoever in charge of the government that they are exercising the power, so it's Allah that put them to be there, everything belongs to Allah (SBUH).
KD21 [15929-16225]

I don't think they are usurping God's sovereignty when they rule, when they rule. Allah (SBUH) can't come from up above and rule. That is why he has sent his prophets to mankind upon them to lead. After the prophet we have our Caliphs that have been leading men bounded by laws not to go astray.

KD23 [18169-18335]

No ah I think I did not believe on this perception.

KD24 [56172-56538]

Yes. Allah (SBUH) says in the Qur'an (he recites in Arabic) Allah is the one that use to choose within his eh angels, he used to change, choose that some are superior than some, than others. Likewise the human beings, Allah (SBUH) use to choose some people that they should be pious or they should be the leaders or they should be the richer ones, things like that.

KD25 [77629-78243]

Ah it is not done, you see Allah, God's supremacy or sovereignty is unique no one dare compete with it. He is our God, he is our Allah that we worship, he has neither beginning nor an end, he is the topmost above everything, he is the bottommost beneath everything. Yes there is no time that he started and he will continue to be forever and any other thing besides him dies because that thing or anything is Allah's creation. So really ah there shouldn't be any correlation eh ah as to sovereignty between that of God and that of man, I mean is even is even, is indescribable so to say and is incomparable, yes.

KD26 [20154-20459]

Political leader are just there to guide they are not lords. You don't worship them.

So you are not ascribing partner to God, you just respect them because and if they don't do good, you look for a way to take them out, ut you don't worship them, so I don't think they are usurping God's sovereignty

KD27 [22442-22726]

Yes sovereignty is God's and they are supposed to be his-man as, man himself is the vicegerent of God on earth. Leaders are supposed to exercise the rules as set out by Allah and his prophet (SAW) over the society and the communities. So thereby exercising-being his Khalifas on earth

KD28 [26394-26809]

Well I can comment on it in the sense that this is the reason of the set back in the Islamic political government because all the politicians I am sorry to say if the fear of God, they don't even know what God is and then they should go, whatever belongs to God they should give it to God, they should take that yes everything now is in their hand because they don't have believe in God, the politicians of course.

KD29 [16147-16301]

Well ah based on Muslim teachings and belief, a leader is being ordained by God. It is God that makes a leader to emerge based on existing circumstances.

KD30 [27705-27927]

Ah sovereignty is attribute of God given to human to lead their fellow human beings towards greatness in ahm in justice and fair play I think we should ah look at this as a responsibility to lead in justice and fair play.

KD31 [17469-17556]

Because yah some people go beyond what is expected what is expected of them that's it.

KD32 [25045-25440]

This is totally unacceptable ah because in a politics when you elected somebody he is trying to go beyond his own power, I think according to the definition of democracy you have your own ways of removing that leader, so anybody who goes beyond the power that given to him so it is their own rights to remove him and show him his own limitation so he should not abuse the power, there is limit.

KD33 [20295-20363]

Well I don't have, I didn't agree with it, I didn't agree with it.

KD34 [21556-21874]

Hmm it's it's a little bit deep, but the way I see it is that sovereignty belongs to Allah yes exactly and Allah is the ruler of all, but there are the way people control because it is Allah that will give them that authority to even rule over people because if Allah did not even give them they won't rule over people.

KD35 [22855-23344]

Ahh I don't agree with that because eh you say you organize rules and regulations on how you interact with each other without tempering with God's law and regulations. Let me cite an example, you cannot drive in a state without driver's license, driver's license means a government of that place is satisfied that you can drive properly without causing hazard to other people, so the moment you abide by that, that means you are conducting yourself properly and in God's adherence of law.

KN1 [51657-52136]

There is no go come about it sovereignty belongs to God, he is the sovereign. He is the one that created the earth, created the man, created everything so he is sovereign. So now it depends upon what you mean by sharing the sovereignty of God because you will beeee...like now let's say if a child is obedient to his father that means he is comparing his father with his God? A times you have to look under common sense and logic, what does that mean and how do you interpret it.

KN2 [28772-29057]

Well to some extent since human beings live within human beings there is no way any person can lead other than human beings. God has appointed man, human beings, mankind as his vicegerent on earth. So whoever becomes a leader is only exercising the powers of God, not his own powers.

KN4 [42377-42855]

No, because God use human being as his servant to explain in details the cause and the power of God. They do not take the position of God being political leaders. God's sovereignty is sovereign, they do not take the position of God, and the government is there you can establish it and God can only -you can only be accounted on what you did.

KN5 [21307-21987]

No. Allah (SBUH) says (he recites) that he wants to put a vicegerent on earth and those people are just vicegerent of God and they are just working if they- if as a leader you work as Allah (SBUH) has ordained, you are obeying and you are worshipping Allah. If you did not then you are not worshipping Allah but rather you are causing eehh punishment to yourself. So sovereignty remains to Allah (SBUH) at whatever law, but just being a leader does not make you to have a sovereignty that is as powerful as that of Allah. You are also a subordinate to Allah (SBUH). This, the good leaders Muslim leaders should be bearing in mind.

KN6 [24998-25569]

Yes sovereignty is from God, is only limited from God whether you are Christian or you are Muslim or Muslim, both Muslim and Christian know this issue, so we can only show this, we can only display this statement by following the teachings of our both or the teaching of our religion because, for example, our Islamic religion is from God so when we follow all this teaching, all what is stated in this book so already the sovereignty is from God, because he is the one who tell us how are we going to manage all our resources, how are we going to manage all our people.

KN7 [22058-22563]

Hmm yes ehm, what is ehm Allahu wahidan? In Islam we have one God, we have one God and the God is the most high and most supreme. He creates everyone. So yes there is no doubt about it. The fact must not be overemphasized, yes he is the ruler and ehm the number one ruler and every human being, I think, that is a believer should ehm let me say, most especially, should if he is a Muslim, I think Christians too do believe, yes we have one God, so yes I don't think there should be much comment on that.

KN8 [23346-24258]

Yes, I think God himself cannot come down to rule us. There is need for him to appoint some leaders. This obeys the conceptions of some theories they the divine rule, the divine right of kings which says they are ruling on behalf of God. God is the one that appointed them then everybody must comply with their willingness and this could also be referenced to a chapter in the holy Bible Romans chapter 13 vs 1-3, that let every power that belongs to the almighty for there is no God except his representative and whosoever disobey, you understand, has disobeyed God and such person would find him or herself in damnation. Such could be referenced to Romans; it is in the book of prophet Isah (alayhis-salam) which is bible. So I think the representative of God should be complied with, they are the ones that are representing God, Such as all our leaders and so on. There is nothing bad in complying with them.

KN9 [21738-21961]

This statement is not correct because ah I believe ah Allah (SBUH) in his infinite mercy only grants rulers a very small portion of his power. So it is just a portion given to them. It is not as if they forcefully take it.

KN10 [16366-16587]

No, this statement is false because there are-even the prophet is just-during his time is the leader of the world and after him there is some Khalifas, so if you, I don't think if this statement is ah accepted like that.

KN11 [22279-22528]

No, ai we are all ehn Allah (SBUH) created Adam as his Khalifa, as his Khalifa ko so that is successor not meaning Allah (SBUH) is like man but he has become his successor on earth so when we became a leader, this does not mean you are equal to God

KN13 [24922-25116]

Yah sovereignty belongs to God even because all these Khalifa they are like vicegerents of God on earth. They serve as representative on earth. So definitely sovereignty first belong to Allah.

KN14 [18835-18943]

Yes of course ah they are using sovereignty because of the power of the ah rule ruling ah what should I say.

KN15 [18503-18619]

No, sovereignty belongs to God only, therefore political leaders are not usurping God's sovereignty when they rule.

KN16 [9489-9595]

No, sovereignty belongs to God only; therefore leaders are not usurping God's sovereignty when they rule.

KN17 [24860-25088]

Yeah sovereignty belongs to God because all political leaders are just like a vicegerent of God on earth, because even the Caliphs' then when Prophet Muhammad (SAW), they are just like eh servants of God ruling people on earth.

KN18 [37521-38576]

his divine right of king and other things is in monarchical set of or theological set up. In those kinds of monarchies, they find their power and source of power from authority from God from there. If it is in a normal secular, normal contemporary secular state we have in this modern world, what is happening today now okay, you cannot say you cannot say that ah ah right ah order okay, or the law, I mean en, the right to rule is from God and that therefore you will not comply with ah with provisions of constitutions and a constituted authorities devoted for you. Is it not the sovereign right they gave you they legitimise you position, they give you their consent through vote. If it is Islamic state, on what basis, and we have discussed previously, you asked me a question on the method upon which Islamic state should be ruled, I said it should be democratic and democracy could find a base in Islam. It is out of consensus, is that consensus from the council, from the supreme council that accept this one should be leader, is that not voting?

KN18 [38590-38954]

Are they not giving him consent? Is that not representative? He is now their-are they not representation of the general society? Therefore, from a wider context Islamic state could be ruled using democratic ideals, using democratic ideas, let's not feel that the sovereign right or the sovereignty is divine and therefore you are not answerable to all the people.

KN19 [22759-22856]

No. God himself cannot come down to rule over the society they need to appoint over some people.

KN20 [17032-17306]

Ah there is a difference between an Islamic state and a secular state. Sovereignty belongs to God in an Islamic state, but in a secular state the constitution is always the supreme. So you should follow the rules and regulations which is the constitution in a secular state.

KN20 [17426-17457]

Yah that is true that is true.

KN21 [11116-11218]

Ah no individual has the power to keep or hold something to himself all power belongs to God almighty

KN22 [22192-22281]

Yah, sovereignty belongs to God because the power, the absolute power belongs to God.

KN22 [22381-22732]

you see Allah has said it already that I will send my prodigy to this world to represent me and I would-am having the power to choose among you those that will lead you and I will also give them the power to lead you. I will give them some attributes from my attributes. I will give them some knowledge from my knowledge. So sovereignty is from God.

KN23 [15556-15607]

No, no, because Islam itself recognize leadership

KN24 [15952-16039]

Yah sovereignty belongs to Allah and there is no way leaders can cease power from God.

KN25 [22958-23029]

This is very true. Absolute and true sovereignty lies in Allah (SBUH).

KN25 [23117-23420]

No that is the point, I will get to that. Allah (SBUH) in his infinite mercy only granted them a portion of this power. They do not cease the power. So it is like issuing bye-laws, you understand, it is delegated authority. So and among this power it is just the minutest that has been given to men.

KN26 [23061-23191]

No, yah the first part where sovereignty belongs to God is a clear position of the Islamic state but the second half of it, no.

KN27 [17206-17379]

Yes sovereignty belongs to God but there is Islamic verse that says yes the rulers are the people that he sent to earth to rule. So I don't think this statement is correct.

KN28 [13949-14202]

Well from my own point of view I believe everyone knows that the above leader is the creator and everyone who is a leader goes with the principle of the creator himself. And he knows he has never got any option than to go with the rules of God himself.

KN28 [14312-14315]

No

KN30 [14867-14891]

I don't agree with that

KN31 [20745-21093]

No when we say sovereignty belongs to God which means all powers are in God. It is quite different with the sovereignty that people have. It is just that they are having sovereignty over the people and it is the people that give them that sovereignty. That is they gave them that mandate that go and rule us so they are two different things.

KN32 [9689-9906]

no no no no no you can't say all leaders are absorbing the God's sovereignty. Yeah I agree that sovereignty belongs to God but the issue of leaders' forcefully changing sovereignty to their own good is inappropriate.

KN33 [7996-8054]

No, God gave them power as a form of delegated authority.

KN34 [12519-12810]

I don't agree with this view because when you say sovereignty we are not disputing that sovereignty belongs to God, but even on the earth the almighty Allah have his own- he delegates his power to some of his servants. So I don't see any reason why someone should view sovereignty as such.

KN35 [14146-14374]

So the state itself cannot drive itself, and God is present and he is invisible God so he delegates an authority to those people that are living as if he said in the Qur'an that he is going to create a descendant on the earth.

KN36 [14449-14627]

No sovereignty belongs to almighty Allah only God delegated power for those that are in the position of authority to apply it, delegated powers. They do not have supreme powers.

KN37 [13529-13547]

No they are not.

KN38 [9681-9700]

That is not true.

KN39 [17317-17622]

Really of course it is not true saying that all leaders are intruding into Allah's powers. It's lies because even Allah (SUBH) says that he brings human beings on earth as his adherents that is as his representatives. Therefore, to even say that leaders are intruding into Allah's power is totally wrong.

KN40 [14473-14592]

It is only God that has the sovereignty therefore the other leaders are usurping God's sovereignty whenever they rule.

KN41 [12099-12111]

No comment.

KN42 [26528-26840]

Yah, the sovereignty is said to belong to Allah. There is no, there is nobody that deserves sovereignty but Allah, but since we have already found ourselves in the situation whereby, in a secular country rather than in an Islamic one, we should always make sure that no matter what we do, we don't commit shirk.

KN43 [21072-21238]

Yah, it belongs to God and he gives it to whom he likes. So if someone in, is in position of authority, he has a sort of you know sovereignty which God gives to him.

KN44 [15769-15807]

I won't like to comment on that also.

KN45 [21269-21819]

No, yah, it is true that sovereignty belongs to God, I think all believers of ehh the Abrahamic faith: Islam, Christianity, Judaism believe in that sovereignty belongs to God, but ahh leaders ehh political leaders are not usurping ehh God's sovereignty instead God has delegated his sovereignty to them, to rule over his ahh his vicegerents on earth that is ehh we human beings. So is God that has delegated that sovereignty to political leaders whether they are Muslims or not. God has delegated that and that is why they are entitled to obedience.

KN46 [40262-40857]

No. Political rulers do not usurp, do not usurp the, the sovereignty of God by just exercising the responsibility of leadership. Usurping the sovereignty of Allah is to operate a system totally different from Allah what Allah (SBUH) wants a servant to operate. There are principles, justice, fairness and so on. So if Allah (SBUH) says, justice must be done and you come and say no, we have to do things the other way, knowingly and ahh willingly, then that amounts to usurping the sovereignty of Allah, but by exercising the responsibility of leadership that is not usur, that is not usurping.

KN47 [38795-39456]

This is misleading. This statement is really misleading. Sovereignty belongs to God, yes, but God is sovereign and political leaders are usurping God's sovereignty? No. They are not. You know, when they rule it is not in our religion in Islam, you know, we were taught that Allah is the one gives us authority, gives leadership you understand, (recites a verse of the Qur'an) there is this verse that explains that if you see somebody in the position of authority or leadership, then it is God who give him that power and they will believe in it. In the holy Qur'an, and then we say we shouldn't ahh this is usurping sovereignty of Allah, no it is misleading.

KN48 [11826-11941]

Is not true, is not true because anybody that is there, its Allah that destined him to be on that particular seat.

KN49 [21516-21866]

Actually sovereignty truly belongs to God, but God has a vicegerents that eh directs the affairs of men on earth and people cannot exist on their own, they need leaders because even when Allah (SBUH) created Adam, he sent him to the earth as his Khalifa as a vicegerent of God to act and to direct the affairs of men and also to exist in the world.

KN50 [10540-10708]

Sovereignty belongs to God but saying all leaders are usurping God's sovereignty when they rule is not true. Whoever rules it is Allah that has destined him to rule.

KN52 [30719-31054]

That is not true because God gives power to whomever he wishes, to whomever he likes anytime. So it is not God's sovereignty that they usurp, they cannot usurp God's sovereignty because he is supreme. They only enjoy, you know, a rudiment, an aspect of his own power or sovereignty. So there is no way that man can usurp God's power.

KN53 [14428-14615]

Yes sovereignty belongs to Allah but saying political leaders are usurping Gods sovereignty, I total disagree with that because I only believe they are only a representative of Allah.

KN54 [7299-7368]

Well no. It is the same God, you know, that delegates ruling to some

KN55 [8583-8607]

No. This is ridiculous

KN56 [13768-14101]

This is very ridiculous. It is the same God that has the sovereignty that sent man to be his vicegerent on earth. I can remember in the Qur'an a verse that says Allah has sent the son of Adam to be his Khalifa, to be his Khalifa on earth. So there is no way that you can say that a man is usurping God's sovereignty when he rules.

KN57 [13667-14133]

You see majority of our leaders when they come into power, they think that they came into power by their wisdom or power or when they are financially sound. They forgot to think that all power belongs to Allah (tabaraka wa ta'alah) and he gave them the opportunity of doing so. So they forget to remember Allah until, unless they are out of power. Take for example, what happened in Nigeria as now, currently. Today some leaders are going out while others are in.

KN58 [31367-32118]

Sovereignty belongs to Allah as the supreme leaders as the creator, the cherisher and the sustainer of the heaven and earth; so all sovereign power belongs to Allah and only Allah. So what this is saying is that Allah is the only thing that Muslims are supposed to obey because he is the only sovereign leader, anything outside that is a contradiction. When you say the state is sovereign it is completely out of the question. There is no such thing as sovereign state because it is limited to other people's control. So how sovereign it is? But can you control Allah? You cannot astaghafurullah rather Allah controls everything here because he is everything. He is the creator and the maker of everything. So sovereignty belongs to him it is true.

KN59 [24466-24857]

It is not that they are usurping God's power or supremacy. A leaders is always a leader, you understand, there is one adage in Hausa that say Gwammati ikon Allah, and so if you are a leader, you are just under the umbrella of God, you understand. So it is not that you are usurping the supremacy of God, it is just something that God has already given you, have to lead so and so people.

KN60 [24499-24618]

Sovereignty belongs to God, it is true actually, but it is the same God that he is giving sovereignty to the leaders.

KN61 [11810-11944]

Yah, because they say everything is under Allah, so if you have a sovereignty which means you devoted yourself to Allah and that's why.

KN62 [38243-39028]

I don't believe in that. I don't believe that political leaders are usurping God's sovereignty when they rule, no, no, no, it is far from the truth. Sovereignty belongs to God, but total sovereignty that is what we are saying, so this very question should be reshaped, I believe. Total sovereignty belongs to God, but Allah (SBUH) ah allows some people on earth to reign and without leaders, there is going to be chaos. And even in the Sunnatic tradition, we all believe that ah a group of three should not travel without a leader and that leadership is an attribute of God. It's sovereignty, yah, it is an attribute of God. So we cannot say that ahh by allowing others to rule or to lead here is a kind of a way of usurping the powers of God, is not, is not, I don't believe in that.

KN63 [27324-28050]

Not at all, not at all, no. Their own sovereignty is just for a, well we cannot even compare it with that of Allah (SBUH) in fact, it is incomparable. Okay look at now, for example, now we have change of government in Nigeria now, Jonathan have been there for about five years now, now all of a sudden, he is taking off huh, something like that. So you cannot compare, that of Allah is forever. Even though Allah has appointed him to be there for a while huh, but that sovereignty that he was having then, cannot be, is not comparable, huh. It is just for a while. All the sovereignty you can have in this world is for just for a while and it cannot be comparable with that of Allah in no-in fact it is not comparable at all.

KN64 [20574-20599]

I don't agree with this

KN65 [23452-24045]

Well, to me in my own understanding, there are some attributes or qualities that belong to Jallah only, but there are also some of his own qualities that he sublets to human beings, you understand. So the sovereignty we are talking about belongs to Allah (SBUH) only, but the leader, the quality of a leadership, some, is being surpassed to like other leaders, you understand, except if you go in excess that is when okay you have committed shirk, you understand. So there are some qualities that is being transferable to human beings, to some extent. So that is the little thing I would say.

KN66 [13999-14409]

Sovereignty belongs to God, which is right, I believe but when you say all political leaders are uprising I don't believe that because there are some, because there are actually there are some leaders who becomes dictators but whereas there are also some leaders abide by constitution and don't do anything that, ah that they are Muslims and abide by the teachings of Islam, so they don't encout, they don't.

KN67 [15165-15310]

Sovereignty belongs to God, but that does not mean, it is the God that gave them the power to rule. So they are not usurping God's sovereignty.

KN68 [7326-7351]

No. This is not correct.

KN69 [27810-28040]

Yes, the actual sovereignty is belongs to Allah because Allah is the only sovereign, but the mantle of leadership is a piece of power given by Allah (SBUH) to some people in this earth in order to lead people justly without bias.

KN71 [46641-47217]

Yes. Sovereignty belongs to God of course and any a leader is ruling from that sovereignty of Allah. So it is now a must for a follower to obey the rule of that sovereign body, but on two or three conditions. One: that the law he gave is in accordance with the law of Allah, it must be obeyed. Two: that the law he gave out is not in accordance with the law of Allah, but it did not contradict in any way the law of Allah, he must be obeyed. Third: is that when he gave a law that is contrary or in contradiction to the law of Allah then in that case he shouldn't obey it.

KN72 [25109-25257]

Exactly, they must to or to say they have to obey the rules, they have to obey because it is the only God, that have all sovereignty belong to him.

KN73 [24800-25108]

Sovereignty belongs to God of course. It's only some people are saying it. When you are a leader, it is, we have heard it, he is the only one that destines a leader upon a people whether they are Muslims or non-Muslims. It is from His that he destines a leader, so a leader is not surpassing a power of God.

KN74 [36203-36391]

Yes, as we have seen it that Allah (SBUH) says in his book that (he recites) therefore is belong to Allah and he gives it to he who he wants, therefore they must follow God's sovereignty.

KN75 [39174-39221]

They have to obey to the sovereignty of Allah.

KN76 [27682-27899]

That is misinterpretation. There is no one that can usurp the sovereignty of Allah, but Allah in his own infinite mercy can give authority to anyone to lead the society whether a Christian or Muslim or even a pagan.

KN78 [42681-43186]

No. I have a quarrel with the word usurping, I have a quarrel with that word within this context. What they are doing, yah sovereignty belongs to God, but as we said, Man is a vicegerent of God on earth and human being as a vicegerent, is either a Muslim or non-Muslim, but what is important is that human beings I think could not ahm ah could not be seen as really usurping the power of God on earth. But power is given to human being to serve certain purposes, but certainly sovereignty belongs to God.

KN80 [34181-34359]

Yes the whole ahh leadership belongs to almighty Allah and whosoever in the position of leadership, it is the portion of leadership of Allah that he is ahh governing or leading.

KN81 [20394-20446]

It is not true nobody can cease God's sovereignty.

KN82 [24365-24665]

Sovereignty of course belongs to Allah and it is Allah (SBUH) delegated human being to rule on his behalf. So it is it is not proper to say if human being exercises power on earth he is usurping the authority of Allah. It was a kind of delegation, he is delegated to discharge that responsibility.

KN83 [14614-14698]

Actually this statement is un-Islamic and questionable to itself. So it is not true

KN83 [14787-14851]

Yes it is un-Islamic because nobody can see God's sovereignty.

KN84 [17594-17667]

This is totally wrong a statement we can just move to the next question.

KN85 [21455-21909]

Ahm yes (Tabarakallazi ilmulk) ahh ahh sovereignty belongs to Allah and Allah alone, but Allah delegates authority to whoever he wishes (recites a verse of the Qur'an), therefore, whoever has the authority in his hand is only a vicegerent of God who God has delegated authority to him. Therefore, leaders are not usurping God's sovereignty when they rule. They are only practicing I mean they are only exercising the authority delegated to them by God.

ZA1 [24227-24677]

So you mean that all powers belong to God, so you, do you agree that all powers belong to God or you disagree so what is the- if you are talking about power, if you look at some certain countries maybe no matter how you stay in the power, one day you are going to die, somebody may inherit you whether from your biological relations or not, But God is God so power belongs to Allah (SBUH) he is who is giving just a department to hold for somebody.

ZA2 [22050-22775]

Hmmm yes, but I think it is, they are not God, just take note. They are only people who are translating the words of God, is just as we are talking since, the prophet, God has been in existence and he made prophets to be there, the prophets we have before the last prophet Muhammad (SAW), God have been existing, but he brought leaders now who are to help because I don't have access to hear the message of God direct, so since I don't have access God decided bringing in this leaders who will now translate the information the needs of God. So it is just the same thing to guide people in the society, so they are never people who are maybe rubbing shoulder with God, taking over the roles of God, no. They don't do that.

ZA3 [19385-19949]

Emm actually emm that is the main difference between Islam and the other religions. In Islam sovereignty belongs to God while in a secular state sovereignty belongs to the people, and it is people that made the law. So it is actually not, is a contradiction because the sovereignty belongs to God, but however is delegated because with people, even in Islam too there are leaders, but they govern by the laws, but there are sometimes too that they have to use their initiative in order that they govern successfully to the circumstance they find themselves.

ZA4 [39833-40521]

Yes, what you say, sovereignty is with God who can say do and don't is Allah. And whoever also says do and don't that is opposing, negating that of Allah is a wrong doer. So all the people that occupy the position of Allah and say do and don't and you do it that is the wrong thing, but as long as a leader is now saying do and it has been the same thing with what Allah say in the Qur'an, Allah say in the Qur'an Allah, but sometimes a leader can say don't do it because of and is not the same in the Qur'an Allah says (he recites the Qur'an), but they are some necessities dharura, difficulties that will arise that moment you stop it first you follow, you understand what am saying?

ZA5 [22437-22751]

Yes because we say sovereignty belongs, sovereignty quite alright belongs to God because nobody intervene in the what God ordained on somebody or something like that, but when it comes to our leaders today they believe sovereignty belongs to them. What they say that is the final which is not, are you satisfied?

ZA6 [54063-54308]

Hmm ah of course God is the is the only sovereign being, is the only absolute being, as such every leader, as far as you are there, you have to be, as much as possible, to be just and fair to the best of your ability, the best of your ability.

ZA7 [23346-23586]

(he laughs) sovereignty belongs to only God and no man no matter is power as state or status should claim that, is like, it is like, it shouldn't be so, it shouldn't be so at all no matter a state, power, you shouldn't claim sovereignty.

ZA8 [52532-53876]

All political leaders because like I said, all political, all politicians are criminals like I told you. They are not, they are, they don't go with what God says because sovereignty belongs to God alone, nobody can say he is sovereign. Even this your excellency that they are saying, your Excellency, I don't, it is against religion, is not a very good because, this, if you look at the origin of where this Excellency, your Excellency comes from, is actually from those people that are not worshippers of God. They bring things that you know whether you like it or not, it must go against your religion. Like now, the white people left, sorry to say, like the whites they will tell you they know that both Christianity and Islam does not agree with the drink of alcohol, but they will tell you, you are not social if you don't drink alcohol, you understand, they will say this guy you are not social even though they will say okay they hear your religion does not conform with it okay you can drink but they say you should not just get drunk in your religion, but you can drink two glass, you understand, (he laughs) you see they must find a way to bring something that will make you go against what your religion is saying. All this your Excellency, your presidency or your whatsoever, all those are not in conformity with the religion.

ZA9 [27520-27876]

Well most of the problems we are facing in this country is as a result of personal interest, selfishness on the part of politicians, on the part of our leaders. I think if these leaders can imbibe, if they can imbibe the moral, a very moral standard in them, there will be nothing, there will, we have little or no problems in cohabiting with one another.

ZA10 [26456-26561]

Yes everybody, every soul belong to God, so all leaders are human beings so they also belong to God too.

ZA11 [21282-21574]

Well, God gives power to who he deems fit and whom he desires and he is the king of kings and his authority supersedes any of them. They are like wakil. In every community we need a leader to make balance of everything. So it is acceptable, but if they derail they ought to be brought back.

ZA13 [12874-12911]

I think they should submit to Allah.

ZA14 [16928-17244]

Yes quite alright sovereignty belongs to God and our leaders nowadays they believe that they are small gods because once they are in power, they think that they have power to do anything, they have the right to kill, the right to live if they want you to live, so with that they are contradicting the law of Allah.

ZA15 [20590-20956]

Yes sovereignty belongs to almighty Allah although when they rule doesn't mean they are, it doesn't mean, ok when they rule it doesn't mean that maybe they are comparing their selves with the almighty, no. He already knows he is almighty that is why he sent prophets, you understand, and he also gave them power in this world. So I do not agree with that statement.

ZA16 [13995-14119]

It is because they don't know who is God and they don't know the teaching of, and in a nutshell they don't know who is God.

ZA18 [19515-19727]

If they do what God has asked them to do good and fine, but if they are doing whatever they like that is their own cup of tea. That is their own problem and they will be asked to account for what they have done.

ZA19 [25583-26208]

Yes sovereignty, absolute sovereignty belongs to God almighty because he creates, he kills, he wounds and he heals. Usurping here is actually is usurping the trust, if I can view it this way, usurping the trust being given to you by the electorate or the masses whom you are representing. So in a situation where you usurp or you ah actually embezzle their money, not, you embezzle their money or you spend their money not in a constructive or productive way in which it will impact positively to their standard of living, definitely you usurp the sovereignty of God by actually giving you the representation of this people.

ZA20 [15371-15862]

sovereignty belongs to God. Only him unless some very tiny portion of it he gives to human, to man. And that which he gave to man, it will be given to a man who is destined to have it by God. So we need to obey anybody that is given power in a given community whether Christian or Muslim. Power remains in the hand of infidel if he is just and fair, but power cannot remain in the hands of a believer if he is unfair and unjust. So it is all about the concept of social justice and fairness.

ZA21 [20660-20971]

Well I can say sovereignty belongs to God alone. But Allah says whenever you are two he said you should appoint a leader. That entails by somebody being a leader does not entail that that person is God unless you are worshipping that person. Being obedient to your leader is as exact as being obedient to God.

ZA22 [19398-19449]

I don't get this question go to the next question

ZA23 [25276-26339]

Well this is people's understanding but nobody can say he has any sovereignty. You cannot do for your own self talkless of undoing to somebody. Anybody that assumes leadership knows that it is not by his power. It is just a test. So whether you like it or not you may not be in good terms with somebody and you say let me make use of my sovereignty to deny him. Take for example in 2011, the House of Representatives when they were to elect their leaders the ruling party then has a candidate, but the one that they don't like emerged so where is the sovereignty there? It remains with the owner. And take for instance what happened just of recent, when the upper house in Nigeria-the Senate were electing there leadership, the ruling party of today the APC has the person they want to be the Senate President, if the party thinks they have sovereignty where is it? It is another person else different from the person the party is intending to lead the Senate that emerged as the Senate president. So sovereignty as you have just said belongs to Allah to alone.

ZA24 [32422-32547]

I don't understand the question. I don't have any idea on it. I don't have idea on that question the one you just asked now.

ZA25 [27995-28528]

Just as I have said, even in an Islamic state God does not come down to rule. We still need to – generally human beings are vicegerent –khalifa to God on earth. It all depends on the type of politics the politicians are practicing. If you practice according to God's teachings you are not usurping you are only obeying his injunctions that we should arrange ourselves into organized society but if you are you are using rules-manmade laws that are not derived or that even negate some of the provisions of God then you are usurping

ZA26 [14371-14449]

No, no, no, no it is not like that. It is God that makes leaders to be leaders

ZA27 [12921-13031]

I don't agree with this. They only capitalize on worshipping God but they cannot go contrary to the teachings

ZA28 [25106-25617]

Amm when it comes to rule or leadership per se if you have the belief that whatsoever God has ordained that is what will happen that is destiny. So if you emerge as a leader just know that is not by your power, it is not by your ways but by the will of God and if you and if you fail you should know that it is not by you not being qualified but there are certain things God has seen that you do not attain to that position so you should just take it like that and know that it is not about honor but destiny.

ZA29 [36917-37162]

When you say sovereignty belongs to God nobody can perfect it, but rather they can try not saying you cannot perfect it meaning you cannot do it, you can try and do better than what they are doing today. And that is the little comment I have.

ZA30 [47506-47798]

Hmm, there are some certain attributes that you can't compare human being and God. So, when you borrow the word sovereignty, you use it to human being also use it to God, that one is also according to our teaching. There are some certain attributes that only God alone has such an attribute.

ZA31 [19526-19897]

Yes, that is why at initial, God sent messengers in order to lead us. That means, you see, all those prophets they form and control people like a government and even in a house, you have to have leader that can put you through. So, it is left for the leader to do what is right to the people, not to cheat them, not to have his own personal priorities over people's own.

ZA32 [51098-51865]

Sovereignty, in Islam, we believe that sovereignty belongs to Allah, to God, but to say political leaders are usurping God's or are usurping ko? Usurping God's sovereignty when they rule, it is not true, they are not, if they, whatever is happening. The essence of leadership is to make the life of people to be safe, not to show any power or position or differences between the people is not because of that. Allah provides, has provided the issue of leadership to the Umma rather Allah provides, provides to do what, to save the life, the lives and humanity and the dignity of human being and to say is they are usurping, no nothing can reduce the power of Allah and nothing can increase it. His power is and the sovereignty of Allah is undefeatable, is constant.

ZA33 [13916-14453]

Yes some leaders went beyond the limits of sovereignty but the utmost sovereignty and the almighty sovereignty belongs to almighty Allah alone but he bestows the sovereignty on the earth to his servants. But some of his servants because of their political power and the worldly materials given to them and the overrule it and they thought that there is nobody like them and hence they made themselves to look as if they are superior than any other being thereby making them to have that-to assume that they have the sovereignty of God.

ZA34 [30775-31644]

Exactly. Sovereignty in Islam belongs to Allah because Allah (SBUH) has the sovereignty of the whole entire world. Why? One, Allah (SBUH) created us and he knows what is best for us because Allah (SBUH) who created as human beings knows our limitations and knows what we can. So he promulgated and revealed laws based on our own benefits and we must follow such laws. We human beings we have limitation in our thinking, in our day to day lives, so almost what we promulgate as laws sometimes it has an effect in our lives. But what Allah (SBUH) promulgated and revealed as a law is a complete way because Allah (SBUH) will not bring something maybe to be hard on you or may be something that will destroy you. So we all believe that sovereignty belong to Allah, both the leaders and the led that is the citizens must follow what Allah (SBUH) revealed on them as laws.

ZA35 [13440-13449]

No idea

ZA36 [20539-20786]

I don't agree with that. God is a supreme being whom we all worship both the Christian, the non-Christian and whoever is leading sha is worshipping God. So leaders do not deserve that, they don't. They only give rules of the country and we abide.

ZA37 [28494-28570]

This one is a misperception of the meaning that sovereignty belongs to God.

ZA38 [31232-31685]

Yah, you know, when you take an oath of office as a leader, it is just like you are paying your allegiance, you are paying sovereignty to God almighty to help you, understand. That is why I said even a Muslim or a non-Muslim somehow believe that sovereignty belongs to God. Any state you are seeing even though we are using constitution that has the secular face, we still pick our teachings from our various holy books to make it the society perfect.

ZA39 [42089-42625]

No. I can comment on this, but sovereignty is true belongs to Allah and whoever is given power to rule over people, it is Allah that makes him the leader be him a Muslim or non-Muslim, so to say that you usurp powers of Allah that is a total misunderstanding of the power of Allah. Every leader is a delegate, is delegated by Allah whether he is a Muslim or non-Muslim over a certain people. So how can when you are a delegate or how can an agent become the principal of, isn't it or the master of his principal that is not possible.

Th11.8: No Election and Electioneering in an Islamic State: No Muslim Votes for Non-Muslims

FG1 [42367-42493]

Our past administration has been of the Christian right? We campaigned for him and we voted for him and emerged victorious.

KD1 [48374-49315]

That is not true. The bottom line is I have not existed in an Islamic state. So I don't know whether electioneering is allowed, but for the fact that Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims, I beg to disagree. In the event that you happen to be in the society and two maybe you have an option to choosing between non-Muslims, will you say you will certainly not vote? Let's assume one of the non-Muslim is homosexual, he is a drunkard, steals, he is know to cheat and the other non-Muslim is just typical non-Muslim, but has good attitude, will you now allow, you will now sit back and watch while the other one that is evil, the non-Muslim that is evil, climb the seat of leadership. Certainly you will be questioned, you will be asked because you have an opportunity of changing something (he recites in Arabic) you have an opportunity to change something but you choose to sit back and become complacent and allow things to become worse.

KD3 [15936-16058]

Right here in Nigeria, we are not in an Islamic state so there is nothing, nothing has to do with voting for non-Muslims.

KD4 [35517-36353]

This statement is totally un-Islamic because if you look at it in this our world it cannot be assertion because you will not say that because you are not a, you are a Muslim, you will not partake in election or electioneering. You cannot do that because when you fold your arms and you didn't partake in electing or selecting your leader, then others will select the wrong leader for you and then he will come out and be your leader and impose the Kafir upon you and you have no choice than to obey. Then who is who? Who is depriving who? Who is cheating who? You are the one that is cheating yourself by not partaking in the election. So, I will believe that Islam or Muslims should partake in election or electioneering, as you put it, or electioneering, as you put it, to elect or select their leaders. That is my assertion on this.

KD5 [17789-18533]

Yes, it is true, in Islamic state, no electioneering, no electioneering, but there is election. Sometimes, in Islamic state election do hold, but Muslims in a secular state can contest for political office because looking at Nigeria for example, the issue of federal character arises because it provides an avenue for all the federation to be represented at the federal level and that representation allows all their members to protect the interest of the people they came from so that whenever a Muslim contests for a political office in a secular state, it also allows that Muslim to protect the interest of his fellow Muslims in that secular state. So, I think Muslims to contest in a political office is an obligatory, it is an obligation.

KD6 [33119-33341]

You said no election is allowed in Islam, election is allowed in Islam. Election, electing a leader is the first thing in Islam not even the last thing, without a leader you can't even stay upright. So, you need a leader.

KD7 [24932-24966]

Very un-Islamic, very un-Islamic.

KD7 [25024-25175]

Because during the time of the prophet and even after him, there were elements of an election and selection that took place for the leaders to emerge.

KD8 [47092-47254]

Well to say that a Muslim should not vote for a non-Muslim, if a Muslim is more competent than a non-Muslim, then of course the Muslim should vote for the Muslim.

KD9 [30904-31362]

It is very Islamic. How can you leave your Muslim brother to go and vote for a non-Muslim? There is no worse Muslim ah or bad Muslim that is worse than a non-Muslim. So you fulfill your own duty by voting a Muslim because you know Allah will guide him even if he wants to go astray, if you remind him that look this is what Islam says, he will fall in line, but what script or what are you going to tell a non-Muslim to call him back when he's going astray.

KD10 [24841-25162]

Yes now, Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims, vote for Muslims even if that Muslim is sinful Muslim, vote for him. You get me right? Yes am of the opinion that the Muslims should not vote for the non-Muslims, they should vote for Muslim even if that Muslim is a sinful Muslim a wrong doing Muslim, vote for Muslim.

KD11 [27491-28212]

This is a very sensitive area which I think Muslims should be very careful in. When you are talking about electing any non-Muslim we largely depend on what interest do you want him to go and protect there, for instance if a non-Muslim I feel will do the job better than a Muslim or is less corrupt, I think the best option is to go for that non-Muslim in as much as it is not anything that has to do with directly with the religion especially if it is about mundane affairs, politics or economy. A non-Muslim should not be put in a position of Amirul hajj or any other thing that has to do with directly religion, if it is not, if you don't have anything much to do directly with the din. I think it won't be accepted.

KD13 [12177-12310]

You see, in the state, it depends on how the state is seen, but whether you like it or not it is of necessity that the Muslims vote.

KD14 [14860-15552]

You made mention of an Islamic state and earlier I said that any place that constitutes an Islamic state, before a place will constitute an Islamic state, you could find out that maybe close to 99% of the people there are Muslims. So in a place, you know, if there is, no non-Muslims can come to that particular place and say he is campaigning for power. Let's use Saudi Arabia for example now you could see it is self explanatory though there are Christians there too, there are non-Muslims there too, but because of the majority, even the United State now the majority of the people there are non-Muslims so it is rare for a Muslim to come out in such a position for him to be voted for.

KD15 [22575-22958]

Islamically the prophet (SAW) says the rulers, if a ruler that rules the state is a Christian, in short if a leader is justices and ah he should be elected and be a leader so far it wont go against the law of Islam and he won't go against the law of ah sharia and he won't go against the law of the state. So if he is honest and okay, I think the Muslims can elect him as a leader.

KD16 [13380-13396]

Please go ahead

KD17 [41595-42118]

Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims in an Islamic state. If you have a Muslim who is upright contesting against a non-Muslim, even if they are in the same level of uprightness, of course it is preferable you vote for your brother, a fellow Muslim brother, if you know that they are in the same level of uprightness, of course I will prefer my Muslim brother because we share the same faith and I believe that he will practice Islam the way it is being preached and he is going to be a better leader than a non-Muslim.

KD18 [19337-19852]

Yes, Muslims can vote for non-Muslim, but under the, under the Islamic state or countries, they can vote depending on the candidates you have. If you have some candidates who are not Muslims, but if you discover that this candidate are capable and they have the ability to carry out the functions and responsibility, you can go ahead and vote him. It is not necessary that you must vote a Muslim who is not capable of doing things, a Muslim can vote non-Muslim but under the under the Islamic countries or states.

KD19 [25724-26116]

Well, in a western type of democracy, electioneering is allowed, even in Islam, when there is a vacuum of leadership and you want to elect a new leader, you have to search and look for the most God fearing among the people, the most knowledgeable for him to be elected. Where there are two or three of them, then I think there should be an election, so election at times is allowed in Islam.

KD20 [19452-19808]

No, Muslim can vote for non-Muslim in as in as much as that person is qualified and he has what it takes as for the qualification. Yes, even though in eh Nigeria and in the northern area, we have some non-Muslim candidates that some Muslims vote for because they feel is the right. is their right candidate, so, I think the Muslim can vote for non-Muslim.

KD21 [18162-18797]

So we have an Islamic state where no election entirely is allowed and now we are talking about an non-Islamic state where election is allowed. Let's take for instance, the Muslims are the minorities, let's say Jos for instance, where the Muslims can never produce a leader, we have two Christians, one with a softer mind on the Muslims and the other one with a harsh mind on the Muslims. The Muslims are supposed to support the one with a softer mind, the one who happens to be harsh is going to take the crown home. What do you expect they do? They have to come out in their numbers, in their flocks, in their herds to come and vote.

KD23 [19622-19959]

This statement is off, ah is one of the ah is one of the statement that bring conflicts in northern Nigeria, yes is one of the statement that bring ah conflicts in northern Nigeria because if (coughs) because the same thing goes to the ah goes to the other part of religion so that is what the politicians are using to separate people.

KD24 [60949-61487]

Actually based on this issue, according to what the present eh scholars are discovering on this particular issue ah in some cases ah in some situations, there will be a situation whereby a non-Muslim should be chosen or should be elected by the Muslims because we have ah find ourselves in the sense in a situation that you will see the Muslims, they are Muslims..., they are Muslims by name, they are Muslims in the society, but their deeds, their sayings, their activities they are literally out of the Muslim sayings, deeds, actions.

KD24 [61524-61997]

Sorry, sorry before ah you pass that one and ah in terms of leadership in such eh in such a community which we are in now which it is not the Islamic state that it comprises of the both Muslims and non-Muslims, then you supposed to consider both sides, what will be favourable, choosing a Muslim if the one we are choosing will not favour or will not be favourable to both of the sides, we should think of the one that will consider both sides give each their own rights.

KD25 [80516-81337]

Hmm to some extent what God said is that (he recites in Arabic) that is the believers are but brothers and then this voting we are doing is the same thing as ah ah pledging allegiance to somebody, so when somebody elects somebody it means he is pleased with him, he likes him and he loves him and he is totally pleased with his, with him to be leader and what, so the Muslims we, we have, the Muslims have ah constitution apart from the constitution in Nigeria that is the Qur'an and Sunna, but the constitution ah the constitution in Nigeria is ah is based on ah ideologies and ideas of people. But that of the Qur'an, the Qur'an is not idea of anybody, not even the prophet but is a direct word or is direct words of Allah, and it shouldn't be tempered with. Tempering with it we can see that it can also alters Islam.

KD26 [22749-23056]

Gaskiya I don't know. I don't know for this, yes. I don't know about it being hmm I know you are supposed to vote for somebody that propagates your religion, but not somebody that is against your religion and that is all I can say on that particular question. I don't know about electioneering or election.

KD27 [23368-23485]

Me ordinarily I don't think I will vote for a non-Muslim. Whether I am not allowed I will not vote for a non-Muslim.

KD28 [28208-28606]

I don't agree with that statement. This statement will be nice if it is in an Islamic state, a state where we have secular state like Nigeria it is not possible. It is advisable that Muslims should vote for Muslims but in the condition if you look at it that yes in the area Islam is having the majority, but where Islam is not having the majority in some part of the country it is not possible.

KD29 [17179-17237]

Well is, is, is, I will term this as a misrepresentation.

KD30 [30214-30554]

Muslim should not vote for non-Muslims ah I think Islam always teaches ahm fairness and eh justice and you should always go for what is the best, but when we are having an option between a Muslim and a non-Muslim ah I think you should always go for the Muslim first, it is only when you are left without option that you go for non-Muslim.

KD31 [18435-18476]

I don't have much to say on that please.

KD32 [25556-25779]

This is this is a very bad idea, I don't I don't really accept this so we just try as much as we can to dissociate politics from Islam, so saying that Muslims should not vote non-Muslim this is it is totally unacceptable.

KD33 [21471-21680]

Yah in a state where Muslim are dominant it is not allowed for a Muslim to vote for non-Muslim because as if you are trying to over throw Islam or you show emmm you show supremacy to non-Muslim over a Muslim

KD34 [22847-23298]

This statement to my own understanding with the little understanding I have, electioneering is un-Islamic because, as I said earlier, the way we choose our leader, you can introduce election because the way people are looking at the present election is different from the olden days election or selection. You can decide when I said there is dispute between this side and this side then you can go on voting that voting clearly means election.

KD35 [24774-25114]

When there is election in a state and the fact is established by seeing a non-Muslim as a good reputable person and that Muslim is the fact is established on him that is a bad character person then you should go for the non-Muslim, but in a situation where a normal Muslims comes out with a Christian then you must go for the Muslim side.

KN1 [54122-54349]

It depends on how deep or how much they understand the religion, voting Muslim or non-Muslim is about the quality of the person. It depends on how qualitative you are. It depends upon your quality

KN1 [54465-54569]

You have to go for the better quality, which one of them has the better quality is the right candidate

KN2 [30367-30386]

No I don't agree.

KN2 [29709-29968]

It is not correct. Even in an Islamic state there is a process of choosing a leader. It may be through electioneering, through an electoral college, through selection, nomination, it must definitely be one of these processes which electioneering is among them

KN2 [30415-30587]

That is not true. That is not correct. If you don't have an Islamic state and you don't have any representative who is a Muslim, it means from bad to worse (laughter). Yes.

KN3 [30706-32614]

Well it depends on his understanding. As far as I am concerned democracy is relative. The cultural... of a people should determine their style of democracy. Islam is democratic. And indeed the Muslims knew democracy even before Europe or anybody knew about democracy because there is a sura in the holy Qur'an more than fourteen hundred years ago which talked about democracy, Suratul Shura. What is democracy? Consultation, doing justice to people. The holy Qur'an to whom messages were sent through the angel Gabriel was told to consult his people on all issues yet he was the most knowledgeable, he was the most wise of all the people, the most sensible of all the people and yet he was told by the almighty God to consult with his people (He quotes an verse in Arabic). Consult them over your issues. And then justice, that is democracy consultation so that there may be justice. Allah says (he quotes a verse of the Qur'an) if you are going to judge between people, between people; Muslims, Christians, pagans or whatever, you must do justice. Justice should be done to whosoever deserves it. And of course Sultan Muhammad Bello even explains further he say power can remain in the hands of an infidel if he is just and fair, but it will not remain in the hands of a believer if he is unfair and unjust. And somebody said the world can never be governed by force in fact it is...that said it. The world can never be governed by force, never by fear even never by power. In the end what governs is the mind. What conquers is the spirit. And the weapons of governing the mind and conquering the spirit are justice and fair play. Justice it is that brings about peace and stability. Peace and stability are the prerequisites of development. Development empowers people, gives people employment and there will be no idle people. Idle people are the creation of evil doing. An idle mind is the devil's workshop.

KN3 [32714-34700]

We are talking about democracy we haven't finished. Now I personally do not understand and therefore do not accept in totality this modern concept of democracy. They say democracy is rule of the people for the people by the people. In any country where you practice democracy less than half the population of the people goes to the polls if there is election isn't it true? Supposing there were three parties contesting the elections, fifty percent of the population went to the polls. 51 percent voted for one party. 39 percent voted for another party. 10 percent voted for another party, which of the parties will form the government? Which of the three parties will form the government? It is the one that has 51 percent. 51 percent of what? 51 percent of 50 percent. What is 51 percent of 50 percent? About a quarter. So the government of a quarter of the people is the government of the people?

Technically no. Now in Islam, what is happening we have what is called shura. And of course Allah says (he quotes a verse from the Qur'an) the majority of them do not know (he quotes another verse of the Qur'an) the majority of them are not sensible, have no sense (He quotes another verse of the Qur'an) the majority of them have no understanding. So the majority of the people that elect you are ignorant, they are not sensible and yet you say this is the government of the people. Government of ignorant of the ignoramus, but in Islam what is done is you select sensible, knowledgeable and responsible people and they will sit and discuss among themselves and look around and select the people that will stand election. Even before you go to the elections, and that is what they do in Iran for example, those Ayetollahis are the Shura. The council that selects the people to contest the elections and then when they do the people can then decide. So sensible people have selected sensible people and have allowed people to select among sensible people who will represent them.

Islam is modern, Islam is modern and is going with any time and Islam can change from one form to another inasmuch as it is not taught its original content but it coins with the perception, culture and history of the people inasmuch as it does not contradicting the cause of God, election is allowed. You can give chance to people to come out. They can vote whoever they want; a non-Muslim can rule in non-Muslim state, a non-Muslim can rule in Muslim state if he is nice, and of good character and quality.

KN5 [24422-24707]

Ah no, when you talk of election, it may not-you cannot say election is not allowed generally ahh yes there should be-the shura should have to form the leader as we said if what if not in the Islamic state this is not an Islamic state yet the Muslim should not vote for a non-Muslim?

KN6 [27789-28397]

So if it is Islamic state not this situation of Nigeria, I can't vote I would not vote a Christian but if it is a secular system like what we are doing now so I would choose the leader who will do justice for me whether he is a Muslim or a Christian because we can find many Christians who are good than Muslim because so when even when you vote this Muslim maybe you will not do this Islamic ah ah rule and regulation, so I will choose the one who, who is can do justice for me, for example, it happened during the prophet Mohammed (SAW) because he send Muslims to the Christians in order to protect them.

KN7 [24331-24859]

This statement is not Islamic enough, we can even say its ahh, in one way or the other un-Islamic because if we look at it in ehm, in the actual sense and in the real sense, a non-Muslim in the present world, let me say, ahh its better off in terms of responsibility and at times not in all cases any way, not in all cases, but we find the situation whereby even some non-Muslims behave more pious than even some Muslims but not in all situation, so I don't think, its un-Islamic, shouldn't vote for a non-Muslim is un-Islamic.

KN8 [25864-26557]

I think it is not true, to me, I am not supporting this view because in a situation whereby you say that a Christian can even perform more better than a muslim, I think you understand, you should not be religiously biased by voting for the wrong person. At times a Muslim might be a wrong person at times he could be sincere whereby you see a sincere person. Ok let us take the instance of Buhari. Let us assume Buhari is a Christian, you understand, look at how the popular consolidation and support people have given to him. So I think you can just give your vote to somebody who is capable, but not taking it from the perspective of religion. in that sense maybe you are religiously biased.

KN9 [22880-23282]

Well this statement is it could be Islamic because no Muslim is allowed to vote for an unbeliever because he wouldn't protect your interest, he would only protect the interest of his like but for the election and the electioneering, I want to believe the election is part and parcel of Islam. And during the four rightly Caliphs elections took place and it is in the history of Islam. So it is present.

KN10 [17515-17665]

This is true. This statement is true because by choosing a non-Muslim, it is not necessary that he can give you the freedom to perform your religion.

KN11 [23483-24269]

From the Muslim point of view, yes. From the Muslim point of view, Muslim would not vote for a non-Muslim but if there is a non-Muslim but in some conditions or in a situation you can vote for a non-Muslim like during the lifetime of prophet (SAW) he sent his companion to migrate from Mecca to Medina in the state of Najashi, he was not a Muslim, was a Christian and the companion went there and live under this Najashi so we can understand from this migration that a Muslim can vote for a non-Muslim in some situations. So you cannot deny it so you cannot not say that a Muslim cannot vote for a non-Muslim completely but inasmuch as there is a Muslim according to the point of Islamic view, you cannot vote that non-Muslim unless that, unless, unless, there are some certain basis.

KN13 [26609-27362]

Yes, it is Islamic because definitely in an Islamic state it is fair, it is not like a democratic state whereby there is there is nothing like elections. It is very, very, although there are some, there, there are-in modern Islamic state right now there are some forms of election although we won't call it election because there are still major Shura council that have to decide on that particular leader that have to be elected. So definitely, I think the uhm the question is actually contradicting each other, because in this contemporary world definitely a place like Iran they elect their leaders there because after the major election or the decision of the people, the council, the elders, the Shura committee decides on who its should be, yah.

KN14 [20699-20927]

Yes, Muslims should only vote for non-Muslims ah if there is a small- if the election or the selection of the leader is between non-Muslims and non-Muslims, but if there is Muslims and non-Muslims, you should vote for a Muslim.

KN15 [19422-19580]

Absolutely yes, Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims in an Islamic state because it is you know strictly prohibited for Muslims to vote for non-Muslims.

KN16 [10329-10395]

Yes Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims in an Islamic state.

KN17 [26415-26668]

I don't think its Islamic because I will need ah ah ah a backing from the Hadith and the Qur'an to actually make it Islamic. So I don't have that knowledge base, I don't have that kind of knowledge to tell you that whether it is Islamic or un-Islamic.

KN18 [40303-40321]

It is un-Islamic

KN19 [23515-23829]

Hmm, ah actually it is true but I think ah if a better Muslim and a qualified Muslim that possess all the criteria to be a leader is existing I think is better to vote but in a situation whereby even the Muslims we have are corrupt, they are nowhere to be found then we have a true person that is willing to serve

KN19 [23853-24401]

And probably not a Muslim, probably a Muslim that have been found of money laundering that have been found of corruption and all sorts of, you understand, I think is even somebody like me I will rather prefer to vote for that person, you understand, if truly the person has ruled before has not been found of any, any money laundering or any corrupt act any corrupt act, in order to ensure the will of government because is not necessarily the concept of Muslim but who can deliver in this instance but I will prefer to vote for my fellow Muslim.

KN20 [18178-18205]

No no no no that is wrong

KN21 [11911-11928]

It is un-Islamic

KN22 [24155-25175]

You see it is very clear in the teaching of Islam that you should always like and love your fellow Muslims and in any situation, you should always see to the empowerment of your fellow Muslim and preferably, your fellow Muslim shall rule and lead you. But in the same doctrine, in the same religion, it was said that a loose Muslim, irresponsible Muslim and a corrupt Muslim that doesn't fear Allah that doesn't believe in the existence of the doctrines of Allah that in other for you to choose that kind of person is better to choose Ahl kitab that is the people of the book, that is the Christian, the non-Muslim that is Christian. A Christian that will dispense justice, a Christian that will rule with the fear of Allah, a Christian that will elevate to some extent bring some justice to the society, it is better for you to choose that kind of a leader and it goes in line with the position of Abdullah bin Fodio, he said if a leader is found wanting, incapable of ruling, that leader must be deposed from office.

KN23 [16551-16567]

Yah it is true.

KN23 [16630-16790]

In an Islamic state because it doesn't have provision for voting and everything in an Islamic state. But under democracy in a secular state I don't believe it.

KN24 [16637-16699]

No, no, no, where did you get this from? This is un-Islamic.

KN25 [25012-25623]

Well it is true that Muslims should not vote for a non-Muslim, this is because their interest will be at stake. There is no way a non-Muslim would strive to protect the interest of a Muslim. Nobody knows yourself better than yourself. So it is only someone who you share the same faith with that would be ready to go extra mile to protect your interest. But I think the second statement, there was election of course in an Islamic state and it was even encouraged by the Caliphs of the prophet in order to eliminate ah bad leadership and to accommodate the people and in order to gain legitimacy by the people.

KN26 [24318-25117]

To a very large extent it is not true, but let me take it easy on it. First, under secular setting, you understand, it is something that can be done mostly like we have in Nigeria Muslims voted for-can vote Christians and also Muslims yah but under Islamic state you don't have it. And if, even if a state were to be an Islamic state, you understand, and they choose to that the leaders will emerge by election, you see, I will still go back to what I said earlier on you see that is some of the distortion I am saying about history, during the caliphate it was by selection process but because things are becoming more sophisticated now even in the present era you have-mostly where you have some proportions of non-Muslims difficulties here and there have been established or experienced rather.

KN27 [18711-19002]

Well in the first instance, they shouldn't vote for him, but what is the main factor that led to him contesting? If the laws of the society gives him the opportunity to contest, I don't think there is anything wrong in you voting for him if he is competent and you have your believe in him.

KN28 [15007-15175]

Well I believe this statement is incorrect as well because it is ever un-Islamic. Every Muslim has his rights and non-Muslim has his rights to vote and be voted for.

KN30 [15472-15490]

It is un-Islamic

KN31 [22602-22811]

Well ah honestly it is more advisable for you to vote for a Muslim like you, just like I said earlier, when you vote a Muslims no matter how wayward he is I think he will allow the flow of Islamic activities.

KN31 [23081-23102]

Well it is un-Islamic

KN32 [10984-11235]

The statement you see in an Islamic state I don't think the issue of a non Muslim contesting for power is a reality but in a secular state where it is a reality I don't think there is a big deal.... In as much as a leader is tested and trusted yes ah.

KN33 [8733-8763]

No Islam allows for election.

KN34 [13816-14121]

This is un-Islamic because even if you will approach any of those that are saying or advocating for this, they will not give you any provision or support their view with any authority either from hadith or the holy Qur'an. So I don't think this statement is obtainable under Islamic situation or is true.

KN35 [15149-15595]

This statement we can't say it is Islamic and we can't say it is un-Islamic. It depends on the situation on ground unlike without Nigeria you choose among the best then vote for Muslims even if the Muslim is hypocrite then what will you do. So you have to justify between the two then know who are those Muslims that you think you wanted to vote for. So that is one of the principles, I mean the characteristic or the feature of a secular state.

KN36 [15606-15792]

This statement is not true because if a non-Muslim is being trusted, who have the character and they cannot temper with sharia can be given mantle of the position of the leader to lead.

KN37 [14168-14358]

No. That statement is not Islamic. It is not Islamic at all because you have to consider the nature and constitution of a particular country before you go ahead with this kind of statement.

KN38 [10357-10370]

Non-Islamic

KN39 [18302-18344]

Actually this not in accordance to Islam.

KN40 [15433-15442]

No idea.

KN41 [12765-12805]

I don't really see anything bad in it.

KN42 [28897-29423]

The statement is not true because during the time of the Caliphs, the people were allowed to-apart from the approval from Sayyidina Abubakar (rabiyyallahutallah) the rest Ali, Uthman was actually selected by the people. It was only Abubakar that was elected eh it was only Abubakar that was selected. The people are allowed to, the citizens are allowed to vote in an Islamic state to choose their leader. If they are allowed to choose their leaders, there is nothing wrong in actually being submissive to a non-Islamic leader.

KN43 [22352-22586]

Yah, you know am not a theologian, and the I don't have a very deep knowledge of the Qur'anic exegeses, I can recite but those who have a deep and concrete understanding of Qur'anic exegeses can give their opinion on this but not me.

KN44 [17119-17619]

You see part of the problem with this question, even the term Islamic state has not been defined, so the whoever is asking this question should perhaps be able to define what his understanding of an Islamic state is. Let me give an example, we have ah what is now regarded as an Islamic state in Iran and I know election has, is being conducted, I mean has always been conducted there, there is electioneering campaign. So to me both ah election or elections, it can be allowed in an Islamic state.

KN45 [23519-24543]

No, you (chuckles) this is not totally not true, this is total not true to say in Islam that there is no election or no electioneering is allowed as I give you example that there are different methods to select a leader, a leader in Islam. I gave you an example of how the third caliph of the Islamic empire was selected. He was, he was selected through election at least not a general election, but an election through an electoral college. So Islam permits election and ehh the Muslims ehh can vote ehh a leader who rules, who he thinks will bring justice because justice is the most important thing in Islam, yah. There was a popular saying I think of Ibn Taymiyya and Shehu Mohammed Bello the son of Shehu Usman Dan Fodio, yah that eh a rule can be sustained, can be sustained ehh in the non-Islamic, in non-Islamic teachings or if you like even the infidel those that doesn't believe any God, but ehh you cannot sustain a rule, you cannot sustain a government by injustice. So justice is the most important thing, yes.

KN46 [41715-43265]

I used to argue that leadership is like driving a vehicle, so if you come to a motor park and you want to travel, then you get two vehicles, one being driven by a Muslim driver and the other being driven by a non-Muslim. But this Muslim driver is an incompetent driver while the non-Muslim driver is a competent driver, which one would you ahh enter? Are you going to enter the one which would be driven by an incompetent driver just because he shares your faith or enter the other one despite the fact that it would be driven by somebody who does not share your own religion? I think the answer is very, very clear, but some people tend to act differently. They think they would, they would say ahh I think I would enter the vehicle driven by a competent driver no matter what religion he professes. But when it comes to politics, he would say I would just go for the person who shares my religion but this is not Islamic. In Islam you should go for the most competent, if the most competent is a Muslim then he should be given that trust, but if it happens that non-Muslim in that case is more competent than your Muslim brother, then you under obligation in Islam to go for the competent one, and if you do anything other than that, you are on your own. You are not doing it according to what Islam teaches you. You are going maybe for what you are, you are, what should I say ehh, I am sorry, you go just, you just go I mean your wishes, you just go to satisfy your own egoism, but not, you are not doing, you are not practicing what Islam says.

KN47 [41613-41809]

This is not an Islamic statement because there is no issue of voting, you understand, properly voting and discussing that in Islam. So you can't say that ah there is Islamic perspective on that.

KN48 [12768-12923]

No. so far there is nothing like that so far, what if the, the behavior of that non-muslim is quite more better to that of a Muslim. So nothing like that.

KN49 [22667-22865]

I think, the statement I think it is completely un-Islamic because there are non-Muslims that are friends of Islam, that they can coexist with, that you can live with, that you can even be led by.

KN50 [11357-11460]

This is also wrong because there is, because there is nothing wrong if a Muslim vote for a non-Muslim.

KN52 [32933-33257]

I am not an Islamic- all of the other questions I have attempted to answer I was struggling, but as a Muslim, I am only talking to you as a Muslim. As far as I am concerned, I do not think that Muslims must vote for Muslims, I do not believe so. And if there is any position in Islam which states so, I am not aware of it.

KN53 [15217-15235]

This is not true.

KN54 [8005-8039]

But the statement is not Islamic.

KN55 [9250-9357]

If the non-Muslim leader is not contesting side by side a Muslim and he can render justice. That is fine.

KN56 [14921-15415]

This, actually this statement is not Islamic, but for explanation purposes, if the non-Muslim leader is ah ok sorry, if a Christian is contesting side by side with a Muslim, there is no way that a Muslim should go about or should go forward to elect a Christian. The Muslims should elect a Muslim leader, but where, in a situation whereby there is no Muslim contesting to a political office, there is no problem for a Muslim to vote him provided that he can render justice to the Muslim people.

KN57 [14880-15161]

You see, Muslims can vote for non-Muslims if they think the non-Muslim can rule with justice while if the Muslim think that he can rule unjustly, you can vote for a Muslim. Islamically it is allowed to choose a leader in an elective way, by appointment and what have you. So yes

KN58 [33976-34231]

Well it is not true. Even in Islam there is election to some extent but it is not election that is obtainable like in the democratic state. It is election based on certain qualities that are shown by the leader. A leader is rather nominated than elected.

KN59 [27068-27624]

To me, I don't buy that idea, you understand. I don't buy the idea. It all depends on someone's capability and ability to rule you understand. If you see that this leader is capable of ruling, a non-Muslim can also vote him, you understand. So it is not, like during the time of Caliphate there is a concession the Ulamas engaged in voting too because there is this shura, whenever there is any election they would engage in there would kind of bring themselves together and deliberate on an issue irrespective of your faith you understand so I think ...

KN60 [25667-25891]

It is not true actually, but if you talk of Muslims not to vote for a non-Muslim I can agree to that because when you have a Muslim contesting automatically you have to vote for that Muslim. That is my understanding of it.

KN61 [12725-12851]

Muslim should not vote for non-muslim because in an Islamic state no election or electioneering is allowed, ahh is not true.

KN62 [41132-41365]

This statement is not Islamic, is very much un-Islamic. The only thing I believe is that Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims when there are Muslims that are contesting alongside that very non-Muslim, yah, that is what I believe.

KN63 [29919-30507]

Really, I support that you may, just as I mentioned now, that it is better to have a Muslim there as a leader because if you are not having a Muslim there, you know, he is going to follow that un-Islamic principle as leader ah, and maybe ah even though he doesn't have the adequate knowledge if you are able to speak to him ah this is what Islam has said about this thing, you know, even though he don't have knowledge you have to abide by it So having a Muslim there as the leader now, you ensure that our rights or Islamic right is not being matched on, you know, something like that.

KN64 [21706-21978]

Hmm mm I said to you in Islam we are electing our leader. I don't know how you have this. I gave you the example in the time of Umar ko? ahh Abubakar, I said he appoint seven people to pick one to be a leader. This is election; therefore, we have election in Islam, hmm.

KN65 [26224-27172]

Then you are trying to Islamize a nation, Nigeria is not an Islamized nation, you understand. So my own opinion, I would say that ah Muslims should vote for anybody that is credible that is worth credible because we still follow that in Nigeria today, we have two major religions: the Islam and the Christianity and we know how Christianity has been defined in the Qur'an, we define them as what, ahl kitab and he ask us to respect the ahl kitab even from, there is a saying that rasulu(SAW) when he knew that ah I don't know ehh he asks some of his people to make a hijrah to the now Ethiopia hmm Habasha, you understand, they gave them asylum, you understand, they are not Muslims, the then emperor of Habasha welcomed them and he was not a Muslim, you understand. So if you started integrating all those things now, you will see that there is nothing wrong for a Muslim to vote a credible non-Muslim, you understand, that is a Christian, yes.

KN66 [15409-15737]

Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims which I don't agree with because, this is because there are some Muslims who just bear the names of Muslims and instead of voting for such kind of, and instead of voting for such kind of Muslims, is better you look for a calm, understanding, unbeliever, non-Muslim together and vote for.

KN67 [16201-16232]

I don't think this is Islamic.

KN68 [8037-8075]

This is un-Islamic, very un-Islamic.

KN69 [28823-29320]

Well, election has so many dimensions, yes. Even under Islamic state there are some process to be followed to elect the leader of Islamic state, but we are not expected to mean the meaning of elections as the election taking place in this democratic dispensations in the world, but if you check the meaning of election in the wider sense, even under Islamic law we have Majalis Shura and that majalis shura they are responsible of selecting a qualitative leader in order to rule the Muslim state.

KN71 [49578-49676]

Remember the first question we discussed about the issue of selection maybe you get this one too

KN72 [26535-26950]

No it is not like that. In a secular state the only reason that a Muslim say that he cannot vote for ehh non-Muslims is if the Muslims ones is following the real, the reality of Islamic but when even a Muslim ehh contest and he did not ehh attend the islamist or the Islamic practices at the holistic, you cannot say that you cannot vote for non-Muslims, if a non-Muslim can make a resolution ehh to your Islamism.

KN73 [26555-26580]

Mm, Muslim should vote.

KN73 [26737-27246]

The question about should be when there is election and electioneering, but if we are talking about Islamic state where there is no election or electioneering, there is no question of voting of course. But when you find yourself that you are Muslim, in a country where there is an election, a Muslim should vote for a non-Muslim when he deems it that this non-Muslim he is pious, he is really a pious person that will treat Muslim and non-Muslim equal, but will give you a right to do what? Your religion.

KN74 [38135-38365]

This is totally wrong because Muslim can vote for Muslim, for non-Muslim provided that you as a Muslim knows that such person or the person you can vote for will not ehh stop you from worshipping or practicing your religion. Yes.

KN75 [40433-40925]

There is one saying that if a non-Muslim can be do justice in accordance to the law of the land, a Muslim can vote for him, if a non-Muslim can do justice more than the Muslim person, he is allowed to give that mandate to that non-Muslim to vote while some scholar condemn it. It is an opinion of the different, divergent of opinions of the scholars, they say even though a Muslim is worse than any other thing give you mandate to such Muslim, is more better is just a divergent of opinion.

KN75 [41014-41051]

Election is allowed in Islamic state

KN76 [29202-29701]

Well I can say that there is a clear misperception here because you can't say that Muslims should not vote for the non-Muslims, Muslims should vote for somebody who they think could protect their life and religion. If a non-Muslim can protect your life and your religion and all your freedoms that are enshrined in the holy Qur'an, then you can vote for him and you should not vote for any Muslim that will infringe you upon your right for religion, upon your life to economy and many other things.

KN78 [45735-45770]

Hmm I disagree with the statement.

KN80 [35586-35806]

Yes as far as Islam is concerned, once there is Muslim seeking for that particular opportunity, it is also forbidden for a Muslim to elect or to choose for a non-Muslim counterpart because there is ahh categorical ahh...

KN81 [21433-21590]

This position is un-Islamic because Islam deals with the time and circumstances. When election is needed some Muslims have to do it to protect their rights.

KN81 [21738-22251]

If non-Muslim will protect the right of Muslims why will he not be vote in a secular state? So if their right is been protected so is going to vote for non-Muslims. So he has to be vote even if he contested with bad Muslim candidate that is in a situation where by the two people are contesting so the Muslim and non-Muslim so the Muslim will not protect their right so I think you can vote a non-Muslim who is going to protect your right and to protect your life. So it is better for you to vote a non-Muslim.

KN82 [25343-25431]

Islam made a provision for election, but non-Muslim should not rule in a Muslim state.

KN83 [15986-16196]

Ahm I want you to understand that Islam is a wise religion it adopts changes, so election can be applicable to Muslims and if non-Muslims leader will protect the religious freedom of Muslims, we can vote him.

KN84 [18629-18868]

Of course no general election in an Islamic state, but Islam gave room, gives Ulama room to look new cases emerging in Muslim community. So election can be recognized nowadays to protect Muslims and their faith in the secular government.

KN85 [23866-24512]

I disagree with the statement that in an Islamic state no election or electioneering is allowed. Ahh in an Islamic state there can be election and people can canvass for votes and ahh such ah Islamic state is, to that extent, democratic and the non-Muslims can be elected even by Muslims if those non-Muslims ah can be trusted. If they are good and they can be trusted, they can be elected. If there are ah let say two opposing candidates and none of them is a Muslim then the Muslims can go for more moderate or more pacific Christian or non-Muslims. So, therefore, I disagree when it is said that Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims.

ZA1 [26843-27364]

If you look at the election, the election itself is not an Islam, is a agreement between me and you that let us get a procedure to vote somebody to govern us. So the issue that a non-Muslim, a Muslim should not vote a non-Muslim does not arise. If you have somebody who is competent, capable, can hold it, you can vote for him. If you vote a Muslim in Nigeria now he is not going to do sharia, he is going to just follow constitution, and a normal constitution, so everybody who is capable must be voted to that area.

ZA2 [25871-26948]

Ehmm yes that is how it is in Islam because the verse, there is a verse of Qur'an that is telling the Muslims they should fear for those who are not their own, they should have fear, they should very careful with them because they will likely introduce things that will not favor the Muslims. So they bring their selfish into the affair. Take example now, that issue that we have discussed who brought that suggestion that we should marry, man should marry man, woman should marry woman, would you see that, so there is the risk into it. Look at another one introduce, partially emmm this ribbah affairs in the bank affairs, the ribbah system, could you see, say go and borrow money give you and pay more with money, which un-Islamic, these are systems, but at the end, take a note when Islam came in say he created a Islamic bank when you will not pay interest, go back to check those banks, those who are non-Muslims they have more shares, they much operate more than the Muslims, so from there you will know that oo we know the truth we are just trying to do it wrongly.

ZA3 [21447-22012]

Actually in Islam we do not vouch for positions. It is advised that you do not seek for position, but once you are given you do not also reject all the time. So in such circumstance, as I have said previously, in a multi-religious dimensions where everybody has to come out and defend their own interests, going for elections too becomes imperative for Muslims, but the issue of voting for Muslims or non-Muslims, I think emm majorly, as far as Nigerian context is concerned, it has been started by non-Muslims...The normal human being should apply to his own life.

ZA4 [42048-42479]

Emm those, those, if you are talking about Islamic state at least this is not an Islamic state because we are not only the Muslims here, there are other believers here. So issue of non-Muslims you just have to vote for the right person, if that person is very good, is very kind, is not corrupt and all that, irrespective of his religion you can vote him, it not bad is not Islam we are practicing, we are not practicing Islam.

ZA5 [23970-24290]

Aha this one now you saying that Muslims or non-Muslims vote for, as in Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims. When somebody there is non-Muslim and he has the record and antecedent to lead people to the right path, you have to vote for him. When the Muslim have, if the Muslim cannot do what that non-Muslim will do.

ZA6 [56316-57937]

Ahm Muslims should not vote for a non-no it is not true. Islam always preaches justice and the justice system in Islam is the best justice system you can have and there have been contradictions on this issue of voting non-Muslim, but in Islam it is only permissible to vote for someone that is just. We believe why some preachers preach that the Muslims should only vote for the Muslims is the justice, the kind of justice system we have in Islam in sharia, is the kind of justice system we have in sharia. So the what I am trying to say is the justice system in Islam is the best system, so we believe the Muslims, if the Muslims should know this better than the non-Muslims since you have the best justice system. So if you vote a Muslims that knows this, he will be better in, you know, in administering justice in the society. But in a situation where you have a Muslim that does not know this and cannot offer this justice to the society, and you have a non-Muslim that is very good in administering justice, definitely you will vote for someone that will create an enabling environment for everybody to live in peace and harmony. For example, would you vote for someone that would because of carelessness, because he is a Muslim, but he has, what he does is bring fight among, cause crisis among people and then even stop you from worshipping the God you are supposed to worship? Or will he vote for non-Muslim that will bring justice and peace in the society where you can even worship God? Definitely you will vote for somebody that will worship God and that is what Islam wants, peace and unity amongst people.

ZA7 [25291-25506]

You said Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims? Well I don't think, I don't think that is true. I think Muslims can vote for anybody they want to vote for so far he has the best interest for the people at heart.

ZA8 [55913-57555]

Yes, like I said, in an Islamic state, I told you the rule of democracy cannot apply because you can't give the position to somebody that is not knowledgeable that has no fear of God, is not just, is corrupt, is a criminal and you now give him a position of a leader, you know the state will be in chaos because there are people that are knowledgeable that is number one criteria they use in an Islamic state. They only choose those people that they see that this person is knowledgeable. Apart from that is knowledgeable, he works according to that knowledge, he follows what God says, he obey all the commandments of God and two, he is fair and just. So they will now look at all these qualities, they are qualities they will look at even if he is knowledgeable before they can even appoint him. And one thing with it is during the rule of the maybe the first ruler, if he is ruling. If he is still ruling without nothing is happening, he is not dead or he does not go against what Gods say, people within themselves will know that apart from this ruler, the next person that is not, everybody will know the next person close to that person. For instance, as a ruler now if am very pious, a religious person, me myself I will know that if am not around, I can appoint so, so, so person in my place to take place because, and everybody will follow him because they also know that apart from the ruler, the next person in line should be so, so person because he is the next knowledgeable and next God fearing or next pious person. So that is why I said that Islamic state is no democracy because they know already who their leader will be.

ZA9 [29272-29445]

Well is very Islamic because according to the teaching, we were taught instead of voting for a non-Muslim contesting against a Muslim is better you don't even vote at all.

ZA10 [27732-27776]

Actually a Muslim should not vote for him.

ZA10 [27819-28055]

Yes because like I have said earlier, a leader should always be a Muslim, so when you vote a non-Muslim you are actually selecting or voting a leader that is not Muslim. So I think you don't vote for non-Muslims, a Muslim is Islamic.

ZA11 [22733-23123]

Well, to some point, Muslims voting for non-Muslims, is all about the fear. Some fear that when a non-Muslim comes to power, he does not understand the sharia law, so that is why they believe it should be a Muslim. So when a community has dominance of Muslims and then they need to follow up the sharia law, it needs somebody that understands the laws, so it has to be a Muslim to control.

ZA12 [13854-13911]

Islam, the state is not correct, the statement is wrong.

ZA13 [13983-14062]

Well the statement is not true that is one and I disagree with the statement.

ZA14 [18263-18462]

It is un-Islamic because even during the Khalifas of the prophet (SAW) during Umar, Usman, Abubakar Ali, there is election, there is election of a caliphate, as in there must always be an election.

ZA15 [21564-21685]

Islamic state, as I said, Muslims should not vote for non, I do not agree with that, I do not agree with that statement.

ZA16 [15178-15281]

Yes the statement in this, is true, the statement of this, this statement is true according to Qur'an.

ZA17 [16634-16801]

There, to my opinion I will say that there is election that time actually is the, they suggest ibn Zubair and the others, the rest, to select from one or two people.

ZA18 [21049-21181]

No, if the non-Muslim can perform and do just, you understand, you can vote for him, but he will not, why should you vote for him?

ZA19 [27877-28784]

Well that, in an Islamic state, just as we've said, there is no issue of election. Of course I agree with you, there is no issue of election, so you cannot call on people to come and vote for their leaders. But in a secular state, for Muslims are to cast their votes to a non-Muslims, there are certain conditions of which it could be permissible when this non-Muslim is ready to protect their lives and to allow them to practice their religion without killing or inciting violence or hatred or grudges among the various sects or various religions. Ah because you can get a bad Muslim among the Muslim leaders and you can also get a bad leader among the Christians and also the good among the other religions. So therefore, both non-Muslims there are conditions that warrant such and of course there are conditions where ah you can see Christians voting for a Muslim just as we have recently in our country.

ZA20 [17936-18349]

Well all I know is that you should not give trust to the non-believer. Giving your conscience and trust to the non-believer does not mean that non-believer belongs to your arm. Let us be objective. No matter how clean and clear you have become to them, they are not with you. There are so many verses in the holy Qur'an that justify this. But that does not mean we don't have to remain in peace with them.

ZA21 [22526-22818]

In every kind of situation or in every general rule, there is an exception. We are in a secular state remember, and we said whenever someone or somebody is faced with problems he should choose the best he can that will not go against the wishes of Allah. That is the line you should follow.

ZA22 [20525-20903]

Muslims if at all they have the capability particularly because we use to have larger number than the other society, we should try as much as possible to vote for somebody who is among us because we know no matter how a Muslim use to be far better than any other non-Muslim because we are just, you can see that passion and mercy within a Muslim leader no matter how bad he is.

ZA23 [27922-28924]

If you talk of election, election in present days you equate it of bai'a. So with that you must go out for election. The only thing if two people are contesting one a Muslim and one a non-Muslim more especially the Muslim if he is a strong Muslim, not a weak one. If he is a weak Muslim that electing him will add more harm to Islam than good then you should not vote for him. But in a situation where your contestants like what happened for the first time in the history of Lagos to my understanding, the only time where you have two strong parties having their candidates to be non-Muslims, for the first time. I know right from Shagari's regime, the governor of Lagos was a Muslim. If it is by election hardly will a non-Muslim win election but this time around the strong parties have their candidates to contesting to the Christians. Now will the people of Lagos say they will not go out to vote? They must. So election is a duty bound most especially in the democratic area we are living today.

ZA24 [34437-35231]

In an Islamic state as I said earlier there is not supposed to be election because the prophet said that somebody that came out and said vote for me we should not vote for that person. But in Nigeria here if you do not come out- if you didn't show interest that you want to contest for a particular post they won't vote for you. So therefore this is condition therefore it doesn't mean that -if there Muslim and there is non-Muslim the best thing is that -and you are vying for the same post the best thing is to vote for Muslims. But if there is no Muslim that is vying for the post, it is only Christian that is vying for the post you can vote such person to the post, but ideally there is not supposed to be election or electioneering in Islam. That is the way I understood the question.

ZA25 [30227-30992]

As we are saying a major problem is that we are in a fix, Muslims are in a fix in this situation. Ah Frankly speaking if you consider so many factors in some part of this world, some non-Muslims, some so called non-Muslims could be better than some so called –Muslims yes because of the track record. Some Muslims have occupied positions before and we’ve seen what they did. They were even used as serious instrument against Islam and Muslims. While some non-Muslims tend to pity even the Muslims more than some Muslims. So there is no way here that you can make a sweeping generalization that Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims. In situation whereby you know that even sometimes non-Muslims can even protect the rights of Muslims than the so-called Muslims.

ZA26 [15242-15458]

To me it is a wrong notion this one. In a secular society you cannot say because there good Christians, there are good pagans and there are good people that have any religion. So there are good people who can lead.

ZA27 [13873-13904]

Ah no, I don’t agree with this

ZA28 [26641-26947]

I will say this statement is direct and correct. It is direct and correct especially where the dominance is the Islamic belief so I guess if a Muslims and a non-Muslim should come up for a position everybody want to get that position, I think under no circumstance should a Muslim vote for a non-Muslim.

ZA29 [39370-39753]

No, to me when you say true Muslims should not seek for elective office no. Everybody has right to seek for any office he wants in so far you live in a circular state like you said. Do you mean that me as aq Muslim I should not seek for a presidency because I am a Muslim, because I am a Muslim rather, because the country consists of different, different category of religion? No.

ZA30 [49665-50238]

When, as long as there is Muslims contesting in an office, so it is really compulsory for every Muslim to cast him a vote because you suppose to vote somebody who is prostrating to Allah than to vote somebody who is not. But, this one also condition will warrant, but if there is none, may be the contestant are not Muslims. For instance, somebody find himself in America, where all the contestants are Christians or Jews, so you just choose the one that you think he is better, is at least rule better or more closer who will do may be less harm to Islam than the other.

ZA31 [21030-21422]

Is not, is un-Islamic. My reason is that, at times you see a Muslim and non-Muslim while the non-Muslim is doing what is right while some, as in some Muslims are not doing what is right. You see, you can vote that Muslim, you understand, not even because of that because to make, to be neutral, to come together, you understand, to come together, to remove differences in order to be united.

ZA32 [54708-56120]

Yes. Ah this statement is Islamic in the sense that ah we can say when there are two leaders in Islam, Muslims and non-Muslims, so Muslims are not allowed in Islam to vote for what, for non-Muslim as their leader because in many places, ahh many instances, we have seen ahh where non-Muslim as a leader persecute or persecuted Muslims because they are not bearing the same religion, they do not believes in, what is why he is persecuting them and ah to some extent we can say is a permission of condition. When condition permits, you cannot say a Muslim should not vote for what, for non-Muslim. For example, when the contestant of the election or leadership, for example, especially in the democracy, the system we are operating now in Nigeria, if you see when the two contestant, when there is no Muslim that contest, contests for that leadership or for that chair, so you must look for the one among the non-Muslims, you must look for one that is decent, the better one among them and vote for him. The statement here is Islamic and ahj it works when there is no, when there are combination, combinations of or when there is a combination between Muslims and non-Muslims as what, as a contestant, but when it is no, when there is no any variation or difference of religion, when the contestant are all infidels or non-Muslims, you must vote for the one that is better among the two. That is all I know about.

ZA34 [33451-34103]

A Muslim should not vote for a non-Muslim. Virtually we have to understand an Islamic state and a Muslim state. An Islamic state is a state that is completely following the rules and regulations of revealed religion of Islam. But a Muslim state is a state whereby we have majority or maybe the larger population are Muslims. In an Islamic state whereby it is Islam that is practiced hundred percent, there as I said, it is faithful Muslims that are allowed to lead. But in a Muslim state whereby maybe the pattern of the rule, the leadership there is not hundred percent Islam; a non-Muslim can be elected to lead the position. I agree with that.

ZA35 [14244-14417]

Muslims should not vote for non-Muslims, yes, Muslims are not supposed to vote for non-Muslims because they are unbelievers, so I don’t think they should lead the Muslims.

ZA36 [21503-21950]

You see, in an Islamic state people are elected based on their education and their faithfulness, so I don’t think it is everybody that deserves that. Even the Muslims cannot be given unless you have those qualities. That state is already ah you said that state is already an Islamic state. So in an Islamic state normally, it is the Muslims that rule, yes they are the ones that rule. So in the first place, they would not even bring any person.

ZA37 [29287-29598]

It depends on that very state, if it is Dar el Harb as you mentioned before that the non-Muslims are fighting Muslims in that very state, so Muslims are fighting for their rights, a Muslim and non-Muslims stand, you should not vote for any non-Muslim at that very time, but under normal circumstances, why not?

ZA38 [32789-33328]

Yah, basically, you know, if you are in an Islamic society that they practice sharia law, it is very hard for a non-Muslim to come to cast a vote, but when you are in a secular society and you know that the person would protect your interest, would allow you to practice your religion than the Muslim man, am sure there is nothing too wrong, even though your religion has given some provision for all these things, you understand, you can still vote for a non-Muslim who promise to protect your own interest, your own religion for you.

ZA39 [44354-44910]

Actually if we are operating a complete Islamic state or if a country operates a complete Islamic state that is a pure Islamic state like we said the Islamic leader is appointed by shura, when he is appointed then he is expected to perform the duty to be a representative of Allah. So when a leader is appointed by shura he is expected to carry on with the expectation that is how a pure Islamic state operates, but where Islamic state comprises or where a state comprises Muslims and non-Muslims, it depends on the arrangement they make among themselves.

Th11.9: Muslim Reaction without Political Power

FG1 [39168-39298]

They can react the way for example they are reacting in Nigeria. They have their own Sharia courts, Sharia laws and other things

FG1 [39300-39403]

They should channel their issues to the proper channels not through personal protests and other things

FG1 [39406-39718]

Muslims should react if they do not have power peacefully. They should react peacefully if the current if the status quo is to their favor, but if it is to their detriment, I think they should take, for me, they should take all possible and necessary action of eliminating the government or having the government

Just like our Mallams were telling us before the 2015 elections a koma ga Allah kawai, but that does not mean when the leadership comes to your hand, you should leave Allah. Certainly you just go back to Allah and keep on praying and praying and you can be rest assured that Allah will answer your prayer because Allah (SBUH) says (he recites the Qur'an), so just go back and keep on praying and of course when the right time comes, when the appointed time comes, nobody will deny you that leadership, Allah will grant it.

KD2 [18009-18227]

Muslim does not; they don't have to control political power in a state. If they are not in power then they should live their normal lives so long as their lives are being protected by the constitution of that country.

KD3 [13954-14129]

There is no reaction for Muslims to act on if the control of political power is not in their hand. The only thing is that their own right on religion should be given to them.

KD5 [15754-15894]

Is there any reaction they should do when they did not control political power? I don't think so. They should act normally. That's just it.

KD6 [30089-30366]

Ah, you go back to God, you go back to him because it is only God that can give power. May be we have something that we have done wrong and God want to tell us that it is not only you (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) that a day for you and a day for them, even in jihad. so.

KD7 [21830-22205]

Ehm being in a secular state, I believe to an extent, it does not mean that Muslims cannot practice his religion. It is only where in cases of extreme secularism that you find the state does not allow one to practice his own religion to the best. But, I believe they can fight for it peacefully and if they cannot, there are other options, they can as well leave that state.

KD8 [43253-43898]

Well, they should be patient. They should acquire knowledge, modern knowledge. They should acquire Qur'anic knowledge and try to manage in that kind of system and as well they should also participate in the governance. They should try to that their good values, let their good Islamic values, they should try to ehm demonstrate it so that there is going to be accountability in the state. There is going to be morality. They should be living a good life, a moral life and they should also participate in the governance of their state because if they don't do those bad things, those things they defined as bad will now be catching up with them.

KD9 [26789-27177]

They should be calm, they should not cause chaos, they should not cause conflict, they should be calm. In a secular state, as long as they are not the ones in power, they are not supposed to ah fight the government since you don't have the power to do that.

You have to be clam and continue to worship Allah and pray that Insha Allah that Allah will make it easy for Islam to take over.

KD10 [20965-21208]

When they don't control political power ah they should react in accordance to the sharia. They should not react, they should not transgress the bounds and the limits of the sharia, if they want to react it must be in accordance to the sharia.

KD11 [24852-25127]

I don't think there is anywhere which is stated in Islam that ah, well they should be patient, seek for their personal purification, prayer and do whatever is necessary to see that they come back to their position within the tenets of Islam not necessarily going to extreme.

KD12 [30159-30447]

Ah they should be, firstly when they don't control, they have no power to control the government, firstly they should go on preaching to people preaching Islam to people, be prayerful and then following the laws of the almighty Allah. So that very soon they will control the government.

KD13 [11019-11095]

They should be peaceful because Allah (SBUH) says it he who ordains power

KD14 [13128-13233]

There is no reaction. The Muslims should not react because power or sovereignty is being giving by God.

KD16 [10815-10938]

They should be polite, they should be calm, they should pray to God to bring the power into their hand not to be violent.

KD17 [36174-36424]

They should be patient and wait for the right time, as I said, political power is being given by Allah and Allah alone can take it away, they should be patient, they should steadfast and continue praying and they should, they should just be patient.

KD18 [17053-17242]

They don't have to react. They just have to be there. It is not all the time that they should, they should be in power. So they should allow other people as well, yes to control the power.

KD19 [22900-23564]

Well, they should react in the Islamic way, they should always resort to the Qur'an and the Sunna, what does, what do they say? That's what they should do, follow the teachings of the holy prophet because the holy prophet Muhammad (SAW) lived in a state with the non-Muslims, when he came to Medina, he was not the ruler then, it is the Jews and the people of Medina that are ruling and he stayed with them, so we should always look at the practice of the holy prophet and see when he stayed with the non-Muslims, what did he do, so any time a non-Muslim is the head over a Muslim, over a group of Muslims, they should always resort to the conduct of the prophet.

KD20 [16686-17030]

They should act maturely because it is not a must that they should be in control of a political power, when they have the power, they should they should control it according to the rules and regulations of Islam, when they are not in power, they should behave maturely so that there is going to be peace and harmony in that state or countries.

KD21 [15213-15349]

They should react in good power, channel their strength in particular place and ensure they wrestle the power back to where it belongs.

KD23 [16335-16918]

They should be react in a good manner and they should be react according to the teachings of their religion, so they should not bother that because they don't have, ah the don't have, they don't occupy the mantle of leadership ah they should be ah react anyhow. Ah so unless if they did something wrong and that will lead to tarnish their, the image of their religion then they should respond negatively or they should eh be able to express their anger, but ah but all what they are supposed to do is to behave the way is supposed to to be based on the teachings of their religion.

KD25 [75867-76371]

It has to be, it has to be gradual because it is not only in Nigeria, just as I said earlier, is a global issue and eh tackling it just within some days or weeks or months is not easy. It will not work, so it's just a continuous process, but it can be done at the best orderly manner not violent manner. Not that some of our youths are saying dole sai anyi kaza da kaza, if you do that then you are just you inviting trouble and it will not succeed. So it should be done in a gradual and orderly manner.

KD26 [18688-18994]

I think the way they should react is, all they should do is, they should mind the teachings and the saying of the prophet, the Quran and then they should use the sharia law as their guide for their everyday life, but if they don't control the political whatever, they should live as Muslims should live.

KD27 [21879-22012]

If they are in the minority then they should try as much as possible to keep to their own limits, to the limits of their own powers.

KD28 [25400-25741]

Political power in the sense that the Muslims will have to react that when the political power is going against the Islamic way of life because once you are not in a position and you cannot defend your own religion that is the effect. But where political power is trying to oppress you own way of life then Muslim can react in that aspect.

KD29 [15480-15526]

Well the they are expected not to be violent

KD30 [26871-26879]

Patient

KD31 [16340-16661]

Yah ah in this case they should react by trying to get themselves involved in the politics that's how they should react just involve themselves in the politics and that is what we are doing that is what Muslims are doing now in Nigeria that people are shouting bla bla bla bla just saying their own personal views and.

KD32 [24086-24594]

Ah politics and Islam are two different things, as I have said politics is just a game of numbers eh so now if a leader should be chosen they should totally submit to him as long as long as they have the right to worship Allah, they have the rights to follow all Allah's commandants so there is nothing to that. So they can submit to him once he does not deny them rights from performing their own duty, Islamic duty like performing sallat, so they can live peacefully under such leadership of a non-Muslim.

KD33 [19574-19690]

well they should react that, they should not start conflict or fighting, they should be obedient to their leaders.

KD34 [20666-20818]

Hmmm the way Muslims should react when they do not control a political power, they should organize and mobilize themselves to hold a political power.

KD35 [22084-22231]

Ahm the try as much as possible to conduct their self in a group manner so that they have more number of people coming to Islam, coming to submit.

KN1 [50286-50887]

Yes there is need for them to be obedient to the government as far as the government does not go contrary to the almighty Allah. Like now it doesn't warrant because a non-Muslim staying under a state like in Nigeria because this is our case study Nigeria, and northern Nigeria, if the president is a non-Muslim it doesn't mean out of obedience you should follow or agree when he said that you should stop praying or you should stop practicing your religion, in that place there is no obedience. But anything as far as he has not contravened the laws or the religion you have no option but to follow.

KN2 [27735-27941]

There is a provision for that. It means they should be tolerable, they should not provoke. It is two sides of the same coin. They should have tolerance and they should not provoke. That is the provision.

KN4 [41307-41423]

Normal. They would only disagree when they are is injustice if there is justice you can rule as much as God wills.

KN5 [20023-20097]

When they do not control political power? They should try to acquire one.

KN6 [23972-24114]

So, they should be patient, and they should be patient. So this is the ah and they should be continue searching for how to build this state.

KN7 [21191-21430]

They should react ehm, they should react peacefully, they should react in accordance with the law, I don't think there is any reason why they should react ehm contrary to the provisions of the law. They should just react in a normal way.

KN8 [22105-22452]

Hmm, I think they should embark on a peaceful, you understand, and steady processes because power belongs to Allah. If power is given to them, fine and good they should accept it with the willingness of God, but if it is not given to them, they should not use any forceful act or compelling people, or trying to cause problems in a given society.

KN9 [20972-21202]

Well when Muslims do not control political power they have to act according to, they have to act patiently, I would say, they have to be tactical in their dealings in order not to get wiped out from the face of history and earth.

KN10 [15659-15818]

Ehmm they can, they can just remain calm and try to comply with the rules despite it is not ahhhh it doesn't affect, it will not affect their Islamic practice.

KN11 [20724-20867]

They will not fight anybody but what they should do is to show the good exemplary of their religion for the people to understand their mission.

KN13 [23356-24237]

Hmm, they should react ahm they should react in the sense that, in which state is it in a secular state or in a Islamic state?

Because it is very, very impossible for someone to lead in an, for a non-Muslim to lead in an Islamic state. But now for - in an Islamic state for now, if you are talking about a secular state, it is based on democratic tradition, in a civilized way, so a Muslim, for you to say that a Muslim to react although they would, they are going to feel bad, you are going to feel bad but definitely there is no how you are going to do it. Because in this model, we are following a democratic constitutional elected government, so then whether a Christian or a Muslim they, they don't have anything that to allow the person to actually use his particular tenure or office and come out and definitely by then they can form consensus and elect someone, a Muslim.

KN14 [16890-16975]

They should exercise patience and follow the, ah do you mean in an Islamic state or?

KN14 [17204-17396]

They should be patient, and exercise, there's no way ah ah let's say in a secular state, a Muslim can be a leader and non-Muslim can be a leader there's no any problem, there's no any problem.

KN15 [17657-17803]

Muslims should react through being patience when they do not control power so as to maintain the status of Islam as peace, as a religion of peace.

KN16 [9120-9170]

They should calm they should be calm and patient.

KN17 [23470-23553]

No they shouldn't react violently because its a democratically elected government.

KN18 [36043-36368]

They should react within the normal political setup. If they want to take follow what the teaching of the constitution of that particular country says if you want power, if the teaching of that country says you can have the right to vote and be voted for then you can seek the power through that means, is a normal procedure.

KN20 [16262-16430]

Ah It is not, it is not a compulsory you can control political power. When other people are controlling the eh political power then you should be led you should follow

KN21 [10351-10372]

They should be calm.

KN22 [19723-20114]

The reaction of the Muslim whenever, if they are not in control of political power has been already told by some Islamic scholars and it has already been passed by the prophet of Islam that wherever Muslim finds himself, he should respect that leader. His reaction should be towards adherence to the discipline .He should operate based on courtesy and discipline in that particular society.

KN23 [14656-14841]

They should, there- in Islam the Sunni Muslims to be precise, they are of the view that peace should be maintained and leader irrespective of his religion, tribe has to be respected.

KN24 [15104-15127]

They should react bad...

KN24 [15181-15228]

Hmmm they should just try and exercise patience

KN25 [21609-21969]

Well when Muslims do not control political power in a state they have to be tactical because power is a relational concept as they would say and power is a very, very dangerous phenomenon. You cannot challenge the holder of power, you can only be tactical, draw close to him up till the moment you would assume or you would cease that power from this person.

KN26 [21750-22443]

Well of course definitely not with violence. There are a lot of ways, in fact at some point if we are to-you will see how to some extent, please just get me right, to some extent HAMAS did in Palestine and to some extent also that the Muslim Brotherhood did in Egypt. You know at one point they are more or less like variant groups but when the era of democracy came they somehow transformed from-they organized themselves into a political platforms and they use those groups...that is exactly-and they have their leaders in most states though for example in the Egyptian case along the line something went wrong, you know, we are all living witness to it. How Mubarak was ousted out of power.

KN27 [16606-16719]

I think they should not react in any other way rather than complying with the rules and guidelines of the state.

KN28 [13121-13393]

Well this is just a normal phenomenon. It is not a must for a Muslim to control political power considering that it is not just destined to be and initially it is not something that actually ordained. They should just take it as it is never meant to be. That is just it.

KN30 [14524-14553]

They should act peacefully

KN31 [19535-20025]

Well I don't think that is really a big problem to deal with. It is just that that is why it is always called that ah-just like late scholar of Islam Abubakar Gumi said that all Muslims should try and engage themselves in all aspects of the sectors of the economy, be it uniform or non-uniform work they should always try to be there, so that at least even if they are not the people leading that particular section at least they will have elements there so that they will not be subdued.

KN32 [9058-9210]

ah they should react peacefully and they should not carry arms and Muslims are known to be peace loving people in Nigeria and they must remain as such.

KN33 [7580-7612]

They should not react normally.

KN34 [11530-11768]

They should just react according to the ideals and practice of the holy prophet. It is not necessary that you must rule, but let them conduct themselves peacefully in accordance with the law of governing that particular state or country.

KN35 [13461-13620]

Muslims should react according to the Qur'anic injunctions and the Sunna of the prophet (SAW), they should always remember what Allah says about power itself.

KN36 [13916-14091]

They should react in peaceful way, in a manner so as to organize themselves so that they can be able to capture political power when the selection of the government comes in.

KN37 [12823-12930]

They should be peaceful and they must make sure that at all times their rights are not being stepped upon.

KN38 [9002-9073]

They should act decently and they should pray to the lord for safety.

KN39 [15792-15930]

Muslims are supposed to abide by the rules and regulations of a society where they find themselves not being the leaders of that society.

KN40 [14086-14159]

Muslims should try to react normal because leaders are appointed by God.

KN41 [11746-11783]

They are very free to be autonomous.

KN42 [25215-25501]

They should be tolerant, they should be patient and they should trust that everything has a reason. They should believe in destiny and they should accept that, that is what God has already been written. Then they should not act violently instead they should be patient and persevere.

KN43 [20349-20410]

They should behave gently and you know ahh, and ahh, kindly.

KN44 [15325-15393]

This one is political question and I don't want to answer that one.

KN45 [19233-19721]

When Muslims-I think ehh they should react peacefully and try ehh and try as much as they can if they have the number like in a democracy, if they think they have the number, so they can change the government they want peacefully but after all, what any human beings, what any human being wants whether he is a Muslim or not, that is ehh realistically in everyone's inner mind we want good life and we want a leader that will give us that good life whether he is a Muslim or non-Muslims.

KN46 [36689-37813]

I think they react in a normal way like any other communities. Everybody wants to have power, wants to have control, so when you lose that privilege, you do not feel good and it is normal so and when you have that power or you restore it you feel certain kind of fulfillment maybe because it ehh satisfies certain feelings in you, but I think in our own case in Nigeria we have a problem. The problem is our leaders tend to be nepotists, there is this nepotism and favoritism. You favor your own tribes, your own ahh people who share your culture, religion and so on. So this is called mis-governance. So that is why you find Muslims having problems when there is a Christian president, for example or Christian governor and Christians having problem when we have a president or a governor of Islamic faith because they do not expect to be treated justly, but once we get this kind of leaders who are willing to do justice to all citizens, I think and I believe this feelings will die ahh a natural death because they are, they are kind of maybe ahh unnatural ahh unnatural expression of what we feel about each other.

KN47 [37050-37355]

The Muslims should be patient. They should be, they should, you know, follow the proper way of getting to power, you understand, not violently, you know, you can't get to leadership by force since it is not military and if it is military ma, you can simply ahh religion is not a question, you understand

KN48 [11334-11430]

Hmmm, they shouldn't react violently; they should just believe that this is how Allah wants it.

KN49 [20611-20770]

I think they should eh be submissive to the laws and they should be obedient to the laws, and they should also be conducting themselves in a civilized manner.

KN50 [10124-10153]

They should react reasonably.

KN52 [28097-29391]

I think some of this questions are really provocative (Laugh) why should Muslims react because they do not control political power? Do they exist as Muslims simply because they do not have power or they must have power, You understand, there are lots of Muslims existing, living peacefully and harmoniously in non-Muslim states, you know, so why should they react because they are not in control of power except in cases, like I mentioned earlier, in situations where their religion or their life is under jeopardy right? Of course they must react and that reaction itself is a form of jihad, but the whole idea is that Muslim should not under any circumstances react because they are not in control of power, simply because they are not in control of power, it is just like this narrative that people in southern Nigeria use especially Christians about Muslims in northern Nigeria, I mean their own position of Muslims in northern Nigeria in relation to boko haram, That the Muslims in Northern Nigeria support boko Haram because they want power that because president Jonathan as a Christian from the south was in control, was the head of state and that is why they reacted using boko haram, which is not true. Just as you can see boko haram continued even after former president Goodluck.

KN53 [13824-13936]

If the political power has not been controlled the way it is expected then they should appoint another person.

KN54 [6894-6932]

Actually all the Muslims are peaceful.

KN55 [8164-8212]

Muslims should be obedient and good followers.

KN56 [13025-13081]

They should be good followers, they should be obedient

KN57 [13087-13145]

Participate as members and followers in the way of Allah.

KN58 [29822-29859]

They should react seriously because,

KN58 [30381-30601]

The reaction should be that they should start preaching and advising their fellow Muslims to start following political parties and joining politics so that one day they would control the power, like I said earlier on.

KN59 [23074-23409]

Actually they have to abide by the government despite the fact that it is not a Muslims government, they have to abide by him, there shouldn't be any chaos, there shouldn't be involved in any conflict. So to me they should be calm, there shouldn't be any negative reaction. There should be a kind of obedience to the political leader.

KN60 [23322-23675]

The Muslims should continue to strive, Muslims are not known to be lazy, they are known to be active people engaging themselves actively in whatever they're doing. So they should strive hard. They should be united and at long run they would achieve what they want to achieve. They would have the control and power if they should unite and then strive.

KN61 [11394-11504]

I should try to, to be patient and abided by the law of Allah, so Allah will assist them to be in the power.

KN62 [36156-36305]

Ahh, it is not necessary that Muslims should control political power, as I said earlier, so they should just be peaceful. They shouldn't be violent.

KN63 [25223-25343]

They shouldn't have any bad-they should support the government, they should support the government, they should support

KN64 [19266-19535]

Hmm there is, the only problem is that they will, they will make sure that the people, the ruler allow them to practice their religion. The problem is eh will arise if they do not allow them to practice, to do their religion, there will, the problem will start, eh.

KN65 [21653-22330]

Ehm actually it depends on the kind of ah state, like now you have mentioning two things, we are having a secular state where there is no religious preferences or a sharia state where that ah is a dominant Muslim or is being carried out by the sharia proclamation, you understand. So I think ah a country, if we are talking about a secular state, when a Muslim does not have a power, I think there is nothing we can do much, you understand, either we should guide ourselves by ensuring that whatever we do is in direct relationship with what Allah has ordained us to do and we should try as much as possible to forbid ourself from what Allah has prohibited us from doing, yes.

KN66 [13041-13397]

They should, Muslims should not put on a fight, they should not cause commotion, they should just be patient just like I gave earlier in my own place the way the Muslims took power from the non-Muslims, the way the Muslims took power from the non-Muslims by voting. They should just be patient when it is time to vote they go outside and cast their vote.

KN67 [14612-14774]

I think they should react according to the sharia because they may not, they are not always to eh ah it is not always that they should, they are the one to lead.

KN68 [6886-6912]

They should be obedient.

KN69 [26487-27089]

In an Islamic, in a secular state whereby Muslim living in that particular state I think since they don't have power to control political, politics in that particular secular state, I think they would just resorted to what has been provided in the Qur'an. Allah (SAW) says it categorically in suratul Baqara where he said that (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) Allah does not put a burden on a person which he cannot undertake and alternately, if they know that there is another Islamic state, if they accommodate them and they live there peacefully, they can migrate from there to the Islamic state.

KN71 [45768-45820]

They should try to control political power, simple.

KN72 [23833-23912]

They should follow except a thing that he violates the Islamic teaching, yes.

KN73 [23600-23796]

Who told the Muslims that they must control the political power? Nobody told them that they must control political power. They just do and behave and they practice their own religion. That's all.

KN74 [35108-35189]

Ehn eh you just exercise, you just exercise patience, you just exercise patient

KN75 [38069-38143]

In a secular state, they need to be patient, perseverance and tolerance.

KN76 [26426-26677]

Well, when they do not control political power, they should react in such a way that they should be obedient to the authority because there is no any other place in Qur'an whereby Muslims are encouraged to be disobedient to the ah, to the authority.

KN78 [40569-40864]

Well in the case of Nigeria, I think we just have to engage more in activities that would give the beauty of the religion to those who are non-Muslims. We should be more preoccupied with demonstrating the beauty of the religion by way of ahm, ahm by way of following the teaching of the Qur'an.

KN78 [40984-41783]

That is exactly what I am saying, when you don't control political power, I think there should be a conscious effort by the Muslims to ah first and foremost accept the fact that ah Nigerian is a secular state, Nigeria is a country where you have other ah tribes, other ethnic groups. So it is not a society, it is not a state where it is an exclusive preserve for Muslims. So reaction or no reaction, the Muslim should have to accept the hard truth of admitting that there are other people who are non-Muslims, who are Nigerians as well. So what should be emphasized greater is what makes a government legitimate, transparency and an accountable and credible type of leadership. If a Muslim who bears the name of a Muslim, but he is not credible, he is not transparent, I think that is an issue.

KN80 [32642-32877]

They are reacting as, so their reaction is completely in negative ahh direction because it is only Muslim, it is only one who ahh ahh ahh who submits to the will of Allah and what and take ahh whatever the consequences happen on him.

KN81 [19532-19690]

So he has to react peacefully and according to the law of the land, according to the law of the land. He can react based on the law governing by the land.

KN82 [23509-23736]

The Muslim should react in the way and manner that they obey the rules of Allah (SBUH). Anything that alters that then it is not permissible for a Muslim to live in a state where he will not have opportunity to worship Allah.

KN83 [14045-14130]

Ahh they have to be patient and follow the rule of the state where they were living.

KN84 [16925-17025]

Ah I think they have to remain loyal to the state because Islam does not encourage violence or riot.

KN85 [19751-20325]

It depends on the arrangement. In a state like Nigeria where its combination of Muslims and non-Muslims, leaders are elected through democratic amm ahh manner, if they do not have power in their hands then they should wait. They should try to organize themselves, they should try to see that any time there is election, they support Muslim, they try to make sure that that Muslim win and then control political power. But if they do not control political power, there is no need for violence, there is no need for militant activities since we are in a democratic setting.

ZA1 [22481-22763]

They have to join politics so that they will have their own representatives. If they didn't join this politics, you don't have representative, you don't have stay, you have to join it. What is good, what is bad you try to correct it, and come to the good ones. This is how you can...

ZA3 [18263-18349]

Of course they should, they should react, they should walk within the ambit of the law

ZA4 [38234-38749]

That Allah says (he recites the Qur'an) is Allah that gave power to everyone that he wills. So if you are not given the power then you are not destined by Allah. So Alhamdulillah the power is not all Alhamdulillah you are a believer you worship Allah, you eat, so is the best thing for you, getting power is even a temptation of destruction that is if you know the consequences or the dangers of power you can even not look for it, yes because it will give you a bad ending, if you are not keen in taking care of it

ZA5 [21759-21869]

They should remain calm and go and reinforce, if they see that they need power, they have to work towards it.

ZA6 [52607-53109]

Ahh in a situation where you have, like in the Nigerian situation, like which is the case study here the Nigerian situation, you have a 50-50 ratio where the Christians are 50 percent the Muslims are 50 percent. I don't think the Muslims should worry if the leader, whether he is a Muslim or a non-Muslim is fair and just, as far as there is justice in the system, the Muslims would not have any reason to react, but even if the leader is a Muslim and there is no justice definitely they will react.

ZA7 [22259-22570]

Well from my idea of what political power is, it has to do with a vote of the masses generally, what the whole masses of one particular society votes or who they vote into power. So I think they shouldn't act irrational and they shouldn't be violent if they do not own political appointments or political powers

ZA8 [48569-51185]

I don't think they have to react anything. is something that no matter how pious you are or how religious you are and you are in a state where you are not in control of the power, the only thing is you try your utmost best as a Muslim to see that you do your best even though if it is 0.1 percent. It would be good and make somebody be good because, my own opinion, if you are not in control of the power, if, for instance, it is a corrupt leader in power you and you know if you talk to him anyhow he will kill you or whatsoever, the best thing you do is you go down to the people he is ruling and try to make them to be good. Now if those people are good, definitely the leader will be good because if you are ruling the people that are good, there is no way you will change them, they will be the ones to change you. So I think if Muslims should just make sure that they see that they enjoin and tell the leader if he is not a Muslim that look this is what is happening, this is what our religion says. If you want us to follow you or you want us to do whatever you ask us to do then, don't lay down rules and regulations that will go against our religion because if you watch closely this constitutional laws and maybe religious laws, you see that they are almost in conformity. They may only spell it out in different statement or whatsoever, but they are all talking about the same thing, don't kill if you kill you be killed. Don't rape, don't fornicate, don't do this, don't steal, don't do this, all the rules, it is only in one or two places that they differ and this places is when now if he is a Muslim, now he will now differ with the constitutional law. For instance, there are constitution that in some countries or some state, they ban the drinking of alcohol, in some states they leave it. Now in a state whereby they ban the drink of alcohol even in the Islamic religion, you are not allowed to take liquor, it is haram for you. So now this state also says is haram now you see they are in conformity now. They don't have anything to argue about. But in a state whereby you know maybe the majority of the inhabitants are Muslims and their religion says from God that they should not drink alcohol and you as a leader you want to force alcohol on them, you know there will be conflict because they will never agree, but they will tell you, you are just human. This is what God tell them to do, they will never do it. So there will be conflict, I think they should just react positively if they will definitely react positively if the ruler is not enforcing what is against their religion on them.

ZA9 [25756-26229]

I believe they should go and re-strategize. There are qualities needed of a president. Let the Muslims go back to their drawing board, bring different things together and produce somebody just like that president, if, let's take for example, if the president is expected to be a PhD holder or a BSc holder, let them produce, let the Muslims try to produce someone who has PhD too so that he will be able to at least contest with the persons so that there will be balance.

ZA10 [25342-25500]

If you do not control political power, political power, every power is given by God. so I don't see any reason if they should have their action or anything.

ZA11 [20477-20759]

Political power, you see, from the teachings power is giving to one from Allah and what Allah has decreed on you no one can take it and what Allah has taken away nobody can do that. So we assume that anything that comes whether good or bad is destined from Allah, so alhamduilllah.

ZA12 [11357-11428]

I think it should be stated in the constitution of an Islamic state.

ZA12 [11634-11667]

they should keep to their faith.

ZA13 [12351-12387]

They should keep faith and believe.

ZA14 [16043-16158]

They should go back to God maybe they have offended God, and they should go back to him and go and re-strategize.

ZA15 [19714-19872]

It should be in a peaceful way because for years, for, if I may say, for 16 years now power has not been with Muslims, it should be done in a peaceful way.

ZA16 [12764-12793]

They should be very patient.

ZA17 [13710-13824]

they, there is no any reaction, if they were allowed to do their din perfectly, they don't have any, problem to.

ZA18 [18199-18564]

Well they should be calm and then continue to use the avenue at their disposal to advice the government, I think you understand (yes), we feel this thing should be done this way, if the government is willing to you know accept or ah or get those advices and practicalize, put them into action things will be better for all and sundry. Sorry I had wanted to go and...

ZA19 [23680-24299]

Well political power ah is something like ah opium just like, let me borrow the word of Karl Max actually, not ah Muslims could possibly react when they don't have political power especially looking at the context of Nigerian politics now, which has been categorized or characterized by regionalism, politics nepotism, you understand, and religious basis, so actually not just the Muslims, including the non-Muslims when they didn't have power, they actually agitate either in a violent means or peaceful means actually. So Muslims actually react seeing their member actually wielding power just like other religions.

ZA20 [14581-14758]

Well you know I understand that many-some scholars usually do preach to some Muslims, their fellow Muslims in a wrong way the tenets of Islam itself, but honestly it is wrong.

ZA21 [19489-19580]

They should calm down and make sure they vote for the right person. That is just it.

ZA22 [18629-18717]

They should try to get that because they are the just umma, they are the just nation.

ZA23 [23969-24689]

The only thing is for the Muslims if they don't have control over the power as we are now in Nigeria then you should be dialoguing. Dialoguing in the sense that take for instance where you have people contesting for the power and they are non-Muslims all of them you should not fold your arms to say you will not vote. You have to vote, but the only thing is try to have some eh what do you call it, understanding with maybe the one you will support. Document something in writing that if you emerge as a winner as we are going to support you, we want this, we want this, we want this. Let him accept that he will do one or two out of three or four of your needs. You sign an agreement then you give him the support.

ZA24 [30858-31122]

They are supposed to find all means to control –if they are the majority in the area-if they are the majority they have to find all means to control the power because in a place where sharia –Islam sharia does not rule people there will not enjoy the government.

ZA25 [27068-27188]

They should be patient continue to pray for God's intervention and they should be exemplary in their practice of Islam.

ZA26 [13679-13859]

It is not issue of controlling political power. Anybody-how others react? Muslims are human beings like any other person. How America react when it is not in control with any power

ZA27 [11875-12143]

They should react positively because may be it is from their own side as a Muslim whether you are a Muslim or a Christian what we are expecting from you is for you to be just and be a good person. If you are a Muslim and you don't perform well you have to step down.

ZA29 [35197-35914]

Muslims do not have to control political power. It is being said to us that even though it is a non-Muslim that is to come on board as our leader we accept him so far he will not deprive our rights to practice our religion. When he observe your religion very well, he observe your wealth that is what the prophet said, he observe even if there is –ok am coming. What the prophet said here is that if you do not have a Muslims a leader, you happen to have an unbeliever as a leader you accept him under these conditions: one, that he must not deprive you of your rights to practice your religion. If he as well similarly observe your wealth and well being, quite alright you go ahead and accept him as your leader.

ZA30 [45772-46024]

I already say this one earlier that they should be purify themselves, purify their family, act, conduct sharia within themselves, within households then move it to the surrounding neighbors, affect neighbors, then they can also affect the communities.

ZA31 [18399-18834]

Toh, they should not, they are not suppose to react so harshly, only through expressing their feelings, through media, let say if the government did something bad to their religion, but the way I say, religion is not, slam is not a religion of violence, you can't impose violence in order to have what you want. Violence is doesn't cause peace unless destruction, I think through dialogue Islam, Muslims can be able to solve problems.

ZA32 [48959-49555]

They should act, you know, with obedience. Muslims are expected, Islam is a religion of peace. Muslims are expected to behave in a peaceful manner, they should not fight nor even abuse in fact. They are expected to pray and exercise patience and abide by the rules and regulations of the state once they are not in contradiction with that of the Islam, yes, and they should use the, the power they have when it comes to what, to the election for example. If they have the population to control the power and they are not expected to be maltreated as well by non-Muslims in the state. That is it.

ZA33 [13327-13482]

They should react politely and positively and they should abide by the law as long as that law or rule is not, does not contradict the teaching of Islam.

ZA34 [29695-30181]

They should react in two ways. One, have patience because Allah (SBUH) gives leadership to whom he wills (quotes a verse) He gives leadership to whom he wills and he ceases leadership to whom he wills. So they have to take patience. Two, they have to educate their other fellow Muslims as the teaching of religion so that may be in the next, because politics is a kind of changing from one direction to the other direction, so it can change and come back to them. So that is that.

ZA35 [12843-12852]

No Idea

ZA36 [20019-20164]

Muslims should not react in any way because politics already is a game and whoever wins deserve the throne, so he/she should go ahead and rule.

ZA37 [27281-27921]

Well the reaction is for them to practice, is for them to practice what is allowed, what they can be able to practice it, but the one that is not possible for them, even Islamically, it is not compulsory for them. There is one verse in Al-Imran (he recites the verse in Arabic), so you can practice the one that you can be able to, but if you are now living in a secular state that even prayers should not be allowed, you are not able to perform even prayers, then you must migrate from that area to area where you can be able to perform your religion. But if its other issues that may be are not that compulsory so you can still stay.

ZA38 [29933-30173]

The reaction it should be just for them to conduct themselves. If the leader even though he is a non-Muslim and he is giving them their rights to people, good and fine, their reaction should not be anything rather than for peaceful reign.

ZA39 [40867-41052]

When a Muslim does not control a political power, ahm he should concentrate in practicing his religion, observing his prayers, discharging all the duties that have been imposed on him.

Th11.10: Muslim Submission to Non-Muslim Leaders as Polytheism

FG1 [41783-41947]

I can't remember any place where it is stated in the Qur'an or other teachings that people not be submissive to their leader if they are not in the same religion

FG1 [41949-42119]

For me if a state like ours if for example take Sabon gari as an example you cannot appoint Muslim to go there and lead them, you can appoint one from them to lead them

KD2 [19871-20163]

I did not agree on the fact that all offices must be held by a Muslims in a state because there's a teaching that says, there is a provision in Islam that says (he recites in Arabic). Here it means those in authority, the leaders are involved and it does not necessarily mean Muslim leaders.

KD3 [15394-15785]

No, as in a multi-religious and may be cultural place in like Nigeria now, you can't say in an area though majority, according to even constitution, majority of the people, majority should take the rule. So if an area which is dominated by non-Muslim, you can't say a Muslim should com there and rule, but an area that may be the highest percentage are Muslims, should be ruled by a Muslim.

KD4 [33766-35366]

Well! I disagree with this in this our contemporary world because if you look at this globalized setting today, eighty-five percent of this global world is practicing the liberal democracy in which is ringing bells in our today's world. So in this state, if you said that it is only Muslim that will occupy political office and all offices, I will tell you that totality, you are deceiving yourself. So, we don't want a portray this ideology, Muslims can hold the majority of seats when we have a Islamic state, but in, even in an Islamic state, we can make use of the unbelievers when find out that there is other position where by the unbeliever or the Christians or the people we call ahlu kitab can occupy other seats for the benefit we can derive, Islam can derive from them. Especially, in a situation whereby in an Islamic state, let me sight an example, in an Islamic state, when we, when an unbeliever or a Christian is knowledgeable in a particular aspect especially in linguistics and then Muslims are in need of that language, that person can be brought out and then given that position to teach Muslims that language. You see, it's a position and a Muslim, a non-Muslim is holding that position. Even in the period of our prophet Muhammad (SAW), he sent most of his apostles to go and learn other people's language, I will classify that as an aspect of those people that will teach them, they are leading them, it's an aspect of leadership and then if you put it in this type of scenario you see that a non-Muslim can occupy a seat in an, a position or office even in an Islamic state.

KD5 [17447-17638]

As I mention earlier, obeying secular law is not polytheism, so does obeying non-Muslim leader also is not polytheism. So, the issue of Muslim to occupy all political offices does not arise.

KD6 [32932-32968]

If you have the number to do that.

KD7 [24393-24779]

It is, my view is that we like in the case of Nigeria, we are in a multi-religious society. It is not possible for all our leaders to be Muslim because a leader is a representation of the people and therefore we will have representation from the non-Muslims and if we are called to serve under non-Muslims, it does not means that your religion or you have lost your iman, or something.

KD8 [46695-46940]

No ehm appointment, occupation of position should be on competence, it should be on competence, it should be based on your knowledge of modernity. It should be, it should be based on who has the knowledge that is required to hold that position.

KD9 [30345-30753]

If it is possible for Muslims to take over everything, fine and good. If not, it doesn't mean that you are submitting. It is after all a secular state. You will continue to pray that you have somebody that is upright even if, upright in terms of ah interaction, giving your right not trampling on it even if it is not a Muslim after all it is a secular state. It doesn't mean that now you have left Islam.

KD10 [24380-24688]

That is, in Islamic state is how it was supposed to be. In an Islamic state all the leaders should be Muslims now and they follow the Qur'an, they judge with the Quran and Sunna in an Islamic state that is how it is. But in Nigeria I, you talking, when you are saying, Are you using Nigeria as a case study?

KD11 [26832-27340]

Anybody could be a leader, a Muslim or non-Muslim and I wouldn't see any political subjugation here, but if even Firauna the greatest unbeliever was a leader and there were Muslims under him though he refused to heed to the teaching and ah what I am essentially saying is that in as much as the secular leadership guarantees Muslims ah their fundamental human rights, will not really go, affect much the tenets of Islam, I think staying under such system will not really result to unbelief and other things.

KD13 [12005-12025]

It is still wrong.

KD14 [14681-14709]

I could say this is false.

KD15 [22309-22427]

Ah in a political state it is unacceptable for Muslims to hold all the sits or whatever, so it is not proper at all.

KD16 [13046-13075]

No, that cannot be possible.

KD16 [13120-13228]

If it is an Islamic state we know it is an Islamic state then the Muslims can because it is their own state.

KD17 [40467-41445]

My view on this is no, no. Submitting to a non-Muslim leader makes somebody a polytheist, no, not at all. As I said earlier during the time of the prophet (SAW) whereby the polytheists of Mecca were punishing the Muslims there in Mecca, the first hijra, the first pilgrimage, prophet (SAW) sent them to Abyssinia which was in Ethiopia and the man, the person ruling then there in Ethiopia, is it not a secular state? It was a secular and those people had to follow the laws in Ethiopia. Does that make them polytheists? Those are among the most successful people. Even the Quran affirms to this people. I just don't know where this view that if you follow a non-Muslim or a non-Muslim being given a position in an Islamic state, yes it is better if a Muslim of your brother is holding that position, but that doesn't mean that if a non-Muslim is holding it, you have become a polytheists because prophet (SAW) says obey your leader even if it is a black slave from Ethiopia.

KD18 [18741-19033]

It is not true because when you follow the, when you follow eh non-Muslim leader is a, it is not as if you are worshipping them, its like you are just trying to take your part, is like you are trying to carry out your duties and responsibility. It is not as if you are worshipping their God.

KD19 [25247-25576]

No. It is not all political office, as long as that country is practicing the western type of democracy, all offices must not be occupied by Muslims and but in an Islamic state, there is no way a non-Muslim could occupy an office, if that state allows such a non-Muslim to occupy such an office then it may amount to polytheism.

KD20 [19289-19304]

That is a lie.

KD21 [17409-17816]

I think Nigeria is a multi religious ahm state that goes about its government through politics. If the people of Nigeria are close to find their selves with a leader who happens to be a non-Muslim, I don't think submitting to him go ahm gone against the teaching of Islam or let me say as the questionnaire here is referring, polytheism which to my own understanding is having belief in more than one God.

KD23 [18818-19475]

Okay all political offices must be held by Muslims in a state because it is polytheism to submit ah yourself to a non-Muslim leader, no. It is false because there are some Muslims that are not even capable to rule, so all what you need ah if you will have the authority to worship your God, to do your religion and you will not be harmed by that leader, so that is fine and good, so because there are some non-Muslims that are people of capability and people of merit so ah the sometimes they are even better than some ah Muslims yes, and even during the prophet (SAW) he even sent some of his sahaba ah to migrate to a country where non-Muslim is ruling.

KD24 [60668-60797]

It's wrong. It is not correct because we are not in ah Islamic state. Assuming we are in an state then this will come into play.

KD25 [79575-80344]

That is also wrong. That is not true. The prophet (SAW) said ah ah (he recites in Arabic) Allah said, prophet said I enjoin you to listen and to obey your leaders even if a servant, you know, an Ethiopian servant is placed upon you, whether even if that person is not a Muslim is a Christian, as long as he does not refuses you from conducting your Islamic ah ah forms of worship I mean rights and what have you, even though he practices his Christianity that does not mean that he should be disobedient to him, you should obey him in as much as the command he must have given you, you know is not ah argue the Qur'an or the Sunna or the (recites in Arabic) you must, you must obey him. And is not ah is not ah polytheism. It all depends on a person's level of faith.

KD26 [21145-21548]

No. I don't think it is necessary, are you talking about Islamic state here or just a general statement. The question is all political offices must be held by Muslims in a state as in, in this state are you talking about like now, let's use Kaduna state where we are mixed. Are you talking about that kind of state or for example now you are talking about Jigawa state, which is predominantly Muslims.

KD26 [21658-22598]

If we take it as under let's say Kaduna state, if we should take it on both ways, let's say for Kaduna state, I don't think it is because you said all political, I don't think, you are not submitting, it is not polytheism, you are not submitting to that person. That is what I want you to understand. You are not submitting to that person, you are only, he is only, you are only respecting him because he is a leader and if that leader does something that, you can stand up for yourself and challenge that person. I don't think you are ehm it is polytheism because you are no submitting to him. You can only submit to God. You submit to him because he can do wrong, but we humans can do wrong and him being in that position, if he does something that you don't agree with, we are in a democratic government you tell him am not in support of this and yes you have the freedom to say what you want to say. So I don't think it is polytheism.

KD27 [23206-23218]

Yes I agree

KD28 [27522-28054]

That is why I am saying that it will be ok like that in an Islamic state. In secular state it is not possible because there is now way you will say that an Islamic leader must be the person hold the political offices or whatever positions is a secular state. Then you must have to, it is better if it is possible so that the person or the Islamic leader who is holding that position has the fear of God and he knows that all the Islamic rules is not about to practice it which cannot choose to tamper with it of other part of Islam

KD29 [16862-17032]
 Ah my view on this is that we are obliged to follow our leader despite his belief, so based on that, it does not mean that you have went outside the religious teachings.

KD30 [29446-30059]
 It is polytheism to submit to a non-Muslim leader, ahm I said earlier if people with such beliefs can always go and form an Islamic ah political party where we have all the members of the party being Muslims and then they can ah rise to leadership without having much problem there to create with the office holding within Islamic non-Muslims, but when you are operating here like here in Nigeria where we have been, where we don't have much option but to work under this ah secular government then of course I don't see anything wrong with ah working with a non-Muslim or a non-Muslim occupying a given office.

KD31 [18115-18319]
 Yah is it not that is why I said if you don't have the proper understanding of Islam all these things will not be open to, so even if a Muslim that is not just unfair shouldn't be elected into an office.

KD33 [21248-21321]
 No, is not, all political offices should, no I didn't agree with this.

KD34 [22587-22696]
 Hmm my view on this is ehm is I disagree with it again because the Nigeria does not belong to only Muslims.

KD35 [24254-24623]
 A non-Muslim leader can be better than a Muslims leader ahh only the fearing God Muslims are good leaders, a non-religious practicing leader could be better than the Muslim leader, the moment a Muslim does not adhere to God's revelations then that means a Christian who is abiding by the rule and regulation of his book may be better than his, the Muslim counterpart.

KN1 [53614-53960]
 I disagree, because equally they have rights in the country and God has ordained and created them in the country with some rights and you cannot deny them their rights. Now if you say all political offices, there some offices that belong to or that are directly related to those that are non-Muslims will you still occupy those offices for them?

KN2 [29258-29544]
 It is not the leader that is important to Islam of course the leader is important and he should be a Muslims but being a Muslim alone does not translate a state as Islamic. So if all the leaders are Muslims, but they are under a secular form of government it is not an Islamic state.

KN4 [43578-44014]
 It is not true, even in Islam there is-you can be a leader inasmuch as you are just, justice, equity, wholeness, fairness and justice, he can only you can remain and rule those that are not Muslims. That's being a leader huh perhaps if I can say that is not a Muslim is not a eh a submitting to non-Muslim is a believing in another God, no, it is not true. My own view is I disagree with it, its not true. A non-Muslim can rule you.

KN5 [23306-24267]
 Ah ehh it must not be that except in an Islamic state. So, so long as you are living in an un-Islamic state ah anybody can be a leader but unwillingly so also because you are not supposed to submit to anybody except unwillingly but Allah (SBUH). You are supposed to submit to Allah willingly or unwillingly but to any other person, it should be unwillingly, maybe when you don't have any other option as a human than to do that. So since eh necessity has made that but those people who even elect non-Muslims to be their leaders they should that they have to account for that before Allah (SAW) but for those who have been elected for like for someone like me I have never elected for any non-Muslim, though they elected for me then I should not be held responsible for that (he recites a verse). Allah says nobody should be held responsible for the act of another one. So we have not make them to be our leaders and then that shouldn't affect us insha Allah

KN6 [27217-27639]
 I don't agree with this because if you say that, if you have a position even, even when we-even if it is in the system of Islamic state it allow you to go maybe and find someone who is better than you to put him in this office, for example, the first lecturer that is Prophet Mohammed (SAW) appointed their student a Christian. So you can appoint them ah if this position is appropriate for them. So you can appoint them.

KN7 [23762-24180]
 Hmm, well I don't think it should be, I don't think it should be, but ehm, that is, we should ehm, we should encourage the non-Muslims, we should ehm, let me say, give them the sense of belonging, sense of belonging and sense of responsibility within the society. So I don't think there is any verse that says you shouldn't submit to a non-Muslim leader, if the need warrants, they should hold political offices, yes.

KN8 [24791-25709]
 I think there are some situations whereby even the Muslims, the Christians can perform more better than a Muslim, so it is not good enough by Islamic ideology even the holy prophet (SAW) though he has mention that let the Muslim rule because they have better idea of the Quran, the hadith. But in a situation whereby you find a Muslim of doing money laundry, you understand, bankruptcy, and some corrupted attitude. Even though there is a better Christian that can perform better, let the Christian do it, you understand, the word Islam does not preach seclusion of power, no. Even in the holy Quran suratul Ambiya if you check in verse 14 of suratul Ambiya it says the power should be shifted to everybody based on justification of capability, you understand. Only the will of God, power belongs to God, he gives it to whosoever he wants, not specifically Muslims or Christians. I think you get the position of that.

KN9 [22563-22726]
 This statement is very correct. You need all Muslims occupying all the positions in a state in order for you to ensure and safeguard your interest as a Muslim.

KN10 [17168-17362]
 Hmm, it is not polytheism, the first thing, but to give a non-Muslim an office in an Islamic state, there may be a cheating he may cheat on you because ah they have something in mind like that.

KN11 [23313-23329]
 It is not true.

KN13 [25546-26456]

My view is that you can't, it is impossible, I mean impossible in the actual sense to actually make, to allow all Muslims to hold the major offices in a particular society. For example, if the society is a society that is actually comprises of both Muslims and non-Muslims, it is going to cause a major conflict in that society because you can't say-because the society actually belongs to two particular set of people. So for you to say that Muslims, Muslims are going to hold all that particular or all of ehm political appointment is very, very difficult. It is going to cause major problems in the society. So I think terms of agreement should be made between non-Muslims and Muslims to know, for those to know or a percentage should be conducted on the population, to know which population is more than the other, to know which offices are they to hold or which offices they are not supposed to hold.

KN14 [20194-20374]

If it is an Islamic state all the offices should be ah retained by Muslims, but in a secular state, ah that criteria should not be used, Muslims and non-Muslims should be in office

KN15 [19157-19270]

My view on this is that all political offices you know must be held by Muslims where sharia is you know in place.

KN16 [10082-10176]

Well my view is that all political offices must be held by a Muslim where sharia is in place.

KN17 [26140-26176]

No I don't think I agree with this.

KN18 [40123-40145]

Ah it is not right.

KN19 [23351-23364]

I disagree.

KN20 [17972-18027]

No you should not ah kai other people should rule too.

KN21 [11647-11673]

No, no, no, no, no, no.

KN22 [23619-23753]

No, no, no, all political offices ah for instance in a multi-religious society like Nigeria must not necessarily be held by a Muslim.

KN22 [23791-24006]

Yah, I don't agree with this statement because we have seen a situation where the prophet sent some diplomats or sent some Muslims to the Byzantine Empire to go and meet a king, a Christian king called king Najash.

KN23 [16193-16399]

I don't even believe that it is polytheism because submitting to a non-Muslim leader because there are other people who stay in other states that are not Islamic practicing states and they obey the leader.

KN24 [16471-16487]

No, it is wrong

KN25 [24110-24329]

Well this is very correct. In order to eliminate discrepancies, it is safe to go with all offices occupied by Muslims, you understand. So there would be no objection at the top. All policies would be made free handed.

KN25 [24374-24863]

Yes it has to be in an Islamic state. In a secular state they do not have the right. It is not their right to assume those who would lead. I think it is rule based by the majority, popular vote. So there is no way it would safely assume that all authorities at the top must be occupied by Muslims. It can never even go that way because it has to be a composition of all the elements in the society. And I am sure it is not only the Muslims who live in a secular paradigm or secular state.

KN26 [23817-24165]

Under an Islamic state yes. But under a secular-that is why I told you the other time there is this romance between the secular or rather let me say the secular state and the Islamic state. And once there is this romance there is every likelihood to have concessions if you know what I mean. You have to agree upon if you are to coexist together.

KN27 [18352-18561]

Ammm all political offices yes to a very large extent. All political offices must be held by Muslims, yes this statement is correct, but I don't think submitting to a non-Muslim leader makes you a polytheist.

KN28 [14811-14861]

No, no, not at all, the statement is not correct

KN30 [15313-15327]

I don't agree

KN31 [21791-22452]

Well it is more advisable that Muslims stand up and see that in most institutions just like I said, like the statement made by late Abubakar Gumi that they should be in all-but you know in a mixed society you don't expect that all offices should be held by Muslims. It is very, very impossible but it is just that Muslims should try and enforce themselves and that is why may be in terms of things like politics you see that they always advise people may be in the mosque and what have you to try and come out to show their love and try-its better you vote ah may be a Muslim so that you mean through that most of the Islamic activities can be allowed to flow.

KN32 [10532-10837]

No no no no that is not true, a Muslim can not just be Polytheists. Do you know the meaning of Polytheist? Polytheists are people who worship more than one God. You can't just tell me simply because a Muslim submit to a non Muslim leader is eventually in a secular state makes him a polytheists that is not true.

KN33 [8508-8583]

No, since it is a combination of Muslims and non-Muslims anybody can rule.

KN34 [13640-13670]

I don't think this is right.

KN35 [14990-14992]

No

KN36 [15212-15383]

In such situation anybody that God gives the authority to rule can rule, but it should not be the one that will temper with the religious tenets or the sharia principles.

KN37 [13998-14020]

No. That is not true.

KN38 [10188-10208]

No it is very wrong.

KN39 [18131-18155]

Actually I don't agree.

KN40 [14989-15286]

I disagree with that in the sense that if he has the qualities, he has the quality as a political office must be held by a Muslim is a state because it is polytheism to submit to non-Muslim. It does not necessarily mean a Muslim to rule, anybody that has the qualities are allowed to be leaders.

KN41 [12530-12620]

This not necessary. As I said this is not necessary where the society is multi-religious.

KN42 [28080-28748]

All political authorities in an Islamic state is filled with ehm with all Muslims, in some cases even non-Muslims. Whereby non-Muslims can occupy political positions in a Muslim state, why can't a non-Muslim do that in a non-Muslim state? So in a non-Muslim state, is not compulsory for all the positions to be occupied by Muslims, this is what we call tolerance. This is what we call accommodation. In a non-Muslim state, Muslims and non-Muslims should learn to accommodate each other. It is not polytheism to obey ehm laws from non-Muslims. It is actually considered the act of tolerance and accommodation and no religion has preached more accommodation like Islam.

KN43 [21924-22201]

No, as I told you earlier on, if state operate is an Islamic state all key political position should be held by Muslims, but in a secular state like Nigeria, you cannot even dream of saying Muslims must be in control of political offices hundred over hundred that is very wrong

KN44 [16577-16970]

No, in a secular state there is no, there is nothing like saying that all post should be held by, by Muslims since it is a secular state. So there, to me, there is nothing wrong when you submit yourself to a non-Muslim because the state is not a musli, is not a, what do you call it, I mean it is not an Islamic state and as such since it is secularism, to me, I don't subscribe to this idea.

KN45 [22855-23370]

I think this is also not true especially if we ehh we use the Nigerian eh situation as an example. How can you say that all political leaders in Nigeria must be Muslims? I think one is daydreaming even if you suppose that. There must be Christians rulers, there must be Muslim rulers and Nigeria because of that cannot be called an Islamic state or Muslim country. It is a secular country that have a significant Muslim population, yah and everyone here is eh, have the right to practice his own faith as he wish.

KN46 [41356-41487]

That is not Islamic at all. That means, whoever says this does not know the history of Islam and does not understand Islam itself.

KN47 [40829-41465]

No. I don't think this is eh proper ah, you know, articulation of the thing. It is not because ah we can't say ah we are polytheists when we submit to non-Muslim leaders because, you know, yah there is this saying in the, among our eldest here they say, you know, the leadership, you know, remains, leadership remains with justice and it vanished, you understand, with injustice. Even if somebody, they mean that even if somebody is not a Muslim as long as he has justice in his leadership, then his leadership should remain, you understand, and if the person in the power is Muslim and is unjust, you understand, he shouldn't remain.

KN48 [12591-12618]

I don't support the idea.

KN49 [22357-22519]

I think non-Muslim leaders are entitled to rule over Muslims as long as it is through a democratic and it is through an accepted way and manner. I feel it is ok.

KN50 [11185-11208]

This is also not true

KN52 [31949-32785]

It is not true, as far as I am concerned, the most important thing that should matter to us as Muslims is, you know, how do we really build an environment, a space under which Islam would thrive? You understand. You don't build an Islamic state based on injustice for instance. If, for instance, you have a candidate that is vying for a political position that is more competent than a Muslim, why wouldn't you go for the non-Muslim candidate? Or even a position in a governmental organization or institution where you have a non-Muslim that is more competent to a Muslim, why would you go for that incompetent Muslim for a competent non-Muslim, instead of a competent non-Muslim? Do you understand the point that I am making? So, for me, it is not true to say that all positions must be held by Muslims for a state to develop, right?

KN53 [15039-15069]

I don't believe that is true

KN54 [7809-7856]

Well no. It is no. Even Christians can rule.

KN55 [9074-9105]

In accurate, it is inaccurate.

KN56 [14727-14772]

My view on this is that this in inaccurate.

KN57 [14638-14735]

I can say if possible, it is not necessary, if possible it can have to be occupied by Muslims.

KN58 [33595-33827]

No. It is not compulsory since you are not operating an Islamic state, but to some extent Muslims are supposed to be part and parcel of the politics, control certain offices so that with time you start Islamizing those offices.

KN59 [26546-26919]

Actually I don't agree with that, you understand, a non-Muslim can also be a leader or be among the government so by going by what he says is not as if you admit to his ideology, but just like a place like Kano here, we have Muslims and non-Muslims in the government and they are among the decision makers so following them does not mean that you have admit to their ways.

KN60 [25493-25518]

It is a wrong view.

KN61 [12475-12578]

There is no, there is nothing like that, even non-Muslim can lead if he can agree to be in justice ...

KN62 [39988-40985]

It is not necessary that Muslims should hold a kind of ah let's say all the offices in a state, it is not necessary. It doesn't matter, be it a Muslim or non-Muslim that is leading the country or a state, it doesn't matter whether a country is being governed by an Islamic sharia law or a constitution or whatever, it doesn't matter provided that Muslim is actually allowed to practice, to observe his religion. Like, let's take an example, ehh in the days and times of the noble prophet Muhammad (SAW) we know what happened ahh this people, let me say, what is the name. there are our companions in the first place, who were under a certain pressure in Mecca and the noble prophet sent them to Najashi and we know Najashi the king of Habasha, Ethiopia was a Christian believer at that time and the noble prophet sent them there, and there they lived happily, they lived happily. If that was going to be a problem, the noble prophet wouldn't have actually sent them there. That is what I believe.

KN63 [29043-29770]

You know the problem, if you are having an Islamic state or maybe you have a Muslim dominated area and maybe ninety or more than ninety percent, of course, when you have Islamic leaders, you know, they will be able to, they will be guided by that Islamic principles. But when you are now having a Christian leader, you know, he may not have the adequate knowledge of what Islam have said about the particular behavior or whatever. So he may decide to take whatever and make law of his own. So like in Nigeria now, you cannot say Nigeria is, Muslim is not having law huh, even though we may have the highest population in Nigeria, but you cannot talk of the northern and then the southern part of the country, something like that.

KN64 [21021-21386]

No polytheism to ahh, what I said is like in the first, my view, you try to see either whatever you are doing is you are following Islam, if you do not have opportunity, you give what you can and as the ruler eh you leave the remaining to Almighty Allah. The problem is if you have opportunity to practice your religion and you didn't do it. This is the problem.

KN65 [25150-26075]

My view is this, Nigeria is a ahh we can't even say Nigeria is a secular is a secular state, yes. Nigeria is not a secular state because whatever government is doing, even in the 1999 constitution, there is a provision for Muslim and Christian, that is why you see every year, the government give public holiday for Salah, Christmas and every other thing you understand. So even by going to that alone, you see that ah Nigeria is not a secular state. And secondly, everybody has a freedom to practice his own religion and even in a gathering, social gathering, you would see that okay a Muslim should start the opening prayer, while and a Christian should give the closing prayer or a Christian should open a opening prayer, so you understand. So we can say that we are a secular, we are in between, somewhere in between you understand. So my own, I do not agree that only Muslims should now hold a political office, no, no.

KN66 [15229-15254]

It is not necessarily.

KN67 [16006-16052]

No. I don't think it is true, I don't agree.

KN68 [7843-7883]

Muslims are not the only ones to rule.

KN69 [28451-28668]

As I told you earlier, still Muslim remain monotheists even if he followed or he obeyed the secular state because, as I told you earlier, I recited a verse from the Qur'an where Allah said (recites the verse again).

KN71 [49102-49426]

Umar bin Khatab either Umar or one of the sahaba, once was having his secretary as a non-Muslim and because he was very good, if I can remember very well, in Mirath, he was very good in this mirath, so he, when he was going on tour, he left him as the acting Khalifa and he was a non-Muslim. What happened? Back to history.

KN72 [26071-26278]

No. It doesn't mean that all the political office must be held by the Muslims in a secular. It can be by any religious practicer because we live together and we tolerate each others, yes that is the equality

KN73 [25830-26024]

Yah, we have really had it in history. There was a time when there was no Islamic leader and the Muslims were living and they submit, they obeyed the leader. Does that mean they were polytheists

KN73 [26037-26369]

It doesn't. Allah knows what, why these people are there that he destined a non-Muslim leader upon them. He can change it. It is through his agreeing that you you'll be a leader. So I must obey because you are living and you are, are you doing your religion? Do you have a freedom to do your religion under that leader? That's all.

KN74 [37089-37178]

Am not agreeing with this ehh this statement because you say the all political offices...

KN74 [37708-37860]

The answer to this question is no, is no because the Muslim leaders, because the Muslims cannot say that they can occupy all the political ehh offices.

KN75 [39803-39823]

It is not polytheism

KN76 [28888-29050]

My view is that is not true that all political offices must to be held by a non-muslims, by Muslims because we are living in a multi-religious and a secular state.

KN78 [45424-45519]

This is a very wrong. This is a very wrong statement especially within the context of Nigeria.

KN80 [35102-35191]

Yes as far as Islam is concerned, in the Islamic state are you referring to Islamic state

KN80 [35237-35436]

Under a normal ahh ahh circumstances and the position of Islam, Muslim ideally and naturally governs, is the right person to govern the Muslim Umma, under the normal provision of the religion, yes.

KN81 [20961-21286]

Well if Muslim are minority, how will they, how will they control political power? They have to follow non-Muslim leader and it not act at it is not an act of worship. I hope you understand? Being following them does not show that they are worshipping them. You understand? It is condition that warrants them to follow them.

KN82 [25119-25192]

One of the fundamental principles of holding office is Islam, is Islam.

KN83 [15363-15746]

Ahm I think is it wrong. In all condition of most, in all condition if Muslims have the feeling of oneness of God, he is not polytheists and submission to non-Muslim leader is not wrong in Islam if he will respect Islam. Even the holy prophet sent his companion to Habasha where the leader is non-Muslim and they companions comply to his rule even with the consent of holy prophet.

KN84 [18281-18480]

What will happen for that as long as freedom of religion is protect by the secular government, Muslim people people will respect the government and obedience to non-Muslim leader is not worship.

KN85 [23178-23718]

As we have said earlier on, there were so many instances in which Muslims lived under Christian leaders. We have seen that in Ethiopia Abyssinia during the time of the prophet, we have seen it even before the establishment of Islamic state. The prophet and all Muslims were living under ah ahh the ruler-ship of Christian or non-muslim leaders. Therefore, ahh rulers or political office holders must not all be Muslims before Muslims ahh ahh will practice their religion under that government and that does not amount to polytheism.

ZA1 [26385-26692]

No. All public offices should belong to everybody who is pure, is not a corrupt. If you are a corrupt whether you are Muslim or Imam, you are not supposed to be there. If you are a good man, if you are a Christian, just somebody who is fair and justice is a person who is supposed to be there. Not a Muslim.

ZA2 [24219-25723]

Hmmm well emmm that area, I will not conclude it that yes or no or look at that person who is a non-Muslims who we say is a leader there. On what basis is he ruling? Is he ruling against the wishes of his creator? Or he is going with the rules of Allah that is what, you know I have spoken earlier, these books of the teachings, these books we are going with. These books didn't give us any wrong impression of the way of life. The teaching to me if only the mode of worship that differentiate, if they will be strict to those books teaching, I don't know if you are getting what am saying? If we will strict to the teaching of those books it is only the mode of worship meaning I in my own case I ablution I go to the mosque and pray, this one will go to church and clap is hand, this are the differences we have, and this person also, let's say, even those who are performing the ATR religion aspect, these are some when you go, even drinking of alcohol or taking, this thing are, I will say no. So I don't know if you come to because of that fear of you coming to create problem that is why sometimes the Muslim will start having fear that this person who is non-Muslim will he not come and introduce a problem, bring problem to the society because he will not be straight forward to the teaching of God, he may likely deviate because of the worldly affair. So that is I think this is the situation that come in with people trying to reject this, if not so I don't think there is any problem there.

ZA3 [20892-21298]

Emm to a certain circumstance especially what we find ourselves in Nigeria as a secular system where you have majority Muslims also a large percent a substantial number of Christians, it becomes difficult, for if you have agreed to live together to say that all post must be occupied by Muslims, no. However there are systems and there are laws that decide what and what, nobody knows your own background.

ZA4 [41768-41899]

Ah no. In a political at least in an environment like is, in a multi-system country like Nigeria is not supposed to happen, ehen.

ZA5 [23674-23821]

It doesn't mean, is a secular state we have then you can't tell me that all political offices are supposed to be hold by Muslims. It can't work.

ZA6 [55214-56167]

No. It is not. This is not, his is not true. It is not true. Like I said, it is a matter of necessity. This is not a Muslim state. Even in an Islamic, this is not an Islamic state, even in a Muslim state, there is a difference between an Islamic state and Muslims state. Ahm Islamic state is where predominantly they are all Muslims like the Arab countries. You see the Christians are very minute. A Muslims state is a state where the Muslims are more dominant than the Christians, but there is a large amount, large proportion of the Christians, you get? The population are Christians, but the Muslims are only much in number than them. In a situation like that, you cannot say the Muslims should occupy the whole of the political offices, it is not done like that talk more of a secular state like Nigeria where you have a 50-50 ratio. So definitely in occupying the political offices it has to be a 50-50 to make for fairness and justice to reign.

ZA7 [24739-25144]

Ahm it is absolutely wrong. It is not possible for all state to be ahm all state to be in the authority of Muslims because, as I said earlier, a state might only choose leader due to his influence with the masses and if the person that has greater influence with the masses and positive ideas for the masses is a Christians, I think the Christian should lead or whoever else or whoever else should lead.

ZA8 [54887-55765]

I don't think it is polytheism, I also told you, it is just the same answer now. I told you even though the leader is not a Muslim and you watch all the rules and regulations that he is trying to ask you to do. For instance, now as a Muslim, you are not allowed to kill and innocent blood, now maybe, for instance, this leader is asking you, he knows you are a Muslim and he knows this goes against your religion and he wants to try you whether you are going to obey him or not and he will now ask you to kill an innocent blood, who would you fear more, him or God? So that is where you see Muslim going against a non-Muslim leader because they will always say that he is not a Muslim he doesn't know that God says or not. So they will not want to follow him because they will know one way or the other he will ask them to do something that will go contrary to their religion.

ZA8 [59625-59868]

Ahm Muslims mostly if sharia is in place, most states that sharia is in place, it simply means that most of the people that are in office are Muslims that is when you see that the actualization of all the sharia laws will actually implement.

ZA9 [28851-29124]

Well I think, these things still revolves around the heterogeneous nature of this country. Nigeria is not an Islamic state, we have other religions as such power is not restricted to Muslims alone and there is room for others to rule. I don't think that point is valid.

ZA10 [27158-27375]

Actually I will say yes because, when a Muslim is a leader we all have the believe that he has faith, when he doesn't, if he is not a Muslim we all see him as someone that doesn't have faith and he can lead us wrong.

ZA11 [22363-22579]

Power is given from God to whom he sees, but what matters, like we said, what determines a leader is the qualities. So if the qualities could be found elsewhere if those qualities are there, a non-Muslim could rule.

ZA12 [13073-13182]

Well all political offices shouldn't be to only Muslims because it is not only...come again with the question.

ZA12 [13576-13705]

I don't think so. All political office shouldn't be given only Muslims in as much as they are living together with non-Muslims.

ZA13 [13647-13672]

No. I disagree on this.

ZA14 [17845-18111]

It is not polytheism to submit to a leader who is not a Muslim in a state because so far as the state is a secular state, everybody has the right to rule, so once you fall into the hands of those ones that are non-Muslims, you don't have choice than to just submit.

ZA15 [21383-21411]

I do not agree with that.

ZA16 [14846-14866]

No, I do not agree.

ZA16 [14893-15022]

My view is that since we are in a mixed society, state, so everybody should be given the right to lead or to be led by somebody.

ZA17 [16195-16482]

No. it is not polytheism, you can, if it is ah sharia state or we get, actually there is no any kuffur that will lead you get, but suppose we are looking for a doctor and we don't have a Muslim that is a current doctor, we can invite somebody to teach us, the people that are under him.

ZA18 [20770-20898]

It is not polytheism, is not, is never, a Christian too can lead you understand, we are not saying that only Muslims must lead.

ZA19 [27416-27729]

Ah this could only thrive in an Islamic state, just as we have said earlier, when you are under a secular state, you cannot say Muslims must hold all political offices because it is a secular state and a secular state is a place, just as we have said earlier, where everyone is allowed to do what he wants to do.

ZA20 [17239-17786]

Submitting to a non-Muslim leader does not mean you have violated the rules of God Subuhanahu wata'allah. It does not mean you have violated those rules. The only way to violate those rules is when you are worshiping him as a leader other than your God. That is wrong. That is where you are transgressing your belief. That does not mean for example if Goodluck Jonathan or Obasanjo who were once the presidents of Nigeria, it does not mean you are worshiping them you know. Leadership in Islam exists regardless of whether Muslims or Christians.

ZA21 [21926-22377]

No. All political offices must not be held by Muslims alone. Because when we say a place is a secular state that means there is a conglomeration of Muslims, Christians and what have you. What is expected of you is that you should be law abiding and you should abide by the directives only if it does not go in contradiction to your religion. By this we say that if somebody is a non-Muslim and that person is capable, he can hold a political office.

ZA22 [20174-20376]

This is impossible. There are things that are possible now and there are things that are impossible. At the moment we are now it is impossible to say that all political offices must be held by Muslims.

ZA23 [27140-27772]

What I know is it is not every office that a Muslim must lead. Even in the jihad, the fighting the physical combat it is not every jihad that the prophet (SAW) won. He won some and the Muslims were defeated in some. And when the prophet (SAW) emerged there were rulers that were not Muslims and up to the time when the prophet (SAW) departed this world there were rulers that were not Muslims. In this world the holy prophet (SAW) said the world itself cannot be equated to a wing ways of a mosquito in the sight of Allah. And that is why those that have the capacity or ability and those that doesn't have can be given the world.

ZA24 [33756-34290]

In fact ideally if it is a place we are practicing Islam, Muslims will head all the political offices, but now in Nigeria where we have the constitution-bounded by the Nigerian constitution. It is only God that can – God has known our stand or faith on that. That it is not our fault, but if it is a place where they are using Islamic rule we cannot allow any non-Muslim to hold any – now in Nigeria it is bounded by the constitution, therefore, it doesn't mean that we polytheists when we follow or allow non-Muslim to be a leader.

ZA25 [29537-30077]

Already we said that any political system that is not sharia based is unislamic. The Muslims are just meant to- are urged to just tolerate it pending when they are ready to form an Islamic state. So eh it is even out of necessity of the moment that Muslims are allowed to occupy some of those eh positions in a secular state. So there is no point asking that all positions must be occupied by Muslims. Nobody can give an authentic tradition that anybody that obeys some part of the laws – of the secular authority has become a non-Muslim.

ZA26 [14996-15092]

Wrong. All political offices shall be manned by uncorrupt mind not Muslims. Uncorrupted minds.

ZA27 [13574-13723]

No. My view is that we should always be looking about the good people whether a Muslim or a Christian, whosoever is capable should rule the people.

ZA28 [26090-26492]

Hmm this is a very conflicting amm statement. In a state where there are-is a combination of both Muslims and Christians there is no how one set of religion will be the dominant or should be controlled by only one part it's never possible. I think and I suggest in fact it should be a combination because to have a very good understanding between or among the followers so as to avoid confusion.

ZA29 [38332-39005]

Well in a state, in which state; in an Islamic state or a secular state because you are not specific here? If it is in a secular state, it is not right to say all political offices must be held by the Muslims that is not right. That is not a must, but in an Islamic state from the name Islamic yes definitely there should be non-believers to, non-believers should not have an office in an Islamic state. He dare not look for an office because he is not Islamic. He is not Islamic so why should he be in an Islamic state and hold a post? But if it is in a state that consist of or let's say a secular state yes it mustn't be only Muslims. It is the combination of the two.

ZA30 [48989-49513]

It depends on the kind of state. Is the state circular? Is the state mixed up? If it is a state like may be ehhhhhh that owned hundred percent (100%) by Muslims, so there is no reason for any offices to be held by any non-Muslim or to be held by any Muslim again. But, if the state is mixed up, may be like Kaduna that has more than two hundred different ethnic groups, so I wonder how somebody will just come and open his mouth and say all offices should be owned by Muslims. It cannot be possible, it is not even Islamic.

ZA31 [20695-20874]

Toh it is not supposed to be like that. The way I said, in a country you will see different religions, different ethnicity, toh I don't buy that idea as in only Muslims can rule.

ZA32 [53644-54553]

Ahhh, we cannot say all offices, must be held by the Muslims in a state because even the Muslims hmm will not work, will not lead the Umma or the people as a government or will let me say as a governor he cannot lead the governed to what, to the Qur'an, even to the Muslims self, it is based on man-made laws, so that you cannot say it must be held, the offices must be held and we cannot say it is polytheism to submit to what, to non-Muslim leaders because we know the history of ahhh the companions of the prophet that firstly migrated from Mecca under the command of the prophet, from Mecca to Abyssinia which is Habasha and there they went under the leadership of who, they stayed at Habasha under the leadership of what, of who, Najashi who was not a Muslim by then and that is a fact that when someone says to submit to a ah to non-Muslim leaders, it is polytheism, we can strongly say it is not true.

ZA33 [15136-15526]

No. My view on this is all political offices must not be held by Muslims because it is polytheism to submit to a non-Muslim leader, no. There is a Hadith says, the hadith of the prophet (SAW) said justice is prevailing or justice prevails in a land that is ruled by unbeliever while a land that is ruled by-when that unbeliever is obedient and is doing things the way it ought to be done.

ZA34 [32254-33297]

Well a good example is during the Prophet's (SAW) life, during the companion and the Thabi'un there were some offices that can be surrendered and can be given to a non-Muslim. It doesn't really mean that you have to completely, hundred percent Muslims must be on leadership because there are some affairs by which a non-Muslim will be brought in. For example, when Rasul (SAW) was drafting the Medina constitution, he did not draft the constitution by himself and the companion but he called the leaders of other clans; Banu Qainu qa, Banu Nadir, Banu, Banu and others. They came together, they drafted the constitution and then they acted on it based on the submission of the leaders of such clans. Likewise during the Umayyad Caliphate, which some of them were strong Muslims within the Islam although there were some little changes in their leadership yet there were some non-Muslims, which were appointed to lead some certain offices that are held by them; so Islam allowed even a non-Muslim to hold a certain position but with control.

ZA35 [13905-14095]

Hmm, all political offices must be held by Muslims in a state. If they are saying all political offices must be held by Muslims in a state, is it an Islamic state or in an un-Islamic state?

ZA36 [21288-21354]

It doesn't matter; whoever deserves it should go ahead and rule.

ZA37 [29118-29138]

It is not true.

ZA38 [32297-32640]

I disagree with that aspect and I don't see it as a normal thing because based on agreement, the society you live, you have made an agreement that you and so and so person want to stay, if you did not recall the position within you and the non-Muslim probably you are against the religion of Islam, you are against the teaching of the Qur'an.

ZA39 [43604-44205]

Actually if the state is an Islamic state that is comprising predominantly Muslims and they choose to practice Islamic religion, there is nothing wrong if the offices are occupied that is if the people are all Muslims, there is nothing wrong for them to have, actually, ordinarily that is people that will occupy the offices would also be Muslims, automatically be Muslims. But where the people are what? There are Muslims and non-Muslims, there is no way particularly where the number of non-Muslims constitute a certain percentage in the population, then there is no way that statement would stand.

Th12: Muslims and Implementation of Sharia in Secular State

Th12.1: The Rights of Northern Nigerian Muslim Majority to Impose Sharia

KD2 [25728-25941]

No, no, no even in Saudia, Saudi Arabia where at least 99% over 95% at least are Muslims, they have not imposed sharia on non-Muslims. So they should allow to, everyone should be allowed to practice his religion.

KD3 [20186-20316]

There is no way you force somebody into your religion by force. You can only preach your religion to other person through wisdom.

KD4 [50050-50418]

Well! Muslims don't have right to impose their religion on non-Muslims because they are in the majority, because there is no compulsion in religion as the Qur'an said la iqraha fid din. So, you cannot compel anybody to accept religion, religion eh Islam is a religion that people accept willingly, through feeling that it is the right, you cannot force it on anybody.

KD5 [25530-25869]

Hmmm I don't think Muslims have right to do that and I don't think that practice have ever been practiced in northern Nigeria because, as I said earlier, sharia law is only applicable to only Muslims which is why no history has shown where Islamic law has been applied to any non-Muslims all over the world, not only in northern Nigeria.

KD7 [32905-33345]

Nobody is going to impose a law on you that does not govern your life. I do not see any sense in that. As sharia law is for Muslims, basically for Muslims, but if you are a non-Muslim and you are living in a sharia state, you will practice your religion to the best of your ability, you will live, you will do business, but you will not do anything that will infringe upon the rest of those laws and regulations in the state which you are.

KD8 [58239-58425]

No. It should, should not be an issue of imposition because they are have their own rights, they have their own rights, therefore, they should, they should, it should not be imposition.

KD9 [40974-41782]

It is not an imposition. Is it not an imposition, is it an imposition? Of course the majority carries the vote, if the majority says this is what we want, why are they trying to force democratic on us? So why are they now saying democracy is the government of the people that majority carries the vote? So if majority can carry the vote in democracy, why can't the majority carry the vote in sharia? Majority says they want sharia and then you are now because am not a Muslim that sharia should not hold when you are in the minority? Of course the majority will carry the vote. Let sharia be. We are, I keep repeating it, you are even one of the people of, some of the people that are going to benefit from sharia. So yes because the Muslims are in the majority yes let them cry for sharia and let sharia be.

KD10 [32808-32954]

It is wrong. You don't impose sharia on them, they are Christians. You don't impose them to follow the sharia. Don't force them to come to Islam.

KD11 [34758-34999]

They don't have any right to impose anything on anybody. That is the truth of the matter even the religion it says lakum dinakum waliyadin why should anybody force anyone to accept any faith, such action would indeed prove to be outrageous.

KD12 [36060-36411]

Ah no there shouldn't be any imposition because it has not be in the way Islam came. Islam left everybody freely and when they observe the religion has been, as it was being practiced and then the way our Mallams, our elders, our leaders during the olden days, the way they rule, even the chiefs, the obas of various countries accepted Islam freely.

KD13 [15903-16142]

You see, where the Muslims are populated the teachings says the Muslims are expected to rule the place, so whoever is there now should also learn how to follow the teachings because the teaching of Islam are perfect with the human nature.

KD14 [20545-20669]

Muslims have no right to impose sharia law on non-Muslims because religion, everybody is free to practice is own religion.

KD16 [17062-17085]

I disagree with that

KD17 [51338-51467]

You cannot impose sharia law on anybody, as I said earlier, I have already answered that question earlier in my previous answer.

KD19 [32616-32838]

No. My opinion is a capital no there because if you are in the majority in a state you have to take care of the rights of other people. So just impose sharia on yourself, but not on every other person that is non-Muslim.

KD20 [26409-26588]

Is not possible to impose a sharia law because sharia law means for the Muslims, the non-Muslim cannot be practicing sharia law if we really want to live in peace in the country.

KD21 [24777-25052]

As I have always said it the prophet is the role model of Muslims and then al-makkatul mukarrama is the...for all Muslims. Till today there are non practicing Muslims or will I say there are non-Muslims in those states they have never been forced to practice the sharia law.

KD23 [25610-26100]

Sharia should only work on the Muslims, sharia should only work on the, for the Muslims. The non-Muslims should not impose ah should not be forced to submit themselves in the sharia, but if they will or if something wrong happens to them, so maybe they are ah maybe they are ah maybe they are ah they are aspiring to go to sharia court, so maybe they think that so it is the best way for their ah freedom, then they are free to do that, but sharia should not be imposed to them forcefully.

KD24 [76110-77455]

Eh I don't think they should impose, they should put force that each and everyone there should be a Muslim, should convert to Islamic state because guidance is from Allah, no matter how you think you can preach or you have the mouth to explain, if Allah did not spread his mercy and light into the heart of he that you are explaining or preaching to him, he can never understand you. And another thing maybe he can understand, but to accept is from Allah, if you wish he will follow. The prophet (SAW), his uncle Abu Thalib Allah says (he recites in Arabic) he did a lot to see that this uncle has converted to Islam, but at the end he did not convert to Islam and he died the way the people use to die in such era. This made the prophet to be very sad, Allah says no, guidance is not in your hands, guidance is in the hands of Allah, he is the (he recites in Arabic) Allah used to guide who and when he wish and who he likes to give guidance to a straight path, so to put it that I must or I should or our own religion is the highest religion because the way I am a Muslim now thinking that, believing that my religion is the true religion. If you meet the Christian that's the same thing applicable to him, he will say no, our own is the real and the true religion. If you meet someone that is worshipping cow, the same thing he will tell you.

KD25 [91607-92138]

Now they should not impose sharia laws unto non-Muslims or the non-Muslims will say ai that is not what they have been ah ah told in their own, from their own Christianity teachings to do, why should somebody come and...? But they can only be ah called upon to confine themselves in the best orderly manner by not distorting the sharia of Islam. But for the Muslims to say the Christians must abide by the something, it is as if you are saying they should, they must accept Islam and that is not, that will not yield good to Islam

KD26 [28147-28585]

I don't think it is supposed to be an imposed something. It is supposed to be a gradual thing from the way lives are, from the way we show ourselves, from the way we relate to them, they themselves will be enticed by our laws and you will be like wow if so, so people act like this because of the law guiding them why shouldn't we emulate them. So it should not be an imposed something.. It should be something that is used to draw them

KD27 [27015-27085]

No I don't think so, I don't think that the Sunna even agrees to that

KD28 [36476-36972]

I don't agree with that. Islam, you cannot impose sharia on a non-Muslim. The best way for Muslims is to let the non-Muslim understand what Islam is. And then when you are talking of sharia it is shared to those who know what it is. Once you know what Islam is and you know the beauty of Islam once this sharia law is carried out it is not done to victimize non-Muslims. It is restricted to Muslims because they have to have the knowledge of it and they know what it means to their own religion.

KD29 [23077-23169]

Ah I disagree with that. Sharia law does not mean imposition of the law to the non-Muslims.

KD30 [41263-41556]

Imposing, if you mean inviting, of course we should invite people into Islam because most Muslims, most non-Muslims in the Nigeria knows nothing about Islam and of course we should invite them, but if it is to force them by taking arms on them then I don't see that there is a call for that.

KD31 [20642-20798]

It is not eh there is no imposition, the Muslims are just trying to live their lives according to the teachings of the Qur'an and the Sunna and that's all.

KD32 [29735-29944]

No, this is not Islam. In Islam there is we don't force anybody to accept, you don't force anybody to practice your own believe even in Islam and even in western laws, so this is not, it is not even possible.

KD33 [26753-26966]

No I disagree with that Muslim have no right to impose religion or sharia law on non-Muslim because as we can say, as we said it earlier la iqraha fid din you are not allowed to force anyone to convert to Islam.

KD34 [31755-31926]

No, they don't have the right, they don't because we are living in a secular state as I said that every Muslim or Christian should be judged according to his own belief.

KD35 [31651-31815]

Even if you are the majority, the moment you impose something that is not proper on any person then you are violating your own rules and regulations of religion.

KN1 [65665-65894]

There is need for clarification here. Imposing of sharia law for somebody to be judged based on sharia while he does not believe in the religion; is that what you are saying or you are saying for somebody to be converted Islam?

KN1 [66010-66371]

To some extent Islam judge people islamically even those that are not Muslims. Let's assume you kill somebody and you are living under an Islamic state definitely you will be killed. And this one is not only under sharia law but any other things any other issue nobody will force you marry according to the way Islam is marrying out or is doing their things.

KN2 [37697-37719]

Actually I can't say

KN4 [51374-51725]

There is no nothing like that, a non-Muslim can practice his religion even in the sharia state like Zamfara state the governor there Ahmad Yariman Bakura when he established sharia he even called his neighbors Christians, some are from the southern part of Nigeria and many of them that voted for him he gave them 30 million to enhance their capital.

KN5 [33205-33532]

Ahh it is not actually very necessary in fact it is not even possible as the provision of Islam and the sharia is only binding on the Muslims. So as non-Muslims you cannot force them to but only the provision has also provide how non-Muslim should live in an Islamic state, so you cannot impose it on them, on the non-Muslims.

KN5 [32825-33052]

It has-I said sharia is only compulsory on the Muslims. So, yet in an Islamic state they should have some practices that they will agree with and disagree with, with respect to the practices of the non-Muslims in the society.

KN6 [36365-37118]

So, I don't believe with this statement, I don't believe with this statement. I think they should be judged based on their book, so the only thing is to display our moral character. If you display-because it happened during the time of prophet of Mohammed (SAW) when the Jews are committed this sin of zinah when they bring to the prophet Mohammed (SAW) he says which book should I use for you, they say you should do the Qur'an they say no, open your book so they open their book and it could be and it is found in this book, they should be killed and then they kill and they were treated with their own book and even during the time of prophet Mohammed (SAW) they say you should be judged based on your book so this is how Islamic state would operate.

KN7 [32951-33553]

Hmm mm, I don't think it is relevant enough, relevant enough in the sense that when you impose, when you talk of imposition sorry, if you impose things on people, you are indirectly forcing things on them and Islam does not accept or welcome things that are, ideas that are, are, that ehm, let me say, that ehm that brings in imposition of anything, anything. It should come with ehm eh, let me say, a peaceful way, it should come in a peaceful way in the sense that you call people like do this and if he agrees, fine and good, if he doesn't I don't think you should ehm impose the laws on them, yes.

KN8 [31891-32001]

Hmm I think this is wrong because they are not giving them the right to live; everybody has the right to live.

KN9 [29299-29372]

That is a very wrong accusation. It is not suppose to be that way, yes.

KN10 [22712-22973]

Before-in any state that there is a sharia, so it is necessary for non-Muslims to obey if he wants to live in that state. So ah and it is almost agreement that this is our rule and if you are ready to obey it, you can remain here if you are not ready you can go
KN11 [30252-30501]

I have answered this question, I say it will not be possible for northerners to implement sharia in northern Nigeria ah in for northerners to Implement sharia in southerner ah Nigeria but they can implement it in their, where they are the majority.

KN13 [33237-33441]

Well, I think they don't have the right to impose it because if you, it has been stated in the constitution that we have freedom of speech, we have freedom of worship. I don't think they have that right.

KN14 [26447-26602]

No no, my opinion is in northern Nigeria Muslims should implement sharia on Muslims and ask those that are not Muslims to ah avoid violating sharia laws.

KN15 [23321-23368]

Hmmm (laughs) I think no, this is not correct.

KN16 [13391-13416]

No, this is not correct.

KN18 [47796-47879]

You can't do that because there are minority and you have to respect their rights.

KN19 [29174-29321]

I ah it is not good enough, it isn't good enough, the reason is that other non-Muslims have rights to life because they are being created by God.

KN20 [21620-22079]

They should follow the constitution of the state not imposing any sharia law. It is totally contravening what the constitution of the country is saying. If you are in a secular state, you cannot do anything, there is a difference between a Muslim state, you get it, that is sharia state now where you are you have all right to practice you religion to do everything but as so long we are living in a secular state, I mean you should follow the constitution.

KN21 [15346-15366]

They have no right

KN22 [31116-31461]

Yes, my opinion to this is yes Muslim have the right to impose true sharia because when you go through the federal constitution of Nigeria, there is right to conscience, right-freedom of conscience. Here this freedom entails or advocates the need that citizens, citizens rather are having the right to choose any religion they want to practice.

KN23 [20478-20649]

Yah the northern Nigeria they are not practicing Islam, so I don't-they are not even supposed to impose any law on anybody because it is not an Islamic practicing region.

KN24 [19483-19540]

Hmm that is not right even though they are the majority.

KN24 [19585-19612]

They do not have the right

KN25 [31801-32198]

Well I think this assertion is incorrect. The Muslims have the right to establish an Islamic state, but they do not have the right to impose it on anybody. Islam is peace. Islam does not preach violence. So if an Islamic state is established in the north and the non-Muslims realize they cannot survive here, they could easily relocate. I think hijra is allowed everywhere. They can easily move.

KN26 [34417-34495]

No, no, no, no, that is very wrong; nobody should take laws into his hands.

KN27 [24085-24281]

I don't think they have to impose it on them, but in a situation whereby this comes like imposition, I think the non-Muslim should be more patient with the Muslims if it comes like an imposition.

KN28 [18861-18973]

This statement I think is not correct because everyone has his equal rights and the fundamental rights as well.

KN29 [4751-5225]

It is not done, it is not done. Even the sharia itself should be on somebody that don't believe in Islam. Sharia laws should be made on people that believe in Sharia. You can't force a law on somebody that don't believe in that law since you are not a Muslim then Sharia should-you should be exempted from Sharia law. There should be a secular law and the constitution and the rule of law that should be used in treating anybody that goes contrary of the rule of the state.

KN30 [17860-17871]

Not at all

KN31 [30971-31152]

Well I don't think they have that right because that is not how it existed during the time of the prophet. All that we do is we live in accordance with what the prophet have done.

KN32 [15411-15533]

I don't think they have that right because Nigeria is a secular state that every other religion has equal rights as other

KN33 [11573-11608]

Ah no, Islam does not allow that.

KN34 [19879-20025]

No. They are misconceiving the whole idea. No compulsion in Islam so I don't see any reason why you should compel someone to convert or to Islam.

KN35 [19485-19733]

The non-Muslims living now in Islamic state, there is no compulsion on them that they should abide by that is the Islamic law is imposed upon them as Allah even said there is no compulsion in religion. So they have the right to live their own way.

KN36 [20264-20589]

Sharia law is only imposed on those that are Muslims not non-Muslims, but there is misunderstanding and misinterpretation when sharia was trying to be implemented in northern Nigeria, sharia is only limited to those that are Muslims. Even during the Rasulu, non-Muslims were also living with him and they lived peaceful one.

KN37 [19105-19165]

No they don't have any right to do that. La iqra ha fid din

KN38 [14465-14494]

I disagree with this opinion.

KN39 [22712-22894]

Islamic rules and regulations are only necessary on Muslims. Therefore, to force those non-Muslims to practice the rules and regulations of Islam is something which is not Islamic.

KN40 [18517-18667]

Sharia should not be imposed in the northern Nigeria in the sense that it is not only Muslims that are living in the state or in the northern Nigeria.

KN41 [16043-16169]

I think this statement is not true enough. So this is not true everybody should be allowed on his own to practice his faith.

KN42 [39507-40130]

Since, since majority of the laws that are actually place in the north and actually there are really the Islamic laws they should, non-muslims should learn to live with it because if you go to the east and you go to the west, you still you find secular laws there. This is what they are used to because this is what they want to follow and since we want, since we the Muslims in particular want to follow ehm what is it called the sharia law we should be allowed. It should be imposed but not in a violent way on them and if they are not comfortable with the arrangement they are actually free to leave the Islamic state.

KN43 [30018-30407]

This has never happened even in state where Muslims and Christians live side by side and yet sharia was implemented like Kaduna. The Muslims did not say that the sharia should be used to judge the non-Muslims, they say the sharia should be, you know, used to Muslims only not non-Muslims. So it is very wrong to give the impression that sharia should be applied even to non-Muslim areas.

KN44 [24635-24881]

We, we, I have already answered that question that sharia is mainly for non, I mean Muslims. It doesn't apply to non-Muslims. So the issue to somebody rising and then imposing sharia on people that are non-Muslims, I think it doesn't even arise.

KN45 [32023-32287]

I think it is not Islamic ehh and ehh it is not within Islam for anyone to impose sharia law on non-Muslims. Sharia law is purely for the Muslims I think ehhh anybody that is even ehh proposing this even if he is a Muslim, then ehh he is an ignorant Muslim, yah.

KN46 [54656-55613]

Yes, but they accept also that if ahh, as a Muslim you go to a non-Muslim society or community, you have to abide by their rules and laws. So if ahh ahh in any ehh in any state, in any country, not only the northern Nigeria, if the Islamic state or sharia is operating in that country or state, then every citizen, whether he is or she is, whether he or she is a Muslim or not is expected to abide by the sharia laws. so I, I don't see any problem in that because even Muslims when they go to non-Muslims countries, they have to respect their laws because you are living in their own country, you are living in their own territory, they have their laws and their-you have to respect those laws, even in our traditional adage we have this understanding that if you go to a certain place and you see them ahh having tails if you want to conform to their own way of life you need to take leaf and attach it to your back so that you would look like them.

KN47 [50469-50883]

Well, they have the right to practice their religion and even in Islam you cannot force somebody to practice you religion, you understand, there is this verse I eh ah as I keep saying, you know, la iqra ha fid din. You cannot force somebody, there is no compulsion in Islam, in a religion. So once a Muslim has this kind of belief you cannot even attempt to go and try to force somebody into this belief in Islam.

KN48 [16662-16773]

This is a lie because there is no compulsion in Islam and sharia law is for only Muslims, not for non-Muslims.

KN49 [26983-27022]

I think that has no substance at all.

KN50 [14492-14587]

This has never happened and it cannot happen because sharia laws are meant for Muslims alone.

KN52 [46386-47005]

Are you a Muslim? Well the right to impose, you see it is clear in Islam that sharia is not applicable to non-Muslims if you are not a Muslim sharia is not applicable to you. Do you understand? It is not applicable to you but then you must not- if you are caught taking alcohol, for instance, you would not be prosecuted using Islamic law or you want to get married, you would not be bound by any Islamic law or your life is not governed by sharia even though you live in an Islamic state. That is why I said that there is freedom of religion even in an Islamic state that is guaranteed. The non-Muslims are protected.

KN54 [11214-11219]

No.

KN55 [12375-12496]

Muslims have no right to impose sharia law on non-Muslims because Islam is not a religion of compulsion and imposition.

KN56 [20833-21020]

ok I think I answered a similar question in the past, but let me just answer it. As I said Islam is not about imposition and compulsion. So sharia should not be imposed on non-Muslims.

KN57 [18439-18567]

You see Islamic sharia is only for a Muslim only and other religions who wish to follow the path, but it is only for Muslims.

KN58 [42082-42500]

No. It is a wrong usage to be sincere. As I said earlier on, la iqra fid din. You don't impose your religion on anybody, allow him. It is the qualities of Muslims that would even lure him into the religion. I for one as a Muslim, it is my own qualities that I am practicing that would even attract a non-Muslim into the religion because he sees me as a role model. So it is a wrong usage. There is nothing like such.

KN59 [39778-40445]

Ahhh gaskiya they cannot impose on them, you understand, because they too have their own laws guiding them despite the fact that they are not Muslims and despite the fact that they are in the majority state where it is being dominated by Muslims, so to me they cannot impose sharia law on them, even though they would impose sharia law on them it has to be the one that is bearable and minimal to them not the one that is like harsh. Take for instance now the issue of stealing, there is a certain amount that when you steal they would cut off your hand, so there is no Christian that would abide by that one. So to them it is a harsh law which they cannot abide by.

KN60 [30594-30799]

Not to enforce, if you talk about preaching, not to enforce. Nobody asked you to enforce sharia law on other people. Even the prophet (SAW) did not enforce sharia law on non-Muslims, so it is not allowed.

KN61 [16153-16244]

Hmm, to my opinion, it is not necessary that you must impose, but you try to convince them

KN62 [52127-52475]

It's not ah actually ahh, let's say, right. It is too unfair for Muslims to impose sharia law on non-Muslims because there is no, there is nothing like this in our religion. I told, I think I answered a question like this before that Islam doesn't impose itself on a person who doesn't want to ahh accept the religion, yah. That is what I believe.

KN63 [41863-42252]

Of course we can impose sharia in northern Nigeria huh these are Islamic states, there is- more than ninety percent of us are Muslims, then what again? What do they want again? This state is for Muslims, the Muslims are the majority, there is nothing stopping us, if at all our government are serious enough, there is nothing stopping us from ehm doing sharia in northern part of Nigeria.

KN64 [26040-26065]

No person said this hmm.

KN65 [33339-33782]

Islam is not about oppression, you cannot oppress anybody, you understand, so a din is a nasiha, so just because you are in the majority does not mean that you are going to oppress the ah the little ones to follow your own doctrine, that is not what Islam propagate. So my opinion Muslims does not have right to impose sharia on non-Muslims, but you woo into your religion by convincing them and making them to have a faith in your religion.

KN66 [21993-22154]

Yah, Muslims are indeed the majority in northern Nigeria and it will, I will be pleased to see that the sharia law is being implemented in the northern Nigeria.

KN67 [22653-22700]

No. I think ah the sharia is for the Muslims.

KN68 [10932-10936]

No.

KN69 [36277-36331]

No, no, no, no. Yes Nigeria is made of several states

KN69 [36552-36828]

Because of the populations, but this does not mean that if sharia is implemented in the whole northern part of the country, it doesn't mean that those that are non-Muslims their rights and freedom will be, will not be safeguarded. Their right and freedom will be safeguarded.

KN71 [63770-63837]

As far as I am concerned la iqra ha fid din and I maintain that.

KN72 [33793-33828]

No, it is not, no, it is not, yes.

KN72 [33840-34077]

Because in Islam it is prohibited to impose someone to do something in Islam because Islam is a belief, is a belief, is not an imposition. When you believe, you mean that you agree. It is based on your opinion, not on enforcement, yes.

KN73 [36082-36215]

No. It is not the issue of majority or the minority. It is not the issue of majority or minority. Rightfully right, let them do it.

KN74 [45363-45399]

This am not, am not behind this idea

KN75 [49032-49064]

Is not possible, is not possible

KN76 [39838-40114]

Well actually there shouldn't be that imposition in as much as that what happen is between the non-Muslims, but there are certain areas, like the prohibition of ahh ahh selling of alcohol, like ahh prostitution, all those things must be, ahh must be respected by non-Muslims.

KN78 [57381-58101]

Well I think ahh that is one of the fallacies of the argument as again ahh in the first place, we don't even have the same northern state, under the same northern state, we don't even have Islamic political system, I mean everything is just reduced to the family law, everything is reduced to some certain privileges that the constitution provides, yes, yes. So in a situation like this, for a person to now say he wanted to aspire to some of these things, I think we should be very eh, we should be very weary, we should be very realistic when we discuss of this issues. We are all Muslims, it is agreed we are all Muslims, but ah I think there are certain things that we have to, the harder truths we have to accept.

KN80 [43272-43335]

My opinion regarding this, yes my opinion, I think is proper

KN80 [43505-43702]

Yes they can impose sharia on non-Muslims, yes if the, if there is provision of other laws available, so non-Muslim should be referred to the law ahh ahh the court applicable to their own religion

KN81 [27580-27595]

No compulsion,

KN81 [27787-27885]

No compulsion or force in Islam, so Muslims have no right to impose anybody to follow sharia law.

KN82 [29965-30033]

No. Sharia is not compelled on non-Muslims, it is only for Muslims.

KN83 [20251-20405]

No. It is un-Islamic because sharia cannot abide to non-Muslims since they do not accept Islam. Why will Islamic sharia work them? So I don't think so.

KN84 [23759-23904]

Sharia is not, sharia is only for Muslims not non-Muslims and Islam does not apply force in all affairs, so this position is ehm is un-Islamic.

KN85 [33313-33562]

There is no need for sharia to be imposed on non-Muslims. Ahh it is only, it should only be implemented in a predominantly Muslim society ahh ahh Allah (SBUH) says la iqra ha fid din, therefore there is no need to impose the sharia on non-Muslims.

ZA1 [34756-35049]

Let me ask you my friend. You say Islam try to impose, you didn't ask how westerners impose their rules that now we are practicing. Some of the rules is talking against our religion, against our tradition, so you didn't you talk about it, you talking about sharia, so now Islam didn't impose.

ZA2 [40562-40750]

No. They don't impose, even up till now I think Muslim have not impose, it is not, no any right, no imposing now, those who are talking what we are saying is so simple, no imposing there.

ZA3 [26176-26414]

Why this question? It is obviously said that the majority always, but in the context of Islam, is to the society not to the individual. So whatever is due for the individual the religion and the law, the sharia law has covered for that.

ZA4 [48008-48104]

There is no how you can impose something because you don't have a right (la iqra ha fid din...).

ZA5 [28654-28761]

They don't have the right to impose sharia law on them because Islam is not imposing anything on anybody.

ZA6 [68726-69403]

Ahh it is not possible to impose, okay in northern Nigeria, in the constitution actually it is, there is a class that stipulate that every state shall adopt the kind of constitution ah it wants, it feels viable for its people. So I don't think it is force, where you have the majority, if you have a state where there are almost equal number, you cannot force a sharia state. But if you have a state where there are predominantly Muslims and a very minute number of Christians, then I don't think it is forced, it cannot be forced on them because it is allowed in the constitution because they believe that is the system that will bring about the true justice that is needed.

ZA7 [34179-34566]

Like I have said before, I said one has no right to impose his religion on any other person, but the fact that they are majority, since the masses and the majority takes the vote, I think it can be, it will be implemented, it should be implemented to avoid further conflicts or violence and that, but I don't think it should be imposed on non-Christians, non-Muslims sorry non-Muslims.

ZA8 [70191-70977]

My take I think is not compulsory because, like I told you, if you are a non-Muslim, they can impose the sharia law on you. If it is a state that basically operates on sharia law, no any other law like judiciary or whatsoever, if this state everybody knows that this state, the whole world knows that this state operates, operates basically on sharia law, definitely whether you are Muslim there or a non-Muslim or a Jew or a traditional practitioner, if you commit a sin or you commit a crime and you are a and origin or a citizen of that state, definitely that sharia law will be binding on you, but if it is a state that we have the sharia court and the judiciary court, we have the police men and those people, soldier and military, you can't impose a sharia law on a non-Muslim.

ZA9 [37808-38025]

Well I believe since we are in the democratic setting and once emm once the majority support a particular thing even though they will consider the minority in that place, I believe the majority should carry the vote.

ZA9 [38090-38475]

Sharia law is not a bad thing and I think that is where it should start from, the Muslims should make it known to the non-Muslims that sharia law will not stop them from practicing their religion, those things it will not stop rather it is just the good of everybody. Sharia law is not bad, like I said earlier, is like 75 percent correlation with the constitution of this country.

ZA11 [27932-28454]

Sharia being a way of life it should be a way to govern the Muslims in his dealings of day to day activities and being a non-Muslim, you could exist in such an area because there are these laws that are not to harm and if it is conducive for all Muslims, then it is equally conducive to non-Muslims, but living aside the consumption or the immoral acts, the consumption of alcohol and the rest, that is where they could have a little problem, but I don't see, even in the teachings of the Christianity it is not allowed.

ZA12 [17387-17474]

I don't think. They don't have the right to impose because Nigeria is a secular state.

ZA14 [23685-24059]

You can't really impose something on somebody, you do it willingly if you feel like you want to do this thing, you don't need to impose any sharia on anybody or impose religion on anybody because they say la iqra ha fid din there is no forcefulness in religion. You can't force somebody. You can't force somebody in religion, no forcefulness in religion, religion of Islam.

ZA15 [26468-26769]

They do not have the right to say you must do this you must do this, but they will always tell them this is what Islam says and if you go contrary to the laws of those, of that particular state or that particular people, you have your own court to go to, not necessarily Islamic or the sharia court.

ZA16 [18840-18860]

This is un-Islamic.

ZA17 [22889-23255]

Nobody is imposing, because even the Rasul (SAW) he do not ask them which, he ask them which sharia do you want me to apply, I hope you get me and their own is they say Rasulillah just bring justice to our own, so they usually use to come asking them to the justice that they know he has that is why they give him al-Amin, is not all Muslims that give him Al- Amin.

ZA18 [27572-28260]

No. You don't impose on them. It is only binding on the Muslims. It is only, the sharia law is binding only on the Muslims. For instance now, if a Christian, you know, in the Islamic law, if a Muslim steals something that is up to one fourth on a dinar, one fourth that is rubu'uh dinar and that thing is kept in a place maybe hidden in one place and locked up, then a thief comes and burgled and made a way or carted those items and they are worth up to one fourth of a dinar, then with witnesses and what have you, he should be amputated. If a Christian should steal that way, will he be amputated? Nobody will amputate him because the sharia is not binding in him, it is not binding.

ZA19 [38606-38971]

Ah well there is no imposition in Islam, this is no major thing. There is no imposition, just that in a sharia state when they say there will be no sexual promiscuity, there is no prostitution, there is no this no that, which Islam actually forbids Not just ah Christians, any non-Muslims are not allowed to practice. They must adhere to that particular conduct.

ZA20 [26217-26650]

It is wrong, it has never been said anywhere. This is wrong. In fact this question shouldn't have been asked, it will be igniting people. La iqra ha fid din it says in the Qur'an- no compulsion, no compulsion in religion. You can't force non-Muslim to be a Muslim. You can't. God has never, Allah has never said so. In fact he even said la igra ha fid din. You shouldn't force any one to convert to Islam. You don't need to do so.

ZA21 [31796-31942]

My opinion is that nobody should be enforced to practice any religion whether in northern Nigeria or southern Nigeria or elsewhere in the world.

ZA22 [27635-27785]

Nobody ever tries to impose sharia laws on any non-Muslim because they don't believe in it. Sharia is imposed only upon those that believe in Islam.

ZA23 [36039-36417]

That was not the practice during the time of the Prophet (SAW). You cannot enforce your religion your religion on anybody. You can only enforce it on your own people that are Muslims. If they go astray you must bring them back to order. Where they deserve punishment you must punish them, but you cannot enforce your religion on someone that does not belong to your religion.

ZA24 [43690-43852]

Ammm I am not agreeing with that. Even during prophet Muhammad (SAW) where there was Christians Prophet Muhammad (SAW) did not impose Sharia law on non-Muslims.

ZA25 [42853-43439]

As I have said there is no imposition in Islam. la iqra ha fid din al-Qur'an is very clear about that. You don't force somebody to practice your religion. But once a particular region has been declared as sharia compliant, as I have said, there are certain things that are injurious to Muslims and to humanity at large and which are accordingly condemned by Islamic teachings. Whether it is practiced by Muslims and non-Muslims, they must be enforced, they must be enforced such as running the business of prostitution, such as having beer parlors here and there. So these are issues.

ZA26 [20067-20090]

It is a wrong notion

ZA27 [19058-19220]

No that one is not Islamic because there is no compulsion. You cannot enforce Islam to anybody. People should be allowed to worship God the way they understand.

ZA29 [46419-46617]

No. They have no rights to impose sharia on them. They let them practice their own religion and do what their religion tell them, but not to do anything that will interfere with their own religion.

ZA30 [55381-55920]

Ehm, Muslims in northern Nigeria doesn't need to impose sharia on anybody. The only thing we need to do, as I said earlier, is try, instead of trying imposing, try and express your good character, try and express your own, try and express your own act, try and express the actuality of what is in your book. When Muslims in northern Nigeria exercise what Islam in the real sense, they will invite all those people into the Islam. Even without such, people are converting into Islam. What of when we turn back to actual teachings of Islam.

ZA31 [27246-27773]

No, let us assume in a state not in a country, right? In a state sharia, the way I said earlier on, some Christians they should obey some particular rules and regulations of the of the sharia, namely; like dressing, even the non-Muslims, I believe their religion did not teach them to dress anyhow, to dress half naked. So if they can control that, if they will obey that and stick to it, I don't see a reason which I believe is for their own good too. So I don't see a reason why Christians shouldn't stay in an sharia state.

ZA34 [42376-42453]

I disagree because la iqra ha fid din- there is no compulsion in religion.

ZA35 [19322-19513]

The Muslims are the majority in the northern part of Nigeria, so I think they have the right to impose sharia or whatever law they want to impose on the non-Muslims and even on the Muslims.

ZA36 [27184-27671]

Honestly to me it is not proper, even the prophet (SAW) whom we follow his steps did not do that and we are following his footsteps. He lived with them peacefully and even allowed them to practice their religion. So why should we implement our own rules and regulations on them. It affects us only, so we should not implement it on them. If we implement it on our fellow Muslims and they see that they agree with it or they like it, maybe that would even make them to convert to Islam.

ZA37 [35100-35469]

Imposing sharia on non-Muslims, I don't think there is any person that will make this statement. This imposing of sharia even that time it was on Muslims not on the Christians. Even the time of Prophet Muhammad, it is on the Muslims unless the Christian or the non-Muslims they themselves agree to come to the prophet that he should judge with the Holy Quran for them.

ZA38 [40677-40769]

They have no right. There is no compulsion in religion; there is no compulsion in religion.

ZA39 [52521-52778]

Ahm this is a misunderstanding of the religion. Non-Muslim is allowed, must be allowed to practice his religion and no one according to Qur'an can force or can compel somebody to practice his faith. It is a choice, religion is a choice even in the Qur'an.

Th12.2: Islamic State as a Requirement to Practice Sharia

KD1 [54759-54844]

It is good, but it might not be necessary, is good, but it might not be necessary.

KD2 [25334-25578]

No it is not necessary to create an Islamic state in northern part of Nigeria. Nigeria should remain the way it is, northern part of the country where the Muslims and the non-Muslims do live together. Let's remain as a secular state as we are.

KD3 [19962-20039]

There is no, it is not necessary because there is no compulsion in religion.

KD4 [49506-49903]

Muslims don't need the creation of the Islamic state before they can practice their religion perfectly. If you say so, you are telling me that the northern Nigeria today where sharia is not in place are not practicing their faith purely. I totally disagree with it, but as I told you earlier on, if the whole northern Nigeria can be under the tenets of Islam, fine Alhamdulillah, it is welcomed.

KD5 [25281-25381]

I think creation of Islamic in the northern Nigeria is not necessary, I don't think it's necessary.

KD6 [40960-41194]

Practicing somebody's faith in northern Nigeria today, we have the freedom to practice our faith as we want, as we want, as Allah and the prophets says, unless we are not following the footsteps of Allah and the prophets, that's all.

KD7 [32442-32754]

Is not totally necessary, but what I believe is that, there are laws already in existence which if we follow them then we are, we sail free, we've sailed free. Ahm it doesn't mean that we have to have an Islamic state for one to practice his religion to the fullest, but it will help if we had an Islamic state.

KD8 [57539-58093]

Yes, it is necessary we need because we believe that Islamic system of government or Islamic state is a fair state. It is a state that protects everybody and by the time we practice it, even the non-Muslims, they will appreciate it because their rights will be protected, there is going to be prosperity, there is going to be in, you know, Islamic, I mean economic policies and economic principles that are ehm that are more people friendly. Those ones that will actually sympathize with people, the one that will bring prosperity and individual growth.

KD9 [40326-40819]

If we have jihad in northern Nigeria it will be a beautiful thing. As is it that we don't have that is if we have sharia now, as we don't have sharia to a large extent people are still practicing their religion. So I a way yes we need sharia, we want it for even the weak Muslims we be jacked up, but even as it is the situation is not that bad. So if you say it is because there is no sharia and that is why you are not practicing your religion as it ought to be, you are deceiving yourself.

KD10 [32477-32652]

It is necessary now not only in northern Nigeria I say the whole world ma self, to preserve the din and Aqlu and the mal, the wealth, the dignity, eh the lives of the people.

KD11 [34294-34607]

Ah ah! When you say it is necessary to practice their faith in the most proper sense, in an ideal sense yah it is necessary, very much necessary because when they are under secular system such capital, such as criminal issues, such criminal issues that has to do with crime not civil, will not be duly executed.

KD12 [35714-35912]

Eh if the situation permit, they should have one nation operating one constitution, see you can't, only we have to do everything to maintain our religion so that we don't entertain any intruder.

KD13 [15729-15754]

It's not of necessity.

KD14 [19806-20395]

I don't think the creation of an Islamic state in northern Nigeria for Muslims to practice their religion is necessary because there is freedom of religion in Nigeria and everyone is free to practice, and before an Islamic state must come up, come into place, the Muslims there must have an Islamic mind, Islamic state of mind that is they should be practicing the that is first thing they should start, their mind set should be the way of Islam not the state because even though there is an Islamic state that cannot change anything from anybody. The main thing there is the mind set.

KD15 [28187-28216]

I don't think it is necessary

KD16 [16817-16915]

I don't think it is necessary, what is needed is just reformation. People should be reoriented.

KD17 [50657-51187]

Yes it is necessary because establishing the Islamic state, they will know ok, they will be practicing the full sharia, they will know they are being governed according to the way their law asked them to be governed, according to the laws of the religion, according to the laws of the Islam. Even in the secular state there are still one or two limits by the religion, but by the time they are practicing the full Islamic sharia, they will be more happy. So I think it should be established in the majority of the northern state.

KD19 [32096-32472]

Creation of an Islamic state is not necessary for Muslims to practice their religion. This is because before now, before even the country Nigeria, we have Islam and people practice their religion the way they want it. So we do not need an Islamic state. Every society you see in this world is Islamic in the sense that they practice one or more of the tenets of the religion.

KD20 [25879-26264]

Is not necessary because for the past how many years that Muslims and Christians they have been living together in peace, so the issue of the Islam eh the issue of the northerner trying to practice their religion and their sending the Christian back to where they come from,. I think that issue does not arise in Nigeria. So we are all together but our religion may be different, yes.

KD21 [24614-24632]

I don't think so.

KD23 [25235-25465]

Well ah it is somehow controversial because in northern Nigeria there are some states that is dominated by the Christians like Plateau ah Benue ah so these states are dominated by the non-Muslims, so it is somehow controversial.

KD24 [75417-75949]

It is not necessary because ah you in your house you can practice what Allah wants you to practice hundred percent if you are a true Muslim ah (he recites in Arabic) he that goes astray should not disturb you, since you think you are on the right path, go to him, explain to him so, so, so thing that you are doing you are going astray, you are going to hell fire, he said allow me, go and consider yourself, don't bother with me, just bother with yourself. Allah says you should allow him, go and be taking care of your own self.

KD25 [91349-91453]

Yes it is, if it will be possible, but if it is not possible the Muslims should just exercise patience.

KD26 [27822-27999]

I don't think it is. It is not an excuse that because there is no Islamic state that you will not practice Islam. With or without an Islamic state you should practice Islam.

KD27 [26610-26867]

NO. I don't think it is an absolute necessity. Yes it will be good it will be better, Islam could thrive better under an Islamic state, but presently in a system where, in the system that operates presently I think that Muslims can still strive under this.

KD28 [35844-36328]

I think we have discussed this before. Actually a state cannot be created, you I have earlier told you Islam as it is or in an Islamic state which if you want it to be is an area where you can have the freedom once you are given the freedom of performing your own religion freely and comfortably and everything, then what is it? Because in the northern Nigeria where it is an area of secularity, it is not completely an Islamic state, it is not only Islam that is in the land there.

KD29 [22639-22770]

Well if the Islamic states is created, there is going to be a concerted and serious efforts towards the implementation of sharia.

KD29 [22797-22925]

Well it can be necessary because ah based on that the implementation is going to be very effective unlike what is obtained now.

KD30 [40267-41117]

Ahm Muslims can practice their religion even under a non-Islamic state, but to practice it completely you have to be under an Islamic state because there are things that even upon yourself you will like to ah to benefit from like there are some crimes you will do in Islam and then there are there are certain punishment for that under an Islamic state where if you have been punished then your sin for that particular eh crime will be forgiven you see when you are not having an Islamic state then you have no option but rather to live with your sin and unless you continue to seek God's forgiveness and other things, so you see in an Islamic state provides all these settings where even yourself you will be free from a lot of things and then some so much protection and then the atmosphere to even practice the religion itself to a lot of extent.

KD31 [20395-20521]

Yah, it is because they are the majority they should live their lives the way they want to fine there is freedom of religion.

KD33 [26425-26605]

Yah it is necessary because in some state in northern Nigeria they are purely Muslims, so they have all the right to practice their region or to practice their faith 100 percent.

KD34 [31510-31606]

No, is not necessary as long as there will be freedom or religion within the limit of freedom.

KD35 [30886-31061]

I don't understand the, I don't understand the saying of creating Islamic state, you mean when you create Islamic state there shouldn't be a non-Muslim in that state or what?

KD35 [31184-31500]

When you use an Islamic law it only affects the Muslims, then why depriving them from staying with you? It only affects the Muslims, is only practiced on Muslims, the non-Muslims is going to his own way, is going to his own court and do and be convicted there, so I see no reason why we should segregate about that.

KN1 [65375-65514]

For Muslims to practice his religion or faith it is not necessary for sharia state to exist because sharia first it starts with yourself.

KN2 [36969-37145]

Even if the northern states happen to establish several Islamic semi dependent states, they cannot run away from the clutches of the reservations of the federal government.

KN2 [37280-37428]

Ammm well as a faithful I will say it is necessary, but as far as Muslims are concerned in Nigeria nobody has stopped them from becoming Muslims.

KN4 [51148-51222]

It is not so since there is a- is not so since we are in a secular state.

KN5 [31863-32065]

I eh the previous question I say is not possible for now not just it is not possible , it is not possible for now we don't know what the future may may lead to but the next question please can you.

KN5 [32229-32490]

I say it is not as nobody has ever stopped us from doing tarrawi or Tahajjud during the Ramadan or fasting or something like that. So in the creation of a true sharia or in its fullest capacity as it is, is not necessary for Muslim to practice their religion.

KN6 [35851-36212]

It is necessary because I say sharia-they don't know the meaning of sharia. Sharia it doesn't mean that you go and cut, it is not only limited to cutting of hand, it not only limited maybe to go and kill person and so sharia it is our aspect of all our life. It is part of our business, it is part of our education and system. So this is the meaning of sharia.

KN7 [32453-32800]

Hmm, it is not necessary. Not necessary in the sense that when you understand your God, when you understand your God, yes I don't think there is any, and you understand the teachings of Islam as it is in the real sense. I don't think there is the need for an Islamic ehm, ehm state to be created for a Muslim to ehm to practice his ehm religion.

KN8 [31384-31739]

I think creating an Islamic state in northern Nigeria is also a good process to ensure good worshipping of God in northern Nigeria but it is not the only thing it could do, you understand, but it could not be negated that it is not good. If it could be put in place, fine. It is a process to ensure good worship and the compliance with the will of Allah.

KN9 [29094-29147]

Well I don't think so. I think it is not necessary.

KN10 [22235-22560]

No the government already-there is freedom of religion and also within the constitution of the country, it is allowed that Muslims can-Muslim state, Islamic state can establish sharia. It happened in many state in this country, so I don't think if there is any- because the constitution allow the state to do their religion.

KN11 [29940-30104]

It is necessary for a Muslim to practice the-to practice his religion and because if we don't practice our religion as it is, we would not see the kingdom of God.

KN13 [33054-33085]

I don't think it is necessary.

KN14 [25854-26124]

Yes it is necessary because the majority of the people that are aah that are located there are Muslims for example in Kano state, about 90% are Muslims, likewise, Zamfara, Katsina, Jigawa, so I don't think there is anything that will be a ah militating factor for them.

KN15 [23034-23168]

Uhhmm no this is not necessary because even without Islamic states they use to practice their religion of course. It's not necessary.

KN16 [13137-13241]

No it is necessary because even without Islamic state they practice they practice their religions since.

KN18 [47090-47281]

I said where this this the constitution I said in the northern in the northern Nigeria we have freedom of ah religion the constitution we are practicing using allow for freedom of religion.

KN18 [47407-47580]

I am say telling you now, are Muslims deprived of any rights in northern Nigeria to exercise? So what are we saying the constitution we have raised this question, I answered

KN19 [28942-29026]

It is a prerequisite to ensure development of Islam but not absolutely necessary.

KN20 [21402-21428]

Is not it's not necessary

KN21 [15119-15201]

It is not necessary because we have both Muslims and non-Muslims living together.

KN22 [30884-30968]

It is not necessary because looking at Nigeria, Nigeria is a multi-religious state.

KN23 [20073-20336]

Yah it is because there are laws, Islam has provision for its own law and under a democratic system of government, it has constitution which is written by human beings and Islam believes in the supremacy of the holy Qu'ran.

KN24 [19331-19341]

It is not

KN25 [31544-31660]

It is not really necessary even with the present setting; a true believer can practice his religion to the fullest.

KN26 [34083-34272]

That is what I said earlier on. As it is now many countries, many states in northern Nigeria don't practice Islamic state but still the religion flourish. People practice their religion.

KN27 [23930-23943]

No it isn't

KN28 [18486-18717]

It is not necessary because I believe taking a look at the Muslim state, Islamic state rather let's say for example Kano, we don't really need any sharia considering the fact that it is already standardized, practical Islamic state

KN29 [4604-4608]

No

KN30 [17714-17718]

No

KN31 [30324-30822]

Well as a Muslim or as Islam is concerned it is very, very important to create an Islamic state however, but in a situation where we find ourselves in a mixed society like this that it is very, very difficult for us to implement. I think what is that Sharia we are saying? Living in line with the injunctions of Islam that is with the Sunna which is the Hadith and the Qur'an. Muslims can really, really comply with those things. I think in my own view I will say Sharia has started taking shape.

KN32 [14898-15261]

I don't think it is necessary, northern Nigerians are people who are good in practicing their religion irrespective of the nature of the state. Nigeria being a secular state, northern Nigerian practices their religion to the fullest so it is not necessary at all. But if it comes to reality that an Islamic state is in Nigeria then I think I will support that.

KN33 [11403-11435]

No I think it is not necessary.

KN34 [19513-19734]

Yes it is necessary. When you look at the un-Islamic practices that is taking place, so we need something that will control those un-Islamic activities. So these are some of the reasons that...

KN35 [19210-19340]

This is necessary because even democratically the majority carries the vote so they should be allowed to practice their religion.

KN36 [19934-20119]

Ah it is not much necessary, but what we need now in northern Nigeria all our leaders should be in fair play and they should be in democratic one. They should do away with corruption.

KN37 [18771-18960]

It is not, it is not. Even in Jerusalem we have Muslims who practice their religion so it is not, you don't necessarily need to have an Islamic state before you can practice your religion.

KN38 [14187-14191]

No

KN38 [14235-14320]

Because Muslims can always practice their religion with or without an Islamic state.

KN39 [22554-22568]

Is not true.

KN40 [18368-18372]

No.

KN41 [15811-15899]

I think I have answered this kind of question before that this is not absolutely true.

KN42 [38514-39364]

The creation of Islamic state is necessary in the Islamic because in north we the Islamic are of the majority and so there is a lot of people that are of the idea that instead of going through, instead of following the secular laws and whereby we have our own laws and preachings and we have our own principles and the way we should behave and the way we are not supposed to. It is better to actually have these laws in written. They should have it like we should. Let it now be legal for, let it be something that we will have to follow so as to so there should be peace because there is a lot of people that believe that are secular laws and not really they are not really the laws of Muslims. So there should be a kind of freedom for Muslims to now adopt sharia so that every smooth running of, of the northern state can be actually be achieved.

KN43 [29323-29871]

What I believe in is that Muslims as citizens of Nigeria should be allowed to operate the system of government which they want, but according to the provision of the constitution because even the sharia that some state implemented, they didn't do it because they just wanted to implement the sharia but it was the constitution that gives them an opening to implement. So they should be allowed to operate the system of government which they want provided it doesn't contravene the provision of the constitution because the constitution is supreme.

KN44 [24226-24422]

I don't, I don't, looking at the global happenings the practice or rather the practice of the religion by Muslims can be done even within a secular state. I think I have tried to answer that too.

KN45 [31765-31807]

(laughing) Ehh let me skip this one too.

KN46 [54140-54508]

Well, ah it is not necessary for, the creation of an Islamic state is not necessary, but ahh Muslims do not want their rights be infringed. So since democracy is there to ahh protect the freedom of choice, then ahh Muslims, majority of the Muslims in northern Nigeria want to have ahh this kind of system where sharia compliant ahh businesses are run and conducted.

KN47 [50268-50325]

No. I don't think it is necessary. It is not necessary.

KN48 [16397-16515]

No, it is not necessary, not until you they created an Islamic state before you could be able to practice your Islam.

KN49 [26658-26835]

Actually it is not necessary at all because Muslims are not oppressed; Muslims are practicing their religions without hitches, without being tormented, without being victimized.

KN50 [14253-14346]

This is not necessary because Muslims can practice their religion without any Islamic state.

KN52 [45316-46239]

It is not necessary. It is not necessary. Even in a non-Muslim majority society, a good Muslim should practice his religion without any fear of intimidation or I mean why should you fear or why should you even feel that you would not be able to practice the religion unless or except in a state where sharia is the legal framework? I mean Muslims have practiced their religion, if you see the way Americans, for instance, Muslims practice Islam, you would understand what I mean, they are very devoted Muslims, you know what I mean and they have a sense of community, a sense of Islamic brotherhood among Muslims who are minority in a non-Muslim majority state is even stronger, could be stronger than in a state, for instance, where you have Muslims majority. They are fighting over politics, fighting over petty, petty sentiments or things like that. That is the tragedy of not only Muslims but other believers as well.

KN54 [11040-11068]

No. This is not necessary.

KN55 [12207-12229]

It is not necessary

KN56 [20423-20686]

The creation of an Islamic state is never necessary for Muslims to practice their faith truly why because even in Kano here that we don't have, we cannot call Kano an Islamic state completely and we are truly practicing our religion. So this is false I think.

KN57 [18260-18293]

It is not necessary, honestly.

KN58 [41434-41935]

It is not only in Northern Nigeria, in the entire world. What we are agitating is the creation of what we call Islamic states. Not only in northern Nigeria but in the entire world where Muslims would practice their religion without let or hindrance and then other religious believes would be allowed to practice their own too with coexistence with Muslims vice versa. So it is not only in northern Nigeria that we are agitating for this, the whole world that is where we are agitating for.

KN59 [39056-39631]

Actually it is necessary why I say it is necessary is because if there is this creation of Islamic state or if there is this Islamic state, then the Muslim will practice their religion and their faith with an ease because everything Goes in line with the Qur'an and Hadith and if you follow the Qur'an and Hadith then definitely your way would go straight you won't go astray and everything in the Qur'an and Hadith is something favorable and something bearable. So to me I strongly agree with that, with Islamic state Muslims can practice their faith correctly and freely.

KN60 [30091-30447]

It is necessary for them to practice their faith truly and why do I agree to that is because if not in full fledged sharia compliant state, some people although even the way we are living now, we are not denied, nobody denies us the right to practice our religion actually, but to practice our religion 100% you get that only in a sharia compliant state.

KN61 [15880-16001]

Yah, it is necessary because when there is majority of them, then there is need for them to protect their will of Allah.

KN62 [51942-51976]

I think it is not necessary, yah.

KN63 [40574-41716]

Is necessary, is necessary because of the influence, the influence. Look at the western influence today huh, but when you are having an Islamic state even though you want to dress like this, ahh it is against the law, something like that. If you go to ah okay even in the northern state, sorry to say it, I have been hearing it of same sex marriage huh, maybe you have same sex, you know, something like that, same, nothing like that, the same partner, but when you are having an Islamic state now, and they know the consequence. The consequence, once they know the consequence, I am very sure, many people will want to run away because of that. They will never approach such thing because of the consequence under it because we are very flexible in our own law today that is why people are continuing and abusing the laws huh what's there, most of the influence people, how much are they going to pay huh, maybe a million or two million, they pay it and they go scot free, but once they know the consequence and it is death, is this, is that, you know, people will be afraid and trying to abide by the law of Allah.

KN64 [25656-25893]

Ah in all circumstances, Islam ahh is calling the Muslim to establish sharia, to be governed sharia. This is Islam. Ehh ehh this is Islam's instruction eh that is you try as much as possible to see that you are governed by sharia, hmmm.

KN65 [33167-33188]

It is not necessary.

KN66 [21531-21842]

Yaaaaa, to some extent it is. Why I think, these secular laws, it has really, really affected some Muslims, so many Muslims that really are not going to change if not, if not the sharia law is truly implemented, they are not going to change, to some extent I believe it is true.

KN67 [22305-22501]

No. I don't think so because nobody will stop you, there is a freedom to practice your religion, as far as you are thinking of practicing your religion, there is no need for the ah Islamic state.

KN68 [10781-10785]

No.

KN69 [35907-36118]

So if you take, if you go back to history all, most of the state covering northern part of a country, they are now in Nigeria, they were Islamic state, they were Islamic state. So this spirit is still with us.

KN71 [61950-63606]

It is necessary to create an Islamic state. An Islamic state is coming into being when Islam is being persecuted anywhere, so when they come together, they practice their religion in peace, but the case of northern Nigeria is different. This is Kano where you have 99.9% are Muslims, go to Zamfara, go to Sokoto, go to Jigawa, go to Yobe, go to Maiduguri and there will never, you will never hear one governor maybe in a 100years who is a non-Muslim. That means impliedly it is Islam that is in practice because the law of Kano state will never declare zina to be lawful, is unlawful. Will never declare theft to be lawful, is unlawful. Would never declare an alcoholic consumption to be lawful, is unlawful. So we are in a Islamic state and I doubt, if there is anything Islamic that would come to practice in Kano that somebody would say you must not practice it. There would never and remember even during the era of the prophet (SAW) when they went out on jihad, their times descend at the gate of the town in the dawn, early morning hours only, they only listen to here Allahu Akbar, Allahu akbar that is the call to prayers, whenever they hear the call to prayers, this city, Islam is present we move forward, do you understand? So our problem as they use to say from my own understanding is that we are just shunning the realities to something else because we refuse to grasp our Islam from the early days of Islam, from the early days of the prophet (SAW) to those of the caliphate even to the, I mean, to third century of Islam. I hope you understand what I am saying? So all these contributed to our problem of not doing the right thing to do.

KN72 [33475-33607]

Yes, it is necessary because the most, most of the northern Nigeria believe in Islam and they should practice Islam in accordance.

KN73 [35628-35935]

It is not necessary because we have freedom of religion. I never heard in northern Nigeria where somebody came as a Muslim and was prevented not to practice his religion. I never heard about it. If this is the reason, so there is no way that sharia eh Islamic state should be necessary in northern Nigeria.

KN74 [44658-45208]

This is not necessary; we have answered such kind of questions before. The creation, if you say that the creation of Islamic state necessary in northern Nigeria, there is condition that will make you to create an Islamic state, if there is not ehh if you were not allowed to practice your religion in accordance. Therefore, we northern Nigerian now are practicing our religion and accordingly, no one that come and stop us from worshipping Allah (SBUH). Therefore, there is no need of creating the ehh Muslim state ehh, it is already a Muslim state.

KN75 [48864-48881]

Is not possible.

KN76 [39439-39677]

It is not necessary ahh for Muslims to practice the religion when they have un-Islamic state, all we need is for the state or for the constitution to recognize our right for our lives to be govern by the provision of Qur'an and the Sunna.

KN78 [56968-57220]

For as long as we believe in living under a country called Nigeria, this will be extremely difficult, for as long as we believe that the constitution is the supreme law, is the supreme guiding principles to all human endeavors, that is very difficult.

KN80 [42930-43124]

So this is not necessary because the practicing of religion has nothing to do with creation of a state. Muslims can practice the true religion even if they do not establish the Islamic state.

KN81 [27406-27435]

I think it is not necessary

KN82 [29649-29814]

You see a Muslim must live according to the dictates, according to the provision of Islam and ahh Islamic state is always persuading, is always advocating of this.

KN83 [20026-20104]

Hmm it is not necessary since Muslims have right to practice their religion.

KN84 [23474-23611]

Is not necessary at all, is not necessarily because they are practicing their faith, nobody has stopped them from practicing their faith.

KN85 [32695-33167]

As we have said earlier on, Muslims can practice their religion in the best way not necessarily under an Islamic state or within an Islamic state. The current federal governmental arrangement in Nigeria allows Muslims to practice their religion not just in the north but everywhere in the country. They can practice their religion in the best way they can without necessarily creating an Islamic state. So I don't think an Islamic state is necessary in northern Nigeria.

ZA1 [34599-34608]

No, no.

ZA2 [37080-40414]

Eeee I don't know if we say creating an Islamic state as, you know I have been saying all these, we have many religions, you cannot, the only thing let them practice Islam in their government meaning what? look They should practice the teaching of Islam in the government and if they are to preach, let them preach in line to the government the Islam. Look at today, then take note, look at how people have watched Buhari an individual. The day they said he won we started hearing rumor that people are returning what they have stolen, he has not said anything. And stolen something is haram, Islam say is not good hmm, religions say it is not good. What does not belong to you, you should not take it. So these are the problems, if you as a leader you are trying to exercise this rules inline, you will not tell me to convert to mu religion, I will convert because I saw you are moving in line to what God is saying. We create the problem that is why the religion is nothing, no. To me I don't know, look at the-we talked, we talked of the prophet now, the way prophet does things that is why people come in to join Islam. He didn't fight people, take note the prophet went to Taif to preach, what happen to him, he was stoned till when he was injured, he come back, people are saying he pray for them, they should be destroyed, but he said to them that no, they don't know, lets pray for them to change, they don't know. So I think if you get that change and that open aspect you find that there is nothing wrong when we are together, as a leader, you do all the necessary right thing people will come along with you. When you see someone, but they call someone who has committed a wrong act, you are asked to check, you see look at one problem of is the amputation we call it, cutting of the hand when you steal, is not just that you should just cut the hand like that. One, they will weigh what you have stolen. Two, they will weigh where is that material that they saw with you. Is it stole from an open place, is it inside the room you enter you broke and stole. So before the rules will now be applied on that person, so Islam is always so clear, it doesn't apply the rule wrongly but misinterpretation. People will now come and tell you that Islam said they should cut people's hands, Islam said they should no, no, no. They say whoever killed should be killed. Is that not the truth? You should be killed. Okay you that killed my own, are you saying I don't like my own? Come back let me give you on little history of prophet (SAW). During the life of the prophet the non-Muslims in Mecca have concluded that okay they met that okay what is happening now, this man Muhammad, called Mohammed, he disturbing us, by then he was not giving the prophet-ship, they say he disturbing us, so the Ansar the people of the prophet, the family of the prophet they were called in the midst that look what we want o, give us that your boy we eliminate him, we are going to give you someone to represent him in your house that will be stronger than him in your house. So you see they are non-Muslim, they also non-Muslims, but they went back and sat down and said oho so you now want me-I should kill my own blood, oho then now you give me your own blood I should feeding him for you no. This is the same change we are talking about.

ZA3 [25929-26024]

I don't agree, for now at least to have some certain freedom of religion though still limited.

ZA4 [47814-47861]

Because you can always get justice for Islam.

ZA5 [28297-28509]

This is, we are in secular state, even though in the north, even though in the place, the so called north, we still have Christian over there and because of that they have the right to practice their religion.

ZA6 [67900-68576]

Hmm it might be necessary to, it is necessary, it is necessary in sense that the sharia will foster would, would implement the justice system as it should be, but before that now the people will have to, the northern, the people in the northern Nigeria would have to have a reorientation of the mind and the mind itself because you have to know, you have to be ready to abide and do what is right. If we are ready ourselves to do what is right, it is necessary, but at the stage we are now where even the poor man is corrupt, if you tell me it is necessary and then no one would want to abide by it, then I don't think I can call that necessary because it will still not work.

ZA7 [33480-34033]

Well I want to believe it is necessary because I am a Muslim and since I think I can live by the laws, I want to believe it is necessary and it is necessary because some crimes that we feel have gone unpunished and unjust, to me, personally. So I think it is necessary. Like crimes of people killing people and been allowed to go scotch free by the government after all it is talked about. Probably if it was in a sharia law, no matter how rich you are, if you kill somebody, you have to be killed. So I think it is necessary for me in my perception.

ZA8 [70029-70045]

Is not necessary

ZA9 [36556-37025]

It is not necessary. Let's rewind back to 10 years ago, there is nothing alike all this things even there were little emm religious crisis, religious crisis has been a very integral or let's say a very strong part of conflicts of internal conflicts we are facing in Nigeria, but looking at the condition Nigerians or Nigeria is in today compared to ten years ago, there is a much big difference and what is the reason behind this? I believe politics is the main thing.

ZA9 [37227-37658]

That is where am still going, ten years ago they were practicing this thing, nothing was stopping them and I don't think there is anything that is stopping them now. Having sharia law or having an Islamic state will not necessarily make them practice their religion truly, they have been practicing it for the past years, yes it is the thing of the mind, is not something you just, you flaunt anyhow, is something you believe in.

ZA10 [33041-33178]

It is necessary, but it is not a reason for them to practice their religion truly, but it is necessary because Islam is the way of life.

ZA11 [27705-27784]

Well, I don't think is that necessary from the perspective of which it is now.

ZA12 [16997-17074]

No. Is not necessary, you can practice your faith the way you understand it.

ZA13 [17628-17859]

Well, it is not necessary because a true believer should believe what he believes in and being part of it he is carrying out his own obligatory duties, it doesn't have to, it doesn't have to be with the existence of sharia state.

ZA14 [23320-23533]

I don't think it is necessary. They can practice their religion even without having an Islamic state. Are they not practicing their religion now? They are practicing it now, fully and without anything against it.

ZA15 [26087-26317]

Yes it is necessary for Muslim to practice their religion because everybody will be given his due rights. There will be no injustice, because when there is Islamic sharia, it gives justice to everyone whether Muslim or Christian.

ZA16 [18670-18692]

It is not necessary.

ZA17 [22416-22575]

Is very necessary. When we have an Islamic sharia actually the faith will be increasing because there is no any way that this abnormal things will continue.

ZA18 [27189-27425]

Well it is necessary really, if there are avenues to warrant that, we would have loved that, you understand, but in the absence of that, you continue to live the way you are until when things change for the better, me that is my view.

ZA19 [38133-38459]

This is not quite necessary because so far Muslims in the northern Nigeria have been practicing their religion peacefully and harmoniously. This is because they are actually the majority; they play a domineering role in virtually all the affairs of government, so there is no any constraint in them practicing their religion.

ZA20 [25756-26074]

Islamic state is all about governing one's life and conduct. General affairs of your life; from your birth to death to grave, from birth to grave. What are those things you should do, it is all about from good and bad, right and wrong. So Islam is all about right, good, you know, so there is nothing more than this.

ZA21 [31071-31648]

Creation of an Islamic state in northern Nigeria is not necessary because we are not all Muslims, besides we have tribes, we have this and that. If we are saying that northern Nigeria should be left only for Muslims certainly then we must have to, as a matter of fact, deport each and every non-Muslim to southern Nigeria which is never possible because many are born and brought up here in northern Nigeria and they have not any other father land than northern Nigeria. Therefore everybody should be left alone to practice what he deems fit. This is what he should practice.

ZA22 [27281-27487]

We are practicing our religion now perfectly except for one or two interference maybe, but nobody restricts us from practicing our religion. As far as I am concerned we are towards achieving Islamic state.

ZA23 [35572-35892]

If you talk of Nigeria earlier on I said the constitution of Nigeria allows for everybody to practice the religion he wants. Then what else do we want now? We don't need a state where it will be called this is a Muslim state. Anywhere a Muslims is he is living in a Muslim state let him practice his religion freely.

ZA24 [43236-43543]

Nigeria is a secular state whether we establish sharia or we didn't establish sharia Muslims are practicing their religion. The only thing is that we are not practicing sharia law. But in northern state, not only in northern states, where there is majority Muslims it is necessary to establish sharia law.

ZA25 [41274-42705]

Yes generally a state holds the resources that they have access to the resources and they distribute it accordingly. That is what makes the kind of system of government, political system that a particular state runs very important. Yes I have been talking about knowledge acquisition, Islamic knowledge acquisition; yes to acquire some knowledge even in Islam you need some resources. There are some books, some Islamic books that it is only those that have some resources that can have access to. That is it. So some people want to know but they don't have the money to buy those books, but if it is in an Islamic state, sharia state in fact there will be libraries well equipped here and there such that even if you don't have money, you can't go to buy those books, you can go to the library and read those books. But as it stands now given that the state, it is the state that holds the key to the resources some scholars are indirectly forced to show a kind of loyalty to the politicians so that they can have money to eat and to all sort of things, to buy books and what have you; and in that situation knowledge becomes adulterated and as well as de practiced. So that is it, but still eh I still insist that eh there are some things that even without Institutionalizing an Islamic state in this part of the country that we can still practice that we are not practicing now. That is where we are supposed to start from.

ZA26 [19822-19921]

Is it the new global government that the superpowers want to establish, is it a reality or a myth?

ZA27 [18651-18910]

It is necessary actually but that doesn't mean when we don't have an Islamic state we cannot practice our religion because now that we don't have – the so-called Islamic jihad we are having now in northern part of Nigeria is not the true Islamic government.

ZA29 [46251-46282]

No it is not truly necessary.

ZA30 [54769-55097]

It is really not necessary for people to practice their faith, but when it is achieved, it is also a victory, and as I said earlier also, when people engage themselves with the actual teachings of Islam, practice it in real sense from themselves, their family, their household, sharia is already, state is already achieved.

ZA31 [26880-27109]

No, Muslims can practice their faith anywhere. So I didn't see, I didn't buy the idea that Islamic state should be created because of our situation of tribalism, religion differences because if we do that, it will cause problem.

ZA35 [18658-19163]

The creation of an Islamic state is necessary in the northern Nigeria because for Muslims to practice their faith truly, yes is necessary because, if the Islamic state, sorry, is being created in the northern Nigeria, the Muslims would have more as in attention, they would gather more attention like all this, now you can that see we have the Almaiiri schools and mostly Islamiyyas are in the northern Nigeria. You see people from the middle belt coming to the north to come and learn more about Islam.

ZA36 [26240-27038]

Yes, honestly it is necessary because people are taking things for granted. Like our youths now, I know that there is scarcity of jobs, you would see graduates roaming about no employment and that could make them engage themselves into many sort of, may be they will be stealing, may be they would be, they would form gangs and be taking drugs. So if there is sharia, this people would be given there are various punishments for this kind people, so if measures are taken, honestly this thing would be reduced. Even stealing, if people engage in stealing, in sharia, Islamic sharia, there are punishments for stealing, so once a person is being made a scapegoat, other people would be scared. So it would prevent them from participating in this kind of things, it would prevent them from doing it.

ZA37 [34616-34637]

Yes it is necessary.

ZA37 [34689-34953]

Because still there are some Islamic practices that Muslims are supposed to be practicing in this northern Nigeria where the Muslims are the dominant, about 80-85%, but they cannot practice it because it is not an Islamic state. That is why I say it is necessary.

ZA38 [39879-39968]

Yah, the creation of Islamic state is necessary in northern Nigeria, it is necessary if...

ZA38 [40019-40530]

It is necessary, yah it is necessary whereby if they are to abide by the whole principle or the religion and they want it and they see that they are almost 70 or 80%, good and fine they can start an Islamic state, but if I say Islamic state that does not mean that it is only Islam are there, if you read around practicing, using sharia law, you can use sharia law, a Christian man can go to sharia court too and they would give him his own right, the only thing we want justice to prevail, justice to prevail.

ZA39 [52261-52374]

Actually it is not because we have non-Muslims that are of northern origin also occupying the same territory.

Th12.3: Sharia Implementation and Muslim Obedience to Secular Government

KD1 [55029-55259]

You can't establish sharia when you don't have, when the unity has not arisen. So let unity arise, let even the Muslims be under one umbrella first, and let us have one leader and everybody is answerable to, then we are on point.

KD2 [26126-26336]

Where does this agitation comes from? Actually I have never heard about it and I think it is even wrong. It is even wrong to agitate that sharia should be implemented in the whole part of the northern country.

KD3 [20502-20515]

It's false.

KD4 [50606-50641]

It's false, hundred percent false.

KD5 [26053-26201]

Hmm I have never heard the agitation that, it is not wrong for Muslims to obey secular law, so there is no need for establishment of Islamic state.

KD6 [41381-41768]

Obeying secular government on what aspect? If the secular government can tell you now say today don't go and worship, I will worship. Even in sharia, there are other things that if they even say about, yes. They have the right to even stop you on some things, if it is not against Allah, they have the right to stop you from doing bad things, they have the right of keeping you upright.

KD7 [33533-33723]

I think it will, it is true that ehm it is wrong for Muslims to obey secular laws, we are not secular people, we are Muslims, we should have an authority by which our lives are governed by.

KD8 [58667-59124]

Well, of course it is wrong to obey secular government, but if there is nothing you can do, you have to accept it, you have to Islamize it, you have to live by your, by the ehm by the principles of your religion, but if it becomes necessary, but it should not be in the areas where there are non, I mean where Muslims are not there. In the areas where Muslims are there, there is a need for Islamic state. Of course, if you have it, you will be very happy.

KD9 [41970-42141]

It is right for sharia to go round, but I think we've talked about obeying or not obeying secular government earlier. So it all depends on your iman and your intentions.

KD10 [33135-33371]

Yes the whole world should be in sharia state, the whole world should practice Qur'an and Sunna if that could be achieved. Are you getting me? And secular law is not supposed to be accepted and obeyed except if it is due to necessity.

KD11 [35181-35607]

Seriously the umma have find themselves in a state of sadness let me say on the emergence of colonialism which destroyed the Caliphate system in northern Nigeria as such if only and if there will be revival of Islam or Islamism I think that is the only time we can have, Muslims could boost of having their own system entirely free from the secular one. Anything less than that they must learn to live under a secular system.

KD12 [36596-36647]

Nobody has agitated that one, so that is not true.

KD13 [16332-16342]

It wrong.

KD14 [20854-21180]

These is false and the reason for that is that, I have not, there is no agitation that sharia law should be implement not only in northern states because it is wrong for Muslims to obey, a secular government normally, as I said earlier, if there is anything that contradicts Islam we Muslims we are not advised to obey that.

KD16 [17274-17287]

I disagree

KD17 [51657-52181]

You see eh by the time they have established it in northern Nigeria, then you can go further, both in the secular government, the generality that is in Nigeria as a whole. Presently there are ways whereby you can try and create your own state whereby you will practice, okay by the time you have been operating the full sharia in northern Nigeria, you can now go further, go to the federal government and now say okay, you want to establish you own state separately and you will be allowed. There are process of doing this.

KD19 [33019-33362]

In a democratic state, it is not wrong for Muslims to obey secular government. So there is no, I don't thing we must insist on the creation of or imposition of sharia across the country. This is democracy, come out in large numbers, elect God fearing and most knowledgeable people among you to be your head and you'll see sharia taking place.

KD20 [26768-27198]

It is false, a Muslim can live any place and a Christian can live in any place since we are all Nigerians and we are together and we have been living together and with understanding and tolerance we can still live together. So living together does not eh does not mean that the people the non-Muslim should be practicing Islam and the Islam should be practicing the religion of non-Muslim, is not possible like that, that's all.

KD21 [25465-25694]

I think the answer here is false. There are countries where the Muslims have very minimal number let's say Europe, France, they still answer to the French president Francois Holop just that they have their third wing as a party.

KD23 [26281-26403]

Well this statement ah is ah is too harsh, is too harsh ah it will need observation ah it will need too much observation.

KD24 [77653-78725]

No, it is not true and I think we've explained something like that earlier that eh people living in the same community or country, they should be ease and they should be peaceful with one another. So far if you go to Saudi Arabia, for example today, you will meet them that there are Christians there and they did not drive them away, they are there. If you go to Egypt you will see majority are the Muslims, but likewise there are the Christians and they build churches there and they are practicing, no one is harming them, no one is stopping them. In fact if you go to the them there, you will see that they used to have one group or community that they use to form which entails both sides they should come and think of what will build the country, this one is country not religion. Let's think of what will make us move forward, if you go to your house, practice your religion, if you go to your mosque practice your religion, if you go to go church practice, but here if you come it is not verse form Qur'an or verse from Bible, no, this one is just life activities.

KD25 [92573-92809]

That is true, but it has to be done with the, it has to be done with all ah ah calmness and ah forbearance. Then it will be followed up gradually, not just trying to use force to say everything must happen now. It is a gradual process.

KD26 [28766-28798]

I don't know about this one.

KD27 [27270-27946]

Like I said we have a situation on ground. Now if you seek to change the situation we know how to go about it. How we go about it, first dealing with ourselves. We set up a system-ok right now you have Islamic banking that recently started being implemented in Nigeria and whatever guys that comes, non-interest banking or non-interest finance is the same thing. You start from there. Now make the unbeliever see the brightness of Islam. Let them see the benefit of Islam. Let them see the peace that Islam is. In a situation like that there is no need for conflict. On his own he will convert and in a situation like that Islamic Sharia can be implemented without acrimony.

KD28 [37161-37615]

It is false because once you are in a secular state where you have the freedom of your own religion and your own religion you are restricted to your religion and since you know your religion as it is to you the laws on your own Islamic religion, it has given you the right to yourself, to your neighbor, to Muslim, to non-Muslim, once you perform your rights then it is never, now it is an obligation for you that it must be in secular state like that.

KD29 [23392-23587]

Well is not correct, is not correct ah based on our existing circumstance ah Muslim does not offend the teachings and the preachings, if he did not follow the existing rule which is un-Islamic.

KD30 [41747-42163]

Ahm I wish, as a Muslim, I always wish to have lived under an Islamic state, but being now living under a secular state I think ah I only live out of option, but if as ah I will be asked now what I will want is to live under an Islamic state of course I'm sure all Muslims will like that.

KD33 [27148-27389]

No this is not true in a society or state in a country or a place where Muslims and non-Muslims live together they are allowed to make their own rules that will govern their stay peaceful, loving each other and interacting with one another.

KD34 [32106-32120]

No is false.

KD35 [31996-32484]

Is not true. Secular government go with the non-Muslim or the Kafirun or whatever. The sharia is been practiced by the Muslims, so as I always say the sharia should be practiced on Muslims the and the non-Muslims that agree for that or with that, so I see no reason why we keep on emphasizing on a sharia state should be created, a sharia state, you have not established the sharia in your heart first, you are coming out to establish on others that means you are doing the wrong thing.

KN4 [51909-51918]

Is false

KN5 [33713-33819]

I say yes it is wrong but under an uncontrollable situation one can obey it unwillingly ah eh of course.

KN6 [37306-38201]

So, the sharia and Muslim it should be implemented for those who wanted this sharia Islamic law for a ah so in a secular system you know is not possible to do this but for it is only for Muslims who agree to follow this religions teaching and you know maybe this is the misunderstanding of the meaning of sharia. If I say sharia should be implemented, even at your home, you can implement this sharia. So the system of our marriage should be islamically, the system of our business should be islamically, maybe people don't understand the meaning of sharia, so meaning of sharia does not mean always to bring people to the court is not meaning this is sharia, no. So sharia law it means how are you going to pray, how are you going to make your business, how are you going to do your marriage, how our educational system will be, all are part of the sharia Islamic way and we are following it.

KN7 [33737-34338]

Yes, the agitations would be there and it would continue to be there because ehm eh apart from the fact that we have religious extremist, there are other people that are, that believe that yes, Islamic state should exist everywhere because ehm when we you see the way and level at which the ehm the non-Muslims, let me say, do some of their things in recent times, we see that ehm it goes contrary to eh ehm the teachings of Islam. So some will want to ehm, will want to, to continue agitating yes for the fact that yes they should be Islamic state everywhere, but I don't think that is so necessary.

KN8 [32190-32218]

I dis-concur, it is false.

KN9 [29560-29581]

This is false, yes.

KN10 [23167-23566]

Amm, in the past before hijra, prophet (SAW) sent some of his companion to Ethiopia and at that time, the ruler of that Ethiopia is a Christian so the prophet knows that it is almost a secular territory, but he still sent them and they remain there for some time. So I don't think if it is prohibited for Muslims to obey the secular laws except if it is ah it will conflict with his own sharia law.

KN11 [30688-31442]

It is not true I say, you can live under the the secular government. Where it has become a problem is where a Muslim would obey secular government wholeheartedly. But if you live under, if you live under a secular government and the your mind is full of knowing that the Qur'an is superior to this secular government and you don't believe in this, so there is no problem. Even some prophet, look at this prophet Moses, he lived under Pharaoh that is Firaun and Firaun he even claim that he has a divinity, so the Moses, the Moses lived in his house but still Moses was a prophet and among the greatest prophets. So a Muslim can live under a secular government, but you bear in your mind that this secular government is first and the Qur'an is superior.

KN13 [33624-33863]

Hmm it is wrong for Muslims to obey secular government in the sense that ehm if it is contradicting their own religious doctrine or contradicting their own religious practice, definitely it is wrong for them to obey the Muslim government.

KN14 [26945-26953]

Alright

KN15 [23556-23591]

I think this is a false statement.

KN16 [13605-13618]

It is false.

KN33 [11790-11848]

No, but where they are dominant it should be implemented.

KN34 [20198-20394]

No. It depends on those you are-it is not true. It depends on the way that you are obeying the secular government. So I don't see any reason why some should be even agitating or calling for this.

KN35 [19913-20058]

The statement is false. The sharia should not be implemented in the non-Islamic states most especially south, eastern, southern part of Nigeria.

KN36 [20769-20876]

No it is false because you can practice secular government so far it is not contradicting to sharia tenet.

KN37 [19346-19479]

And who said it is wrong to obey secular laws? I think people who are saying this have little or no understanding of the term Islam.

KN38 [14677-14684]

False

KN39 [23073-23101]

Actually not, no actually.

KN40 [18849-18963]

False in the sense that not only Muslims are living in the northern Nigeria so sharia should not be implemented.

KN41 [16349-16364]

This is false.

KN42 [40313-41222]

It is not totally wrong for Muslims to obey secular government but if the, if the situation provides itself and we are allowed to follow rules beside the secular laws. It's is ok, its committed for Muslims to now have their say in what they want to obey and what they don't want to obey, what they want to follow. It is better having their own right, their own freedom of speech, their own freedom of worship. It shouldn't be restricted to other sects alone, also other religious, other religions alone. It should also be something that Muslims should have. They should be given that freedom, they should be given that right, they should be let, they should let them follow or obey what they choose to or want to obey. It shouldn't be when the Muslims are now agitating for laws that are there, their own and from them that the people will now see them as being violent and being uncooperative or intolerant.

KN43 [30587-30808]

As I answered the previous question you can only operate sharia in a truly Muslim community. You cannot operate sharia in a non-Muslim community because they don't believe in it. Why should you operate the system there?

KN44 [25062-25153]

This question has been asked elsewhere so answering it is like we are repeating ourselves.

KN45 [32689-33467]

This is, this is not true at all. We are in a secular government and we are Muslims and we are living comfortably ehh under our government ehh, even if the ruler is a Christian, even if the ruler is a Muslims. And we have lived for six years under a Christian ruler Goodluck Jonathan and I think the Muslims of the country have never complained of ahh of anything of anything governmental policy that is targeted at them. We have been under president Obasanjo who is a Christians and Muslims have lived comfortably under all those Christians rulers with no complain at all as far as the conduct of the religion is concerned, yah. So a Muslim can live in a secular state and if you are living in a secular state you must, it is in Islam that you must obey the laws of that land.

KN46 [55794-55831]

Ahh, am not aware of this agitation.

KN47 [51063-51085]

No, that is not true.

KN48 [16958-17067]

It is false because there is no because there is no nothing is wrong for Muslims to obey secular government.

KN49 [27207-27285]

I think its eh I think it is completely without any face value or whatsoever.

KN50 [14768-14858]

This is totally false because there is nothing wrong for Muslims to obey the secular law.

KN52 [47194-47851]

Well yah a lot of people here believe that secularism is not Islamic and therefore as Muslims they do not want to live under secularism or any illusion that Nigeria is a secular state, and therefore they must pay their allegiance to the secular Nigerian state. But I do not believe that Muslims in northern–Nigeria should revolt against the Nigerian state because they think the Nigerian state is a secular. I do not believe so except where the Nigerian state as a secular, you know, system or secular organization attempt to prevent the northern Muslims from practicing their own religion or attempt to intimidate them on the basis of their own beliefs.

KN54 [11403-11410]

False

KN55 [12679-12694]

This is false

KN56 [21204-21342]

This is false because Muslims can obey secular government as long as that government doesn't go contrary to the teaching of our religion.

KN57 [18751-18789]

I have never heard this issue before.

KN58 [42685-43478]

No it is wrong. It is not true. We only want to implement sharia system not only in northern Nigeria, in the world or in Nigeria in particular because we want to practice our religion peacefully. We are not saying that those Christians that are found in southern Nigeria should be Muslims. Even when we tried to revive it way back in 2000, it is only a revival that Islamic sharia system that has being in existence should come back to original form. We are not saying that any Christian should be punished according to Islamic teachings. If you are a Christian and you are found guilty there are courts that are for Christians. There is what you call criminal courts, civil courts and then sharia courts for Muslims. It is only Muslims that would be treated according to the sharia law.

KN59 [40629-41212]

Hmmmmmm Actually my perception and view on this is that you cannot impose sharia on other parts of the country, let me say, like in the East which is basically dominated by the Igbos and the Niger Deltas and South-South they are 99.9% Christians, They even see sharia law as a devilish act, you understand. So for you to penetrate into that region and to say that they should implement laws, it is as if you have sidelined their own believes and doctrines. So by so doing to me gaskiya it is not possible and it can bring problems. It can even bring to the division of the country.

KN60 [30983-31018]

I don't agree with this statement.

KN61 [16428-16458]

No. I didn't agree with this

KN62 [52657-52713]

We discussed this, it was just a speculation, a rumor.

KN63 [42438-43065]

No. Muslims can obey secular government if at all the laws doesn't deviate from Islam. So even though in Nigeria, as the case may be, you know, you have the secular law even some of our law, you know, they are being picked from sharia something like that. Like in the northern part of Nigeria now, we have the Islamic court, sharia court and we have the other court, the orthodox or what do they call it court, so you know there is nothing stopping us from doing sharia in northern state if the government serious enough, it doesn't prevent, it doesn't take anything away from the Muslims or non-Muslims that are in our midst.

KN64 [26246-26261]

It is false.

KN65 [33963-33989]

It is very, very false.

KN66 [22337-22350]

It is false.

KN67 [22883-23059]

No I think Islam, ah sharia can be implemented anywhere, but not because a secular laws, because secular laws and Islamic laws cannot coexist if there are no contradiction, so

KN68 [11118-11126]

False.

KN69 [37028-38024]

No. I told you earlier, if we are talking Nigeria in this context, it is subject to several arguments, some are of the opinion that Nigeria is a secular state, but even me personally I am of the opinion that Nigeria is not a secular state. We are just deceiving ourselves to the fact that we are secular state. Nigeria is no longer a secular state but considering the constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria is mention God, go to the preamble of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, of the constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, God is mentioned and when we are talking about the issue of secularism or secular state is a situation whereby a particular state does not agree to the existence of God, they are not just following that the God is, they are not following, they are not to believe that God is in existence and Nigeria is not a secular state. Go to the constitution of the Federal Republic and even the constitution itself regards so many religious activities in Nigeria.

KN69 [38128-38270]

Is a multi-religious state, but it is not a secular state, I am not, I am strongly in opposition of the view that Nigeria is a secular state.

KN71 [64239-66724]

This issue of secularism, I still have some question about it. When the law says you have the right to a religion, I have the right to my religion, lakum di lakum waliyaddin. It is only the government at the top that will not side one of the two religions. So I don't think even this issue of secularism needs to be revisited in Nigeria context. You understand what I am saying, so and the second issue of that not only in northern Nigeria but in the whole country because to obey a secular government is, it depends upon the situations. At times there is nothing you can do. You see Islam is taking you from the head to toe, when there is no time, when there is no chance for you to practice your religion freely you subside. What do I mean? You would find yourself, you would seclude, you practice your religion in seclusion and it is accepted, isn't it? So our only problem is because sometimes we don't use to broaden our understanding of Islam because I keep saying that Islam is personal affair between man and his creator. Let me tell you, I think there was a time we were discussing certain issues like this. There were, there was an Islamist in a Russian, in Russian government, he was a Muslim, he spend ten years in Islam without even his wife knowing that he is a Muslim, his wife not knowing that he is a Muslim, ten years practicing Islam. I remember a chief in this, I think he is in Imo state Eze Igwe something, Eze something, he was a Muslim if he is alive today, he is a Muslim. It was a friend in B.U.K who went there for NYSC that they met. He was the only person. When he saw the twelve of NYSC members, Corp members as Muslim he was crying, he was in tears, that he has never seen such a crowd of Muslims fellows in his life, when they asked him sir how do you practice Islam? He said ah to the dictates he saw in the book. Can you say he is a non-Muslim? No. So what matters is the will and to non-Muslims, go and do worship whatever you want to worship but never interfere with our own affairs, but rather you should respect it, and we will respect your right too. And it has happened because it is practicable, remember this during the fuel crisis in Kaduna state where the Muslims and non-Muslims came together rioting. What happened? When it was time to prayers, the non-Muslims circle the Muslims to pray and move march forward that means we can establish peace even where there is variety of religious followers. It all depends on the will of the people.

KN72 [34263-34316]

This is a false, it is not a true, it is not a true.

KN73 [36425-36765]

As we have said it ah Sayyid Qutb one of the Islamic scholar has said it, where you find yourself in a secular state and as a Muslim, you have freedom of living. It gives you a freedom to live, freedom for your religion, freedom to perform all your obedience, all your court of law in the Islamic state. There is no provisions to act, yah.

KN74 [45647-45716]

This is totally false, this is totally false, is an absolutely false

KN76 [40505-40709]

Hmm, it is true, sharia should not only be practiced in northern Nigeria, because there are Muslims in the southern part of Nigeria and they should have the right for their life to be governed by sharia.

KN80 [43893-44592]

So ahh obeying something obeying secular government does not mean-because Islam does not combine only ah ahh within the administration ahh position. Islam is different Islam yes Islam, it depends on how Muslim is behaving, it depends on how Muslim is practicing the ahh the religion. So does not mean if the ahh ruler or the governing body is become secular, then the Muslims should not practice the true religion or their religion will not be accepted, but anything that should be brought from the superior ahh ahh heading government even if it is secular, so if such injunctions contradict with the provision of sharia so Muslim is, Muslims are not expected to abide by such commandment.

KN85 [33738-34377]

Ahh we have already answered this question that Muslims should obey the sharia while the non-Muslims should not be forced to live under sharia. Therefore, sharia should be implemented not just in the north only, but in Islamic or Muslim ah predominantly Muslim societies. There are some states in the south where they are predominantly Muslims. When they want sharia implemented there it's okay, but saying that Muslims should not obey a secular government, we have treated this earlier on. If the secular arrangement do not infringe or impinge on their ability to practice their religion very well, we can live under secular arrangement.

ZA1 [35234-35628]

First of all Nigeria is not a secular state. Let me correct. Nigeria is not a secular state. Secondly, as I said, constitution of Nigeria, go through all what it says, only in a first one say that every law apart from this, constitution is a supremacy, this is where I didn't agree, Qur'an is the one with the highest one, but now in say that the questions say that impose sharia on all, no.

ZA2 [40932-41656]

I got that. Look let us get something clear this secular government issue you are talking about, I think we are always concerned with what are the principle of that government that is against my religion. That is the key issue. If legal right, freedom of worship, freedom of- if I get my right to worship in my room, worship in my door, I don't think I have problem with you now. Ahh if you worship, I pray, am allowed to go to hajj, I do all the right that belongs to me Islam, I can preach, am allowed to preach to people, let them hear this is what God say, am free to do it that is all. Is only when government come in now in the secular system that I should not do this toh that is where disobedience will come in ehen

ZA3 [26598-26832]

We said that earlier now, that the sovereignty belongs to Allah, so if the sovereign laws should be those from the government but for now, so if you can get the sharia laws to be in place is better, it could be better for all of us.

ZA4 [48298-48501]

That is their own understanding and they have to, they want to just go out of the teachings of Prophet Muhammad (SAW). They don't have , that is not the starting point. The starting point will be da'wa.

ZA5 [28941-29165]

You can't tell me you have to obey a secular state, when you are in secular state you have to obey the rules and regulations of that state. It mustn't be Islamic state for you to obey the rules and regulations over there.

ZA6 [69584-69674]

This is false. It is false because ehm it is false. I have not heard of such agitation.

ZA7 [34745-35388]

I think I have answered this question before. Sharia, if the secular law, before the secular law are put in place, they must be in accordance or in agreement with other religions because I think the population of Nigeria, if we have to go to statistics is probably 50-50 Muslims-Christians. So you have to seek Muslim leaders' opinions and also Christian leaders' opinion. So you cannot just go about imposing one religious way of life on the other because you feel you are the mass, you are the majority you don't do that, you have to seek their opinions and if the secular law are in accordance, then I think whatever decision can be made.

ZA8 [71223-73304]

This is not true. This is false because, like I said, the Muslims can only differ when the constitutional law goes against what their religion ask them to do. For instance, both in sharia and the government law, it states that the punishment for death is death. Now because of the corruption that we have in Nigeria, you find somebody killing somebody and going scotch free, are you getting it?

Now if, for instance, the law, the rule of law are actually applying, you don't need, they don't need to implement the sharia law and even in the government, the sharia law, there are two cases, for instance, let's say, they punishment for death is death, both in the sharia and the constitutional law, see there is conformity. Now you know that if you kill somebody irrespective of your religion you will be killed if you are caught. Now in the sharia, there are cases of accident, are you getting it? Whereby maybe it is an accident, you are driving your car he crosses the road and you hit him and he dies. This is not an intentional killing. Now in the sharia law which I think even the government law are using, in the sharia law, you can be forgiven by the family of that deceased or if they don't want forgiveness, you will pay some of money to them. I think is you also applicable in the constitutional law that if they can't forgive you is either you go to prison or you pay certain amount of money for the person you mistakenly killed. So you see they are in conformity, but in a case whereby the government law now will now say, they kill maybe a non-Christian kills a Muslim and they want justice to prevail, now government are saying now because he is a non-Muslim, he is not going to be killed, he is going to jail instead. You know now this will cause agitation because they will say since they are conforming with the government they were trying to obey the rule of the government they must carry out justice should be killed or else there will be riot. Now you see some of these things are what is causing riot in Nigeria or the norther part when justice is not done.

ZA9 [38703-38736]

I think the statement is false.

ZA9 [38759-39183]

Like I said obeying secular laws does not necessarily mean a Muslim is polytheist, it does not stop Muslim from being a Muslim rather you are following the rules and regulations of the country and it does not, if you look critically well without having a biased mind, all these laws, all these secular laws does not stop Muslims from practicing their religion. It does not negate all these things. That is what I believe.

ZA10 [33368-33909]

It is wrong because in a country like Nigeria we have three major religion that is or two major religions: Islam and Christianity. And in the northern part is where you find Muslims the majority and the southern part you find the Christians as the majority. But when you look at the country in general you find out that the north, the north central are Muslims and the country generally, Muslims are the dominant or are the majority, so Muslim leaders should always be the president I guess, but not necessary Islamizing the whole country.

ZA11 [28686-28954]

Well that should not be the reason why the agitation is being moved, the agitation is moved based on the fact that the secular laws, to some extent, are not Islamic. So they contradict the teachings, so that is why they moved, the agitation that sharia law is needed.

ZA12 [17660-17682]

I don't have an idea.

ZA12 [17955-18035]

I don't think is wrong for Muslim to obey secular government, I don't think so.

ZA13 [18272-18290]

It is false sir.

ZA14 [24252-24414]

It is a false now. Why will you say that because so far you have the right and everything you want to do, you can easily do it without anybody holding it on you.

ZA15 [26952-26968]

It is not true.

ZA16 [19050-19064]

It is false.

ZA19 [39159-39481]

Well this is not true actually, just as I have said earlier, this question is almost ah related with the previous question, so the establishment of an Islamic state is not actually being proclaimed by the jihadists, the so called jihadists, to liberate the whole Nigeria, but rather to have their own sovereign authority.

ZA20 [26834-26944]

For more than sixty years we have been under the operation of the secular government and what has gone wrong?

ZA21 [32128-32285]

This is not true and I must say categorically that this is false and that it is not every time that anybody should be a Muslim. That is what we are saying.

ZA22 [27970-28404]

We are not obeying secular governments. We are obeying Allah. We try to practice our religion to the best of our ability. So as far as I am concerned, Muslims are not following any secular system. Like I, I don't have any regard for secular system, but we found ourselves in it. So I think there is no any link between secular system and Islam we are practicing our religion to the best of our ability in the northern Nigeria.

ZA23 [36603-36695]

As far as I am concerned in Nigeria sharia is applicable and it is practicable everywhere.

ZA24 [44037-44395]

It is false because sharia-Nigeria is a secular state and you are saying that you want to impose sharia law it will lead to conflicts and Islam is a religion of peace. So that peace we are agitating for it will not come if there is war so therefore I do not agree that sharia should be established everywhere or we should not follow secular law in Nigeria.

ZA25 [43625-44043]

As I have said earlier there are-it is not completely wrong to obey a secular system of government, secular authority. It depends on the extent to which you agree. Yes to start with if you agree that it is divinely accepted then that is where the problem starts from, you are wrong. That system is not divinely-it is not accepted by God and you just select aspects that you are, as a Muslim you are supposed to obey.

ZA26 [20274-20466]

Sharia-they capitalize on sharia, sharia. There is other things that they should even comment from other side but I don't know why the researcher is more capitalizing on the issue of sharia?

ZA27 [19405-19433]

No I didn't agree with that.

ZA28 [32813-32870]

I don't know of this agitation. It is all agitation so

ZA29 [46806-47021]

It is never wrong for a Muslim to obey a secular government. It is never wrong so far the secular government have allowed the Muslim to observe his duties, to observe the duties of his religion. it is never wrong.

ZA30 [56105-57841]

In the past, a time will permit that, but what we are saying any location you are in may be a single place, a big place, just try and worship God very well, people will begin to like the way you are practicing your own and they can also practice it. Islam is a religion that, I think, as I said, it compose, comprises everything, it symbolized everything. So anything you are doing and if you see that thing is good, so, people will begin to imitate and like it and they will come and, before it was happened that when this Fulani are the ones carrying religion from far to far distance, this small tribe in northern Nigeria will come to them that I want to convert, the Fulani will tell you that those people that what is happening in southern Kaduna and in plateau state, they would say who told you that somebody like you can be converted to Islam, go and go back to your own, go, go and, go, go and go...practicing your this thing there, but they will still like them, they will come to them may be when they give birth to a children, they will see Muslims are naming their children, they brought their children to name them. So because Fulanis, those people there are just having the Islam, but they don't have the Islamic knowledge, so, they will just give them a name that when you hear the name you will laugh, you will see somebody will be called Mati Zakara. So, they will carry the children happy, Muslims have named their children while they left them there, they are laughing. So, when they began to understand Hausa that is even the genesis of crisis in northern Nigeria. When they began to understand and they hear the kind of name those people give them, so they say ok this one, people are not friends, they are enemies.

ZA31 [27962-27975]

Is, is false.

ZA35 [19697-20032]

Yes, it is wrong for Muslims to obey the secular law. If the law at times you see that some laws when you go through the Nigerian constitution you would see that some laws does not rhyme with that of Islamic law, it is against their own religion, so I think the Muslims too would want to have , they would want to obey their own laws.

ZA36 [27939-27962]

Kai, It is not true.

ZA37 [35655-35705]

It is almost the same with the previous Question.

ZA38 [40952-41132]

It is false. It is false because we have been abiding by this secular ethics, we settle down, there is a consensus that we should constitution. Then why would we go to that aspect?

ZA39 [52960-53240]

Actually truly speaking it is not good for a Muslim to follow secular government, but where a secular government I mean where cardinal principles of religions are implemented and where a Muslim is allowed to practice religion, then a Muslim can continue his living in the state.

Th12.4: Implementation of Sharia Across Nigeria

KD1 [54447-54597]

That's the white elephant project and it can't, it's close to being not feasible except where we have divine supernatural handiwork coming into play.

KD2 [24835-25171]

I don't agree with this agitation that sharia should be implemented in all or some part of the country especially the northern part. It should not or because even the states that do claim they are operating sharia, they are not operating it to the fullest, and when you go there you see the Muslims and non-Muslims living their lives.

KD3 [19698-19730]

I disagree with this agitation.

KD4 [48534-49343]

Well! In an Islamic state and every Muslims, if he is truly a Muslim he will always want to see Islam, to embrace the whole world not even northern Nigeria alone. It is a pride of every Muslim to see that in the day of Jannah, all mankind should be seen in paradise and that can only be achieved when all mankind live according to the rules and regulations of almighty Allah that is the sharia. It is our belief that the whole world if possible can be an Islamic teaching, Islamic, Islamic, can be under the tenets of Islam, but if you say that, that has to be, that has to be obligatory in this our contemporary world. I will tell you that everybody knows that it is not possible, but something we then wish to we feel we can get, but as the English man will say, if wishes are horses, the beggar will ride.

KD5 [24739-25118]

First things first, I have never heard of such agitation, but even if there is, I will not agree with this agitation because in Nigeria where the population is like 40-60, so I don't think establish, making Nigeria an Islamic state, that will not help in anything.

Rather we should continue using a secular authority or secular laws that has been on place. That is constitution.

KD6 [39724-40797]

Every Muslims wants his own manual, the creator that created him, he want his manual. Sharia does not mean until everybody say no, you start from your own house. What Islam says abide by it. What they did not allow you to do, don't do it. And you see, you see other non Muslims will copy you. What are you doing? Sharia. It doesn't mean ah we are doing sharia not we kill them no. What did Islam tell you about you entering your house? What did Islam tell you about your neighbor? What did Islam tell you about your place of work? What did Islam tell you about working? What did Islam tells you about cheating? What did Islam tells you about mismanagement? He will tell everything even using water, if you use it badly, Islam does not allow it. The water that you are saying is everywhere.

So, if you can abide by the rules and regulations of Islam as a Muslim, others will join you not until you fight with gun and everything, they did not attack you, did they attack you. Am not saying if they attack you should say, no, Islam does not allow that, you defend yourself.

KD7 [32041-32279]

No. I disagree. We that are Muslims, this is what we want. If you go to Cross Rivers State and implement sharia law, who are you implementing for? Sharia law is meant for Muslims, where they are, and the clamor for it, let them be given.
KD8 [56405-57376]

I very much agree, there is a necessity for Islamic state because of the injustice of this ehmm capital system of government. They say there is clash of civilization between westernization and Islamic state. Of course, it is very necessary; we need it because there is high decree of immorality in the world generally, injustice, the economic policies are not Islamic in the sense that they are built on classical school. Classical school is generally talking about issue of free markets, invisible hands where things will be subjected to market forces and it is one of the pillars of capitalism which, of which capitalism is a system of government that is exploitative and that is what is reigning globally now. There is high degree of immorality, a lot of injustice going on in the world which we will need an Islamic state that would actually bring about peace, bring about justice, bring about equality. We need that, we need it in Nigeria and everywhere, of course.

KD9 [39015-40162]

I want to call your attention to something. When the sharia in quote took place in Zamfara, the non-Muslims that were in Zamfara were hailing the effort of the then government. The corpers, Youth Corpers that came to the state, were saying they have never had it so good. So I mean why are we shying away from the truth? Sheria is going to bring peace. All the goodies you like in quote that we are crying for in this country definitely sharia is going to make provision for that. Corruption is going to be wiped out and of course when that is done everybody is going to enjoy. So we just keep deceiving ourselves and because of this grand hatred for Islam that is just the reason why we just keep saying no we don't want sharia and every other thin that is attached to Islam. No we don't want Islamic banking for example that is a digression; it is just part of it. Now the other day I was listening on TV even the good chunk of the shareholders in Jaiz bank today are non-Muslims because they have seen the beauty of it. So what are we saying, we are just deceiving ourselves. Let sharia go round the whole country and that we be the best.

KD10 [32028-32314]

I agree with it now, if it is possible to establish sharia in the whole world ah that is good now, it is good. The whole world should be Islamic state, the whole world and they govern by Qur'an and Sunna. It is good now that is what is good. If that could be achieved, it is welcomed.

KD11 [33903-34133]

Why should you take sharia to somebody who is a non-Muslim? Such person will never accept sharia?, Just the way you won't accept his own religion as a way of life and I think that was what really cause a sharia riot of 2000/2001.

KD12 [35404-35556]

Yes because the constitution has stated it that wherever they want to do sharia in any part of the country should be used. So we shouldn't be barred.

KD13 [15557-15612]

I disagree because of the nature of the state we are.

KD14 [19581-19646]

I disagree with this agitation because I have never heard of it.

KD15 [28011-28067]

It is not wrong for Muslims to obey secular government

KD16 [16625-16645]

I strongly disagree

KD17 [50148-50500]

You understand, the Islamic state should be established whereby most Muslims are. Who are going to lead the Islamic state whereby there are non-Muslims, who are you going to rule in that state? Whereby there are no Muslims who are in the Islamic faith. It is Muslims that own the Islamic faith. It should be a place whereby Muslims are in the majority

KD19 [31220-31414]

Yes, ah I agree with the agitation that sharia should be imposed in most of the northern states because you discover that most of the northern states are in a state of, let me say, anarchy now.

KD19 [31508-31938]

Well, for the agitation to be the entire nation, it means we have a lot of work to do. We need to maybe revolutionise our religion, make it more acceptable to the non-Muslims in such a way that everybody will feel this religion eh sharia should be imposed and we have to remove the fear from the minds of the non-Muslim that sharia is all about eh is all about them. Sharia is not meant for them. Sharia is meant for the Muslims.

KD20 [25482-25722]

I disagree with it, there's nothing like Islam may that the Muslim that Islam is trying to Islamize the whole country, there's nothing like that, they are just using that against their political opponents. Yes, there is nothing like that.

KD21 [24137-24456]

I believe sharia is total way of life that governs the activities of Muslims not just in a state, it should go all round in as much as you want blessings from Allah your souls should be bound by his own rules when a Muslim breaks a law Imo, Abia, Kano, I think a Muslim somehow a Muslim they should face the same law.

KD23 [24816-25077]

I will not agree with this because what Muslims ah sharia should be put in place where Muslims is dominant only. So where non-Muslim are dominant should not impose sharia to them because it is one of the cause of conflicts if to say they are going to do that.

KD24 [74712-75256]

I disagree because we are not allowed to force other people by force, under must to enter into our own religion, ah if that should be the case they too can say you ma too you must enter our own religion. What it entails all in all is explanation, explanation, see this our religion, religion of peace, the Christians says our own religion is a religion of ah I forget the word, but their own religion is the religion of love and affection okay love, affection, peace. What brings about fighting between love, affection and peace, if it's true?

KD25 [90381-91186]

That is right I agree. That is the best thing, even if it is one Muslim that is living in Bendel or what, he should be allowed to practice his religion talk-less of many. There is no, what the most of the Christians even with their clerics don't seem to understand is that ah with Islam, when the Muslims are clamouring of the implementation of sharia, they are not fighting anybody. We are not saying that the Christians should not practice their own Christianity. What we are saying that they should be given rights to practice their religion as they ought to practice. That is alright and others can practice theirs, but the Christians whenever the Muslims clamour for the implementation of Sharia, they will say ah they want to Islamize the whole country. That is just ah misconception and it is....

KD26 [26950-27662]

Hmm to some extent I agree because if you look at the way of life, the level of modesty in the other parts of Nigeria, it is very low and yes there are Muslims there and our holy books says we should guard our modesty especially for the women. We should lower our gaze and everything, but when our, when we are being faced with such situation I think it should be regulated. Religion has said culture comes into this place, culture does not permit you, our culture is not even the one that you should dress indecently and everything and there are some kind of things that are there that they do that I think yes to some extents it is necessary, there are certain parts of the sharia that should be implemented.

KD27 [26307-26449]

Sharia will only apply to north, to Muslims. It doesn't have anything to do with non-Muslims as long as they choose not to subscribe to it.

KD28 [35174-35682]

I don't agree with this agitation. Sharia can only be implemented in the area that have the understanding of what sharia is. If you don't have the knowledge of something you cannot, it cannot be implemented on you. Whatever is going to be given to you, you should be able to understand what it is, the implication. It is an area that have the knowledge of the Islam or sharia then it is that area that sharia can be implemented, where it is not Islamic it cannot implement sharia there, it is not possible.

KD29 [22248-22480]

Well I agree with that because ah sharia is not all about enforcing its rules on non-believers. It is about regulating the conducts of Muslims and ah providing rights to non-Muslims to exist and conduct their day to day activities.

KD30 [38989-40101]

Ah as Islam is like a salvation to humanity because Islam is light and brought upon to ah show people ah the beauty and a way to live, is a total way of life. So I always believe that everyone deserves to live under Islamic state even non-Muslims. Non-Muslims enjoy more because they have a lot of liberty, protection and they live neatly under no fear in an Islamic state even the non-Muslims in a non-Islamic states like the far east if they can adapt Islam, Islamic sharia, I don't think I think they will even enjoy it because Muslims there will be acting in according a unlike now here they will see a Muslims going there to do other dubious activities, under Islamic sharia you see they won't be having any in that case because there will be cautioned under the secular government, you see it gives him the liberty to go wherever and does and do whatever he wants. To conduct Islamic sharia the Christians can continue to practice their Christianity, but the Muslims there will have to abide by the Islamic jurisprudence but not doing that you see you have Muslims going there to do other criminal things.

KD31 [20314-20332]

That is not true.

KD32 [29003-29593]

Sharia must not be necessary applied before you can perform Islam, you as a Muslim you can perform your own duty, you absent yourself from performing so many major sins, you absent yourself from doing anything that is haram in Islam. There is no, sharia is just an extra guidance, but you on yourself, for yourself, for your house can apply sharia. You may not perform it like all other things that you know it is haram. This is sharia, so to say sharia must be applied before you can perform Islam, this is not true. If you wish you can live your live according to the teachings of Allah.

KD33 [25966-26263]

No I disagree with this agitation because every human being is free to practice the religion he wishes. The only way, the only thing is in Islam is you are free to go and propagate for your religion and you are not allowed to force someone to convert from his religion to Islam, so you are free.

KD34 [30681-31348]

Hmm I agree with this agitation. One, there is an awareness about what sharia really means and how sharia really operates. If for example, in the southern Nigeria or eastern Nigeria there are Muslims living in those communities should be given a freedom to be judged according to sharia law, so also in the northern Nigeria should be allowed to be judged according to sharia law because even in our constitution, there is sharia court and there is customary court, so wherever a Muslim is should be judged according to Islamic laws and wherever a Christian is should be judged according to the customary law or eh what am I going to call it or constitutional law.

KD35 [30405-30728]

Ehm sir I always say sharia should be implemented in our hearts first, in our home first, in the street, in the market wherever then before it comes to court, so the moment we have the sharia laws in our hearts, should be carried out in our homes, on the streets, in the market, so all other things ahh are simple as abc.

KN1 [64165-65207]

Well concerning majority and establishment of sharia, it is not about being majority. If you are majority and you are not practicing right thing or you are not doing the right thing it doesn't warrant that you should have what you want, but if you say that it is my right to be judged to live under the sharia as a Muslim I agree and I don't think nobody is saying that the whole of the northern state should be Islamized as it has been claimed since then. I have never heard of that one. I have been to mosques and I have been to series of Muslim gatherings, I have never heard of that one. You know the particular problem or the fundamental problem we are having in this country is rumor, people can create rumor and I know a particular time when there was this violence in Kano, Muslims were saying that government soldiers are shooting Muslims and the Christians were saying that the government soldiers are shooting Christians, I heard it, first hand information from both sides. So there is rumor a times, people are creating stories.

KN2 [36763-36845]

I can only agree with it if it is possible if Nigerians agree, if they accept it.

KN4 [50789-50984]

There is no any agitation like this or people only use propaganda to change everything and cause conflict among the people. No agitation to force any other person in Nigeria to become a Muslim.

KN5 [31660-31702]

I disagree because it is not possible.

KN6 [34095-35687]

I can agree with this agitation because sharia is the total way of Muslim so ah a Muslim can be treated with his own Sharia. So those Christians can be treated by their own because they have their own Sharia, the problem is that they don't understand their religion, if they understand their religion there is some cases of Sharia in their Bible, for example, in Deuteronomy. 1:1 it says that everyone, everyone who caught with a woman should be killed, it should be, it should be removed from this world and even their Sharia is more strict than our sharia because you can find it in Matthew it says when you look at a woman in their sharia you must remove your eyes and if you take the money of a person so your hand will be cut off. So in our sharia it does not allow you to cut ah whenever a person even take a single kobo and it happen for example in Lagos ah you can find some cases, a man maybe steal even an orange they will burn you together, so to follow this rule, which one is more ah justice to follow this rule or to follow the Islamic one. So Islamic if Muslim demonstrate their ah, if the Muslim display their moral character even though Christian they prefer to be judged with their own book rather than their book because if you say so, if you say, for example if you are a Christian if you bring you to the court so are you going to follow Bible teaching or Qur'an he will prefer this Quran because in his Bible says whenever you see a woman, so you should remove this eyes. So unlike this Islamic Sharia, so I don't know how people hate this sharia ah this sharia system.

KN7 [32055-32293]

Well ehm, I shouldn't say I agree with this agitation because ehm, as we've said earlier on, Islamic states or sharia does not solve every problem. It doesn't solve every problem so I don't think it should be implemented everywhere, yes.

KN8 [31069-31215]

Sharia cannot be implemented across all because there should be consideration for people that are not Muslims that are living within the country.

KN9 [28253-28736]

I don't agree with this because sharia law cannot be, cannot be expanded everywhere, you seem, because if you do that there is since presently in Nigeria it is a democratic settings there are rights. So if you should enforce sharia on all part of Nigeria I think there is going to be an infringement on right of most of places where non-Muslims are majority, you understand, because it is going to be like antithetical to their views and the religion they practice over there, yes.

KN10 [21774-22069]

I disagree with this because like in this nation, it is not all part of the country that are Muslims. So it is not all part of the country that are Muslims. So it is not necessary that sharia must be established in all part of the country. It is only where Muslims are in the majority in fact.

KN11 [29643-29780]

This agitation is not true. How can a non-Muslim practice or implement the Islamic sharia when he is not a Muslim, so this is not true.

KN13 [32572-32888]

Hmm, yeah there has been but definitely it depends on which particular kind of state, are we running an Islamic state or are we looking at a state that actually comprises of both Muslims and non-Muslims? So definitely if sharia is going to be adopted as a guide, it has to be on which, the state has to be selected.

KN14 [25590-25690]

In my opinion, sharia should only be implemented in northern Nigeria where the majority are Muslims.

KN15 [22828-22871]

I think I don't agree with this agitation.

KN16 [12938-12973]

I don't agree with this agitation.

KN18 [46530-46828]

Ah actually I don't, I don't even know where this agitations is coming about I don't I think is lying is a lie is act is a big lie that the Muslims are advocating for these are media propaganda against sharia in Nigeria or other things but no any agitation is coming that Islam is sharia must be.

KN19 [28630-28723]

This will be very difficult because in other places there are people with different religion

KN20 [21177-21287]

I disagree totally, Nigeria is not an Islamic state, is a secular state, so we should go by the constitution.

KN21 [14807-14827]

I disagree with it.

KN22 [30072-30697]

I have agreed with it because sharia is a total way of life. It is a total way of life and when we look at the attributes of sharia, when we look at the embodiment of sharia, we will see that it even goes in line with even the secular constitution. There are so many fundamental attributes in the sharia that even supersede that of the secular constitution because sharia advocates for people peaceful co-existence, sharia advocates giving of zakat, giving of alms, Sharia advocates for helping Muslims and even non-Muslims, and Sharia also advocates for true pursuance of justice fairness and equity in a particular society

KN23 [19816-19958]

No I don't agree with this agitation because there are other non-Muslims and sharia is not something that you can take to someone forcefully.

KN24 [19136-19174]

I do not agree with these agitations

KN25 [30867-31366]

Well I will say I agree with this agitation because I am a Muslim who if this should happen, it will be at my best interest. But looking at it from a neutral view point, I think it is going to be more of since we are in a democratic setting, if we should do that, I think it is an infringement on the rights of other people because it is not everybody that shares our faith. You can tell an average Igbo man not to drink alcohol. So I think it is going to be basically infringement on other people.

KN26 [33373-33963]

I don't agree with this. You see you don't have- no you don't – what is even the use of for instance a state that is largely a non-Muslim state particularly in the South East Nigeria where they have very small minute number of Muslims and mostly even the Muslims there are visitors they are not natives of that area. The few ones we have are mostly converts, very few of them. And you –in fact it will even be an abuse to Islam because even if a sharia state is being implemented there it will be bastardized and not respected because the people there are not Muslims. There is no point.

KN27 [23489-23818]

Well I don't think this statement I fully agree with it, in the sense that there are states where I don't think there is a need to have sharia rule then because they have their own ideology, they have their own custom and practices that have been governing them right from time immemorial, so I don't think it is of importance.

KN28 [18222-18374]

Well I think Nigeria as a whole is a secular state so the emphasis of sharia across the whole nation is not something that should really be emphasized.

KN29 [4463-4490]

I totally disagree with it

KN30 [17579-17603]

I don't agree with that

KN31 [29911-30196]

Well I disagree with that. As I said we are living in a secular state and it is a mixed society so even if, I underline, it would, it can be implemented in northern region of Nigeria. It could hardly be implemented in other states because I think Muslims are in the minority there so

KN32 [14613-14737]

Ah I don't think that the agitations are correct. They are very very unscientific and of course irrational in human senses.

KN33 [11160-11245]

No sharia is for the Muslims only so it should be implemented only in Muslim states.

KN34 [19140-19397]

Yes I agree to it in whole because non-Muslims have nothing to do with sharia, sharia law is only applicable to a Muslim. So I don't see any reason where, even for a reason for cause for alarm for a non-Muslim to go against the implementation of sharia law.

KN35 [18812-19049]

I will disagree with this because there some pure states in Nigeria that are purely non-Islamic in nature where you can virtually have 95% or 97% of population being Christians so what do you want them to do with Islamic law so to say.

KN36 [19701-19778]

Sharia is only limited to Muslims, it should not be imposed on non-Muslims.

KN37 [18527-18655]

Even if sharia will be implemented, I think it should be implemented in line with the present disposition of the entire country.

KN38 [13807-14076]

I don't agree with this agitation this is because, as we have earlier discussed, everybody have the right to practice his own religion so you cannot impose Islam. In fact even the prophet (SAW) has never ever imposed Islam on other people that do not want to join us.

KN39 [22334-22440]

Actually my Islamic teachings do not teach Muslims to forcefully invite non-Muslims to Islamic religion.

KN40 [18046-18211]

No in the sense that Nigeria as a whole we have different or many religions. And in a state like that sharia should not be established or should not be implemented.

KN41 [15558-15656]

I disagree with this because as I said earlier that sharia should be restricted to Muslims alone.

KN42 [37481-38355]

I say Muslim; sharia should be implemented when Muslims are of the majority. What is the point in influencing sharia in a place whereby the people don't even understand what the sharia is all about? Sharia should be instilled in places where the people have the understand of sharia, they have the knowledge, even if they don't have it, they are told what it is and even if they, if there is provisions in wanting to make people accept preachings and doctrines of sharia, they should be, it shouldn't be done in a forceful manner. It should be done in a form of enlightening them, let the people know through the step by step what is it called and through step by step orientation. Let them see whether they are ready to accept or adopt in totality the doctrines of sharia. If they are, it should be and if they not receptive of the idea, it shouldn't be forced upon them.

KN43 [29046-29163]

I don't agree with this because sharia is meant for Muslims. How can you go and operate sharia in non-Muslim states?

KN44 [23170-24066]

Wherever Muslim is, whether in north, whether in south or in any other, other places, one of his ambition is to see that ah sharia is implemented anywhere, where you have a sizeable number of Muslims. They would like to be governed by sharia provisions whether it is south or north, but what is fundamental for people to understand is that most of them are not really applicable to people that are non-Muslims. If you are not Muslim, sharia in most cases doesn't apply to you the, even the attempt made in to introduce sharia in the northern part of the country you will find that only people that are professing Muslims that this sharia is being applied on them. If you are not Muslim you have nothing to do with sharia. The only thing is that in terms of conduct ah you have to comply with sharia provisions, for example, eh so many other examples maybe time will not permit us to say that.

KN45 [31365-31606]

I don't think there is that eh legitimate agitation on the ground that sharia should be extended to the eh Christian dominated area. I don't think there is that agitation at all and eh even if there is, I think it is not logical at all.

KN46 [53381-53785]

No, I never heard of that. I only read from the writings of those, those writers whether they are, mostly non-Muslims, who are trying to misrepresent the facts, but I don't think there is ah this agitation to implement sharia law in all the states of federal republic of Nigeria. The agitation is, was and has been always limited to those states where Muslims are in the majority, mainly in the north.

KN47 [49395-50109]

This agitation, to me, is a false agitation because you know there is this eh you know ah em from my experience from my journalistic experience, I knew how the report was written about how General Buhari would have converted Nigeria to Islamic state in his campaign time in Sokoto, the journalist who reported that and spread the news in the southern part of Nigeria was not even in the attendance of the General Mohammed Buhari's rally at the time he said General would convert Nigeria to Islam. That is lacking in validity of the report and that is lacking in integrity and that is of course also lacking, you know, in credibility of journalism. So this is a, they are just lies, you understand, this is a lie.

KN48 [15889-16233]

Yah it is ok, but it shouldn't be mandatory, I, I agree with your opinion but just that it shouldn't be mandatory on all the people living in that particular region, so it can just be adopted, it can- if anybody wants to be judged using sharia law, then it can now be, the person can now walk to them and be judged using that particular sharia.

KN49 [26322-26498]

It is actually not feasible in the Nigerian state because it is not possible, because we live in a multi-religious and very complex society. Its not even foreseeable actually.

KN50 [14023-14092]

I do not agree because there are various religions, religious belief.

KN52 [43886-44280]

I do not really understand the meaning of agitation because I do not think that any sensible person could argue that Islam or should converse for the elimination of sharia, I don't understand what that kind of agitation means, in northern-Nigeria people agitating for the elimination of sharia? Even not only in northern-Nigeria but where Muslims dominate. Is that what the question is saying?

KN52 [44549-45156]

I do not think it is correct to say that sharia must be implemented at every level or every part of this country even where Muslims are minority. You know what I mean? I do not agree with this position because, for me, the definition of sharia, sharia can be implemented at various levels, at individual level, family level, as I mentioned several times. So it depends on what sort of sharia, political sharia or sharia at state level? How could you argue for the implementation of sharia as the legal system of say Rivers state where majority of the people are non-Muslims? I mean that is not feasible.

KN54 [10864-10881]

I do not agree.

KN55 [12023-12048]

I do not agree with it.

KN56 [20026-20258]

Actually I don't agree with this agitation just because Muslims are in the majority in northern states that sharia should be implemented over the Federation of Nigeria. Actually Islam is not a religion of compulsion and imposition.

KN57 [18052-18095]

You see it would bring conflict, honestly.

KN58 [40740-41275]

Yah it is true sharia should be implemented in (sharia should be sorry come again and interviewer repeats the question) Yah because it is not only in the north that we have dominance of Muslims. There are other southern states that are having larger percentage of Muslims, for instance, Oyo state in Nigeria, Osun state in Nigeria. They are all part of south-western Nigeria, but with Muslim majority. So if sharia should be implemented successfully in the North I believe it can equally be successfully implemented in these areas.

KN59 [38214-38896]

Actually if it is a sharia state, then virtually it has to be implemented in all, in everywhere, you understand, despite that you are the majority but there is a particular place that it doesn't exist, or it isn't being implemented. I can vividly recall when they implemented sharia in Kano state, you understand, they said that sharia would not go to Sabongari which is Christian dominated area, sharia would not go to barracks, army barrack and police barrack, you understand, but if it is truly an Islamic state, there shouldn't be restriction, it has to be virtually all and everywhere irrespective of you domination, irrespective of your office, you have to implement sharia.

KN60 [29889-29931]

I disagree with this agitation actually.

KN61 [15479-15610]

Hmm, at least when it is the minority of the people then you know that you cannot allow it, if the majority then you can allow it.

KN62 [50919-51782]

There isn't this agitation. It is a false alarm. People are being just are being informed or being told through the western media especially and through some ah, let's say, ahm what do you call them? Ahm, ahm there are other people just who instigate fear in the minds, who put fears in the minds of the southerners especially that sharia should be implemented especially (coughs) especially this, in this year 2015, let me say, towards the end of 2014 when general Muhammad Buhari, the now president of the country, was campaigning for his election, people in the South were all scared because of this rumor, speculations that were going about at the time saying that ah ah if he becomes the president, he would turn the whole of the nation into a kind of a Islamic one. It is not true, it is not true. Everybody has his right to practice his own religion, yes.

KN63 [39342-40459]

No, if at all if they want to ehh ehh maybe input sharia or maybe want to make Nigeria an Islamic state, it has to depend, it depends on the total population or maybe the generality of Nigerians huh because maybe through voting, if for example now, we go through voting and maybe this Muslims now come out top ehn good and fine, but the Christians now say no, maybe they come out top, they say okay good and fine huh, but it shouldn't be made compulsory on Nigeria, but a state like Kano, Jigawa, ah all those Islamic states, there is nothing preventing them from doing Islamic state, huh it doesn't deviate with our, with our laws in Nigeria. So and in this set up, in this Islamic state of a thing, in fact the Christians, the non-Muslims their privileges are guaranteed, far more guaranteed than the Muslims themselves, you know, what the sharia is trying to do is that, it wants to make us ahh a model, the Muslims a model, you know, mould you, all those things that you are maybe you have been ah abusing, you know, it moulds you but the Christians their privilege are being guaranteed. There is nothing there.

KN64 [25243-25496]

Ehn, what I think ah I think here is as Muslims you are trying every time to see that Islam spread to other places, you propagate Islam even to areas that there are no Muslims. Ehn this is good ehn, but this does not mean you should go and force them.

KN65 [32986-33007]

I strongly disagree.

KN66 [20943-21408]

Ehen en, I think, I think for peace we shouldn't even start that, for peace, for peace sake because if you look at the percentage of the Muslims and non-Muslims in Nigeria today, it is almost balance in the country, so assuming you have where it is cantab where Muslims are majority like when you take northern Nigeria for example alone, it can be done in northern Nigeria but when you say Nigeria entirely, I believe for peace sake it shouldn't even be attempted.

KN67 [21847-22182]

Well if people truly understand the sharia, we can, it can be implemented anyway. So far there are Muslims there that they can practice it. So but the problem is there is no ahh understanding of the sharia itself, then even if in the northern state in the Islamic state, many people will not follow or will use it to ah create crisis.

KN68 [10554-10570]

I don't agree.

KN69 [35298-35739]

Well the issue of sharia is an issue of Muslims, where Muslims are dominant, as I told you earlier la iqra ha fid din. Those that are not Muslims, you cannot compel them by force that they must become Muslim rather you as a Muslim, you have the idea of calling or enticing people to convert to your religion that is by exhibiting good morals, by dealing with them in a good way. It is through these channels that you advertise your religion.

KN71 [59806-61768]

I do disagree. I do agree that sharia should be implemented in a state, I think somewhere around 1988, I wrote an article when there is this agitation of sharia during the IBB regime, I said, the caption was, implement sharia to the lovers of it. When we want sharia to govern our lives in Kano, let it be. If somebody in Zamfara doesn't want it, let him go because Islam is more of a personal relationship between servant and his lord, you understand that, so if I should say, now there is sharia in Kano, must there be sharia in Enugu and for what? They don't even believe in your religion, you don't need to tell them (recites in Arabic) They don't believe in it and Allah (SBUH) says la iqra ha fid din. It is only when you, when you embrace Islam you pronounce now these two Kalimat, then the laws should be binding on you. When you don't say so, why should the law be binding on you when you don't even agree with it? Remember this statement during this eh Hudabiyya treatment, as it was said that Ali bin Talib wrote this is an accord made between Muhammad the prophet of Allah and the leaders of Quraish, somebody said you must cancel that the prophet of Allah. If we believe that he is a prophet, then why should we expel him out of our town? So they don't even believe in that and the prophet cancelled it and he did. Sharia is for those ones who believe in Allah wanted to live well in this world and the year after. Why should you then must compel a non-Muslim to practice it? Its only to respect it. This place is secured for ladies to pray, don't say I have that right because I am a native of Nigeria, no respect that. This is a Mosque and in a Mosque this things are prohibited. Stop it. This is a school. In a market place you must not appear naked, you cannot say because I am a Musli, I am a non-Muslim, I must appear naked. No, because if you are now appearing naked, you are now abusing those other individuals that you have come across.

KN72 [33128-33181]

It is impossible, this is not true, it is not true.

KN73 [34822-35464]

Sharia should be implemented only in a place where there are Muslims in northern Nigeria. But really the concept of sharia to be implemented is Allah (SBUH) has sent the prophet (SAW) all over the world, all over the world, to the world. If you wanted to, it is not that you are going to implement sharia in other parts of the country where there are no Muslims, but want to propagate Islamic teachings to them. If they wished to accept the Islam and they wish then they will convert to Islam from Christian, Christianity to Islam. And it should not be implemented there. Sharia should not be implemented where there is no Muslim.

KN74 [44035-44210]

I am not agreeing with this agitation because if we are talking about a state government and the Islam, if there is no this kind of thing you can't say that you can you can...

KN75 [48143-48777]

I disagree, it is something that cannot be possible in Nigeria because we have Muslims in some states, we have Muslim majority in some states, we have Christians like majority in some states, we have Muslim minority and then in some state, we have Muslim majority, you find that in a state whereby Muslim is a majority such sharia can be implemented. let say example, you take the issue of Kano, Jigawa ehh Kastina, Bauchi and the rest, but when you come to southern Nigeria even in Benue, Taraba, you understand, Jos in the north, Sharia cannot be implemented there, because they have the Christian majority, Muslim are minority.

KN76 [38754-39279]

Well this is eh, actually I agree with it because if you practice sharia in southern part of Nigeria, it will only be practiced for the Muslims, like in the northern Nigeria it is only practiced for the Muslims and if you are a Muslim in Nigeria you should have the right for your life to be governed by your religion, for certain cases, social cases and many other things of your life to be guided by your religion. So having practicing sharia in southern part of Nigeria for the Muslims there only, I think ah it is okay.

KN78 [56754-56765]

I disagree

KN80 [42689-42765]

So I disagree with this because sharia concerns with only Muslim people.

KN81 [27174-27248]

I think it is impossible, no grounds for this implementation in Nigeria.

KN82 [29252-29491]

Ahm I disagree with this notion because a situation whereby you have majority of inhabitants as Christians or as ahh people with no religion, I don't think it is necessary to implement Islamic sharia. Islamic sharia is for Muslim states.

KN83 [19718-19863]

Ahm I really disagree. Sharia cannot be implemented even in Muslim dominated area in Nigeria because of the heterogeneous nature of the country.

KN84 [23162-23308]

Well I agree because sharia needs to be implemented in both northern state and the southern, but only in an area where Muslim are in the majority.

KN85 [31921-32537]

Ahm sharia is for Muslims and Muslims only except if the non-Muslims find the justice in the sharia and they want it implemented. In this case sharia should only be implemented in Islamic states, in states where there are predominantly Muslims. There is no need for implementation of sharia in the southern part of the country that are non-Muslims. Therefore, I disagree with the agitation that sharia should be implemented in the whole of Nigeria. Even in the northern state, it is only states where the people feel that sharia should be implemented that should be implemented. It should not be imposed on people.

ZA1 [34087-34481]

Who said this? Let us find out, you said they said, who said? Nigeria is a state that eh is a state that between, all the states people agree to be under constitution and in that constitution you have the right to practice your religion. Nobody will stop you. If you like go to become a free thinker, nobody can stop you, but nobody said that Nigeria will be, no. That issue is not on ground.

ZA2 [35572-36971]

I have agreed in sense that they have a legal right. Tell me now, you see we have spoken two of together here, when you come to the northern area now, the mosque, the churches, their idol centre for people who are idolaters, they are there, free for them to observe their own religious worship. Is that not true? And this is in line to the practice of Islam, he didn't deny your rights rather he preach for you to convert if you can convert when you see the teaching , but you see when you now we say the, go back to the south as we say earlier, you go and you find out that is difficult to get a religious center where Muslims worship, but if sharia is in place everybody will be allowed, they are not departing from their own religion, but there in that system, they are depriving the Muslims to practice their religion that is what happening, but if sharia is in place everybody is free, even they themselves will free. They will, they will be the one to enjoy than even the Muslims per se because to Muslim they will start to those who are not true Muslims to be even change because we have those who are calling themselves Muslims, who go on the wrong deeds but at time they say sharia is really exercised in place, they are going to be forced, but you that are not Muslims it doesn't temper with you, it don't touch you ehen because you will be playing your own in line to your own religion.

ZA3 [25271-25768]

hmm I quite agree where Muslims are majority and religion, the predominant religion Islam, they should be allowed to practice their din and it has always be like that, if not there are customary courts and sharia courts right from independence. So I think Muslims should be allowed to practice, but as for the entire nation for now, I do not agree that the entire nation should be practicing sharia because some major part of the country the presence of Islam is quite little though it do exist.

ZA4 [47383-47653]

Yes, I disagree because we have many, we have different type of religions, so everyone has the freedom to practice so religion, there is no how you can force them. If you can control yourself, your vicinity Alhamdulillah you can approach them by giving them good da'wa.

ZA5 [28069-28139]

Yes so far you can introduce a sharia law in your house. That is all

ZA6 [67434-67742]

In Nigeria there hasn't been such agitation from anybody. There hasn't, even the so called boko haram are not agitating for a complete, they are agitating for a separate entity of theirs they can practice sharia. There has never been such agitation and nobody in is right senses will even agitate for that.

ZA7 [32704-33320]

I do not agree sharia should be imposed on anybody that is not a Muslim because not everybody that is a Muslim can abide by the laws of sharia, is just as Christianity is. Christianity can only bind its laws on a Christian, it cannot bind its laws on somebody that is not a Christian maybe a pagan or Muslim. So I think it should be where the Muslims are the majority and it should be something that has to do with yes individual accepting or the masses or the general population of people accepting it. So if there is no acceptance of such laws, I think it should not be forcefully violent on the masses or people.

ZA9 [35681-36398]

I believe northern Muslims should have respect for their counterpart in the south-west south-east and the south-south, most of these geopolitical zones that I mentioned, Christians tend to be much more than the Muslim in ratio there, so they should respect their own teachings , the teachings of their holy book too. They should respect those people as they have their own believes too. Once their agitation for sharia law or for an Islamic rule in northern Nigeria, I don't see any need for them to extend it to other parts of the country, if those people find, they find the Islamic rule interesting in northern Nigeria is something they can imbibe and they can embrace on their own rather than forcing it on them.

ZA10 [32516-32876]

Yes, sharia should be imposed in the northern part because this is where Islam started from and Muslims are the Majority here, in like other states across the country they have few Muslims and other believers, the thing is just that in a state where you find Muslims are the majority all I think they should do is to make sure their leader should be a Muslim.

ZA11 [27235-27545]

Because even around there we have the Muslims that stay there and the sharia law does not mean in a different way, is just to govern, is a way of life. There are laws that keep to your way of life. So is nothing that is too big or there about to be, provided the Muslims are also residing in the other region.

ZA12 [16795-16842]

I disagree because Nigeria is a secular state.

ZA13 [17449-17469]

I disagree with it.

ZA14 [22799-23160]

That is to establish sharia in all of the states of the federation in which they do not have the highest number of Muslims, you go to the South-South you will find it very difficult to even get a Muslim in that particular place, then how can you want to establish a sharia in that kind of state? There is no way you can establish sharia in that kind of place.

ZA15 [25566-25927]

I disagree with the comment because there is no how you go to a place where all are Christians and you say you want to implement sharia. That it is not possible, it can only be done in Muslim dominated areas, example with what happened, I told you in 1999, because all those areas where implemented in Muslim dominated areas not Christians. It is not possible.

ZA16 [18274-18507]

I disagree because there are some states in Nigeria that the majority you will find out that is 95 percent or 85 percent of that state they are non-Muslims, so in that kind of state you cannot practice, you cannot implement sharia.

ZA17 [21977-22252]

Any place that actually there is two or three Muslim, they suppose to have that right of Islamic sharia because we were forced to do this one for more than a decade eh and nothing we do not see the reality of it, this our own that is very real let us perform it everywhere.

ZA18 [26836-27030]

No. I disagree. Where the Muslims are many, sharia could be introduced, but where they are few, it shouldn't be introduced. If they want, they can now come back to where they have the majority.

ZA19 [37663-37973]

I disagree because ah actually most people that were propagating for the establishment of an Islamic state particularly in the northern ah North Eastern part of the country were not proclaiming for the liberation of the whole Nigerian state, but rather their own sovereign state not the whole Nigerian state.

ZA20 [25174-25580]

It has never been said that Sharia should be, must be, has to be implemented in a given state. Who said it? Which president has said it? We are having so many presidents, about eight or nine or ten or eleven or twelve or even thirteenth president. Who has said it? Even in state where sharia was implemented which of the governors in Nigeria like Kaduna enforce Christians to convert to Islam? No where.

ZA21 [30344-30911]

I disagree with this agitation because we said time without number that it is only God that can make somebody a Muslim or a Christian or this and that. Nobody can force anybody to become this and that. This we are saying everybody has the right to practice his religion and even Islam says you cannot completely say everybody must be a Muslim and you cannot say there is compulsion in Islam. You cannot enforce anybody to practice your religion. So I don't agree with this agitation that everybody must be a Muslim or Nigeria should be an Islamic state completely.

ZA22 [26788-27122]

Yah. Sharia should be implemented throughout the country, but through what I stated earlier. Continue to teach, to propagate and continue to show people this are the muhasin good things Islam entails, this are the things then we continue we will conquer everybody with them. But we should not do the violent way people are thinking.

ZA23 [35177-35413]

For me to practice sharia I wouldn't wait until I have a president or head of state in Nigeria that will say now Nigeria is a sharia state. I am free to practice sharia anywhere. So it is only for the Muslims to start implementing it.

ZA24 [42653-43075]

Sharia law is meant for only Muslims. Therefore if Muslims are the majority sharia should be established, but where there is no majority Muslims you cannot enforce them –impose sharia on them. Even where there is majority Muslims if there is minority Christians sharia is meant for only Muslims. Therefore I do not agree that sharia should be the entire nation, but where there is majority you can establish sharia law.

ZA25 [39961-41113]

In fact it is supposed to be a serious wish of every Muslim that Islam should be practiced everywhere in the world. And Islamic state should be established everywhere in the world and the whole world should be ruled by sharia. This is supposed to be every aspiration –it is supposed to be the aspiration of every Muslim. But it all depends on how you go by it. Like Nigeria as a case study, yes we have sharia courts, some so-called sharia systems in the northern part of the country, but there is still some basic aspects such as the concept of Amir-ship (al-imara) that an Amir is not the same thing as these traditional rulers. So once you are still having that and an Amir is not supposed to be at the behest or should be endorsed by the politicians and elected politicians. So in that situation and in my own opinion sharia has never even been instituted or institutionalized in northern Nigeria. It is only partial thing. Just get sharia law, go there to discuss civil rules to adjudicate civil issues and what have you. So it will be very good if sharia can be implemented in northern Nigeria and across the country and even across the world.

ZA26 [19419-19661]

If you see any uprising or revolution people are dissatisfied with the way they are being governed that is what caused revolution. Hitler did revolution. There is French revolution, America attack Iraq and for what reason they attack them?

ZA27 [18079-18489]

I agree and disagree. I agree that sharia should start from somewhere. Now when you start practicing sharia, when the other religion when they see anything good about it then they will embrace it, but not by force. You can start it and you can call them to the religion in peace not in pieces. If they feel like joining the religion then good, but by enforcing people to come to sharia I don't agree with it.

ZA28 [31986-32639]

Like I just mentioned from the previous question, where an established state has been established it will be very difficult for somebody to come into that state and try to convert or try to preach other beliefs to people around their so also it can be applied to this very question. It will be very difficult for maybe say the amm East which is, the main are the Christians so for somebody from the north to rise and may be try to go there try to seek their own opinion consequently trying to change their belief to ammm if really he can do that I think it is welcomed idea for somebody to do that but actually it is going to be a very difficult task.

ZA29 [45957-46128]

That is just a perception in which the people that are igniting the conflict in the north see that it is not enough, but rather they want to separate the East and South.

ZA30 [54337-54606]

This one is true. It is true that when you practice Islam very well, it was even said in the hadith that the way it is started in Saudi Arabia, it was to reach the end of the west and the south. So, when you practice Islam the way it is, people will convert willingly.

ZA31 [26167-26713]

Because of our situation now in the country, I don't see a reason why sharia should be imposed all around the state, around the country because most, there are some of the state, you will see a state Muslims they are not more than five percent (5%), they are not more than five percent (5%) and also you will see a state where Christians, they are not more five percent (5%). Toh what can you say about those states? You see, you have to impose it. The real sharia means to preach and guide people towards the preaching, towards the book of God.

ZA33 [22049-22380]

Yes. Islam spreading is through a gradual process. So the Sharia implementation should be first forwarded to the northern Nigeria where we have the majority of Muslims and the subsequent through a gradual process with the reaction and good behavior of the Muslims and the Muslim community we can extend that to the entire nation.

ZA35 [18068-18499]

I disagree with the agitation because like if it comes to take place only in the northern state where the Muslims are more than the non-Muslims I think it is going to work, but if they are going to take the sharia across, let's say to the south, like if you go to south, Enugu or Imo even if you find a Muslims there, I don't think they are Much, non-Muslims are dominant in the place, so sharia cannot be practice in that place.

ZA36 [25664-26042]

In my own opinion ahm sharia law should be implemented based on where the Muslims are because they are the ones, ahm how do I call it? It only, it affects them, it does not affect the non-Muslims because they don't have anything to do with our sharia. It only affects us, so it should be implemented on the Muslims. We should allow them to use their own rules and regulations.

ZA37 [34483-34499]

No. I disagree.

ZA38 [39233-39760]

I disagree. You can't go to an environment where there are non-Muslims and say you want to force a sharia on them, why? You understand, even though it is good, you started it, people see it, I know of a Reverend Father that said that Sharia is good, you understand. It would curtail sin, prostitution would stop, alcoholism or many things would stop, it would curtail it, but then you cannot, it is in the religion, there is no compulsion in Islam. There is no way you would force people into something they don't want to do.

ZA39 [51752-52102]

This is an agitation that doesn't hold water. Sharia is implemented I mean Sharia is practiced by people who believe in Islam that is Muslims. So extending it to where there is, such people are not there then it is not possible because we always recall that you cannot compel somebody to practice your religion in Islam that is the position of Islam.

Th12.5: Northern Nigerian Muslims Still Leaving in Jahiliyya

KD1 [55493-55956]

That's an insult. That's an insult because you can't tell me. Truly ... bring that case I will first look at the person even making that pronouncement. What is your level of education? What is your level of knowledge Islamically and in the secular religion? So you can have your say, but whether what you say it is right or wrong is the point, but this is actually wrong. You can't say northern Nigeria, people are presently in jahiliyya period. That is too crude.

KD2 [26570-26973]

People are not living in jahiliyya because there are some level of education and awareness going on. People have the right knowledge, not right as in right to the fullest, but they are really trying and the ulama, the scholars are moving around teaching and guiding people on how to go about their Islamic activities. So we are not, people are not living jahiliyya. There are some levels of education.

KD3 [20753-20906]

The question is false because there is nothing like jahiliyya in modern northern Nigeria because I live there and everybody are practicing the religion.

KD4 [50875-51836]

If you say jahiliyya, I will, I believe that you are referring to the ignorant, what some scholars classify as age of, the tradition age, the age of ignorance, the age whereby there is no law, there is no rules and regulations, everybody is living as an animal, if I may put it that way, there is a scholar Thomas Hobbes, he believes that totality man, before time immemorial has been living in a state of nature, where there is no law, there is no rules and regulations. If that is what you are referring to as jahiliyya period, I totally disagree with you that the northern part of Nigeria today is living in a jahiliyya period. But, if you classify jahiliyya as a period of whereby there is much in enhancement, there is no much enlightenment, I will still tell you that no, today enlightenment, knowledge has been vast. Everybody, there has been an enlightenment everywhere, so there is no where you claim to be jahiliyya period anywhere around the world today.

KD5 [26435-26832]

That's not true, that's not true. If you look at it, before me as a Muslim I knew that the number of students or people that memorize the holy Qur'an has risen unlike before due to the high number of Islamiyya school and the almajiri school and I don't think there is any sharia state that remain in existence in the northern state talk less of being in jahiliyya. So, that is something like that

KD6 [42003-42978]

Jahiliyya they are just bringing Arabic context, they now say this. What I understand by jahiliyya is when you are not practicing your faith, when you are not in your faith that is being of jahiliyya. Even if you are living at the past, that is, even if you are a Muslim and you are living as a mushrik, you are living in jahiliyya. Whether you like it or not, the Christians, the Jews we call them al-hul kitab that is what the Quran says. Whatever you say, they have change their, this and that, they are still other things inside that is still God's words that you cannot say no or yes. Because there a hadith that says Yahud and nasara is saying this, don't say yes or no because there is still word of God inside. So, what jahiliyya really means is those people that doesn't even have text that is books revelation books that is jahiliyya. So, what we mean by jahiliyya in the northern Nigeria or in any part of Nigeria is traditionalist, that is, we call them mushriks.

KD7 [33953-34269]

There is so much education, but we are mostly victims of selfishness. We do things the way we want, we preach the way we want, we eat the way we want, we live the way we want, we marry off our children the way we want. We do not practice the sharia law even in those states where it was established some years back.

KD8 [59320-59766]

It's not true, it's not. It's not true, it is not jahiliyya because practices our religion, we have a better understanding of the religion now, there are a lot of things that are going in accordance with the principles of Islam. So, it is not jahiliyya. I completely dismiss this kind of idea. If you don't have Islamic state, it does not mean you are living in jahiliyya because there is more knowledge now, we are practicing what religion say.

KD8 [59816-60268]

Okay, what is the responsible is that we have more knowledge now. There are very knowledgeable scholars, young ones and the middle aged ones that are preaching, they are preaching peace, they are giving more knowledge, they are enlightening people about Islam, they are giving a lot of education and enlightenment. So as a result of this I feel very comfortable, I feel that we are not living in the Jahiliyya period at all. I dismiss this completely.

KD9 [42372-42881]

A lot of people that live there lives like the time of Jahiliyya yes to that extent I will agree because there is no sharia. A good number of people do what they like even though they claim to be Muslims. If it were an Islamic society those people will be checked, but now this people will now be crying ah fundamental human right that they can do what they like just because there is no sharia. Yes they are living Jahiliyya kind of life. So it is true that we have such situation because of lack of sharia.

KD10 [33607-34069]

It is not true. They are not living in jahiliyya. What kind of Jahiliyya? Some people may have the ja'al with them and practices ja'al, but not that in the northern state they are living in jahiliyya, for where, there is mosque, there is schools, the preachers are there preaching in the mosque, the Muslims are calling to prayer, making ikama, leaving beard, putting hijab. What kind of, if they are living in Jahiliyya you cannot see this, so it is not true.

KD12 [36883-37124]

Eh is partially true, is partially true because if you see the way some people behave too because what any Mallam can do presently is just eh is just application of some Islamic law, it has not been given to us to operate it in totality eh.

KD13 [16577-16778]

You see the term jahiliyya could be explained in different ways, but the way I am going to, I accept it and the way I am going to accept it here is that illiteracy concerning the knowledge of the din.

KD14 [21417-21566]

My reaction to that is that the modern northern Nigeria are not living in jahiliyya, is only that those with low knowledge of understanding of Islam

KD16 [17515-17543]

I disagree with that view.

KD17 [52413-52770]

As I said earlier when you asked me, is there any state in Nigeria whereby sharia is being practiced? Which state is sharia being practiced in Nigeria? In the northern state, which state is sharia being practiced, full sharia, Islamic sharia being practiced? None, so I cannot even use that to judge. Please let's go further to other questions if there is.

KD19 [33591-34274]

Yes eh if you look back, if you compare the days before the coming of Islam, the life of the Arab and the life of most Nigerians today, you discover that there is no difference. The Arabs were wicked, the Arabs were so harsh even on their children, you discover even today that is the practice. So I don't think there is much problem, we need sharia and now to remove this state of jahiliyya that has occurred in most northern states and those, another thing you look at is that in the time of Arab, the question of who rule is not based on the fear of God and whatever, it is based on the mighty, the wealthy people in the society. So it is the same thing that is applicable today.

KD20 [27427-27579]

I think that is a lie. The modern northern Nigeria today Islamically, they are well oriented, they are well educated than any part of the country, yes.

KD20 [27710-27714]

No

KD21 [25923-26346]

I don't think ah the modern northern Nigeria is living in jahiliyya today. Look around you, if you are thirty or forty years old, the number of Islamic schools, the number of Islamic scholars that are there compare them that of thirty, forty years ago, there have been a rapid development, rapid increase, will you still say modern northern Nigeria are living in jahiliyya? I think that justification is very, very unfair.

KD23 [26631-26880]

Okay my view on this is that it is not true because ah education is, education has entered everywhere in northern Nigeria, education has entered everywhere in northern Nigeria. So there is spread of schools everywhere across northern Nigeria, yes.

KD24 [78961-79797]

Is not right. Is not the truth, the northern Nigeria, the modern northern Nigerian today is not living the jahiliyya period because people are getting wise and the way knowledge is being spreading now, is not like in those days because the number of ah students that were being sent in those days abroad to Islamic countries to go and acquire the true Islamic religious practice, the number if you calculate and you compare to what is happening today, it is incomparable because if you consider that then in a year they used to send for example ten students, now you will consider that it is one thousand students they used to send there in five years time they finish their own degree program and masters things like that, they will come back and continue teaching their fellow ones there which are unable to meet up with the needs.

KD25 [93048-93501]

Not really so, not really so, but people are trying to ah go outside the teachings of Islam because of wanting to acquire the material things of this world in terms of money and what have you. So that that ah interest that money interest that many Muslims are showing is what is prevailing them from the practice of Islam, but they need to be taught, they need to be brought close and taught ah vehemently to know what really is Islam they don't know.

KD26 [29027-29605]

I think it is from us. It has nothing to do with secular or non-secular. We are not ready to learn. Our prophet said we should look for knowledge even if it is to the land of Sin that is China. But in this day and age, how many of us are into maybe Islamic schools, we go for da'wa programs? How many of us go for things that will broaden our horizons that will make us know our religions better, our religion better? Very few of us and if we don't know our religion better, we will do things that are against our religion and it is part of jahiliyya, so yes I agree with that.

KD27 [28177-28693]

I believe partly that is a true statement because like I said earlier we live in a state of ignorance. We lack Islamic knowledge and we lack western education. Now and the two are necessary for us to implement even if it is the Sharia because first of all you have to understand what the Sharia is. Then secondly you have to understand, the issue of enlightenment, knowledge on the basis of either living in jahiliyya or not. As far as I am concerned we are because majority of the population lacks that knowledge.

KD28 [37838-38221]

I believe with that statement quite clear we are living in jahiliyya. Even those states they are operating in jahiliyya because when you are talking of sharia, how are we implementing sharia today to the core because we have to understand the sharia first before we go into it. If we don't understand sharia then you will not know what you are working with how do we implement it.

KD29 [23859-24012]

Well to me ah this does not imply ah saying that ah our current system where Muslim operates, they are operating under jahiliyya. I disagree with that.

KD30 [42408-43327]

Ahm I think we are not living in jahiliyya eh we ah with the level of education we have achieved an interesting ah level of ah education, we have our children, we have the youths now going to an interesting stage in achieving an Islamic education and ah the western education which are all education. Ah I think today ah we can't say we are operating under jahiliyya, but if you look at the Islamic states, the states that are operating so called ah Islamic, they are running an Islamic ah law which are very, very few if we are to say, it is maybe Zamfara or another state we can call one or two hardly if there is even any, but even the Zamfara there are other factors that is not even allowing the government to truly practice the true conducts of that sharia, so we can't even tell because we are not given the liberty or even the right to practice it. I think we deserve that right and that we should practice it.

KD31 [21078-21315]

Jahiliyya simply means when people don't have proper understanding of Islam. That's what jahiliyya means as so if that should be mentioned it means people are still living in a world that they don't practice their religion to the core.

KD32 [30131-31000]

No when we said jahiliyya, that is an uneducated period and this is totally wrong when we said this because if you look at the northern states, I don't think right now as I am talking to you there is any state which does not have federal university so they are all educated. They have many higher institutions apart from the universities, some, to some extent some have more than one universities. They have other institutions, they have polytechnics, they have colleges of education, so saying that they are living in jahiliyya period, this is very wrong and to add this there is no any state from the north that does not have professor, not only professor but professors, so they are all educated this is just eh mere people's view that are living far from north, so anybody who is living in the north have this experience I don't think will say something like this.

KD33 [27618-28137]

No the people in the modern northern Nigeria are not living in jahiliyya today actually in northern Nigeria, you would see well known scholars, ulama that will preach the correct teachings of Islam. As I said it earlier, in the first place there are some people that misinterpret the verses or the hadith or misunderstood some of the words used or some of the verses in the holy Qur'an, so that is what people make people thought that the people living there they are living in jahiliyya, but actually it is not true.

KD34 [32349-33805]

Toh ahm there is all, when we started this eh this interview is that do we people are defining words, what jahiliyya, how did people define jahiliyya that's what I really want to understand because the northern Nigeria for a long period of time even before the coming of the western education, we can read and write and to my own understanding whoever can read and write you can't call him jahiliyya and you even call that up till now in the northern Nigeria that okay what about our ajami? What about our Islamic writings? In eh this eh what am I going to call it, this small eh caliphate is that we have been doing, we communicate, we send message from one kingdom to the other, we read, we write. So the word jahiliyya is depending on the way you define education, the western education is an English language based on the western people, then there is Arabs, there is Spanish, so what about Chinese? Chinese they don't have English, they don't have western education, but they have the knowledge based on their own tribe, based on their own writings for a long period of time since the period of Confucius up till date, they can read and write and they can transmit idea from one generation to another. And northern Nigeria have that, so northern Nigeria have upper hand than the eastern Nigeria, northern Nigeria they have the Arabic, they have the ajami and they have the western education while the other side, what do they have? They have none.

KD35 [32717-33227]

Ahm we are operating on jahiliyya because we are not abiding by the rules and regulation of Allah, you know, when you see people going about on the streets, in their homes, their, some people behave as just like animals whereas a Muslim on the streets is looking different, a Muslim in the house is looking different, a Muslim in the market is looking different, the way he talks, the way he dresses, the way he talks, the way he carries about what ever a Muslim does should look different from a non-Muslim.

KN1 [66663-67142]

I want to say this am not a scholar, I want to this am not an Islamic scholar. I am a Muslims. And based on my understanding of the jahiliyya period is the period before the holy prophet then there was no religion, no book, nothing, no Qur'an. That was the jahiliyya period and I think from here you can differentiate between the jahiliyya period and the current period. That is the definition given to the jahiliyya period that is before that advent of the holy prophet (SAW).

KN2 [37917-38365]

You see that word Jahiliyya means a period where there was nothing no substance of any aspect of Islam. That was the jahiliyya period. But because people are misbehaving today does not mean it is in the jahiliyya period because the preachers are preaching. So there are preachers. The mosques are calling for prayers. There are mosques. I hope you get it. And other religious activities are taking place. That does not mean it is a jahiliyya period

KN4 [52153-52568]

The leadership, we have very bad leadership, corruption, poverty makes people to behave in non-literal world. Many people that feed from hand to mouth, many people that do not recognize themselves, they are in Dark Age, they are living in past, hardship because of bad leadership that is why they are living in jahiliyya period. Lack of good leadership are the responsible for people to live in doom and dark time.

KN5 [34050-34323]

You can't say the states-northern Nigeria are practicing Islam to some level. So you can't call them jahiliyya. When they kill people with no reason, when they-a lot of things. Of course there are practices of jahiliyya but you cannot just call them as a jahiliyya period.

KN6 [38441-38987]

Yes, I agree with this view because the meaning of jahiliyya is injustice not mean those people who are illiterate. If you take the literal meaning of this word jahiliyya somebody will misunderstand this word, it does not mean illiterate. So, even those people who are claim literate will be part of this jahiliyya period because when the level illiteracy is right or sorry when the level of injustice is rising so this is the meaning of jahiliyya period. So, this is what is happening in our country it is – I agree to this word to some extent.

KN7 [34572-34941]

I don't think this is right. This statement is eh inaccurate. We are not living in jahiliyya. In the jahiliyya period in my own understanding is the period where, or where even the teaching of Islam didn't exist then. No teaching existed then, we only had idol worshippers and non-Muslims. So I don't think we are living in jahiliyya period in the northern Nigeria.

KN8 [32456-32872]

A state where sharia are upheld cannot- we could not justify that they are not operating in jahiliyya, but majority of the people are only perceiving it that way, but the way people embrace the action of sharia, you understand, and also embrace it beyond what God has even said, the reason why we could see, you understand, some of that part of the society are living in jahiliyya, but it could not be generalized.

KN9 [29817-30233]

This is basically because it is-this-in the present settings or the sharia itself is not carried out in conformity with the teaching of Islam. The people have found ways to make amends to the actual ways sharia is supposed to be. So I want to believe that yah it is truly jahiliyya because there is ignorance in the part of the implementers as to exactly how to carry out the sharia law in most of this places, yes.

KN10 [23802-24045]

There is sharia in such certain states, but the law of the constitution dominates, so once people are using such laws by the constitution, so they don't have any difference with jahiliyya period because they are not using the sharia law. yes.

KN11 [31673-31965]

No, this allegation, no, it is not true. How can a Muslim who believes in unity of Allah (SBUH) and prays five times to say that he is living in jahiliyya? So jahiliyya period are not sharia and at least, even if we are living under a secular state, but still we are practicing our religion.

KN13 [34099-34553]

From word jahiliyya, I think ignorance, it means ignorance, period of ignorance and if you say modern Nigeria is living in ignorance, definitely means they don't know what they are doing, or they are not practicing their religion definitely if you can go outside, you will see everywhere you would be seeing series of mosques, you would be seeing series of Islamic school so definitely I don't think that word jahiliyya is even proper, another question.

KN14 [27192-27288]

My reaction is that whoever says this is he is also, he is the one that is living in jahiliyya.

KN15 [23824-23957]

No, time for jahiliyya I think is all over, so it is not living in jahiliyya period, jahiliyya period are no more existing for now.

KN16 [13853-13888]

No, it is not living in jahiliyya.

KN17 [26904-27414]

Uh I can't say we are living in jahiliyya because its jahiliyya the word- from the word jahiliyya it means something of ignorance. And people you are talking about they are not ignorance people we have people that are actually praying five times daily, we can see mosques secured at every corners of the of the of the states, yah performing the eh the major eh Islamic festivals. So I don't think that word jahiliyya should even come in. Maybe another word should come in to substitute the word jahiliyya.

KN18 [48122-48325]

It is not true, it is not true, jahiliyya, jahiliyya implies un-Islamic in an un-Islamic okay, pre-Islamic political order okay, which is which is barbaric in nature, we are not in that state actually.

KN19 [29541-29716]

This concept cannot be generalised because not all societies are living in jahiliyya, you understand, but to some extent there are some parts of the society that lives in this

KN19 [29743-30004]

Uh because there are some lot of problems, issues and disagreement, conflicts among people that when you hear the reason behind that, you understand, you'll just realise that it is because they did not even understand the concept of the teachings of the Islam.

KN20 [22270-22445]

No they are not in jahiliyya, there are differences between what we are practicing now and the jahiliyya, the jahiliyya period is a total different from what we are doing now

KN21 [15661-15788]

It is not right because jahiliyya is a pre-Islamic period so we can't bring it now.

KN22 [31652-31779]

Yes ah my view concerning this is we cannot generalize that the Northern Nigeria is living in jahiliyya, we cannot generalize.

KN22 [31824-32089]

My view here is this, in some of the remote areas in Northern Nigeria e.g. villages in northern Nigeria, the teaching of Islam it has no actually reached to those areas in which they do not know anything about Islam in some of the remote areas of northern Nigeria.

KN23 [20878-20991]

It is lack of proper Islamic awareness. In a nutshell Islam is not well spread in the region. They rely on old...

KN23 [21042-21162]

Yah some people are living in jahiliyya that is people that believe that they understand Islam but they don't understand

KN24 [19840-20008]

That is through the preaching of- because there are some little places that religion did not reach up till now, but there is nothing like jahiliyya period right now.

KN24 [20111-20175]

They are still; there is no any other religion for them there.

KN25 [32426-32932]

This could be correct. Yes this could be very true. You can see the problem is from the northern leaders. Some of our leaders are too selfish. So the entire setting of the northern Nigeria now is kind of is an avenue or an arena where the people only know, the leaders only know themselves, they do not cater for the welfare and wellbeing of the masses. So I think it is more of a jahiliyya because they themselves are not adopting the teachings of true Islamic state. They do not comply with the notion.

KN26 [34698-35385]

Hmmm I think jahiliyya is somewhat, to me, is a bit extreme. Yes but let's say it is not been practiced the way it is supposed to be practiced. I think it is better because what jahiliyya means, to our own understanding, is a blackout. You don't have the knowledge totally, yes it is a blackout, before the enlightenment age, you know, but now in fact some of these leaders in Muslim is not as if they don't know that this is the true teaching of ghe religion but somehow like I said mostly political inclinations are being exerted, you understand, you know, probably a sect is trying to gain people so it will follow including some concocted myth in order to gain support of people.

KN27 [24501-24705]

This statement is not correct because when you are talking of jahiliyya, you are talking of the time even Islam doesn't exist. That is the time of jahiliyya. So I don't think this statement is correct.

KN28 [19202-19454]

Well the term jahiliyya if I can acclaim I know this has to go with the ignorant people. And I believe to some extent now a lot of people can never be called jahili because I believe no matter how it takes some people are as little as no more educated.

KN30 [18100-18112]

I disagree

KN31 [31343-31765]

That is what I am saying. Initially you asked me a question about Sharia. Two things are involved. One, the implementers of the Sharia, the people who are implementing it will they judge in accordance with the Islam and will they live by the Sharia? So it is not just about implementing Sharia but people should be enlightened, should be educated. What is this Sharia? And the rights of the people should be safeguarded.

KN31 [31810-31859]

Yes actually we are living in jahiliyya honestly

KN32 [15760-15924]

No no no no the militancy of the present Nigerian... jahiliyya is ah actually a pre Islamic period and ah you can actually say that we are presently in jahiliyya today.

KN33 [12073-12123]

No, because Jahiliyya practice are not in place.

KN34 [20619-20693]

I don't think this idea or view is correct. I totally disagree with them.

KN34 [20704-21059]

When you look at what is happening during Jahiliyya period, it is not taking place. So I don't see even the reason why you should, someone should be comparing what has happened or taking place during Jahiliyya period, killing and maiming of young and all this, so it is not taking place now, I don't see the reason why someone should be comparing it now.

KN35 [20264-20559]

Partially I can agree with the statement simply because of the situation even if we find out that some states are practicing Islamic law that is sharia, you got to know that the tenet of what, the content of the sharia or Islamic law is not being practiced or being implemented in those states.

KN36 [21100-21394]

No I do not agree because up till now what we are having, we have those that are preaching the right position, we have those that are implementing the sharia but what we are having, we don't have political class in northern Nigeria. Those that we have they are just partially Islamic oriented.

KN37 [19667-19685]

That is not true.

KN37 [19729-19960]

You see when you say Jahiliyya you simply mean the illiteracy period when Islam has not come into play. But I think in the situation we are today Islam is moving faster than the ray of light so can't say it is the Jahiliyya period.

KN38 [14871-15013]

When you say Jahiliyya you mean the pre-Islamic state and Islam is being practiced in northern Nigeria today, so I disagree with this notion.

KN39 [23328-23431]

Actually this is totally wrong and saying that actually it has been actually against northern Muslims.

KN40 [19188-19432]

No in the sense that northern Nigeria is an Islamic state or is ehn because it is a place where they believe in Islam and they have the rules and regulations based on what they are using to guide as in the Qur'an and the hadith of the prophet.

KN41 [16593-16782]

I think this is absolutely wrong because there is no any northern state that is still living under Jahiliyya period today. This is so because there are a lot of Islamic knowledge nowadays.

KN42 [41457-42575]

Yah, the Muslim of today are, they are living in jahiliyya even the ones that practice, even the Islamic northern states that practice, that sharia exists today. There has never been an era that sex is an illicit behavior or intake of intoxicants has been free like this era. Even the past jahiliyya period has never known so much freedom as this era has known. There is pornography, there is even every-you can put this laws and principles in play, but you can't force people to actually accept and not accept them. You don't know what they do at home, you don't know people they associate with. So even the northern state are actually living with even with the strict laws and everything, they are still living in jahiliyya and my view is of-I am of the opinion that since people do, the reason for my view is since people don't actually adopt the main ideas and the main principles of Islamic state in totality, they are trying to compromise and they try to reduce some things so as to be given justification for their wrong behaviors. That is why even the Islamic state today are, they are not what is said to be.

KN43 [31039-31908]

Yes everybody is in entitled to his own opinion. If I like I can say the twenty-first century America and England is living in medieval period in the, you know, ehh in the period of ahh, ahh dark age. That is an opinion. If you say jahiliyya what are the characteristics of the jahiliyya period and what are the characteristics of the, you know, Muslim states in northern Nigeria in the twenty-first century? It is on the basis of this we can know whether Muslims are living in jahiliyya period or not. I know jahiliyya period is the period of ignorance, is the period of, you know, barbarism, is the period of, you know, primitivism. So if you can look at the northern Muslims of twenty-first century and call them, you know, or ah regard them as people who are living in the jahiliyya period, who are living in the jahiliyya period, you have to give us your reasons.

KN44 [25382-25425]

I don't, I don't subscribe to that view.

KN45 [33697-34171]

Ohh you can't say that people are living in jahiliyya, jahiliyya period means a period of ignorance. So I don't think you can call ehh you can call ehh people...living in jahiliyya. Yah there are ignorant people and there are ignorant ideologies existing in ehh not only in northern Nigeria, but everywhere yes and there are people who are very enlightened and it is the duty of the enlightened people yah to preach this enlightenment ehh to the people who are ignorant, yes.

KN46 [56060-56737]

No. This is ahh ahh, this comes from misunderstanding of Islam. They think now, even ahh whatever Islam instructs its followers to do it usually tells them that to the best of your ability. So if it is only, if it is only one prayer that you can perform as a Muslim and you cannot perform the rest because of the situation you find yourself in, then you cannot be deemed as being practicing jahiliyya, you are a true Muslim because that is the extent you can go, but that is between you and Allah. If you, this is the best you can do, then that is normal and ahh no problem with that but once you get more chance to expand, to practice more, then that is also required of you

KN47 [51325-52369]

I don't think this ah statement is credible to me because you cannot compare the time of jahiliyya, not the time of course, the activities of people in the community of jahiliyya period and the activities of people in the Muslim community of the northern modern Nigeria, you know, is quite different. There is lot of enlightenment in the region. We are living in the area of enlightenment, there are education, there is respect for the womanhood, there is respect for the human person, if somebody come and rape a girl, he will prosecuted, you understand, and then if somebody, you know, try to kill somebody you know the law will deal with that person. So you can see that there is clear difference between period of jahiliyya where you can simply do a lot of things without even the basis for you to do it, but here we do things for a reason. We have, we have reached some level of education, you understand, we have reached some level of enlightenment and humanity you understand, all these things. You cannot just compare all this things.

KN48 [17297-17471]

Nothing like that, there is nothing like jahiliyya because the, there are a lot of teachings Islamic teachings, so nothing like people living the way they like or whatever.

KN49 [27509-27805]

I think there is a lot of knowledge going on now and eh a lot of propagation of ah knowledge, a lot of young people are learning more and more about the religion and people are going to Islamic school and they are acquiring a lot of knowledge. So the jahiliyya concept, I think is null and void.

KN50 [15088-15286]

I disagree because there is a lot of, there is a lot of religious activities. Why would you say northern Nigeria, northern Muslim in Nigeria are living in jahiliyya, are still living in jahiliyya.

KN52 [48082-49240]

This researcher is really having some very serious views about Islam and sharia in Northern Nigeria. Is there any society in the whole of the world whether Islamic or non-Islamic, although some Muslim scholars would argue that some non-Islamic state today live in Jahiliyya because all the characteristics and features of what is to be an ideal Jahiliyya society are prevalent there. But even that is subject to contestation, to debate, but I don't think that there is any state in northern Nigeria, in contemporary northern Nigeria that is living in Jahiliyya. Do you know the meaning of Jahiliyya? It is a period in Islamic history or rather pre-Islamic history when darkness was the order of the day, in fact ignorance, all form of vices and injustices were the order of the day, but I don't think we live in this kind of scenario today in northern-Nigeria. I do not think so, but sometimes you could find elements of the Jahiliyya still existing like alcoholism, prostitution, gambling, such things are still there, but infanticide, for instance, the killing of infants especially females, these are things that I mean you hardly find in today's society.

KN54 [8266-8296]

This is false, this is false

KN55 [12925-13361]

No this is not true because jahiliyya period is a period characterized with some instances, for instance, if a female child is born into a family, the female child would be buried alive, and also there is alcoholism that is drinking too much of alcohol and there is illiteracy, the people of that time are illiterates. But nowadays our people are not illiterates. We go to schools and educate ourselves through the Quran and hadith.

KN56 [21572-22063]

Kai you make me laugh by asking this question. Actually Jahiliyya period is a period recorded in the history of Islam as the period that is characterized by darkness and absence of knowledge. And comparing jahiliyya with this contemporary time is ridiculous and hilarious actually why because at that time if a female child is born, she would be buried alive, there is alcoholism of the highest order, there was fornication, there were many vices in the society then. Actually this is wrong.

KN57 [19021-19317]

You see, to this extent still people need to be addressed, people need to be educated, people need to be enlightened about what the sharia is all about. You see it is not necessary for someone to abandon his long inherited why of life and imbibe new ones at once. So it has to be gradually. Yes.

KN58 [43709-44142]

No. It is not Jahiliyya per se because if you say Jahiliyya that means we are in the days of ignorance and I believe to some extent knowledge has come to us. In fact, if I may cite example with Kano state, seen as the citadel of learning now, not only Islamic learning, but even the western education. So there is nothing like Jahiliyya. It is only wrong application and this is as a result of what we call selfish interest.

KN59 [41443-42932]

Actually I can say yes, some not all, like I travelled to Zuru in Kebbi state, you understand, the way and manner I see some of them flashed my memory to the Jahiliyya period despite the fact that I have not experienced the period but I only read it, Wallahi tallahi I saw them half naked yes in Zuru in Kebbi state. Wallahi tallahi their life is as if they are in Jahiliyya period because they dress half naked, they only wear skin leather to cover their private part. You can see their chest it is open, the male use leaf to cover their this thing and there are still Muslims in that locality, you understand. So actually I can say yes despite the fact that there is sharia they are still living in such Jahiliyya. The reason, what really contributed to it is because of their culture, you understand, it is their culture that pave the way to that ideology, in that method of life because they see you as if without that they cannot exist a times when they even see normal people dress, they are even scared, they see you as if you are not even human because it is as if they live in the bush so they normally come out occasionally. So the way they see you dress in a more decent way, they see you as if you come from a different world. So my perception toward that is that it is because of their culture, they don't have religion, they are not even Christians, they are not even Muslims and they don't even want to practice any of these two religions. So they are traditionalists.

KN60 [31249-31823]

I don't agree with this statement. We are not living in Jahiliyya, only that we are constrained; there are certain injunctions that we cannot practice because of how we find ourselves. I live in this world this time around and all this thing that is happening have been said by the prophet (SAW) that a time would come although the Muslims are so many, but yet they could not have a full fledged freedom to practice Islam. In fact many people would now be turning them around, harming them, doing this and doing that. So it is a completion of prophecy by the prophet (SAW).

KN61 [16651-16687]

I didn't agree with that statement.

KN62 [52945-53512]

My reaction to the view that modern northern Nigeria is living in jahiliyya today. I don't believe in this. We are not living in jahiliyya period, Mallam in jahiliyya period, women were killed. This is just one simple example. Do we kill women today? No. We don't. If we get ah, let's say, baby girls, we don't kill them. We actually ah nurture them to grow up and marry and ah in the recent, just recent concluded election, there was a woman, in is it Benue, Taraba, yah Taraba who contested for the governorship yah. So I think we are not living in jahiliyya today

KN63 [43296-44609]

Hmm, you know, jahiliyya, you know, it means that period before the prophet Muhammad was being sent to us, to the world in general, you know, that period was a very, very dark age and many things were being done then. Burying of female child alive and some other things, idolatry and whatever, whatever, you know. You cannot compare that period with this period of ours, even though the knowledge is available now, if you know that you require the knowledge you can seek it we have many Islamic scholars today, huh. So what is expected of us, if you know you don't have the adequate Islamic knowledge, what is expected of you is to seek the knowledge for you to be in the normal something. So you cannot compare that period to this, this is not a jahiliyya, you cannot call this a jahiliyya period although people are just being, being, they don't know, I cannot, I don't know how to put it huh, they don't know their rights or whatever, you know, but you know if you want to, just like if you want to be educated now, you need to go to the school. The same thing if you want to have knowledge of Islam, you have to go to islamiyya and get the adequate knowledge of how things should be in Islam. So you cannot compare that to this, this is not a jahiliyya. I cannot agree that this period is a jahiliyya period.

KN64 [26554-26781]

There is this view of people especially the people who hate Islam. This is their view, but they are seeing, they are looking, all Muslims are, they are ignorant, they are barbaric, therefore there is no problem with this, mmm.

KN65 [34218-34274]

No, they are not living in jahiliyya they are not, yes.

KN66 [22583-23123]

Ahh if, if you look at it, the view is right because the modern northern Nigeria today mostly, mostly they are living in the jahiliyya period because they have adopted, they have adopted the western ways, ways like, ways like in westerner, we say must I, must I get married before I have kids, you see most northern Nigerians today, you will see them having children without even getting married, it is the jahiliyya way so I believe that they have adopted it and I am, my reaction is I am it is, I am so annoyed, it is bitter to see that.

KN67 [23288-23400]

No. I don't think we are living in jahiliyya, it is not in jahiliyya, so I don't agree with this ah statement.

KN68 [11353-11367]

This is false.

KN69 [38514-38975]

The framer of this question is so emotional in the sense that those that in the northern Nigeria they are not living in jahiliyya even prior to the coming of the European people we were having a well systematized system of administrations. We have so many scholars. We can read and write. How can people that could be able to read and write for hundred years back and now to be considered as jahilal? I think it is a wrong assertions, it is a wrong assertions.

KN71 [66958-68052]

When you say jahiliyya what do you mean because jahiliyya means a period where there were no prophets, state of ignorance that is the state of ignorance, but we are not in the state of jahiliyya now. But I believe there is ignorance among the people. If jahiliyya means those period we are not in that but if the issue is ignorance yes, we are still in ignorant society because this is a society where the majority of the people refuse to go to school or don't want to go to school, not even to learn, even to learn the basic principles of Islam, they don't want to do that. So if that is what you mean, of course that is true because here is a situation, if it can be an example, somebody, I mean a student was asking her teacher, an islamiyya teacher, sir is it true that zin is a haram and that even if you do it with your teacher? What kind of society is this? You understand what I am saying? If you mean that there is ignorance in the society, yes I believe there is, but if you mean if you are referring a period to be that of jahiliyya, first jahiliyya period, no. We are not in that.

KN72 [34608-34651]

No. They are not living in jahiliyya, yes.

KN72 [34694-34837]

Most of the northern Nigeria are well known or it is based on Islamic, they are well learned, they not a jahiliyya, they are not in jahiliyya.

KN73 [36995-37445]

I never really agree with this, I never really. Jahiliyya, jahiliyya, if you back, all those people who are saying this idea, this concept of jahiliyya, we are not practicing, the modern northern Nigeria as they are saying it, it is not practicing jahiliyya because if you really find their doctrine of law, their court of law, their by-laws, you'll find it in an Islamic way. And it is not that you are from there, this idea contributes to jihad.

KN74 [45953-46612]

Okay, before the problem is that most of the people did not understand the meaning of the word jahiliyya, the word jahiliyya, that is the jahiliyya era is the time that there is no Islam, the people lives like an animal that is, if you are talking about jahiliyya that is you refer to a place that there is no existence of Islamic because the people are living without knowing what they are doing. Therefore, if there is a Islam, no talking about jahiliyya because the prophet Muhammad (SAW) came with a Qur'an and hadith and whatever it is and fuqaha already did what they deserve to do, the people became enlightened, therefore, nothing about the jahiliyya.

KN75 [49310-49786]

Yah, we are still living in, some of our activities are still jahiliyya activities, we are still living, some of us or if I may say, majority of us are still living as ignorance way of life because if you weigh, if you observe the way and manner jahiliyya practice is what we are practicing even the Muslims state today. What are the characteristics of jahiliyya? Characteristics of jahiliyya comprise of alcoholism, gambling, womanization, you understand, sexual harassment.

KN75 [49818-50307]

Womanization, the womanization, you understand, those are the characteristics jahiliyya of which even the present using wrong measurement in trade agus kenan ko we use agus by using eh like now perishable goods, the good tomatoes, you find it on top, the perishable one, you put it down if you want to buy like sweet potato, the small, small one will be on the down, the big one will be at top, okay all those kind of things they are jahiliyya practice using wrong measurement in trade.

KN76 [40941-41317]

Well actually I don't subscribe to this view. I don't believe that the Muslims in the northern Nigeria are living in jahiliyya era because all our lives our life is entirely not, actually to a certain extent, maybe 90% of our economic life, social life is ahh according to the provision of Islam, so in such a way that you can't say that you are living in a jahiliyya period.

KN78 [58332-58763]

But I think this view is not by the Ulamas, they are not by the scholars. You see we have to be very ahm we have to be very realistic as I said, those opinion are not opinion by the main stream Ulamas in our society. Ahh those are views that are coming from ah a different group ah who ahm, you know, ah does not have a representation of a leader who is accepted by other Ulamas in our society. So for me I think this is not true.

KN78 [58848-59233]

Yah, they are not living in jahiliyya because who is giving that as an opinion? Is it the scholars that are giving that as an opinion? Is it the Ulamas, qualified, legitimate Ulamas or is it coming from some of those exuberant ahh from the youths who feel now they have a different version of Islam, you know, which is quite, which is far superior than the Islam we know from centuries

KN80 [44816-45146]

No ahh Muslims northern Nigerians are no longer living in jahiliyya because there is flourished of Islamic knowledge in the region. Almost all ahh people in northern Nigeria acquired Islamic knowledge and the sharia which a practicable in the state are practicable with accordance with the rules laid down ahh ahh by the sharia.

KN81 [28114-28237]

Hmm we are not living in jahiliyya, we are not living in jahiliyya. This statement is just an abuse to Islam in Nigeria.

KN81 [28771-28990]

Well I disagree with you is not allowed for somebody to make general categorization, you understand, even if to say most of the northern Nigerians are not ahh well educated but some are educated, to me, this is wrong.

KN82 [30548-31077]

Ahm from the way things are going in our states, as you mentioned, where the sharia is prevailing, you can clearly see that the practice was not more than what had happened during the jahiliyya period and this is because of the civilization, because of the modernization we are experiencing now. You see things are not done according to the dictates of the Islam but rather on the civilized manner, our dressing, our eating, our behavior, our interactions have all changed to the civilized manner rather than Islamic teachings.

KN83 [20635-20735]

This statement is completely wrong because Muslim are not living in jahiliyya in northern Nigeria.

KN84 [24210-24436]

This is totally unbelievable. This is very wrong expression. Muslims in the northern Nigeria are not living in jahiliyya period.

They are not living the way, you know, Muslims lived in jahiliyya. They are far apart from that

KN85 [34601-35240]

I do disagree that the modern northern Nigeria is living in jahiliyya. I disagree. Ah this is because we have seen the increase in the establishment of Islamic schools ahh ahh Islamiyyas and Ninzamiyyas even where ahh modern western education is being taught under an Islamic setting. We have seen the sudden increase ahh Ulamas and are alammats that ahh memorize the Qur'an, we have seen increase in activities of Muslims, we have seen increase of knowledgeable Muslims, we have seen increase in practice of the true religious practices in northern Nigeria. Therefore, there is no need to qualify northern Nigeria as a jahiliyya state.

ZA1 [35860-36188]

Ehm Mr. Researcher you don't know what jahiliyya means. Jahiliyya, if you say Jahiliyya period, we mean a period before coming of Islam, before prophet Muhammad (SAW) Now the prophet has been demised one thousand four hundred and thirty something years. So what is the issue that called jahiliyya? So is totally this is wrong.

ZA2 [41892-44038]

Emmm you see, in fact well they have spoken the truth because the teaching there, look when we look at the jahiliyya when we say jahiliyya period, well I don't know, if we view, we might likely get some elements of jahiliyya attitude that still exist, but I think we have gone far that emm the jahiliyya is fair, is lesser in operation than what its mainly fully called jahiliyya because when we say jahiliyya, this is to say pre-Islamic period when people, even like women they don't have right, but today look at women even governing now, even in the north you see women become leaders, you know whereby before women are, in the jahiliyya women are just properties. They are inherited but today they are having government, so you see some element of jahiliyya have gone, but rather the only aspect of jahiliyya is lack of having, let's say, people not conscious of their God. When I say conscious of their God, refusing and this one is not jahiliyya again is, we call it negative attitude for a personal selfishness. Even also when I know am a Muslim and I know the rules, you know the rules, I don't know why I should violate that, you see they press, they just use a force wrongly that is the only aspect because when you look at someone, a leaders is now going to say whether you like or not am to do this, you must, so that is when the jahiliyya law come in because God does not bring that hmmm. You are only to interpret it and it should be in line to the teaching not that you force me to do what is not. The jahiliyya period it is when you are forced whether you like it or not you do this. So that is the only element of jahiliyya is still today with our leaders. Some of our leaders today up tilltoday they still want to use that force that you must not abide, is not the rule they go with. Look at the stealing attitude they did now, packing our money, is it not jahiliyya attitude? This is one of jahiliyya attitude now, using force to pack your money, they use force. So that is why, in fact there are some little element, but not so much. We still have some little element because those are the things that are against, yes.

ZA3 [27064-27411]

The context of today's sharia even in those states sharia is, they are not actually practicing full sharia and emm because instrument of state too is not fully in the hands of those that are operating the laws, so there are still limitations, just taking some aspects, very little aspects of it and ...so it is not actually full sharia law per se.

ZA4 [48734-48835]

Yes because ignorance of people...that preaches jihad that we have to fight by giving good knowledge.

ZA5 [29393-30051]

Yes, we are still living in, we are still living in a stone age in Nigeria in northern Nigeria because if you look at the Hausa man, Hausa man believes that Islam is his birth right, is his own birth right because once you are not a Muslim, you are not a Muslim to him, any other tribe, whether you are not an Hausa man you are not a Muslim. That is just the truth, you understand, and in terms of jahiliyya period that you are talking about here, some people are living, if you look at the clash of civilization that is happening, they you understand, that is why people are turning back to stone age because by their behaviors and the way they do things.

ZA6 [69906-70766]

Ahm (he laughs) this is not true ahm you cannot say the modern northern Nigeria are living in jahiliyya. Jahiliyya in itself means ahh, you know, the state of lawlessness ahhn the state where social vices and nudity hmm and, you know, no religious beliefs and all that hmm is the order of the day, where traditional and all that is the order of the day. So ahm so you cannot tell me the modern Nigeria are living in jahiliyya, it is not true. It is very, very wrong. But in actual sense, there are certain people living in such a way that you can, you know, attribute them to such kind of people. Like this same people that are easily manipulated like in the North Eastern Nigeria where you will see imported ideas are coming and they accept it because they don't know the real, they have not practice the real religion, they don't know it. So it is not true.

ZA7 [35617-36291]

Jahiliyya has to do with the way of life from Arabs then before Islam came into place. So they were actually living their lives with their particular way of governance, with their particular rules which of course I don't know before Islam came with sharia, with principles of how he wants or how the religion wants people to live in. So I think most of this law if a state is not an Islamic state definitely, it is probably not living a sharia laws, probably not abiding all sharia laws and recently in northern states, despite the fact that they operate by sharia laws, still do not practice some of the sharia laws. So its emm I want to say its still in jahiliyya period.

ZA8 [73534-74919]

Yah. I will say we most of the northern are still in jahiliyya because of the lack of knowledge. Jahilia simply means the time before Islam or the time before knowledge because when knowledge comes now people are enlighten now they are no more jahiliyya, is no more jahilia period. Some people, like I said, they know the truth, but they just choose, the devil use them they just choose to follow false. This is choice, this is no more religion because he is a Muslim doesn't mean he must, anything he does is what Islam asks him to do, no. Even in Islam, there is choice, being a Muslim does not mean you are you are guaranteed or paradise, are you getting what am saying? Being a Muslim, you are a Muslim, but you must also follow what God says. You are a Muslim, but you are not doing anything God ask you to do, you are disobeying God is as, you are as good as non-Muslim, in fact, some non-Muslims are even better than a Muslim because what a Muslim that acclaims to be a Muslim is doing, a non-Muslim is not doing it, are you getting it? So if being a Muslim that jahiliyya is, I will say they are still living because of all this things that are that are happening around. They know, sometimes they know what the religion says but they choose, choose to follow their own choice, so now they are not active based on what Islamic says, they are acting on their own free will.

ZA9 [39563-39926]

Jahiliyya is period of ignorance, is period of ignorance. I still believe northern Nigerian Muslims are still ignorant of most things, they are still ignorant of most things and that is the main reason why we are having problems. There are considerable numbers of Muslims in south-west Nigeria in other states, but we observe that it is the people in this north...

ZA9 [39970-40132]

Illiteracy. It is illiteracy that is responsible for them still being in that jahiliyya period that we talking about. I believe illiteracy is still part of it.

ZA10 [34138-34382]

I will say is wrong and this is not true because as we can see, we are all growing and everybody is getting aware of his religion that is enlightened of his religion, so we are not operating in Jahiliyya period we are actually moving forward.

ZA11 [29253-29578]

Well, like we all know, lets go some point, the world is coming to an end and when this time comes we all go back to the jahiliyya period which is been stated in the Qur'an actually and I think it's taking its course, because the interest and the law of the world is taking over that of God, so that's the little I can say.

ZA12 [18262-18299]

I think is the government in place.

ZA13 [18521-18825]

I think the basic thing is the knowledge, I think is knowledge because even in Islam... when we believe that Islam is all about peace and in addition to it I think one of basis of the teaching or the faith of it is seeking for knowledge, so knowledge is one of the factors that is affecting the jahiliyya.

ZA14 [24645-25182]

Yes if you look at it, look at the community, look at what is happening, if you look at it and you compare it with the jahiliyya period, you will say these things also were still in the stone Age because most of them they will think that is a kind of civilization which is not because if you look at our girls the way they dress, the way the drink, not even the girls, the way things are, some atrocities that are committed in our modern society today if you look at it with the time past, you will see that it is almost the same thing.

ZA15 [27207-27229]

Inadequate knowledge.

ZA16 [19295-19317]

No, this is not true.

ZA16 [19366-19650]

because when you look at the kind of the caliber of people we have, the kind of the caliber of people we have, they have ah, they have the Islamic religious knowledge, so and had it been this statement is true, they will be preaching that Muslims should not follow the secular state.

ZA17 [23840-24131]

Actually if you say we are living in jahiliyya that means there is no any common knowledge we are practicing, but we are practicing ummm from so many things that Rasul (SAW) taught us, we are following the Qur'an what Qur'an has taught us, if there are some that are not doing, so they are.

ZA18 [28492-28719]

Toh gaskiya, you see, if one does not go to school, naturally, wherever he lives, he will continue to live in jahiliyya era, but when he goes to school, be it religious or western, you stand a better chance to live well in life

ZA19 [39713-41632]

Well the concept jahiliyya is actually a kind of prejudice, stereotype or labeling that the civilized, a so called civilized people are seeing all Muslims, virtually all Muslims are uncivilized and uncivilized simply means jahiliyya. So actually non-Muslims or people that are steeped to the western culture are seeing Muslims as jahiliyya or uncivilized people because there are actually adhering to their norms and values, you understand, and teachings of Islam and of course the teaching of Qur'an and hadith because if ah the present modern day encourages what: hugging, kissing, drinking alcohol, going to party, you understand, arrogance, but Islam discourages all this, so long as you strictly absent yourself from committing all this kind of act, definitely you are being tagged as uncivilized. So that is why most people are seeing northern Nigerians and other states where Islam is or sharia is, is being practiced as being in a doom of jahiliyya. And if you look at the jahiliyya, in other words or in other way round before the advent of prophet Muhammad (SAW) ah, the non-Muslims actually were having a kind of, this kind of jahiliyya tendencies, uncivilized tendencies particularly the Arabs were having this kind of jahiliyya tendencies, whenever they receive the news that their wives gave birth to a female child, they kill them, you understand, they bury them alive, sometimes they deport them in the outskirts of the city or town. So after the emergence of prophet Muhammad (SAW), he actually gave a kind of right to women by saying that no, a woman, a female child should not be killed, they have rights just as how male child were having rights to live and to practice the religion, therefore, they should not be killed. But present day people were seeing Islam being jahiliyya, of course is Islam that give knowledge, is Islam that gives lights to all other Arabs and non-Muslims we have at present.

ZA20 [27178-27554]

Are you saying still in the northern Nigeria or some states that implemented sharia still are in jahiliyyalism if I can put it that way-ignorance. Are saying the people are ignorant there? Are you saying the practice of jahiliyya in those days is still in place in Nigeria, in the northern Nigeria, in the state where sharia is implemented? No this question must be reviewed.

ZA21 [32515-33102]

Well we are not living in jahiliyya because we don't bury our daughters alive these days. In fact even if you go to Saudi Arabia you will discover that most of the time during the competition in Qur'anic recitation, Nigerians won. Therefore we are no longer living in jahiliyya period. We go to school, we memorize Qur'an, we don't kill or bury our daughters alive. We are not to some extent taking beer, alcohol and things like this. Fornication, adultery and what have you has reduced to barest minimum. So what are you saying? You cannot say we are still living in jahiliyya period.

ZA22 [28638-28992]

We are not living in Jahiliyya, we are living in Islamic territory. Anybody that comes even anybody that ever visits northern Nigeria will testify that the northern Muslims are really practicing their religion almost towards the way the religion was revealed. They are trying near perfection. We are trying our best and we don't have any jahiliyya now.

ZA23 [36921-37345]

The issue of jahiliyya-we are not in jahiliyya. But it is not everything that one knows. If you know this you may not know that. So if you practice this you may not practice that. If you talk of jahiliyya, it was a period where there was no teachings of the religion of Islam, but today everywhere in the world the teaching of Islam has reached. So the issue of jahiliyya does not even arise we are not in a jahiliyya era.

ZA24 [44621-45250]

The reaction to the view that that modern northern Nigeria is living in jahiliyya-jahiliyya means somebody that doesn't know his religion, somebody that is practicing idol worship or you are worshipping another thing except, apart from God. But if you are in northern state here and you are following secular state or if there is no sharia or even if we did not establish sharia it doesn't mean that in northern states people are living eh Muslims in northern states are jahiliyya assuming that they didn't know their religion. They know what is right. The only thing is that they should follow due process and establish sharia.

ZA25 [44275-45204]

I will not say hundred percent that the northern Nigeria is in complete jahiliyya, in the sense that we still have some good as in practicing Muslims and learned Muslim clerics in this part of the world that are recognized anywhere they go. In fact everywhere they go in this, in any part of this world. But still because one; what we have here is secular system and they hold the key to resources, majority of the Muslims are working under government and they are afraid of losing their jobs and what have you, so they can restrict movement anytime they like, am talking of government now. They can just declare a day, it can be an id day that for security reason nobody should go out that is you cannot go to id on that day. So to that extent one can say we are still operating at jahiliyya level because we don't have an Amir. So what we have is politically appointed or endorsed eh emirs. That is where we are for now.

ZA26 [20696-21051]

Well this word jahiliyya you mention about it, you are trying to impose words upon Muslims. Please if you coin your own words don't attach it to Islam. Islam the call it Islamic terrorism, Islamic jihad, sharia whatsoever, they are just putting these words on Muslims aspect, but Muslims don't call themselves like that. We are not in jahiliyya please.

ZA27 [19732-20062]

When we talk about the jahiliyya period, it is the period of ignorance, barbarism and what have you, but in this contemporary world I cannot agree that we are in the period of jahiliyya, but rather people know, rather people read but refuse to follow. We are not in the period of jahiliyya because everything is known to us now.

ZA28 [33091-33456]

Well jahiliyya, jahiliyya we are no more in jahiliyya period. It has passed and anybody that decides to be by himself without going out to seek for knowledge I think he is doing himself a great deal of -he is preparing himself for a deal of punishment in the hereafter. You have more- in no circumstance should -everything has been out for people to understand.

ZA29 [47693-48257]

You said even in the states where sharia exists they are still operating in jahiliyya. That is what I am saying now, sharia does not exist in any state. It does not exist in any part of Nigeria, but rather when you come to the north people practice-you have some set of people that they practice the religion very well. So when you see them you think that yes sharia is existing in that region. When you say sharia is operating you have to observe all the duties of the sharia that is you have to observe all the rules and regulations that it will come with.

ZA30 [58080-58098]

I did not agree.

ZA31 [28215-28490]

Jahiliyya means, yah, there are some people that don't have the total knowledge of the religion because not because they are not opportuned, they are opportune but they willingly refuse to go and seek for the knowledge. They rather remain dumb without knowing their faith.

ZA33 [22616-23398]

Yes Muslims in northern Nigeria actually they are in a jahiliyya period because vast majority of them are illiterates, who don't care to know the din of Islam even if they know it, they know it purposely they want to know not to practice what it entails. So definitely even in the Sharia where it exists you can find such because of their-of this interest they brought in. We even have those that are knowledgeable but that knowledgeable is just like water like Muhammad (SAW) said. At the end of the day, at the end of the season you have knowledgeable Muslims but they are not practicing what is in the knowledge, what they have as a knowledge. Or rather they use that as arrogance and to some extent arrogancy to some people and to be proud of that, so that is the view on that.

ZA34 [42630-42850]

I disagree because northern Nigeria is not only knowledgeable but in universities. We have so many great scholars that have knowledge, those that have passed and the present. So we have a vast knowledge of the religion.

ZA35 [20261-20915]

The action, the modern northern Nigeria is living in Jahiliyya period today, yes it is actually true that jahiliyya period is known as the period of Ignorance. Now even with the education, both western and Islamic education, you see that presently today Jihailiyya is still practiced because that period they call the period of Ignorance when they say someone is an ignorant of something, you don't know it and you do it, but today we know it and we are still practicing it like shedding of blood, sexual, dressing half naked, they all practice in the jahiliyya period, but today people are going back to it even in the state where sharia is practiced

ZA36 [28442-29315]

Hmmm toh, If we look at it we can say that some people, some are living in Jahiliyya like the white man says there are educated people and there are educated illiterates. They are educated; they don't use their education, so that one is as if it is useless. When you are educated you are supposed to show you are educated through your behaviors. So through the behavior of some people, they don't show that they are educated, they don't show that they are abiding by the rules and regulations of Islam. So they practice some things which are not part of Islam and that is Jahiliyya, those things that are being done during the time of the ignorance. And we are not supposed to be ignorant because the knowledge is there. We are supposed to go and seek for it, so that we amend. We are not supposed to live in Jahiliyya. We are supposed to seek for knowledge and change.

ZA37 [35936-36100]

This is very wrong, this is very wrong because the Holy Qur'an is there, since the coming of Holy Qur'an and the Holy prophet Muhammad, Jahiliyya has already gone.

ZA38 [41365-41554]

I disagree. We are not in the Jahiliyya period any more. The Islamic system is operating just like one or two things have not being working, but that does not mean we are in Jahiliyya, no.

ZA39 [53471-54099]

Actually we have to understand what jahiliyya is. Jahiliyya is a period where non-practicing of Islam is or Jahiliyya simply refers to pre-Islamic period that is a period before the coming of Islam when non-practices of Islam is operating. So in the modern northern Nigeria where even sharia is in place, I think what is obtainable in power in the modern northern Nigeria in states where they practice sharia, there is a system introduced or reintroduced as sharia applicable only to Muslims and there is a common law system also applicable to non-Muslims and Muslims alike, so this statement is not, that is not the position.

Th12.6: Seperating Western Culture from Modernization

KD1 [57667-58280]

I agree with you. Western culture because for me to wear a shirt like this and trouser, they all see it to be a western culture, but that does not turn me to be a westerner by religion by following their practice. For the fact that I use a glass cup differently, a ceramic cup differently, a plastic cup differently that does not make me a non-Muslim. For the fact that I use a phone that was designed in China or I use a washing machine that was designed in England that does not mean I will be an Anglican. So those are two different things entirely. They don't torch my religion. They don't affect my religion

KD2 [27736-28306]

Western culture is far, far different from modernization. Western culture is different ah in western culture, there are things that are not even modern. Modernization is where... their culture is simply their own activities. So as a Muslim, we are not allow to copy what the western culture are, like what they are doing, the way they dress, the way they talk and what have you, we are not allowed to call and to copy them. But we can comply with the things that are modern, that's the modernization as a Muslim, so long it doesn't contradict with the teachings of Islam.

KD3 [21822-22095]

First, what is western culture? Even the western culture can be, so the statement is wrong because modernization and this western culture cannot be separated. But the only thing for Muslims is to accept is that they accept, they only pick those that comply to Islamic law.

KD4 [53090-53390]

You cannot separate westernization from modernization. Western culture is the culture that is practiced in western part of the country and modernization is the revival, is the change, is the enhancement on which the world is witnessing today. So, you can see that both things move in the same angle.

KD5 [28173-28609]

I can accept it. Western culture can be separated from modernization because culture has to do with the total way of life of a particular people, so western culture is the total way of life of the western people while modernization has to do with the advent or the innovations that came at the contemporary moment, which includes the advent of computers, phones, internet and so on. So, modernization is different from western culture.

KD6 [45215-46012]

Yes, western culture can be separated form modernization if you know what I understand by western culture is the behavior of the West not their knowledge. Modernization is their knowledge. For example, if you are going to school and you are on may be as a girl, you are on mini skirt, so does that mini skirt will teach you what you know? At all, and it is not in your own culture, it is western culture but the modernization is education. So, you can dress fully, you can dress with your hijab, you can dress with your dogon riga, you can dress your, as a somebody that is wearing his own tradition cloth and still get the knowledge. So, it doesn't mean about may be until I dress like an Oyimbo man and now I become a guru in Maths, no. So, it doesn't mean, it depends on your IQ and your brain.

KD7 [35591-36679]

Yes. You see the modernization is ah it is an aspect of God for our plan for us. The people that were living in the dark ages, they used stones and wood to build fire, as modernization grew, it kept on growing, it kept on growing, today we are using gas, we are using kerosene to light fire. That is good. Westernization in that context, it brings about some things which come with the passage of time and westernization is a term whereby it brings with its own many things. Today we see the way children are dressing, clothes are easier to make than they have ever been made, but they did not wear good clothes because of modernization, they are wearing clothes that are not good. We see our children, the computer is there, you can get so much knowledge from it, you can have ahm what do you call it? You can, even your Qur'an you can get it from the computer, your hadith, you can get it from the computer. You can get so far from it, but think of devices that you get from the computers, for us that is what we translate as westernization. So, it can be separated from modernization.

KD8 [62064-62677]

Of course modern culture is not, I mean it's synonymous with westernization. Modern culture, everybody should have a right, if you say modern culture, it suppose to be a culture that is, that is accepted, acceptable by rational people, but western life is not acceptable by rational people. It is just people that are God fearing because western life believes in exploitation, it believes in full entrenchment of capitalism, it believes in gay marriage, it believes in freedom that nothing should restrict your life, you just live your life the way you want, that is not a good life, that is an un-Islamic life.

KD9 [43702-44202]

Modernization, depending on how you define it. If you mean in all ramifications, you don't have to be western to be progressive or to make progress or ah be successful or move forward. We've had Muslims that have, you know, broken bounds that have achieved a lot even without the influence of the West. So modernization doesn't necessarily have to be westernization. We had Islamic modernization, progress, even, in fact the West today is picking or copying mostly from Islam, from Islamic progress.

KD10 [35373-35609]

Yes of course, western culture is different from modern technology. You get me right? We can learn from the west, but don't imitate them, don't copy their culture, their habit. You get me right? Their adar yes you can separate it, yes.

KD12 [38674-38846]

Eh western culture cannot be exonerated from modernization because it has, modernization has come from western culture and western culture has come from modernization too.

KD13 [17600-17678]

Western culture can be separated from modernization accepted, you understand.

KD14 [22876-23134]

Toh as a Muslim you said ehm the argument that western culture can be separated from modernization, western culture is just the way of life of people, modernization are the new things we invent technologies, they can't be separated they work hand in hand.

KD15 [29286-29637]

Me as a Muslim if you say western culture can be separated from modernization culture or something I think both western culture and modernization culture I think they are working hand in hand, it is still modern culture. So I think as a Muslims ahm I don't need to argue about this western culture and modernization culture I think they are the same.

KD16 [18457-18460]

No

KD17 [54157-54591]

Western culture is it the way the westerners wear their cloth or the way the westerners do the marriage? Of course modernization, they can be separated. Modernization okay technology all these things are modernization, using good cars is modernization. It can be separated from western culture which is their own personal way and life because the western culture is a typical Christian life or Roman like way, so it can be separated.

KD19 [35783-35944]

Is not different from modernisation, whatever you see that that people say is modern now is copied from the West, so the two are all the same in my own opinion.

KD20 [28880-29061]

I disagree with the with this because western and the modernisation are almost the same thing it is the westerners that bring about modernisation so they are the same things, yes.

KD21 [27106-27752]

Western culture can really be separated from modernisation. Look at the word culture, it is the way of life of people living in a particular area, this particular place and culture in question is the West, the European countries. I think modernisation and advances their development that have been achieved over a period of time science technology and whatever, they can't be separated. Right now, I'm answering a questionnaire that has been printed using a typewriter and then be recorded on a recorder, these are modernisation, but I am wearing a jallabiya which is not in western culture. From onset here, I have succeeded in separating them.

KD23 [27659-27793]

Yes ah I agree with this but in some certain ways so anything that will contradict the teaching of your religion you should avoid it.

KD24 [82007-82058]

This argument I can't enter or put myself into it.

KD25 [95672-95701]

Now go to the next question.

KD26 [30895-31794]

Yes western culture can be separated from modernization, modernization in the sense that we moving with the turn of the century that is when innovations and everything because most of these innovations ma they were mostly, they came about even before the western world knew about them, it was written, it has been written years in the Qur'an most of this whatever the development and everything, they've been there. So I don't see it as being together with the western culture. You can be modernized and at the same time you are not westernized. You can be modernized but not westernized. If you borrow their culture and turn it into the way of your life that is when you are westernized, but if you use what will benefit you from whatever they have innovated or created for you to even propagate your religion, then I don't see it as, I don't see the two as the same, they are two separate things.

KD27 [29745-29983]

Yes. What is the source of modernization? The current civilization, western civilization has its basis in Islamic scheme, in the Islamic underlies that is the basis that forms the basis of current western civilization and modernization.

KD28 [39011-39259]

Which modernization in which aspect? Because you know modernization when we are talking of global modernization at present, the western culture can be separated from this present modernization and I don't know in what way it can be. I don't know.

KD29 [24759-24967]

The there are negative virtues in western culture which to my understanding it use to really bring immorality and ah that one results, always results to conflicts and ah deterioration of our ethical values.

KD30 [44652-45328]

I think modernization is a different thing of itself. You can achieve a lot of modernization without going western. A lot of countries have and ah and is possible ah but you see part of the ah the instruments is part of the streams the western culture ah takes to have established itself in other countries is the social media, ah the television and other things where we feel that these things are being domesticated in our society, I think we need to come up, the Muslims have to come up and ah to introduce, revitalize ah the religion so that they can be able to show the beauty of it. I think ah other countries who will come to see things as a way of life and buy to it.

KD31 [21893-22348]

Yah I will I should. Western culture from modernization, western culture and modernization are two separate things entwined together, western culture simply means practicing culture a culture rather than your own whereby modernization simply means the, the easing of life through science that's what we mean by modernization. So I think the western whatever you call it and modernization can be separated because they are two different things together.

KD32 [31997-32554]

Western culture and modernization, yah ah what I try to understand in Islamic life we have civilization and we have western culture so to civilize is different from western way of living because if you look at the western culture most I think ninety percent of their culture it totally goes against Islam and it is not permissible for the Muslim to participate in such things, so it is, they are two different things trying to borrow other people's culture into you so it is totally western and Islamic culture are, let me say, they are against each other.

KD33 [29196-29296]

No I will not accept it, I will not accept it because western culture is the same as modernization

KD34 [34809-35573]

Western culture and modernization, western culture is a different culture from our own culture whereas we have our own ehm culture, modernization the word modernization the way you modify it and then it change. What I understood about culture, culture do change with the period of time even the western culture they too they have modernize their own culture. So every society that developed quickly, so easily is the culture that modernize her own culture not sticking to the olden days culture because the situation they find themselves will warrant or give a room to absorb or to ehm to change with that modern one. The only thing is that the culture should be very careful in picking the negative then picking the positive and then letting the negative aspect.

KD35 [34361-34923]

Ahm modern culture can be separated from modernization ahh I mean is only, this is a complete, this is a complete deviation from the proper way of life because ahh I mean modern culture is different from modernization, modernization means a inventing of other things electronics or otherwise that helps people to carry out their lives easily, so I think the moment you are trying to separate that you are making people to go back to their ... of age back to their olden days then no modernization when there is no modernization then there is no progress In life.

KN1 [69070-69588]

I totally agree with it because it depends on what you call western culture. Even in the west within themselves; if you consider those that are practicing religion and those that are free thinkers you there is conflict there is clashes they disagree with each other, so western culture is there culture. Now our culture is our culture we all have our culture so civilization doesn't mean I have to accept your culture to be civilized and it doesn't mean you have to accept my culture to be civilized. So that is it.

KN2 [40410-41224]

You see the problem with westernization is immorality, but westernization itself is not something bad. Wearing western dress, building the type of houses you see in the west, eating continental dishes, you see you eat in the West, drinking a number of drinks from the west, this are all western. Using radio and television, using the internet, they are all western. I hope you are getting it? Modern western, western modern, this ones are not prohibited they are not termed as a problem. The only problem with westernization is when it is accompanied with immorality. So much alcoholism, homosexuality, adultery and fornication, propagation of drugs and drug use, propagation of illicit sexual behavior, I hope you get it? These are the poison in westernization and not only Islam all cultures do not accept this.

KN4 [53368-53685]

No, because as a result of interaction we change from one form to another. Now we are in globalization the whole world is in our hand you can't separate the modern, the western culture and the modernization, they are going hand in hand because they are the one that is controlling the internet center in the world.

KN5 [35420-35844]

Yes of course when you have western culture they are two different things from modernization. You can modernize things that are good, doing them, using microphone to call Salat, these are modernizations. But western cultures are different things: dressing in their attires, barbing hair like the way they do, ehm relating man and woman like-so these are some of the western cultures, which are two different things actually.

KN6 [40245-40667]

Yes, but to some certain aspect, sometimes modern culture ah maybe ah will be incorporated with Islamic teachings but sometimes can go hand in hand with Islamic teaching. It depends on our Islamic-because all our, all our life- if you want borrow any culture or anything so we should look it whether it is against our Islamic law or not if it is against so we can adopt it, if it is not against cannot we can leave it.

KN7 [36021-36485]

I can't because modernism can never be, can never be said does not exist within Islam. Yes it does because ok, let me say, if you want to go to hajj, for example, are you going to go to hajj with horses, you are going to hajj- modernity includes technology, technology have made things easier and more and more peaceful enough. You can go to hajj, for example, through plane now so where would one would start saying, no they can't even be separated, they can't.

KN8 [34470-34668]

Western culture cannot be separated from modernization. In fact, western culture is an element of modernization because anything from the western country, to some extent, is a modernized ideology.

KN9 [30931-31011]

Western culture is more or less modernization itself so they cannot be separated

KN10 [24807-24901]

No, I can't accept it western culture and modernization is something that is almost similar.

KN11 [33041-33236]

Yes, western culture is not necessarily to exercise wealth and culture because culture is restricted to a particular place so it is not necessarily, yes we can separate it, it can be separated.

KN13 [35495-36084]

Western culture can be separated from ah modernization. I don't think ehm it will be very difficult. Yes because in this era we have there are series of tremendous developments, we are now in the era of, let me call it ehm post, post let me call it post modernization; series of changes even in the Islamic world, even in the Islamic society from where even Islam originates, there has been series of changes whereby you see people now reading the Qur'an from the phone, they don't normally need to be carry the Qur'an about, so they have been series of things that have actually changed.

KN14 [29054-29077]

Yes of course, I agree

KN15 [24693-24786]

No, western culture can never be separated from you know modernization, this is my own view.

KN16 [14510-14565]

Western culture cannot be separated from modernization.

KN17 [28351-28356]

No no

KN18 [50331-50666]

Modernization in this context is not about westernization, therefore you can be modern and Islamic, you can be a modern person and Islamic. Modernization is different from westernization. What Islams reject is westernization whereby western values claim superiority of culture, norms and traditions over Islamic values and traditions.

KN19 [31082-31263]

It will be very hard because both work interconnectedly because even western culture itself is an element of modernization it is the basis through which modernization is

KN19 [31294-31359]

It can't be separated rather it will grow into post modernization

KN20 [23319-23490]

Modernization is western culture, you can't separate them, they are two things working together; modernization-western they are the same thing. You can't separate them.

KN21 [16558-16681]

Of course yes, they can be separated from modern ah yes of course they can be separated they are two different concepts.

KN21 [16698-16755]

One can be a Muslim and at the same time be modernized.

KN22 [33333-33523]

Definitely, western culture can be separated from modernization because the culture should be based on Qur'an and Sunna that is the culture of true Islam and that is the true modernization.

KN23 [22091-22226]

I don't believe because Islamic is using things amm highly developed technologies like the computers to spread and to educate people.

KN23 [22390-22527]

I believe. Modernity is a concept on it own and westernization is something on its own. The thing is that people often misunderstand it.

KN24 [20858-20930]

No it cannot be separated from modernization because Islam always change

KN25 [33974-34099]

Well I will say yes. Western culture and modernization go hand in hand. They are like two sides of the same coin.

KN26 [36947-37298]

Yes, yes I agree with that in fact they are two different things. Yah western culture is different from modernization. We can see how, for instance, the Saudi state being a Muslim state you know is modernized; sometimes tilted towards western civilization and sometimes independently away from western civilization. So they are two different things.

KN27 [25705-25971]

Well they are kind of similar. When you talk of about western culture you are talking of western ideology. And when you are talking about modernization you are talking of copying of western ideology that is modernization. So I think they are more or less the same.

KN28 [20108-20123]

No I wouldn't

KN30 [18610-18615]

No

KN31 [33809-34093]

Well as for my opinion, westernization and modernization they go hand in hand. They don't have difference, because what is the modernization? It is those things that the westerners do. They try to influence and spread it all across the world and that is what we call modernization.

KN32 [16833-17016]

yes of course I will accept this argument. Ah modernization and western culture can be separated into two different things because both are formed and everyone functions on its own.

KN33 [12702-12775]

Yes, Muslims can modernize their ways without adopting western cultures.

KN34 [22513-22908]

Yes actually it can be. There are some western cultures that to me you can call them they are un-Islamic. When we talk about modernization, something that is taking place, something that is not barbaric, so there are some cultures that someone like to be walking naked is just like barbaric, to them, to their culture it is nothing, but when we come to modernization or something is unbecoming.

KN35 [21280-21442]

I think the assumptions are just trying to deviate from the reality because the modernization itself comes from the west, so they are two sides of the same coin.

KN36 [22137-22217]

No because westernization culture is the creation of modernization.

KN37 [20945-21148]

I can accept that argument because you see when you say modernization it does not necessary mean western culture. Even in Islam we have modernization. So I think it can be separated from it.

KN38 [15693-15911]

Yes I agree. Modernization is the systematic change or improvement in the ways of life and then westernization are those behaviors, characters, notions and ways of the western people, so they are two different things.

KN39 [24298-24813]

Yes of course because there are so many principles which are really practicing under western culture which really of course contradicts Islamic rules and regulations. For example, there is what we call presently same sex marriage. Same sex marriage, for example, is something that is presently accepted in western cultures which is actually even if without comparing it with Islamic rules and the regulations even doctors they have reached a conclusion that really it has bad impact on people's health.

KN40 [19985-19993]

No idea.

KN41 [17287-17434]

As a Muslim I do not agree with the separation of modernization and western culture because modernization is brought about by the western culture.

KN42 [43714-44418]

Yah western culture can be separated from because western western culture is not really an Islamic culture, is not an Islamic way of life and one of the most important thing Islamic is trying to preach against is the adoption of too much of western culture. We are allowed to adopt science and technology but the behaviors and the other what have you that is the manner of dressing, the exposure and what is allowed and what is not allowed. What is free and what is not, is not allowed, is not supposed to be adopted. What we should-the most important thing is we are allowed to adopt their science, the ways of science and technology so as to develop the Islamic state and stop it from being backward.

KN43 [32928-33051]

You cannot separate the two because modernization is the byproduct of western ah culture, so if you- they are inseparable.

KN44 [26090-26371]

But it has, what is western culture has not be defined by the, by the questions, ahh, which part are you talking of, owk some argue that western culture almost the same, they are not, they are virtually inseparable, they are almost all the same, they are the same there is nothing

KN45 [36634-37574]

Western culture can be separate from modernization, yah to a certain extent I agree, I can agree yes. Maybe everybody has his culture. The western people have their own culture. We the Africans have our own culture and when it comes to Africa, the division is also there, everybody has his own culture, but ehh modernity ahh in its own self ehh with science and technology is something that is accepted to all and something, yah that ehh eh I would encourage ehh Muslims to imbibe in and after all everything that is not ehh in conflict with Islamic law, as I said, is eh is permitted, is permitted for Muslims to pursue it even if that is ehh western culture. Western cultures that are not in conflict with Islam and if you like those western cultures that are not in conflict with Islamic laws, you can imbibe them, yah, you are free to do so like me I am wearing maybe western dress and I am a Muslim, and nobody can say that is wrong.

KN46 [58377-58869]

Well, ahh westernization and modernization, to me, ahh ahh two different things because westernization represents certain ahh things which include hegemony exercised by western states over other countries especially Muslim countries while modernizations, while modernization means to accept ahh doing things in the way that are supposed to be done in our modern times. So you can say that certain aspects of westernization or yes certain aspects of westernization are not necessarily modern.

KN47 [54287-55056]

Well modernization and western culture, you see, you can say that ah they should be separated we can't say that because even if we say you know that it is not something that cannot be possible because ah it is something that says the relationship between the source and then the- it is the source and then activity, you understand. Once you have the source and then the thing that you copy from the source has to have the some certain relationship, so if this situation exists, you cannot say you can simply separate the things ah the two things together. You know western culture is always imbibed in modernization process because as we see it on television we copy it on the media as they spread it there. So modernization also carry some element of western culture.

KN48 [18457-18563]

They are, they are so the same thing, the western culture and modernization, they are so the same thing.

KN49 [28761-28877]

No, I will not accept this because it is unacceptable, it is unrealistic, it is not feasible, it is not reasonable.

KN50 [16120-16209]

Western culture cannot be separated from modernization because they mean the same thing.

KN52 [53078-54782]

Well these are terms and concepts that are contestable and do not sometimes have any clear definition and therefore are subject to different multiple interpretations. So it depends on what you define as modernity, it depends on what you define as western, for me the definition of western, you know, is very comprehensive, it is all encompassing because, for me, Islam is part of western civilization Christianity, Judaism, you know, and all this other civilization's you know that contributed in one way or another to the emergence of the idea of modernity itself, Mathematics, astronomy, all the sciences are not the property, are not the possession of any particular world or any particular community. What is the west for you America, England, Germany, France? You think these countries are responsible for what we define today as western civilization or modernity as we call it? so I think it depends on how you define these terms and concepts, but I think Islam is fundamentally part of this process towards modernity, you know, but people create confusion about what Islam stands for and why Islam is against modernity. What modernity is Islam against? And what do you define as modernity? Would you say that Islam is against all this technological dividends of democracy, I mean of modernity, for instance, aeroplanes, you know, ships, trains and thing like that. These are products of modernity, if I understand, that is what you have defined as modernity, but Islam is not against all of these things. If these are the products of science right, human scientific contemplation and I think Islam was part and parcel of that process. So in one way or the other Islam is modernity in itself.

KN54 [11960-11992]

Yes modernization is universal

KN55 [13932-13965]

Yes, modernization is universal

KN56 [23063-23444]

Actually modernization can be separated from western culture because modernization is not completely and rightly westernization because any people in the world can strive and bring something that is modern. We can talk about China. We can talk about Japan. They are not western countries, so to say, but they have in their way bring some things, some innovations that are modern.

KN57 [20021-20096]

Even if I accept this argument, to be sincere, it would not be functional.

KN58 [45200-45598]

Yes I agree strongly, one: Western culture is virtually Christian culture while modernity denotes different thing. Modernity can be in form of Japanese culture, in form of Nigerian Culture, in form of British culture. But when you say western, it simply connotes the old Greco-Christian culture that is now embedded or embodied into what we refer to as westernization.

KN59 [46163-47409]

It can be separated because my reasons are these: western culture is purely western and western cultures are purely more of Christianity, you understand. It is two different thing between western culture and modernization, but to some people that have this perception that western culture and modernization go hand in hand but when you go critically into it you can see some discrepancies, you understand. Take for instance modernization now, there are some countries, there are some western countries which are not westerners but they adopt the modernization method of implementing things. Take for instance now mode of transportation you understand, which is modernization aspect of it now, initially we normally go to our Hajj those days with, we use horse or camel as mode of transportation there, you understand. But now with the aspect of modernization, there is train, there is plane to kind of ease the mode of transportation, so this modernization now has made it easy for us to kind of perform our religion in a more simple way and manner, you understand, but the western culture take for instance now is all engaged in some evil acts, let me use that word, some evil act, you understand, whereby it is contrary to our own religion.

KN60 [33371-33586]

To me, modernization is different from western culture. It is not western culture that brings about modernization, modernization is another thing and western culture is another thing. So we cannot mix up the two.

KN61 [17390-17523]

Yah, it can be separated from the organization but at least, we are imposing it, it will affect most of the activity of the Muslims.

KN62 [56134-56510]

To me western culture is the most, is the most barbaric culture ever on earth. The most modern way of life is that of Islam. Islam is the modern religion and a religion that has never gone stale, a religion that will never go actually ehh blunt. It is always sharp, modern, it goes with the ah trendy and fashionable ways of life. Only that people misinterpret it, of course.

KN63 [46915-47300]

No, they go hand in hand, western world, modernization, they go hand in hand. In fact western world even bring about this modernization of a thing because all what we are being taught in the school, or your influence in the school is about modernization of your life, so they go hand in hand and is true there is everything, you know, they go hand in hand, so they can't be separated.

KN64 [28302-28443]

Ahhh, modernization is something good in Islam, you must accept the something modern in order to use it ah in your life. I agree with this.

KN65 [35047-35072]

Yes, I accept, I accept.

KN66 [23868-24005]

No, I don't because, because this is because in Africa, as I said earlier, that from my understanding western cultures is modernization.

KN67 [24449-24760]

Yes. I agree because anything that has to do with modernity we are attributing it to ah western world, and ah modernity is not only part of the western world, it is everywhere. And we can imbibe, we can use the modern way and we can separate them from their culture. We can use our culture in the modern world.

KN68 [11895-11928]

Yes, modernization is universal.

KN69 [41077-42230]

Well as you know culture is something that is known in an Islamic state or in Islam. Even before the revelation, the issue of culture is something known to Islam. This is otherwise known as urf even before the revelation to the prophet Muhammad (SAW), Arabs had so many cultures. With the coming of the prophet Muhammad (SAW) as the last messenger to the Allah (SAW) the prophet Muhammad (SAW) eliminate some bad cultures belonging to Arabs and accommodate some cultures that are good. So the issue of western culture, if the western culture we are having in Nigeria are bad, that culture, that cultures are to be eliminated if they are contrary to the principles of Islam, if they are contrary to the principles of Qur'an and Sunna. So they could be separated, but the issue of, what did you say, the issue of modernization, to my understanding, the issue of modernization is a situation whereby to have development to respect to your economy, in respect to your politics, in respect to your environment etc, etc. So the issue of modernization and culture, to my point of view, can be separated particularly if that particular culture is bad culture.

KN71 [69885-69993]

Yes it can be separated because modernization is different from western culture and they can be separated.

KN71 [70117-70778]

That modernization can be separated from Western culture? I do agree because what is modernization and what is a western culture? Culture means the way people live, their manners, how they dress, how they think, how they react to so many other things and modernization is quite different from that. What is modernization in today's context? What do we mean by modernization? Maybe, let me take the world of technology, how everything today is computerized, isn't it? How we find that, all those kind of things put together, of course they can be separated. I can be a modern person without being a western culture or westerner or westernized person, of course.

KN72 [36711-36979]

Yes, some aspect or some cultural aspect of western cannot be eh should be separated from modernization because there is negative aspect of culture eh that exists in westernization, so such negative aspect should be separated from modernization, yes.

KN73 [38969-39034]

Of course yes. Modernization is different from western culture.

KN73 [39061-39206]

It has been separated. As it is separate, modernism and western culture or westernization is a different culture and they are different things.

KN74 [47904-48139]

Yes eh virtually the western culture cannot be separated from modernization, but in another angle you can separate them according to the Muslim. Therefore, they can be separated in one way and the other way, they cannot be separated.

KN74 [48239-48419]

Okay it can be separated because there is human development from modernization while the western culture is based on western eh activities, that is all what I can say about this.

KN75 [51063-51225]

Is not possible because the westerners and their culture, the western and their culture you find that it is the modern way of life presently.

KN76 [43655-44280]

Of course western culture can be separated from modernization, but ah it depends on how we view modernity. If you view modernity from the perspective of the western culture, then you can say that you can't separate it, but if you view modernity from the perspective of other societies or other civilizations, you can say that you can have and attain modernity regardless whether you adopt the western culture or not. There are many communities like the Chinese have attained certain level of modernity and they have ah and their culture is separate from the western culture, you can cite so many examples around the world.

KN78 [60190-60682]

Well you see this statement- it is true, there is a difference between ah ah western culture and modernization. Westernization is different from modernization. Westernization is a simply cultural practice of people from a geopolitical area, from a geographical ah area.

But when you say modernization, modernization is a model for developer, is a model for development which is opposed to cultural values or maybe a culture, particular culture of people. These are two different things.

KN78 [60732-60850]

Yah it could be separated because there are societies that succeeded in becoming modern, but not essentially western.

KN78 [60888-61048]

The Chinese, the Chinese society is a typical society that sticks into their cultural or whatever but still they are modernized, but they are not westernized.

KN80 [46064-46190]

No it cannot be separated because it is the culmination of western culture that brings birth to the so called modernization.

KN81 [29895-30002]

Yes I accept western culture will be separated from modernization because originally they are not the same.

KN82 [32221-32317]

Ahm most of the content of modernization was the outcome or as a result of ah western culture.

KN83 [22050-22347]

Ahm I really agree because western cultural culture of modernization and modernization are not the same, but emm western power use modernization to facilitate their western influence at a global level and many countries modernize and they are not western e.g. Asian tigers, china and the others.

KN84 [25041-25075]

I think they cannot be separated

KN84 [25091-25162]

They are almost working in hand to hand. They birds of the same feather

KN85 [36715-37376]

Yes western culture is not modernization. Western culture, as we have seen it, is against or is totally and parallel with Islamic principle, but modernization is a situation whereby you try to change, you try to improve with time with the man. Allah (SBUH) himself is the man. Therefore, modernization does not necessary mean western cultures. People will try to improve with the demands or with the current demands of global ah ah existence in the world generally things have changed, Muslims need to modernize I think this is one of the problems that brought the backwardness of Muslim societies what we called Taqlid, ah limitation and blind following.

ZA1 [37581-38293]

There is a western culture which even me I can't agree with it, like lesbianism, gay, pornography, this and that. These are useless, how can you convince me to do that. You are talking about the modernizing, civilization, this is totally against my religion in Islam. So I didn't agree with this, but if you are talking about now modern equipment, computer, this gadget, this internet, I can use it like using knife. You can use it to cut your what? A thief will use knife to slaughter people, so is left for you to use it positively or negatively, but now western culture, if the culture is against my religion, I will not agree. Like this transaction I will agree with it, but this gay and the rest, I cant.

ZA2 [46302-47036]

Well is not easy and it is easy because we are yet-that is the western culture that is going by the white emm what we derived from the educational system and emm from the religion I fear today, when we look at it, are we not practicing, when we look at the system of education today we acquire emm, so is it is it not the western culture? Going to the classroom to sit down and learn, and is it have any effect to the Islamic aspect? The western culture that can be eliminated is the one that couldn't give room to the Islamic practice that is the one that emm I think we be able to say we still separate it, we can take them off, but if there is no way you can totally, you can do away with that because we are already in practice.

ZA4 [49766-50006]

Yes we can separate western culture, the western, most of western cultures are evil, they are evil, they are contradicting Islam, they will destroy it. So anything that you know is not in conjunction with your believes, forget about that.

ZA5 [32167-32241]

They can't be separated because they are moving together

ZA6 [71643-72026]

Of course, western culture can be separated from modernization. You don't really need western culture to be modernized. In countries like Egypt, they have been where they have had Islamic civilization even before the modernization of the West. Places like Egypt and other Arabian countries have been modernized. So you don't really need the western culture per se to be modernized.

ZA7 [37494-37902]

I don't want to accept, I cannot accept it. Nobody can accept it because I think most modernization has been influenced greatly by scientific achievements and there is no way you can separate scientific achievements with religion because change as I said, Islam is a religion that goes with change, so if scientific achievement affects everyone's daily activities, it has affected Islam. So it is inseparable

ZA8 [75553-76221]

Western culture can be separated from modern what? Modernization yes because if you look at entirely what western culture is not what modern organization ehm modern, how modernization means. Western culture is not what it means to modernize. Modernization means I think, in my own opinion, is just to be current with what is happening around the world. For instance, western culture is their own culture, is just like for you to say, if you do not imbibe or abide by Hausa culture, you are not modernized, you know, that is not true, is just the same like saying western culture, you mustn't behave or abide by western culture for you to be modernized. I don't think.

ZA9 [41780-42039]

Well I don't think they can because one of these things, one of these concepts brought about the other one because without the introduction of west in this country, I don't think there will be anything like modernization. I don't think it can be separated.

ZA10 [35869-36051]

I, Actually I will not accept that because western and modernization actually come, culture actually comes from western modernization right? So there is no way I will accept that.

ZA10 [36135-36242]

Western culture cannot be separated from modernization because western culture comes from modernization.

ZA11 [30869-31095]

Modernization, well the point of view of everything, they could be separated, but the point of view now is the westernization has taken over almost everything, so people view it as the modernization is equally westernization.

ZA11 [31141-31182]

Yes it is the same it cannot be separated

ZA12 [18933-19030]

Western culture and Modernization, modernization and western culture are the same so I disagree.

ZA13 [19533-19574]

They are all the same thing they cannot.

ZA14 [26062-26483]

That western culture can be separated from modernization, what is culture? What is western culture and what is modernization? If you look at it, the western culture and the modernization is almost the same thing because what is the western culture? Is it not the western culture that we are practicing? We are practicing the western culture, we call it civilization then we call it modernization, say modesty have come.

ZA15 [28509-28980]

Western culture can be separated from modernization, as a Muslim, yes, yes, yes it is possible, why, because we call it western and this one we call it modernization, modernization when most of the things have improved more that is the western culture, maybe they are used to doing things here and now it has been modernized. Just like technology now, for example, maybe we are using handset now, you understand, maybe in two or three years there is another development.

ZA16 [20482-20563]

No, I will not accept because everything goes with modernization.

ZA18 [29676-29977]

Western culture, modern culture, ah what is the difference between modern culture and western culture? To me they are almost the same thing. What is the difference? Western culture and modernization, they bring a lot of modernization abi, all over, so their culture too is more a less the same thing.

ZA19 [43617-44849]

Ah of course some argue that western culture should be separated from modernization, well actually to them, it depends actually on the way you view modernization, it depends on the way you will modernization because in Islam there are certain things that are forbidden and when you do that, you being seen as modern, but when you disobey, you are not modernized and to them that is the westerners when you did not take their idea or imbibe their culture, you are not modern. So actually globalization and western cultures seem to be or is being conceived as the only way of modernization and of course Islam has, does not leave everything, I mean does not leave anything unturned. Islam has laid down procedures on how you are going to conduct yourself except if you did not seek for Islamic knowledge. Islam has provided on how to ah put on clothing, how to eat, how to do virtually everything. So now in the present day when you are not actually being, actually if you are not following or if you are actually following the ethics or this teachings of Islam you are being seen as uncivilized or not modern, but Islam has actually preaches r stipulated or lay down the procedures where one could conduct his life or affairs.

ZA20 [29882-29943]

Westernization and western culture are nothing but the same.

ZA21 [34443-35127]

Yes I can accept this because western culture is different from modernization. Western culture is the norms, the values, the culture, the tradition and what have you of the people in the West. Those are the white men. And modernization has to do with doing things the way they are supposed to be done whether islamically, whether Christianity-to do something at the right tract and at the point in time that is not against your culture, your norms and values. That is modernization. But for somebody to imbibe or to borrow somebody's culture that is so primitive. If you are doing your culture not minding the fact that other cultures are there or they exist, that is modernization.

ZA22 [29886-30172]

Yes I will wholeheartedly accept it because by the time we continue to learn all these modern challenges, to learn sciences, humanities, Social sciences and the rest and we are up to the task we can completely separate western culture from all these modernization. Yes it is possible.

ZA23 [38422-38467]

Which one is modern culture? I don't know it

ZA24 [46713-47536]

Yes because there is what you call conflict of civilization. So western cultur- they brought a lot of things. Look at our ladies now the way they are dressing. So as a Muslim we should not look at our children our female children to dress anyhow even male children. We should be dressing decently, but for wearing of English dress, it doesn't mean that you are we should not wear English dress. We can wear English dress but we should not allow our trousers to match the ground or the women should not wear miniskirts. So if they can wear long skirts with hijab it is allowed. But we should not allow western culture to overthrow Islamic culture. That is what we call conflict of civilization. That is Islam is a religion that is decent that preaches that we should dress decently. So that is the example I can make on it.

ZA25 [47121-47633]

Yes western culture can be separated from modernization, yes, in the sense that prophet Muhammad (SAW)-Islam does not say that we should remain stagnant we should remain static that we should not move further. If you find something that can ease the hardship of life that you should not make use of it, but the only problem is that, they are trying to, all the instruments of modernization, they are trying to infuse their culture into it, which the Muslims say no they have to have them separated. That is it.

ZA26 [21691-21722]

What do you mean by western?

ZA27 [20862-21047]

There is a difference between western culture and development. So the western culture is the way of living of westerners. There is a difference between development and western culture

ZA28 [34578-34594]

I remain silent

ZA29 [49162-49254]

Well there is no way western culture can be separated from modernization. They work together

ZA30 [58705-58822]

Western culture can be separated from modernization (yes sir). Yes, they are separated, sometimes they are mixed up.

ZA35 [21378-21624]

Culture cannot be separated from modernization because it is the total way of life and when you grow up in an environment where your own culture is being practiced. I don't think that even when you travel out you can still forget your culture.

ZA36 [30029-30582]

It can be separated ko? If we want, if we want because what are the western cultures? The western cultures are simply those cultures we borrow from the western people and the western people are the white people. If we watch people doing it now, the black people, honestly it is irritating. It didn't even fit us because it is not part of us, but we are trying to imitate them. Why should we imitate them, we should be proud of our culture. So I don't think there is any reason why we cannot do away with those cultures. They are not even part of us.

ZA37 [37028-37054]

They are always together.

ZA38 [42617-43111]

Yah western culture can be separated from modernization because in these modern times, Islam can still play a role. Western culture cannot continue, if it continues, it kills away religion not only in Islam, even in Christianity. In fact it succeeded in de-establishing Christianity, most of them initially were Christians traditionally, but now they are looking at nothing. That is why islamically those are the, the western culture, if care is not taken, it may cause a problem to modernity.

ZA39 [55150-55380]

Yes I can accept this argument because western culture is just a culture applicable on the people in the western world. Modernization is something, it is just a way of life that is recognized by the people in the modern society.

Th13: Non-Muslims and Islamic State

Th13.1: Non-Muslims' Rejection of Sari'a as Grounds to Leave Islamic State.

FG1 [36840-36863]

Yes they should leave

FG1 [36865-37001]

If they so wish they should leave it is optional it is not by force. If they like the will remain in the state if they like will leave

FG1 [37003-37245]

For sure the Islamic sharia will really affect them and if they won't comply with to them then definitely they will be punished by it, so therefore to me they should better leave so as to be safe. It is better to be safe than to be punished

FG1 [37250-37305]

Not necessarily leave they may have their compatriots

FG1 [37312-37772]

They should not leave because Islam as a religion is not a religion for the Muslims alone. It is a religion that is for everyone for the whole world. And what this sharia is talking about is if somebody commits adultery or steal you cut his arm, even in the Bible stealing and committing adultery is not good. In the Ten Commandments it is said thou shall not steal, thou shall not commit adultery. So I think they should stay because Islam is for everyone.

FG1 [37907-38149]

(uniformly) actually if they could not comply they should leave or maybe they can be set apart from the remote area like now in Kano state they have Sabon gari and Sabon gari they don't have sharia and Sabon gari is in Kano Metropolis.

KD1 [43552-44208]

There is actually a freedom of movement and choice. So you shouldn't restrain anybody's choice. You can say should they leave because, they may feel uncomfortable due to the sickness in their heart and they no longer want to stay there. So you can't force them that they must remain with you. So if they decide to leave, it is at their own discretion. But if they want to stay, fine, but it shouldn't be that you should be the one to tell them that they should leave. When Islamic state is established and it's actually confirmed that it is the superior rule, certainly they have no choice than to succumb to what is existing. That's just the bottom line.

KD2 [17267-17422]

In a state where sharia is established and those non-Muslims would not want to live there, then they are free to leave, but I think that's not advisable.

KD3 [13526-13668]

Non-Muslims can live in a place where, in a state where sharia is established, but there are limits to what and what activities they will do.

KD4 [27077-28412]

Talking about non-Muslims leaving an Islamic state or a sharia state, actually Islam does not say that any non-Muslims should leave. It is not compulsory or let me say it is not commanding force that all non-Muslims should leave because that state is a sharia state and they are not Muslims that they should leave the state rather it is their, they can leave on their leverage, they can leave on their freedom, they can leave on their own, but rather the din is not telling them to leave because they are non-Muslims. Because taking, at the time of the prophet (SAW), he had non-Muslims under his tenure they were living under his tenure, under the congestion, under the rules and regulation of Islam. They were even paying jizya under Islam. So they, Islam does not say that they should leave compulsorily rather they can stay under, but having it in mind that they are living under the tenets of what, Islam. Islam will protect their lives and property and they have to pay leverage in the Islamic state. They have to pay leverage to the Muslims, they have to pay leverage to the rulers of the Islam and whatever happens to them is under the care of an Islamic leader. Therefore, the Islamic leader will not allow anything harmful or bad to happen to either their lives or their property because they are what we call kafirul amana.

KD5 [14972-15406]

I don't think that issue will arise because I don't think there is any need for non-Muslims to comply with sharia laws because sharia law is a law by the holy Qur'an and the Hadith and I think sharia law and Hadith, sharia laws which is Hadith and Qur'an is only applicable to Muslims and only Muslims is applicable to. So, I don't think it affects non-Muslims, so there is no need for them to comply with talk less of them leaving.

KD6 [29407-29893]

Sharia laws on non muslims, if they are not killing people, they can still live under sharia law because it is not applicable to them. When prophet Muhammad (SAW) was at Medina, he did not say no, you are the Jews, I have to apply sharia law, they are the ones coming from, to Muhammad (SAW), to tell him no, use this your sharia law to judge us not him saying no, I have to judge you with sharia. So, we have seen the, we are not, we are not following the footsteps of Muhammad (SAW).

KD7 [21047-21429]

If sharia law is implemented to the fullest, I do not think any person Muslims or otherwise will prefer to live somewhere else than where it is home because the sharia does not force a non-Muslim to comply to sharia only that the non-Muslim will have to, he would be left to practice his own religion and his way of life. So far, it does not infringe on the Muslims that are there.

KD8 [42539-42623]

They can leave, they will not be forced to live there, they can leave if they want.

KD8 [42669-42898]

On the basis of the fact that probably they are rights, they will not be free, may be they want to be living their un-Islamic life and they feel ehm unsafe or not being free to do that. So they can decide to leave if they want.

KD9 [26093-26427]

They are free to leave. If it is their wish to leave they can leave and if they want to stay they can stay without becoming Muslims, but they must comply with the laws of the land. It doesn't necessarily mean that they would become Muslims if they don't want to, but of course they must obey the rules and the regulation of the land.

KD10 [20278-20554]

Yes of course they can leave. If there is sharia in Kaduna and the non-Muslims living in Kaduna they don't want to comply with it, they can go anywhere they want to go. Did you get me right? They can go to Plateau state, they can go to Benue state eh, so there is no problem.

KD11 [23920-24490]

Yah if they don't want to comply they can leave, if they deem it to be their option, but I think no sharia law should force the non-Muslim to accept Islam in as much as they are willing to pay their taxes which is in form of jizya. The sharia would not in anyway compel anybody to accept it. However, there is a general decorum, general standard of behavior which is accepted from any person be it Muslim or not and I think those standards of behavior in as much as those standards are not violated they wouldn't have any reason to panic, any reason to be persecuted.

KD12 [29683-29895]

Ah it has been so, it has been so. Is a principle that if at all is like people employing people into governmental or any establishment if he sees that this law doesn't pay him see leave it, so it is applicable

KD13 [10139-10333]

They are bound to leave, they are meant leave because you need to revert people to Islam and when they watch and observe the way you live nobody we tell them, they will revert back to their din.

KD14 [12690-12811]

Non-Muslims are free to live where there is sharia law because the sharia is only imposed on Muslims not on non-Muslims.

KD15 [19714-20061]

Ah in a sharia state a Christian, a pagan or whatever religion can stay in an Islamic state or in a sharia state, so far they won't go against the law which is being established in that state, so it is allowed. Islamic world or Islamic state is not a violence state, is not a war country or a war state so they are allowed, it is free and fair.

KD16 [10643-10659]

Please go ahead

KD17 [35454-35796]

It depends on what the non-Muslims are doing. Okay it is, in Islam or the sharia law does not allow a Muslim to drink, but if you a non-Muslim you are allowed, if your religion says you should drink, go and drink, but does not mean that you should come outside to, there is freedom in Islam, but you have to just follow the Islamic tenets.

KD18 [16490-16678]

They don't have to leave, they have to remain there it is only the Muslim that they need to follow their Qur'an and hadith. They should stay, the they don't need to leave that place. Yes.

KD19 [22052-22330]

Well in a state where sharia law is proclaimed, every non-Muslim should not panic and say he wants to leave because the right of both the Muslims and the non-Muslim is being taken care of in an Islamic state, a state that is true sharia, so they should have no fear of leaving.

KD20 [16317-16389]

They should not leave, they should stay to be living together in peace.

KD21 [14632-14925]

Yah they have to leave if they are not complying with the sharia law. If ah, you are not willing to pay tax as ahm is with the sharia law and then you are willing to attack the Muslim at any given opportunity, I think you are not confined to stay in an Islamic state as such you should leave.

KD23 [15083-15510]

Yes ah if in a Islamic eh sharia state where there are other eh people who are practicing their own religion, if they do not intend or if they did not want to live they should leave because maybe if they are still living maybe some of other the activities will be restricted by the sharia then they can leave, they can intend ah to leave, but they are it has to do based on ah formally ah with the consent of the government.

KD24 [54472-54922]

Well I've we've answered this question. That we said they can live in the sharia environment on their, on the Islamic state rules, which the rules actually, actually they should be more especially if it is eh the Christian or the kuffar you will see that they will give them some rules that they should make sure that they follow these rules and ah if you follow them carefully you will see that yes it is the way it is in their own rule, that's it.

KD25 [74752-75250]

Yes if the non-Muslims eh persist that they should, they will continue to stay in an Islamic state even though they are not willing to practice the Islam, yes, on one condition. In as much as they are ready to be paying the levy that is the tax the haraj who, as agreed by them whether on monthly basis or bi-monthly or quarterly basis or yearly basis, in as much as they are, they accept that then they should be left to, they should live in the Islamic state to be practicing their own religion.

KD26 [18032-18259]

On the basis that they comply with the laws, they don't go against the law binding that state. I think that is it, but if they can't they should leave, but if they are willing to go with the law, the sharia law then why not?

KD27 [21465-21683]

Well they could, they could because the state is suppose to keep people away from the vices to prevent those vices from being practiced openly. So if one is not able to comply with that I would advise that he leaves.

KD28 [24614-24799]

Since they will not comply with sharia laws and you know that that will be to effect to those sharia compliance, since it will be a threat to them, it is advisable for them to leave.

KD29 [15070-15229]

Ah based on my shallow understanding ah the non-Muslims are assured of their rights under sharia law and ah if they feel not satisfied they are free to leave.

KD30 [26169-26510]

Ah of course non-Muslims can always live under an Islamic state because they have lived even during the prophet's time for as long as there is ah understanding then there won't b, they are not threatened and they are willing to comply by paying the common tax so they can always enjoy the protection of and the beauty of this of sharia law.

KD31 [15589-16180]

Yah I think in Islamic state the non-Muslims doesn't have to be...all they need to do, they should it should be adjustment because Islamic sharia is even advantageous to them like if you there was a time this ah in northern Nigeria in Zamfara when they started practicing sharia most non-Muslim women came and they confessed that since the implementation of sharia that their husbands now don't use their money, don't spend their money extravagantly like in the beer parlors and the like, so you see I will say here even an advantage to the non-Muslims and there are so many things like that.

KD32 [23111-23566]

Even during the time of the prophet there are non-Muslims in Mecca and Medina and prophet do accommodate them, so in the case of as I've said there is no compulsion in din, non-Muslims living in a state, in an Islamic state this is fine, you can live, you practice your own religion, but you have some limitation as since it is Islamic state, it is a state it is strictly practicing an Islamic law there are some things like alcoholism is prohibited but.

KD33 [19009-19282]

No. I don't think non Muslim should leave, if non, if a sharia state was established and non- Muslims don't want to comply with sharia laws yah they are free to leave if not they cannot stay there and be trying to interrupt what the sharia try to build in their society.

KD35 [21224-21825]

Ahh I don't, I don't think in a state where an, in an Islamic state that a non-Muslim should not be encouraged to live there. A non-Muslim in an ah a non-Muslim in an Islamic state should live peacefully there so long he is not going to violate the rules and regulations of that place and there is no compulsion in Islam, it is only qisas that is forcefully, is necessary, is mandatory. So the moment a non-Muslim happens to find himself in an Islamic state, a kind of introduction will be made that so, so, so things are necessary, are forceful in this area of jurisdiction of Islamic jurisdictions.

KN1 [48268-49118]

Now when a sharia is established nobody can force you into the religion to practice Islam. Nothing of resources are...in Islam and nobody can take your goods, nobody can take your wife, nobody can take anything that is rightfully yours and in fact not only taking it has to defend you. It means the state can go into war with another state to defend the non-Muslims in the state. They cannot be forced to engage in anything like jihad in Islam, what am saying is this if a non-Muslim is residing in an Islamic state and there is jihad, there is need to go out to fight, it is not by force that the non-Muslim should join. It is only demanded of him because he is protected by the Islamic state that he should for jizya that is something to...for the defense of the country to buy arms against internal aggression that kind of things that is how it is.

KN2 [26778-26814]

But what is wrong with sharia law?

KN2 [26965-27125]

They should stay if they don't want to comply because for non-Muslims there is a provision for non-Muslims. And there is a level of tolerance for non-Muslims.

KN4 [40728-41047]

You can live in an Islamic state but only there is some life patterns or style of the non-believer that cannot be allowed, like adultery ehhh some are using traditional religion, sex is not a sin is part of their culture, drinking of alcohol is not their problem. As a -in a Muslim state all this would not be allowed.

KN5 [19063-19826]

Yes, they should leave because if want to comply, comply with the respect to some of the teachings of Islam. We say you should not drink alcohol in our presence, you should not move naked in our society, whenever you say... in an Islamic state you are implementing sharia in its fullest, it means the government is Islamic, the government is Islamic and it enforces, it can enforce that on them since you want to drink alcohol take it inside your room and if they are not going to abide by that they should leave as they Islamic state is going to protect them and their property and everything with the respect to the jizya they pay in the Islamic and other things. So they have to comply with what the provisions of the Islamic state are as they stay in that state

KN6 [22226-22816]

Yes, a non-Muslim can live peacefully ah ah in a good manner and even we have some cases if we implement this sharia system I know that ahhh some of are not Muslims they will migrate from their state into our state, for example, it happened when Yariman Bakura introduced this Islamic state because in those time, in those days Yariman Bakura give those coppers ahh much money more than in their state so they prefer to go to this Islamic state rather than state in their state and even now those who came from Lagos they have, they can prefer to live in our state rather than their state.

KN7 [20375-20807]

Well ehm, I don't think they should leave and I don't see any reason why they shouldn't leave if they do not want to comply in the sense that there is this wise saying that where there is no law, there is no offence. So as long as you want to continuing living within the context of an Islamic state or under the context of an Islamic state, you have to follow the teachings, or let me say the rules that exist within that society.

KN8 [21366-21691]

Hmm, I think based on this question people should not be denied to live when in an situation whereby the non-Muslims are not willing to comply with sharia I think it is better they should relocate another place for them, so as to bring an orderly society but not chasing them out with force or attacking them with problems.

KN9 [19982-20327]

Non-Muslims basically cannot live in a sharia state if they cannot comply with the rules of sharia. This is because ah there is a provision for them to stay in an Islamic state only if they are ready to obey the dos and don'ts of the Islamic state. But if they cannot they are very welcome to leave, they can go and establish a place elsewhere.

KN10 [15050-15280]

If there is ah sharia law in an Islamic state, so non-Muslims must obey the rules if you want to live if not he will -he can leave the place because remaining and disobeying the rule can affect the practice of Islam in such place.

KN11 [19547-20210]

If they do not want, ehh first of all here maybe some people do not understand how. In a sharia state, Muslim would not say you as a non-Muslim you must pray no, no, so any Islamic sharia would not force anybody, would not force anybody to say you must follow the teaching of Islam. As I have said, non-Muslims lived with prophet (SAW) but none of them has ever been asked to pray five times or to fast or to give alms or to go and perform hajj, no, but what you are required to do is you first of all you will pay tax that is jizya because that jizya you paid will be used to prevent your lives and properties, so the question is not much, it doesn't this much.

KN13 [22495-22762]

Ehm, they should leave because if they are not ready to comply with the law, like now they are not ready to pay some particular tax for using the amenities in that particular society. I think definitely they should leave, they should be allowed to leave the society.

KN14 [16213-16646]

Yes non-Muslims can stay in an Islamic state, but the sharia, the sharia would not ah he is not necessary or he is not forced by the sharia to be, to exercise those things, but he cannot violate it, what I mean here is that a non-Muslim in an Islamic or sharia state should not violate the sharia but ah a Muslim or the leaders in that state cannot come and say that you must perform those things that Islam says a Muslim should do.

KN15 [17157-17340]

Yes non-Muslims, non-Muslims can live where you know sharia law is established but on one condition that he will not you know break the laws, so he will abide by the laws in anyway.

KN16 [8849-8956]

If they don't want to comply then they should leave the state, but if they will comply then they can stay.

KN17 [22418-22422]

Yah

KN18 [34461-34566]

Popular votes let the right person emerge through normal democratic process and gain the consent of all.

KN18 [34905-35308]

Why can't they comply? That is the order that is the constitutional order. Can you go to United States and say you will not comply with the order of the United State? Will they leave, why must you? Ai the question is that if you are going to any country and you refuse to follow, refuse to follow the normal constitution and provisions of that country you are going to leave you must leave that country

KN18 [35327-35752]

So don't let's not, this is a pretext in order to smuggle, let's be realistic any country in this world you go no matter the kind of a teaching, if you go to Vatican are you not following the teachings ah ah ah of the constitutions and teachings of Vatican, then must Islamic state be exempted that and if you are not following the true teachings and provisions of Vatican Vatican will you stay there? They will expel you.

KN19 [22236-22368]

I think it's better like that because they won't be able to comply with the rules and regulations of sharia.

KN20 [15906-16026]

Yah, So long they can't comply with the state law that is governing the state then they should leave

KN21 [9920-10074]

Of course they have to leave. because they won't find it comfortable to live in the state anymore, so they just have to leave.

KN22 [18535-18911]

Yah, in a state where sharia law or legal system is established, does not advocate for the going of the non-Muslims, but willingly if they want to leave, if they want to go, no problem with that, but true teaching of Islam in a Sharia legal right does not advocate that they should coerce the non-Muslims, they should force them to leave that particular community or society.

KN23 [14155-14436]

Yah they should leave because sharia itself has- it creates a kind of sense of belonging to non-Muslims they have to pay what we call jizya and if it is not an Islamic state they have to leave if they cannot pay the jizya and it is like kind of the money they pay for protection.

KN24 [14145-14714]

In a country where Islam is practiced, let's go back to the prophet the way he said. When prophet came to Mecca and dominated Mecca, if any Christian that is going to practice, not practicing Islam and he agreed to stay in the country there are some taxes that he would be paying for Muslims so that they will be protecting him and he will not be harmed. Nobody will come and cause issues. So if you are not going to pay those taxes and some other things that is implemented for non-Muslims to pay, so definitely you have to leave that place.

KN25 [20735-21230]

Yah they could pack their loads and leave if and only if the rules of sharia are too tedious for them and they don't want to comply with it they can leave. But I think the sharia law has made it so transparent and so easy that even the non-Muslims accommodated they can practice their religion, they can have their places of worship although not near the-it could be a little bit outskirts of town and they are guaranteed protection of their lives and properties. So I think it is a fair offer.

KN26 [20726-21393]

They shouldn't- they don't – in fact as it is you can't compel, you that is just the issue, you can't compel. If the era is where they co-habitate like for instance in Nigeria now whereby even the state that practice Islamic sharia law, you understand, have to pay- have romance with the constitution of the state because the constitution gives the legal right to every Nigerian to stay where he or she wants to stay. And if she or he stays in a place that sharia law is being implemented he can still stay there and also like we said nobody-you are not required to go in fact the law is not even applicable. It is not applicable to you because you are not a Muslim.

KN27 [16110-16311]

Well I should say ehm there is this wise saying that where there is no law, there is no sin. So as long as you want to be part of a state or a society you have to comply with the rules of that society.

KN28 [12627-12828]

Of course they should leave. It is not a must they stay within that sharia law state. They can easily leave it is not a must for them to live there. They could go elsewhere for their greener pastures.

KN30 [14263-14353]

They don't have to leave, they just have to find a way of co-opting them in the society.

KN31 [18789-19122]

Well I think according to the Sharia anywhere you want to establish Sharia in a state, you give the non-Muslims just like I said earlier, their rights. But in a situation may be whereby they see that they will not be comfortable there, I think there is no cause for alarm. They could easily change to maybe where it will suit them.

KN32 [8410-8763]

ah advisably, they should leave the state for their own safety because I don't see the reason why if you don't want to ah comply with the sharia law of a particular country you should be allowed to be in that country. You can't go to the United States of America and refuse to comply with their constitution and expect to be left to live in that state.

KN33 [7356-7398]

Yes, if they do not contravene the sharia

KN34 [10733-10836]

They should not leave. They are free to practice their religion, they have nothing to do with sharia.

KN34 [10900-11008]

They should stay and make sure they abide by the rules and laws governing that particular state or country.

KN35 [13017-13185]

No. Sorry they can live Yes they can live. Since they have agree to respect the sharia which is the body, the rules that governs the state.

KN36 [13508-13591]

Yes they can live but on one condition there should be no violation of the sharia.

KN37 [12220-12437]

The non-Muslims if they must live in a sharia state then they must comply and abide by the principles of the sharia. And if they don't want to comply I don't think, for their own good, I don't think they should live.

KN38 [8587-8592]

Yes.

KN38 [8613-8766]

Islam gives them the room to live in an Islamic state and to live in their own confined believe. Islam does not stop anyone from performing his religion

KN39 [15070-15264]

Yes, because I can cite example with the time holy prophet whereby holy prophet lived with non-Muslims a peaceful life without any force or torture to them and it is a life.

KN40 [13770-13895]

My answer to the question is no, a non-Muslim should not leave the state in the sense that sharia is only meant for Muslims.

KN41 [11556-11581]

Based on the individual.

KN42 [23310-24465]

In a state where sharia is established, the Muslims, the non-Muslims are expected to follow all the preachings, all the rules and regulations. Sharia law is just like things that are expected to be done and things that are not: don't fornicate, don't drink because there is no drinking in an Islamic state, there is no prostitution, there is no fornication whatsoever, there is no cheating and there is transparency, you don't, there is control over the weights and gains whereby you buy something and you are cheated from it through like many weight and measures. So if they can, these things are very simple, these things that are there even in the normal world which is maybe the most difficult one is like the cheating and the prostitution and the alcoholism and the all those ones and the taking of intoxicants. If they can't comply with these laws, then they are expected to leave because they are not only going to spread the vices among themselves, it is going to touch all other innocent people within the societies. So as to protect Muslims, these non-Muslims are going to be set to leave, so on the basis of them violating the established laws.

KN43 [19395-19914]

No, no at all. I told you even during the lifetime of the prophet of Muhammad there were non-Muslims who lived under Islamic state. So why should non-Muslims leave sharia state in the twenty-first century, on what basis? The only thing is they should respect the precept, the rules and regulations governing an Islamic state. They can go and practice whatever they want in their own domain not in a place where Muslims are in the majority. So I don't think the non-Muslims should leave the state where sharia operates.

KN44 [14193-14555]

No, nobody is saying that when Islam is introduced or reintroduced or a state is an Islamic state that non-Muslims should not live there. We have so many cases in history whereby we have had an Islamic state or well established Islamic government but at the same time it was able to accommodate non-Muslims. So I don't think that, this one is really a problem.

KN45 [18008-18623]

I think from the first place, it is not compulsory for a non-Muslim to abide by the rule of sharia in any Islamic state. A Muslim, a non-Muslim can take his alcohol as much as he likes in an Islamic state and he is not going to be punished like a Muslim in an Islamic state. I think that is one right given to them by the sharia too. So is not, they can live peacefully, they can conduct their business in an Islamic state without abiding by the rules of sharia, but at least there are certain public conduct which is generally morally acceptable to both sides that they will observe too.

KN46 [34858-36432]

Ahh, I think the question, this question is problematic. It depends on how the state operates, I mean, if these rules are for Muslims only then non-Muslims are not under any obligations to observe these rules, but if these rules are for all citizens, then all citizens must abide by the rules. For example, if the state makes a law that no alcoholic drinks should be sold on its land, for example, no alcoholic drinks should be sold on its territory. If this law is made for all citizens, then all citizens must abide by this rule without any discrimination. Non-Muslims must abide by this rule just like their Muslim counterparts. Even in America in the 1930's or 20's to 30's, alcohol was banned in America for all citizens and laws were made to punish those who break the rule. So there is nothing wrong with any state calling itself Islamic or anything they wish to make laws for its citizens and for those citizens to be made to abide by these laws. I don't think there is a problem in that. So if these rules made by Islamic states are meant for non-Muslims or are meant for Muslims only, then maybe that rule should apply to Muslims only because it affects them only. But if these rules are for general public then no exception should be made, but if as you put it in the question, should they live in the state while not observing the provision of the state? Then I would say if the state made these laws, made these laws and allowed these non-Muslims or exempted them, if the Islamic state exempted the non-Muslims from observing these laws, then they don't have a problem.

KN47 [35593-36383]

Well they don't have to leave because there is a provision or there is a situation whereby, you know, they live together, you know, they can simply try to respect one another's values, you know, religious values and cultural values, you understand, they don't have to leave because they have the right to stay in the state where the indigenous or they are the indigenous of the state as well, you know, so they don't have to leave. Leaving is not the, is not even suggesting, you understand, they shouldn't leave the state but they can simply stay and follow the religion, you know, they want to follow, you just continue to stay as non-Muslim, but their own interest can be taken care of when they avoid, you know, offending, you know, or disrespecting the proper beliefs of the society.

KN48 [10997-11150]

They shouldn't leave, because with time, if those Muslims there they are with good behavior. So they can form there now embrace what they are doing.

KN49 [19595-19922]

Of course they should because you cannot actually you cannot in Islam you don't force people to adhere to your religious tenets if they are not interested in being part of that religion. You do not compel people, you do not force them, you do not even frighten them into doing what is against their better judgment.

KN50 [9829-9944]

Why should non-Muslims leave a sharia state because sharia is not even meant for non-Muslims, is meant for Muslim.

KN52 [26077-27207]

Should non-Muslims leave? Why should they leave? I don't think they should leave. You see nowadays, especially in northern Nigeria, this narrative about Islamic state, about sharia being anti-Christian, being violent against non-believers is not really true because I think the non-believers, Christians and the Jews most especially, are protected under sharia. You know, but the protection is conditional because they are expected to pay what is called jizya, right, which is a tax for protection under an Islamic state. I think that is the only thing that they are required to do, but of course there are other conditions that might not well augur with the non-believers residing in an Islamic state because practices such as alcoholism, gambling, prostitution, and other things, vices like that are not allowed in an Islamic state. So if a non-believer feels that under a non-Islamic state, for instance, he is allowed to practice alcoholism or prostitution, then he can leave on that condition I mean for that reason, but if otherwise there is no reason for any non-Muslim to avoid an Islamic or sharia state because of that.

KN53 [13155-13533]

With this question you just asked me, there is a place in the, a verse in the Quran, that says wahala diriiri, walaha dirara, so I don't believe they should leave because the law said it is not inconveniencing us to do things. So if they can abide with the sharia, they should stay and if they can't abide it's their state, they don't need to leave. So that's my own answer.

KN54 [6660-6708]

Well if they cannot comply, they should leave.

KN55 [7967-7999]

Yes, if they cannot obey sharia

KN56 [12565-12747]

Actually if they cannot abide by the rules and regulations of the Islamic state and they cannot pay their jizya (tax), which is a taxation levy on them by Islam, they should leave.

KN57 [12846-12893]

They can leave, they can leave. Yes of course

KN58 [29013-29342]

No. if, they are only allowed to live in a Islamic state if they comply with the teachings or tenets of Islam. Islam is not forcing them to practice Islamic religion, but they should abide with the rules and regulations of Islam within the state since they are found in the state. If they cannot then they are advised to leave.

KN59 [21992-22166]

Yes it is allowed for them to live or to stay within that state, even though they do not comply with the sharia law, I think it is allowed for them to be in that state yes.

KN60 [22843-22972]

Non-Muslims can live they have every freedom and right to live among Muslims without practicing sharia. It is allowed in Islam.

KN61 [10952-11091]

In a state where sharia is established, non-Muslims leave if they do not want to comply with sharia law, yah some other state they leave.

KN62 [35234-35749]

Yah, in Islam, we believe that there is two conditions, you either live under sharia peacefully, you either leave peacefully and do whatever religious practices whatever religion you have or just leave the state because if you are to be a kind of problem, if you cannot live peacefully in an Islamic state, be it you a Christian or even an Atheist, then you are expected to leave or pay jizya, a certain tax you are taxed to pay some money or to pay a kind of ah, just to pay some money, yes that is what I believe.

KN63 [24010-24992]

Look here, having a sharia, sharia guarantee more rights to the non-Muslims than the Muslims. Ok just like some people complaining of maybe their shops or their store they invaded by maybe the Muslims, in a sharia state or in an Islamic state, you know they can sure of their security, and if at all something like that should happen, they have to be paid by the government. So they are having more rights than the Muslims themselves and all what we are talking about maybe someone goes on gambling, some is involved in idolatry or whatever or someone do reader, all this things are only binding on the Muslim in that community. Now if a maybe a non-Muslim should steal in that state, Islamic state, they cannot cut his arm because of that, because sharia is not binding on him, is only binding on the Muslim in that community. So there, something is even more guaranteed than the non-Muslims in that community. So there is nothing preventing them in staying in that community.

KN64 [18583-19008]

In Islam, what I want you to understand with me, Islam did not force the principle of Islam on people, on non-Muslims, they live with Muslims, they will, they have their rights that the Muslims must respect these rights. Therefore, there is no any place you force them to follow the Islam, no, unless if they break some principles of Islam, like disrespect to prophet or something bad, sharia will not agree with this, ehn.

KN66 [12457-12753]

Yah, instead of, yes I believe non-Muslims should leave if they don't want to comply with the sharia law because instead of putting on a fight, to make it conflict, to make it unstable, to make it un-governable, it is better they leave to a place where they know they can live there life freely.

KN67 [14205-14335]

No. I think they should not just leave. They have the right to voice this out their opinion because Islam has a provision for them

KN68 [6627-6673]

Yes, if they cannot comply and pay the jizya.

KN69 [25466-25900]

Well in an Islamic state whereby there are non-Muslims in that state, I think nobody will come and compel them that they must observe Islam because Allah said it in his holy book where he said la iqra ha fid din, but there must be a condition attached to this. Despite the fact that they are not ready to observe the principles of Islam in an Islamic state, they must make sure that they do not violate the principle of sharia, yes.

KN71 [43510-43738]

No. They shouldn't leave, of course they shouldn't leave because in Medina there were no Christians, non-Muslims and they were given the right to their worship, to worship their lord, they worship whatever they want to worship.

KN71 [43929-44886]

They shouldn't leave and they must not comply with because when you say a non-Muslim that the drinking of alcohol is banned in this state, that is as far as you a Muslim is concerned. So it would be the duty of the government not to allow alcohol to move freely anywhere, but as a non-Muslim what is his right, what is wrong if he took an alcohol? There is nothing wrong in that. So they should only be allowed not to interfere with or intermingle with the Islamic laws. You cannot say he must pray, of course he must not. You cannot say he must not take alcohol; of course he must not because to him it is halal. You cannot say he must not fornicate; of course he must not because to him it is halal. But he must not do it as to entangle or abuse the state of Islam to do it freely. If he should lock himself in a room to do what he want to do, who would say why? Because the law is not unto him, is it not? I hope you understanding what I am saying? Yes.

KN72 [23469-23544]

Yes he can continue living, he can continue living without any harassment.

KN73 [22661-22790]

Of course there is no Muslim will leave he has a freedom to live, he has a freedom of movement, he has a freedom of life thus...

KN73 [23036-23119]

The only basis that he won't, he will not be staying unless he is paying a Jizya.

KN74 [34687-34758]

No he can't leave; he can live together with the Muslims nothing can...

KN75 [37112-37503]

no, we have to reflect what happen during the time of the prophet (SAW) in Medina, how he established, in the whole world, prophet was the first person to establish constitution, that is the Medina charter yah, between the Muslims, not a Christians and the Jews how they have to, how they are going to live together, so their right should be given to them, they should not deny their right.

KN76 [25755-25980]

Actually ahh if there is, they can live if they so wish because they have the freedom to move. Nobody can well confine somebody and must compel, should compel somebody to live within an Islamic state, a Muslim or non-Muslim.

KN78 [39936-40105]

Well again I think I don't, I don't want to, I don't want to be placed between the red sea and the devil ehh this is a very difficult question for me to answer really.

KN80 [32205-32391]

So he can leave at his own wish, but Islam provides opportunities in the right and rights to both Muslims and non-Muslims. He can live in as long as he is not tampering with the Islam.

KN81 [17996-18068]

No. Non-Muslims can live in an Islamic state, he has the right to live.

KN81 [18280-18491]

I understand, non-Muslim has the right to live in Islamic state he has the right because during ahh during the caliphate ahh Muawiyah Abu Safyan he nominated one of his cabinet while the person is non-Muslim.

KN81 [18862-18939]

He has the right to leave, even Muslim has the right to leave Islamic state.

KN82 [22684-23136]

In Islamic state, Islamic state is not for Muslims only. It is a state that has a provision for even non-Muslims to live in peace and they should be respected accordingly. As we learned during the life time of prophet Muhammad (SAW) the provision is only that the non-Muslims use to pay jizya, as much as they are able to pay that then they are free to live and no one can terrorize them or disengage their right of been members of the state.

KN83 [13591-13736]

Yes he can leave. Nobody can impose him to comply to sharia. He has the right to stay and go and sharia is only for Muslims not for non-Muslims.

KN84 [16436-16603]

Yah he can leave, he can leave Islam, Islam cannot force anybody to stay in an Islamic state. Non-Muslim can be able to leave because there is no compulsion in Islam.

KN85 [18865-19274]

Yes, during the time of the prophet we have seen the Jews and the Christians staying in Medina and other parts of the Islamic state. Therefore in an Islamic state non-Muslims can live, reside and conduct their activities ahh without following or converting to Islamic religion, but they have to respect Islam, they have to respect Muslim, they do not have to ahh violate Islamic laws and Islamic principles.

ZA1 [21311-22172]

No, no, no. Even let us say maybe or let us say that a state in Nigeria or somewhere that establish Islam 100 percent a non-Muslim will practice is religion. There is a one incident which happened during Umar bin Khatab when Khalid bin Walid conquered a Palestine. When he conquered, he demolished a church. When the Umar came, one of the priest complained to Umar, we submit ourselves that we agree we are going to pay jizya and Khalid bin Walid has demolished our church and build a mosque. Umar command Khalid bin Walid to demolish that mosque and rebuild that church again. So it means that if non-Muslims are the, if Muslims are the majority and a state, and sharia has been established, non-Muslims has the right to stay like in those-Rasul (SAW) we have Banu Khainuka, Banu Bakar they are non-Muslims and prophet stayed with them, they lived together.

ZA2 [20873-20932]

They can leave it is free, they can leave it is free, yes.

ZA3 [17668-17935]

Toh is just most of us are not aware of what the sharia side is not for a non-Muslim to even rather prefer to stay in a community where the sharia is being practiced as it is ought to be, but he has the right to leave if he doesn't want to comply with sharia laws.

ZA4 [37025-37698]

Toh Alhamdulillah if you can remember in the time of prophet Muhammad (SAW) we have what we all Ahlul... emm unbelievers that they don't fight Islam, he allowed those to practice their Islam, they allowed the prophet Muhammad to be practicing their Islam, they don't fight them, all this people are called Ahlul... if you are not a believer in the Islamic state, doesn't fight Muslims, doesn't cause anything, is not a spy, you understand, he allows you to practice your religion, you allow him to practice his religion because Allah have said telling us that la iqra ha fid din there is no compulsion in religion, only that enemy is fighting that is (he recites the Qur'an).

ZA5 [21267-21448]

They don't need to leave, if they say that they don't what to compromise with the sharia law, they can still live their lives but based on what? Based on agreement that is just it.

ZA6 [51487-52250]

Ahh if, for example now, if in Zamfara state where it has been adopted before, if they decide to adopt sharia law again and the Christians there feel they would not be comfortable from what they have been hearing not what they have experienced, then of course they should leave, but in the actual sharia constitution, the sharia law, in the state where sharia is being practiced, the Christians there live more happily and freely than even in the democratic state because it is not as if there is a particular punishment for a non-Muslims, no. It is same thing as democratic constitution, is just it applies to everybody, if you break the rule you will be punished. I told you the difference is strict adherence to the law in sharia that is just the difference.

ZA7 [21134-21670]

Well I think, I think they should. Am not saying that in an extremist way, but I think everybody has the right to stay in any country that is if you are ready to obey by the governance of that particular country and the laws are conducive for you. So if you find the sharia laws being too hard for you to follow, I don't think you should stay because you might be, you might be pushed to probably doing one of those things or you might be ahh seriously I don't think you should stay. But I am not saying that in an extremist way, view.

ZA8 [46753-48303]

Yah. If for instance, like I said, there is what we call freedom of religion, freedom of residence or how will I call it? Now If, for instance, a non-Muslim in an Islamic state feels he cannot conform with their laws rules and regulations, he is very, very free to leave, nobody will force him to stay because it is your opinion. If you want to stay, like I said, no country or community that you go that they don't have their laid down rules and regulations. It is either you comply with them or you leave because if you are going to stay, you must comply with the rule governing there. Is just like a school in the university, is a constitution is just an institution, not even a state, but they have their laid down rules and regulations that if you violate any one they are free to terminate your stay or send you away. So likewise the same thing applies to an Islamic state, they will have, definitely they must have their rules and regulations, you must not fornicate, don't drink, don't kill, don't steal, don't do this, don't abuse, don't back bite, so if you are caught doing one of this things, definitely the punishment you apply on you because you are staying there. So if they start saying no because you are a Christian, you are free to kill in an Islamic state, it is not going to be possible in an Islamic state. They will tell you, you are a Christian here or you are a Jew here, we leave you to practice your religion so far you are not going to go against the rules and regulations governing this state. So that is what I think.

ZA9 [24396-25041]

Ehm if they because they say in a place where there is no law there is no sin. Yah since there are sharia laws, since there are laws in that place if you know and I believe Sharia, even if sharia does not correlate with the constitution, let's take constitution of Nigeria as example, if it does not correlate completely with it, I believe 75percent it has considerable similarities. They have some similarities. So if somebody, I believe anybody who can't comply with this sharia law, in my own opinion, to avoid bloodshed and things that will make Muslims look bad, they should just leave the place if he knows he can't comply with the rules.

ZA10 [24806-24943]

Yes if they don't want to or they don't want to comply with the sharia laws, the law also give them the opportunity to leave the state.

ZA11 [19650-20196]

The sharia law is for the both religions being a Muslim or not, but it doesn't actually imply on a non-Muslim to some certain, but actually where there is a sharia law, there are limitations. Let me use an example, like a state where there is no sharia laws you find them drinking, there are prostitutions and the rest, but in a state where there is a sharia law, all those things are prohibited and in that aspect, it is mandatory there for the non-Muslims to abide by those things because there will no room for any alcoholism or prostitution.

ZA12 [10773-10835]

They should live even the prophet lived with the non Muslims.

ZA12 [11061-11293]

They shouldn't be chased out because the land belongs to everybody in as much as the rules and regulations of the jihad ooh of sharia is being understood by the Muslims, then it will only act on the Muslims and not the non-Muslims.

ZA13 [12045-12163]

I don't agree. They shouldn't leave, they shouldn't leave because they have the right to practice their religion too.

ZA14 [15365-15813]

If you look at it, a non-Muslims cannot leave because if prophet Muhammad (SAW) can live with the Jew and the Christians after his hijra from Mecca to Medina and they agree on whether they will be paying some pay, what are they going to be paying.? They are paying jizya, is in form of tax that is in our nowadays because there is suppose to be an agreement between the Muslims and the non-Muslims if they want to really live in the Islamic state.

ZA15 [18976-19498]

Yes, even in an Islamic state you don't say ok because you are practicing Islam, Christians must do, must also do what, must also practice Islam, they have freedom, because we have two types of court or we can say particularly Islamic and the other ones. So even if there is any problem, they will be given the freedom to choose which of the courts do you think we should go? Is it the Islamic or the, that is for the Christians, but as for the Muslims, it is the Islamic sharia if you are in an Islamic state that would...

ZA16 [12374-12520]

No, they should not leave because they will be treated as non-Muslims; they will not be imposed that they must follow the teachings of Islam, no.

ZA17 [13337-13437]

If they can live and comply with the sharia law that, they don't have problem they can do their own

ZA18 [17468-17864]

Ah this is an Islamic state, but they want to live in the state, but they do not want to comply with the sharia laws, will they say that? Kaga in those days when the non-Muslims want to live in an Islamic state, they will have to abide by the laws, for instance, now they will pay jizya, a kind of tax, so if eventually they say they will not pa, they will, toh then they should find where to.

ZA19 [22771-23114]

Of cause non-Muslims should live and thrive in an Islamic state without being ah being actually attacked by Muslims, you understand, because Islam allows transaction, economic transaction and otherwise between the Muslims and non-Muslims. So non-Muslims could dwell in an Islamic state without getting ah been harmed, I mean by other people.

ZA20 [13235-14093]

There is nowhere in Nigerian context where an Islamic state, you know, where ahh sharia legal system is introduced asking non-Muslims to vacate the state to their, you know, there is nowhere. In Zamfara where I know quite clearly, in fact the very person, Yarima Ahmad Sani former governor, who introduced Sharia in Zamfara State that time, was even, you know, the kind, of – what he has been doing to the Christians was even more interested in retaining their conscience to live with other people peacefully with their neighbors who are Muslims also. So likewise in Kaduna, Kaduna, Sharia was also introduced during this man, Ahhh Ahmed Makarfi. Ahmed Makarfi also the- in fact one third of the population of Kaduna are Christians if not two thirds one third at least are Christians. So there is nowhere, the constitution has not even asked them to leave.

ZA21 [18976-19246]

Of course they said if you don't want to stay, you don't want sharia to be applicable then you can go. If you so desire you should stay even where sharia is applicable then you must pay something. And that is what is obtained in the traditions of the holy prophet.

ZA22 [17784-18330]

No. They shouldn't leave. As I said earlier rasul (SAW) cohabited inhabited medina with non-Muslims so they have the right except that they have some limitations. For example they won't be allowed to be drinking openly or to be dressing the way they are for instance the way they want if at all it contradicts Islamic teaching in order not to bring confusion into the Muslim umma. So they have some limitations. But Islam has already provided their rights that Muslims must observe. Yah they have all the right to live in an Islamic state.

ZA23 [23290-23762]

Yes in an Islamic state the non-Muslims and those that do not want to comply with the sharia that is the non-Muslims, they are free to live in that state, the only thing is that if anything is against the teaching of Islam will not be practiced upon openly. Secondly then they will be paying some levy. In Islam it is called jizya. That is the tax. It is a certain amount, just a certain percentage of their own wealth they will be paying to the Islamic government?

ZA24 [29842-30291]

In a place they are using sharia non-Muslims can live there. They can stay there provided they can follow the rules, provided they can comply with the rules and regulations of the sharia. So they can still stay because during Prophet Muhammad (SAW) there were Christians in Saudi Arabia then. So they stayed together and once anyone of them committed offense therefore they- although sharia is meant for only Muslims; I think I answered your question

ZA25 [26229-26486]

As I have said, non-Muslims are allowed to reside in a Muslim state-in an Islamic state and be allowed to practice their religion. But as I have said they are obliged to pay jizya. If they refuse to pay jizya then they are free to leave without compulsion.

ZA26 [12977-13162]

There is provision. I am not an Islamic scholar. There is provision by Islam if infidels or want to be in an Islamic state there is provision for that, other scholars will answer that.

ZA27 [11225-11471]

No why? No, you cannot force anybody to stay in a particular place where he doesn't want. But in an Islamic state where you have an Islamic state or whatever, we give equal rights to both Muslims and non-Muslims. Islam treats everybody equally.

ZA28 [24130-24489]

Well where an Islamic state is already established I think it is an environment where the dominance is Muslims are Muslims. So on no circumstance should, I won't say a foreigner, they can live within if and only if they are ready to comply with the dos and the don'ts of that environment, which according to, which is in accordance with sunna and Qur'an so

ZA29 [33941-34897]

Well by saying non-Muslims they do not have to comply with the sharia laws because they are not Muslims. But there are some things that even though they do not comply with the sharia laws there are some things that they should not do which in other way affect the sharia. You know we people are selfish, even in the other- let me take a good comparison that is close to us here as Muslims and Christians are living. No any Bible whether Revised Standard Bible, whether Anglican Bible, you understand, no any Bible that permits fornication, no any Bible in this world that permits building of houses for prostitutes and no Bible in this world that permits the followers of that very book to drink till they get drunk. So and I know say that if all these things that I mentioned are things that definitely you know may be the unbelievers would not want to comply with because they would – because it would look to them that their rights are being deprived.

ZA30 [43948-44821]

Hmmm, they, as long as the non-Muslims want to stay in the Islamic state, then they have to comply. Comply in such a way that they can't do what they are doing, may be contrary to Islam publically, but they can perform their religion. There even say that the state will even build churches for them, may be outside the town and they will do their business, but may be if their business is selling beer. So it can be public, may be they will do that when they go back in their own houses. That is the kind of compliance, but they can stay where people are staying, they will do business, legal business that people agree on. So, that is the kind of compliance, but if they say no, that they will go and sell beer, so that one can may be create chaos, chaotic situation. May be they will engage themselves in prostitution, publically that one the government will not allow.

ZA31 [17560-17809]

As I have said earlier on, sharia means, sharia only impose to people that are Muslims not people that are not Muslims. The way I said it, there is no religion that force someone out of his will. So I believe non-Muslims can stay in religion state.

ZA32 [47366-48320]

Yes in an Islamic state where sharia is established, non-Muslim can be live, can live there and they can live on the basis of giving jizya tax and they can live on the treaty of peace and harmoniously living and their interest is protected when they pay jizya, they will be protected, they will be given farm for cultivation and other rights of moving within the state. Allah (SBUH) said (he recites the verse of the Qur'an), you should fight those who do not believe in Allah (he recites) and do not believe in the day of Judgment (he recites) and they do not practice a good religion, a real religion, a sincere religion that is Islam, they do not practice it (he recites) from those among those who were given book, the people of the book, ahlul kitab, I tried to jizya until they pay what, you should fight them until they pay what, they pay jizya tax, if they will pay that jizya tax, they would be allowed to live, to be living in that state, yes.

ZA33 [12832-12939]

They shouldn't leave because Sharia law is not imposed on them. It is only enforced on Muslims only.

ZA34 [28422-29110]

No. Allah (SBUH) did not make compulsion on religion, La iqra ha fid din. There is no compulsion for somebody to really come to the din of Islam. Islam has giving everybody his liberty, so far if you are a Christian you can live in a Muslims state. I gave so many examples, I talked about so many examples of Rasul (SAW) in Medina, there were so many Christians there in Medina. There were Jews that were there in Medina. There were Polytheisers – Mushrikun that were there in Medina yet he did not deprive Rasul (SAW) and the Muslims to have control of Medina. They were there in the affairs of Medina yet they lived. So non-Muslims can live in an Islamic state without any compulsion.

ZA35 [12455-12652]

Hmmm in an Islamic, in a state where sharia is established, if the non-Muslims don't want to comply with the rules well they can leave it is their own choice because, yes, it is their own choice.

ZA36 [19512-19781]

Of course they would live freely and comfortably, just the way the Muslim did then because even during the time of the prophet (SAW) he lived peacefully with non-Muslims and he gave them with shelter and protection. It is his right to protect them they are under him.

ZA37 [25373-26204]

Non-Muslims can live in an Islamic state without even if they cannot comply with sharia laws, but there are some little amount of tax that they should be paying, why because this is an Islamic state and they are living there without any renting and they are using the raw materials there for their own survival, so because of this thing that they are using therefore Islam and Islamic members, so even them they should now give some tax for the Islamic government to continue ruling it as what is happening presently in the country, one would come and open his shop, you would see someone will come and say you are going to pay some tax to the government for your own development, so even Islamic government they should pay that tax in order for the government to use it to continue with its own work or something of that nature.

ZA38 [28903-29703]

Yah basically I don't see any reason why a non-Muslim would leave a sharia community because he did not comply with a sharia law, but you know in an Islamic society, there is, we observe, there are some social vices that is not good both in the Christianity and Islam, but see in the Christianity aspect they feel that especially the issue of alcohol, we know even in Christianity 60-70% they say is not good, if not for the Catholic that say drink don't be drunk ko? That is why you see they try to beat it down, some people, they say no, there shouldn't even be an alcohol, some would say ok, there should be alcohol but there should be a specified environment, a non-Muslim living in an Islamic society if he cannot comply with this law, is on his own reason basically it is to his own knowing.

Th13.2: Achieving Multi-religious Coexistence in an Islamic State

KD1 [50165-50495]

Just simply look at how did it happen during the time of the prophet, how did he do it? Then follow suit. Then just be a copy cat and do and follow it and there won't be any problem because it has happened over one thousand four hundred years ago. So there is no reason why it cannot happen now, if human being is still the same.

KD2 [21050-21232]

Multi-religious co-existence can be achieved in a state or in a sharia state where all people are allowed to practice their religion successfully without being embarrassed actually.

KD3 [16893-17305]

Is their own religion without stepping on anybody's... In a sharia state, the saying that, the question how can multi-religious co-existence be achieved in a sharia compliant state is that when we say a sharia compliant state it means a state that almost may be ninety nine percent of the people in that particular state are Muslims, so you rarely find the Christians there, you rarely find the non-Muslims there.

KD4 [37755-39434]

Yah, Islam or a sharia state it has its own rules, it accommodates, it accommodates non-Muslims. So as a non-Muslim since you are, as long as you agree to live under the tenets of Islam, under the wings of Islam, then Islam does not deprive you from observing your religion, but rather you should know that you are under a state which has a rule. Let me give you an example, in a sharia state, when a Muslim steal to a particular amount, he is tantamount to be cut, his hand is tantamount to be cut, but in that same state when a non-Muslim steals that same amount, he is not going to be judged according to a sharia rather he is to be judged according to the secular law. Despite he is non-Muslim, but since he is not, sharia as you see it that is one thing that always baffles me. People think that when you impose sharia law, you have to force it to be complied by even the non-Muslims. Sharia is applicable to Muslim living in that sharia state, non-Muslims as long as they accept to be under the tenets of Islam, to obey, to respect their selves, to respect the rules and regulations of Islam, then there is no problem. Whatever they want they can do it as long as they don't contradict the rules, provoke Muslims that are living in that territory because when you say a sharia state, it is totally a territory that is occupied, belong and even it is in position of a Muslim who practices the true Islamic religion. So, as long as non-Muslim will obey, we will understand this and we will tolerate and will always believe to live under the auspices, under the wings, under the tenets of Muslims then there is no problem of them being a multi-coexistent in an Islamic state.

KD5 [19419-19822]

I think that is very easy. In a sharia compliant state, I think it is very easy to achieve that because Islamic religion is a religion of peace and the leaders, they are very God fearing. So because of that I think non-Muslims or another religion can co-exist with Islamic religion in an Islamic compliant state. That is very possible.

KD6 [34487-34632]

I told you prophet Muhammad (SAW) lived the non-muslims, the Jews and others and they sat together, they were together, so we can copy from him.

KD7 [26358-26495]

Very easy. Once we are sharia total compliant, even a non-Muslim, non-Muslims from everywhere will want to come, they will want to come.

KD8 [48616-48903]

Of course it is very easy because the non-Muslim has rights. There are certain rights that he has. He has right to his life, he has right to his integrity, he has right to, so Islam has already specified the right of a non-Muslim in an Islamic state. So, there is no any problem at all.

KD9 [32868-33328]

In a sharia compliant state, the non-Muslims must abide by the rule and there would be no problem, then you can practice your religion. How do you abide by the rules, the rules of sharia, you don't because you are not a Muslim you use your religion to disturbed the society and your duties to the government, you have to pay them. So it is as simple as that. If you agree to these then of course you are allowed to be a Christian or Jew in an Islamic society.

KD10 [26228-26276]

I don't know. I don't have any answer for that.

KD11 [29079-29130]

Justice and every group is accorded it own rights.

KD12 [30954-31218]

Ah Multi-religious co-existence can be achieved a sharia state where the non-Muslims knows that the government is being controlled by the sharia and then sharia is also, it has been stated in sharia too that the observances of their rights should be maintained.

KD13 [12766-12921]

You see, you don't have anything to do with the non-Muslims, you understand, they are free to live and you are free to make use of your Islamic teachings.

KD14 [16597-17126]

Any either an Islamic state or a sharia compliant state there is freedom of religion now and normally sharia is always, is just imposed on the Muslims not the non-Muslims. If for example, a Muslim steal in a sharia compliant state there is a particular judgment for that, but if a Christian in that particular state steal we are not going to give that same judgment to that person, maybe we have to go back to the constitution and based on what the person stole, punish that person accordingly. It is only applicable to Muslims.

KD15 [23966-24211]

Ah I have told you earlier on Islam is a religion of God, it simply means peace, so far they won't go against each other as in they won't go against the law of Islam and ahm I think everybody can leave in peace so everybody can live in peace.

KD16 [14654-14691]

That is through comparative studies

KD17 [44664-45351]

Multi-religious co-existence can be achieved in a sharia compliant state yes because Islam there is no religion that allows freedom to other non-Islamic tenants as Islam does. If you are a non-Muslim, you are not compelled to follow the Islamic law in an Islamic state. When anything is done your law or your book of your religion will be used to judge you, so the Islamic state gives you religion, gives other non-Islamic religions freedom to practice their religion as far as they don't go beyond their limits by impounding on other Muslim faithfuls their rights. Justice is just what is there in Islamic as in everybody should be treated the way they are supposed to be treated, justice.

KD18 [20526-20641]

Yes, the multi-religion can, they can exist that is if there is a mutual understanding between both religions. Yes

KD19 [27026-27427]

Yes eh multi-religious coexistence could be achieved in the sense that the rights of everybody needs to be taken care of. If the rights of both the Muslims and non-Muslims are being taken care of, then there could be multi-religious coexistence, you see Muslims and Christians and even followers of other religions living side by side in peace and harmony as long as their rights are being protected.

KD20 [20922-21016]

It can be achieved if there is understanding, tolerance, in the state or in the country, yes

KD21 [19566-19751]

As we said earlier, if non-Muslims tend to abide by the law of the Islamic state, they wouldn't attack the Muslims, they are going to pay their tax, I think it is going to be achieved.

KD23 [21077-21201]

Ah this questing is somehow bulk, is somehow bulk, is somehow controversial yes so ah I will put a stop on that question.

KD24 [62855-63461]

They can be, they can come together and have, stay inside one umbrella a normal life of peace, normal life of peace, but according to the religion's perspectives, those ones it may be impossible, but based on natural life situation, it is possible because we will work towards achieving one goal building the nation, building the country, leading the people forward, so in this I don't think they will come there and tell me this is how to pray, this is how to perform oblation, no. This one is the issue of what will make the country to be developed, then we can come together and discuss on such issues.

KD25 [82529-83111]

In as much as every religion respects the other religion, But they practice their own religion. In as much as there is respect between the religions that is all everybody practice his own, God knows eh those that are on the right path, we the Muslims should conduct ourselves in the best Islamic manner and then others Christians, Jews, let them conduct their own, but there should be that respect of religion, tolerance, tolerance, if there is tolerance and there is respect of one, of each other's religion then there will be peace, no matter the multiple religions that we have

KD26 [23955-24303]

Multi religious coexistence. I think it can be achieved as long as the sharia compliant state, then non-Muslims that are there or the other religions that are there should know that the laws guiding that state are the sharia law. So they should be able to comply with the law and then if they do comply, then definitely there will be coexistence.

KD27 [23998-24033]

It has been practiced before now.

KD28 [30061-30356]

The coexistence of multi-religions can exist in a sharia compliant state, but if the sharia is restricted to either to the Muslims or those that are affected they know what sharia means. Once you understand the sharia and you know it affects you and you follow it then you must live together.

KD29 [18238-18311]

Well the provision of sharia has permitted that to usher in the society.

KD30 [32416-32759]

Ahm it has been done once where in an Islamic state we have ah non-Islamic community and are left to practice their own religion without any interference for as long as ah they pay the normal tax as every individual does ahm it is there, there is always space for them to ahm to have their own religions so religion without any interference.

KD33 [22351-22503]

Yah it can be achieved when the Muslims practice their religion correctly and the non-Muslim or the other religion practices their religions correctly.

KD34 [24678-24964]

In a sharia complaint state, sharia is meant for Muslims even if a sharia is introduced in a particular state, it did not say that it will affect the non-Muslims and then again there is a provision in the constitution that if you are not a Muslim should be enforced sharia law on you.

KD35 [26118-26218]

Ahh it can only be achieved when only qisas is made forceful, is made forceful, is made mandatory.

KN1 [56325-56424]

It was achieved based on fairness. It has been fair to all, it gives everybody what is due to him.

KN2 [31034-31370]

Ai it is sharia compliance that translates into multi-religious or pluralism. It is sharia laws that clearly translate that issue of pluralism. When it says La kum di la kum waliyya din meaning practice your religion and I practice my own. Let us have respect for each other. So pluralism is achieved one hundred percent under sharia.

KN4 [45382-45431]

By giving all rights to practice their religion.

KN5 [26152-26330]

When we have a sharia compliant state you should just be justice the provision for eh for this thing for the coexistence is there and if you are just it is going to be achieved.

KN6 [29115-29428]

So, it can be achieved multi-religion because Islam does not mean to debunk all their religion. They would be given all the necessary protection and they have freedom to their religion and freedom does not mean maybe to spoil their others religion but this freedom should be limited to some certain specific rule.

KN7 [26054-26312]

Uhm the religious coexistence can be achieved because ehm, Islam is a religion that welcomes different ideology because ehm, it, it understands the fact that yes, there are Muslims and there are non-Muslims. So yes it can, it can coexist, yes it can coexist.

KN8 [27262-27562]

That is why I said it should be sentimentally free by permitting people's views and opinions, let everybody be accommodated by challenging peoples view and opinion, let everybody be accommodated but not basing it on religious bias. I think you understand, through that everybody can be incorporated.

KN9 [24015-24236]

When each and every, when the dos and don'ts are clearly spelt out. What this religion is supposed to do is clearly stated and what that religion is supposed to do is clearly stated then they can peacefully coexist hmm.

KN10 [18518-18877]

Yes it can be achieved in a sharia state because I can remember in the city of Medina during the prophet, during his time, there is a lot of multi-religions, there is those that are non-Muslims, there is the Christians, there is Jewish and they are all doing their religion, no any restrictions, so and Medina is Islamic state at that time, so it is accepted.

KN11 [25208-25268]

By understanding one another; by understanding one another.

KN13 [28143-28622]

Multi-religious coexistence uhm, you can-it is actually going to exist except it has been stated in that particular state that it- it is even very impossible for you to see a state whereby there are no, whereby there are no unbelievers even in Islamic state. There are some sects in the Islamic state that definitely there are some minor, there are some minority definitely that are not believers, so definitely I don't think there is a, there is a way we can tackle that issue.

KN14 [21987-22135]

Yes it can be achieved because prophet (SAW) lived ah with non-Muslims and he is his state is sharia state but there are non-Muslims in that period.

KN15 [20334-20496]

Yah multi-religious coexistence can be achieved in a sharia compliant state because it happened during you know the time of the holy prophet. It can be achieved.

KN16 [10942-11056]

Multi-religious coexistence can be achieved in a sharia compliant state because it happened during prophet (SAW)

KN18 [41122-41231]

Through tolerance now, tolerate one another, accommodate them, give them right also of worship. Its normal.

KN19 [25009-25169]

Uh it would be very hard for such to occur because other religions cannot permit sharia to be given over them, as such it will be very problematic and chaotic.

KN20 [18714-18761]

Everybody should follow the rule in the state.

KN21 [12548-12572]

In a democratic manner.

KN22 [25663-26280]

Yeah, it could be achieved because I have said it earlier on that when you follow through the early generation of Islam, we have seen where there are Jews, you know, there are Jews living close to the prophet of Islam and they are being protected, their rights have been protected, their properties have been protected. In fact during the early generation of Islam there is a treaty signed, what we call Christian treaty then, Christian treaty signed in Saudi Arabia, the present day Saudi Arabia where the lives and properties of Christians were being protected, they are seen as indigenous members of a community.

KN23 [17440-17609]

Yah, it can be achieved, like what I told you about the jizya, if a non-Muslim want to stay in an Islamic state he has to pay jizya for his security and everything.

KN24 [17216-17258]

Through harmonious and democratic manner.

KN25 [27047-27291]

This can be achieved by clearly stating the dos and don'ts of each religion. I think if every religion states out the dos and don'ts, I think it will go a long way in ensuring mutual cooperation and coordination among the two different faiths.

KN26 [25676-26297]

Yah just respect for everyone. That is largely, let me be frank with you, in Nigeria largely that is our problem. Apart from being a multi-religious state we are also multi-cultural, you understand, and ah these are things that have to do with faith and value system and there is nothing that can go deep in a man's life, when I mean a man's life I mean people's lives than things they value. If somebody values his religion, his or her religion and things of the religion, respect that. If he has cultures, there are some rituals he does, things of value he holds, respect them equally. I think this is very important.

KN27 [19797-19952]

Multi-religious coexistence can exist especially when there is this understanding, mutual understanding between the religions that exist within the state,

KN28 [15682-15785]

Well in a democratic manner. Multi-religious co-existence can be achieved in a sharia complaint state.

KN29 [513-689]

Actually both party being the Muslims available the Christians in the society should always follow the rule of law, follow the constitution and everybody will live peacefully.

KN30 [15939-15971]

Harmoniously and democratically

KN31 [23545-24634]

Well it is just everybody respecting each other's religion and trying to understand because it is only when we understand ourselves that we can be able to live with ourselves. So just understand each other's religion know what the rules of the religion is talking and the other one is talking and I think that there will be no problem as far as we respect each other's – I think so many conflicts that we have had most especially like ah in the northern part of Nigeria was as a result of may be Christians trying to violate Islamic rules. I think there are some places whereby the prophet's name was insulted and I think one other time that they said may be they did some is it Miss beauty pageant, which is against Islamic injunctions. So by the time when our Islamic or religious leaders want to sit down trying to educate people, enlighten people more about these things we understand ourselves and we –something that can easily be dialogued and- but I think conflict does not solve the problem but rather increases it because after destruction you have to be thinking of renovation.

KN32 [11722-11968]

as I have said before through a peaceful and democratic manner. During the times of the prophets He lived peacefully, harmoniously with the non Muslims and in a sharia compliance state so I think we can also emulate that by the grace of God.

KN33 [9262-9302]

Is by respecting each other's religion.

KN34 [14968-15022]

Once there is justice then everything will be solved.

KN35 [16223-16346]

This can be done through religious tolerance that is the acceptability of all the religions being practiced in the state.

KN36 [16661-16879]

It can be achieved in peaceful way if each can respect the tenet or the rules or the sharia, even the non-Muslims and the Muslims can live together and practice their religion and worship their God without any crisis.

KN37 [15094-15318]

I don't think it is necessary. Multi-religious practice is not necessary in a sharia state. It is not necessary at all. But even if it is necessary it will simply mean that respecting others to practice their own religion.

KN38 [10983-11125]

Protecting the rights of individuals both the Muslims and non-Muslims. In fact Islam preaches respect to other people's beliefs and religion.

KN39 [18907-19060]

Yes of course by respecting those non-Muslims; that is to say whenever their rules are being respected not being neglected by Muslims and Muslim rulers.

KN40 [16102-16111]

No idea.

KN41 [13479-13562]

This can be achieved in the sense that everyone is allowed to practice his faith.

KN42 [31019-31735]

Everything we have been trying to say from the beginning onward has always boiled down to tolerance. If you can tolerate my religion I don't see why we can't live together. Take example in Nigeria, there is Christianity, there is Islam, there is the religious people, the traditional worshippers. We all live together because we tolerate one another or we pretend to tolerate one another. So when there is tolerance, that's the only way forward. When people tolerate one another, they can live in peace, without tolerance, there is no hope for multi-religious country' survival. The most important ingredient in a multi-religious country is when there is peace, when there is tolerance, and there is accommodation.

KN43 [23400-23796]

Is the issue of one, people should be properly oriented, and the people should respect the religious beliefs of one another. If you are a Muslim you should practice your Islam. If someone is non-Muslim, he should be allowed to practice his religion the way he likes or according to the teaching of that religion. So if that is done I think the Muslims and non-Muslims would coexist harmoniously.

KN44 [18224-18573]

People are allowed to practice their religion. So there is nothing special about the existence of non-Muslims in a sharia compliant state. We have many of them around us, so and they have been carrying out their businesses unmolested. So I think it is quite possible to have a multi-cult, multi-religious ah society within a sharia compliant state.

KN45 [25825-26432]

Yah, I think it is easy in a sharia compliant state if they follow the tenets of the sharia. The tenets of sharia make provisions for everyone to live in peace with one another. They encourage, sharia encourage peaceful eh peaceful coexistence as shown by the prophet himself. He lived with the Jewish, he ehh he live with ehh with Christians, he even send his first batch of followers to a Christian king in Ethiopia where they were received ehh and were given protection by a Christian king and ehh it was reported that the prophet of Islam Muhammad (SAW) ehh prayed for that Christian king when he died.

KN46 [44723-45836]

Well, I think the recent history is Ottoman Empire which was ah maybe ah abolished around 1923 or 1924. It was a sharia state, but Muslims and non-Muslims were living under same leadership. I am not saying Ottoman sultanate was an ideal example of how Islamic state should be or sharia state should be, but I am just giving an historical example of what actually happened.

Yes, some non-Muslims under Ottoman sultanate complained of being oppressed or being persecuted and this should not have happened. So a multi, a multi-religious society can live happily and peacefully in a sharia state because during the time of the prophet (SAW) he encouraged this ah harmonious coexistence between Muslims and the Jews and there were no problems until certain ah treason was committed by some Jews. So to me, it is very, very possible for a multi-religious society to live peacefully and even happily in a sharia state. In fact, Islam, sharia state does not mean ah only Muslims living, an all Muslim states, no. It only means that sharia laws are being applied in the affairs of that particular state. That is all.

KN47 [43075-43280]

Ok what they should simply live, they can simply-people with different, you know, ah faith they should come together and live together, you know, respecting their own values, if they respect their values...

KN48 [13620-13747]

When there is understanding, good understanding and there is there is respect in between the, in between the multi-religions.

KN49 [23575-23690]

Ahh as long as people practice the true tenets of the religion and as long as there is justice. That could happen.

KN50 [11968-12001]

Ah respect for each other's view.

KN52 [35521-36036]

Multi-religious coexistence could be achieved by sharia compliant state by adhering to the principles of the sharia because everything is provided for in the sharia. The framework for peaceful coexistence, no compulsion in religion, the protection of the rights of all non-believers, their rights must be guaranteed, you understand, for this kind of religious pluralism to exist. So it's not rocket science. The law is there and law is very clear about what must be done to have a peaceful multi-religious society.

KN54 [9072-9126]

Let me say, well tolerance and abiding by the sharia

KN55 [9874-9908]

If the sharia is followed rightly

KN56 [16546-16599]

Through following the sharia rightly and completely.

KN57 [15673-15710]

By living in peace with one another.

KN58 [35514-35740]

A multi-religious coexistence yah that is if you are having Dar el harb where by the state allows the existence of non-Muslims. So multiple religions would abide or they would exist side by side with the Islamic sharia system.

KN59 [29528-30088]

It can be achieved by involving the non-Muslims in the state, you understand. Take for instance, now in Kano here, you understand, there is one local Government called Fagge, the local Government is in Kano, but majority of them are non-Muslims, you understand in the political affairs there, in the secretariat there I am part of them, they do engage the non-Muslim in decisions making, you understand, there are Christians, there are idol worshippers and there are Muslims, but they do engage in decision making within that local government, you understand.

KN60 [26486-26679]

So far we have the sharia compliant state, it enshrines how the right of every individual no matter his believe would be given to him. So that religious coexistence would be achieved actually.

KN61 [13408-13456]

Yah, through, through, through implementations.

KN62 [43376-43701]

Well multi-religious coexistence, this is something very difficult to understand ahh but in a nutshell multi-religious coexistence is possible as it was in the days and times of the noble prophet. He lived in Mecca and Medina with ah different people that were not ah Muslims. I believe in this, so it is very much possible.

KN63 [31611-31978]

Sharia doesn't forsake other religions, even though you are practicing sharia in Kano, for example, now that doesn't stop maybe the Christian or whatever to stop their own religion or to drive them away. They still allow them to practice their religion and as expected of them. So sharia doesn't preach maybe only Islam should be in that locality or whatever, is not.

KN64 [22632-22684]

You will give the right for religion for everybody.

KN65 [27645-28077]

Yah, multi-religious eh coexistence can be achieved if only we respect each other and follow what the sharia say on how to treat non-Muslims even in the period of Rasul there are non-Muslims residing in Medina, there are also non-Muslims residing in Mecca and there is ah coexistence that was ah established, you understand. So if we learn to respect each other's religion, therefore, that means there is going to be coexistence.

KN66 [16344-16589]

Multi-religious coexistence can be achieved in a sharia compliant provided the non-Muslims can pay up, can be able to, provided the non-Muslims can be able to pay up the jizya tax which would, which would segregate them from the, from the laws.

KN67 [17242-17388]

Well if the people and the government follow the sharia correctly. I think if you follow the sharia as it is then there would not be any problem.

KN68 [8591-8635]

Through justice and giving to each his due.

KN69 [30435-30592]

It would be achieved by considering their freedom and right in so far as that freedoms will not abuse what has been provided under the principle of sharia.

KN71 [52338-53610]

It can be achieved through dialogue, dialogue (recites a verse of the Qur'an) let us come together, let us come together, let us discuss, let us know the right thing to do. We know you are Muslim, we know you are Jewish, we know you are Christians, we know you that you are traditionalist, you know we are Muslim, but these an Islamic state and you should know the right of Islam, let us know your right too. How do you want us to protect it, let me give an example, there is this, I don't know whether he is dead or alive Aku Okar of Wukari, I heard him say it himself in one of their conferences that during Sultan Abubakar, you know Sultan Abubakar of Sokoto, any circular from the office of the Sultan would circulate all the Emirs, all the chiefs of the northern state, not only Sokoto caliphate and they abide, he was saying it himself. He said now because you discriminated us, you only consider the people of Sokoto caliphate, that is why we are your now having problem, but before they were all under the Sultan. Even the fasting circular that the moon is sighted somewhere, the Sultan will now post the letter out Aku Okar of Wukari in Tarabe state, a non-Muslim because his religion is recognized in the state not for his religion but for the people under him.

KN72 [28981-29166]

Through tolerance, through tolerance, we have to tolerate the difference between, that exist among us. That is all what we can eh that is what can help to exist in Islamic state, yes.

KN73 [28283-28445]

It has happened in history. It is not the first time and it has happened in history. So when you dig back into the history and we can find that it has happened.

KN74 [39342-39513]

Okay eh this can be eh okw multi-religious coexistence can be or can only be achieved through the integrity that is the unity cooperation among Muslims and non-Muslims.

KN75 [42448-42576]

Yes, if there is a cooperation or understanding between the religions, various religions in the society yes sharia can coexist.

KN76 [30657-31166]

Well it is very possible because that sharia is for the Muslims, not for the non-Muslims and the Muslims and non-Muslims can exist in an Islamic sharia state in harmony in as much as the non-Christians do not try to infringe on the right or do not ahh actually ahh look down upon the practice of the religion by the Muslims and vice-versa. Muslims should also rule, should not look down upon the religion of the non-Muslims and should not infringe on the rights of the non-Muslims to practice their religion.

KN78 [47835-48567]

(Laughing) Well Islam in history has really, ahh in the past history ahh for more than 1000 years, has been living side by side with Muslims and non-Muslims. It is there in the history of Islam from the time of Muhammad (SAW), there are people who are not Muslims, but ahh by the way, who even prefer to live under the Islamic state because of the just and fairness ahh then ahh during the time of Muhammad, of course during the time of other Islamic rulers you can see like Umar bin Abdulazeez, like, in fact it is part of, so multi-culturalism is not a new phenomenon per se. It is only new in magnitude, in degree but the even in the past centuries, Muslims and non-Muslims have been living side by side under the Islamic state.

KN80 [37388-37702]

Yes, yes this can only be achieved when the both ah religions, both the Muslims and Christians understand that they are all created by God and it is by God's which one becomes Muslim and one becomes Christian. So once this is understood so a lot of conflicts will be eliminated and understanding will be improved.

KN81 [22959-23085]

Okay through agreement, discussion between Muslims and non-Muslims like what happen during the life time of the holy prophet.

KN82 [26347-26479]

Sharia has a provision for both Muslims and non-Muslims. So it is possible for Muslims and non-Muslim to live under sharia system.

KN83 [16940-17055]

Actually it can be achieved through mutual agreement between Islamic government and other non-Muslims communities.

KN84 [19711-19944]

I think I will go back to history and this will be achieved based on what prophet Muhammad (PBUH) during or did in Medina where Muslims, Jews, Arabs and other tribes come and negotiate to make law abide by all religions and tribes.

KN85 [25942-26321]

Yes the right of non-Muslims should not be trampled. It should be protected. It should be observed, the state and its leaders should be just, they should be fair and they should be ahh benevolent to all. In such a situation you even see non-Muslims in other parts of the state, society coming into that part which is under the Islamic state because of the justice in that state.

ZA2 [27778-28059]

You see achievement of this is it not when people at that area are sincere, knowing, giving everybody is legal rights, allow everybody to participate in his own religion that will not bring disunity and lack of peace in the society. I think that is only way this can be achieved.

ZA4 [43219-43431]

It will take a very, unless you have to quit your seat by yourself because in multi-religious system like Nigeria I see you make them gabadaya to be Muslims. There is a problem is not possible, is not possible.

ZA5 [25050-25153]

Yes is by obeying the law and rules and regulations of that particular community or particular state.

ZA6 [59907-60201]

Ahh of course multi-religious coexistence would exist in a sharia state because there is a provision of freedom of religion in a sharia state, so every and there is no compulsion in religion like I previously told you. That is Islam. So everybody is free to practice is religion under sharia.

ZA7 [26591-27016]

Well multi-religious coexistence, from the question, I believe it is an Islamic state that has other religions there, I think it should be by respecting each other's religion, the fact that your the state is an Islamic state does not mean you should be aggressive on any other person that is not an Islamic, is not a Muslim. So I think it should be by respecting each other's religion and it should be by avoiding violence.

ZA8 [59208-59339]

It would be achieved if all those other religions are not going against the rules and regulations of the sharia compliant state.

ZA9 [31031-31126]

As long as everybody, as long as everybody behaves according to the laws. Like I said earlier...

ZA9 [31148-31366]

The sharia law, like I said earlier, sharia law gives room for other people to practice their religion. It does, it does because there are rights of a non-Muslim even in an Islamic state. They have their own rights.

ZA10 [28983-29154]

Is just to, is the awareness, Islamic awareness that is jihad fi sabilillah, when they have Islamic awareness, they know what Islam is they will have strong coexistence.

ZA11 [23919-24089]

By having a very good leader and in the Qur'an and the hadith and the rest, we have a way of living that is conducive for both Muslims and non-Muslims, so it is allowed.

ZA12 [14494-14565]

Is by setting the rules and regulations for each as in for the state.

ZA13 [14583-14606]

Through understanding.

ZA14 [19236-19326]

By cooperating and preaching what Allah said and follow what prophet Muhammad (SAW) said.

ZA15 [22544-22583]

When you give everybody his due right.

ZA16 [15780-15811]

By giving everybody his right.

ZA17 [17702-17929]

Ok where there is so many religions there while sharia is practiced, ok it can be done when you know your own, I know my own, both of us are trying to understand the way and manners we suppose to live in, that is the knowledge.

ZA18 [22141-22506]

You see, the Islamic religion has made provisions for everything. The prophet Muhammad (SAW), as I have told you earlier on, that he lived with Jews and the Christians hmm. So there are certain rules whatever, so we will now go back and study those ones, yauwa, then we practicalize, the Islamic religion has provision for everything and at whatever circumstances.

ZA19 [30428-31052]

Ah it could exist because of certain factors. Muslims are the ones who are known to have a sharia state while the other religions could thrive in that particular state for virtually economic reasons that is transaction of trade and services, to work for Muslims and Muslims would pay them just as it is allowed for a Muslim to work under a non-Muslim without cheating him, without actually violating the teachings of Islam because Islam discourages cheating and so many other things, so non-Muslims or multi-religion could thrive in a sharia state without actually having violence or conflict among these various religions.

ZA20 [19588-20640]

In a Sharia compliant state like in my home state, there is an interfaith group, interfaith organization that involves the Christian representation and the Muslim representation all of them as a group. So they stand out in uniting people in the state. Here in Kaduna it means the same thing. Recently, not even up to a week ago, El-Rufai, governor El-Rufai , governor Nasir Ahmed El-Rufai has inaugurated a committee called Public Resolution Commission, Public Resolution Commission. This is an organization, a parastatal that was inaugurated by the state governor Nasir Ahmed El-Rufai with a view to curtail you know all sorts of conflicts that is happening in the state. You know those things as communal clashes characterized by religious mentality between Christians and Muslims, and mostly it is the quest for power that brings this not necessarily in the defense of the religions between the two faiths. But this committee inaugurated by El-Rufai will be helping the state in the near future. So Kaduna will remain in peace forever insha allah.

ZA21 [24252-24476]

Well we can say if somebody can be kind and generous to non-Muslims they can even convert to his religion which is Islam. Therefore if one is treated fairly and justly, mutual coexistence will also prevail in that society.

ZA22 [21641-21921]

As I said-as we said earlier they have their religion we have ours. They know their boundaries and limitations then they should just come we can coexist together. There is no any problem if somebody should adhere strictly to the instructions or to the teachings of his religion.

ZA23 [30866-31050]

Only where every member of a religion will comply to the teachings of his religion and the government of the day should make everything possible to see for that peaceful coexistence.

ZA24 [36394-36904]

Multi-religious coexistence can be achieved in a sharia compliant state because before we can establish sharia state it means that majority in that state are Muslims. So therefore if other religions are there, the only thing we show them the way, the right path to Islam. If they didn't embrace Islam we allow them, we leave them so far they are paying their tax, they are not disturbing us or they are not hypocritical to our religion therefore we can leave them and worship their whatever they believe in it.

ZA25 [31916-32270]

Yes it is by making decisions that Muslims should not harass non-Muslims and as I have said earlier justice should prevail in case there is a conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims. So the table should not be turned against non-Muslims just because they are non-Muslims. So it is only with that the coexistence will be achieved and perhaps sustained.

ZA26 [16272-16419]

Sharia respects anybody's rights. So sharia compliant state will give anybody equitable equal rights to participate and contribute in its own life.

ZA27 [14696-14752]

It is for each individual to respect other religions.

ZA28 [27607-27938]

Well if there is a very good understanding between the two or since they say multi- between the religious beliefs among the followers I think – the basic thing here is for everybody to respect the opinion of the other religion. So with this I guess they will have a peaceful coexistence between them and conflict will not arise.

ZA29 [40135-40382]

yes it can be achieved when the rules and the regulations of the religion is observed because the religion of Islam has given room and rules and regulations in which multi-religion can be practiced without chaos or conflict or misunderstanding.

ZA30 [51551-51712]

So, as I said earlier, I even made mention of treaty of hudabiyya. So you just refer back to our book that is the Qur'an and Sunna, everything is written on it.

ZA31 [22462-22474]

No idea.

ZA32 [58912-59192]

Ahhhh, the multi-religious co-existence, co-existence can be achieved by giving a freedom. Ah freedom of religion to everybody, to Muslims and non-Muslims and even to pagans giving them freedom, yes. We are not just going to deny them their right to practice their religion, yes.

ZA33 [17305-17572]

Yes it is achieved through mutual understanding and through coordination and sound and well established body that exists between the multi-religious states so that they will have a kind of mutual understanding of each other on their different religious backgrounds.

ZA34 [36022-36636]

One, as I said, the followers of the religions must know the teachings of their religion. If you are a Christian you should be versed in Christianity. Know the teachings of your Christianity. If you are a Muslim be versed in the knowledge of your religion. Know what the religion asks you to do, what it prohibited you from, if you are a Jew, like that, if you are upon other religions, like that. So you must or have to have the basic knowledge of the religion. Know the dos and the don'ts of your religion. That is that. And that is how you live with your other co-creator, your co-partner in the same society.

ZA35 [14966-14975]

No idea.

ZA37 [30225-30515]

So the issue of archiving that one should not arise because what we want is unified single religion. So we are not looking for the achievement of multi-religions or even those that are in the Islamic state now we are even trying to see that they understand Muslims (he recites a verse).

ZA38 [34188-34295]

It can be achieved when there is justice, equality and where we abide by the teachings of the sharia law.

ZA39 [46138-46807]

You see in a sharia compliant state, we simply mean a state that practices sharia that is an Islamic state. So we talk of non-Muslims, multi-religious co-existence I think this question is like a contradiction to itself, when you talk of multi-religious co-existence, then we cannot talk of multi-religious co-existence be achieved in a sharia complaint state. What is sharia complaint state? Of course let's say, ok, in this way it can be achieved where the sharia protects their interest and rights, freedom is fully protected that is freedom of non-Muslims in that state. So I think by doing this that is the only they can believe in it and allow it to continue.

Th13.3: Non-Muslim Political Participation in Islamic State

KD1 [51151-51165]

I don't know.

KD2 [21811-21962]

I think they can, the non-Muslims can participate in the political life of a state, in a sharia state if they comply with the teachings of that state.

KD3 [17851-17932]

They can just go about their normal life. There is no way they will participate.

KD4 [40242-41181]

I think I have already made this assertion clear. In a sharia state where there is need, there is a position, there is a place where they feel that non-Muslims can add impact, can add value to that state can be in, can be assistant in that state, then they can give him that position, they can bring him, for what, for the benefit of that same community because he is part and parcel of the community since Islam has accepted him to be under their upspring. I think there is no need of demarcating or taking or saying that a non-Muslim cannot have a position in a political life of an Islamic state. But it is advisable, it is advisable when there is a Muslim, a capable Muslim that is capable of occupying that place, he should be given rather than bringing a non-Muslim to occupy that space. That is my own view and my own assertion.

KD5 [20503-21019]

I don't think there is any way since there is no voting system in the appointment of leaders in a sharia state and the requirement for someone to be nominated to be a leader in a sharia state is vast knowledge of Holy Qur'an and the Hadith and the books of Islam. So, since those are the necessary things needed, I think there is no any way which non-Muslims can participate in the political life of the sharia state since it cannot be part of votes eh voting or part of the leadership. So, he cannot play any role.

KD6 [35333-35921]

A non-muslim will still participate, we are talking about modern days. So, you cannot get elected, even if it is jihad, you have to do mubaya'at to your leader and leader does not elect himself. It is among you people that you will elect your leader. How do you elect your leader? Is still by vote, is still by maybe secret ballot, anything you say is still by voting, whether you like it or not. I will not come today and say I am the leader of you people, you will never allow me. A leader is somebody that was allowed to take control over them willingly, that's the meaning of leader.

KD7 [27098-27339]

Non-Muslims, if there is a sharia state and there are non-Muslims in the state, they will always want to have a voice or a person that represent them that represent their way of life. So, he will always come out or she will always come out.

KD8 [50022-50568]

Ok a Christian participating in the political life of a sharia state. Well, that on I think it is a question that I don't think if I would be able to answer. How a non-Muslim can participate in an Islamic state, but fundamentally an Islamic state is a state that is ruled by the principles of Islam, rules and regulations of Islam. If you can abide by that, you can do it because if you look at like Egypt, there are Christians, if you look at Iraq, there are Christians, you understand. So if you abide by that, you can participate of course.

KD10 [26720-27132]

That is if we cannot get a Muslim to do that and we need it. If maybe the non-Muslim is the only non-Muslims that can, in social field, so we can employ them to work for us and pay them and that's all in an Islamic state. In an Islamic state the Christians can also live there, we can benefit from them, we can benefit from their knowledge even if they are Christian or they are non-Muslims in an Islamic state.

KD11 [29575-29911]

They may have their role especially if it is, if it has to do with their own governance, for instance, if it is in an Islamic state and we have a group of minority who are non-Muslims, he may be allowed to be an integral part of their administration in as much as they've recognized the legality of a state by paying jizya that is tax.

KD12 [32015-32645]

Ah they can participate very well Islam allows them to participate very well, where they know that they are going to maintain Islamic laws like we employing them into schools, we Muslims that have established schools we employ non-Muslim teachers there, but it is under compulsion that they must maintain principles there, they must not come to school bald headed. Firstly so what is been thought examples has to be given from the Muslim names and so on, when they can maintain that one there is no problem there. We Muslims too they employs us in their schools too that we obey what we obey their rules and regulation there too.

KD13 [13425-13439]

It is rare.

KD14 [17532-17635]

They can participate to contribute for that growth of that particular state. There are many ways now.

KD15 [24603-24737]

By obeying the law of Islam, ah by obeying the law of sharia and still by doing good deed and good character, so you can comprehend.

KD16 [15062-15078]

Please go ahead

KD17 [45865-46629]

A non-Muslims participate whereby the sharia is being established in the state. You can participate in various ways by allowing religious co-existence you are participating in one way. Living peaceful with the Muslim faithfuls you are participating in another way. Your social life, by the time you see people ok you are trading, you are doing one or two business, the Muslims can gain also, your too you will gain from the dividends of it. So there are different ways, you practice and there is freedom also for you to practice your religion because in an Islamic state, you are not disallowed to practice or you are not disallowed, you are given freedom to practice your religion the way your religion teaches you. In Islamic state there is freedom of religion.

KD18 [21411-21767]

Ah I don't think it is possible. It is not possible because the Qur'an is not just a book because those people you know they are following the Qur'an and hadith and those people when they come in they might misbehave, misbehaving and all this kind thing, so it is not possible for them to practice their things in a Muslim country, it's not possible. Yes.

KD19 [27780-27902]

Well, where sharia is being practiced, a non-Muslim cannot participate in the affairs of the Muslims. It is not possible.

KD20 [21533-21814]

There is no way they can participate because they, first they are non-Muslims and they know nothing about our rules and regulation so, they have to stay in a place where they are given and they should not cross their boundaries. That's it, they are not given that opportunity.

KD21 [20146-20456]

I still go with the example in my state Kano state Nigeria, has had sharia far back as early 2000, in places like Sabon gari with the Igbo and the Christians having a majority tend to have their own representatives, they should be allowed in a place where they have a vast majority to bring up representative.

KD23 [21600-21653]

So this question is supposed to go to a big scholar.

KD24 [65022-65043]

They can participate

KD24 [65092-65529]

Ah in life no single human being can stand, will stand on his own that is why God, Allah (SBUH) has created us and just like he said (recites in Arabic) even though he created you (he recites in Arabic) different perspective, different eh locations different traditions, but he said (recites in Arabic) you may know each other, you may interact with each other, one will depend on the other, one will gain from the other then actually.

KD25 [84074-84434]

Yes they can, in as much as it is within the reach of Islam or there is no how we can deny the non-Muslims even though it is an Islamic state deny them from maybe participating in the politics or maybe interacting with them, engaging in other things with them that does not mean anything. In as much as we don't practice their religion, we are still Muslims.

KD27 [24377-24453]

They can become part of governance. I told you there are precepts for that

KD28 [30962-31349]

Well non-Muslim can participate you know in a political in any provided where sharia is in the state, if they say that you follow the constitution and you know that you will not use to tamper the life and the practice of the Muslims, you have your freedom and you give them their rights, you give them their freedom of what they are doing then you can continue in whatever you are doing.

KD29 [18903-19095]

Well since ah Islam has ah permitted election, it is a result of the election that will justify. If somebody as a non-believer is found to be honest, trustworthy he can be elected by Muslims.

KD30 [33209-33388]

Ah not to a lot of extent because ah part of the criteria for you to participate in an Islamic state is you have to be a Muslim, so I think they don't have a major role to play.

KD33 [22969-23189]

A non-Muslim can participate in sharia state where there are, where they think they can help so there is no, there is no objection for any non-Muslim to participate in political, in politics in emm in an Islamic state.

KD34 [26036-26611]

Hmm there is different way they will participate because base on the constitution of Nigeria, people from a particular region they participated in the activities of their own state. If you are living a particular state which you are not the indigene of that state you will participate at the federal government levels, so a Muslim or non-Muslim can, a non-Muslim can participate in a state where is a sharia within the limit of the constitution, like doing their own private businesses, private companies or participating into a federal parastatals of that particular state.

KN1 [57092-57201]

In many ways. Now am saying under the leadership of Shehu Usman Danfodio, non-Muslims were given positions

KN1 [57255-57499]

can they contest in an Islamic state

Ans: It depends on how positions are given. Is it by appointment or by contesting? If it is by appointment the leadership can appoint them and give them positions. If it is by election they can be elected.

KN1 [58436-58597]

Well first of all they have to go through showing others the advantage and the beauty of their religion. That is how they should go about it, enlighten people

KN2 [31572-31819]

Their participation is minimal. There political participation is minimal, because being non-Muslims they will not have an opportunity for being among the leadership because Islamic state must be governed by a Muslim.

KN4 [45921-46334]

If he is of high quality, if he is of good character, if he is has a good history, you can contest, you can be anything, you can be part of the government as usual but all what people are looking is your identity, your quality, your confidence, your life are in the midst of the people is what will determine your leadership is what will determine your position, you can contest and have the sit in sharia state.

KN5 [27507-27734]

Where there are experts, only where there are experts or the best in a particular field of study or something like where they can contribute the best if there is need for that you give them if there is no you don't give them.

KN6 [29985-30288]

Through this justice, it can be happen through this justice, like I said it earlier, even some during the Sayyidina Umar there is some instances that occur that arise between Christian and Muslims and Muslims already build some ah churches to the Christian so there is no problem, they can participate.

KN7 [26849-27499]

Hmm, well that is if the need warrants, if the need warrants, I think, there should be places they can be slotted into and well if you look at a situation whereby there is a large number of non-Muslims that exist within the state. You should look for also a non-Muslim that has the ability and a capability of talking sense into other non-Muslims. As he would be in a better position of understanding and ehm understanding their languages, their complains and em he also is also a non-Muslim and he possess the same qualities with them. I think ehm, in one way or the other, yes they can be slotted into the political activities of an Islamic state.

KN8 [27984-28186]

It will be very difficult because the basis of an Islamic state is sharia, Quran, whereas the non-Muslims are not conversant with this, so I think this would be very difficult for them to participate.

KN9 [24909-25172]

Well, if, if as a last resort, if they must, if they must participate in government, it has to be, they have to occupy the least tangible position that is they have to occupy positions that are not sensitive, yes; just does positions that are at the grass root.

KN10 [19384-19453]

Ah, it is not allowed, it is not allowed for non-Muslims to do that.

KN11 [25736-26055]

He can participate even during the life time of prophet (SAW) Christians came to the prophet (SAW) and they made some complains and the prophet (SAW) gave them chances. But really, of course in Islam, the Qur'an is against or the Qur'an warns that not to hold or not take non-Muslim as our leader yes, I can't deny it.

KN13 [28857-29209]

Yah, non-Muslims can participate by definitely observing this major, the major rules of that particular society in the sense that ehm they pay their normal tax, they yah, in as much as they follow in the, the sharia according to order because it has been stipulated in a particular society that there shall not be done it shall, it should be followed.

KN14 [22775-22900]

So, non Muslim has nothing to do in a sharia state because ah ah as, from the name, sharia state, it has to do with Muslims.

KN15 [20802-20906]

I think a non-Muslim cannot participate in a state where sharia is in place, I see no reason for that.

KN16 [11350-11445]

Non-Muslim cannot participate in a state where sharia is in place, unless in personal issues.

KN18 [42458-42657]

Ah through participation now, in the political activities because in a sharia state if that state has a population of non-Muslims does not deprive the non-Muslims participation in the normal process.

KN18 [42674-42767]

Uhm it doesn't deprive them that right, they can participate because they have the right uhm

KN19 [25875-26088]

In that situation, I think in every Islamic society a non-Muslim is not allowed to rule over the Muslim because the person cannot rule according to the willing of the Qur'an so as such it will be very difficult.

KN20 [18995-19079]

They can participate so long they believe in the in the constitution of the state.

KN21 [12865-12910]

In a number of ways but it must be limited.

KN22 [26607-26973]

Yah, non-Muslim can participate in sharia state, but with the intention and with the objective of following the sharia legal system. He is not a Muslim but he will dispense his responsibility based on sharia doctrine, then non-Muslim can participate. We have seen that in the Middle East. We have seen that in Egypt and we have seen the Coptic Christians in Egypt.

KN23 [18329-18367]

Yah, commercially they can participate

KN24 [17613-17681]

They should perform just like any other Muslim but with limitations

KN25 [28020-28440]

Well I think it is, I basically believe it is allowed for non-Muslims to occupy positions in an Islamic state but they should never ever be allowed to the top position. Whatever position they must occupy must be a position at the grassroots, just in order to give them the idea that-the notion that they are among the government that they are part of the governing body, to give them a sense of belonging in the state.

KN26 [27662-27780]

Mostly is just of respecting the life of the Muslims and also knowing how to channel their own wants and desires, yes

KN27 [20414-20805]

There are other activities, let me say, that are not very significant enough that we feel ok yes a non-Muslim can take care of this position. And you feel ok in may be mobilizing the non-Muslims and in passing messages to them, you feel a non-Muslim can do so. Yes you can appoint him as may be a transmitter. And as a transmitter I don't think this position is so significant enough, yes.

KN27 [20871-20927]

Yes they should, but there should be limitation in it.

KN28 [16206-16403]

It actually goes with the compliances of the state itself, the sharia state. The non-Muslims should-only if they can go with the principles of the Sharia state. That is the only way out I believe.

KN29 [1247-1517]

Since sharia is in place and they are non-Muslims there should be a limit to everything they do. Since they are non-Muslims and sharia law has given us modalities to follow, they should be restricted; there should be a limit to how they should participate in politics.

KN30 [16300-16340]

They should participate but with limits.

KN31 [25793-26017]

Ah actually now, you know, that can be very, very possible. Just like I have said if they will try and commit their selves to live in accordance with Islamic laws and give also come out to fight for their political rights.

KN32 [12382-12440]

It should be in of course a limited and restricted manner.

KN33 [9609-9634]

As like normal citizens

KN34 [15931-16318]

Like in their business activities. Nobody will stop them from participating maybe to contribute their own part in businesses of that particular area. So equally maybe in working in that particular state, nobody will prevent them. So even in education they should also fulfill their quarter nobody will say just because you are non-Muslim you should not participate in particular aspect.

KN35 [16675-16834]

Since the non-Muslims are also part and parcel of the society, they can vote and be voted for so they can make their own contribution to the society they live.

KN36 [17367-17616]

He can participate at all if he can obey the rules and regulations of the sharia because even in the time of Rasulu (SAW) he lived with non-Muslims and they carter for their own needs without any crisis like what we are having in the society today.

KN37 [15686-15905]

In a number of ways. Firstly, let me just say, they can contribute to national decisions of the sharia state and they can, in one way or the other, be the bureaucracy keepers of the Muslims living in the sharia state.

KN38 [11390-11541]

They can be part of the state by giving helping hand to the state, being good citizens, advising the government, vote and be voted and so many others.

KN39 [19552-19750]

Really of course there are so many procedures where non-Muslims can participate in the Muslims politics, for example, by engaging into elections and by also making a social life with those Muslims.

KN40 [16371-16380]

No idea.

KN41 [13909-13968]

I am lost at this please can you move to the next question

KN42 [32484-33026]

When a non-Muslim is seen and said to be actually trustworthy, he is allowed to own political offices even within an Islamic state. If he is seen to be nice, to be good, to be accommodating, to be nice to his neighbors, his fellow brothers and his fellow human. He is actually considered a nice citizen and then given a position of trust within the Islamic state. There is no discrimination whatsoever in an Islamic state of who can and cannot own a political position as long as the person is transparent and has got the right credentials.

KN43 [24564-24892]

Yah, by obeying the rules and regulations governing the state. That is the most important participation is even to me more important than holding an office. The essence of rules and regulations is to be obeyed. So if you obey the rules and regulations, then you participate indirectly in that ah political, you know, apparatus.

KN44 [18894-19121]

We have said it before that non-Muslims are allowed to practice their religion and they can be given some level of political freedom in what is perhaps, regarded as an Islamic state. They can be allowed some political freedom.

KN45 [27023-27411]

Ahh, I think he is free to-a Muslim let me say one thing that will answer all these types of questions. A Muslim can conduct any business; a Muslim can be involved in any kind of thing if that thing eh or that business eh is not clearly eh in conflict with the Islamic law. If it is not in conflict then a Muslim can participate in all endeavors and excel and Islam encourage that too.

KN46 [46529-47059]

As they normally do in any other, in any other setting whether it is sharia or not, whether the state is sharia compliant or not. They should participate fully, they should give their support to their leaders because the problem of not having a good governance in place is the biggest problem because without good governance, even if you have people are who claim to be applying sharia law, you will not have what you want. You will not get a good life, you will not live peacefully because there is this mis-governance in place.

KN47 [43954-44363]

Well, you can simply-there are many other ways that you can say non-Muslims participate in the political life of a state because in Iraq, Tariq Azeez, Tariq Azeez in Iraq even though Tariq Azeez was a Christian he held a very, very high position in the Saddam's government. So you can simply be of use in the process of leadership even if you are not a Muslim, So nowadays there is understanding between you.

KN48 [14079-14198]

Hmm, since there is equal right, I think it should be in a normal way Muslims are doing there's, are doing their own.

KN49 [24053-24230]

Of course in the relevant ways. If there are relevant ways and there are, there are roles for them to play, I am of the opinion that they should be allowed to play those roles.

KN50 [12329-12469]

Ehh a non-Muslim can also participate the way Muslims participate in non, in non sharia compliant state, sorry in a sharia compliant state.

KN52 [36456-37168]

Well they can of course participate like, for instance, I don't know if Kano is still a sharia state but theoretically, perhaps, it is, but I remember there was a time that recently Kwankwaso appointed a non-Muslim as a Legal adviser or the chief judge of the state, yes she was from Kano, but was not a Muslim. It doesn't matter. That's the point I am making, so it is possible for a non-

Muslim to be part of the governance of an Islamic state, you understand? But that might be in an ideal situation perhaps, but technically or rather in practice, it could be difficult, it could be really difficult because of the experiences we have had of religious and interreligious relations in Northern Nigeria recently

KN54 [9414-9459]

Ok, in a way as to bring development to all.

KN55 [10198-10229]

By contributing in their ways.

KN56 [16977-17053]

They should strive to contribute to the overall development of the society.

KN57 [16184-16212]

Tolerance with one another.

KN58 [36276-36637]

Ahh there are certain limitations. They can participate in the economic sphere whereby they can trade in as much as they obey. They have rights to own properties. They have rights to interact. They have rights to even advise the government. These are all participation. It is only when it comes to full political participation that there would be limitations.

KN60 [27125-27571]

You see so far you have, you have a segment of people living among other people, there is no harm if you appoint a non-Muslim to perform a certain action under the Islamic state, there is no harm. At least he would be given some guidance on the rules and regulation that is now give him the rules and regulations that would now tell him this is what we want you do and this is what we don't want you to do. So it is allowed and it is permitted.

KN61 [13802-13831]

It has already been stated.

KN62 [44640-44895]

Yah, ah I can't say anything about this because I have never read and I have never discussed this issue with anybody whether a non-Muslim can participate in the political life of a state where sharia is in place. I really don't say, I can't say anything.

KN63 [32624-32939]

Ah, it can, of course it can be, it can guarantee them ah they can do their trading their successfully, they can practice their religion successfully, they can school, they can do whatever they like in that society as we huh, you know, so even their right is guaranteed and their occupation whatever is guaranteed.

KN64 [23045-23076]

Yes, they can contribute, hmm.

KN65 [28512-28876]

Okay, a non-Muslims cannot not participate in a sharia state, yes, he cannot participate because when we are talking about a sharia state, people or individual would be now divided into Muslims and non-Muslims. So the right of Muslims, non-Muslims is limited because the Muslims now have the majority, you understand. So they now have a limit to what they do, so.

KN66 [17176-17326]

Yah, places where sharia, places where sharia takes place, non-Muslims, non-Muslims should play the same role as the Muslims. That is what I believe.

KN67 [17883-18167]

There should be some ways in which even in learning, a non-Muslim as a teacher can come and teach other Muslims as students and other, other people. Even in the ways of ah health you can say in the hospitals and some other places. So there are so many ways that cannot be mentioned.

KN68 [8906-8923]

They should not.

KN69 [31451-31978]

A non-Muslim in an Islamic state can only be participate in politics to held office, but in the sense of an appointment, but a non-Muslim in a purely Islamic state is not expected to say that he would participate in politics in order to rule with the Muslim people, there is no basis for that and at the same times a Muslim, a non-Muslim is expected to have or to be appointed if he has certain skills to render, or to be rendered in that particular Islamic state and he is only the person who is knowledgeable in that regard.

KN71 [54877-55293]

Of course in trying to understand their rights and bringing forth to the government for their rights to be protected, just like that other person I told you when he was slapped by a Muslim. He took the matter to the prophet (SAW), instead of being biased and taking revenge, he took the matter to the authority concerned. So that is what they should do. That is why I say the whole issue is dialogue, understanding.

KN71 [55433-55771]

That is what I am telling you, a through dialogue, through writing memorandum, through presenting themselves to the government, through presenting their rights, their needs and their demand and even declaring their support to one political, to one leader or the other. If it is in political, partisan politics like what we are doing now.

KN72 [29752-29918]

He can contribute because maybe he has experiences over politics and that experiences is very effective to the whole state so he can participate, he can participate.

KN73 [28959-29077]

By his activities; by his practices that he is a pious man and has good understanding between Islam and Christianity.

KN74 [39973-40136]

Okay, the only way that he can participate, the non-Muslim can participate is cooperation, just to cooperate according to the rules and regulations of the sharia.

KN75 [42969-43453]

Yes they can participate in the political life, let us assume that in the government, they may have representative on what to do and what not to do in the affairs of the state. Let me take a typical example during the time of ehh Shekarau, the Igbo's have their own representative in the government of Kano state and they are not Muslims, and the Kano state sharia and the government they comply with the dos and don'ts of the Kano state based on their representative in the council.

KN76 [31748-31882]

Well I don't, I think they can participate at least to represent the views or to represent their community within the non-Muslim state

KN78 [49457-50047]

Well, for as long as, if we have sharia at all, you see, am very careful in ahh giving opinion when they talk about sharia, maybe I will prefer to say an ideal sharia state, an ideal sharia state, for Nigeria we don't have a sharia state and, as I said, I want to be very consistent with emphasis that is for now, it is practically, not impossible, but extremely impossible ahh to really have an Islamic state. But by the way, when you talk about ideal, yes a non-Muslim can have all the protection he needs for as long as his own culture does not violate some of the Islamic teaching.

KN80 [38692-39173]

So it depends on the ahh ahh, so ideally whatever that has to do with Muslims and Islamic state it is what it affects the Muslim only, but Islam uses some instruments and tools in order to spread the religion, so one of such ahh ahh instruments are what, free passage, free living, free movement among the non-Muslims so maybe through these elevations, the non-Muslims will be invited into the Islam as a true religion because the Islam carry all people including the non-Muslims.

KN81 [23834-23912]

I think there is no room for non-Muslim to participate in an Islamic state.

KN82 [26828-27094]

Yes a non-Muslim in an Islamic state is restricted to work as civil servant and enjoy all the rights, but there are some scholars that view to be a leader Islam is the paramount condition. You must be a Muslim before you are qualified to hold any political office.

KN83 [17573-17730]

I think is not allowed for non-Muslims to participate in Islamic political life because he was not abide by Islamic law, so how does he has political power

KN84 [20257-20410]

I think he has, I think if he has good conducts and he is loyal to Islamic state, he could participate in the political life of sharia compliant state.

KN85 [27182-27612]

The non-Muslims can participate in political life of a state even though it is under sharia by ahh carrying out, by performing and observing their own civic duties. They should come out and register, they should come out and contest, they should come out and elect leaders, when leaders are elected they should show obedience to them, they should support government, they should contribute towards the maintenance of the society

ZA1 [28647-28984]

If there is a sharia in a state where the inheritance that is the people of that area are Muslims and non-Muslims, he has the right to participate in a politics to govern is people, to represent his people, but if you are talking about to vote for him to become an imam, I will say no, no he can't be an imam to lead people in prayers.

ZA2 [28737-28966]

It is allowed, let him come out. It is attitude, his way of doing that people watch and study. If he is a good Christian who they know he want to do and the non-Muslim is good is going to go by the rules, let him be, let him be.

ZA3 [22522-22740]

Emm they can participate as emm depending on the level. He could vie for a post too if they also have majority, but in an environment where there are dominant people in the environment, he will just be normal looker.

ZA4 [43850-43992]

Yes they will allow them to participate in terms of getting jobs, companies and all that, development of the society, this worldly material.

ZA5 [25478-25491]

By voting.

ZA7 [27536-27952]

Yes they can participate in voting. They participate in offices because yes if they are indigenes of that state, the fact that it is sharia laws as in sharia law state, does not mean they cannot participate in political office. They should participate and they should be able to also come out openly and say preach about their religion and go about their daily activities as they should in other parts of the world.

ZA8 [59988-60087]

Of course he can participate so far he is going to, he is not going to break any of the laws too.

ZA9 [31789-32168]

Ehm he can participate to an extent as long as whatever he believes in does not negate sharia law, as long as he follows the law of sharia. Being a non-Muslim does not mean you do not have a good idea or a good prospect things that will help move the particular place forward, so as long as he follows the teaching of the law or the sharia law. I believe there will be no problem

ZA10 [29581-29884]

It is a free will activity, if a non Muslim will like to participate in any of the activities of a Muslim in the sharia state because if he has not accepted Islam, he will not know much of teachings, so but the social teachings, social activities that is Islamic that he can do, he is freely welcomed.

ZA11 [24495-24518]

The qualities matters.

ZA13 [14891-14913]

I have no idea sorry.

ZA14 [19649-19925]

Yes you mean non-Muslims participating in Islamic states? They have the right to participate in politics. In so many ways in so far they are participating in business, they are also elected into office, so far they can be elected, they will be given the chance to contribute.

ZA15 [22894-22921]

By also involving himself.

ZA16 [16155-16203]

Yah they can only participate by giving advice.

ZA17 [18370-18609]

Since he is among the citizens of that place, he can participate, it's the problem, problem of the people around him to know that ah this one is pious, this one is not pious that he cannot be a political or he cannot have any government.

ZA18 [22983-23060]

In some many places, there are a lot of places, they will perform, honestly.

ZA19 [32273-33223]

Well in a situation where you have technology that drives your processes and you need efficiency and productivity in your state, be it a sharia state or non sharia state, ah looking at the ah contemporary or global settings we have nowadays, most of the highly technological experts people were virtually non-Muslims of China, America, Singapore and so many other non-Muslim countries. So ah in a situation where a sharia states needs some developmental projects and of course these developmental projects are political lives, touches political lives, the populace of that sharia state, so in that case, they could employ these technicians or experts who are non-Muslims from a non-Muslim state to come and actually hold political offices in providing advices and so many other way forward in establishing a global or let me say productive way which will positively affect or impact on the lives of this ah he people of that particular sharia state.

ZA20 [21042-21688]

In two ways. Shura committee, some certain personalities, the elites, some important personalities who are highly respected in the given community can make nominations, consensus of any man or any person that is fit for a certain position either as governor, as commissioner and whatever will be invited to the- but the problem is if you are saying in a state like Zamfara or Kaduna or any other state, now we have one unique law from top to down that works for every state in Nigeria like as it contains in Nigeria's constitution, this principle cannot be applied-the Shura committee. It cannot work there, but they will help in so many ways.

ZA21 [24993-25804]

They can participate fully in a situation whereby their service is needed, when they come and offer their services then they should be paid. I can say with all sense of humility if for instance I that I am a Muslim now I cannot-I am not a doctor and I cannot practice being a medical practitioner in the hospital and somebody that is a non-Muslim and can act like that or he can practice this profession then why not call him and help you? So non-Muslims can partake fully in the issues of sharia. As you can see even the issue of JAIS bank that is prevailing these days, there are a lot of non-Muslims that are into it. And I once heard that Britain the United Kingdom have a lot of share in JAIS bank. So there are instances when somebody is not a Muslim and he can partake in the affairs of Islamic nation.

ZA22 [22555-23019]

Yah it is very difficult for them because it is something politically inclined. Anywhere ahh any state that sharia is implemented when you look at it you see that majority large majority are Muslims. So there is no way they can maybe come out and seek political office in such a state because even if they come out they don't have the majority. Nobody will vote them and the people there they like that sharia to be implemented. That is what makes it impossible.

ZA23 [31676-31982]

I don't know of the teachings of Christianity or other religions, but to the best of my understanding if a non-Muslim is living in an area that is dominated or predominantly Islamic state, they will live freely, they can participate in the politics that is when there is election they come out and elect.

ZA24 [37549-37755]

Non-Muslims can also participate in politics – if it is in sharia state non-Muslims should not be allowed to participate in politics so we cannot give them any leadership because we are using sharia law.

ZA25 [33613-34085]

Yes in the political life? I don't know. As a non-Muslim first of all they can only contribute in terms of making sure that they are peaceful. They are allowed to stay and practice their religion. They should practice, they should not delve-they should not start backing some group of Muslims against the other. They should remain neutral. In such a way the true Muslims should carry on institutionalizing the true practice of-teachings and practice of Islam in the state

ZA26 [16745-16835]

The way they will participate in-they shall stop corruption and they have the clean mind.

ZA27 [15033-15216]

No there is no any denial that a non-Muslim cannot rule in an Islamic society. What Islam is all after is justice and peace. So whoever is clean and good should be allowed to rule.

ZA28 [28482-28918]

Well this question is directly linked to amm former question that was asked that should a Muslim vote for a non-Muslim? So if a Muslim is in an environment which both for instance when it comes to voting and both candidates are Muslims I don't think-the best thing for the Muslim here is to look among the two candidates which one is, which one he thinks would be the best for such a particular position. So he should go for that one.

ZA29 [41212-42017]

Well in the way that he will participate actually, you know, if it is an Islamic state you know that it is being controlled, the leader, let me say the president or the king of the state must be a Muslim. But the other part, you know let's assume you have a complete state, it's like let's say Kaduna state for example being an Islamic state and you know that very well the governor has to be a Muslim, so let's assume that here in Samaru you have the dominance of the people living there are the Christians, well you can give it to the Christian to be the chairman of that very local government, you let them observe whatsoever they are doing and the Muslims living there they have to, you know, participate and they have to operate under him. But they have to do what does not interfere with the religio

ZA30 [52084-52101]

In all the ways

ZA31 [23194-23203]

No idea

ZA32 [59853-60085]

They should be participated by giving suggestions or advices and they should participated also by giving a right to talk by giving a right to say their mind and receiving advices from them, and asking them about their demands, yes.

ZA34 [37786-38085]

He can participate one, by voting; two, in giving advices because he is also a citizen. There are some needs that he has that he can blow out his needs, his aspirations and even his thinking he can do it. Thirdly, he has freedom to practice his religion. So he has so many ways that he can partake.

ZA35 [15315-15348]

By obeying the law of the state.

ZA36 [23198-23230]

Kai I don't have idea on that.

ZA37 [31020-31217]

The only way that he cannot participate are very few, but about 80% of the political life, he is allowed to practice it the way Muslims can practice it, but the only places are very few as I said.

ZA38 [34981-35272]

Yah when the population are much and they need a representative, they would come out because if it is a democratic set up, they would come out and they would voice their voice with the promise they make, it is allowed. Nobody would stop them from not doing it unless otherwise I don't know.

ZA39 [47640-48062]

The same way he interacts with the people that is how he participates. It just depends on the notion and their relationship, it is the coexistence, the peaceful co-existence that exist among them that would determine his participation with the, his relationship with the Muslims in the state, a non-Muslims relationship with Muslims in a state where sharia operates determines his participation especially in politics.

Th13.4: Rights of non-Muslims in an Islamic State

FG1 [38554-38588]

All the fundamental human rights

FG1 [38590-38625]

Rights to practice their religion

FG1 [38627-38677]

Rights to own property, to marry, to do business

FG1 [38679-38773]

Rights to politics

- No no they can't

- Yes they can it is just that they will not succeed

FG1 [38775-38896]

They cannot be able to engage in politics because one of the qualities of an Islamic leader is that you must be a Muslim

FG1 [38897-38963]

I said engage in politics I didn't say they will be leaders and

KD1 [44276-44848]

They certainly have rights to draw on their commercial activities. They also have right to be catered for by the government of the Islamic state and they have rights to their freedom of religion, to practice their religion. The only thing me I know is that they certainly pay allegiance to the leadership and pay tax, pay the taxes that is compliable as in applicable to them. So there is nothing special about it because it is just that the faith is different. They have a different religion from the government or how the things operate. So that's just the bottom line.

KD2 [17489-17932]

They should have, there is right that they do have, just as the Muslims do have because they have their lives, they have their property, they have their children, they have their family, everything in that state. So it is the right of the Muslims to protect those, it is the right of the leaders in an Islamic state to protect the rights, the lives and properties of all citizens and all inhabitants in that state not necessarily the Muslims.

KD3 [13736-13877]

Okay, the rights for non-Muslims in an Islamic state is that they have right to practice their religion and go about their daily activities.

KD4 [28939-29442]

Yah! Muslims already know that power, all power and authority belongs to Allah and its Allah alone who gives power. So Muslims already know this, so when they are not in a position of power, they just feel like yes, it is the will of God that power is not in their hand and they should act according to what the scripture said, they should be patience that is the sabur, they should hold sabirin because God almighty likes the sabur (he recites in Arabic) he is with the Sabir those that have patience.

KD5 [15473-15676]

I think non-Muslims should have equal right as Muslims which is freedom to practice religion, freedom to live, freedom of movement, freedom of speech. I think they should have equal rights and justice.

KD6 [29958-30015]

They have every right if they are paying their taxes.

KD7 [21496-21752]

They have the right to live. They have the right to practice their religion. They have the right to do business, and they have the right to be protected by the state in as far they agreeable to live within the condition of what is known as a sharia state.

KD8 [42966-43172]

They should have rights to life, they should have life, I mean rights to freedom, you understand? They should have rights to enjoy all what is provided by the state. They should have those kinds of rights.

KD9 [26490-26714]

They have right to protection you, right to worship as long as they are not going to cause a nuisance in the society and then all other rights that normal human being we have, but of course they have duties also to perform.

KD10 [20621-20890]

In an Islamic state the non-Muslim is going to be paying jizya, they call it jizya. The non-Muslim is going to pay jizya every year to the treasury of the Islamic state and by so doing they are going to preserve his honor, dignity, life, property and aqlu that is it.

KD11 [24555-24777]

They should enjoy every rights, every right, basic rights, fundamental human rights. The right to live, the right to any right, freedom, liberty, right to transact business with whoever they want and so on and so forth.

KD12 [29963-30080]

They have right of living, they have right of doing their worship, they have right of sharing everything that is it.

KD13 [10404-10941]

It is fairness, the role needs to be played to any human being according to Allah's injunction. You see this man not in an Islamic state, you see, everybody is born Muslim this is something I want you to understand. Both the Christians if you listen to the Qur'an it says the Jews became the 71 sect, the Christians became the 72 sect while we the Muslims become the 73 sect and we knew that everybody was born a Muslim only they deviated in their teachings in their glorious Qur'an that they deviated after the truth has come to them.

KD14 [12880-13049]

The same right the Muslims have would be the same rights the non-Muslims have. They are free to practice their religion and the Muslims too are free to practice theirs.

KD15 [20130-20393]

In state where there is secular law and Muslims stays, it will be proper and okay for a Muslim to follow the laws and rules of that state so far the law won't go against the law of Islam. So I don't think there is nothing bad there, it is okay a Muslim can stay.

KD16 [10728-10737]

Go ahead

KD17 [35861-36098]

What right? It should be the right that sharia says they should have. What the right, the right the Qur'an and the Sunna gives them is their right. That is just their right, anything the Qur'an and the Sunna establishes is their right.

KD18 [16810-16885]

They should have the freedom of movement, freedom of speech. Yes and so on.

KD19 [22396-22827]

In an Islamic state, the non-Muslims should have equal rights as the Muslims. Whatever rights that are given to a Muslim is also given to a non-Muslim, but to some extent. I think the only thing that a non-Muslim is not allowed to do in an Islamic state, a male non-Muslim is that he cannot marry a Muslim lady, he doesn't have that right because he is a leader, but a non-Muslim lady could marry a Muslim man in an Islamic state.

KD20 [16451-16613]

They should give them freedom since they are not going to break the rules and laws of the land, they can be allowed to live peacefully in that state or country.

KD21 [14988-15140]

They have the right to be protected as other Muslims in the state. They have the right to do their businesses, marry as they wish and all those stuffs.

KD23 [15573-16262]

Non-Muslim have many rights in an Islamic state. He have eh uncountable rights, so one of the rights is that he should also allowed to do, he or she is also allowed ah be allowed to do his religion and to do his activities, but they are some rights that maybe it will ah it will bring a problem, maybe the non-Muslim is living in a Muslims dominant area, so that person maybe ah will not so will not be allowed to do some things that will bring eh a problem so to the people of the community because of the dominance of ah of the people that of the Muslim that they are living there, so with all his rights and duties should be granted to him so be ah so that conflicts should be avoided.

KD25 [75360-75793]

They have rights to live. They have rights to work. They have rights to sustenance of basic necessities of life, they have rights to neighbourhood yes, when you have the Christian neighbour it is compulsory upon you, it is his right upon you, whenever you wake up in the morning maybe you are passing by you stop, you stand by him and greet him and ask him about his family that is a right, it his right upon you. You have to do it.

KD26 [18325-18613]

They should have the right to practice what they believe in, but not at the detriment of Islam, but they should live modestly, the way it is prescribed by the sharia law, but I think they should have settlements, they don't have power of authority, no. That one is not a right for them.

KD27 [21749-21804]

The rights as stated by the Sunna of the prophet (SAW)

KD28 [24864-25319]

You know the rights for a non-Muslim in an Islamic state is to give him the chance of what he is doing but he should not disturb the peace of the Islamic brothers in their religion and in their way of life. Whatever they say is their way of life, don't go contrary to it. And you know the Islam, the Muslim should not oppress the non-Muslims in their way of life. Your own is just to make them understand that this is it, this is it, let them understand.

KD29 [15302-15398]

Rights of absolute protection, rights of absolute equity and just when it comes to litigation.

KD30 [26582-26789]

Ahm the right, he has ahm a total a total right ah as an individual as a total individual of a state for as long as he will pay his tax, he will enjoy the protection and the liberty of freedom in the state.

KD31 [16243-16267]

He should be protected.

KD32 [23713-24013]

They have the rights to do their businesses, they have the rights to practice their own religion, they have the rights to live their normal lives as long as it is it does not go contrary against the sharia law, so there are some businesses that are against sharia law so which should not be allowed.

KD33 [19348-19499]

They have every right of protection to live, do everything they are have all right to live, practice their religion, they have right to be protected.

KD35 [21891-22007]

He has the right to live, he has the right to live, he has the right a right to practice his own religion whatever.

KN1 [49182-49348]

They have right to practice their religion, they have right to own property, they have right to engage in trade or economic activity, they have rights to their lives.

KN2 [27225-27593]

They have their rights to their religion. They have the rights to freedom, rights to freedom of speech as long as it does not abuse any person or any religion. They have the right that their religion should not be abused. They have the right that what they are worshipping should not be abused. They have the right that what they are practicing should not be abused.

KN4 [41115-41229]

Full right of religion, he can practice his religion inasmuch as he would not or he cannot harm any other person.

KN5 [19890-19942]

Right-their property and life should be protected.

KN6 [22885-23893]

He has a right of movement, he has right of ahh his religion to display or to display his religion. So this is some basic right that he ahh and he must live in peaceful and nobody will go may be and destroy his own property and nobody would come and kill him, for example, what is happen during the Sayyidina Ali so, Umma Hani he says there is nobody will kill that person and he remain in peaceful manner and this it happened during when Sayyidina Abubakar ah try maybe to go from try to migrate from Mecca to Medina and one of the Christian, one of the maybe Jews come back with Sayyidina Abubakar and he say he is under my own protection and it is happened the prophet Mohammed (SAW) said and his Sahaba Christian, prominent Christian leader. So, the issue is justice whether it is Christian state or it is Islamic state. The main concern is justice. If you follow the rule, if you follow the teaching of your book, so everyone will come, will ahh ah will come will ahh will prepare to come into a state.

KN7 [20874-21115]

They should have ehm virtually all rights; they should have rights to their religion that is the most significant. I think that is why we call them non-Muslims, the ideology they have, I think they should have rights to their religion, yes

KN8 [21760-21943]

The non-Muslims would find it hard to find right in an Islamic state because the basis of what is guiding the Islamic state they cannot comply with it as such there would be problem.

KN9 [20395-20787]

Basically, the right non-Muslims have in an Islamic state is the right to their religion, the right to ah peaceful ah business transaction without any other-without any aggression and ah they also have the right to schools, they also have the right to occupy offices, but the offices must be occupied at the very grass root levels, they are not allowed to occupy any tangible positions yes.

KN10 [15351-15579]

The rights? He has all the rights, he can, he can he has the rights to ah do his religion, do business, whatever, whatever, a lot of things. There is a lot of rights that non-Muslims have except that there is restrictions, yes.

KN11 [20279-20644]

I have just said it, you will be prevented, your life and property will be prevented because no one will against you, as I have said, I have told you recently that if the prophet (SAW) warn if anybody kill a dhimmi a non-Muslim who comply, who promised to live with Muslims peacefully, the prophet (SAW) said you will not see the kingdom of God. I said it earlier.

KN13 [22831-23277]

Rights. They should have the same right with the ehm with the uhm Muslims in the sense that they-even in the secular society both the Muslims and non-Muslims have the same right, so I think they should-although in terms of the religious perspective there right should be, they know their right, there are some things they are not suppose to do as non-believer. So definitely I think their rights are defined in sharia, they are stated in sharia.

KN14 [16713-16814]

The right is to perform his religion, to do his religion without any ahhhh what can I say harassment

KN15 [17408-17490]

Yes a non-Muslim living in Islamic state should be protected with his properties.

KN16 [9022-9042]

Like others rights.

KN17 [22526-22615]

They should have the particular rights like Muslims because if you look at it right from

KN17 [22633-22807]

No not restricted they have the particular rights but definitely the tax they pay or the baitul mal institutions collect from them is different from the one the Muslims pay.

KN18 [35829-35959]

They have, they should have a right of worship, right of worship, right of ah association and respect from all and recognition of

KN20 [16099-16188]

Ah they do have a right so long they can abide by the rules and regulations of the state.

KN21 [10142-10209]

To live a normal life, move freely, just like every other Muslim.

KN21 [10245-10278]

Yes just like every other Muslim

KN22 [19021-19528]

In a situation, already there are yardsticks for this. They can stay in a sharia society and their lives and properties will be protected by the government or the Islamic leader. In as much as they are paying what is called jizya to that particular government. But in a situation where they are not paying jizya, a kind of tax system, they will be forced to pay that jizya or government will remove that its obligation of protecting the lives and properties of non-Muslims. They will remove the obligation.

KN22 [19594-19635]

They have every right in an Islam state.

KN23 [14498-14584]

They have right to involve in activities: commercial, economic and social activities.

KN24 [14777-15031]

They have to be given right of movement and businesses. They have all rights to move and live the way all people are living. But there is a dress culture. There dressing culture has be the way Muslims are dressing. It is all part of the policy of Islam.

KN25 [21294-21537]

They are entitled to so many rights but the rights, basically the rights they do not have is the right of challenging the authority of the Islamic state that is challenging and questioning the teachings of Islam. They do not have that right.

KN26 [21459-21670]

Of course they have the right to practice their own religion, yes and their rights should not be infringed upon in any way as much they also will not infringe on the rights of Muslims also in practicing sharia.

KN27 [16375-16533]

As much as possible they should have the right to live freely, freedom of speech. They should also have the right to the market where they earn their living.

KN28 [12891-13048]

Non-Muslims have the right to live, they have a right to freedom, they should be able to run their business and they should be free just like everyone else.

KN30 [14415-14451]

The right to do whatever they want

KN31 [19187-19459]

Well they should have the right to do their own worship according to what they believe, they should be even given rights to do their activities in terms of trading to earn a living because they have to survive despite they are living in a state and do their own worship.

KN32 [8840-8977]

it should be a very, very clear something. Their rights should be like that of the Muslims but should be very, very limited and restricted.

KN33 [7461-7507]

Non Muslims have the rights like the Muslims.

KN34 [11076-11457]

Hmmm there are so many rights. For instance, he has the right to practice his own religion which is fundamental, he has the right to own a house, he has the right to education etc. These are the majority-he has equal right as a Muslims nobody has the right to take his life just because he is a non-Muslim; right to life, right to all the rights contained in our constitution.

KN35 [13247-13388]

They have rights like Muslims, they have right to own property, they have right for their lives to be protected even the right to religion.

KN36 [13653-13843]

They have rights like Muslims, correct Muslims because they have right of property, do their business, movement and do whatever they want to do but it should not be contrary to the sharia.

KN37 [12500-12750]

As far as a non-Muslim have agreed to stay in an Islamic state definitely he must have agreed to abide by the norms and the tradition of the sharia, and if he complies by that then he should have, let me say, the same right as a Muslim in the state.

KN38 [8829-8930]

Right to practice their own religion, their own beliefs and the right that everyone should be given.

KN39 [15327-15719]

Non-Muslims have so many rights if they find themselves living in an Islamic state because I could remember even the holy prophet really ensured that the lives of those non-Muslims who were living under his leadership; there economic, there social and there religious life were not threatened. They lived a peaceful life according to the rules and regulations as embodied in their religions.

KN40 [13958-14013]

Everybody has the right to worship his or her own God.

KN41 [11643-11672]

Equal rights as the Muslims.

KN42 [24530-25141]

They have all the rights whatsoever. They have freedom of worship, they have freedom of government, freedom of ownership, they are allowed to own anything as long as they can afford it, they have freedom of employment, they are allowed to be employed if they have the necessary criteria or what they are looking for. A non-Muslim actually have every right in an Islamic state. They have the right to live, they should breathe, they have the right of association. The only right they don't have is they don't have the right to misbehave. They are allowed, they must comply with the rules of the Islamic state.

KN43 [19978-20274]

All the rights that Muslim have except the right of leadership. They have the right to practice their religion, they have the right to engage into business, they have the right to, you know, relate with Muslims. In fact there is even a provision of intermarriage between Muslims and non-Muslims.

KN44 [14620-15250]

They should enjoy all of their fundamental human rights because they should be protected by the Islamic state, which is very fundamental. They should agree to practice their, their religion in fact all the rights and privileges that are supposed to be enjoyed by the Muslim there, there in a way supposed to have enjoyed such rights because being non-Muslims does not make them to be exposed to so many problems and ah by extension so many dangers. So Muslims or rather non-Muslims in Islamic state are supposed to enjoy all fundamental human rights in terms of their worship, in term of their businesses and so many other things.

KN45 [18687-19158]

I think they have ehh all the rights, all the rights a human being is supposed to have. They have all the right, they have the right to their faith, they have the right to do their business, they have the right to worship the God they want in an Islamic state, yah and also there are certain rights of the state on them, maybe they would have to pay tax like other citizens, they have to obey the rules and the regulations of the state I think for the betterment of all.

KN46 [36497-36616]

They have every right enjoyed by the Muslims citizens as far as I know, as far as I know. Any citizen has same rights.

KN47 [36446-36975]

They have right to live, they right, I mean, to life, you understand, to live, not to leave the place, but they have right to to life, they right to own property because in Islamic state everybody is encouraged to own, you know, property and the only thing is you are encourage also to give the alms dues which is now even to the non-Muslim, you know, they practice, you know, the foundation. This kind of foundation they just establish to give charity to people who need it. So I don't think this is a problem, they can simply

KN48 [11215-11259]

They have the same rights with the Muslims.

KN49 [19986-20536]

Every right. They have the right to security, to life, to property, in fact Islam encourages people to be free, people that are not Muslims, people that are even pagans or idol worshippers. It protects their dignity, their right, their right to life, their wealth and everything. It gives them justice even for, even against Muslims that have oppressed them. Ehm Islam doesn't give any Muslim room to oppress or to cheat or to slander people that are not Muslims, that are living within their territory or their area of living or their jurisdiction.

KN50 [10008-10060]

They have all the whole right all Muslims have too.

KN52 [27271-28022]

Rights yes, like I mentioned, the most important thing is that they should be protected. They should leave in peace I mean they should be protected first and foremost by the state, their properties, their religious right, they should have right to practice their own religion because it is a fundamental principle in Islam that there is no compulsion in religion (he recited a verse in Arabic) that is a fundamental creed of coexistence in Islam. So there is a religious right, the right to practice their own religion, the right to life, the right to preach of course, you know. I think these are right that non-Muslims must enjoy in an Islamic state. That is what I think is the meaning of the protection under which they live in an Islamic state.

KN53 [13597-13750]

What right should they have? They should have the whole right that all other individuals of that state have, so equal right is expected for everybody.

KN54 [6772-6819]

Well anyone that Muslims have if they pay tax.

KN55 [8063-8090]

The ones allowed by Islam.

KN56 [12811-12950]

Non-Muslims have some rights ah have all the rights they have in Christianity in an Islamic state provided they can pay their jizya tax.

KN57 [12957-13012]

To live peacefully with all the Muslims in the state.

KN58 [29412-29747]

They have rights. They have several rights. They have rights to practice their religion. They have rights to interact with Muslims. They have rights even to trade even with Muslims in as much as they perform their trading activities within the confines of Islamic economics. These are some of the rights they are supposed to enjoy.

KN59 [22230-22772]

Hummmm based on my understanding the right they should have is that hummmm they have virtually all rights, you understand, they have virtually all rights, but I think the only thing, based on my own understanding, is they shouldn't be judged according to the Qur'an, I think actually they have a right as a Christian in a state, they have all the rights. We shouldn't molest them because they are not Muslims, but if justice, we have to play justice on them in case of anything. I think they have, not equal rights, but they have rights too.

KN60 [23036-23247]

They have every right to do whatsoever they want to do except that they cannot come out and be intoxicated, but they have every right to practice their religion and what have you. That freedom is given to them.

KN61 [11155-11320]

Ahh, they, at least free from what they are, free of what they are doing, non-participating or non-concerning with others, if they can do that, they can stay alive.

KN62 [35813-36081]

Rights should non-Muslims; they have every right, whatever right that a Muslim has in that very state, a non-Muslim has the same very right ah that is what I believe as long as they live peacefully with their fellow non-Muslim brothers. That is what I believe hmm mm.

KN64 [19073-19107]

The same right with Muslims, hmm.

KN66 [12817-12966]

The only right non-Muslims have in an Islamic state if they decide to stay is just to abide by the rules that is being played in that Islamic state.

KN67 [14401-14537]

They have the freedom to practice their religion as far as it did not create or it did not go against peace and harmony in the society.

KN68 [6743-6812]

The ones allowed is Christianity, provided they pay their jizya tax.

KN69 [25973-26402]

Non-Muslims has rights in an Islamic state to the fact that he has right to life, he right to his own religion despite that he is not Muslim and he has right to do any of his commercial dealings in the state in so far as that commercial dealing is not, in Islamic law is legal, but at the same time there are some duties on that particular non-Muslim living in an Islamic state and he must make sure that he observe that duties.

KN71 [44953-44976]

They have every right.

KN71 [44995-45441]

Yes, they have every right. Don't you know, cant you remember a situation whereby a Muslim married a, slapped a dhimmi, a non-Muslim Dhimmi one who owe allegiance to the Islamic state. When he went to the prophet (SAW) he said ya Rasulallah have I no right, have I no right for you to defend ehh, have I no right for you to repent in this state? After all I have been paying jizya. Why should so, so person slap my face? And he was compensated.

KN71 [45582-45693]

As far as their territory is concerned, to defend their own right yes. It is depending on the nature of place.

KN72 [23617-23755]

He has right of movement, he has, has so many rights in such ehh only exception is interfere into the Islamic ehh activities. That is it.

KN73 [23193-23267]

Non-Muslim, he has every right in an Islamic state, he has every right.

KN74 [34920-34995]

Okay he has a full right, he has everything, he has a right to live there.

KN75 [37578-37662]

They have their right, they have the right of, they have their own religious right.

KN76 [26205-26351]

They should have every right to practice their religion, to engage in economic activities and to also engage in the political life of the society.

KN78 [40168-40452]

The rights that was enshrined by the Qur'an and the Hadith of Muhammad (SAW), the rights to assert their own identity, local identity, the rights to practice their own religion, what do they call it religious consciousness, the right to live as any other human being in the society.

KN80 [32455-32570]

He has the right of ahh justice, security of his ahh soul and property and even the rights of ahh good governance.

KN81 [19197-19458]

Well he has full right like a Muslim, but having not right to rule affairs of the Muslim, non-Muslim has the right to live in an Islamic state despite the fact that he can say some what do we call it, Jizya but he has the right to live in an Islamic state.

KN82 [23204-23436]

In an Islamic state hmm the non-Muslims have right to live equal with the Muslim just that non-Muslims are disallowed of holding or exercising political power, but they have right to live and worship whatever they want to worship.

KN83 [13805-13971]

All rights like a Muslim but he will pay jizya for security purpose because Islamic state cannot protect the life of non-Muslim until he has pay this security dues.

KN84 [16667-16776]

Yes I think he has right to live as Muslim, but he will pay 12 years for that is jizya for security reasons.

KN84 [16832-16852]

No he doesn't have

KN85 [19337-19677]

Yes like the Muslims, they should have the right to live, they should have the right to ahh ahh have and maintain property, they should have the right to practice their religion in their own localities, they should have the right to be protected from ahh other people who wish to harm them, they have a lot of rights in the Islamic state.

ZA1 [22236-22406]

If you are talking about Islamic state, he has a right for his life, for his property as far as he didn't transgress. He can purchase, he can sell, he has that right.

ZA2 [20997-21798]

They have equal, they have a right, they have to be given their own equal right. their way of life, well look go back to the life pattern of the Prophet (SAW), at the time after they conquered, after the conquer of Mecca do you know that even the key to the ka'aba Which Muslims have taken over, he still called the non-Muslim say okay the key is bestowed upon your position, just that is given him a, given them their own right because they are the ancestors of that particular something, they were in the control in initial stage. So these are things that Islam doesn't –it didn't say because you are not a Muslim, we don't go along with you, you don't have a legal right in the place, no, we give you legal rights, if we share food we give you your share, your own food. We don't deny your right.

ZA3 [17999-18186]

They have actually all the rights that a Muslim have accept some few, the rights that specifically is applied to the Islamic state and he is also expected to comply with some of those.

ZA4 [37762-38158]

Non-Muslims, yes he should have right to justice, they should be fair to him, they should note all the needs, at least his needs they have to be taken care of, you understand, they should not show him any differences or any that he is not a Muslim, they should be kind to him and they should be just to him in any aspects. So that so he needs, unbeliever needs justice, they will even be happy.

ZA5 [21512-21684]

So far there is agreement between them, if the Muslims are the majority, there are some agreements they make, is either they pay jizya that is like tax, they pay like tax.

ZA6 [52316-52533]

Rights to life that one is sacred, right to practice your religion, right to association, right to free movement, every right you know, every right you know in a democratic state is still there in an Islamic state.

ZA7 [21734-22186]

Yes they should have the right to speak. They should have the right to ownership as everybody has the right to. They should have the right to virtually everything that affects their day to day activities. But they should be in accordance to, they should respect the laws and regulations. I don't know that is about all. But they should have the rights to whatever, their business, their houses, ownership and whatever it is that they have worked for.

ZA8 [48367-48466]

They have all the rights also, any right that a Muslim has, a non-Muslim has in an Islamic state.

ZA9 [25106-25283]

Right to his own religion as long as it does not affect other people negatively. I believe they have their own right. He has is right of religion as long as it does not affect...

ZA9 [25341-25683]

I think that is the main problem that I happening in northern Nigeria today. Their own, the practice of their own religion, I believe a non-Muslim should have his right of his religion as long as it does not affect the Muslims, as long as it does not affect them negatively, as long as it does not stop them from practicing their own, yes.

ZA10 [25012-25262]

They should also have same rights as other Muslims have because one, they are, the religion is free, it is not a force thing, so they should have same rights since they are living in the same society and they should abide by the rules of the sharia.

ZA11 [20266-20397]

They have an equal right, you have the right to reside, the right to run your business, right of education and to set up a family.

ZA12 [11358-11428]

I think it should be stated in the constitution of an Islamic state.

ZA14 [15881-15964]

They should have full rights to worship, to do their business and so many things.

ZA15 [19567-19636]

They should be given the freedom to practice their own religion too.

ZA16 [12589-12685]

They have all their rights so far that the rights did not contradict the teaching of the Islam.

ZA17 [13520-13631]

Their health, property because if they pay jizya they were ask to protect, to protect their health and wealth.

ZA18 [17932-18120]

They have rights of everything, they can, they have right of education, shelter, wealth whatever. Whatever, you see, the right to enjoy, they too enjoy without any difference or whatever.

ZA19 [23183-23604]

Well its quite enormous because Islam has never preached that Muslims should attack non-Muslims in any way, you understand, in fact Islam has categorically stipulated that you are not allowed to touch or to humiliate a non-believer or a non, a person outside the Islamic religion, you understand. So actually he has a very sound and enormous rights over the Muslims by not touching them and vandalizing their properties.

ZA20 [14157-14505]

Right to live, right to survive and the freedom of association, right to stay with them as neighbors, they have that right. So they have the right if they are indigenes of that state. The state treasury, you know, the money of the state that belongs to the Muslims also belongs to them. They must be treated with equality and equity and justice.

ZA21 [19313-19413]

The right to live there peacefully and the right to be given fair and equal treatment and justice.

ZA22 [18403-18554]

Freedom of speech, freedom of their religion, freedom of even living within the Islamic umma, freedom of how do they call it- transaction with Muslims.

ZA23 [23827-23893]

They have right to live, right to freedom- they have all rights.

ZA24 [30360-30782]

They have equal rights with Muslims the only thing is that if they are not hypocrites they have equal rights. And we should not destroy their properties and we should not destroy their –we should not tamper with their rights. So they have human rights. So everybody has his own human rights. So in an Islamic state non-Muslims have their freedom of right, freedom of speech, freedom of worshipping and so on and so forth.

ZA25 [26553-26994]

Now the first right is that eh they have the right to justice. That if a conflict should ensure between a non-Muslim and a Muslim, if the Muslim is guilty such a Muslim such pronouncement be made that the Muslims is guilty and he should be sanction accordingly. They should not start accusing the non-Muslim just because he is a non-Muslim. Another aspect as I have said earlier, they are free. They have the right to practice their faith.

ZA26 [13228-13603]

In Islamic state non-Muslims enjoy even sometimes even better than some Muslims because the leaders must make sure that they guard them they are their neighbor. I know a neighbor of prophet (SAW) use to throw dust and other refuse in his house. When he was sick the prophet asked where is that man, for three days he never dump any refuse in my house. He was kind to a Jew.

ZA27 [11537-11800]

equal rights as Muslims because it happened during prophet Muhammad (SAW) a Muslims cheated a non-Muslims and they went to the prophet (SAW) and the prophet (SAW) collected that thing from him and gave it back to the non-Muslim. So they should get equal rights.

ZA28 [24568-24720]

Ah they should be calm and then they should know that whatsoever power comes from God and he gives to those he wish and he collects from who he wishes.

ZA29 [34966-35119]

Well the rights they should have is to observe his own religion as he is being told and not to do what will interfere with the other people's religion.

ZA30 [44890-45695]

They are...they have more than enough, they have more than enough right. They will do their religion. They can do all the things they are, even business, even when the Rasul died (SAW) his own Sulke that is the protector that thing they put during war, he has given it out to oneYahud, one Jew for, how can I even say it, ya bada jingina, I don't know how to use this word, it is like you get, you take something that belongs to you, you give somebody, you collect some money with the aim that when you bring the money back, he will give you your thing (collateral). So, you will see there are that kind of relationships between Muslims and non-Muslims even before, and that is why we say we should stick to Sunna, everything is written in our book, either in the Qur'an or in the Sunna of the Rasul (SAW).

ZA31 [17876-18316]

Hmmmm, to some extent, they should have their own rights but the only thing that would, that they should do is to comply to some extent with their, with their, how can I, their act, their rules and regulations because religion, Islam doesn't, it doesn't tolerate dressing half naked, it doesn't tolerate that, if the can try, if they can comply with that all those kind of tings, showing nude, I think they should, they won't have problem.

ZA32 [48387-48880]

Non-Muslims should have ehh right of practicing his religion, eh should have the right of interaction like buying and selling with Muslims. He should have the right of marriage within, within his members, yes, he has that right of marriage, he can marry, he can born and even the children he born can be lived, they can live there, in that and he will be given the right to cultivate, to use a farm, and other rights and he will be, have the right to sell and buy without any violation, yes.

ZA33 [13005-13252]

They should have equal rights as Muslims that is the rights to practice their religion, the right to live, the freedom and the right to express their opinions as long as such opinions do not contradict the teaching of Islam and the prophet (SAW).

ZA34 [29175-29621]

The rights of a non-Muslim in an Islamic state are mentioned clearly in the Sharia of Islam. One, you have to protect their lives; two, your protect their wealth, their property, you protect even their progeny, their families, their relations and others. Then you protect their religion also. Do not allow somebody to intrude and make confusion into their religion. And then they have the right to interact and live as others are living.

ZA35 [12745-12769]

They don't have rights.

ZA36 [19845-19944]

Freedom, they should have their freedom to practice their religion and to do what they want to do.

ZA37 [26268-27207]

Apart from this one? It is under this question. This question answers that one. This question number one answered the following question. This is the only thing, apart from that they can go and worship whatever they want to worship, even if they don't worship anything is left to them. And one example I would cite under this one, and there is one boy, he was a neighbor to the holy prophet (SAW) he was his house boy, a Christian even his father was a Christian and they were Jews, but the boy was house boy of the holy prophet (SAW). One day he was sick, the prophet went to the house and visit him it is at that very point that he even present Islam to him, see how long are they together, but it is that very time that he present Islam to him and the father said you shall accept Islam, accept this person, Najib.. Kasim, you see how prophet (SAW)'s relationship between the non-Muslim is. I think this one would put light on this.

ZA38 [29770-29858]

Right to justice, right to live, right to free movement, in fact right of association.

Th13.5: Treatment of non-Muslims in an Islamic State

KD1 [50641-51041]

The thing is there is need for respect and just like even when there was jihad and they said whoever enters the house of so, so, so person is safe, whoever enters their worship places that's of non-Muslims is safe. So you can see there is still level of respect for the non-Muslims. So I think they should be protected. The bottom line is that they should pay their own taxes and everything is fine.

KD2 [21377-21701]

Sharia law is being governed, guides only the Muslims. It doesn't affect the Christians or the non-Muslims. So, where non-Muslims are resident in an Islamic state, they are bound to be governed by their own teachings, by their own books. So they are not allowed to be guided with Islamic teachings or with Qur'an or hadith.

KD3 [17454-17741]

There is no ehm so a state under sharia should threaten the non-Muslims, there is no rule pertaining because Islam actually has everything the way you deal with Muslims and a non-Muslims and then normally sharia, the law of Islam that sharia is only bonded on Muslims not the non-Muslims.

KD4 [39584-40132]

Yah! As long as the non-Muslims agree that they will live under Islamic tenets in a sharia state, automatically they are living under the protection of the Islamic leader and when you are living under the roof, under the protection of anybody, your life, your property, your business all are protected and then Islam is always a religion that preaches peace, that tolerate, that protects and respect even strangers. So, they have the right, their business, their private lives, all are going to be protected, all are protected in an Islamic state.

KD5 [19967-20393]

Ah it is allowed for non-Muslims to practice their religion, businesses, and to build their houses also to live within a territory of Muslims or to live within a sharia state like in the northern Nigeria that you mention. Let's take Zamfara state as an example, they are practicing sharia state during the period of Ahamed Sani Yariman Bakura and Christians lived in that part of the state and they live in peace and harmony.

KD6 [34777-35223]

Islam do not forbid you to do transaction of business with non-muslims, even to eat their food, even to some extent, some scholars say you can eat their slaughtering. While Qur'an says (he recites the verse) your food is halal to them and theirs also halal to you provided they did not kill what is haram. Some scholars allow that, some scholars say no if it's them that slaughter the ram, you can't take it, some said take it and say bismillah.

KD7 [26640-26988]

Like I said before, when you are a Muslim and you are in a state that practices sharia law, that sharia law encompasses everything of your life as a Muslims, but if you are not a Muslim, that law does not bind on you except, except when it infringes on the rules of the Muslims, except when it infringes on the laws and obligations of the Muslims.

KD8 [49052-49913]

In Islam we have, it has been specified the way we are going to carry out our businesses, it has been specified. You have to fulfill promises. There are certain things that are within the jurisprudential context, what am trying to say is that there are certain prescription in fiqh that this are the ways that businesses should be conducted in an Islamic ehm state. This is the way that banking system should be carried out in an Islamic state. So, a Christian does not have any problem living in that because you will see fairness with just or justice rather. So he doesn't have any, there is no any problem operating businesses, relating with Christians and Muslims, there is no any problem because Islam is a very fair and just religion. It protects the right of everybody even during the time of the prophet (SAW), the rights of even the Jews were protected.

KD9 [33470-33606]

They should treat them well. They should show them the beauty of Islam, with time they can even because of your attitude embrace Islam.

KD10 [26417-26611]

Ah they should be treated well, they should be treated well, but don't cheat them. Allow them to practice their religion, but not in a way that is going to harm the Muslims and their religion.

KD11 [29271-29468]

They should treat them with justice, equity and of course fairness. They should allow them to do their businesses after all even the prophet conducted businesses with non-Muslims during his time.

KD12 [31352-31906]

Eh what is there is that the bite and go principle of ah non-Muslims plus cannot be tolerated in Muslims because we believe that if we realize any kobo it is going to be enjoyed by everybody. So the principle of Islam does not put or does not allow any cheating. So in such a way it has to be merged today in such a way that there is also know that the ways they are doing is not fitting totally for human being. The Islamic principle that opens way freely, opens things that and everybody knows that if it is being done accordingly, people will enjoy.

KD13 [13062-13317]

The non-Muslims should be treated with perfect love because the prophet (SAW) says that if you go against any of these ones and you treat them and you maltreated them he said on that Day of Judgment he will stand by those people and you will be rejected

KD14 [17269-17425]

As I said earlier sharia has nothing to do with non-Muslims. So I don't think there is any special treatment it just a matter of give everybody his rights.

KD15 [24353-24495]

By doing good deeds, by doing good deeds, by saying good words ah by ahmm by saying good words and doing good deeds. I think that is okay ah.

KD16 [14832-14952]

They should be treated very well, the way they want to be treated, the Muslims want to be treated in a secular state.

KD17 [45493-45758]

Northern Nigeria states, which northern Nigerian state is practicing the sharia? Which northern Nigerian state is practicing sharia? The true sharia, which northern Nigerian state is practicing sharia? There is none, so I cannot even bring an instance from that.

KD18 [20781-21191]

They can be together, they can stay together, they can be even friends, if they will not break the rules and regulations of that state or countries so that there is going to be the, there is going to be the harmony and corporation. So if they can be able to follow those rules and regulations without breaking it and I am sure their culture and all these things will not be violated by the Muslim communities.

KD19 [27568-27675]

A state in a, a state under non-sharia should treat everybody as equal both the Muslim and the non-Muslim.

KD20 [21153-21428]

I think they should treat them equally they should give them a chance for their business and other activities. They should give them freedom in as in since they are not going to break the rules and regulation of the country or of the state they can live together with peace.

KD21 [19891-20041]

In as much as they don't comply to sharia law as their way of life, I don't think when a Christian is caught stealing his arms should be amputated.

KD23 [21341-21495]

It should be ah well it should be ah treated in a good way, they should not be intimidated yes, they should be treated according to the laws of the land.

KD24 [63615-64636]

They should give them right to follow their religion the way it is, and ah another thing is they should make sure that they follow the real religion not following another thing different because we are seeing, for example, we normally bring or cite example with the Christians because we more or less closer to them, we have the real book, they have the real book, we have prophet which we believe in and they have the prophet which they use to join themselves with, then we are so more or less so close only that we have some simple things which we have ah misunderstanding because we accept and believe with our own prophet and their own, but they said no, they believe in their own and they did not believe in ours then if that should be the case, they can sit down under own umbrella, follow their religion the way it is, if definitely they will follow it the way it is we don't have problem with them, but if they will follow another thing different entirely then actually they will enter into our own environment.

KD25 [83269-83953]

Hmm is all on the Islamic ah provisions; they aren't supposed to show rancour or malice for them because they are non-Muslims. Of course they can trade with them, they can trade, buy and sell with them, they can ah allow them free, freehand to interact with the Muslim, they shouldn't be so strict and rigid to the non-Muslims. They should treat them I mean all the, all the ah softness and mildness that Islam encourages a Muslim to do so that ah they, you see generally the Muslims are not supposed to be seen as ah monsters, people running away from them ,they are supposed to be seen as good people, people trying to come close to them. So it all depends on their good manners.

KD26 [24446-24643]

I think they should treat them as long as they do, you can conduct business with them. But you don't adopt their practices, you don't adopt their culture and then they don't pose a threat to you.

KD27 [24175-24269]

I think there are precepts and the Sunna of the Prophet (SAW) and the lives of the sahabas.

KD28 [30498-30855]

You know as in Islam as I have earlier told you, a Muslim you have a right to a Muslim brother to non-Muslim, you have your right to a non-Muslim, you have a right to commit to your neighbor and those that even are passing by, you have the right to them. Once you give them their rights then there must be existence, the relationship will continue to stay.

KD29 [18618-18790]

Well the sharia teachings have ah has permitted them these basic rights ah to really ah enjoy under the arrangement, so as far as I am concerned they have nothing to fear.

KD30 [32904-33100]

Ah they have been treated fairly and as I said they have always enjoyed the protection of the religion state as a full member of the ahm of the state as long as they pay their tax and everything.

KD33 [22653-22860]

Yah state under sharia should treat Muslims, non-Muslims with the fear of God and they should treat them as stated in Islam with love and all necessary needs that they will need in order to live with them.

KD34 [25109-25772]

Ehm there is sharia law, we have sharia court and we have customary court. So everybody have almost equal right in the northern Nigeria to practice his own religion because as you see if there is no market in northern Nigeria, let me use example of Kano state, there is an area which is even dominate by a non-Muslims like in Sabongari and the rest, so there is no a particular state even Zamfara state which become popular, people are saying Zamfara sate is a sharia state because they are the one to first introduce sharia into their state here and there, so even in that state, you find a non-Muslims doing their business, living peacefully among the Muslims.

KN1 [56589-56997]

I told you earlier that they are entitled to own goods to ownership, they are entitled to economic activities, they are entitled to their lives. They are entitled to practice their religion as far as they have not transgressed into the religion or right of the others. And that is how every society is. If you don't transgress into other persons or the other party's rights, you are entitled to your rights.

KN4 [45571-45811]

If there is justice, equity because Muslim is all about justice, peace and harmony that can extend hand of friendship to any other person and come to him, you can stay with him, you can do your religion and he can do his religion: justice.

KN5 [26627-27273]

Ah how should a state under sharia treat non-Muslims and their culture and business practices - most of the-for example in Kano state, we say they have to comply in an Islamic sharia state so the best thing is to stop them from selling alcohol openly, selling it everywhere, you can restrict whoever among them. Islam has not permitted encroachment of other people's culture. If they want to practice something, let them practice among themselves but not among the Muslims. So if you say let them go to Sabongari and sell it eh that is something different it is predominant area of theirs, but everywhere in Kano state that is faulty actually

KN6 [29575-29874]

It can be treated when you go back to the history of Sayyidina Umar, when you go back to the history of Abubakar because during that time there is no-there is some Christians those who lived under this Islamic system. So if we want to practice we should go back to the history of our forefathers.

KN7 [26454-26737]

Well eh, hmm a non-Muslim is a creation, is a creation of Allah and as we all, we all, we are all even a Muslim is also a creation Allah, blood flows in our veins both. So I don't think they should be treated in any separate manner, different from the way Muslims are being treated.

KN8 [27707-27872]

Let everybody be accommodated. Let them be permitted to embark on their business for everybody has a right to life because the land belongs to God, not to anybody.

KN9 [24379-24798]

A state under sharia has to understand that even under sharia law there is respect for non-believers and there is actually a provision for how to treat them. So they must be treated like a, they should not be treated in a hostile manner, they have to be accommodated, and they have to be allowed to practice their religion and they must be allowed to engage in trade in order to ensure their survival and continuity.

KN10 [19024-19272]

No, if you can see in this northern Nigeria, there is no any restriction in their business. They are free to do whatever they want; non-Muslims are free to do all their activities. So there is no any restriction except if pertaining the religion.

KN11 [25412-25625]

Yes, ah in Islam you will allow non-Muslim to worship according to their culture. You cannot force or even in jihad, you cannot demolish or you will not destroy the place of worship, so it is prohibited in Islam.

KN14 [22276-22536]

The Muslims should be good, obedient, should be ah respect non-Muslims because our religion does not say that if you are non-Muslim, you should be harassed, you should be denied your what you are ah ah ah what you are entitled to. So you should be respected.

KN15 [20637-20694]

Precisely, they should be treated in a very good manner.

KN16 [11201-11242]

They should be treated in a good manner.

KN18 [41504-41647]

They should treat them based on their own religion and culture and if it is not contravening the teaching of the Islamic, ah that Islamic state

KN18 [41696-42236]

They should be treated fairly, if they are now operating and that they, maybe they are want to sell alcohol, you know this contravenes the teaching of Islam and that state, Islamic state. They cannot sell, but if they are going to use it among themselves in a hidden manner they can do it, is among themselves because they believe they want to take it, but in such a and if they whenever there is anything that a court to be treated fairly they they deserve to be treated fairly and equally and they deserve all rights of all the citizens.

KN19 [25539-25770]

There they can persuade them, they can make them to understand that what they are doing is not good, they can bring them closer and teach them the word of God through this probably they might comply and even be part of the Islam.

KN20 [18859-18890]

They should be treated fairly.

KN21 [12714-12751]

In a peaceful and harmonious manner.

KN22 [26425-26497]

Yah, the state under Muslim governance should treat non-Muslim equally

KN23 [17979-18105]

Ehn they should be treated well and the non-Muslims are the ones not to like behave themselves according to the Islamic law.

KN23 [18146-18223]

They should follow the Sharia law if it is necessary for them to stay there.

KN24 [17398-17446]

Peacefully, cordially just like their brothers.

KN25 [27432-27913]

Well during the time of the prophet, non-Muslims in the Islamic state were given the right to trade. They had every right to trade, they had every right to practice their religion, they could join schools, they could enjoy all the basic social and political amenities based on what, the fact that they pay taxes that they are supposed to pay that is jizya. It is called jizya. This is a certain fee that non-Muslims pay in an Islamic state to cover for their stay and everything.

KN26 [26445-27469]

As it is, well apart from-I would largely to some extent disagree with that. For instance in Kano sharia law is been practiced as it is on paper, but practically the Christian clustered areas, for example, the Sabon Gari area in Fagge local government area you find where-this is one of the hot spot where night life flourish in Kano, you know, a lot of alcohol and some- and these people are allowed to do that and Kano is said to be practicing sharia law. So you can see somehow that can be a laxity in a way, but in a way somehow it is what it is, you know as sharia law is being said to be practiced viz-a-viz also those that are not Muslims practice their own lives but in as much as they don't encroach in other areas and I assure you there are also other areas that are largely Muslim areas and even if non-Muslims go there to sell alcohol commodities I hear they are sometimes being caught by the Hisbah that is the board that is being created by state government to actually enforce the Islamic law in the state.

KN27 [20087-20308]

I think they should be treated fairly. They should be treated fairly because we are all human. They are human because blood flows in them just like it flows in other Muslims too. So I think they should be treated fairly.

KN28 [15924-16100]

This should be equally manipulated and there shouldn't be any differences or divergences between them because I believe all are equal and all are looking of greener pastures.

KN29 [828-1140]

Non-Muslims should be respected giving them the free role to do anything they want to do so long they follow the due process of what is happening in the constitution, they didn't like go contrary what the constitution says then they should be free in their businesses, their religion, should go free with them.

KN30 [16109-16193]

They should be treated fairly because they have their own religion to practice too.

KN31 [24777-25680]

Well just like I said the way it existed during the time of the prophet if really, really we are practicing Sharia that we are trying to practice from the times of the prophet. There are non-Muslims existed then, they allowed them to practice their own culture, to do their own trade and to do their own this thing because the-this is the thing of attitude. If you even live among them you allow them live among you and you try to do your religion the way it is supposed you could get them attracted. So many people have converted to Islam like that as a result of the kind of attitude or the kind of kindness the Muslims show them. Even the prophet, there are people who have tried to molest him and what have you, but he never showed them as if he was angry with them or retaliated. So, that good attitude of his made them to convert to Islam. so I think we should also try to imbibe that character.

KN32 [12112-12258]

I you see non Muslims should be treated fairly, justly, democratically of course by so doing we will have a peaceful co existence in the society.

KN33 [9441-9505]

This is to treat them fairly and also recognizing their rights.

KN34 [15161-15826]

They should treat them according to the principles of the hadith, according to the sharia laws. There are certain guidelines that are contain either in the sharia laws, when you look at what is obtainable in other places, their businesses should be protected, their rights should be protected and whatsoever, even their places of worship should be protected. These are some of the principles that were contained even in the sharia because they have nothing to do with sharia it does not mean that it would be that should be an excuse for a Muslim to either do anything that will contradict the provision of the law or abuse their rights, their fundamental rights.

KN35 [16491-16570]

Non-Muslims also have the right as to enjoy the same rights the Muslims have.

KN36 [17019-17263]

They should be given the same respect, they should be given the same treatment like Muslims in the society because if there should be differences that is what leads to always crisis, but if they have equal treatment there would be no problem.

KN37 [15464-15582]

Fair. They should treat them fair and they must make sure that the Muslims are not favored more than the non-Muslims.

KN38 [11271-11285]

With respect.

KN39 [19206-19447]

Really of course respecting the cultures, rules and regulations of those non-Muslims is really what Islamic members, Islamic state members are supposed to be doing, in so far as those rules and regulations don't contradict Islamic teaching.

KN40 [16257-16266]

No idea.

KN41 [13702-13804]

I guess they should be treated accordingly or equally. They should be treated equally to the Muslims.

KN42 [31880-32376]

A state under sharia should treat non-Muslims fairly. They have the right to own properties, they have right to family, to movement, to associations, to their own, they have freedom of worship also. They should treat, they should allow them to worship what they want to worship, how they want to worship it, own properties as long as they can afford it. Give them opportunities to own land have residency within the state and that is the only way for them to show that they could live together.

KN43 [23943-24457]

Yes, all the non-Muslims in sharia state of northern Nigeria are given one, right to live in those states. Two, are given freedom to practice their religions are given freedom to establish their place of worship and are given freedom to engage in business provided those businesses do not contravene the teaching of Islam like selling of alcohol, you cannot come to an Islamic state and be selling alcohol publically that is very wrong. You don't respect the rules and regulations, the laws that govern the state.

KN44 [18721-18791]

That has to be answered by a specialist in Islamic studies, honestly.

KN45 [26577-26916]

I think this is all the issue of going back to the real tenets of the religion. If they follow the tenets of the religion without any selfish or political interest, then the Christians will no eh will not have problems at all living in a sharia state because sharia has protected their right as they protected the rights of the Muslims.

KN46 [45977-46422]

Well, ahh they should be treated equally as enshrined in the Federal Republic, in the constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria. They should practice their religion without hindrance; they should go about their businesses without ahh being ah, without being maltreated. As far as I am concerned, I don't think just because you are a non-Muslim living in a sharia state you should be treated differently from that of other Muslim citizens.

KN47 [43427-43847]

Yes. The government should protect the lives and properties of the non-Muslims and then the proper ah orientation and why they should be created and then, you know, a lot of people should be, should be mobilized, you know, towards what ... other peoples, you know, values and properties. So we should just live as partners of development so we unite, you understand, we try to integrate into one and see ourselves as one.

KN48 [13893-13974]

They should be treated in accordance to the way the Muslims are being treated.

KN49 [23837-23946]

With justice, with equity, with ah all the good values that ah associated with Islam and Muslims as a whole.

KN50 [12149-12222]

Ah, they should be friendly and wish them what they wish for themselves.

KN52 [36184-36348]

With respect, dignity and honor. This, I think, should be the guiding principles of the relationship between the Islamic state and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria.

KN54 [9266-9307]

Well they should be treated with justice

KN55 [10060-10091]

They should be treated justly.

KN56 [16746-16870]

They should be treated the way the Muslims can be treated provided they can pay that jizya tax I talked about previously.

KN57 [15851-16077]

You see, in sharia state, non-Muslims have rights and it was mentioned in a hadith of the prophet Muhammad (SAW) and some verses of the Holy Quran as well as some rights Muslims have. So also a non-Muslim have his own rights.

KN58 [35890-36170]

They should treat them as citizens or as indigenes of that state. They should exercise all their rights because Islam allows that even the Prophet (SAW) during his time, he existed side by side with the Jews and all these Jews exercised their right that is bestowed by the state.

KN59 [30235-31130]

They should treat them in accordance. Take, for instance, now in Sabongari in Kano state, there is a place called Sabongari market, you see, that the dominant there are Igbos and they are non-Muslims, you understand. So like in Kano state they allow them to practice their businesses. They allow them to practice their din, you understand, without any discrepancies you understand, their culture, we accommodate their culture and their religions and I think during the Sahabis and the Caliphate, I think they allow the multi-religious freedom there. The only thing is for them to pay their tithe and their tax so that is the only thing. So if they are able to pay that there is no problem, you understand, but I think in Kano state here they do pay their tax, as non-Muslims, they call it haraj which is being imposed on them to pay and they normally pay. They do comply with it, they pay.

KN60 [26825-27018]

They should be protected and they should not and nobody should be allowed to cheat them or to even harm them or to destabilize their business activities. They should be given total protection.

KN61 [13603-13696]

Ah, it depend on the maybe the constitution and the nature and the situation in the society.

KN62 [43991-44413]

This is very simple. A state under sharia treat it's non-Muslims as Muslims because everybody living under your leadership, if you are a leader, is actually having a certain ah right and the right is not differentiated based on religious lines, be it you are Muslim or non-Muslim, you share the same right of being a citizen of that very state. So you, you are entitled to everything as a Muslim. That is what I believe.

KN63 [32126-32511]

Sharia abide, sharia abide by ahh their rights and privileges. Sharia doesn't drive them, even though they are not Muslims, sharia doesn't drive, doesn't deprive them of their right and duties, it is not possible huh. There trading on a thing, their religion of a thing, you know, all those things are being guaranteed in sharia. So sharia doesn't deprive them of any of those things.

KN64 [22831-22917]

The Muslim state should allow them to practice their religion and their businesses.

KN65 [28223-28398]

Okay, I would say in a sharia, non-Muslims should be treated with respect and their culture, business practices as long as they do not contravene what the sharia ahh decrees.

KN66 [16819-17063]

It should treat non-Muslims and their culture well, because especially in Africa, Africa is a continent of cultures, it permit cultures so the way the sharia is being permitted so also their culture is being permitted, so they treat them fine.

KN67 [17530-17771]

Well, they were, they are allowed to practice their religion as said before and then their culture, they are also allowed except if there is anything that would create violence or anything will disrupt peace, then that will be an exception.

KN68 [8783-8793]

Peaceful.

KN69 [30741-31338]

Islam is a comprehensive way of life to Muslims and it is a code whereby it provides all things to be done in this world, right from the place of your issue of your religion, how to conduct your religion, how to perform salat, how to perform zakat and some ahawali shakhsiyya that is personal law and all thing that you know that will come to your mind, Islam accommodates that. So even if a non-Muslim is in an Islamic state, he would be allowed to do his transaction in so far as that transaction is legal, and even if the transaction is illegal a non-Muslim, a Muslim is not expected to do it.

KN71 [53760-54751]

It is all a matter of fair play, as I said, we have an example in Zamfara state. The non-Muslims were comfortable there. They are given everything. In Medina, during the era prophet (SAW), were there any non-Muslim who was denied any access to market? No.

Any access to employment? No. Any access to whatever opportunity that he can use and live a better life? No. Don't we remember during the era of Umar bin Khatab, the old, the old, I mean the old people of old ages were given allowances out of the baitul mal of the Muslims and they are non-Muslims. That was the first, what do you call it, pension that was created, it was created by Umar bin Khatab. He saw an old Jewish person moving by, he said old man where are you going? He said I am going to seek for how I can pay for my jizya. He said wallahi we cannot utilize your youthful age and maltreat your old age. Go back home instead we will be giving you allowances every month and he was Jewish, you understand? alhamdulillah.

KN72 [29562-29634]

Yes based on ethics, it is only ethical aspect that can maintain this.

KN73 [28595-28834]

Ah, non-Muslim they have all right to do their culture, their religion and their activities. What happened in northern Nigeria, how many non-Muslim are there and are living having their practices their cultural activities, their festivals?

KN74 [39663-39861]

Ehh this is, treat them normally because sharia gives every person the right to live. Therefore, there is no anything that will not allow non-Muslim to live in a Muslim state because of the sharia.

KN75 [42721-42858]

Yah sharia give them freedom of movement, give them movement of transaction, freedom of religion, he never deny their right in any case.

KN76 [31310-31641]

Well from ahh looking back at the history of Islam you can see that all the Islamic state there were non-Muslims that lived under those states and they were given the right to practice the religion, they are given right to engage in businesses as you are given right to live your own life according to the religions and cultures.

KN78 [48717-49206]

In fact ahh I don't want to be very arrogant or very chauvinistic in a way, I would had said you can even tell from the numbers of other tribes or other people who are not Muslims, who are living peacefully with the Muslims, who even prefer to stay in the Muslim society than they prefer to stay in their own areas. This is a good illustration of the fact that Muslims are accommodating, Muslims are the welcoming type, they have degree of tolerance to other people that are non-Muslims.

KN80 [38020-38587]

According to Islamic provision, so a Muslim ah non-Muslims that are residing in Muslim state should comply with what Muslims are doing in terms of their day to day activities. They can only have the freedom of practicing their religion because it affects them only, but in a matter which affects the states because the states have interest on practice in Islam and also the individual Muslim, so whatever matter combines such ahh ahh rights, given them rights, so the non-Muslim should subject in complying with even if he has the direct ahh believe in the religion

KN81 [23222-23650]

They have right to practice their religions, but it is not allowed the culture and their culture. In northern Nigeria there is underground problem between Muslim and non-Muslims. Q: okay so you mean that the non-Muslims have the right to practice their religion to practice their culture business and according to Islam but in northern Nigeria there is underground problem. sir what is the underground problem that you mentioned

KN82 [26623-26719]

Sharia made a solid provision to protect and to offer freedom to non-Muslims with all respect.

KN83 [17262-17461]

Ahm they have right to do business, to practice their culture, but in accordance with the sharia. They cannot do anything which will violate public law in an Islamic state or sharia compliant state.

KN84 [20083-20150]

I think stated under sharia we treat them based on what Allah says.

KN85 [26460-27080]

Yes ahh a state under sharia should respect the rights of the non-Muslims to practice their own culture, to do their own businesses and even practice their own religion as it is in their own religious and cultural practices. They should not contravene the Islamic sharia, they should not do things that are not allowed in Islam, they should not do them in Muslim societies. For instance, bear drinking they can be allowed to do so in their own localities not in Islamic societies. Therefore, ahh the rights of the non-Muslims to practice their culture and religion should be protected, should be observed and protected

ZA1 [28148-28540]

Now, if you are talking about the world, don't separate northern Nigeria in general. A non-Muslim under Islamic state has a freedom as far as he didn't transgress. What I mean by transgress, he didn't go beyond a limit. No any country, in this country will leave a citizen or non-citizen to go beyond its law. A non-Muslim has the right for everything unless if he go beyond that his right.

ZA2 [28200-28631]

When we look at in a north there was time sharia was practiced in some of the states...the non-Muslims are there, they are given a legal rights. These things that are un-Islamic we don't go there, we don't deny them that is their own area. It is only if you are a Muslim that you might be involved, when you are caught, if you are caught doing this is against the rules of Islam, so since you are a Muslim you should go against it.

ZA3 [22154-22405]

Of course the sharia encompasses all the ...There is justice for whatever transpires between a Muslim and non-Muslims. There are rules of engagement for all what should be carried out and once it is spelt out, most rules there are difficult to come by.

ZA4 [43573-43738]

It should be just to them, kind to them, allow them to be as long as they don't cause any problem to your feet, you allow them to participate with some guidelines

ZA5 [25293-25376]

Yes, you have to treat, you have to treat them well. You have to treat them well.

ZA6 [60344-61991]

Ahm in ahm the Muslim, the sharia would definitely treat the non-Muslims as they treat the Muslims. That is in fairness and you know ehm equity and justice. They treat them well, definitely, since you are free to practice your religion, definitely you will be treated like a Muslim should be treated. Every right allocated to a Muslim is also allocated to a non-Muslim. Every benefit allocated to a Muslims under sharia is also allocated to a non-Muslim and then the businesses even flourishes more and we have instances where you see Christians in a sharia state becoming billionaires hmm as far as you abide by the rules and regulation of the state then you are free to, then as far as your business is legal and accepted in that particular state and that particular region you are doing that particular business, definitely you are allowed and you be even given a good backup and support by the government. Ehh there are, a non-Muslim can, it depends on the state, it depends on the state, a non-Muslim can definitely participate in the political life of a state in that is under a sharia constitution. It depends on what he can impute to the state. If you have something they need, something that can bring positive changes to the state, definitely they will use you. We have instances of people, Christians occupying emm high positions that are in states, in Arab states they practice Islamic sharia constitution because they have the input, they have what it takes to bring a positive change which is the aim of every government.

Yah it should, it should treat them nice because it should allow them the comfort to be doing their businesses and practicing their culture as it is because Islam does not prevent someone else from practicing his religion. So I think we should be welcoming to them as well.

ZA8 [59480-59519]

Treat them with fairness and justice.

ZA9 [31504-31687]

They should treat him according to the teaching of the holy book, no victimization because he is not a Muslim because we all have freedom of religion. He should not be victimized.

ZA10 [29307-29470]

In a state that Islam has, sharia has been imposed, is just to enlighten them and make sure they have modify some of their activities and things will all be fine.

ZA11 [24236-24379]

They have freedom, like we said, for everything which is called democracy in the secular law. So provided it does not contradict, like I said.

ZA12 [14704-14757]

Is by following the lay down rules and regulations.

ZA13 [14747-14784]

By abiding by the law of the state.

ZA14 [19473-19538]

They should treat them with respect as they are all human beings.

ZA15 [22728-22784]

Ehh they should be allowed to practice their religion.

ZA16 [15956-16044]

Yes, in sharia state or under sharia, non-Muslims should be treated equally as Muslims.

ZA17 [18075-18255]

It has to be amicably, amicably because we are not to cheat anybody, if you are good Muslim, you are not to touch anybody's property, you are not to kill or to do anything wrong.

ZA18 [22648-22873]

You treat them normally, you understand, whatever that is due to them, you give them, you don't cheat them, you don't insult them and say you go away, you are kaza kaza, you are not a Muslim, we will not give you this, no.

ZA19 [31193-32164]

Ah well we never witnessed a sharia state in northern Nigeria actually, so if I am to say how should a sharia state treat non-Muslims and their culture and business practices in that particular state, I am not actually making reference with northern Nigerian state. It is quite simple because nobody lives in isolation and there never a country in the world where the demography of that particular country is 100% Muslims or 100% Christians. At present day Saudi Arabia and all Muslim dominated countries, there are Christians and so many other religions which dwell in there and of course there is no grievances, there is no violence, they are being treated nicely because this is what Islam preaches; treat them, treat your neighbor nicely just as how Bible also says love your neighbor, love your enemy, so Islam actually does not say you are to cheat or to actually chase them or to persecute them from your state, so long as they do not touch you and your religion.

ZA20 [20782-20935]

Islam has explained everything about them. There are no differences there. They have their own due rights to that effect and it will be given to them.

ZA21 [24614-24885]

Well sharia as we say is being fair and just to all and sundry. So sharia is to treat non-Muslims- they should practice their religion, they should practice their culture; they should practice so long as they have not intruded into their rights and abilities of others.

ZA22 [22064-22447]

We should treat them with all justice. We should treat them with all kindness. We should allow them the freedom of their business, freedom of their culture provided it does not contradict the teachings of Islam even if you are a Muslim you bring you culture maybe ethnic group something, you bring it into Islam it will be rejected talkless of a non-Muslim. That is the only thing.

ZA23 [31193-31568]

As I have said earlier I think I have said something like this even though in explanation that non-Muslims are free to live in the most Islamic state, trade, only that anything that is against the teaching of Islam, take for instance if they believe in taking alcohol, they should take their alcohol in house not outside where the children of the Muslims will see and copy.

ZA24 [37048-37442]

In a Sharia state, Sharia does not mean we should maltreat non-Muslims or yes non-muslims in a sharia state. So we give them rights to practice. In fact we can even interact together, we can do business together. The only thing is we should not do – we should not follow them to do their religion. That is the only thing. Apart from that other things in human endeavor we can do it together.

ZA25 [32417-33503]

That is a good question. First of all they are supposed to be made to understand that Islam is not an Arabian culture. That it is divinely prescribed way of life. The non-Muslims should be made to understand that Islam is not a Hausa-Fulani religion. It is not a northern religion to start with. They should be made to understand that there are Hausa-Fulani cultures that are not Islamic and hence Muslims are trying, Muslims in the north are trying to fight that even in the north. Non-Muslims especially from other part of the country should be made to understand that Muslims are not after them just because they are not northerners. That is to start with. We should make them understand that this practice you are doing is anti Islamic we are not saying it is anti northern it is anti Islamic. They should be made to – given logical reasoning, proper reasons what makes it bad such as alcoholism business and what have you. We know that even in alcohol and cigarettes they will tell you that smokers are liable to die young. So anything that is harmful to the health is not Islamic.

ZA26 [16563-16637]

The prophet (SAW) stayed with the non-Muslims and he did well with them.

ZA27 [14893-14926]

Treat them equally with justice

ZA28 [28081-28374]

They should treat them as kind according to what they know of Islam as it teaches how to go about it, Amm their counterparts which are the non-Muslims, so they should not cheat them, under no circumstance should a Muslim cheat on non-Muslim because he must account for that in the hereafter.

ZA29 [40529-41100]

Yes the way it is being treated is the way that you see it being treated around you because I believe you see how it is being conducted. The way they do it, is they will tell you not to do what do not resemble their culture. Like take for example Hausa man a typical Hausa man will not allow you to walk on his street with a lady, you romancing a lady on the street, a typical, typical Hausaland you should not do that, that is against their culture; and looking at it on the other side against their religion. so if those things are avoided, there will be no conflict.

ZA30 [51881-51976]

Islam also protect even animal rather than non-Muslims, rather than, rather than human being.

ZA31 [22619-22963]

So the way I said earlier on, if a non-Muslims is busy in an Islamic sate, which the Islam, the Muslims are the main dominant, I know I said, as I said earlier on, there are some rules, rules by dressing, not to criticize their religion, if a non Muslims can obey and agreed and obey this, I don't see a reason why you he shouldn't stay there.

ZA32 [59535-59743]

Ah the state, the state under sharia ko, should prevent and should protect, should give a protection to the culture of non-Muslims, Muslims practices as happened during the life time of the prophet (SAW)..

ZA33 [17715-18174]

Sharia treats non-Muslims and their culture, business practices as well as their well being in some northern states in Nigeria because Islam gives rights, equal rights to people irrespective and in return with that freedom rights the non-Muslims will now see it and emulate the religion of Islam. So the Sharia allows non-Muslims to practice their culture and religion. Hindering them is like deviating or making them to run away from the religion of Islam.

ZA34 [36779-37678]

A good example is to look at our history, the history of Islam during Umar bin Abdulazeez, one of the Umayyad rulers. There, there are people that are non-Muslims that are living within an Islamic state. Umar bin Abdulazeez was the Khalifa by then. He treated the non-Muslims in a good way that even some of them embraced Islam by his character. One, as I said, protect their wealth, protect their lives, give them their due rights, establish schools for them, build special places for them to have businesses in their wealth and then give them a security to protect them as such they will know that Islam is a religion that have mercy on all human beings not only on the Muslims because Rasul (SAW) was not only sent as a mercy to the Muslims but even to the non-Muslims because Allah (SBUH) says wa ma arsan naka illah rahmatan lil alamin-we have not sent you only as mercy to the entire mankind.

ZA35 [15122-15207]

I think they should be giving freedom of movement and even worship in the state, yes.

ZA36 [22976-23091]

They should allow them to practice their faith too O!, to do their businesses and practice their religion freely.

ZA37 [30663-30913]

All this one has already passed, we discussed several times about this, allowing Muslims to interact with non-Muslims, issue of this maybe trading and so on. Muslims are allowed Islamically and in an Islamic state whether with a Muslim or non-Muslims

ZA38 [34443-34874]

First and foremost we must respect what the religion first brought, the rules. We must not distance ourselves from the religion, but then the non-Muslims, their own teachings varies from ours, we look the ones that are ok that did not contravene the teachings of God who allowed it and other businesses that are not ok, we would go into consensus whether they go far, they distance themselves from the community or they stop it.

ZA39 [46951-47533]

Actually what is happening in northern Nigeria, you know, there is we operate constitution, there is a constitution and there are some state that practice religion, the Islam or the sharia only affect those people who believe in Islam. It does not affect the people who do not believe in Islam itself, so that is it. A person should be allowed, I mean a non-Muslim in an Islamic state in northern Nigeria or in a sharia state, where they operate sharia is allowed to also practice his religion and is protected and all his rights and privileges are protected by the constitution.

Th13.6: Non- Muslim practice of faith and Building Worship Places in an Islamic State

KD1 [51326-51420]

That's serious. I have actually not, I don't have an idea of how that should come into place.

KD2 [22129-22261]

Of course, of course, they are allowed to, they are allowed. They are being allowed to practice their faith the way they feel like.

KD3 [18096-18411]

In a place where sharia is in place, you can't stay anywhere because even though a place where sharia is not in place, you don't just build a place of worship anyhow. There are limits and laws guiding it. Let me just use like Abuja for example now, even religious center has there own particular place they build.

KD4 [41342-41922]

Ha my brother, this is viable, this is viable and it is even seen in our community today. Non-Muslims that is the Christians in particular if you look that the type of churches, the type of worshipping places they build in the northern Nigeria, you will not find it in the eastern Nigeria and if you look at the Muslims always tolerate them and leave them to worship the way they want, to have their places of worship without even giving them any barrier, it is open, they observe. So, I don't see any need for bringing this question, they are allowed and it is allowed in Islam.

KD5 [21185-21520]

Hmmmm I think the answer is yes and no. Non-Muslims can be allowed to build their places of worship in a sharia state, but not anywhere or wherever because in the modern situation, it is not everywhere that anything can be situated, so I think they can be allowed but not everywhere or anywhere. That's should be in a particular area.

KD6 [36088-36302]

It all depends on the word you people are saying. Like in Nigerian this thing, you thought we practicing, so, they are allowed to do their religion lakum di lakum waliyya din. We are their already not converting.

KD7 [27500-27676]

To the best of my knowledge during the time of the prophet (SAW), there were guidelines, and you do not force somebody to your religion, you do not touch his place of worship.

KD7 [27771-27949]

No. There are always laws and regulations guiding everything. You cannot go and build mosque anywhere you like. So, how can you build church anywhere you like in a sharia state?

KD8 [50735-51133]

Not however because there are rules and regulations even under secular states there are rules and regulations, but they should be allowed to practice their religion, they should be allowed to build their places of worship wherever they find themselves in as long as they are complying to rules and regulations because they have rights to their religions. They should not be denied, but not anyhow.

KD9 [33897-34558]

They should be allowed to practice their religion, but not anyhow and however building their churches everywhere, anywhere, anyhow, no. There should be regulations. You are in an Islamic society. These are the things that cause conflict. You do things the way you like, after all the Christians, the religion they claim to follow they are not following it the way the original script thought them. So by so doing they are doing whatever they like and whatever you like in an Islamic enclave, of course you are going to create problems. You are going to end up bringing about conflict. So these things should be regulated, if they follow the regulations, fine.

KD10 [27301-27804]

Yes you know you are not to allow them where sharia is in place, they should not allow them to erect their place of worship. Like in Saudi Arabia, there is no one single church there, the Christians wants to build church there, then the Muslims did not allow them because Saudi Arabia is Dar el Islam, the state is Dar el Islam. In the whole world, there is no where they are practicing din like Saudi Arabia. Are you getting me? I Am not saying that Saudi Arabia they are free from errors completely.

KD11 [30073-30988]

O yes. This depends largely on the community I mean to be just and fair I for instance, let me cite and example, there is just no way you can have a church in Kano municipal why I think the simple reason is how many population of Christians do we have there, very few that is if there is any residential, any Christian residence or non-Muslim residence. You can't have less Jews, less Christians anything there. So it won't be realistic for them to have their church there. But for instance in such areas where they have whether it is in the city or any other village, if they have a substantial amount of their population there they can have, they can establish their churches or and be any other this thing, their temples or even the synagogues in as much as they have a considerable amount of population there, but where they don't have any population, they come and that is, that wouldn't work to some extent.

KD12 [32813-33079]

Hmm if sharia has come ah if sharia has conquered a state or has maintained a state like what happened in Medina where the prophet was there you see they already establish one, it doesn't give room for any Muslim to destroy them, but new ones cannot be established.

KD13 [13608-13613]

Yes.

KD14 [17803-17990]

This saying I could say in any place where there is sharia that is the Islamic law maybe Islamic state any place that is an Islamic state you rarely find Christians there or non-Muslims.

KD15 [24905-24983]

So far they won't go against the law of Islam they can do whatever they want.

KD16 [15244-15262]

Please go ahead

KD17 [46792-47089]

Where sharia is being practiced if they want land there are processes or procedures they will be given to practice to go to establish their synagogue or their churches. All these things are in the sharia laws. You need to study what the predecessors did, what the Salafs did in all these places.

KD18 [21928-22059]

It's not possible, they cannot allow them because it's going to be contradicting their own believe and the book they follow. Yes.

KD20 [21984-22156]

That is no. They cannot give them the place of their worship especially in the sharia state or country. Some states can tolerate that while some cannot tolerate that, yes.

KD21 [20668-20971]

And wherever however they want. I think even a Muslim in an Islamic state wouldn't be allowed to build a place of worship anywhere and however. We have market places, we have business venues only because it is an Islamic state, he doesn't have to go and build a mosque over there, so it's not allowed.

KD23 [21815-22143]

Yes because if you like ah if you look Kaduna before the sharia crisis, you will see, so even in my area, you will see ah there is a mosque and there is a church eh beside my mosque is looking at a at one church, one deeper life, so it is very, very close to and everyone is doing his religion without any problem at that time.

KD24 [65890-66496]

They are allowed in some certain places, not all. For example, if you consider Nigeria, we don't have separate places, but in Saudi Arabia, for example, there are sacred places that they are just meant for Islam, they are just meant for Islam, for example, in the Saudi Arabia Allah (SBUH) says in suratul Tauba (recites in Arabic), they should not come near the sacred mosque in Saudi Arabia, see if it is that Allah said they should not come near it, they themselves, you see this one is talk-less of them coming there and build their, so apart from such places that Allah has mentioned apart from the...

KD25 [84612-85400]

Ah when sharia is in place, you cannot just deny the non-Muslims; if Muslims agreed for them to stay with you, you cannot ah I mean deny them from entering into their churches. But it has to be without reasonable limits, all these shouting or let me say singing they are singing, it should be done in a very lower tone so that it will not cause any havoc. It should be within limit and it shouldn't that ah kind of street preaching or the street choir or these what, what do you call it? They call it from midnight to the next day shouting maybe singing all over in an open place that shouldn't come because it is no more a secular state, but an Islamic state. So it should be, in as much as they are ready to comply with the rules and the regulations of Islam, they should be contained.

KD26 [24806-24879]

I don't know, I don't know o, I don't have an answer for that question.

KD27 [24618-24621]

No

KD28 [31941-32158]

You see seeking for an Islamic rule in this present disposition we are it depends on the locality of the area where you are you understand so depending on the state you are that will bring the formula you need to apply

KD29 [19264-19450]

Sharia has provided ah enough for the non-Muslim to practice their religion and ah exercise to the extent of the provision of the sharia law, what is supposed to be beneficial to them.

KD30 [33554-34329]

Ah I think ah in an Islamic state ahm there is organization ahm there is distribution of ah the pattern of rich people settled these the non-Muslims of course will always feel comfortable when they live in a place where they can occur together, where they mix within themselves, they always find a place for them so they don't feel oppressed by Islamic law maybe find a place for them where they can build place of worship and ah their place of social activities ahm far away, quite away from the Muslims because in Islamic state we don't ahm the taking of alcohol ahm is not permitted and ahm doing such conducts we will offend Muslims in their midst, so it is always better to get a place where we can collect them generally so that they can do the whole their activities.

KD33 [23355-23771]

No, no I don't think non-Muslims should be allowed to, they should be allowed to practice their faith, but not build their places of worship anywhere and anyhow because building anywhere anyhow they can come near mosque or where Muslim practice their religion and that will gradually will cause conflict so they should be allowed to practice their faith freely and build their places of worship but not everywhere.

KD34 [26776-27094]

Yah definitely, but I as I said earlier the freedom of religion the freedom a word freedom has its own limitation, like for example, if there is a place they come to a place where there is a mosque, they were allowed to build a church but not very close to that particular mosque because of the conflict of interest.

KN1 [57685-57945]

As far as it has not contravene somebody's rights, as far as there is no cause for alarm. Like now I give you an example I told you that I agree here in Kano it is not everywhere that they should be allowed to build their places of worship for their own sake.

KN1 [57975-58234]

Of course for their own sake, because now I want you, I know that you know Kano, I want you to assume a church built near the Emir's palace. I want you to assume what will happen. Definitely you know something will happen and you need to protect that person

KN2 [32416-33179]

Somebody who is a non-Muslim can still build, but in northern Nigeria we see that they are destroying places of worship, why is that so? Are they disobeying the injunction?

KN2 [31988-32032]

Yes. Islam has given them that opportunity

KN2 [32079-32413]

That I go back to the word no compulsion in religion. There is another verse in the Qur'an which says you should not abuse what they are abusing and there is a tradition of the prophet that says even during a jihad you should not destroy places of worship. If places of worship have been protected it means they can be established. That one is called mob action. Mob action is a reprisal attack when something happens. And the mob is a group of people who gather together but without a direct leadership having a miraculous wonderful idea will attack certain points without any leader telling them to attack. That is what is called mob action. Like a riot is a mob action, political issues. They are people who gather together and make that attack. It is a reprisal, they are not doing it in the name of Islam and they are not doing it as violating Islam. They are doing it for a purpose far away from Islam itself.

KN4 [46496-47347]

Yes, you can build, you can build your place of sharia a eh a place of worship in the sharia state, you can have your own place, you can have your own land, even in Saudi Arabia now where they practice complete sharia there is church because Islam right from the word go recognize others religion. It recognize the Christianity, it recognize Jew, it is allowed but not in a way that people would move to where there are no majority like we depending on the constituency ward, it is just like a eh for you to come to where you are not there, in the middle of the majority and place of worship it has no meaning and you must have a different of a views and and, and understanding but you can go to where you are dominate and build the place of your worship. I think normally in a right perspective and in an objective way that is how it should be.

KN5 [27901-28298]

Not anywhere actually ah ah if they believe they want to be in a state where sharia is practiced as I said that means the government is powerful ah and ah it has all the powers to make and unmake in the state so there should be directed to where they are supposed to be and not everywhere as it is in the midst of the Muslim Umma, they may say something that will lead to killing and all that.

KN6 [30455-30793]

Yes Islamic allow them to build their place of worship but this building it should be based on certain rules and regulations and even in this Islamic system of sharia maybe there are some places which ah you can't allow Muslim to go and build his place of worship. So and this building it should be based on certain rules and regulations.

KN7 [27865-28432]

Well, I think when we are talking of, we said, we said earlier on that yes, an Islamic state should be as much as possible democratic enough. So, in a situation whereby yes we ehm non-Muslims exist within the society, I think they should be given the right and the opportunity to practice their own religion, even though if it warrants, even if its warrants ehm, a situation whereby they are to be given a special places to worship so as not to cause any crisis within the society. I think yes, they should be given their own separate places for their worship, yes.

KN8 [28355-28646]

I think in order not to cause a problem preferably it is just like when water and fire is walking together. There is right to life but the non-Muslims should not bring a commotion of establishing their own probably it is better for them to relocate another where so as to bring about peace.

KN9 [25344-25620]

Of course, of course, there has to be, they can build their places of worship but it has to be very far from where the initial Muslim places of worship are. I think there are certain distance they are supposed to give in order to avoid, you understand, clash of interest, yes.

KN10 [19622-19704]

Not everywhere, not however. There will be restricted in the state of Islam, yes

KN11 [26226-26569]

Yes anywhere they want, the word anywhere should be removed here, but non-Muslims must be not be allowed, must be allowed to practice their faith. La iqra ha fid din, like I have said, and we saw it in the –during the life time of prophet (SAW) there were Mushrikun in Mecca and they worship their faith, and prophet (SAW) didn't allow them.

KN13 [29382-29386]

No.

KN15 [21076-21191]

Definitely, they should be allowed but not anyway they want but they should be allowed to practice their religion.

KN16 [11615-11676]

No no no they should be allowed but not anywhere they want.

KN33 [9798-9849]

Well not in every area where Muslims are dominant.

KN34 [16480-16596]

Yes they should be. I see no reason why they should be denied because Islam allows them to practice their religion.

KN35 [16991-16994]

Yes

KN36 [17778-17924]

No. Worship place should not be built closer to the Muslims or there should be strategic areas where the non-Muslim worship areas can be located.

KN37 [16067-16253]

You see when we say a state is a sharia state, I believe that some practices should be restricted and as such the building of places of worship by non-Muslims should also be restricted.

KN38 [11703-11709]

Ah no

KN39 [19912-20254]

Actually yes they can practice their religions, but saying that they can be able or they have the capability of building their places of worship everywhere is something which is actually not in accordance with the physical living between the Muslims and non-Muslims. They can be able to build their places of worship where they are close to.

KN40 [16542-16646]

Everybody have the right to worship whoever they want to worship and build their own worship place.

KN41 [14129-14139]

No idea.

KN42 [33196-33516]

As long as yah, non-Muslim should be allowed, but Islam is more accommodative of Christianity rather than Paganism. Islam doesn't see paganism as a religion. He sees it as a way to offend God. As long as it is not paganism, they are allowed to worship and build their altar of worship so as to communicate with the God.

KN43 [25058-25427]

It shouldn't be anywhere and anyhow because if you build your place of worship in the midst of the, you know, majority ah religious ah groups definitely you will face a lot of challenges. It is not constitutional wrong but you should get somewhere and establish your place of worship where you would do it without any distractions and you know if you like persecution.

KN44 [19288-19800]

No, that, even the Muslims themselves, they are not allowed to build their place, I mean place of worship anywhere and kuma however. Even Muslims are not, there are certain rules and regulations that have to be followed even in terms of building of a Muslims' place of worship. So if that can be regulated on the part of the Muslim that should also be extended on the part of the non-Muslims. So there is no way that place of worship can be built anywhere, anyhow, ai it doesn't sound, it doesn't sound logical.

KN45 [27577-27998]

Ehh, you see I that anyhow, there is something here ehh nothing organized can be done anyhow. So they can be allowed to establish their ehh places of worships yes ehh freely as ehh Muslims are allowed to build their places of worship too, but at least within the law of the state. The state must come in to ensure that there is regulation in these matters at least to avoid ehh any ehh conflict yah or any tension, yes.

KN46 [47223-49607]

Ahh, I think they should be allowed, not they should, they must be allowed to practice their religion. They should even be encouraged to ah, to practice their religion, in fact a state cannot be a sharia compliant state unless it allows non-Muslims to practice their religion the way ah ah they want to. The only thing is ah there is no country whether it is secular or sharia compliant state, no country that allows people to do their or to operate just the way want to. There must be certain rules which govern the affairs of the people so that ah some other members would not be ahh negatively or ahh ahh will not be at the-the practice of others will not be at the detriment of others. For example, me as a Muslim I do not like and I do not approve the practice of some Muslims who invade the street during the prayers of Juma'at, I do not like that. So I think this is not what Islam allows us to do because we obstruct the way of others. Some people have their businesses, even if they are Muslims, they may not like to pray at that particular mosque and you block their way. Some of them were going to attend to their own businesses, some were traveling, and you block their way. Some are sick and their family wants to take them to the hospital, and you block their way. So what is this? So to me, it is not, it is not Islamic to allow people to practice their religion the way they want to, no. A sharia compliant state should allow people, must allow people to practice their religion, but not the way they want to. Yes they should practice their religion according to the teachings of their religion without making or inconveniencing the other citizens and even if you go to other mosques you will see in the night they will use the microphone, they engage in certain things which that particular thing may inconvenience the people in the neighborhood. Some of them might be sick, they want quietness. Some of them were tired, are tired and they want sleep, and that activity, particular activity because of the noise it causes, they would not be able to sleep. So you can see that this cannot be considered as Islamic, and any sharia, and any state which allows this to persist without making any effort to address this inconveniences made by followers of any religion to others could not be then ahh in that particular area, it is not practicing what sharia ahh teaches.

KN47 [44528-44825]

If non-Muslims, yah of course they should be allowed because they have the right to practice their religion. So, and there is no way you can say they should not practice their own religion in your land because you just have them as partners, and sometimes they are also indigenious in the society.

KN48 [14369-14396]

Yes, they must be allowed.

KN49 [24397-24467]

Actually there should be rules and laws and regulations guiding such.

KN50 [12628-12633]

Yes.

KN52 [37333-37803]

Yes of course why not? There was a time, I think, in history the prophet was said to have allowed some Christians to perform some religious rituals in a mosque in Medina. Even recently in the U.K, in London I think when there was a backlash, an attack against Muslims following a terrorist attack against a British soldier, the Muslims were harassed anywhere in London, I think, a non-Muslim community allowed some Muslims to pray in a church or so if I remember well.

KN54 [9623-9644]

This is serious, no.

KN55 [10392-10416]

It shouldn't be anyhow

KN56 [17216-17343]

No. It shouldn't be anywhere and anyhow they want it should be regulated. It should be regulated by the government authority.

KN57 [16376-16552]

No. They are restricted to some certain degrees. They are not giving 100% or I can say automatic ticket to do whatsoever they like. They are restricted to some certain degree.

KN58 [36800-36994]

That is, as I said earlier on, if the state operates in dar el harb because they have the right to practice their religion, it is allowed.

La iqra fid din, there is no compulsion in religion.

KN59 [31421-32129]

Actually they should be allowed to practice their faith, yes, but the issue of allowing them to build their places of worship, gaskiya is not that allowed, like in Kano state there is a reserved place for them to build their places of worship, which is this Sabongari because they cannot come to a place that is fully dominated 100%, 99.9% dominated by Muslims and Hausas to build their places of worship. By allowing them to build their places of worship it can lead to chaos and conflicts. But the government of Kano state has created, give them a reserved place whereby that is where they normally engage in their business, that is why they give them that place to kind of build their places of worship.

KN60 [27735-27751]

It is allowed

KN61 [14001-14045]

There must be a condition attached to that.

KN62 [45065-45261]

Yah I believe they can do so, I believe they can do so. They have the right to practice their religion, to observe their religious ahh forms of worship for whatever. They have the right to do so.

KN63 [33112-33663]

Of course they are being guaranteed to do that, but, but, you know, they cannot just do that anywhere in any part of the country because like now, if you take Kano for example now, you know, they can carve out a particular region, where may be they can site their churches and place of worship, for example, because in fact that really will go a long way to safeguard them because they cannot just site their churches in any part of the state. So carving a section of the state where they can be allowed to stay and build their churches, it is okay.

KN64 [23242-23282]

This depends on the on the place, hmm.

KN65 [29038-29935]

Ehm to me, non-Muslims should be allowed to practice their faith, but building there places of worship anywhere because they use the word anywhere, no. That is what I do not agree with, yes there is nothing wrong, a state can provide them with a place, okay this is where has been earmarked for you to build your religion, you understand, apart from that you are not going to build anywhere, you understand. In every sharia state they should allocate a place for them. Like here in Kano, not only in Sabongari there are churches everywhere, you understand, go to Badawa, you will see churches, go to Naibawa you will see churches, even here in Brigade there are churches, you understand. So that is what the idea I did not buy, okay lets get them a small ehh a place sorry, let us get them a place okay fine, this place you can build your churches or your place of worship, but not everywhere.

KN66 [17495-17522]

Yah, I believe so, like,

KN66 [17686-17834]

Strictly in places where sharia is being practice, non-Muslims under those sharia laws are not even allowed to practice or build places of worship.

KN67 [18331-18670]

Well, I think there maybe some, should not be anywhere or anyhow. Building even building mosques and other Islamic worship places, they have their own limitations and other rules and regulations that are given by the state. So non-Muslims should observe the rules and regulations of the Islamic state in building their places of worship.

KN68 [9137-9165]

Yes, but with restrictions.

KN69 [32155-32634]

Well, if sharia is in place or if a particular state where Islamic sharia is applicable is dominant, I think, though non-Muslim could be accommodated, but Islam or that particular state must give right to the non-Muslim in order to practice their own religions, but it will not be possible for a non-Muslim to contain that he must, he must build a place of worship anywhere he so wish in an Islamic state because it is the state that will allocate the appropriate place for him.

KN71 [55945-56185]

That one, the issue of anywhere is what I cannot really say, but I know the non-Muslims are given the right to practice their religion in a place suitable to them. Anywhere is what I cannot really say or a statement that I cannot answer.

KN72 [30083-30196]

Exactly. They have right to build their worship ehh places since Islamic ehh recommended the right of religions.

KN73 [29240-29746]

Non-Muslims should be allowed of course to practice their own faith, but should not be allowed to build their worship places everywhere, they should not be allowed to build everywhere, even a Muslim ai is not allowed just to do, to build a mosque everywhere you find, everywhere you feel it. There is provision for how and where and how distance will you build a mosque and why mosque should be built. You get me? Even in Islam there is a provision, mosque how distance will be built talk less to worship...

KN73 [29834-29888]

Of course they have instructions, but not everywhere.

KN74 [40310-40445]

Yes, we can allow them to do such a kind of thing provided that it will not ehh it is provided that it will not be against the sharia.

KN74 [40556-40620]

Yes, yes provided that it will not against the rules of sharia.

KN75 [43618-43661]

They should not deny them for worshipping.

KN75 [43792-44054]

Here is a restriction, you cannot come here now and you want to build a church in Islamic society or a community whereby we have a, they have their own separate place by which they right can never be denied, but they cannot use their religion to disturb others.

KN76 [32120-32917]

Well due to the sensitivity of the religion, I think that there is need for having a an area that is ahh well I mean a religious worship places like mosque or church, they should be separated, at least there should be a distance if you look at the Kano state or Kano city you will see that most of the non-Muslim are concentrated in Sabongari area and most of the churches are there, that is why when there is conflict between the Muslim and Christians in Kano state, the conflict is easily put under control but take an example of the Plateau state whereby all the churches and the Mosques are everywhere and they communities lived among each other, when the conflict erupted, it was very devastating and many lives and properties were lost and places of worship were torched, were set on fire.

KN76 [33051-34193]

Of course, let me give you one example there was a time that a conflict was evaded in Kano because there was a year that Sallah comes on a Sunday and when you go to Bayero University, the Christians perform Sunday service in the open theatre in those days and that open theatre is very close to the central Mosque in BUK of Old site and when the Muslims were performing their Eid prayer, the Christians were worshipping, singing and drumming and at the end of the prayer the whole Muslims or majority of the Muslims rose against, rose towards the church and only God saved religious conflict that year and later on the federal government deported one of the lecturers in Bayero University, that was professor Mortimo because he was part of them and he was the one who insisted that the Christian must also perform their worship at that very particular time. But if to say the church was located somewhere within BUK premises or maybe in theatre one ah theatre two, six, seven far away from the mosque, they can practice their religion without disturbing the Muslims and the Muslims could practice their own without disturbing the Christians.

KN78 [50382-50883]

If it is an ideal sharia, I think certain areas are located for non-Muslims for the convenience of practicing their religion. I remember in the northern part of this country particular here in Kano state, during the colonial period, they discover that there are areas specifically designated or provided for people who are not even non-Muslims or who are not even Hausas, for the simple reason of practicing their culture or their religion conveniently. I think we have Sabongari areas for instance.

KN80 [39340-39489]

Yes he can be permitted to practice his religion, but building his place of worship should be subject to the approval of those that are in authority.

KN81 [24401-24744]

No there is restriction maybe if there are many they can assign the can ahh go out to within their, within the dominant of ahh Muslims to build their ahh place of worship, but is I think it is not allowed to build around to build ahh within the Muslims. They can only build their ahh place separate from where Muslim places of worship are.

KN82 [27262-27415]

Yes, yes even during the prophet Muhammad (SAW) lifetime, there were such ahh ahh worshipping Centres, worshipping places, they existed and didn't ban them.

KN83 [17898-17955]

Yes, but there is restriction not everywhere as he wish

KN83 [18020-18111]

So he is not allowed to go anywhere and preach. There are some certain places he will be.

KN84 [20572-20776]

Accurately no. There is specific place provided for non-Muslims to build their place of worship in an Islamic state, where they will not be chased away, will not be harassed, where they will be protected.

KN84 [20828-21088]

No they are not allowed to build everywhere because we don't want them to be harassed by some who are, you know, illiterate, some who are not ahm good peace keeping. So that is why we decide, they are deciding to build in an area where they will be protected

KN85 [27777-28322]

Ahh on-Muslims should be allowed to practice their faith in a sharia state, but when it comes to building their places of worship, it is not anywhere, it is not anyhow. In an already established Islamic community non-Muslims should not be allowed to build their places of worship in those areas. They should be allowed to build their own places of worship in their own localities. As such they can practice their own religion, but there places of worship should be built in their own localities not in an already Islamic established societies.

ZA1 [29149-30142]

I told you, I said that during Umar bin Khatab when Khalid bin Walid conquered a Palestine, one of their churches have been demolished and rebuild mosque and Umar ordered Khalid to demolish the mosque and rebuild the church. But if non-Muslims are under Islam are under state, are under Islamic state, they have the freedom to build their churches, but my question is this, like in Nigeria now, in northern Nigeria, northern part of Nigeria, no any local government that you will not find a church, but can you tell me in Onitsha, in this Bayelsa, you can't find a mosque, why? [The religion is not practiced there] No, they didn't allow Muslims to build, but now you are talking about Muslim should, non-Muslims should be allowed in-go to Sokoto seat of Caliphate, you are going to see church. Their church is bigger than the mosque. So it means that this are the signs that Islam give each and every individual right to worship as far as he didn't transgress, he didn't go beyond his limit.

ZA2 [29128-29970]

That question we have them all over, where do they go to (interviewer being rowdy with the respondent, which shouldn't be) they are only given one aspect, the Muslim have that freedom of giving you that legal right, but when you go back to the southern where we have large number of Christians they disallow the Muslims to have more freedom. So in fact it is, but we are more free, we feel free that we go by the teaching that we have derived from our creator, but they, I don't know where they got their own teaching because I could recall back that during the prophet Isah whom we today we honor, some say they worship, I think he goes with everybody, he allows everybody to practice is religion when he comes in the Lord, from his Lord. So I don't know what is wrong. But we don't have that problem. Come to the north you see churches.

ZA3 [22902-23485]

You know as I have said as if there is freedom of religion and depending on their number then there would be reserved areas for such individuals in order to give them their own sense of belonging and in Islam we say even in war we should never go to places of worship and destroy them and even during war if anybody finds themselves in their places of worship that they are saved. So Islam giving room to such an extent even in war, so in some of these fighting and they run into their places of worship you are not supposed to go and evacuate the victim at the places of worship.

ZA4 [44154-44450]

Yah actually if there is sharia government is going to give them their secluded place for their own place for worship so that- where they will have their own rights. So they don't have to scatter it anywhere that is a very controlled place that will give them their own place, they can do it there

ZA5 [25652-25717]

Yes, because they have the freedom of worship.

ZA6 [62153-62517]

Ahm non-Muslims should be allowed to build, of course, to practice, you know, is the right, is their right. They should practice their religion, build their places of worship, but not anywhere they want. It is not possible for you to say anywhere they want. Definitely there must be provision for that. You cannot say everywhere they want. That is to be sincere.

ZA7 [28113-28680]

Well I think even in non-sharia states, one cannot just build places of worship everywhere; he can't build church or a mosque in front of a high way. So I think it should, it should be taken into consideration and the location should be taken into consideration if it is conducive enough or if it is well enough for construction and if it won't affect emm any other person. They should be able to do and they have the yes they have the ownership to that land they want to build their places of worship, I think they should be able to build their places of worship.

ZA8 [60248-60980]

Yes they are allowed. If there is peace and coexistence between the two religion and there is understanding, they are allowed.

Like I told you, during the time of the prophets, no mosque, there are churches even then in Jerusalem when the conquered Jerusalem. The Umar that was the successor, the third successor, the second no, yes the second successor to the prophet, he came to Jerusalem when they conquered, there are already churches there, Christians are already living and they told them that nobody will touch any of them, their lives are safe and they told them that nobody will touch their places of worship that is their churches, they will still remain standing, they are free to do their worships. it was done that way.

ZA9 [32336-32914]

They should be allowed to build their place, their places of worship as long as it does not affect the practice of Islam. I remember in zamfara state, I have been to zamfara state like three or four times before and we have churches though those churches are not, they are not in the core places, they are in the few places, remote areas. Same thing with Imo, Imo is a Christian state before you find a mosque in Imo state maybe it is a central mosque that you find in Imo state, most Muslims hat are there pray individually in their houses. So it is synonymous to each other.

ZA10 [30052-30097]

Actually No, because it will cause problems.

ZA11 [24682-24836]

Anywhere, however they want, making emphasis on that. It doesn't sound okay, anywhere, however meaning there is no law to it. So and then where is the law

ZA12 [15076-15144]

Well, it should be allowed but anywhere? There might be restriction.

ZA13 [15077-15143]

They should be allowed to practice their religion, sharia is not.

ZA14 [20093-20342]

No, even though they want to be given a place to worship, they have to be outskirts of the people because if you look at the way they do their religion, they always disturb people because of that automatically they need to like adjust a little bit.

ZA15 [23186-23385]

Definitely they should be allowed to practice their, you cannot, that is what I am saying there is no compulsion in Islam, it is not compulsory in Islam they should be allowed to practice the faith.

ZA16 [16371-16376]

Yes.

ZA17 [18772-18971]

We are not ask to burn their place or not allow them to build their place, if there is a position they can build their place of worship, our own is to preach to them, to be teach them, be guiding them

ZA18 [23224-23692]

They should be allowed to, but with a restriction. Ask me why, you see, where they are few, you understand, and if it happens the majority of the populace there are Muslims, it will not be right for them to go and build their churches, you understand. So also the Muslims, if they are just few in a place, in fact, you are not even allowed to go to where there are predominantly (Christians) ehen, you come to your people and is for convenience sake, you understand.

ZA19 [33386-34410]

No. Ah even in Nigeria presently where it is or we are not practicing a sharia state, ah place of worships were not allowed to be built anywhere and at any time and at every form because when you said it should be established in anywhere and at any form, definitely it might call for violence because you cannot come and establish your worshiping ground in my own field or where I am actually performing my own prayers and so many other religious acts. For instance now, if Muslims build their mosque in one particular place, you cannot say Christians should also come and build their own church besides their own mosques because when they are calling for prayer virtually it might be a very time when the Christians might also embark on prayers, so definitely there would be this kind of pandemonium in the society where grievances might escalate in one way or the other. So I suggest that ah in a sharia state, Christians or non-Muslims should establish their worshiping grounds where they are appropriate, so do Muslims.

ZA20 [21852-21978]

It happened during the time of the holy Prophet (SAW). They were allowed to do their own faith, to practice their own faith.

ZA21 [25968-26292]

Of course we said somebody can practice religion other than Islam. If that person says he cannot accept Islam or he will not accept Islam then you have no choice than to be preaching. As I said earlier on even the prophet (SAW) was said to have got a command from Allah that his own is only to preach sharia is from Allah.

ZA22 [23184-23462]

No. They have the right to display their faith, to practice their religion, to build their worshiping centres, but not the way they like, but the way the Islamic sharia determines and there is provision for that in Islam. But they will not be denied practice of their religion.

ZA23 [32146-32330]

Yes of course because there was even a saying that the holy prophet (SAW) sometimes in Medina he even gave his masjid in Medina for some non-Muslims to practice their worship there.

ZA24 [37914-38454]

Yes it is allowed. You can allow them to build their places of worship and worship their God. As I have been insisting from the beginning that these people are not the ones who made themselves like that, they have been destined by God because there is one sura that said that Allah said he created believers and non-believers. And Allah created aljanna and hell fire. So it is people that he is going to put there. So therefore in sharia state we can allow them to build their places of worship as long as they are not disturbing our own.

ZA25 [34248-34954]

Yes and no. As I have said they are allowed to practice their religion in a sharia based state to the extent that they do not interfere for example that expression that says to build their places of worship anywhere and however, that means they can even go to the id ground and put up their church there. It is not done that way. They can only—they will seek for approval, if they state will give them the approval of a particular location then they will allowed to – in as much as they are allowed to practice their religion, they are also allowed to put up structures of their places of worship. But the Muslims are seriously urged to continuously preaching to them in terms or –in words and in action.

ZA26 [17000-17504]

Yes. Let me tell you one thing. This issue is not from Muslims. I believe there is a conflict in Sokoto where they want to build a church, so the Sokoto people said give a similar place in Onitsha or Anambra to build a mosque, but this people they keep this thing. Right from there, there is no issue of that one. So it is not the issue of Muslim being very strict or in conflict, even this people-any other religion will try to protect their own religion because it is a political issue not religion.

ZA27 [15381-15698]

Yes they should be allowed, but with conditions. They should not do anything that will cause chaos between both religions. They should not-like for example now a non-Muslim because right of religion should not go and may be accusing prophet Muhammad (SAW) or do anything contrary to cause crisis within the society.

ZA28 [29077-29345]

Well you see where sharia is in place, there is normally order hmmm there is normally order. So and a true Muslim is known not to go against orders. And every setting has plans. You can't just find a T-junction and try to build a mosque because it is a sharia state.

ZA29 [42191-42512]

Well in this case I will tell you yes because in an Islamic state, from the name Islamic, meaning it is a state where Islamic practices are observed, truly observed, and when Islamic practices are duly observed, it is expected that there should be no non-Islamic practice in that state. So restriction is applied.

ZA30 [52262-52289]

Exactly, as you just said.

ZA31 [23364-23384]

Yes, it is allowed.

ZA32 [60256-60624]

Yes they can be allowed, yes they can be allowed to practice their faith, but not to build their places of worship anywhere and however they want, but rather in an organization.

For example, you cannot allow a non-Muslim to come and build his church close to the mosque, you understand me, yes so that, they can be allowed to practice faith but not anywhere and anyhow

ZA33 [18340-19093]

Non-Muslims be allowed to practice faiths and their places of worship. Yes they should be allowed to practice their faith and to build their various places of worship wherever they like and wherever they of course feel even in the state where there is Sharia. This will now make them to see that they are like among with them, but to some extent there should be a restriction on that if on the other hand establishing such places of worship will bring conflicts where the Muslims are majority in that place, such should be-there should be created a dialogue to find a suitable place for them to build their places of worship. But categorically Islam allows them to do such as long as they can live peacefully and in harmony with their fellow Muslims.

ZA34 [38245-39063]

Actually to that it depends on the settlement. If the settlements are purely a settlement of the non-Muslims they can be allowed to build their worshiping places and other things. But if is a place that is dominated by Muslims and now non-Muslims wanted to create and maybe build a place of worship that will bring misunderstanding between the Muslims and the non-Muslims that should be prevented. And a non-Muslim is allowed to practice his religion as far as he cannot intrude into the affairs of other religions. As I gave good examples during Rasul (SAW) people have been practicing their religion without any interference, without any problem. During Umar bin Abdulazeez is also an example and other companions. I can remember during Umar (Rabiyyalahu) he gave the non-Muslims freedom of their own religion also.

ZA35 [15510-15518]

Yes.

ZA36 [23394-23398]

Yes

ZA37 [31380-31592]

No it is not possible, even presently in this our present state that is not an Islamic state, you cannot just go and build your place of worship everywhere and anyhow even in this present state that we are in.

ZA38 [35436-35762]

The issue is you can't stop people that are non-Muslims from not worshipping, if you allow them to worship probably they would build a place of worship, you understand. It is allowed. I did not see, I didn't know, I didn't see anywhere they say that you should not allow people to worship. There is no compulsion in religion.

ZA39 [48226-48742]

Yes, a non-Muslim is allowed to practice, in fact must not even politics, it is mandatory under Islam, it is mandatory, you cannot compel me to accept your religion neither would I do the same to you. So be it a Muslim or not, he must be allowed to practice his faith and ordinarily this practice is everywhere he is living in the community particularly a person cannot just go and build a church where he is alone, I believe he must co-exist with other fellows sharing the same faith, so therefore it is mandatory.

Th13.7: Muslims Hindering Freedom of Worship and the Building of Worship Places

FG1 [53887-53965]

It is true, even here presently in this school they have no place of worship

FG1 [53967-54465]

In this school for me I may say it is right. Even me if am opportuned I will not allow them to build their places of worship not because am against any form of their religion, because we say history shapes the future. This school was originally built on Islamic basis. Kano state is one of the highly recognized Islamic states not only in Nigeria but in the world today. So this school it may be an abuse not to the general society but even to the religious practices of Islam in the state.

FG2 [44783-45538]

Practicing of religion to my understanding, yah calling people to religion is also practice of religion, but it is not a major part of religion. I don't know if you understand what am trying to say. What am trying to say is unlike where a Muslim has to pray five times daily, has to pay zakat that is the criteria of the practice of religion, a Christian needs to go to church on Sundays. In so far as they can build their churches, go to their church on Sundays do their religious activities, I think if not for propaganda in the real sense that the mere fact that this line was drawn for them not to go into Muslim territories and call people to their religion I think it will not amount to of the freedom of practice of religion to my own expression.

FG3[82340-83073]

I am eager to tell you no, it is not the truth. The reason is that I schooled in Sokoto my secondary school is Federal Science School, Sokoto. If you go to Emir Yahaya that is almost the longest line in Sokoto and Sokoto is referred to as the Caliphate in northern Nigeria that is almost the mother of Islam in northern Nigeria, but in Emir Yahaya I think there was a time I counted 14 churches without reaching a single house in that area. Go to Kano in Sabon Gari enter there and count the number of churches triples the number of mosques in Sabon gari. Come to Sabon Garin Zaria it is almost the same thing, the number of churches and theyyy all these churches located in the northern Nigeria. So I disagree with this statement.

FG3 [83147-83183]

Yes. Restricted to a particular area

FG3 [83191-87409]

I think in this part now I will like to put, I got what the question is saying. When you said northern part of the country, when you take Kaduna for example, Kaduna is one of the most multilingual and most multicultural state in the north. Take Katsina for example, in Katsina the most dominant group, 98 percent are Muslims. If everybody here should bear me witness in Katsina 98 percent are Muslims. Now take for example katsina 98 percent are Muslims, somebody from Delta came in the form of business he came and he started they gave him home, you reside, you started, you know they called themselves home of hospitality, so they showed you hospitality. You came, you stayed, you started doing your business. One day you wake up and you said that that home they gave you, you feel that ok I am home, you understand and the next is that actually I would like to have a place of worship, give it to me, it is my right, you understand, you showed to them that it is your own right to own that place. To them it will be like you just came from nowhere, in fact you have not spent the years that will give you the right to... what I am saying it happened I am a witness, I saw it, actually the Christians were asked not to build the church there, they were stopped and till today they did not build it. But still it is just that one that were stopped from building, but still there are churches, you understand, there are still churches, there are still churches. For that reason, for what he did, he was saying that I am a Nigerian so I have the right to build my own place of worship anywhere and everywhere. Then the man said, the man that is telling him, then the king said this is our father's land, my own fatherland, you started building here and I have the right to tell you what to do and what not to do. And at the same time now take reference to the Far East if you go there, you as a Muslim, just go there, to give you a house to stay, I am not being sentimental I am saying the truth because it is from the experience, to give you a place to stay, one it is difficult. If you successfully earn a place to stay you dear not even try, you dear not ever try, we are saying this things from experience, you dear not try to show publicly you are praying, not talk of you saying you want a place to build a mosque. It is not because I am a Muslim because I am saying the truth. Even them themselves they tell me, those that we live around here, they tell me that you can't even see somebody praying, he is a Muslim, but he cannot show that he is a Muslim. But here we want you to show that you are a Christian. We give you that opportunity to do, we let you. They know that the hospitality lives here but when you go there it dies. It is the fact.

- He almost said everything but the only thing I want to add is this, because the question said they are restricted. They only felt restricted but they are not. The reason is that maybe Zaria was built already inside the city before they came, it is like they came after the city has already been built. So when they came they usually give them outside city to build a community that is why they call the place Sabon Gari –meaning inside city has filled up but they have Sabon Gari Zaria. Funtua I could remember was filled up but they gave them BCJ because houses are already filled up so that is why you will see the areas most be, even in Kano it is the same thing-Sabon Gari. But in Sokoto I told you Emir Yahaya is within the old city of Sokoto. If to say you can compare, it is Muslims that are supposed to cry, if you can compare the number of churches that are northern Nigeria today, take for example let me say Igboland there was a time we visited our sister school, I attended one of the Federal Science College in the country, one is in Sokoto one is in Ogoja Cross river state, when we visited that school, the Muslims we found in that school are only 6 and they were not permitted to have a place of worship. They only have one place that they put this, but I our own school we have church in Sokoto we have mosque. So you see up till tomorrow I think Muslims are more justice, I don't know how to use this word. So I disagree with this statement.

FG3 [87410-88053]

And again, sorry let me not cut you short. And being that you talk about restriction. They are not restricted. Even if they were given that portion to go and ok start Sabon gari, they started from one person to group. So subsequently if anybody is coming he will prefer to go to where someone that have the same faith with him to settle so that is how they kept growing and they will now name it a particular street. If they should go maybe possibly go to other streets and maybe try to secure a place, in a Muslim state or in the northern part nobody will stop them from doing that. So they just restrict themselves to a particular street.

KD1 [63100-64147]

I think the accusation is baseless because I for one I studied at Minna. And right in front of the Mobil roundabout, we have a very giant ECWA church. I have traveled to Ilorin, right on that the main road at Ilorin, we have several churches, you hardly see a mosque. When you see large big structures, you realize that they are churches. Several other places, you see giant big churches in the north. Even in universities, you see big churches, in fact you see two, one for catholic and one for protestants. So that cannot be true and all in no place in the world, no places that Christian place will you be allowed to build your worship place any where. In even in this same north, you are not allowed to build your mosque anywhere. So it has to follow maybe the city plan or places in according to the instructions and of course in some places, mosque and churches have to have according to the Nigerian rule, hundred meters apart, so all these things have to put in place. So that's just crying wolf, that's just crying wolf, that's not true.

KD2 [34267-34905]

This is purely an accusation that is not true. Move around the country, move around the northern part of the country. Go to Sokoto where I studied, there are so many churches, very large ones beyond your imaginations that are built by the Christians, at times, they are being even assisted by the Muslims so for them to build their places of worship. In my house, my neighbor, opposite my house is a church, and we've never disturbed them, and we've never told them they are disturbing us with their songs or with their early morning activities. So they are been allowed to build their places of worship all over the country and however.

KD3 [24865-25234]

This accusation is completely false because even most of the religious centres that are built in northern Nigeria does not exist in the south, in terms of size and even the specific beauty of that building. At times, you even wonder, and they build those buildings in a strategic place that it attracts any new comer coming that is just entering that particular state.

KD4 [57208-57403]

Thank God you call it accusation and let's leave it to be accusation and it will continue to be accusation and accusation will remain accusation. There is no element of truth in this accusation.

KD5 [33418-33822]

I don't know of other part of the country, but here in Kaduna, I don't think this accusation is correct because here in Kaduna I don't think there is any area by which the Christians want to build their place of worship that is been denied to them. So, I think they are allowed to build their places of worship and they are allowed to worship in the night, in the morning, and whenever they feel they wan

KD6 [51312-51859]

He did not apply to non-Muslims in the north. Go to the south, it's still the same thing, I have an Igbo friends that they are Muslims, I know what is happening to them in the south there. They would look at you as a leper not here that they were even allowed to free, to even mingle with their selves. There, they will look at you downward, even if you are praying, they will be looking at you as you have started something wrong. Here in the northern Nigeria, it's not like that, it is just when the conflict comes and everybody settles again.

KD7 [40412-40794]

Ehm it is said so that Muslims do not allow non-Muslims to build places of worship anyhow, but I believe that today in present Nigeria, the number of churches you have in Muslim dominated areas, you cannot guess. The number of churches you have in Muslim dominated areas, you can never get that number of mosques in Christian dominated areas. So I think Muslims are more tolerant.

KD8 [74366-74742]

That is, that is, that is untrue. If you go to Sokoto, Ahmadu Bello Way, it is all churches, very big churches there. If you go to Bayelsa you will not see mosque. If you go to those areas, you will not see mosque, but if you go to Sokoto, which is the centre, the seat of the caliphate, you see churches there. So, it is not true, anywhere you go you will see churches.

KD9 [50750-51427]

That is not true. We have more churches in northern Nigeria today more than any other place as far as am concerned. There are opportunities for them to build churches, in fact there are proliferation of churches in our society as it were today and these things should be regulated even if it is a Christian society, it should be regulated. Places of worship are not just to be built anyhow, anywhere, anyhow, even if you are of the religious faith, everything you do in the society, in the same society should be regulated. So the way they go about it is, like I said, trying to impose themselves on us. On the TV, their buildings, the way they preach and so on and so forth.

KD11 [35798-35805]

False

KD12 [41973-42339]

Eh in fact you see it has been, it has been known from time immemorial that northern area is only dominated by the Muslims and then they don't, Islamic environment cannot be polluted with things that is going to destroy them, so automatically the government, the Islamic government has to maintain a good principle on how to maintain a good affairs with the people.

KD13 [20398-20537]

Ah it's wrong because even in the northern Nigeria the positions that are even more Islamical, they still find their churches built there.

KD14 [25532-25784]

That accusation is totally false because using Nigeria as an example most of the big strategic churches you find in the north are not are not found anywhere else in the south. They do build bigger churches in northern Nigeria than in southern Nigeria.

KD15 [33175-33418]

Ahm I don't think that is right because actually am in north right now and I know of big, big churches and big, big Mosques close together and everybody doing his own thing and I don't think ahm it is okay in the north, they live peacefully.

KD16 [21496-21803]

I disagree with that accusation because the number of churches in Kaduna you cannot even count it eh although Kaduna is no man's land, as some people said, if you go to my own town which is Bida where I can say 99.9 percent of us are Muslims, we have several number of churches there, they worship freely

KD17 [60044-60543]

It accusation is a false accusation as far as am concerned. Look at presently as in you can count the number of churches in this part of the north and you can count the number of Mosque in some part of this north using Kaduna as a case study now. Look at, so why would tell me, is a case of tit for tat, you are not allowing me to build Mosque in your places and you are complaining that am not allowing you to build churches here, why are you complaining. Allow me there and I will allow you here.

KD19 [41168-41580]

Well, eh like I told you earlier, non-Muslims cannot be given all the freedom in a truly Islamic society to build their own places of worship. This is because they may likely convert somebody to the religion and conversion in the religion of Islam is not allowed. So that is why you see most Islamic states are very, very sceptical about giving land to non-Muslim or Christians to build their places of worship.

KD20 [34843-35283]

That is a lie. They allowed them to build their place of their worship, yes even though in Zamfara as I used an example the other time, they have their own place of where they use to worship their, their God and Muslims have their own place too, so I didn't think there is mis eh there is eh there is a problem with that so they are being given the equal rights to worship their own God when necessary. And everything is going on smoothly.

KD21 [34082-34811]

Wherever they can. That is out of boundary, the Muslim in northern Nigeria have always been fair and sometimes some, I won't say he is careless. Take a tour of Nigeria, northern Nigerian both north central and the place where the Muslim have ah the minor sects or are there in the minimal number, you go as far as five ten kilometres before you find eh a place to put your head in the name of sjud, nevertheless go down East, down West where a corp member is advised to perform ablution in his room and pray in his room just to avoid his faith, but here in the northern part of the country, say Kaduna for instance, central part, First Baptist church ... they are all there fully, but anywhere they can, I think is a violation.

KD23 [31500-31927]

Yes because ah if you, to a logical minded person, if you critically look at the current situation that we are in because the Muslim are separated and the Christians are separated, so our cities are divided into Muslims and Christians communities and even if the non-Muslims are allowed to build their places of worship in a Muslim dominated area, they will not be ah fully ah conscious to be coming in and did their religion.

KD24 [91622-92007]

Is not right because we are living in the northern part of ah Nigeria and what we are seeing is that we are seeing churches and mosques built everywhere, none is ah accusing one side, only what we know is when there are conflicts come into play, if the majority wish to destroy, they will destroy the worship, worshipping place, if the Muslims, if the Christians that is what we know.

KD25 [100669-100689]

That is not true.

KD26 [36032-36210]

I just see it that it is not a solid accusation because everywhere I go to I see places of worship that are not for Muslims, so I don't think that accusation has any grounds.

KD27 [35213-35583]

I think it is wrong. You can't build your places of worship wherever you want to. It is not done that way. You can't come and build a Christian church in say Unguwan Sarki where there are no Christians. They will come from Sabo to come and worship in Unguwan Sarki? It is not done. It is not proper. You do that you are only going out of your way to look for conflict.

KD28 [44271-44719]

Well it is a wrong accusation because I don't look at it as an accusation that yes Muslim prevent them from doing that. Since they have the freedom of religion Islam does not ask you to force anybody, whatever one is doing you leave him to what he is doing, you can preach to him let him understand what he is doing, what does he make of it, but I have never seen it where the Muslims will not allow the non-Muslims to practice their own religion.

KD29 [28634-28895]

Every state regardless of being Muslim or Christian state has land administration and has designed places of worship, so wherever ah is being ah you cannot say you will build your places of worship anywhere because the type and the pattern of practices varies.

KD30 [53219-53902]

And Muslims too ah say the non-Muslims too don't give them the good atmosphere, don't allow them to preach their religion in the far north Muslim places, you see these are things that are just being said by ah both religions because ah there is no that ah free state where you can just easily go wherever you go no matter how deep north and begin to preach Christianity and both Muslims too and of course Muslims feel not too secured to go into deep Christian state and start propagating, but is not even being even tried talk-less of saying this, but of course both the Muslims and the Christians too are affected by this, so I don't think that is ah a thing to mention right now.

KD31 [25387-25674]

That's false, why I said that is false is if the Christians are saying they are not being allowed if you go to place some places also, mosque being built by Muslims are being destroyed so if both churches and mosques are being destroyed now who are we going to hold responsible for that

KD32 [38474-38739]

I cannot have any reference case of this, this should be the first time officially somebody is telling me this ah I don't have any much experience on this, so I chant say much about this because I didn't see any reference case on this from the place I am living.

KD33 [32606-32962]

No it is not true, non-Muslims are allowed to practice their religion in northern Nigeria because, for example, if you go to Kano especially in a place Sabongari, you will see many non-Muslims, you will see churches, uncountable churches there, so I didn't agree that non-Muslims are not allowed to worship or practice their religion in northern Nigeria.

KD34 [41207-41356]

The accusation is false. Why I say is false is that you can count the number of churches we have in the northern Nigeria, they are beyond counting.

KD35 [40256-40591]

Like I said if you are building a place of worship, you should build it where majority of the people are Christians if you are a Christian, if you are building a place of worship build it where majority of people there are Muslims if you are a Muslim. Once you do that I think you avoid causing trouble, you avoid the trouble itself.

KN1 [49607-50118]

Well am not aware of that, one. Two, a times where such things are happening, I don't agree that for the sake of the protection of the Christians because now you know the situation and how volatile the polity and the society is there are some places if you build your own place of worship it will be a sort of provocation at the end the day it would end up in violence. So in such place I agree it is supposed to be restricted apart that if there is no such ideas nobody is restricting anybody from doing that

KN1 [82242-83080]

You see it is not only in northern Nigeria, if you go to the southern part of the country you see the issue is about dominance, the issue is about numbers wherever somebody finds himself to be more in number than the other religion they try to dominate, one. Two, I agree a times there is suppose to be restrictions because if you build, now go to Kaduna, in Kaduna you will find mosque adjacent to church you will find church opposite mosque while their loud speaker at the same time is on the air and still to some extent there is harmony. When the violence start at least they find a way of curbing the problem. Kaduna is your case study at least now Kaduna is curbing that problem by involving themselves, by relating the way they are supposed to relate. It has happened before while there was that harmony, there was co-existence.

KN2 [47274-47366]

It is not correct. In Kano hear non-Muslims and Christians are practicing their religion.

KN2 [47426-47754]

They have been allowed, they have been granted plots by government. I know two plots that were supposed to be part of my college were given to sects of Christianity to build churches. I know the plots and up till today the government, my college is claiming that it is part of the college, but it has been given to Christians.

KN4 [60925-61446]

No, is not true. When you go to plateau state there is majority there are Christian, there is mosque a very mighty mosque. When you come to Kano in Sabongari there is church and a very big mighty church. People practicing their religion, people build and refurbishing their churches, some they work in refurbishing the church or the mosque they are Christians or Muslims. The accusation is not true, people are living in peace and harmony. It is only politics and development and corruption that make things to go sour.

KN5 [39744-39883]

So also are the Muslims in the southern state. So it is a kind of ah interchangeable relationship ehh reciprocal relationship that exists.

KN6 [47101-47277]

We allow them to build their own worship because you can find a, you can find a even in this Kano state, you can find different churches in this Kano state so we treated them.

KN7 [41600-42068]

Well ehm, hmm mm, it is an accusation and in one way it is a false accusation. It is a false accusation in the sense that there is no way, let me say, in northern Nigeria or let me say hmm ah Nigeria as a whole, you go around without finding churches, without finding shrines; even we see there are, even in Kano, let me say, let me say or deep into Sokoto, we have places, we've ever experience situations where there are shrines, so I it is a false accusation, yes

KN8 [38355-39663]

Hmm, I think yes it is true as I have said initially that the Christians are denied of their places of worship. So, even though the problem there is that we have so much embrace their prophet. One of the factors responsible for this is that they mostly differentiate and negate our own prophet. You understand, but in all times we do appreciate their own prophet and accommodate him, in fact how many times could you mention the prophet that Allah has mentioned prophet Isah and Jesus in the holy Quran and we even believe that it is Isah himself, Jesus that gave us ideology and sensitize us about the coming of the holy prophet in order to solve the (he recites the verse) he was even the first person that mentioned his name (he recites the verse) that his name would be called Ahmad then when he came Allah has given us the ordained we still met the same information Isah gave to us. We so much accommodate Isah, Jesus in our own religion. But most times they differentiate our, in fact you hardly see an average Christian when you mention prophet Mohammed (SAW) they will never embrace him by saying (SAW) but an average muslim when you say prophet Isah he will say Alayhissalam that may the peace and blessings of God be upon on him. So these are factors and conditions responsible for these problems.

KN9 [34535-34815]

I think this accusation is basically pointless because it is very evident everywhere that the Christians are free to actually practice their religion, their places of worship are everywhere. In fact I think they are, they have the fullest right to practice their religion, hmm.

KN10 [28816-29027]

In northern state of course I can say this is a lie because I don't think there is a place you will go you will not find them living in such area and if there is restriction, they will not get that chance, hmm.

KN11 [36343-36783]

This accusation is not based on, is not based on facts because even the Christians you will not allow the Muslims to build their places of worship anywhere they wish, no. Even in Rome, you cannot go to Rome now or Italy that where Vatican is being located to say that you want to build your mosque near them, so but we northerners we don't say Christians have no right to build their places of worship, but they will not build it anywhere.

KN13 [39440-39464]

I do not agree with it

KN14 [33318-33582]

Is not good is not something ah ah good for non-Muslims to disallow Muslims to perform their worship because even in the Islamic states Christian or non-Muslims should be allowed to perform his religion in as far as he is not violating the sharia, that is openly.

KN15 [27390-27408]

This is not true.

KN16 [16776-16803]

This is not true, not true.

KN17 [33326-33345]

Yes, yes it is true

KN18 [55726-55923]

Then if that is the accusation, then they have not been treated fairly, they should be allowed to exercise their religion that is what the constitution says we are talking of Nigeria so it's okay.

KN19 [36468-36843]

I think it's true because most times they are always complaining in fact a critical example is the one on campus here, majority of the Christians are not permitted to observe their prayers whereas you can find more than 20 mosques within the school campuses, before you could before they could give them a class to have their own fellowship or something is always very hard.

KN19 [36874-36945]

Uh to some extent it is not fair because there is freedom of religion.

KN20 [26957-27563]

At that point you are trying to say things from a northern state then there is a problem because when you go to other parts of the country, it's the same thing, you go to a Christian dominated area you still see the Christians are depriving the Muslims from building. When you come to the north, the same thing the Muslims are trying to eh deprive them from building their own churches who is a different but at that point everybody realise that religion is a normal thing that it depends on how you can convince people then you can go obey go along doing your own religion and doing your own peacefully.

KN20 [27634-27699]

Is a secular thing, a universal thing everywhere in the country.

KN21 [19461-19483]

I don't believe that.

KN22 [38679-38845]

This accusation is being politicized, it is just politics. The politicians are just using the religious faithful in order to perpetuate their domination in politics.

KN23 [25364-25376]

It is true

KN24 [24094-24118]

The accusation is wrong

KN25 [38088-38213]

I think this accusation is false, is primarily false because we can see everywhere there are Christian churches. There are...

KN26 [43912-43978]

Yes I think this is largely true to be frank that is being frank.

KN27 [31279-31782]

Well I said something earlier on, even the Christians and non-Muslims, they tend to impose, in one way or the other, their religion on the Muslims. So in an Islamic state most especially in northern Nigeria where they are islamically oriented, they wouldn't want to give much space for the Christians, so that the orientation of the Christians shouldn't affect their offspring and the younger generation. And as long as the younger generation are affected, I think that generation is kind of destroyed.

KN27 [31820-31859]

This accusation is true to some extent

KN28 [23439-23625]

Well this is a false accusation because I believe everyone has his rights or freedom to worship whatsoever he wishes as long as they don't both go into each other's traditional terrains.

KN30 [21036-21053]

This is not true

KN31 [41409-41805]

Well I think this has been a long existing problem among Muslims and Christians. However, I doubt in northern Nigeria you go to a place whereby you find the Muslims not allowing them to build their own place of worship; like I think, for example, here in the state: Kano state where we are, I think you can count numerous churches of different faiths. So I don't think that is a true statement.

KN32 [20137-20264]

No no no no this is not true I don't even know where you are getting these accusations from, it is not in any way true at all.

KN33 [14740-14780]

Well it is possible but it is not true.

KN34 [27284-27990]

Well I don't think this is-what they are saying is right. For instance, when you go to here, Sabon gari in Kano, you will think you are in the southern part. When you see- you will see uncountable number of churches. The same thing if you go to Badawa Layout, you will see a lot of churches. So I don't think what the accusation-go to some other states of northern Nigeria. Go to Kaduna, go to Sokoto, go to Kebbi even you will see a lot of big churches. So I don't see this accusation is-this are just the work of I think political elites that want to poison the minds so that they can be able to achieve what they want to achieve or to have the sympathy of other Christians in other part of the country.

KN35 [26503-26869]

Actually I see this as a baseless accusation simply because when you say you are not allowed to build your place of worship anywhere, anyhow you think about the culture of the people you are trying to live with. Are they, is your culture going to inflict danger to their own if you coexist in that very society. I think there is a master plan for everything to be.

KN36 [26124-26492]

Yes it is not an accusation, it is only an accusation in their position because practice of non-Muslims that is the Christians, the way they are doing their activities in the churches and the way they carry out their programs is not supposed to be built closer to house of Muslims or mosque environment because their program is always making environment to be lousy.

KN37 [24623-24763]

The accusations I think I have come across a number of these accusations and I can say to some extent it is true, to some extent it is not.

KN38 [18958-19335]

I will say that is not true. This is because it is only in northern Nigeria where you see churches anyhow. If you go to the southern Nigeria you hardly see mosque but in northern Nigeria they are being given the freedom to practice their religion come out in mass. On Sundays they go to their churches and pray without any hitches or hindrances. So I believe that is not true.

KN39 [28999-29289]

Actually not because sometime the non-Muslims insist on building their places of worship within an area whereby the dominant number are Muslims. So, therefore, I see it is something which is totally wrong for them to go and build their worship places in a place where Muslims are dominant.

KN40 [23084-23240]

Muslims should allow non-Muslims to worship and build their worship place in the sense that everybody has the right to worship whoever they want to worship.

KN41 [19988-20017]

This is true to some extent.

KN42 [52330-52505]

Ehn is true but it is because they have this misguided notions that if they build their religion, their place of worship they would end up reverting the Muslims around them.

KN43 [37554-38110]

Yah, you call it ahh, accusations because I know a number of Muslim dominated areas in Kano where non-Muslims erected their place ahh, of worship. So if they will be allowed to build their place of worship in the Muslim dominated areas, why will such accusations be made? I know there are a number of areas where non-Muslims will not be allowed to build their place of worship, not because the authority or the Muslim community don't want them to do or to establish such places of worshipping, of worship, but for, you know, the sake of peace and harmony.

KN45 [44872-45660]

Yah, yah if there is, then I would say this is not, this is not the right approach. This is not the appo eh the right approach for Muslims to eh to hinder the establishment of places of worships of the Christians. This is not supposed to be the right approach. It is supposed to be a fair play, a fair play ahh the government are the chief regulator of things. If there are conditions and Christians eh certain Christian groups fulfill that condition, then they should be allowed to establish eh their places of worship and conduct their business within the law of the land. That is the most important thing to live in peace and we cannot live in peace without abiding by the rules. We should not allow our personal interests, our ignorance to shed the trend of things in the country.

KN46 [66445-67326]

Ahh it may be true or it is true to some certain extent. Yes, in some places I believe that Muslims do not allow Christians to build their places of worship, but not because they don't want them to practice their religion, it is because of maybe of the tension in the land, the atmosphere, there is this intolerance. So until this problem is addressed, the intolerance I mean if we have a just leadership which will treat all citizens equally and with justice and fairness, and I think Muslims and Christians would come to a accept one another as one in a way. They would have this freedom of building their places of worship anywhere they go. I think this problem is also there in other Christian areas. Some Muslims were not allowed to build their places of worship, but I believe this problem or to my understanding, happen with eh Muslims more than it happens to Christians.

KN47 [62276-62784]

Well is just an accusation of cause and the propagators some this kind of accusation are also the kind of people who don't always want to bring understanding between the two groups because if you say that, you can simply see in some many other towns you can simply see the erection of churches you know even though it is Muslims communities, you can see churches there they were built. If you say they were not allowed then how comes it is you know those kind of churches exists in the community of Muslims?

KN48 [21263-21513]

I think it's wrong, it's wrong because I have been to different part of the north and, so I have been to the different part of the north like I said earlier there are a lot of churches everywhere so I don't believe that it, I don't believe in that

KN49 [31758-31880]

I think ah places of worship should be built ah, but with ah respect to, to peace ah respect to the relevant authorities.

KN50 [18686-18790]

This is absolutely not true because in a Muslim society there are places for worship, for non-Muslims.

KN52 [64028-65026]

Well firstly I have to understand this thing like the argument that they are not allowed to practice their religion is wrong because even in Kano here you could see there are a lot of, hundreds of churches in Kano, but the idea of allowing them to establish places of worship wherever they can raises a question as to what the term wherever means. Wherever they can even in a mosque, to demolishing even on the space where a mosque is built for instance you see that is not possible. So I don't think it is fair to say they are not allowed to practice their religion, you have a lot of Christians here in Northern Nigerian states where they practice their religion without intimidation, we have a lot of churches around but of course I would say that I agree that they might not be allowed to establish a church for instance in a place where the leaders of the community believe that, sometimes mosques are not allowed to be established in places like that, every space is provided for a purpose.

KN54 [13859-13879]

This is inaccurate.

KN55 [16578-16598]

This is inaccurate

KN56 [28755-29123]

This accusation actually is an inaccurate accusation why because even here in Sabongari and in Badawa here in Kano state, the number of churches we have are larger, are larger than the number of churches we have in Imo or rather let me say in Enugu state where the majority of the people there are Christians. So this is a false and inaccurate baseless accusation.

KN57 [23326-23390]

You see, if you consider my previous address, it is not true.

KN58 [50398-51310]

I view it as a lie. Just turn around here in Sabongari, if you can take the toll or population of churches in Sabongari that would tell you that it is a lie. Look at Badawa that would tell you that it is a lie, but go to the southern part of Nigeria in a state, let me give you an example let's Akwa Ibom state. I was not in Akwa Ibom, but a friend of mine served in Akwa Ibom, he says on Friday from where he resides to the place that he would perform his Juma'at congregational prayer he spends N300 that is way back in 2000. So how can you compare, how comparable it is? Whereby there is even distribution of churches in northern part of Nigeria. There is no even distribution of Mosques in the southern parts of Nigeria. In fact some are not even allowed to even erect a structure called Mosque. It is wood plank and zinc that they use as a mosque. But come and see cathedrals that are built even in Kano.

KN59 [56921-57702]

It is a lie. I disagree with this accusation because I think in northern part, let me use Kano because this is where I am staying, in Kano I can swear that the number of Churches in Kano is more than the number of churches in Enugu wallahi tallahi so we give them that privilege, that right, that freedom to practice their religion to erect structures in a particular locality, actually they don't have that privilege to erect churches in some parts but like in Fagge local government, Sabongari specifically, the number of churches in Sabongari outnumber the number of churches in Enugu, ask everybody this, tell everybody this. So we give them that privilege to practice their religion unless if they go extra mile that is where there might be misunderstanding or conflict.

KN60 [39442-39749]

You see it is mischievous because the number of churches you find in Kano here, if you go to maybe a state like Imo state maybe you cannot find one third of it, but here I think if you start to count the number of churches maybe you will get tired. So they are allowed to build their houses of worship.

KN61 [20836-21076]

Yes, sometimes the used to come middle of the Muslims to say they will do it which is not, it cannot be a peaceful affair, but if it is a separate places whereby there is no Muslims, then they can do it, and that is why it causes problem.

KN62 [64227-64952]

Ahh, this is just a mere accusation, let me say, a false one too because in Kano here, we have churches everywhere, although there were conflicts here and there concerning building churches and mosques in some places, but still that doesn't deter, you understand, the Christians to build their churches or the Muslims to build mosques or masjids wherever they want. So I believe that this is just a mere false accusation although we cannot avoid the conflict, but it doesn't deter, it doesn't actually avoid the building, the erection, the establishment of the places of worships; so I believe that Muslims and non-Muslims in northern state allow each other to build their places of worship wherever they so wish. I believe.

KN63 [56165-56595]

Is a false accusation. Now look at Kano, for example now, there are thousands of churches in Kano. Go to Igbo state, go to Imo state, I was even saying the other time, I can, in fact the number of mosque in Imo state I don't think it is up to ten, a whole state, Imo state, very, very few, but look at Kano here, it is a false accusation. In fact it is the reverse, that something is the reverse, the accusation is a reverse case.

KN64 [31231-31247]

I do not agree.

KN65 [39182-39940]

Hmm, you see am in Kano, I don't think this ah, this ah ahh accusation is ah, ah applicable here because if you go round everywhere in Sabongari you will see that they are building churches. In fact even me, I am even against it that why would, instead of, a house that is meant for residential would now be converted into churches and those people would now be thrown on the street, finding it very difficult where to get an accommodation, so I was like even propagating that okay a government should come and intervene because the way they are, I mean the rate at which churches are being built is very, very high. Every house are being converted into church. So is not good for the society, it is bringing in ehh ahh disintegration yes, among the faiths.

KN66 [27471-27638]

Ahh, I view this accusation as false because, because even in our community right now, there are Muslims community where churches have been built and we can see them.

KN67 [29323-29622]

No. I don't think this accusation is true, if you can look at the state, especially in Kano where we live, the places of worship for other religions especially Christians, they are many and ah I don't think there are any instances where people are not allowed to build their ahh places of worship.

KN68 [13872-13892]

This is inaccurate.

KN69 [52025-52407]

I didn't agree with it. Even in the purely Islamic state, nobody will compel a non-Muslim to be a Muslim because Allah say that la iqra fid din, there is no any compulsion of the issues of religions and if you could remember even during the prophet's time, during the time of the prophet Muhammad (SAW) there were so many Christians, there were so many Jews and he lived with them.

KN69 [52454-52821]

He lived with them. The problem is only arise in a situation whereby a group of non-Muslim people make their mind that they would fight against Islamic state. Where a particular country belonging to Christian or any other religion make their mind that they would just confront the Islamic state in order to destroy the Islamic empire. That is where the problem lies.

KN69 [53042-53725]

Let me tell you something, it is not true, as I told you la iqra ha fid di. It is not true, but let me tell you, in a place whereby Muslims are dominant, all the aspect of leadership are in their hands, because of this fact they are the majority and the non-Muslims are minority, I think the non-Muslims are not expected to say that they will participate to do whatever they want as the Muslim having majority in number in a particular state, the same thing with Christians. Now as a Muslim can you go to Enugu to say that you want to do whatever you want to do, you want to build your mosque, you want to do whatever you want anywhere you so wish. I think it would not be possible.

KN71 [82092-82939]

To some extent it is true, but a little extent, it is not the Muslim that are to be blame, because as Nigeria is, you can see big, big churches in Kano. Can you see a big church in Enugu or Onitsha eh a mosque? It is hardly why? Too many natives of Kano, Hausa by origin or Fulani are Christians and they are free to live anywhere. Why should an Igbo man when he becomes a Muslim be killed by his people, by his clan, why? That is the question. So at times it is due to this kind of things even the market places were denied to our people in some part of the southern state of Nigeria, but in Kano they are enjoying every privilege. It is only when we come to understand this, that we should stop looking from the religious context but from this menace of tribalism and sectionalism. Then we should do justice to whatever topic that is before us.

KN72 [42613-42830]

It is not true, it is not true, when you go everywhere in Nigeria, there is church and mosque I think. There is no anywhere in Nigeria, no place in Nigeria that you can find a there is no either eh Mosque or church.

KN72 [43530-43896]

This accusations or is a misleading because when we look at the central eh city of the Kano state, it is only Muslims that live there, I think, there is no any Christian in the central Kano or Kano central, so no need to build a church, no need to build a church because it can make no purpose, it can serve no purpose. It can only eh allow existence of conflict.

KN73 [43747-44050]

As I have told you, even a Muslim he was not really allowed to build a mosque wherever he can build, wherever they feel like to talk less of a non-Muslim. Ah really can you really just go and build a church where there are dominantly populated Muslims? Populated Muslim area to come and build a church?

KN74 [53103-53663]

That, that, is just an accusation, is just an accusation because there is even in this area that we are living now, there is a lot of eh churches that have been built by non-Muslims that is the Christians. There is a lot of churches that they have, even if you compare our eh how we live here in northern Nigeria and the other places you will find out that the number of mosques compared to the church in non-Muslim state, you will find out that they are very limited while here in northern Nigeria you will find out that we have many and a lot of churches.

KN75 [57768-57985]

It is not possible for them to build their places of worship everywhere, likewise the way they are, the way and manner they deny the Muslim not to build their Mosques everywhere in the South eh eh for worshipping.

KN75 [58047-58743]

There is a restriction eh unlike now if you allow, let me just take a for example in Gwale local government whereby majority 90, 100% of the local government are Muslims, then you allow a Christian to come and build a church there, is it possible? Even the common sense cannot take such a thing, what do you think will happen? It will lead to religious conflicts. Who are you going to preach there? What is the essence of preaching eh eh building church? What is the essence of building mosque? It is for you to have, call the people or call the people's attention to worship, on condition that you cannot you go and build a church wherever you like, there is a problem, there is a problem.

KN76 [48631-48852]

As I said that, it is only in an attempt to avoid conflicts or to avoid devastating effect of conflicts that is why we always encourage non-Muslims to site their places of worship away from where we practice our worship.

KN78 [66140-67050]

Well yes, there are certain ah I eh I have an experience like in the case of BUK where they said Christians attempted to erect their place of worship, but as probably there is this traditional ahm, you know, ah this ah I mean those ah the attempt was not really successful because of the fact that they felt ah some leaders in Kano state, they felt that ah it is against what they use to, but you see, and again you cannot really ah divorce one important ah important factor, in the way Muslims sees things. All people should practice their religion, it is allowed, but those practice of religions should not violate certain cultural values of the people you met, like in the Hausa people ah it is against their own cultural practice, it is against their own way of life to build a church or to build a center of worship that is not Islamic in the city. So they should be given a conveniently places.

KN80 [50184-50214]

So I think this is not true.

KN81 [35789-35824]

This accusation is totally wrong.

KN82 [34858-34983]

Ahm if you look at northern Nigeria properly you see churches all over everywhere. I don't think this accusation is accurate

KN83 [26994-27367]

So actually this accusation is a lie because if you look at Sabongari here, there are so many Christian and they are allowed to build their churches. So and you know Sabongari is within the Kano and Kano is part of Nigeria. So, therefore, they are allowed, but they are not allowed to build in any places. So they will be allowed to build in a place where they are safe.

KN84 [30058-30092]

This is totally wrong, is a lie.

KN85 [43628-44169]

Hmm actually yes, there are some instances in which they are not allowed to build their places of worship, but, as we have said earlier, in a sharia state, Christians build their places of worship in their own localities not in a predominantly Muslim localities. As to practicing the religion nobody stop them, nobody infringe on their rights to practice their own religion. The controversy is on the places of worship and they should understand that Islam does not allow them to build places of worship in a predominantly Muslim society.

ZA1 [43214-43275]

Who said? Please go to Sokoto please and see. Go to Adamawa.

ZA2 [57128-57290]

It is lie, it is lie, it is lie because it is only Muslims that will insult them in the south that they disallowed them disallowed, but when you come to the north

ZA3 [32873-33641]

Hmmm the author may have, why not wonder, do the Muslims in the Christian dominated area are been allowed to, previously we have said so, Christians have been building, buying land everywhere in the north before, but when it is realized that ah, at least there are cases now, we have cases of Muslims trying to even build a small place of worship especially in the south east and they are denied, but there are instance where student trying to even ask for a place of worship in campuses and they ended up been withdrawn, so some of this information pass through and people say a'a so with all this acceptance we've given to these people they cannot even so okay let it be so that is one of the main reasons why people today to are averse to having such propagation.

ZA4 [53024-53066]

I think some are not true, some are true.

ZA5 [36148-36503]

Yes they accuse them because most churches they build, they build it in a community where somebody come back from work or he did something, they start like hitting the drums shouting and instead of those people to rest, they can't rest, they you understand. If they can be allowed to go and build their this thing outskirts of that particular place, hmm.

ZA6 [77298-78817]

Ahm it depends, it depends. There are certain, there are certain, I can agree to that in some certain level. There are certain communities that are all Muslims, they are all Muslims, they have been Muslims all along, they don't know about Christianity. So coming to build a church in that particular area is not even logical because definitely you are telling them you are coming to convert all of them. The elders there, the Islamic teachers there, the elders will not take that. So that is where the problem comes in now. You don't just, if you are coming to an environment and then you don't have a followership there, it is very bad for you to come and build a church there because the impression you are giving those people there ah, what do you, those people living there, you are giving them the impression that you are coming to convert their children and all those in the area and that is where the, you know, the conflicts comes in now. So I believe in a Muslim state, it is not everywhere that the Christians should come and want to build church, but they have the right to build their places of worship like it is clearly entrenched even in the Qur'an that the non-Muslims must be allowed to practice their religion without any disturbance and without any ahh what do you call it? But in the process of that even in the Nigerian, like in the Nigeria constitution, you have the right to practice your religion, but in the course of practicing your religion you shouldn't interrupt another person's religion.

ZA7 [44029-44651]

Hmm I want to say it is fair to some parts of northern Nigeria yes I think that should happen. I don't think Christians will want to go and build, even without saying, we want to go and build bigger mosque ehm churches at Maiduguri now right now because of the condition and things, so I want to say likewise we feel the same because when we go to sates like Enugu, Anambra in Nigeria, eastern Nigeria, they do not permit us to build our places of worship wherever we want to. So I think basically is how we've been treated somewhere that we tend to treat somebody. I think love is reciprocal is just similar principles.

ZA8 [83102-83624]

That is not true because is so glaring, everywhere you go you will see churches. I will, recently I was posted to Ebonyi for my service, I went there I hardly found a mosque anywhere because this are states that are majorly dominated by Christians, I hardly, in fact, I moved everywhere I only find one mosque in a whole state, but we come to the northern state here you will find mosque in every I mean churches in every corner you enter you see one or two churches. So you see I don't think that is true that is false.

ZA9 [47652-48041]

I don't believe in that. I don't believe because let's take a look at Zaria, let's just go to the front of ABU Zaria now, before you walk hundred meters now you will see churches even though they are not big, but at least there are like four or five churches inside Samaru today which is, which have a population of more than 65% Muslims among them. I don't believe that point is valid.

ZA10 [39635-40001]

I will say it is a lie because if you look at it vividly in the northern part we have a lot of Christians and the non-believers, they have their place of worship all over the place, scattered all over the northern states, but then when you go down to south, you hardly find mosque scattered all over their places. So I just see this accusation as false accusation.

ZA11 [34166-34743]

Is very, very, is not true because when you come to the north, let's take Kaduna and Kano as a case study, the number of churches built here is very, very uncountable, but go down far to the east, you find a mosque very far built, from the residence to the mosque, you have take a transport fair of let's say 500 or there about, that is very unfair and then they think, they are not well, they are not given the right to practice their religion in the north, no I doubt it. Even before me here, I have about four or five churches surrounding my place, so I disagree with that.

ZA12 [21320-21340]

I think it is true.

ZA12 [21518-21747]

Well, I only agree on their own place of worship because in some territories they don't allow them to build churches in some areas, but notwithstanding they still create avenue for them elsewhere to build their place of worship.

ZA13 [22572-22614]

Well this is false, honestly it is false.

ZA14 [30670-31123]

Yes if you look at non-Muslims, I say that they build their places of worship anywhere they are, anywhere they want, but sometimes they always have problem because if you give them a length, they will extend it, if you look at them as in one the way they worship is not the other way the Muslims worship and somebody will be resting and they will continue disturbing him in doing some other things that they are suppose to, like allow somebody to rest.

ZA15 [32465-32610]

I disagree because if you go to places, places that you will never expect to see church, you will find churches there. So I disagree with that.

ZA16 [23513-23533]

No it is clueless.

ZA17 [29231-29556]

Ok, is not true I have not seen because if they are not doing it how can they be guiding as I give you the information about this Kaduna crisis not long ago, it has happen that it is the Christian, they are taking care of the Muslim when they are praying and the Muslim are taking care of, when they are going to the church.

ZA17 [29747-30170]

Actually there is a place to me that they are not suppose to build, a Christian is supposed to stay where they were plenty there and the Muslim also they stay where they are plenty to build something for their worshiping, yes, but if you go against that, suppose you take a church in Zaria city, can it be possible? I hope you get me, because that place there is no any non-Muslim that has a house, even one house inside.

ZA18 [35371-35960]

You see, gaskiya is not correct, honestly speaking. What I am saying is that we now, if they want to build a church within a Muslim community, we have to look at the number of Christians that are there, you understand. If they are very few, why should the build a church there? They can move to maybe a nearby place where a church has already been built and there are Christians there, they can go and do their service together, you understand. Just like a Muslim living in the Christians dominated place, so he can move to a nearby mosque, pray and go back to wherever he stays, of course

ZA19 [53575-54228]

This accusation is built upon lies actually because if you go to the northern part of the country where is being dominated by Muslims, you will find a voluminous number of churches. Muslims were selling their own lands for Christians to build their churches. I am from the northern part of the country, a crisis bedeviled area that is the north eastern part of the country, I witnessed most of this crisis and I knew I myself have studied in Christians, in a missionary school, I studied in saint Paul primary school, so actually ah the ah bombardment of Christian churches were not being done by Muslims, you understand, of the northern ah settlement.

ZA20 [35628-35735]

This is just accusation that is based on unneutrality on the ground. There is no basis to this assertion.

ZA21 [39349-40228]

This is to a little extent not true because if you compare the state of being in northern Nigeria and that of the southern Nigeria, you will discover that relatively Christians are given the opportunity to do whatever it is in the northern Nigeria. You can look at it from different angles, let's say leadership. In so many states, Christians are given commissioners, permanent secretaries and things like that and even in ABU (Ahmadu Bello University) here. In Kaduna State you can see that ahhh Churches are here all over. In Kaduna you can go to so many places and see churches at the road side and things like that. So for somebody to tell you that ahh-you go to Maiduguri that are-big, big churches there in Maiduguri and Maiduguri is seen as a place where Islam dominates, so for somebody to say that he is not allowed to practice his religion, somebody is just myopic.

ZA22 [33919-34203]

I don't agree because even wherever you go in northern part of the country, from Sokoto, Kebbi, Kano, katsina, Kaduna everywhere you go where Muslims are the majority you will see places of worship for the non-Muslims particularly Christians. So I don't agree with this accusation.

ZA23 [42114-42442]

It is merely an accusation, but it is not true. I can take you round and show you so many places here in the northern Nigeria, here in Zaria in particular in Kaduna state where churches are built. In some areas even before you can see a mosque you may count three four churches. So it is just mere accusation. It is not true.

ZA24 [53958-54601]

You know to me Christians also are green snakes in green grass. For instance now, as you are in Zaria, we know that Zaria city is a pure Muslim area, how would Christians go there and build church there? That will lead to conflict. So Christians should know where they should build their places of worship. They should not build it in a place where it will bring conflict within them. In fact Christians usually build their churches at extreme end of the town. If it is at the extreme end of the town they should be allowed, but some Christians they want to use all their means to build church within Muslim community which is not possible.

ZA25 [55659-55882]

That is false. That is false. We see churches all over northern Nigeria. In some places they even out number, in terms of the size of land occupied, they are even larger than the Muslim masjid so that is false accusation.

ZA26 [24303-24330]

It is an assumption please

ZA27 [24195-24338]

I disagree with that because I am in Sokoto I know they have many churches around in the heart city of Sokoto. We have many churches around.

ZA28 [38895-39312]

This is definitely not true based on my opinion because even in our setting here if you look into the core of this our setting the majority here are the Muslims but yet you can count a great number of churches around here. So does that mean they are being stopped from performing their worship? It at all they are being stopped no now these churches can be, these number of churches can be raised within this setting

ZA29 [54491-55036]

That is what I am about to say now taking the whole states, the northern states. There is no state there is no church, big fat church buildings. There is no state. Ok take a particular state, take local government like say in Kaduna state. In which local government in Kaduna state there is no church? There is none, while Kaduna is north, one of extreme north. So that is a lie. That is just the saying of those that are really happy seeing the misunderstanding and the fight or the conflicts going on between the Muslims and the non-Muslims.

ZA30 [64878-65464]

This one is wrong and it is totally lie. Go to Sokoto, go to Emir Yahaya, if you go to Sokoto, Emir Yahaya, count, I think there was a time I count fourteen (14) churches without a single indigene house around them and you see Sokoto is the state of caliphate. Go to Sabongari in Kano, count how many churches you will find there. Go to Sabongari in Zaria, count there, the churches are uncountable. Come to Samaru and count also, in Zaria also.

So all these places I mentioned are in northern Nigeria almost the heart of Islam. So I don't think that one, this accusation is not true.

ZA31 [34956-35578]

Yes, it happens, you will see in south-south, they are burning churches, even in the north some particular states are there that Christians are being dominated, they will burn mosque while some place where Muslims are being dominated, they will burn churches, but if all, that thing happen only if they are violent and the only violence that we were facing in this country is political violence. If we can stop, if we can stop our political leaders from imposing religion in order to have, to be successful in their political career, I think that should, that should help a lot in order to, in order to stop the violence.

ZA32 [69434-70430]

It is not true. This statement is very untrue in nature because ah northern Nigerian Muslims, Muslim is general, for example, they have that sense of allowing the non-Muslims to practice their religion because we destined to live together and the issue of building the places of worship wherever they can ah is somehow, is somehow ah true because for example, you cannot come and build your church where the Muslims are observing their, where the mosque is located and you cannot come where there is no Christians and say that you want to build your what, your mosque ah your church, if you build your church, if you say you want to build your church where there is no Christian, it seems that you are violating peace, yes, somehow true because you cannot allow church to be anywhere as in the southern part of the country. If you go, you will see ah not anyhow and anywhere Muslim's are given an opportunity to build their mosque, to build their worshipping, to build their worship places, yes.

ZA33 [32495-33372]

Yes this accusation, yes you see religion of Islam itself is peace so because Muslims all over the world are faced with these challenges. So but religion of Islam preaches peace. But other religions they preaches another terminology-they have another terminology for them, for their religion or acronym for their religion which does not hinder them from doing some evil or unnecessary acts because what they hold as a constitution that is backing them is written by human and all humans are bound to errors, so as such- and also with their cultural believe and inclinations they make Muslims-they see other people as not equal as themselves so therefore they hurt them as they wish if they are not within their own clients. So the hinder or they prevent Muslims worshippers from building their places of worship in some places where strict and extreme secularist take place.

ZA34 [51700-53027]

Well it is true because I live in northern Nigeria, I live in a Muslim area and I agree. There are some places whereby a non-Muslim they are not allowed because the number of the non-Muslims there they are not up to maybe a large proportion that can be given a site to build their worshipping places. Likewise the Muslims if you go to the southern part of Nigeria and other parts where the non-Muslims are the majority there sometimes they will be prevented from being given a place to build their worshipping place. Go to the south-south, southeast you will see wonders there. The Muslims will only be given a place temporarily to be observing their salat while if they say they want to build it they will say it is not allowed. If in northern Nigeria in some places they do that they are not this thing because the religion is –even in Medina when the Jews and this thing they were given sites to build their –it is not in the mixture of the Muslims because that will bring problems. For example, Christians they sing they dance while in the mosque they perform prayer. If the Christians maybe build their church close by to a mosque they are singing dancing while here they are observing prayer it might cause problems. So that is why you must look at a site before they will be allowed to build their worshipping places.

ZA35 [23949-24280]

Well, then when they were living peacefully, it wasn't like that they were allowed, and they were given freedom of movement and even worship, but now due to the circumstance they are in now I don't think the Muslims are allowing the Christians or the non-Muslims to build or propagate their own religion as they are supposed to.

ZA36 [36971-36993]

I don't agree with it

ZA37 [40257-40748]

So normally this thing happens in the northern Nigeria where the Christians are dominant and actually it is not, it is not, what can I say, is not the right thing because where the Muslims are dominant in the northern Nigeria, the Christians used to build their own places of worship and they are allowed to do so. So why should they not allow the Muslims to build their own places of worship where the Christians are dominant, if they can be allowed to build their own places of worship.

ZA38 [47845-48368]

Toh. This accusation, you said, is something that I would not deny. I am an eye witness. But the issue is that we are in a secular society whereby it is allowed for you to build your religious place of worship, it is allowed. The people that are stopping this thing they are people that have an angry mind that they lack the basic religious knowledge that is why they take this as an advantage and not only that they take advantage of the central government that is careless and too weak to perpetual all sorts of crime.

ZA39 [59816-60447]

Actually I can say non-Muslims particularly Christians always go to their church as they use to do and also maintain their positions as Christians, so and if in the event where they want to increase the number of churches actually it is expected that you construct or you build a particular place of worship where your followers are there. So where there is no Christians or there are few number of Christians in a particular place, I believe that a church should be built or worshipping center should be built where higher percentage of people are living in a particular area it will promote peace and harmony among themselves.

Research Question 2.1

Th 14: Repercussions of Islamic Fundamentalism

Th14.1: General Experience and Reaction to Conflicts

FG1 [46165-46197]

ah I have been confronted but ...

FG1 [46224-46255]

I only ignored it that is all

FG1 [46377-46412]

I haven't been confronted before

FG1 [46490-46582]

I may come in contact with some conflicts, some I may forego it and some I may retaliate.

FG2 [20760-21331]

(F) Sometimes you have to react to it that is when you will achieve the status quo that is when I offend you, you offend me we get to know our lapses and we come to a point whereby we will settle ourselves. That is the reality. Sometimes there are varieties of people that you have to show them you are wrong, some you don't even have to show them but you have to react towards what they did to you. That is when they will understand that yes am wrong here and I will come back and look at what both of us did and we come to a status quo which we can settle ourselves.

FG2 [21414-21565]

I have been confronted with conflicts several times. I use to look at the nature of the conflict towards me and the way it comes the way I arrest it.

FG2 [21333-21413]

Most of the time when I am confronted with conflicts I stand up and walk away.

FG3 [51555-51980]

Me I have been, my own was not based on religious something. It was just a kind of misunderstanding and the way I reacted was just like trying to, just to keeping the person in view when he was just ranting saying all this thing I was just looking at him so it was later he realized, he himself felt remorse later and I saw it in him, even up till today whenever he remembered that thing he always tries to be remorseful so...

FG3 [51982-54055]

Actually my own fortunately it is on the religious aspect, and what happened actually most of my life I live it especially around I live with the Christians. So if you see me it will be difficult for you to identify whether I am a Muslim or I am this and I choose to be that because I choose to live as in happily with different kind of people. So what happened is that I have a friend that is a Christian, so as a result of the intermingling they look at it like anytime we walk in mass they think that all of us are Christians. So you feel free to say whatever you want against any religion or culture without feeling like the other party is around. So unfortunately one day one of our friends said something that is blasphemous to my religion. When he said it my friend called his attention to stop because I didn't talk I was trying to exercise patience while I am burning inside me. When he said it my friend called his attention that it is not right why will you nobody has ... so why will you make that comment? He still went ahead do it. When he repeated it then I asked my friend to let him. I said you have a point and I have a point. He now asked me why do I pick interest I said I pick interest because you are castigating my own religion. Are you a Muslim? Yes I am a Muslim. Is it a crime to be one? Or you are a Christian is it a crime to be one? You are a Christian because you are born a Christian and I am a Muslim because I was born a Muslims or did you convert to Christianity or something? And I asked him I didn't convert to Islam I was born a Muslim, is it my fault? Do I choose? God chose it for me. So also your God chose for you. If that my faith is something that you look at as funny to you or something? When I started talking to him he felt like oh my God why did I even say it? You understand? I was actually burning because what he said was so blasphemous to the extent that I can't repeat it. But what I said to him called his attention that really what he did was wrong. There was nothing to say but sorry. When he said sorry and I told ...

FG3 [54361-55057]

mmmmm there was a time I came across people in this Samaru around that Samaru Emir's house. It is a group of youths that they caught somebody he defecated and cleaned his anus with one of the newspaper written in Arabic so the caught him and they brought him, thank God they did not take judgment first but they made noise that everybody gathered that he cleaned his anus with the Qur'an. So it was when we came there we read the newspaper and it was even giving the information of football (general laughter). So that was how we told them that this is just an alphabet that you can use. Arabic is just a language and you can use it to write anything so it is not the holy Qur'an that was used.

FG3 [55089-55751]

So I also came across, I could remember when they, I came across one even me then I was confused because I didn't even know what to do. I think before they killed Sheikh Albani, a day before he was killed he invited Professor Dauda Ojubi they gave us a lecture on comparative studies, comparative religion. So a day after that one, that lecture they killed him. So I think that they are also trying to created conflict maybe as a result of yesterday's lectures. So we were confused because the way they came and calmed everybody down, up till today no single hen was killed because of Albani's death. So people are usually resolving conflicts through dialogue.

KD1 [58918-59655]

I have actually been conflicted very few, very, on few, very few occasions; very few occasions especially like in inter-religious conflicts ah there is the mega one, the big one that happened then I was in primary school. So I can't say this is how I tackled it because I was under people, so I can't say this is how I tackled it because I was only evacuated from where it is deemed to be the hotspot, but principally conflicts especially as in social conflicts like that, certainly interviewed by, having two factions coming together to discuss, to interact, to have a dialogue between themselves and people get to understand themselves and everything get solved and there won't be conflict. There won't be any for conflict any longer.

KD2 [28968-29042]

I think I have never been confronted with any form of conflicts actually.

KD3 [22439-22458]

I have never been.

KD4 [53881-54244]

Well! If you say confronted with conflict ah I will say that I have never been confronted with serious conflict, but the only minor conflict that has always been happening, the casual conflict that has always been happening between human being, that I have been confronted with, but serious conflict like the conflict of sword, I have never been in contact with.

KD5 [29267-29438]

Hmmm I cannot recall how many times. I cannot recall how many times, but I react to it through means of patience because Islamic religion encourage us to be patient. Yes.

KD6 [46815-47031]

I did not even not confronted with any conflicts so far because I know the way I go about myself, I know the way I present myself to people, it depends on the kind of person I am talking to that I will talk to him.

KD7 [37306-37513]

Well! Alhamdulillah, I have been fortunate I have not had firsthand experience of conflicts, but what I have seen from those who have had it, it's a very nasty experience. May God protect us from conflicts.

KD8 [64256-64868]

Ah ehm, of course in life you must be, there are situation whereby somebody was confronted with conflict situation, but based on your disposition, you try to either avoid it or you try to manage it. I have been confronted will certain violence situations, but my disposition, my knowledge about my religion and ehm my disposition helped me to manage it. I have never really been involved in conflict with another person. I cannot remember when I was involved in conflict with anyone, I try to avoid it. Based on my, the kind of training I got from my parents. So I don't involve in conflicts, I try to avoid it.

KD9 [45479-45883]

Personally I will say maybe I have been lucky, I have been dodging the bullet, so but from afar we've seen what has happened in some part of the north. So we dodge or we try to stay away by staying indoors when such conflicts happen. So and when it meets you on the street, you find the closest relative or friend that you can hang around with for a while until it is safe for you to get to your family.

KD10 [36165-36383]

Well we have no contact with conflict as such, I think only one if I can remember vividly that is 2000 riot that happened in Kaduna. You get me right? It was a very tough experience, Alhamdulillah Allah protected us.

KD13 [18042-18098]

To be sincere I have not come in contact with conflict.

KD14 [23455-23493]

I have never been confronted with it.

KD15 [30114-30155]

I have not been confronted, I have not

KD16 [18731-18770]

Actually often and I try to manage it

KD17 [55122-55370]

Ah the only time I was confronted with conflict was when I was young and during the 1999 or 2000 sharia conflict in Kaduna. I was small a little bit then sha but Alhamdulillah we thank God we are still surviving although it was a trauma actually.

KD19 [36789-36989]

Well, I have been confronted with several conflicts, as a man you face a lot of conflicts everyday and the way you resolve that conflict depends on the level, on your level of tolerance and maturity.

KD20 [30034-30073]

I have never confronted any conflict.

KD21 [28140-28488]

Couple of times you are confronted ah with conflicts either directly or indirectly sometimes it's not you per se, sometimes it's people around you. So you have to be like a middle man eh intermediary between them, put the bridge together and settle them and sometimes it's you, you go by the Quran or sulhu khair, you just have to overlook and go.

KD23 [28151-28362]

I have been confronted with conflicts in so many times and I usually react ah I react I usually react as a mediator, so even if it happens to me so I ah I will always try to bring (coughs) peace on it (coughs).

KD24 [82329-82335]

None

KD25 [96756-97280]

Well personally is not because conflict is, the word conflict is in the relative. But in terms of ah displeasure is part of conflict. There is psychological conflict. when somebody is not living fine with something maybe what he is expecting is not what comes out that, by that he is automatically engaging in conflict, but this time around is psychological conflict. There is physical conflict that is where people are engaged in exchange of words or blows or what have you or even using weapons all these are conflicts.

KD26 [32879-32939]

I have not been confronted with conflict at all (laughing)

KD27 [30950-31355]

I always believe that in issues where conflict arises and you think you have superior position or superior argument on an issue and not necessary that you push, you push it across. You can accept the other person's view and then gradually to avoid the conflict accept his view then gradually make him understand the folly of his ways or that your views are superior based on arguments and presentation.

KD28 [39732-39903]

Ah a lot in many ways as long I came to know that yes it is the understanding, I have to withdraw myself and then console yourself and make one to understand the issue.

KD29 [25560-25633]

Well I can't really count number of times because I did not record them.

KD29 [25664-25729]

Well I reacted to the basis of my own opinion and understanding.

KD30 [45777-46246]

Honestly in life we face a lot of conflicts, conflicts in ideas, conflicts in other things, but whenever you are given, you have been confront with one you always find a way to get a peaceful ending to it where you can be able to ah if possible have what you want or achieve what you want and if not possible to or the most important thing whenever you have been confronted in a conflict is to make sure that you take all ah procedures to ah have a peaceful ah ending.

KD31 [22811-22974]

Well I've been confronted, I've been confronted with conflicts so many times, yah so many times and ah my reaction is just to like run away from it and that that

KD32 [33485-33558]

I can't say I have major any conflict really Allah has protected me so.

KD33 [29674-29715]

Yah I didn't come across with conflicts.

KD34 [36038-36496]

What type of a conflict, idea or any conflict? Any conflict toh like the one I just explained earlier the conflict of ideas, when a particular idea comes to me with conflict with my own idea, I sit down and look at it and understand the other side and to my own side, if it is, I believe that that my own side it is the right one, I stood on my feet and if the other side is the right one and am on the wrong one I left my own and then pick the other side.

KD35 [35448-35828]

We carry out our normal life's on the streets where most people are illiterates, most people are ignorant, whenever you go out of your house you meet with people who confront you with conflicts, who meet you with conflicts. When people are ignorant, they come your way, they challenge you, they upset you, they cause trouble, so once they cause trouble then conflict will come.

KN1 [70371-70445]

If have chance I run away, where I don't have chance I hide. That is it.

KN1 [70120-70224]

it all depends on what conflict you mean, you mean now as a child when I am playing football probably

KN1 [70323-70332]

Yah I do

KN2 [42195-42235]

Some amicably and some the other way

KN2 [42266-42308]

that is may be out of frustration I react

KN2 [42117-42158]

As a person? Several, uncountable times

KN3 [36698-36761]

When something is happening around me naturally it affects me.

KN3 [36799-38094]

It has affected me because am seeing the difference between the past and the present and I am sad. The past was good the present is bad. The norms and the values we have inherited from our founding fathers have now been thrown overboard. We are no longer what we were. What is happening in the country today is not in our character because of bad leaders. And that is why I pray that may God grant that we have leaders not rulers, leaders not looters, leaders with the fear of God, leaders who will not lie, leaders who will accept in public what they have accepted in secret, leaders who are not corrupt, leaders who will not steal.

Leaders not looters, leaders who will look at the lot of the common man with the eyes of the compatriot not with the eyes of the privileged few, leaders not rulers, leaders not looters. Leaders with a vision not a blurred vision. Leaders who will know when they are no longer equal to the exigencies of their nation and will have the prudence of handing over to others before they forfeit the aspirations of their countrymen. Leaders not ruler, leaders not looters, leaders who know that one day they will stand before God to account for what they did. Not the ones who will want to perpetuate their stay in office until death do us part like church marriage.

KN4 [54583-55248]

Many times because I only use formula if there is conflict, there is solution. Where solution come you should carry it as you carry crisis. Conflict is part and parcel of human being there is avoidance, avoidance conflict, there is avoidance conflict depending on the approach or the method you use in solving the conflict. I have been approached with conflict in many times and I look at it as part of human being and I solve it as my own personal conflict, as an individual human being, I even have a conflict sometimes with myself. So having conflict with others is normal but the only that you can weigh that you can handle and manage the conflict means a lot.

KN5 [36257-36495]

I eh actually I have not been confronted by conflicts ehh in my life but once and that was ehh very young age during senior secondary school days and I reacted and I fought because I have no control then and full control of myself then.

KN6 [41350-41559]

I never confronted with the conflict. If you mean this conflict, do you mean ah this conflict which is happening between Muslim and Christians or not. If you mean this, I never have an experience about this.

KN7 [36933-37352]

Well ehm my personal experience with conflicts has not been so direct enough. It has been indirect in the sense that I only have, may be, close friends, close friends that do engage or, or are being confronted with conflicts. So in a situation whereby I find myself in this conflict, I try to escape, I try to run away, I try to save my life and save other people's life that I think I am in the position to save, yes.

KN8 [35591-35678]

It is very wrong because, any religion that preaches conflict is not a good religion.

KN9 [31529-31706]

Many, a number of times I have been confronted with conflicts and I have reacted quite ah calm about it because in terms of conflict all you need to do is to be calm, hmm, yes.

KN10 [25276-25303]

I never face any conflict.

KN11 [33709-33753]

I have never been confronted with conflict.

KN13 [36793-36851]

Hmm, the issue I have not been confronted with conflict.

KN14 [29807-29854]

Yes, I have ever been confronted with conflicts

KN14 [29889-29941]

Yes, I responded positively because of some reasons

KN15 [25205-25260]

I have never ever been confronted with conflicts ever

KN16 [14930-14991]

I have never been confronted with conflict, i have never.

KN17 [28788-29025]

It depends on which particular kind of conflicts, conflicts have series of stages. Conflicts can metamorphose into war it has series of stages it can come even into crisis, so all of them have different meaning and different construct.

KN18 [51350-51556]

Conflicts, I have been confronted to many conflicts, a conflict of income is a conflict too in myself, and I confront it ah ah appropriately, I tried to get a solution to that it. it is disturbing about ...

KN19 [32136-32940]

Hmm there are a lot of challenges over this in fact several occasions in fact one was very recent in ah my room while I was in 300 level whereby a roommate of mine we decided to embark on end of party room, you understand, room celebration, you understand, we cooked, you understand, then, by then I was called by one of my lecturer my supervisor, in fact I delayed majority of the room member, then immediately I came inside I wanted to cook the stew I've prepared the stew already its inside my cupboard then I came inside to warm it and boil the egg then one of the room member, you understand, ah probably because of the hot temper and the way people perceive them to be in their state because I learnt that that day that he is from Kogi he is Igbira guy, he just came and said you are very stupid.

KN19 [32956-33430]

While we are understanding each other we are laughing everybody-I have apologised to everybody, everybody was saying you are welcome, sisi never die and this said you are very stupid, you are mad why could you just say ah ah ah why could you just delay everyone, do you think you are more than us? I'm not even eating again. All of a sudden he just poured the rice away, very serious, to the extent that the something ensued. Everybody now said we are not even doing again.

KN19 [33446-33974]

So it spoiled everything though later I tried to be patient because according to the holy prophet (SAW) all understanding, you understand, that I have learnt in Islamic school is that (he cites a verse in the Qur'an) you cannot say somebody is powerful when he is able to carry somebody that is more than him, his mate or 50 people at the same time and what and defeat them, but the powerful person-that is not a powerful person, a powerful person is somebody that can control his temper when he is when he is when he's angry.

KN19 [34014-34064]

But now, with that person we are best of friends.

KN20 [23902-24097]

You don't really have to react to conflicts, sometimes you can just neglect somebody that is trying to bring conflicts especially when it comes to religion you just neglect and go your own way.

KN21 [17107-17122]

So many times.

KN21 [17152-17169]

Just being calm

KN22 [34478-34994]

More often than not I have been confronted with conflicts. Conflict could be personal could be personal, conflict could be ahhhh with you then with your family, it could be from you and your government or leadership. I react-sometimes have been able to control myself through that conflict by adhering to the teaching of the prophet that whatever happened we should just exercise patience, whatever happens if somebody commits an offense to you, you should forget about it and leave everything in the hand of Allah.

KN23 [22947-23114]

Numerous times as a student of Bayero University I battle with people, I rush for lectures to sit and all that and I always try as much as possible to maintain peace.

KN24 [21373-21412]

Once and I react diplomatically to it

KN25 [34559-34693]

Well I have been confronted with conflicts a couple of times but and my reaction has always been that violence has to be a last resort

KN26 [37843-38102]

A lot of times, a lot of times ah interestingly my area of specialization is conflict and conflict resolution. So I engage a lot in development work, facilitation and amm fieldwork, you know, Muslim rural communities on mediating between conflicting parties.

KN27 [26613-27101]

Well as a true Muslim and as a believer the prophet Muhammad (SAW) said that al-muslim akhul Muslim-a Muslim is a brother of another Muslim. So as Muslims, as a Muslims and as a true Muslim, I am being confronted with conflicts even if my fellow brother Muslims is being confronted with a conflict. But in a situation where I find myself confronted with conflict, I do all my possible best to do away with it or resolve it and if I can't definitely I will pray, I have to pray on it.

KN28 [20596-20742]

Oh indirectly I have been confronted with conflict. Take a look at some nations which are actually Muslim states with a lot of conflictual terms

KN30 [18942-18960]

I don't think so

KN31 [34637-34905]

Well I have been so many times confronted with conflicts but being a rational being now or as somebody who is sane, I always try to just avoid it because the starting point you get angry or what have you then you start but you don't know what will result, the damage.

KN32 [17370-17442]

on a normal... and I react to it democratically and of course peacefully.

KN33 [13079-13091]

Not at all.

KN34 [23354-23757]

hmm it may be-when you look at through I may say what happened or what is taking place in northern Nigeria in some parts maybe you may be victim or someone who is very close to you may be a victim, so there are instances whereby a relative of mine was also a victim of a conflict, I know how I feel but I always advocate for other members of the family to stay calm not to take the law into their hand.

KN35 [22564-22824]

Actually I can't say I have been confronted with any conflict so probably on any Islamic issue because simply it can be like conflict of mind when you say something that you don't like you find that very difficult you just have to use your Iman to control it.

KN36 [22511-22521]

As many.

KN36 [22551-22639]

I controlled myself and controlled my manners so that it will not lead us to violence.

KN37 [21605-21628]

On a number of times.

KN37 [21659-21808]

Most of the times I have succeeded in applying diplomatic means and I succeeded, just few I have to engage in the conflict because it is necessary.

KN38 [16253-16306]

No time, I have never been confronted with conflict.

KN39 [25268-25430]

Actually I have been confronted with conflict actually several times. I sometimes react to it peacefully and sometimes not actually.

KN40 [20393-20508]

I have been confronted with conflict several times, but I try to react to it based on my avoidance and ignorance.

KN41 [17705-17738]

I did not experience it at all.

KN42 [45869-46637]

Countless times. I tried to stay calm, be cool and try to understand the other person, what is the person actually going through? What is it and how are they feeling? If you try to understand the person that he is trying to hurt you or trying to bring you down. Then you can see whether, it is either they are being dysfunctional or there is actually something wrong with them or they have basis for what they do. We don't know whether the person is actually in his right senses and you just feel like I must revenge, I must do back to what they have already done for me. You measure these things objectively. You don't want to go over your head or lose your cool because that makes you want to even engage in conflict. I try to stay calm even though it is very hard.

KN43 [33627-33807]

Yah, I never get embroiled into conflict but I you know witness a number of people who engaged in conflict with one another based on certain, you know, reasons best known to them.

KN44 [27141-28429]

Many times but I cannot recall in detail how I was able to do that but the fact that I stay in Kano, I have been confronted with a lot of conflicts. There was a time, that was in 2003 when there was a conflict in Kano and ah I know, I even made attempt to, how do I put it, I even made attempt to protect my Oga who was then a Christian. I took him in my car, I took a lot of risks to save his life so like I say re, eh relationship, people should not look at the antagonistic relationship between the two faiths, the good aspect of the relationship need to equally be explored. For example, like I told you in 2003 I took somebody who is, has been a Christian all his life when there was an attempt to, perhaps, to kill him. I took all the risk to take him, to take him in my car, drop him to where I feel he is going to be safe. Even though he is a Christian and I am a Muslim but that kind of cordial relationship which I say if there is good understanding between you, conflict can be avoided. So I have been confronted with so many conflicts, all I need to do is when there is any conflict, I sit down, think very well before I take the next line of action. I don't follow what they call maddening crowd. I sit down think over a conflict and then perhaps take the final decision.

KN45 [38309-38501]

Conflict, conflict, I can say I have never been confronted with conflict ehh, but I saw conflict maybe from afar and ah an observer from a distant. I eh I have never confronted conflict, yah.

KN46 [59292-59560]

Well I don't know how many times, but I normally try to be as reasonable as possible because I always want to side with reason. Because I think if people will be reasonable a lot of things that happen to us, negative things that happen to us would not have happened.

KN47 [56364-56549]

Hmm mm, well I it was two times I can say that I was confronted with conflicts and what I did then it was to run away and of course entered the house and locked the door. That is it.

KN48 [19055-19100]

I have never, I have never even witness one.

KN49 [29344-29574]

I think it all depends on your human management skills and perhaps I have been confronted by conflict a few times and I was able to waddle out of it by being very holistic towards it and accepting it and then trying to change it.

KN50 [16546-16803]

Ahh, the first time I confronted with conflict I tried to make them understand me, understand me and I too get to understand them, not that from me, eh when I was just confronted and then I would just ehh, I do not, I do not ehh, I do not react violently.

KN52 [56127-56941]

Conflict, well as a Muslim I remember in the early 90's in Funtua during the Maitatsine crises, I was there, I witness the conflict I saw it, but it was not a conflict between Muslims and Non-Muslims, it was an intra-religious conflict within Islam itself, the Maitatsine sect taking of arms against both the state and other Muslims who do not share their beliefs and I remember I was vehemently against the Maitatsine, you know, because as far as I was concerned they were not Muslims because even in terms of their own theological understanding of Islam they were completely out of Islam, you know, and they rose against the state unnecessarily without any provocation. So they were not fighting any jihad in that context, but were mere criminals and elements that were all out to destroy the peace of the society

KN54 [12228-12244]

So many times.

KN55 [14266-14284]

Numberless times

KN56 [23991-24412]

Actually as a human being and a Muslim actually let me say as a human being there is no way that you cannot be confronted with conflicts. Actually you can have conflict with yourself, you can have conflict in your stomach, you can have conflict in so many situations and so many times. So I can say I have been confronted with conflict so many times and even now that I am doing this interview I am engaged in Conflicts.

KN57 [20452-20547]

It is only one time, but I exercised patience when it came to me. Now it has become history.

KN58 [46445-46558]

Even right now I am having a conflict because I have decisions to make, it is conflict. So it is all the time.

KN59 [48232-49145]

Conflict for me personally I have not being confronted with conflict, but the only conflict I was confronted with is not conflict, it is just a kind of misunderstanding between a friend and it is based on religion whereby she is even a lady where I was serving. She was trying to compare prophet Muhammad (SAW) and Jesus Christ so I was trying to say no prophet Muhammad (SAW) is super over Jesus Christ, so she was trying to say why did I say this? So we had some misunderstanding and I got aggressive I think that is the only conflict I was confronted with and my reaction was bitter, but when she noticed that I was kind of aggressive and I was hot tempered, she understand with me and at the end we resolve the issue by letting her know that all these people are prophets and they are men of God. So there is no need to like argue so we reached a consensus that both of us understand and we became friends.

KN60 [34922-35267]

In a life time of a person so many instances would arise whereby conflict maybe generated, but Islam has given medication to whatever situation. The prophet (SAW) was asked Awusini and he said la tawada don't get angry. So far you would abide by that you would solve so many conflicts, you would resolve so many differences and what have you.

KN61 [17988-18270]

Yah, there are so many crisis, because as may be as teacher sometimes we use to come across disagreement between classmates, disagreement between mates, disagreement in so many ways, then ...the way you can solve it peacefully or use confrontation method to solve some other issues.

KN62 [57240-57685]

Well I was confronted with conflicts so many times in my life. Arguments ah heated up, they escalate, escalated into two fights ahh sometimes, yah. I believe that ah we resolve them amicably, all those I had. I remember about 10years ago, I had one which was the last and resolved things amicably by discussion, by somehow inviting others to hear each other's view and then they advised us, they give us the solution. So that is what I believe.

KN63 [48995-49385]

Huh, you do have conflict, in fact every day of my life, in my working place, ah at times, I do have conflict with my wife, ah do this, no, no it is not good, something like that. In my working place, I may have a different view, my boss may have a different view, is also a conflict, but once you have a proper understanding of oneself, you know, it doesn't mean, you know, life goes on.

KN64 [28769-28868]

Hmm, only when if I am outside, if it started, I can try and ehh avoid the place, the environment.

KN65 [35652-35909]

Well, whenever you are living a life, it comes with its own challenges, so it comes around all the time and ah our ability, how we react is to try to understand what is even the cause, what brings about the bias, and you try to shape it back. That is all.

KN66 [24385-24628]

Normally I have been, I have been confronted with conflict so many times without numbers, I can't even remember, but what I do is, I follow the teachings of Islam which is anytime conflict comes my way what I do is peace, I will go for peace.

KN67 [25264-25299]

Well I can't recall any incidence.

KN68 [12155-12173]

Numberless time.

KN69 [42940-43590]

As a human being, as a matured somebody you are bound to come across so many conflicts. You are bounding to come across so many conflicts ranging from your house, ranging from your place of work or your businesses, but how do, they way to be followed in order to tackle that particular conflict is to sit amicably to understand each other so that to resolve your problems. And the resolving of problems could be done maybe to have some advantage and to do, to have some advantage to agree with some of the terms of the resolutions or to not to agree with some of the terms of the resolutions depending upon the agreement reached between the parties.

KN71 [72391-72858]

I should tell you that, I am sorry to say but I have been a leader throughout my life. So I cannot count how much I have been confronted with one conflict of either injustice, conflict of either we want him to be a Muslim but we cannot support him. Conflict of either he is fighting me because I am a Muslim and he is a non-Muslim, conflict of dominance, conflict of control, and all what have you. At times even the subject myself. So I think I cannot really count.

KN72 [38010-38081]

Yes, at least in my life, I confronted a conflict at least five times.

KN72 [38127-38219]

Religious and social conflicts but the only remedy is making rationality, making rationality

KN72 [38300-38412]

That is my reactions is make, is making a rationality that is making rationality, whenever I face any conflict.

KN73 [39858-39968]

A lot of time. I react the way Islam guided me to do by making peace with the other person, the other party.

KN74 [48996-49051]

Alhamdulillah I have never found myself in a conflict

KN75 [51860-51998]

Yes, a lot of times, I do confronted with conflict but I manage to escape from the conflict by supplication, perseverance and tolerance.

KN76 [44646-44789]

Well actually, like ah here in Kano I was ahh actually confronted maybe one or two three times with ahh religious conflict, I never take part.

KN78 [61594-61758]

Wallahi I do have disagreements with some of my Christians or non-Muslims ahh colleagues, but that in a way has never stopped us from interacting as human beings.

KN80 [46560-46599]

So at least it was about four times

KN80 [46624-46664]

So I react in the Islamic way of life

KN81 [30474-30632]

I have complied a lot of conflicts with other people but am trying my best to calm myself in order to solve the problem especially during when am a student.

KN82 [32658-32769]

I have been confronted with conflicts several times and I confronted it through negotiations and mediations.

KN83 [22648-22870]

So I think I could not recall, but ahh the worst conflict that I have involved I think when I was in secondary school, there was a one of the case that I involve so I think that was the only conflict that I engage myself.

KN84 [25462-25875]

I can't just say this is the number of conflicts I engage in, but all I know is that whenever I engage in a state of a conflict, what I use to apply as the key to succeed survival because I everybody who is ready to confront in a state of conflict is looking for the survival. So I think the only way I use to apply when I engage in a state of conflict is just to exercise patience and plot things in accordance.

KN85 [38281-38629]

If we are talking about conflict generally everyday, everyday we are confronted with conflicts with different divergent opinions, but if we are talking about violent conflicts, we have seen violence conflicts several times, but ahh all the time as a Muslim what one should try to do is to be pacific because conflict is never good, is never good.

ZA1 [38932-38969]

I didn't confront with any conflict.

ZA2 [47364-47695]

ahhh I don't ever been confronted with conflicts, ...my own areas we are always free, we don't have problems, we don't have conflict because there is a minor issue, when we are talking about conflict you know we are taking about something serious ,but not minor even because you are insulting me I insult you is not a conflict.

ZA3 [29000-29213]

Conflict are of different categories now. There are minor conflicts and major conflicts. Even among the family of members there could be conflicts deepening on which type of conflicts. I have attended to many.

ZA4 [50211-50315]

Any time I am confronted we sit down we iron it slowly not to fight; we come into consensus, dialogue.

ZA5 [32856-32968]

Ahh I react because I experienced one. I was in Kaduna 1999 or so. The conflict was not, was not sweet at all.

ZA5 [33044-33077]

Ahh I preached against it ohh

ZA6 [72364-72761]

It depends as far as you are human and you live among ah other humans, you have to be confronted with conflicts, but sometimes you ahh you react in a good way depending on how serious the conflict is. If it is personal between two people you and somebody, definitely you react in a kind of way it won't generate to something else, but it is a normal thing you must be confronted with conflicts.

ZA7 [38438-38772]

Well everyone has been in one way or the other affected by conflict. I think mine personally was during the Jos crisis which most people think it is religious crisis. So I think conflict between the people living there, the Muslims and the government has really affected me greatly because we lost properties and we lost loved ones.

ZA8 [76618-76682]

Many times and I react by telling them what my religion says.

ZA9 [42932-43726]

Back then in my in my local government there was there was a problem, there was a land dispute between Offa to be precise and in Erile am from Offa and Erile just because of a small piece of land, both of them were fighting over the land./ My experience that time because it affected me till today because we spend like six months at home due to that conflict which made it very difficult for me, most people that time didn't have the opportunity to go to school again. For like six months we were all at home when our counterparts in the other parts of the country are going to school. As such it slowed down our education at some point, it brought it down a step lower. Conflicts don't ever yield better results. It is rather brings negative things to the life of the people being involved.

ZA10 [36648-36806]

Umm as a human you encounter a lot of conflicts, but what you are expected to do as a Muslim is to be patient and the teachings told us to always be patient.

ZA11 [31481-31669]

Well, there are times that when you walk away or, you address conflicts most times in a mild way that it converts everything and it solves itself. So you don't have go violent about that.

ZA12 [19377-19390]

I can't say.

ZA13 [20074-20139]

Honestly I have never been confronted with conflict, I have not.

ZA14 [27059-27306]

Yes I react to it because, I so much react to conflict because if you really need change sometimes you have to be involved in conflict, for you to have development sometimes there must be a conflict, without conflict there will be no development.

ZA16 [21047-21165]

Hmmm uncountable and at times I use to calm down and understand the person that is trying to make a conflict with me.

ZA18 [30600-31103]

Toh gaskiya times without number and you know the most important thing when conflicts arise uhmmm, like religious conflicts, things are not done the way they should, you understand. You see the pioneers of the conflicts, when caught, no action will ever be taken to them. So that grudges will remain on the other side that ok we will find one day to revenge so things would now, if those that perpetrate the conflicts are brought to book and dealt with accordingly, naturally, these things will reduce.

ZA19 [46330-46558]

Well several times because of I deem to be a peace advocator. There are several occasions where people actually ah attack me violently and I did not react in a violent means because I want the continuation of that relationship.

ZA20 [31523-31771]

Honestly I have never been faced with those conflicts in terms of religion with other Christians. I have been a student all my life. I have been sitting with them, living with them in my hostel, in classroom and we have never had such conflicts.

ZA21 [35598-35816]

So many times. I have been confronted with conflicts so many times but the way and manner I confronted it is that I do things amicably. Anything that is not gotten peacefully it should not be gotten in a hostile way.

ZA22 [30538-30593]

I was never confronted with any conflicts in my life.

ZA23 [38967-39243]

I cannot say precisely because as a leader as an Islamic teacher somebody that teaches in Islamiya school, somebody that leads on different levels of people's endeavor, I cannot recall how many times I am confronted with conflicts and by Allah's mercies I use to resolve it.

ZA24 [48452-48844]

I have not been confronted with any conflict. My own ideology is that it is not until when we fight each other-if somebody- if something happen we should share idea you should bring your own reasons why you are doing this and the other party also – in fact according to Bible it says that we should rub hands together and to see the truth. in fact I have not confronted any conflict before.

ZA25 [48096-48646]

Several times, but to start with you have to learn the tenets of managing conflicts in Islam. First of all you have to be an extremely patient Muslim, human being if you claim to be ahl laillah ha ilallah Muhammadan rasulillah. So you don't use provocative words a Muslim is not supposed to be angry unnecessarily and demonstrate the anger. And you should not be selfish; you should not hide under the banner of Islam and be pushing for selfish interest. So if these ones are not there, you will be able to handle any conflict in an amiable manner.

ZA26 [22267-22306]

I have never been attacked by conflict

ZA27 [21647-21685]

No I have not experienced any conflict

ZA28 [35227-35384]

Well conflicts (long pause) well arguments arises and the best thing when conflicts well I will use argument in place of conflict because it goes along side

ZA29 [49765-49835]

Well many times, sometimes I overreacted and sometimes I think twice.

ZA30 [59559-59658]

Uncountable and I remain under that la tagadar, la tagadar that is don't be angry, don't be angry.

ZA31 [30313-30627]

Toh, you know conflicts have many definition (Laughing), conflicts have many definition but, but not jihadist conflict, not tribalism conflict, it is political conflict and we've been achieve, I, we, is being resolved through dialogue not fighting. We sat down, we explained our mind, we and we make things right.

ZA32 [63556-64476]

I once confronted, somehow confronted like during the 2011 election, when I was in Kano state, I was in my school and the school is surrounded with a wall and it has two main gates and when the violation , that violation after election, when the conflict started so we were there in Kano and we were frightened actually, but when, but at that time we were in our school, we were in the school, we were in school, and we were commanded by our principal not to even come out, in fact we were the prefects at that time, we were ordered, we were given an order by the principal and command to come and close the gate of the school and stood there and we did it. And Alhamdulillah, our students, our colleagues were not allowed to move out, they were unable to move out and Alhamdulillah and the principal also asked us to keep praying and calling inna lillahi inna alayhim raji'un. So that is how we reacted to it actually.

ZA33 [25203-25542]

Yes I was once confronted with conflicts where two teams of different background came together fighting for different interests. So I used a method of dialogue to settle them through selecting some of the leaders. So with that we came to an agreement, we came to resolutions on some of the agreements of that and that ends the conflict.

ZA34 [44100-44848]

I have, everybody must have a conflict, life conflicts even with your-maybe you are a family man, you have a conflict with your family. If you are a child you have conflicts sometimes with even your family, your father and you other relatives. I have so many conflicts in my life. Nobody in life that doesn't have a conflict, a period that somebody is being destabilized. But two things have to come to your mind. One, remember that Rasul (SAW) tells us to be patient, patience, patience. Two, remember that Allah (SBUH) said in the glorious Qur'an that you are going to be tested wa lalna bulu wannakum-we are going to test you. It is test from Allah (SBUH). So if you endure it and you live patiently Allah will reward you on that. That is that.

ZA35 [21945-21947]

No

ZA36 [30971-31370]

Well the only conflict I can, the only conflict that is still in my mind is that of our neighbors because we live with this ah Islamic sect that calls themselves Shi'a, honestly those people are hell; they are pains in the neck. So they are giving us problems. Even the way they roam about today, the area with cutlasses and swords, it is frightening, it is frightening. So conflict is a disaster.

ZA37 [37487-37523]

Yes, I just escaped myself from it.

ZA38 [43697-43832]

Basically the little time or the little moment I was confronted with conflict I, in fact I dodged away from it, I dodged away from it.

ZA39 [55762-55969]

Actually as a human being, I have being confronted with conflict in times without number and some with the help of Allah, I was able to address it and some you just leave it like that beyond my power, yes.

Th14.2: Effects of Experienced Religious Conflicts

FG1 [46922-46964]

Yes we can all say we have been affected

FG1 [46966-47019]

But how does it affect you that is what is the issue

FG1 [47058-47251]

Since all of us here are Muslims and we are all mostly the residents of the state so we may not have that experience of may be the conflict affecting us negatively because we are the majority.

FG2[24691-25527]

Yes of course we have or I can say I personally have ever been confronted with religious conflicts because sir I could remember the recent conflict which erupted in Kano state at that time sir I was in our area and at time sir I was called by one of my friends telling me that this people and that time presidential elections was announced and northerners heard something different which they didn't predict, because at that time northerners were having confidence that the present president will be the president then. And the result of the elections really was changed so as a result even me at that time I have confidence in the present president and majority of us really we have the confidence and really at that time in the country there are many problems which no one can even solve them but him and as a result violence erupted.

FG2 [25661-26113]

I have experienced a religious conflict. I am a living witness, my house was set ablaze in Jos 2001 August and my uncle was almost beaten to death. Our last born was some of the Christian youths in the area, I don't know even the word to use, confiscated my our last born (interjected; they abducted him) who was a month old at that time they throw him, in fact it was a bad experience, it was really a bad experience. Our house everything set ablaze.

FG3 [57463-60151]

Once in Kaduna. I was doing my IT in the refinery and you know the refinery is located in Sabo and Sabo the dominant are the Christians. I was lucky my friend there, the one I live with is, a Christian and equally he is Igbo – Obinna, we call him Wizzy, everybody, fat, tall and fair. So I started my first and second week, if you remember in the 2011 or 2012 there was a crisis in Kaduna, a serious one. I remember I was in 400 level then. So I was there in Sabo, I dropped at refinery junction in Sabo and I entered a car, normal car because it is cars that convey you to the refinery. They took us there. When we were there my friend in Kakuri my cousin brother called and asked where I am, and as I told him I am in the refinery already. He started crying that fight has erupted and everybody is at home now and Sabo is the deadly area. Any Muslim that is there is no longer. The next thing that came to my mind I didn't freak out, I started walking out of the refinery. The person Gambo Tuge that is the chairman NUPENG, he is a little bit my relation but not really serious. So he was looking for me because they called soldiers and they are taking him home and me I was already leaving, so I entered a bus, and as I entered the bus I called my friend. I didn't speak Hausa I spoke English, fluent English grammar good one so that I won't be caught in the process. Hello Wizzy where are you, he said I am at home I said do you know where I am he said no. I said I am in Sabo. What? I said I am in Sabo, he said ok where are you right now? I said I am in a bus am about to be dropped at the refinery junction. My friend took their own Mercedes; he drove to the refinery junction. Immediately I reached there he called me. He held my hand we started walking they stopped cars from moving, even private cars they couldn't move. So the only way to convey yourself is to get an okada man (motorcycle person) that knows the in and out of the area. So we hired an Okada man. The okada man instead of, you know, that is why I believe that it is we people that ignite or fuel crisis. The okada man took us, I was in the middle and Wizzy at my back and the okada man was riding. He is telling us that, he taught all of us were Christians, he was telling us that now in Jos he was just called that more than 300 hundred Christians were killed, so anybody that is a Muslim in this region they won't let him live. Wizzy was like saying oga this is not part of our conversation please take us home because we are all scared. He took me to their house, I slept there. We ate, I could not pray. Even in their own house he did not let anybody know that I am a Muslim because he could not trust anybody.

FG3 [60230-61818]

I have a nickname but that day he! He! ... so he called his sister, his sister brought me food with everything, but I couldn't drink even the water, I was, I was not scared until when it reached a level that I saw with my own eyes this bus drivers, they followed them, the people inside most of them were Christians so they stopped them that they can't burn the car but the guy that is driving is a Muslim. They carried this big stone and they stoned the front windscreen and the thing smashed and tore the guy's head, but that guy didn't wait for that injury, he took race and entered the village, bush and started running and they followed him. I don't know how they ended. That thing I witnessed, I saw with my own eyes it triggered my fear to think that I am next, but I was trying to be calm not to show the person I am. And from that day I know that I am a very good person, I can impersonate and be the person I want to be. So I was in that house till the following morning. I could not sleep, I was lying down but I could not sleep. The following morning things were a little bit calm, by 12 o'clock he took me to Kakuri, but not really close because even him that place was a danger area for him to reach. So he dropped me around one soldiers this thing they called it, around UNTL, he dropped me there then I walked down. Because if you are around there, Kakuri, Makera not this thing, you are a bit safe so that was how I got out. They taught I am dead because my phone went dead. So nobody even in our house they started calling that I was in Sabo and my phone was not going.

FG3 [62158-62938]

I was affected. I came into this town in 2012. So I was in my place, the first place I was. I didn't have any cooking materials because I am working here so I have a place where I normally have my breakfast and dinner. So I will just go and buy, I did not have anything to cook and I was just living a bachelor's life. All I have in my room is just beverages. Now on Sunday like this, I had a plan of traveling to Kano with my friend then I was in my room when they just came and knocked my door that there was a bomb blast at one church in Zaria, Wusasa. So a curfew was imposed that nobody should go out and me I have no relatives here in Zaria so I didn't have cooking materials I was just indoors. In fact hunger nearly killed me (laughter). So that was how I was affected.

KD1 [59735-59739]

No.

KD2 [29658-29968]

Hmmmm, actually I have been affected because I wasn't born where I am living right now is not where I was born. That's a personal experience for me. I was born in Sabo and now am living in Tudun wada area. So this has affected me, it has affected my studies, it has affected the way I was brought up actually.

KD3 [22777-22781]

No.

KD4 [54664-54934]

Yah, religious conflict, I have never been affected in any religious conflict rather I have witness religious conflict especially the conflict that happened in Kaduna, that I have seen. It was very, very sad and we will never pray for God to repeat that scenario again.

KD5 [29921-30034]

I am here in Kaduna for quite a long time, I was born here, but I have not been affected by conflict in any way.

KD6 [47324-47486]

Very well, very well. In 2000 in Kaduna, my house was, our family house was burnt down not even by the Christians, by the Muslims. So, that one is another part.

KD7 [37868-38214]

As said, I haven't been, I haven't had firsthand knowledge, but I have seen the people it has affected. You see whole families, some of them slaughtered, some of them just one member of the family surviving, some of them, you see their limbs cut off, some of their livelihood stopped, some their properties destroyed. It is a nasty thing to see.

KD8 [66901-67655]

Affected. Of course, I have been affected by, anyway I may not say religious conflict because the violence we have been experiencing are very difficult to be classified. They have some element of religion and they have some elements of politics. They have some elements of social aspect and all that. I have been affected because there was a situation whereby there was conflict and there was curfew, it affected my life, you understand, and it affect my relationship with the people of the other faith. The way they trusted me before is, the way we trust each other before or trusted each other before is not necessarily the same as now. So, it affected the ay we look at each other, but thank God we are understanding ourselves and we are managing it.

KD9 [46161-46652]

Same thing. I think we've talked about that one too. Religious conflicts they call it, exactly that is just the way to put it, not jihad now, religious conflict. So conflicts happen, we just hang around in our houses, look out through the window, are they still throwing stones? Are they still throwing bonfires and so on and so forth? If yes, you stay indoors. So that is how far it has actually affected us and alhamdulillah Allah has been merciful to us, we have not had any casualties.

KD10 [36844-36872]

I have never been affected.

KD12 [39863-40067]

Ah Alhamdulillah I personally Alhamdulillah I have not been affected, but so far that I have Muslims that have been affected see a Muslims that is been affected by anything, it affects every Muslims too.

KD13 [18386-18414]

I have never been involved

KD14 [23848-23867]

I have never been

KD15 [30712-30716]

No.

KD16 [19035-19046]

Not at all

KD17 [55751-56019]

Yes, just as I said earlier, during the sharia riots we lost some of our friends, of course some of our friends, our close ones, our family members as they move away from where we are, so it was really threatening and some of our businesses crunched, you understand?

KD19 [37056-37545]

Yes. Well I have witnessed a lot of religious conflicts in this country even in this town and when it happens, you will discover that a lot of lives and properties, lives of people you know, properties of people you know are being affected and that tends to affect you at times. Even the government, monies that are supposed to be meant for development will have to be channeled to repair the damages suffered as a result of the conflicts, so that affects me also.

KD20 [30650-30903]

I have never witnessed any conflicts religiously in my life. I only use to hear of it this is what is happening this place this is what is happening, but for me to see what is happening there, no. I've not seen it and I've not witnessed it in my life.

KD21 [29036-29372]

The year 2000 Kaduna state Nigeria exactly February 21st 200, a conflict occurred between the Muslims and non-Muslims, it was sharia violence it had affected people in many ways, lives were lost, people were displaced, friends, families, relatives immigrated from one area to the other. This affected me and my family very, very much.

KD23 [28628-28670]

No. I have ah I have never been affected.

KD24 [84015-85150]

Ah I have ah yes I have been affected because one, no matter how a conflict will be, if it persists, definitely you heard that maybe one of your neighbour or your friend or member of your family has been engaged or he has, he is dead in that conflict. Secondly, we are students, conflicts whenever it persists, no matter how you are, you will not go to school, schools will be closed, your career will be ruined. Thirdly, eh your nation, your country, things that are set, for example, the government set some goals which they want to achieve from this month to the next month, now conflicts just begin within the month, all things will be stopped. That goal will never be achieved till after this conflict then they will think of another time again to fix, they will face it and things like that and thirdly, we are one of the rich state so to say, it is not a poor state, but it used to affect us in the sense that we know that our neighbours, our family, no matter how members of the family, neighbours even in fact even the Christians, you see some times they are suffering, no food, children will be crying. This is a huge effect.

KD25 [97548-97580]

Well personally I would say no

KD26 [33286-33290]

No.

KD27 [32078-32081]

No

KD28 [40428-40441]

I have not.

KD29 [26010-26173]

Well I have been affected by religious conflicts and ah internal religious conflicts ah on the path of what really came to manifest into this issue of boko haram.

KD30 [47528-48105]

Okay if ahm for someone staying here in Kaduna, I think almost everybody here have been affected in one way or the other by religious conflicts ahm you see even if we look at our society, our environment now, you see an environment where there is this effect of conflict and sometimes people used to even say it that before when we used to have our, the neighbors used to be Christians that they used to be this and they used to be that. Now we don't have this kind of things and ah of course you see there are some social effects and ah which of course affects everyone here.

KD31 [23386-23492]

Yah I have it has happened to me because there are times I will be indoors maybe to curfew imposed on us.

KD32 [34362-34601]

Ah yah there is no, it does not major affected me, but I have some little experience from it from the part of the country I have been living northern Nigeria, so one way or the other I have seen it, I have little experience about it so I

KD33 [30129-30230]

Well I, personally I have not affected, I have not been affected with religious conflict in any way.

KD34 [37063-37072]

Hmm yah

KD34 [37095-37472]

Yah I was affected in the like the people when I was in secondary school there where a lot of people both Muslims and Christians but during the sharia conflict that's eh 2000 is 2000 I think during that 2000 a lot of my friend have left Kaduna state to a different state ehm the way we are leaving the society separated and other a lot of things so I was definitely affected.

KN1 [71294-71694]

Yes. Like now I am a businessman my partners are Muslims and non-Muslims. If you burnt the goods of non-Muslims probably they are owing me probably I am owing them, probably they are supplying for me or I am supplying for them, it affects me even if it does not affect me directly it affects the economy and the general something of the country, so it is affecting everybody indirectly or directly.

KN1 [71783-71917]

Yes. I gave some people goods to take to the southern part of the country and there was a conflict and it was burnt down in the shop

KN2 [42531-42533]

No

KN4 [56109-56693]

I have been-you can be affected I have been affected because I am peace loving person whenever I hear that there is conflict, I can be affected as a human being. In fact, it makes me to be tense, it disturb my mood, it disturb my life. In fact, it makes me not to think properly, it affects my temperament, it affects my psychological being and am being depressed if there is conflict because you are all human being we have rights survive amongst, we have rights to survive within, we have right to survive in the world. Only God has right to take our soul but I feel uncomfortable

KN5 [37423-37562]

Yes I have that was when I was very young. I have been having nightmares because of what I saw actually apart from this I have never been

KN6 [42277-42333]

No, have never been experience with religious conflict.

KN7 [37635-37829]

Well as a Muslim I have because ehm, Islam teaches us that al-Muslim akhul muslim so anything that ehm affects a brother of a Muslim, my fellow Muslim it affects me directly or indirectly, yes.

KN8 [35759-35904]

I have not faced any religious conflict because I do not like to embark on religious discussion especially with other counterparts of religion.

KN9 [31979-32019]

No, no, no, I have never been affected.

KN10 [25622-25636]

Ah no I never.

KN11 [33972-34002]

No I have never been affected.

KN13 [37349-37351]

No

KN14 [30410-30523]

Yes I have ever been. And ah because my religion ah was cheated by some other religion that was why I responded.

KN15 [25552-25558]

Never.

KN16 [15253-15264]

No, no, no.

KN17 [29772-29776]

No

KN18 [51972-52030]

No, but I have witnessed many but I have not been affected

KN19 [34401-34476]

I haven't because I didn't tolerate religious discussion with non-Muslims.

KN20 [24382-24419]

Everybody has been affect in Nigeria

KN20 [24444-24552]

Everybody has been-by depriving you from travelling, depriving you from going about your own ways of life.

KN21 [17428-17439]

Not at all.

KN21 [17466-17521]

I have never been affected by any religious conflicts.

KN22 [35432-35576]

Yes I have been affected or in religious conflict because one of my friends had experience about that in which his property was burnt down. Yes

KN23 [23293-23356]

Yes. Yah physical, physical attacks,

KN24 [21649-21661]

I have once

KN24 [21699-21749]

I was affected during the crisis of Kaduna state

KN25 [34958-35061]

Yes of course. I have lost friends, close associates and some business partners

KN26 [38716-38900]

Actually yes. In a particular incidence of one of the crisis in Nigeria. Yes I was caught up, no loss of life alhamdulillah for that but loss of properties

KN27 [27518-27665]

Yes I have. I have and as I said earlier on that when my fellow brother is affected with conflict. I am affected with conflict.

KN28 [21064-21252]

Well this is a very long time I could believe and it is just an issue of a Muslim and a non-Muslim, a living misunderstanding which they are doing to affect a lot of properties and lives.

KN30 [19156-19290]

Yes I have been affected. Like in Kano here ehm during conflicts we don't get to move along to places we use to go.

KN31 [35232-35783]

Yes I have been really affected but not directly but indirectly. Why did I say indirectly in the situation whereby most people when there is conflict, first you will be infringed on your freedom of movement. You might be having money but you don't even know where to go and get what food to eat. So so many factors like that, if you are not killed may be your brother, your sister, your cousin, your friend or something of yours, maybe where you work must have been damaged or something like that.

Economically the country will be in a bad shape and

KN32 [17767-17889]

Ah I have never been affected by religious conflict sir yes I have never been affected by religious conflict in any way.

KN33 [13331-13334]

No

KN34 [24109-24340]

Yes actually I can say not me but a brother of mine who was affected during, I think is it Jos crisis? So his house and everything were burnt and other instances. So this are even-I know how I felt when I received the information.

KN35 [23393-23395]

No

KN36 [23086-23279]

We are been affected in certain area that we have non-Muslims that always built churches closer to our worship areas and to some certain extent lead to conflicts but we were able to manage it.

KN37 [22281-22497]

Let me just say yes. I think it was though physical, I was attacked but I was not touched okay before they could get to me I, they were Muslims anyway, I introduced myself as a Muslim and they left

KN38 [16471-16484]

No I have not

KN39 [25726-26143]

Yes of course. Really of course I could remember this was 2000 religious conflict that has ever erupt in Kano state ah really at that time I was in FCE Kano and at that time the conflict really erupted. When I was on my way home really I was ehm I came across the police, at that time people were stoning at them, were shouting at them and really I found myself at home through difficult situation

KN40 [20810-20813]

No.

KN41 [18037-18058]

I have not actually.

KN42 [47428-47983]

Yah, I have been discriminated due to my dressing. People see me and they are like ohh, look at this one coming she is actually a Muslim because I don't need to be, I don't need to tell people I am Muslim because the way I dress, people know and the first thing they think about you is here she comes again, people that are, all they know is killing-all they know how to do is- the religion they know is how to kill people. They are so violent and I have always tried to tell them that there is no religion that is perfect but we, we are of peace always.

KN43 [34120-34124]

No.

KN45 [39237-39698]

No. Ehh I have not been affected by religious conflict personally ehh, but ehh I witnessed it. I think the year 2003 ehh during a religious conflict ehh in Kano is it 2003 or 2004 I am not sure, but the conflict was as a result of the repercussion of Jos crisis, of the Jos crisis. I witnessed it around ehh Rumfa college yah personally and we tried our best even to protect ehh some Christians who were attacked by ahh some ignorant Muslims at that time, yah.

KN46 [60052-60774]

Ahh yes, but ahh thank God I escaped its negative consequences, that is when I had to attend marriage ceremony of one of my friends in Wase Local Government of Plateau state. So I left Kano late and reached Jos ahh late in the evening and there were no commercial vehicles going to Wase at that particular time, they told me I had to wait untill morning and I didn't know anybody in in Jos. So the dilemma I found myself in is which place should I go to pass overnight and ahh without exposing myself to unnecessary ahh risk. So I spent that night in fear because I didn't know the area despite the fact that I did my own little ahh search to have maybe peace of mind to find out maybe that area is a little bit peaceful.

KN47 [56811-57369]

Well I was, because there was a time when there was Kaduna riot and my supervisor was in Abuja I wanted to see her here in Kano and then it took some days, of course weeks because the road is not good. The road was not good, there were possible attack if you follow the road, so she hung around in Abuja and I was waiting for her in we couldn't meet, we just send you know we exchanged emails only and then the problem, she has to come herself to solve the problem yet so that is the kind of negative consequences of conflict that I or ever bear in my life.

KN48 [19419-19423]

No.

KN49 [29940-29960]

No, I haven't been.

KN50 [17066-17069]

No

KN52 [57713-57857]

This is exactly the same with the question I answered earlier about, in which I made reference to my experience on Maitatsine crisis in Funtua.

KN54 [12452-12456]

Yes

KN55 [14507-14512]

Yes.

KN56 [24981-25186]

Yah I have been affected by religious conflict even this boko Haram thing, boko haram of a think, I think. It is a religious conflict and it has affected me socially, economically and even academically.

KN57 [20879-20905]

Yes through insurgence.

KN58 [46946-46996]

Several times, riots whereby I was nearly killed

KN59 [49852-49913]

I personally have not been affected by religious conflict.

KN60 [35501-36208]

Of course I cannot say I was not affected because by the time you have religious conflict, to me, I cannot even call it religious conflict, I can put it to mean social conflict because most of the conflicts we are having in Nigeria, they are not religious actually, if you go deep into it, you find that it is politically motivated and what have you and so many other factors playing their role to bring about such conflicts. In a situation whereby you have market closed up, a curfew is being imposed, automatically you are been affected whether directly or indirectly, your relatives, not even to talk of relatives, a Muslim brother is being kill automatically you are directly or indirectly affected.

KN61 [18586-18631]

Yah, it has, it has I can say it has affects

KN61 [18705-18900]

Hmm, it has affected our state when there is a crisis between, disagreement between Muslim and non-Muslims over one issue.

Yah, and it has caused a lot of ah damages and things of other people

KN62 [58518-58928]

I was once affected and even involved in a religious conflict. I believe that it was later I discovered that religious conflicts come as a result of, let us say, poor indoctrination, you understand. It means people are always indoctrinated by bad ideologies, sorry, with bad ideologies. So that is why they become somehow fanatics, extremist and they go into conflicts. So I think this is my experience.

KN63 [50027-50203]

Huh, though I have been here in the north for many years, for more than twenty, twenty-five years, but I have not been affected by any of those things, any religious conflict.

KN64 [29184-29225]

Yes, I have, I have been affected by it.

KN65 [36121-36328]

Ahmm you see in so many ways we have been affected, from 1991, the Bonnke riot that happened here in Kano, we have been affected, business have been affected a lot, so we have been affected in so many ways.

KN66 [25065-25150]

Hmm, I have not been, I have never been attack, ahh, affected by religion conflict.

KN67 [25828-26046]

Well I have been, I think the current issues of eh ehm Boko haram has affected everywhere, economically and socially and has led to the loss of so many lives of the people that I know. So I think it has affected me.

KN68 [12376-12380]

No.

KN69 [44154-44163]

I never.

KN71 [73824-74242]

When you say affected, ehh I mean not physically because I was in Kaduna 2000 when there was that mayhem, sharia conflict in Kaduna, I think two times. And I was in Tudun Wada when there was that problem of cartoon and ehm so if you mean affected physically no, but some other aspect like the economic aspect, the social aspect and all what have you, I have seen a lot. Even in Kano here, somewhere around 1992 or 93.

KN72 [38814-38876]

No. I did never been affected by any religious conflict, yes.

KN73 [40381-40410]

I have never been affected.

KN74 [49555-49601]

I have never come across a religious conflict.

KN75 [52307-52321]

I have never.

KN76 [45599-45662]

No. I have never been directly affected by religious conflict.

KN78 [62346-62425]

When we say religious conflict, affected by religious conflict, I don't think.

KN80 [47051-47056]

Yes

KN81 [31491-31505]

No I have not

KN82 [32966-33024]

I have been affected by religious conflict in many ways.

KN83 [23174-23647]

Of course I have ever been affected ah I think during emm Obasanjo regime, there was a crisis that have occurred here in Kano in Dorayi, so as a result of, that crisis had occurred as a result of Yelwa Shandam in area of plateau state, so the Muslims also revenged, took a revenge. So as a result of the negligence of the federal government, they did not take a reaction that is why some other Muslims have taken an action so that the government will now settle the case.

KN84 [26180-26792]

Hmm I ever affected in religious conflict when ehm during this ehm conflict that is arising in Plateau state because I ever went there to visit one of my uncles that is living there. So as I just come out in the morning I have heard gunshot seeing this police and the army moving all round, you know, to defend those that are come out with sophisticated weapons. As I just, I just start running, running, running and as I just come to cross the road and I even fall for ground, if you take look at this (Shows body part) this is the damage I have so if it is said that I did not ever experience it, i will just lie.

KN85 [39118-39439]

Yes anytime any Muslim is killed anywhere then as a Muslim you are affected because we are all brothers and sisters. Therefore, we have ahh we have seen so many religious conflicts in Nigeria that have, in one way for the other, affected our activities, affected our peaceful coexistence with non-Muslims so many times.

ZA1 [39256-39427]

I say that in northern Nigeria, all these conflicts are not religious, is a political issues. So since is a political issue, I didn't come across that religious conflict.

ZA2 [48733-48740]

No, no.

ZA3 [29842-29955]

Of course we've been. Even ordinary security challenges faced as a result of some part in religious conflicts.

ZA4 [50900-50905]

No.

ZA5 [33350-33497]

Yes, I have been affected when I was in school, when there is a religious crisis they went on strike for so many months and it really affected me.

ZA6 [73255-73634]

Hmm I have never been affected by, no I have, like in Kaduna where you have the manipulated religious conflict, of course it affected the whole state the curfew and all that. Food became expensive ahh you don't even get enough even as expensive as it is, you don't get them in market. There is no freedom of movement. You are restricted and all that. So it is a bad experience.

ZA8 [77494-77657]

Hmm yes I have been affected because when I was in Jos when religion conflict broke out I spent like two days without eating (he laughs) I was affected by hunger.

ZA9 [43969-44074]

I have never been affected, from where I come from, I have never been affected by religious conflict.

ZA10 [37073-37105]

No. I have never been affected.

ZA11 [31883-31887]

No.

ZA12 [19661-19740]

Yah I experienced, but I don't indulge in that, whenever it comes up, I leave.

ZA13 [20458-20485]

I have not, I have never.

ZA14 [27651-27906]

Yes I have been affected, I have been affected with religious conflict, even though not directly because that time I was in school, there was a kind of religious conflict, that was in ABU here and it led to strike that take us over a year or six months.

ZA15 [30462-30467]

No.

ZA16 [21629-21675]

No I have not ever, I have not been affected.

ZA17 [26755-26774]

I have not been.

ZA18 [31549-31750]

Gaskiya ni dai I have never been affected. Ni I am living in Zaria peacefully, but whenever I hear things of that nature happening at some other places, I feel as if I am the person honestly speaking.

ZA19 [47327-47723]

Yes of course, I have once been affected by religious conflict ah when ah even though to my own perception that is not purely religion it has been motivated by some political elites based on their economic reasons where in Plateau I happen to there, but God actually secured my life, rescued my life when we were observing prayers and some non-Muslims actually attacked us while we were praying.

ZA20 [32008-32026]

No in my case no

ZA21 [36406-36569]

Well I have been affected by religious conflict as far back as 1992 in Tafawa Balewa Local Government, Bauchi state. And it affected in a way so to say in a way.

ZA22 [31090-31156]

No, personally no but it happened in so many places in the north.

ZA23 [39775-39794]

I am not affected

ZA24 [49332-49377]

I was not affected by any religious conflict

ZA25 [49216-49335]

Personally I have never been. I have been lucky I have not been affected by- negative affected by religious conflicts

ZA26 [22621-22624]

No

ZA27 [22028-22044]

No I have never

ZA28 [35680-35709]

I have never experienced any

ZA29 [50428-50663]

Well I have never been –I was once affected, but not really seriously affected and the way it happened was as in the past as in post violence, you know, post election violence that happened in the past and nothing serious actually.

ZA30 [60165-60535]

Yah, I was affected because I find myself in a state where such a bomb blast happened and any time it happened, they usually impose curfew and when they impose curfew, you can't go to school, you can't go to your place of your working, you can't go to your business place, so you will remain in doors and by doing so you know that, there must be a drop in your economy.

ZA31 [31261-31276]

No, I haven't.

ZA32 [65119-65467]

Yes, I have, I have been affected by religious conflict, but indirectly when some Muslims because we have that sense of belonging, we have that sense of what, ah globalization, yes, when my Muslim brothers were killed in such a conflict, so I have that sadness in my mind and the thing affects me well and that is the way how I was affected by it.

ZA33 [26189-26949]

Yes I was affected by religious conflicts once in when I happened to visit my uncle there in Jos. I went there on arrival and the second day I just heard people shouting, before I know it people are killing each other so I have to rush and see what is happening before I know it as people killing themselves that that. So how to handle such is by the leaders of two different or three different organizations, settling them down and discussing through a dialogue and at the end of the day you spelt out some resolutions with which both parties, more than one party, more than two parties can be able to operate and understand with the principle of that revolution and they go on it. And of course you now, you kind of visit that resolution from time to time.

ZA34 [45252-46154]

Well as a Zaria somebody? I only know of the religious conflict of 1987 which started from Kafanchan, it blew to Zaria and other environs. And during that period actually before that period, as I said, we have been living peacefully, understanding between the Muslims and the non-Muslims, but when such period came then the Muslims tried to look at the non-Muslims somehow, the non-Muslims, the Christians are looking at Muslims somehow. But on my own I try as much as possible to bring back such understanding because I have so many Christian friends that I even visited them to their house, even after that crisis I sat with them, I eat, I talk to them, some of their wives we chat together and during my festival like Sallah I use to take my food to them, sometime during their Christmas they bring food to me and we lived together. But I know some have that experience in their hearts continued.

ZA35 [21945-21948]

No

ZA36 [32121-32493]

Yes, hmmm the people of other sects don't allow us to run freely, they don't allow us to run freely and we don't have peace of mind because we don't sleep at the right time, we don't wake up at the right time because when you start sleeping in the night, they would start their conflict and you must wake and see whether you are ok and whether you are safe where you are.

ZA37 [37803-37873]

I have not being affected because I dodged myself, I dodged from it.

ZA38 [44182-44433]

Yah as a Nigerian, the present insurgency going on has affected almost all the whole ramification of our social activities. I myself in particular, it hindered one from going to school. It disturbed our economic activities including our social life.

ZA39 [56498-56685]

Yes I have being affected by religious conflict when there was a religious crisis in Kaduna which led to the imposition of curfew in my area, so that restricted my freedom of movement.

Th14.3: Handling Religious Conflicts

FG2 [25567-25602]

Actually just on individual level

FG2 [26180-26250]

Sir I was really small then, I cannot do anything rather than to cry.

FG3 [61876-62157]

I was only affected economically because any time there is conflict we usually stay at home, but when, after my study I opened and shop so any time there is conflict there is usually a curfew so we usually lock my shop, two to three days. So I usually it affected me economically.

FG3 [62989-63500]

I kept on taking tea. I didn't even have pure water to drink. There was a time pure water just finished. Now so I started eating the something dry like that. I had this cornflakes, I was just eating it because I could not hold myself so immediately I heard that the curfew was relaxed for some time, I just rushed to that Samaru market, I got them to prepare indomie and fried eggs for me so when I was through with that I just bought some expired meat (some rowdy responses and laughter drowning his comments)

KD2 [30012-30183]

When it emanated? When it emanated, I was actually a small boy. So the way my parents handled it is the way I handled it. I don't have any personal way of handling in it.

KD6 [47530-48037]

We handle it we prayed to Allah and we go about it. I know that time, they are shouting jihad, it's not jihad. Jihad if really, it's really jihad, this is not the way to go about it. At all, it's not the way to go about it. That time they are defending their selves, everybody is defending himself is not jihad, you defend yourself, may be if there is something wrong that you wanted to defend yourself, may be your other person take up arms, you defend yourself with arms also, that is what I believes in.

KD8 [67699-68307]

Well, people sat down around a table, the religious leaders have been calling before sitting on table, they have been calling, they use to call on radio, television and all that that people should stop being violent. There has been enlightenment about that. There have been preaching about that from both sides and there have been interfaith ehm interfaith ehm how do I put it? There has been interfaith relationship whereby the Christians and the Muslims will sit down together, they will be preaching to their people about the necessity for peace. So, this has actually helped in the development of peace.

KD17 [56060-56311]

Alhamdulillah we thank God that we were able to survive it although due to preaching and other believes, you have believe and as a Muslims you have to believe in qadr what Allah has already establish. So you just believe is part of the qadr of Allah.

KD19 [37584-37763]

Well, I handled it by prayer because I am not in the conflict management position, so the best I could do to handle it is to pray to God to prevent such conflicts from occurring.

KD21 [29411-29551]

There was no better way of handling the conflict rather than staying indoors, pray for Allah's intervention until the situation calms down.

KD24 [85195-86604]

Handling conflict use actually needs literate people, not wise people, not wise, but literates and ah peaceful people, peaceful ah even though they are literate they should be peaceful because you will see that someone is literate, but he doesn't care to engage himself into fighting, war, conflict, no, and eh another thing is people that knows and always comes back to see that there are many other ones that are not up to them, if they should go for that conflict or war, they should think of others. If they keep food in their houses which they can eat for six months or one year, they should think that there are others that they don't have what to eat in the next one hour and they are in need of that. If they go for these conflicts and they did not abandon it or stop it or settle it, those people will die in vain and they are the cause. They are people that are in a position that if they say yes, it's done. If they say no, is done. That they have the power in their hands to say okay we don't want the fight let's settle. Even in religion, but if they say no we must fight they put people into trouble, such people, such people supposed, the people supposed, we the lower side people, we are supposed to know if there are being chosen from time to time, we should actually know how to choose those that will be our leaders in such position because living in peace is better than everything.

KD29 [26216-26381]

Well I am not personally in the position to handle the conflict because it is something that has to do with ah confrontation ah between the government and the sect.

KD30 [48149-48360]

Ahm how I handled it ah is how is ahm, well I'm not given any option to do anything. I think how I handled it is just to accept the situation how it is and just try to live in a very peaceful way wherever I am.

KD31 [23533-23678]

Yah I try to handle it in my own way, to keep calm, do what I am supposed to do that's is accordance to the teaching of our religion that's all.

KD32 [34644-34920]

The only think is first of all try to look for a place of your own security, make sure you are saved, if you are saved try to see how you can help others if there is anything you can do reporting some important things to security, people that supposed to be in control of it.

KD34 [37535-37682]

Hmmm the way I handle the conflict when if affect me because then I was young so what I did just keep communicating with the people who departed.

KD35 [35870-35929]

You handle the conflict in accordance with the situation.

KN1 [71950-72229]

Of course it has to be a loss to me because there is this force majeure in the laws of the country if there is natural disaster whatever contract you have with somebody is null and void. So it affects me because I cannot do anything I cannot enforce it. So it affects me I lose.

KN4 [56738-56901]

I handled it with care, I handled it with love and I handled it with conscience because it is part and parcel of human being. I apply justice and good character.

KN5 [37612-37680]

It was I say it was spiritual not- it was psychological not physical

KN6 [42374-42432]

Because I never experience it, I didn't handle it at all.

KN7 [37878-38112]

Well I pray. If I feel, if I don't have any capability of stopping the conflict or influencing it, definitely, I have no other means rather praying spiritually, ok yes Allah make this peacefully, end this conflict. I would pray, yes.

KN14 [30706-30998]

So, respond by maybe firstly, if there is conflict from me it is ah something that is not ah that is not welcoming but if there is silence from the leaders and other sides of the religion because of ah they think they are ah ah very strong enough to fight, so I responded, I used to respond.

KN20 [24591-24765]

You always handle it carefully because you know it is a thing that is very difficult to handle and if you don't handle it carefully it can cause a lot of multi effect problems.

KN23 [23481-23608]

I just have it in mind that it is due to misunderstanding of religion properly that what leads to the conflict. I didn't want...

KN24 [21788-21877]

I handled it peacefully without going anywhere, I kept my family and everybody at home.

KN25 [35132-35286]

Well as any learned person would, I would only see it as a misfortune and I would only pray for future conflicts not to occur, not to repeat themselves.

KN26 [38947-39513]

Well first I didn't retaliate, that is one thing people don't understand, and first I took shelter but I didn't retaliate and that is the only problem of the Nigerian state it has not really helped in controlling conflicts because one of the basic requirements, basic requirements for dealing with conflicts is justice. That is from the side of government is justice, if for instance I have been affected let the perpetrators face the full force of the law, which largely does not happen in Nigeria, but largely avoidance that is all what has happened has happened.

KN27 [27703-27712]

I prayed

KN28 [21291-21410]

Probably I can say with the little which I have known from my Islamic way which is prayer and I actually pray a lot.

KN30 [19368-19399]

I prayed to God to limit it

KN31 [35830-36133]

Well actually just like I said, you don't have any choice, after sometime maybe the little thing you have at home you eat by the time the curfew has been a little bit lapsed you go out to get what you need. That is the way I am being affected indirectly but directly I don't think I have been affected.

KN34 [24381-24651]

I just conceal with my-try to call him and calmed him down with other members of the family that this is just something that has already-it is just like a destiny since the day he was born is something that was written there. So it is not something that you can avoid.

KN36 [23318-23667]

We will be able to handle each other, we will be able to handle the conflict by calling each other that your religion you practice this way, you practice and this is not supposed to be built here, you can build your church far away from houses so that when you are doing your program it will not affect those that are not involve in those programs.

KN37 [22543-22622]

As I said it was Muslims and I don't need any more arguments to confront them.

KN42 [48024-48077]

I tried, I try to make friends, rather than enemies.

KN45 [39739-39936]

Yah, I gave you an example. We tried to protect innocent ehh innocent people, innocent Christians that are going to be targeted by ignorant Muslims who are in that time, so we tried our best, yah.

KN46 [60815-60840]

Just like I said before.

KN47 [57410-57630]

Well I just became patient and I pray, yes, I even enlighten some people and showed them that what they, the violent reaction you know violent reaction by people or group of people is not good, it does not solve matter.

KN54 [12498-12522]

I ran away for my life.

KN55 [14554-14573]

I ran away from it

KN56 [25226-25338]

I handled the conflict; I just take the conflict as something that has been ordained by God. So I just prayed

KN57 [20947-20998]

With fear, but God so kind I escaped. I thank God.

KN58 [47038-47078]

I ran away I seek for refuge elsewhere.

KN60 [36250-37117]

How we handle the conflict is ah there are many ways to handle the conflicts. One: You now solve the root cause of the conflict.

As I said previously what is bringing the conflict, what is bringing this youth especially to be those people putting their mind behind this conflict, engaging themselves in this conflict is lack of education, unemployment and what have you. So the government should try by all means to provide employment opportunities so that so many people would be engaged. When you are engaged, you have what to do automatically you would shy away from bringing this unrest to other people and then the parents should take good care of their children by taking them to school. When they acquire education, both western education and Islamic education, you would not find them among the people that are engaging themselves in this kind of conflict.

KN61 [18941-19043]

There is maybe I can, they can handle themselves in different ways, you can use smoothly...some issues.

KN62 [58969-59632]

Ahh you know when you are in a conflict, you cannot understand and you cannot hear anything. You only go after your own caprices, your own wishes and other things. You only go after your caprices, your own wishes and other things but ah, but ah actually when maybe Allah wishes you to understand then something like a break of a dawn comes and you just understand. So the way I handled mine is that somebody, a friend of mine came and he told me that what we were doing was wrong, and he gave me enough reasons, real, realistic, cogent, understandable reasons and I all of a sudden realize my mistakes and I withdrew from the conflict. This is how I did it.

KN64 [29271-29344]

Only, I try to avoid the environment and the place the problem started

KN65 [36375-36493]

Well the conflict, we do not have so much, we don't have much to do about it, it just took ah God, Allah's grace, so.

KN67 [26086-26423]

Well, I tried my best to understand how it happened and then the issue of loss of lives, there is nothing we can do only pray to the lord for the people that have died. And then the issue of the economic and the social effect of the conflict, you only play your role as a man in the society so that they can restore the, ah the order.

KN71 [74298-74862]

To be precise I think when I think that of Kaduna, I serves more as a consoler to the Muslim's side and while in Tudun Wada I did something that let us understand that this is not the best way to go, this is what we shall do, this is what we should not, and no matter how bitter people will feel, I will still say it and alhamdulillah after, even after the conflict, I would continue to maintain that the situation or the action or the step taking by so, so parties was wrong, it should have been this one, not that way. So I am more of a consoler and admonisher.

KN80 [47312-47355]

So I handle it in the Islamic way of life

KN82 [33067-33081]

By mediation

KN83 [23685-23787]

Conflict can only be solved through hearing the both angles. So at least you have to hear both the...

KN83 [23902-24064]

The best way that I can handle the conflict is, firstly is exercising the patience. That I think is the best way for handling the, for me to handle the conflict.

KN84 [26831-26894]

As I just said before emm just recently, I just use patience.

KN85 [39478-39698]

Well one, you try not to be part of the violent activities that are going on. Two, you try to pacify the conflicts, talk to people if you can. You also try to pray for peace and calm. I think this are what we try to do

ZA2 [48782-49107]

There is none since I don't have, I don't know, to handle conflict is it not defining the problem that occur? What brought about this? Then you come together to harmonize things and issues will go. You see when you don't understand the problem that is why no solution. The problem should be identified and proper solution

ZA3 [29997-30139]

Of course the local one is to settle some issues within and for the middle one just to stay indoors and deal with the security challenge yes

ZA5 [33540-33580]

By the way of settlement between them.

ZA6 [73676-74025]

Hmm I, like when they were fighting the so called religious crisis in Kaduna, I was with my Christians brothers around here, we lived together, we don't argue, what we do is we don't even engage in such argument that will bring about hatred or disharmony between us. We try as much as possible to say things that will further unite us as a people.

ZA8 [77697-77810]

How did I handle it? I prayed to God to lift it away, to take it away and it happened. God answered our prayer.

ZA12 [19781-19792]

By leaving.

ZA14 [27951-28025]

Yes we handle it with peace because they have to put everything in order.

ZA19 [47764-47969]

Well I sat down for a quite long time, we brought and our Muslim preachers, I mean our Imams told us not to react violently because we don't know who were behind that ah killings and other malicious acts.

ZA21 [36610-36705]

I handled the conflict in such a way that I left the place and settled down in another area.

ZA29 [50709-50752]

Well it is diplomacy and diplomatic talk.

ZA30 [60580-60841]

So when you tell people we usually engage ourselves in telling people what Islam said they should be doing and we usually advice them to stay under the umbrella. Any situation, there must be a solution islamically, so we ask people to come back to their books.

ZA32 [65510-65779]

Ah as I mentioned that I was not touched physically by the conflicts and I reacted, you say, ok I handled it by what, by praying by praying to Allah ah to bring peace and harmony to those people who were affected and those who died I asked Allah to forgive their sins.

ZA34 [46195-46421]

That is the way I handle my conflict. That is I have patience in my life, I took it as a test from Allah (SBUH) and I go about bringing the Christian side and closer to me by visiting them, sitting in their midst and others.

ZA36 [32544-33183]

I can't handle it now because it is beyond my power because their leader is very influential, he is very influential, even in West Africa he is very influential. Even the government up till now did not do anything about it though I can say maybe they have started doing something about it because I have seen that the road blocks, all those things they put on the road, they have removed it. So and they are getting, they have started getting fewer and fewer in our area now, so, but I don't know may be government have started taking measures on them, but we the masses there is nothing we can do about it because he is very influential.

ZA38 [44475-44652]

I did not have power to handle the conflict because I am a citizen of a country. But the government have being trying, using all form of yardstick to stop the present conflict.

ZA39 [56726-56917]

I handled it through amicable resolution when it arose between or where I happened to a party to it. We handled it may be through proposal by understanding the interest of the other group.

Research Question 2.2

Th 15: Muslim Views on Conflict

Th15.1: Explaining Conflict

FG1 [45432-45488]

conflict simply means disagreement between two parties

FG1[45490-45523]

To me it is the absence of peace

FG1 [45525-45548]

That will be violence

FG1 [45550-45589]

It is disagreement within two parties

FG1 [45591-45834]

But for me since the question says as a Muslim how will you define the term conflict, for me as a Muslim I will define the term conflict as the internal crisis am having not trying to conform to the sayings and the good doings of the prophet

FG2 [17766-17782]

Social disorder

FG2 [17784-17798]

Disagreement

FG2 [17799-17829]

(F) Lack of peace and unity

FG2 [17831-17849]

Misunderstanding

FG2 [17851-17955]

Practicing the religion not in accordance with the rules and regulations as embodied in the scriptures

FG2 [17957-18019]

Disagreement of norms and values by each individual believer

FG2 [18021-18042]

Disorder of two minds

FG3 [49564-49677]

Hmm Conflicts, as a Muslims I will refer to it as a fight between two people which have misconception of issues.

FG3 [49680-49900]

Well to me the way I will define conflict is simply misunderstanding either little or big between two people which will erupt to fight because definitely misunderstanding has to exist before the conflict come in place.

KD1 [58346-58466]

Conflict is when there is iqtilaf, when there is a problem, when there is a clash between interests. That's my opinion.

KD2 [28370-28475]

The term conflict simply means misunderstanding, disagreement, fight and what have you. That's conflict.

KD3 [22160-22217]

Conflict is just a misunderstanding between two parties.

KD4 [53454-53650]

Conflict, conflict is a situation whereby there is a perfect chaos situation, disagreement and then between two or more parties, even an individual can be in conflict within himself and his body.

KD5 [28672-28774]

Conflict, I think conflict is the engagement or verbal or physical fight between two or more people.

KD6 [46076-46409]

Conflict means when you have a problem with other people. To my Muslim brother I can still have conflict with him because am a human being and he is a human being and we have to settle. So, if we are settling not let you bring your own idea or my own idea. We only obey what Allah says and what prophet says, that's all as a Muslim.

KD7 [36743-36944]

Conflict is anything that does not sit well. Even if it is in your heart, your heart is not at ease with what you are doing or what you are about to do or what someone is doing that is called conflict

KD8 [62741-63551]

Conflict? Before explaining it as a Muslim, conflict exist before explaining it as a Muslim, let me just look at, conflict exist when there is a conflict situation. A conflict situation exists when there are conflicting interests. The moment people have varied interest, there is conflict situation. Now, conflict is when one party tries to stop another party from achieving its own objectives. That is where conflict arises. As a Muslim, conflict is when ehm there are certain, a conflict is when there are certain rules that are contravening the rules of Allah (SBUH) and when he is compelled to obey them that is conflict. That is in a situation whereby you have somebody that is giving you order, contrary to God, that is conflict, and when you are compelling the person to obey that one that is conflict.

KD9 [44265-44760]

I want to explain it in lay man's view and I think I have even over flogged that. Conflict is unnecessary fight or quarrel that brings about lack of peace in the society caused by sometimes religions misunderstanding; most of the time lack of education and so on and so forth. This is what brings about conflict, you don't understand your brother, your brother doesn't understand you. You don't understand each other's point of view and then everything goes up in flame. This to me is conflict.

KD10 [35672-36020]

Conflict is fighting, public disorder that happens between the Muslims and the non-Muslims or between the Muslims and the Muslims. These should be governed by the sharia, we must not transgress the bounds, the limits of the sharia. We must make all effort to see that there are no conflicts, but if there is conflict then we should not transgress.

KD12 [38908-39316]

Hmm you see the conflict has to come. Conflict is a way which people doesn't understand themselves again, where things are escalated, the wrongs and the terms and the ways people misunderstood themselves, the way the government also handle things, it has bring argument and then see the way people intrude into private affairs of people in fact it has made things not easily going so there will be conflict.

KD13 [17740-17783]

The word conflict, coming to disagreement

KD14 [23194-23292]

Conflict is just a scenario when a state is, when a particular place is in a state of confusion.

KD15 [29699-29839]

Ah conflict is ah mostly happens or meaning of conflict is ah crisis or misunderstanding between two ethnic groups. Let us put it that way.

KD16 [18521-18564]

Conflict is the disagreement of interest

KD17 [54653-54823]

Conflict is whereby there is disorder or pandemonium between people or between sects. That is what I just understand by conflict whereby raising arms against each other.

KD19 [36003-36273]

Well, conflict is a broad term meaning whatever that is not in consonance with your religious practices. Take for instance maybe the cloth you are wearing if it is not the type that religion says you should wear, you said your dressing is in conflict with the religion.

KD20 [29238-29517]

A conflict, I think is when there is misunderstanding between the Muslim and non-Muslim due to their inability to understand each other and due to the inability of tolerating each other. I think that is what I understand or what cause the or what really cause the conflicts yes.

KD21 [27811-27916]

I think there is, there are simply word conflict, misunderstanding i think is another term for conflict.

KD23 [27852-27949]

Conflict is something that is violent, something that is violent so that is all what I will say.

KD24 [82133-82162]

Conflict, misunderstanding.

KD25 [95784-96128]

Conflict is a period of ah is a period of eh crisis that is where there is eh to some extent absence of peace. Not really completely peace is absent, but to some extent part of the peace is not gotten. There is no peace and when there is no peace then even if the peace is existing, but in another part there's no peace then there is conflict.

KD26 [31856-32140]

Conflict is when there is, let me use my own way layman explanation of what I think conflict is. Conflict is when there are opposing parties, two opposing parties, that are doing something, particular group, this is for this and that is against it, I think that is what conflict is.

KD27 [30043-30616]

Well in what context? First if you are looking at it in the context of individuals or societies or Islam and the state or Islam and individuals there are various different ways and points from which you can describe conflict. And it could be among individuals or between two opposing views on issues or events. It could be between states, between states who are may be based on economic or political basis that brings about the conflicts or it could be between Islam and non-Islamic views and resulting may be from misconceptions, misunderstandings and stuff like that.

KD28 [39320-39362]

The term conflict is misunderstanding.

KD29 [25034-25205]

Ah the term conflict ah well is to some extent a disagreement, but is supposed to be a disagreement in harmony not disagreement where people will be fighting one another.

KD30 [45396-45530]

Conflict is I think is the ahm misunderstanding between ahm different parties and as a Muslim two will also stands in the same thing.

KD31 [22409-22619]

Conflict itself is defined as a situation whereby there is unrest almost in almost everywhere people will not be able to go about carrying about their normal activities they are supposed to that is conflict.

KD32 [32618-33053]

Conflict is just when there is misunderstand between two different communities eh not necessarily communities we have people who have two different faiths, people of two different tribes so trying to have some fight against each other, so when they, when we have different form of, in some of beliefs and some people trying to have power over others trying to deny some people their own rights, this is what majorly brings conflicts.

KD33 [29358-29423]

Conflict in just a short word I will say is a misunderstanding.

KD34 [35635-35848]

Conflict, the word conflict in, I can put it in a different way is like a conflict of ideas or conflict between eh one society or the or the other or that that's how I can put ehm I will put it conflict of ideas.

KD35 [34982-35169]

The term conflict means coming my way wrongly then I challenge you, when you come my way wrongly and knowingly you deliberately come my way to offend me then that is conflict will come.

KN1 [69701-69808]

Well conflict, I will say, is a disagreement it can be within a religion it can be inter or intra-religion

KN2 [41479-41709]

It is a violation of values that is what conflict is. If somebody violates, disrespects the values of Muslims there is going to be conflict. If somebody violates or disrespects, provokes the values of non-Muslims that is conflict.

KN3 [34900-36650]

I have told you that some politicians, politicians who have nothing to offer resort to religion because it is very sensitive and can easily provoke the emotions of the people. When politicians have nothing to offer they resort to religion and to certain extent tribalism because they are sensitive issues that can easily provoke people. That is why we have them. They have nothing to offer. In the first republic when our leaders our founding fathers have something to offer and went into politics to serve but not to be served, they gave but not to take, they did not go into politics to steal, they were leaders not rulers, they were leaders not looters, they had the fear of God, they were concerned with the plight of the ordinary people, they look that the common man with the eyes of compatriots not with the eyes of the privileged few. Those people, those people created an excellent atmosphere and the country was good. Morally were sound, the institution of family was firm and strong. People respected their leaders and the constituted authority. There was morality in the society. Everything went fine. Today it is not. The institution of the family has broken down. Respect for elders and constituted authority which used to be a cardinal principle in our society is now at its lowest ebb. Honesty where it does not pay has become meaningless. Symptoms of revolt loom large in the horizon. In short today there is meaninglessness in philosophy, insecurity in politics, immorality in society, chaos in politics, corruption in the economy and even frustration in art and lack of creativity in literature. And what is responsible for this? It is lack of good leadership. Nigeria is the most religious country (interrupted by a guest).

KN4 [53746-53920]

What I would explain the time conflict is misunderstanding from its mere state to a serious state, from using simple tools to the using of highly harmful machinery or arms.

KN5 [35906-36089]

The term conflict, when you say conflict it means the quarrel and the fighting that takes place between Muslim eh Muslim and non-Muslim eh non-Muslim which is not Islamically based

KN6 [40730-40890]

So, conflict is misunderstanding. Ahh is misunderstanding even between Muslim and Muslim between Muslim and non-Muslim. So, so this is the meaning of conflict

KN7 [36550-36671]

The term conflict as a Muslim means killing, it means chaos within the society; nothing and nothing more apart from that.

KN8 [34732-35067]

Ehm the concept of conflict even though as I have said that Islam does not preach conflict because the word Islam itself embraces peace but to my own understanding, it is the disagreement that ensues between two or more people, two or more group, two or more association as a result of differences in ideologies, beliefs, or opinion.

KN9 [31078-31234]

Well conflict is ah conflict has to do with any occurrence or activity that brings about or causes disorder in the normal way the society is operated, hmm.

KN10 [24967-25060]

Conflict-it is a disagreement between ah two individuals who may be struggle with arms, yes.

KN11 [33298-33516]

Conflict means to ahh-when we say conflict means to be ah group like group of people living together in which they are, in which they in different faith to misunderstand one another. So the conflict will be started.

KN13 [36151-36394]

Conflict can be mean when two people are having opposing view and they engage in a kind of ahm, they engage in a kind of ah a kind of a battle whether verbally, whether physically or any kind of or any form or whether the use of weapons, hmm.

KN14 [29140-29553]

Conflict, is an act of, I think to my understanding, conflict is different from jihad, jihad ah if it is true jihad, not so called jihad that our people nowadays use to do. If it is through jihad is ah it is a practice which Allah says that we should do, but there are some criteria, but conflict is a situation whereby people fight ah each other, maybe because of socio-political, or economic misunderstanding.

KN15 [24850-25005]

Conflict, I think it is a disagreement you know between two or more people or group of people you know to have different understanding or views on an issue

KN16 [14630-14751]

Disagreement between two or more people or group of people or group of people its just a disagreement or misunderstanding

KN17 [28417-28497]

Uh conflict means going-when two people actually have different opposing views.

KN18 [50935-50948]

Disagreement

KN19 [31429-31545]

Conflict can simply be described as the disagreement that ensued between two or more people or two or more parties.

KN20 [23552-23625]

Conflict is a situation whereby two people disagree on a subject matter.

KN21 [16819-16892]

The term conflict has to do with disagreement, hatred, etcetera etcetera.

KN22 [33586-34168]

The term conflict? As a Muslim, the term called conflict is a situation where a leader and the social contract that exists between leaders and the followers is not adhere to. A leader is supposed to dispense justice to the followers, they are supposed to create facilities for the followers to pray, they are supposed to provide the followers with the basic amenities and the followers are supposed to respect the leaders, they are supposed to abide by rules and regulations issued out by the leaders. In a situation where this is not followed then that could turn to be conflicts.

KN23 [22716-22757]

Conflict is disagreement between people

KN24 [20989-21078]

The term conflict. As a Muslim am going to explain conflict as a very bad thing and eh....

KN24 [21124-21230]

- This is very bad because it is between disagreement and misunderstanding between two different religions
 KN25 [34164-34285]
 Well as a Muslim I think conflict is any occurrence that brings about disorder in the normal way of life in the society.
- KN26 [37358-37603]
 As a Muslim conflict is a conflict is a state of disagreement between two or more conflicting parties that have different, you know, the key word there is the difference; difference of opinion, difference of thought on a particular issue.
- KN27 [26106-26253]
 As a Muslim the term conflict, I shouldn't over emphasize, but it is just a process of going into crisis and chaos. That is what conflict entails.
- KN28 [20181-20281]
 Conflict from my own understanding is all about misunderstanding and chaos with the violent term.
- KN30 [18673-18769]
 Conflict is like ahm when two groups disagree on a particular thing. That is what I understand.
- KN31 [34159-34269]
 Conflict in a simple term I think is just misunderstanding maybe between individual or individuals or states
- KN32 [17079-17122]
 Simply put as disagreement between people.
- KN33 [12833-12898]
 Conflict, where there is different opinion can cause controversy.
- KN34 [22965-23203]
 Hmm Conflict. To me conflict it depends on the terms, but conflict can be a situation whereby two or more-ok under-let us look at, it can be a situation whereby there is misunderstanding between the two religions which may lead to war.
- KN35 [21501-21943]
 Conflict in Islam is associated with the needs. So whenever there is a demand when somebody cannot respond to that need so there will be conflict. You have, I don't have and you refuse to give me, so even i think some Islamic injunctions can be able to do justice to this if there is a proper implementation of zakat or whatever. So I think the conflict will be at a very minimal level or not even exist in an Islamic state well established.
- KN36 [22275-22357]
 Conflict is just the differences between two people which can result to violence.
- KN37 [21206-21386]
 As a Muslim I think I will go by its classical meaning in a situation whereby two or more people come with different opinions and trying to make either of them suppress the other.
- KN38 [15968-16078]
 As a Muslim I see the term conflict as a social disorder between one or two parties or group of individuals.
- KN39 [24918-25090]
 When we say conflict according to my Islamic term, it refers to the situation whereby people, when I say people I mean Muslims and non-Muslims do not live a peaceful life.
- KN40 [20052-20223]
 Conflict means when two or more people have a common goal to achieve. Conflict occurs when two or more people are striving or struggling for one or two things to achieve.
- KN41 [17492-17543]
 Conflict means dispute between two or more people
- KN42 [44478-45180]
 I would explain conflict as a situation that occurs due to lack of understanding and what is it called and different views where people can't sit down, talk to each other, I am more than you, are above you, I see myself, I see you below me or I see you as a person that is too backward for me or too, I believe if I am superior. And so when two people are seeing themselves as superior, nobody wants to bring themselves down. The act of being accommodative or being, even listening or being a good neighbor, being a good person, being a good citizen to one another is not there. So conflict to me is when people don't have communication. So the next thing is there is barrier and then comes conflict.
- KN43 [33111-33224]
 Yah, conflict in a simple term is a fight between two or more people based on misunderstanding and disagreement.
- KN44 [26431-26841]
 The way I look at conflict is when you have a misunderstanding leading to an open fight between individuals or group of people not necessarily based on religion. That conflict can even be even intra. It can be both intra and can be inter. What I mean by intra it can be the conflict, it can be Muslim, it can be between people of the same faith and it can be also a conflict between people of different faith.
- KN45 [37635-37819]
 Yah as a Muslim I would say conflict is eh disagreement that eh leads to physical, physical combat, yah is any disagreement that leads to physical combat eh that is conflict to me.
- KN46 [58930-59120]
 Conflict, conflict means ah any unpleasant or negative disagreement between people living in a society or living in societies. That means conflict to me. Conflict implies negativism to me.
- KN47 [55117-55682]
 Well conflict as a Muslim I don't think conflict has to be given priority whether is from the Muslim perspective, conflict is conflict anywhere you see. Conflict is when you disagree with somebody and you try to simply ah you know use some forces to see that you establish or you protect what you believe in and what you don't want to happen you know if you can simply try to regulate or to prevent happening of something by somebody or you don't agree on what somebody agrees on you determine to stay continuously and fight for that you see you have the conflict.
- KN48 [18623-18691]
 Hmm, conflict is a kind of creating a problem, havoc in a society.
- KN49 [28937-29155]
 Conflict ah has to do with the clash of interest, the clash of wills, the clash of ah two opposing sides that could result to violence, that could result to bloodshed, that could result to so many undesirable things.
- KN50 [16269-16350]
 Conflict is a clash or disagreement between two opposing groups or individuals.

KN52 [54843-55342]

Conflict is a situation of discord, lack of, you know, peaceful harmonious coexistence between two groups having different opinions, beliefs, religions, perspective, depending on the situation and context, you know, so as a Muslim conflict for me depends, there is a physical conflict, and there is structural conflict or what one could define as structural conflict that is non-violent, that is non-physical, but a situation of disagreement, a situation of discord, you know, between two parties.

KN54 [12053-12071]

Misunderstanding

KN55 [14024-14110]

Conflict means misunderstanding between two persons or between two groups of people.

KN56 [23504-23683]

As a Muslim I would define the term conflict as a frictional situation, a disagreement situation between two parties, between two people having opposing and antagonistic interest

KN57 [20157-20268]

You see conflict can be termed as a clash or disagreement often violent between two opposing group of people.

KN58 [45659-45961]

Now conflict generally simply means crisis. So even in Islamic religious system or Islamic religious teachings there is crisis even within the Umma, it is a conflict and the Umma being the central has always been in conflict or in crisis right from the word go even during the prophet Muhammad (SAW).

KN59 [47470-47769]

As a Muslim to me conflict is a misunderstanding between two groups or individuals, you understand, conflict is not necessarily on religious matters, it can be tribalistic, it can be on tribal. It can be ethnic and it can be religious. It all depends on the causes of the conflict, you understand.

KN60 [33647-33990]

As a Muslim I can explain the term conflict to mean anything that would bring misunderstanding among people, not only among Muslims and non-Muslims even among the Muslims. Anything that would generate tension and bring about misunderstandings can be referred to as a conflict because we have conflict of interest, it is still called conflict.

KN61 [17583-17642]

Conflict is the disagreement between one or two parties.

KN62 [56571-56831]

Ahh as a Muslim I believe that conflict is just a kind of ahh heated disagreement between two parties, not only persons, two parties; heated disagreement that escalates into taking arms, weapons, not only slander and other things, yah. That is what I believe.

KN63 [47360-48116]

Conflict means, Islamically let just say, may be when you don't have proper understanding of oneself maybe you don't really maybe you have a different view from what ah the other person is having, but that conflict even though today, if you look at different ehh Fiqhs or the jurisprudence we are having, there are different views, but that doesn't go to the extent of fighting over it or maybe because I am tied to this Imam, that doesn't mean that I should be fighting with the other Imam, so that is not it. You may have a different view about issues, but that doesn't mean huh you should be fighting over it. There are some we disagree on this issue. There are some other ones we may agree on and we have the same view on it. So it doesn't matter huh.

KN64 [28503-28533]

Unpleasant ah situation, hmm.

KN65 [35131-35308]

Conflict is when there is an understanding arise ooh sorry misunderstanding arise between two people that have different opinions. So I think this is what bring about conflict

KN66 [24066-24173]

Conflict literarily means instability, unrest, any problem that will cause- any act of unrest is conflict.

KN67 [24820-24952]

Well conflict is the disruption of peace ah where, which can lead to loss of lives and properties and ah that is my understanding.

KN68 [11994-12012]

Misunderstanding.

KN69 [42292-42567]

Conflict is a kind of disagreement between one person to another or between one group to another group or between one group to another group or between a particular country and another country. That is what the term conflict means that is disagreement, to have disagreement.

KN71 [70887-71869]

I think (He recites a verse of the Qur'an) So from the onset, conflict Allah says (he recites a verse of the Qur'an). We would never have remain divided, undivided, we would always remain divided that is why even Allah created us. So conflict is connoting a state of having differences, either in understanding, either of dominance, either of control, control of either the power or the resources or being minority and some others are majority or being dominating as that of opinion or opinion making or decision making that is the state of conflict. Or the state of I sticking to x-axis, U sticking to y-axis and I trying to pull you to my axis and you trying to pull me to your axis. This is what connotes conflicts, but if you mean conflicts as a regard to the Muslims and non-Muslims, I think the whole issue is as a regard to a Muslim (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) that issue of supremacy is the whole centre behind whatever conflict between Islam and any other religion.

KN72 [37040-37177]

Conflict is an ehh is a disagreement between more ahh two or more people that is living in a particular society, yes that is the conflict

KN73 [39270-39509]

The term conflict is where there is no peace between, where there is no peace first, and where people become in fighting. This fighting means different things. It should be in power, it should be in mind, it should be in physical combat.

KN74 [48480-48586]

Okay the term conflict is the absence of peace, if there is the absence of peace that is there is conflict

KN75 [51321-51567]

A conflict is inevitable element will I put it that is embedded or bedeviled everybody whether a Muslim or non-Muslim. Conflict is always under the carpet of which when you raise it, it rise up, so conflict can be only avoided in so many, method.

KN76 [44347-44431]

As a Muslim I can explain the term conflict when people take laws into their hands.

KN78 [61148-61315]

Well as a Muslim I think conflict ahmm, well I think, I can't, serve aa the master piece, I can't hold brief for, this is an issue for the scholars, please pardon me.

KN80 [46247-46311]

So conflict means disagreement that exist between two parties

KN81 [30069-30266]

Hmm based on my own understanding, conflict ahh is between ahh it is ahh a problem between one person and another, you understand, when there is misunderstanding. So I think this is ahh conflict.

KN82 [32410-32447]

Is a situation of misunderstanding

KN83 [22406-22490]

Ahh based on my understanding, conflicts are misunderstanding between two parties.

KN84 [25225-25290]

Hmm the term conflict is the misunderstanding between two parties

KN85 [37435-37789]

Well conflicts are should be seen ah where there is difference of opinion, difference of ahh ahh needs, want and preferences, if conflict exist where there is divergent of opinions not necessarily violent conflicts. There are different types of conflicts, there is violent and non-violent. So once there is difference in opinion then there is conflict?

ZA1 [38354-38550]

A`a conflict as a man you ask me, conflict is issue that misunderstanding between even you and your wife. You will not solve it, you have to seek for another person to come in., this is conflict.

ZA2 [47096-47194]

Enn conflict by Islam is it not the misunderstanding we have between two parties. That is conflict

ZA3 [28750-28801]

Conflict is a misunderstanding between two people

ZA4 [50066-50120]

Conflict is to fight, misunderstanding among people.

ZA5 [32485-32623]

Yah, the way I will explain conflicts as a Muslim that is a fight between two people or two different cultures, you understand, fighting.

ZA6 [72087-72151]

Conflict, conflict is like a disagreement between two parties.

ZA7 [37964-38159]

Yes as a Muslim, I think the definition is not too different from the definition we have by the English man. It is still misunderstanding between two or more people with different ideas, simple.

ZA8 [76279-76386]

Hmm as a Muslim, I think conflict as a Muslim is when two people do not agree on the same thing.

ZA9 [42098-42192]

Conflict is just like a disagreement between two groups of people with different ideologies.

ZA10 [36308-36373]

Conflict is the misunderstanding or argument between two people.

ZA11 [31243-31311]

Conflict tends to be a misunderstanding, let me put it in that way.

ZA12 [19090-19176]

Conflict is differences between two groups or more that create uprising in a society.

ZA13 [19634-19740]

Conflict simply means an uprising when a group of individuals disagree between themselves in a community.

ZA14 [26547-26713]

As a Muslim what, conflict simply means that is the fight between one or two people that they maybe there is disagreement between them that is when conflict come in.

ZA15 [29043-29074]

Conflict simply means crisis.

ZA16 [20628-20703]

Conflict is like a misunderstanding or fight, quarrel between two parties.

ZA17 [25209-25789]

Conflict is ah is if you do not understand something and I am trying to make you understand it, then instead of you that do not understand to allow me a room up to the extent that I say I don't have anything to say, you understand, if you do not understand you say, no, up to now I do not understand then we get somebody who is more talker than me to elaborate because knowledge is wide, so instead of that to happen then the argument and the problem of ah more conflict will arise because you, you do not agree about my submission and I, I have already exhausted all the saying.

ZA18 [30041-30506]

Conflict is lack of understanding hm. Conflict arises as a result of lack of understanding. Like my colleague is a Christian and I am a Muslim, he knows at least something about my religion and he respects me for that. Ni ma I have some knowledge or idea about his religion, I respect him. I don't look at him as if kai one day I will try and just butcher him, he too I don't think he has that in his mind. So we should live in peace and harmony with one another.

ZA19 [44913-45817]

Well conflict is a relative term also, conflict comes in variety of forms. There is conflict of idea, there is conflict of interest, there is conflict of so many other things. So in respect to the religion because we are talking about spiritual aspect of life, so ah conflict in a religious perspective could be seen as conflict of ideas and conflict of ideas ah varies also. There is functional conflict and dysfunctional conflict. When you have a functional conflict is a situation where you allow people to air their views, to brings about innovations and so many other creativity while dysfunctional conflict is a situation where you constraint other people from actually airing the views and innovating or bringing about new creativity in the society. So, therefore, conflict does not always mean functional or dysfunctional, I mean it does not mean violence, yes. It could be positive or negative

ZA20 [30004-30805]

Conflict: lacking negotiation, lacking compromise that is all about conflict. Conflict of interest, clash of personality, and lacking an ideology to come the same. I have seen a scholar is it Herbert Spencer I can't exactly remember who said between the two he said ideologies separates us, dreams and anguish brings us together regardless of religion whether Christians or Muslims. If you could remember the oil subsidy saga in January 2012, how was it like? Muslims were defending Christians, protecting them while they were praying in the church during the oil subsidy movement likewise Christians were protecting Muslims while they were praying just to tell the whole world that it is all about Nigeria not about Christians or Muslims or whatever. Religion is personal even to me. That is that.

ZA21 [35187-35253]

Conflict has to do with disagreement between two or more things.

ZA22 [30232-30366]

Conflicts simply means maybe misunderstanding that leads to maybe fight, or bloodshed among communities or neighboring communities.

ZA23 [38527-38679]

Conflict is just a disagreement between two parties. You agree to this I disagree to it and it is something you can never do away with in any society.

ZA24 [47597-48096]

Conflict, it has a way different people perceive it. Conflict means when you are disagreeing within two or more people. When two or more people are disagreeing on an issue, it is a conflict. If you have one faith another person has another faith, it is a conflict because you are not agreeing or you are not agree on that faith. This will say that my own is good that one will say my own is good that is what we call conflict. Even violence is a conflict, war is a conflict and so on and so forth.

ZA25 [47696-47806]

Conflict is misunderstanding between two people or between two or more individuals or groups or even nations.

ZA26 [21782-22087]

Conflict-even in your mind you do conflict. It is indecisive something. Even in your mind, between you and your partner, between you and your colleagues there is conflict. So I don't think Islamic laws there is no conflict in Islamic laws. If you follow them upright you will produce a peaceful society.

ZA27 [21108-21268]

Conflict is just like ah when you say conflict it is when you have an argument or disagreement between two parties, disagreement or argument between two parties

ZA28 [34651-34804]

Conflict, I think I mentioned conflict earlier on. Conflict can actually be an argument between a set of people or between two people based on a belief

ZA29 [49321-49592]

Well as a Muslim the term conflict is simply a form of misunderstanding or a form of argument that exists or let me say conflict simply is a form of misunderstanding that existing between two different groups or can be same group at the same time based on their opinion.

ZA30 [58886-59054]

That is just define, when we say conflict is just a fight, it is different from jihad or when we say conflicts may be we just refer to fight, may be chaotic situation.

ZA31 [29773-29923]

Conflict means is misunderstanding, misunderstanding. Where there is conflict, they suppose to seat down and make dialogue and understand each other.

ZA32 [63086-63305]

The term conflict is a confrontation, it is a violation of peace and in sharia it is not allowed. In Islam, it is vehemently and strongly disallowed and prohibited for a Muslim to engage himself in conflict activities.

ZA33 [24641-24905]

Conflict, conflict simply means war, anarchy, disaster that people-that some hooligans, people use to interfere with the activities of the innocent ones thereby disturbing, destructing or disturbing their peace and freedom to achieve their own personal interest.

ZA34 [43781-43834]

Conflict-misunderstanding, fighting and other things

ZA35 [21685-21725]

I don't know what the word conflict is.

ZA36 [30643-30771]

Hmmm conflict. Conflict is crisis, conflict is fighting each other, argument, confusion is conflict, going against each other.

ZA37 [37137-37321]

So as a Muslim the word conflict means not only misunderstanding not every misunderstanding that leads to conflict, but conflict is misunderstanding that leads to fighting each other.

ZA38 [43174-43350]

Conflict islamically is an upheaval, conflict is a disturbance, conflict is a destruction, and conflict is a misunderstanding, you understand. And conflict is a disagreement.

ZA39 [55440-55602]

Conflict is, to my understanding, is a kind of competing interest between one person and another or between one set of society or group of people with another.

Th15.2: Necessity of Conflicts

FG1 [45877-45983]

Actually conflict is inevitable. You can't do without it, as you remedy this then another one will emerge

FG2 [18083-18146]

I don't think there is ever a time when conflict is necessary

FG2 [18148-19062]

(F) It can be necessary when the two minds are very far from each other because whenever you are angry you decide to like talk louder on top of your voices and the other person is may be the one you are having disagreement with you will also be like shouting as if you are not close to each other, physically it is not that you are not close to each other, but it is simply because the two minds are far ahead as in they are very far from each other. Just like, let's make it informal please in this aspect, like if you are on the phone with someone intimate you decide to like lower your voice, why do we have to lower our voice? It is just a question, why do we have to lower our voice, it is because the two minds are close to each other. So in that aspect when the minds are far from each other they decide to like have misunderstanding as in disorder all those things and I think that will lead to conflict.

FG2 [19063-19213]

Conflict is necessary because psychologists propounded that every human has a minute of madness. So in that minute of madness conflict might arise.

FG2 [19215-19905]

I do not agree with what they said that conflict is necessary. I totally disagree. The fact that there is distance between minds, the fact that you raise your voice against mine doesn't mean that I must raise my own voice also to be against yours. There could always be peace from one angle. It is not that since this one has violated my norms ok I must violate his norms or I must tell him, I must confront him in an aggressive manner because conflict is all about aggression, that I must approach in an aggressive manner to tell him what he did was wrong, no. There could always be mediums whereby we can resolve issues without conflicts. So I do not believe that conflict is necessary.

FG2 [19907-20105]

(F) In addition to what he said, I do not think conflict is necessary because for me I believe the most unjust peace is better than the 'justest' (most justified) conflict. So it is not necessary.

FG2 [20107-20629]

Conflict is necessary to some extent because in a lay man's thinking when they heard conflict they think it is something physical, something like a battle, but normally there are different kinds of conflicts like verbal conflict. And sometimes when you have conflict that is when you know the mistake other parties are having and within when both of you have conflicts a third person can come as an intermediary and settle the conflict and from that place you will know that this is the solution to a particular problem.

FG3 [50033-50107]

To me it is never necessary because my religion has never encouraged it.

FG3 [50183-50898]

You said, the question when is conflict necessary? As we all know the just concluded general elections, there are indicators that there is going to be conflicts of which there is no amount of all the explanation you will definitely explain to some people that you will make them believe. For instance in the northern part Kaduna, Zaria, Samaru what has happened really showed that ok that this conflict is unavoidable. For instance people travelling, travelling to their various states just to go and have peace to avoid conflict, these are indicators that these conflicts cannot be avoided, but with the help of religious leaders and the turnover by the governments themselves we are able to avoid the conflicts.

FG3 [50899-51068]

I will just say the conflict becomes necessary when there is no any other alternative. Put as long as there is any other alternative we don't need to react violently.

FG3 [51070-51389]

Qur'an says (he quotes the Qur'an) Call yourselves together sit down and come to a dialogue. That is its position (quotes additional verse). So there is never a time I believe conflict is necessary. Dialogue would still be better and Qur'an even said it that you should sit yourselves down and try to come to a term.

FG3 [51391-51459]

Anyone that should start a conflict they should reject the person.

KD1 [58507-58823]

Conflict, when it becomes physical is never necessary unless the need for jihad arise. When there is difference of ideas, there may be conflict of ideas, but apart from...you hardly see them. In fact they are in most times willing to succumb to other people's opinion. So conflict will hardly arise in such instances.

KD2 [28515-28873]

Conflicts, if possible, there shouldn't be conflict at all. But it will be necessary when people are doing the wrong thing and you try to correct them, they refuse to, you try to tell them and persuade them not to and they still continue or where your right is being infringed, at that point, then conflict is necessary, in that to protect your own dignity.

KD3 [22258-22344]

Conflict has no necessity. There is no necessary terms on when conflict should begin.

KD4 [53691-53786]

Conflict is never necessary in any situation. Conflict only comes when one does not expect it.

KD5 [28815-29172]

Conflicts are necessary, I think conflicts are necessary whenever somebody tries to, whenever somebody feels his right is being, when ever somebody feels that he is being deprived of his right and I think conflict is not necessarily mean engagement in fighting. There is various ways of conflicts and I think it's at that moment that conflict is necessary.

KD6 [46450-46720]

When you are not following the part of Allah as a Muslim, to non-Muslim you preach to him. As a Muslim, you tell this what Allah says and the prophet and in your own hand you don't have the power to change him. You just have the power to tell him to do the right thing.

KD7 [36988-37211]

Conflicts are necessary when something does not sit right. They are necessary when there are thing that happen, they did not settle with your heart well ahm they have gone against principles which our laws are governed by.

KD8 [63598-64089]

Well, we will not say they are necessary, when they did occur and we want to say, they occur at a time when, in Islam, when you are trying to stop the Muslim from practicing his religion. That is when conflict arises and it becomes necessary of course.

Conflict is necessary, conflict in the content of, you know, having, not violence, you understand, not violent conflict, but conflict arises when you are trying to stop a Muslim from practicing his religion, conflict can arise from there.

KD9 [44798-45387]

Sometimes I don't know why we should be asked whether it s necessary? But again sometimes it depends ah we can say conflict has to happen or it happens based on the antecedent. Some of the things we've been discussing when you try to force your opinion on me it brings about conflict. In trying to resist what you're give to me, it can cause conflict. So if you look at it from that point of view, you might say well it is inevitable sometimes because am trying to resist you pulling me into Kufr, for example. So but if it is going to be avoided, if it can be avoided it would be better.

KD10 [36057-36072]

I don't know

KD12 [39354-39496]

Ah is necessary, it is not necessary, Islam does not give way to conflict in anyway, but it has to come where people are right are not given.

KD13 [17821-17952]

There is no point in time that conflict is necessary except we continue to go and dialogue because we have (he recites in Arabic).

KD14 [23330-23361]

Conflicts are never necessary

KD15 [29876-30023]

When there is misunderstand between two groups of people or two group of community or two ethnic groups I think that is when the conflict comes.

KD16 [18602-18638]

All the time, you disagree to agree

KD17 [54861-55030]

Conflict is never necessary. It is the masses that suffer when conflict exist. So I don't think conflict is necessary anywhere. So we should not even pray for conflict.

KD19 [36309-36698]

Well, conflicts are necessary because they tend to shape our outlook at times. Sometimes somebody might be doing things which he thinks is proper, but once he is being enlightened that this is wrong, it is in conflict with the set of values of the society and he tend to change. So conflicts are necessary for us to put us in line with the culture of either the religion or the society.

KD20 [29554-29947]

Conflicts is necessary and conflicts is not necessary. Conflicts is necessary because there are some conflicts that if you don't fight for your rights the people will cheat on you. And some conflicts are not necessary yes in the sense that when you when you are trying to, there is no anything you just started fighting without any philosophical reason or something else you understand, yes.

KD21 [27955-28052]

I think conflicts are only and only necessary if Islamic rights norms and values are devaluated.

KD23 [27986-28050]

Conflict is not necessary because Islam is a religion of peace.

KD24 [82204-82265]

When there is no any other solution to take except conflict.

KD25 [96182-96586]

Well when the Muslims feel that they have been cheated or they have been ah refused or denied their rights. They can engage in conflict, but the conflict must be orderly because that is what Islam always teaches. Anything you want to do as a Muslim, if it is true it must be orderly. It mustn't be disorderly, if it is disorderly then it is not ah you ah is not forming the role of Islam or the picture.

KD26 [32178-32790]

I think conflict is necessary when you are being deprived of your rights, you are being, you are not being allowed to, how will I put it, when you are not being allowed the freedom of practicing your religion, for example, then I think that will generate conflict, for example, now what is happening in China that the Muslims in China are not being allowed to fast. It will definitely generate conflict because they want to fast because it is one of their pillars of their din and you are saying they shouldn't because of one problem or your personal interest and all that, it will definitely generate conflict.

KD27 [30654-30858]

Conflicts are not necessary. They are not necessary too of governance or advancement so to say. Conflicts should be avoided as much as possible only become necessary when there is no other alternative.

KD28 [39400-39641]

When there is misunderstanding automatically that is where there is conflict and it is just to come and dialogue with each other to make one to understand what conflict is, the theme of, the issue which are you know your argument is upon.

KD29 [25300-25472]

You see conflicts may be necessary whereby ah we have divergent views, we have views that did not tally with one another, but the main thing is to have conflict resolution

KD30 [45575-45682]

Conflict, when you are not given an option to, when you are not given an option then it becomes necessary.

KD31 [22654-22719]

I don't think there is a situation where conflicts are necessary

KD32 [33108-33390]

Conflict is not necessary, but when there is justice there will be peace, so in a state of an unjust we should expect conflict, so when we have total leadership just a just leadership, I think there will be peace, but in an unjust community we should always be expecting conflicts.

KD33 [29464-29580]

Personally I don't think conflicts are necessary because conflicts in most of the cases come with selfish interest.

KD34 [35888-35944]

Conflicts, conflicts is not, is not necessary at all.

KD35 [35210-35354]

Ahh the conflicts are necessary when I have been challenged and no retreatment, no sorry, the aggression continues, then I have to fight back.

KN1 [69860-70015]

I don't think conflict is necessary except if there is no guiding law as far as there is guiding law there is guidance I don't think conflict is necessary

KN2 [41821-41979]

Only to defend although there is a sociologist who said that the best form of defense is attack. But conflict is only necessary when you are being attacked.

KN4 [53957-54487]

Conflict is necessary because is part and parcel of human being but except that there is demarcation between the conflict and human being because human being is too complicated machine and selfish. When when is this how many? Is too selfish. The conflict is necessary when you allow one to lose, to lose his concept, to lose his reasoning if there is no government. But if there is check and balance, conflict would be difficult and conflict is part and parcel of human being that can only be controlled.

KN5 [36126-36167]

Conflict, when there is misunderstanding

KN6 [40930-41255]

Ok, conflicts are necessary because I can remember the quote of an American scholar, he says if you want peace, you should prepare for war. It is an American scholar that says if you want peace, you should prepare for war because sometimes you would be push maybe to the conflict so definitely, you have to do this conflict.

KN7 [36715-36837]

Hmm, conflict, I don't think conflict is necessary in any context. I don't think they are necessary in any instance, yes.

KN8 [35109-35196]

It is very hard, it is very hard for a non-Muslim to embrace conflict, you understand.

KN8 [35236-35480]

I think the concept of Islam does not embrace conflict as I have said and it is better for you to persuade and encourage people in doing something, rather than involving them in conflict. In a nutshell, conflict is not good for a good Muslim.

KN9 [31277-31433]

Conflicts are only necessary when the religion of Islam is threatened and when Muslims feel like they are no longer secure and their religion is at stake.

KN10 [25101-25179]

Whenever the government, whenever there is injustice in the government, hmm.

KN11 [33558-33611]

Well, conflict is not necessary in any circumstances.

KN13 [36437-36675]

Hmm, conflicts are necessary when there is more breakdown of law and order. I think when the two opposing sides are failing to agree with each other, I think the major issue of settling their ehm major disagreement is through conflict.

KN14 [29593-29662]

I don't think there is ah a condition that must warrant a conflict.

KN15 [25048-25084]

Conflict is ever necessary I think.

KN16 [14794-14836]

It is not necessary, it is not necessary.

KN17 [28539-28681]

Conflicts are necessary when definitely you you come to oppose each other maybe coming publicly, verbally or through maybe physical fighting.

KN18 [51023-51237]

When disputes are unresolved and they are natural course of life, conflicts are natural course of life. They could arise out of economic, social, political and relations, so it is normal, a normal thing-conflicts.

KN19 [31581-32037]

Conflicts at times becomes necessary after you've persuaded somebody you've put somebody in the right channel but failed to yield whereas you are putting in the right channel, you understand, that has to do with the will of God, you understand, and if such should fail after lots of perseverance, lots of ah lots of understanding, lots of patience and everything then someone could embark in misunderstanding which could bring about conflicts.

KN20 [23660-23812]

Conflicts- it depends on your definition of conflicts because conflicts are always necessary to solve things, but it depends on how you see conflicts.

KN21 [16939-16971]

When we are pushed to the wall.

KN22 [34213-34338]

A conflict is necessary where a leader, as said earlier, is not doing his job, the followers has every right to dispose him.

KN23 [22793-22858]

conflicts are never necessary because my religion agitates peace

KN24 [21265-21284]

As the last resort

KN25 [34321-34468]

Conflicts are only necessary when the lives, no, most important when the religion of Allah is at stake and when the lives of Muslims are at stake.

KN26 [37646-37746]

They are not largely necessary. In fact largely they erupt, but they are not necessary at anytime.

KN27 [26288-26524]

Well as we all say, Conflicts I don't think is necessary in any instance. It doesn't –only for the fact that in some situations there is the need for forceful jihad and jihad is not conflict. So I don't think conflict is necessary.

KN28 [20316-20507]

Well I believe conflicts should never be a necessity because conflict is not what we all actually wanted, but sometimes we really need to make some standards equal by some form of conflict.

KN30 [18804-18854]

When disagreement arises between two oppositions

KN31 [34308-34540]

Well I don't think conflict is necessary because I don't think anything call that is conflictual ah is something that is necessary because it you does not have-you may know how it starts but you don't know the effects it will have conflicts are only necessary when they are necessary and it varies across individuals across different people.

KN32 [17166-17277]

KN33 [12935-12989]

When conflict is necessary is only under persecution.

KN34 [23239-23264]

When there is injustice.

KN35 [21979-22474]

Conflict may be necessary when the leaders refuse to rule according to the injunctions of Islam that is the law or the Qur'anic injunctions. So the conflicts may exist that is from the follower to the leadership and this can also generate for revolution in the state, Islamic state. Likewise in relations with non-Muslims when the Muslims are been persecuted meaning that they are not allowed them to practice their religion, this can also generate conflict and even lead to chaos and even war.

KN36 [22393-22450]

Conflicts can be necessary when the justice is not done.

KN37 [21420-21543]

Conflict is only necessary as a last resort whereby you have applied all political and diplomatic means and to no avail.

KN38 [16113-16191]

Is there any time when conflict is necessary? I don't think so. I don't know

KN39 [25125-25207]

Conflict is necessary when Muslims are prevented from practicing their religion.

KN40 [20259-20304]

There is no time when conflict is necessary.

KN41 [17579-17616]

Conflict is not necessary at anytime

KN42 [45217-45777]

I don't see a situation whereby conflict is necessary except if it is to protect a life of somebody in danger whereby you are allowed to go into conflict situation to protect people. But if the conflict has already happened in the process of like you lose somebody or somebody is already dead through the process of conflict, you don't retaliate because there is no way for you to solve a problem when you add, when you solve a problem with a problem. You try to understand then you try to move forward not revenge or retaliation that falls for the conflict.

KN43 [33262-33535]

So, you cannot specifically suggest the conditions that would warrant someone to go into conflict because most of the conflicts are spontaneous, are not preplanned. So if they are spontaneous no one can suggest the conditions that can warrant someone to go into conflicts.

KN44 [26879-27049]

Conflicts are not necessarily though they are not avoidable, but they are not necessary. So far people have a good understanding of each other, conflicts can be avoided.

KN45 [37857-38218]

A conflict objectively is supposed not to be necessary under any circumstances and ehh having said that, I can say that conflict is only necessary when you are attacked first. When you are attacked first and ehh that conflict seems to be the only way to protect yourself against that aggressor, so in that I would say that conflict ehh is ehh is nothing wrong.

KN46 [59158-59201]

They are not because to me it is negative.

KN47 [55720-56274]

Hmm conflict, no, no it just depends on your value system, if you value something that they call do or die the extent of do or die, then you go into conflict because you value it so much you value your culture, you value your religion, you value maybe your business then you can go into conflict if somebody touches your business, then you can call, you can take him to court or you can come and attack him or if somebody attack your shop then you can attack him so you see the conflict maybe you know it has so many different situations and conditions.

KN48 [18728-18964]

Hmmm, can I even say conflict really necessary, maybe of the time whereby you've reached an extreme end, you have tried all your possible best, but to me that one self even I don't think it is too necessary, necessary to come to play.

KN49 [29193-29253]

Actually when it becomes absolutely impossible to avoid it.

KN50 [16386-16456]

I don't think there should be anytime conflict should be necessary.

KN52 [55380-56036]

Conflicts, for me, depends on the context, if for instance I argue with you because we have two different opinions that is conflict, but if he means conflict in terms of violence in terms of physical confrontation. In Islam, for instance, if you define conflict as violence as physical confrontation, I think as a Muslim I would define it as a situation where Muslims are under attack and are provoked to defend themselves that is the second level of jihad or third level of Jihad, you know, where the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims becomes confrontational, so conflict in that sense as Muslim, that is how I would define it.

Confrontational

KN54 [12108-12137]

Hmm actually not necessary.

KN55 [14150-14176]

Conflict is not necessary

KN56 [23724-23900]

In the Muslim community I can say conflicts are necessary, as I said earlier, when Muslims are being persecuted or are being denied their right to practice their faith truly.

KN57 [20305-20361]

When the settlement fails then the conflict may rise.

KN58 [45999-46355]

Anytime, in fact life itself is a conflict, it is full of conflict. You cannot detach man's life from conflicts. His life is always in conflict that's conflict then rise to what you call as Max put it, thesis, then if you beat the conflict, you reach anti-thesis, then building of a new life style would now be synthesis and then back to thesis again.

KN59 [47807-48142]

Hmm conflict is necessary when there is misunderstanding, when there is disagreement of opinion, when there is disagreement of beliefs. They can easily engage in conflict, when there is total domination there can be conflict. When one is being denied his right and responsibility there can easily be ahm conflict can be necessary.

KN60 [34028-34831]

Conflicts are necessary when you have two things militating against each other, this thing is right and this thing is wrong then conflict is necessary, but conflict in a way that does not mean violent activities. I don't know whether you understand what I mean. Probably you are bringing forth you ideology that is wrong and it is contrary to the Islamic teachings and this one is a scholar bringing about what Allah has said and you are nagging, you are maintaining that ok what you said should be given priority and this one is saying but this is what God has said, then there conflict is necessary, backing fact have to be brought forward, have to be brought to the forefront for you now to be able to convince this one that ok what you are propagating is wrong. This is how it is supposed to be.

KN61 [17680-17896]

Is when there is a disagreement, though there is so many way, I think, when there is disagreement on the issue of property, disagreement on religion, disagreement any other issues that we need ah one or two people.

KN62 [56868-57148]

Conflicts are only necessary when you are wronged to the extent that you find it unbearable. That is the point when you can go after the person who wronged you and this is conflict, but you should not take arms, just go after a person who hasn't done anything wrong to you, yah.

KN63 [48160-48903]

You know, conflict, necessary you know, the conflict we are talking about here, it means a sort of disagreement that can maybe go into war or whatever, go into you know, you know, conflict should not result into war or maybe into fighting, you know.

There should be proper understanding. You cannot, there are no two person that can agree on all, you have all the same thing to be the same. You can never agree on everything to be the same, it is not possible, even if you are of the same brother or maybe the twins. The twins can never be alike in all respect. So there is no way you can have the same thing in everything. So proper managing of conflict should be the solution. If you are having conflict, then what should be the solution.

KN64 [28571-28671]

Ehh in Islam, there is no time that you engage in conflict. There is no any necessary in conflicts.

KN65 [35347-35564]

Conflicts is ah although conflict has its own impact, it has its positive and negative impact, but most instance, we don't want conflict, we don't want conflict, you understand, so it is never necessary at any time.

KN66 [24211-24287]

Conflict I believe is not necessary because Islam will never teach conflict.

KN67 [24996-25164]

Well conflict can only be necessary when, as a last resort, when a Muslim has been deprived of all his rights and conflict is only the solution. So that is when it is

KN68 [12050-12065]

Not necessary.

KN69 [42612-42841]

I think to, my understanding, we cannot say that there is no, there is a specific time whereby to say that conflict is necessary in that particular time. Conflict is bound to happen depending upon the time that conflict happen.

KN71 [71969-72237]

As long as human exist and that is the desire for one party to dominate the other or for one party to convert the other into its own domain then there should be conflict. Conflict is not necessary in human life because it exists even in the most ideal human society.

KN72 [37225-37268]

Ehh, when violating of individual rights.

KN73 [39621-39766]

There is no time that conflict is necessary. Islam doesn't propagate conflict in any way. It is a last resort and it doesn't propagate conflict.

KN74 [48634-48701]

To me as a Muslim there is no any time that conflict is necessary.

KN75 [51647-51761]

Conflict is conditional when necessary and is necessity that can lead to conflict when you don't have any option.

KN76 [44475-44553]

Well, conflicts are only necessary when there are no constituted authorities.

KN78 [61355-61380]

Again for the scholars

KN80 [46348-46473]

So when conflict, conflicts can be necessary when certain fundamental religious aspect is being violated by the other party.

KN81 [30307-30386]

When it becomes last alternative so the conflict ahh may happen or may arise.

KN82 [32488-32563]

Conflict is necessary when the provisions of holy Qur'an are deviated from.

KN83 [22527-22564]

So ah when the condition is warrant.

KN84 [25330-25372]

Hmm I think in the state of a hardship.

KN85 [37826-38192]

Yes conflict is an inevitable phenomena in human society. It has existed since from the beginning of man it could continue to exist. Ahh ahh conflict is not harmful, it is only violent conflict that is harmful, in fact sometimes conflict is good because when there are divergent opinions, there is conflict of opinion that is when you will see the truth coming out.

ZA1 [38589-38841]

When somebody cheat you. If somebody cheat you, take your property, now conflict is necessary. Like what is happening in Palestine and Israeli, now Israel Palestine must retaliate because world are seeing Palestine have been robbed, have been cheated.

ZA2 [47236-47273]

Is when you deny of right comes in.

ZA3 [28839-28909]

Conflicts are sometimes necessary in order to understand themselves

ZA5 [32665-32695]

When there is a disagreement.

ZA6 [72189-72274]

Hmm conflicts are necessary when there is no justice system, there is no fairness.

ZA7 [38196-38348]

Conflicts are necessary when the ideas of one man is being tried to be imposed on ideas of another. I think that is just when conflicts are necessary.

ZA8 [76423-76528]

Conflicts are necessary when you are been asked or when you are been forced to go against what God says.

ZA9 [42232-42492]

Conflicts are not necessary at all. I don't think there is any condition where conflict should be necessary, but its in the human nature, you can't just, you can't stop it from happening. We can't stop it, but we can at least reduce it to the barest minimum.

ZA9 [42553-42842]

Conflicts, I think in my own opinion sha, it is necessary to have a conflict when a group is trying ride on the other group, like if they are stooping them from expressing or from practicing their own this thing. Like colonizing them, let me just use that word, colonizing them somehow.

ZA10 [36415-36553]

Conflict actually is not necessary, it is just a misunderstanding that occurs between two that maybe did not agree on a particular thing.

ZA11 [31379-31390]

It is not.

ZA12 [19213-19286]

I don't think conflicts are necessary everybody wants to live in peace.

ZA13 [19783-19982]

It is necessary when you, as I said earlier on, when you have been pushed to the wall and you are so much agitating and you are being oppressed and fighting for your own struggle I think is part of.

ZA14 [26755-26968]

Conflict necessary, I don't think, that is when the society, the corruption in the society, the unemployment and so many atrocities are too much in the society, I think that particular time conflict is necessary.

ZA15 [29295-29332]

I don't know what to say about that.

ZA16 [20744-20951]

Conflict is necessary when, conflict is necessary when I am trying to, when someone, when one party tries or wants to ah, what do you call it preach or let me call it as an Islamic, preach to other party.

ZA19 [45855-46239]

Ah depending on the nature of the situation we actually find ourselves, when we want a transformation, we need what, a functional conflict, you understand, we need a functional conflict. And when we actually want to liberate when state or to conquer one state, this is where we want a dysfunctional conflict, where we will take arms and, you understand, weapons of mass destruction.

ZA20 [30844-31431]

Conflicts are necessary depending on the factors that created it. The factor, if I can give a scenario, is that area is a Christian nation, this area is a Christian nation and we are neighboring we are all neighbors to one another to each other as we are in this way just all of a sudden and one thing or the other you just come to attack us, we must retaliate or we just say no we have to attack you. You that- you must retaliate; that one is a conflict. Conflicts emanate, the conflict of territory, conflict in economy, conflict in whatever depending on the factor that created it.

ZA21 [35291-35505]

Conflicts are necessary when you think things are not done justly or the way they are supposed to be done that is when conflicts arise. If you have this as a right and it is denied of you then conflicts sets in.

ZA22 [30405-30449]

There is no time when conflict is necessary

ZA23 [38717-38874]

Ahh conflicts- I will not call it very necessary, but in any situation we are you believe in something and I believe on the contrary then conflict arises.

ZA24 [48136-48359]

Conflicts are necessary when somebody wants to trespass on your religion. You will not allow him to or they will not allow you or maybe you are not having freedom of religion or worshiping. Conflicts can be necessary then.

ZA25 [47845-48006]

Ahh necessity of conflicts. That is when there is an irreconcilable understanding of some terms, irreconcilable understanding then conflicts becomes necessary.

ZA26 [22125-22175]

Conflicts are necessary if someone attacks you.

ZA27 [21312-21554]

I don't think there is any particular point that conflict is necessary to my own understanding because now if somebody reacted on you, you are not also supposed to do the same thing, but rather you have to calm down and put things in order.

ZA28 [34843-35133]

Conflicts can arise or when there are issues on ground that need to be ironed and solve particular problems within a setting I think they can-people that are concerned they can bring their own points and then try to discuss and argue on it so as to solve the issues disturbing the setting.

ZA29 [49637-49668]

Conflicts are never necessary

ZA30 [59095-59464]

Eeeh, conflicts can, ever conflicts become necessary? There is always a way of avoiding it. That is why the Rasul, somebody come to Rasulillah and asked him, please, tell me something, he told him (recites Arabic), meaning don't be angry, Once people become angry then they will result into conflict, but if you are not even angry at all, he told him three (3) times.

ZA31 [29969-30213]

Conflict is necessary in a state, let us say in a state or everywhere, if let us say some particular groups are been cheated, and they try by all means to get it right, they can use power, they can use force in order to have their own rights .

ZA32 [63346-63463]

Conflicts are not, will never, are not necessary in Islam, but self-defense is necessary when the peace is violated.

ZA33 [24944-25112]

Conflicts are necessary when there is no freedom of speech, no freedom of religion, no right to live, no provision of social amenities by the people in the authority.

ZA34 [43872-44006]

Conflicts-well I will say when somebody is pushed into the wall that is when maybe he is prevented from going about his normal life.

ZA35 [21763-21771]

No idea

ZA36 [30809-30880]

Conflicts are necessary when we try to go against each other's views.

ZA37 [37359-37396]

Conflicts are not necessary at all.

ZA38 [43388-43606]

There is no any time conflict is necessary. It is only when a disagreement comes and both parties refuse to address matters so that may lead to conflict, but there was no time that conflict is welcomed in any society.

ZA39 [55640-55672]

Conflict may not be necessary.

Th15:3: Conflicts with other Religions Unavoidable

FG1 [46722-46811]

Yah when it becomes unbearable you will now retaliate in order to scare away the flies

FG2 [21711-22219]

Yes I agree. I affirm with what the scholar said because if I will take my mind back during the life of the prophet, the prophet tried his best possible to see that he put the non-Muslim, he called them to order but all his effort went in vain which led him to be in several wars with the non-Muslims. Until later after the war before they finally found a way out. So it is not all the time conflict between the Muslim and the non-Muslim, there must be conflicts between them before they will find a way out[

FG2 [22274-22316]

(Chorus) it is not avoidable all the time

FG2 [22318-22356]

(F) It cannot even be avoided at all

FG2 [22359-22701]

F) But I think to some extent you can avoid it because it all begins with one person, you alone, for a start. Try to avoid it. When someone confronts you, you try to look for a way that you will minimize it at that level. If you can try that the other person can also try that. I think we can minimize it on the whole. So it can be avoided.

FG2 [22703-23968]

I concur to what she said that conflicts can be avoided. As I have rightly pointed out, conflicts usually start with an individual, it starts with most especially propagandas when someone stands up and says something against your believe or religion and you tend to react. In the cause of the reaction that is what usually causes conflicts. But I have always believed that there are ways that you can address comments or questions or should I say propagandas against your religion without conflicts. There are several times I read articles or personally been confronted, someone will come and say that you Muslims are just terrorists. Yah directly someone will tell you that you are terrorists (A lady interjects that there are even pages like that) but amm if you use the aggressive part of it saying, how dear you call me a terrorist? He will say of course you are a terrorist and you know argument starts, conflict generates before you know other Muslims will come, what happened? He called us terrorists and now they will fight him and the non-Muslims will be you fight my...you guys are terrorists. Before you know conflicts emanates. So how about if Muslims are terrorists? You said we are terrorists ok. Thank you. There I take my leave. It has been avoided.

FG2 [23970-24421]

Even in my station sir, am still adding to my point that conflict is unavoidable all the time among the Muslims and the non-Muslims. I could remember the history of what happened in Zangon Kataf. It is one of the lecturers who came out to insult the prophet. So I believe if someone will come out and insult the prophet, no matter how gentle, humble and patient I am, I cannot endure it. So I believe on that premise that conflict cannot be avoided.

FG3 [55861-55866]

Yes

FG3 [55869-55935]

Yes but there should always be possible solutions to all problems

FG3 [55977-56240]

Yes what I am saying the point is conflict cannot be avoided all the times. The thing is when you look at the two, let me pick an example to the environment we are living- Nigeria generally, we have the two religions-Islam and Christianity are the two religions.

KD2 [29158-29578]

Of course it can be, it can be avoided. How many conflicts we have in the world that has never been engaged in any form of conflicts especially that of religious conflict? So many countries have never experienced that and they still have Muslims, the non-Muslims and other forms of religions in the country. So it can be avoided, it can be avoided. Even in Nigeria here, it can be avoided, it's just the matter of time.

KD3 [22573-22697]

It cannot be avoided, but everybody should just mind his own business. That's the only way we can reduce it to the minimum.

KD4 [54356-54584]

Yah, conflict has been the nature of man. You cannot divide man from conflict. So, I will say that yes, conflict with other religions because all religions are propagating their belief. So, you can, it cannot be done away with.

KD5 [29554-29808]

Yes, I agree because looking at conflict naturally, conflict cannot be avoided, conflict is inevitable in our lives because conflict arise when people have different view or different feelings on a particular thing. That's what normally brings conflict.

KD6 [47146-47242]

Yes but we lack that dialogue within ourselves. Let's sit down and we dialogue within ourselves

KD7 [37629-37788]

Yes, it cannot be avoided at all times, but one should be able to know what he is arguing about, know the reasons for it and be able to remain calm, that's it

KD8 [64984-66821]

Of course it can be avoided. Conflicts can be avoided. They can be avoided if somebody, if everybody is trying to stick to what his religion is saying and equally accommodating the other person different from faith. You have to understand that he has reasons for his faith and you also have reasons for your own faith. So there is a need for understanding. There is a need for people to be exposed to understand that the way you are feeling that is the way the other person is feeling. You are feeling your religion is very important to you. The same thing the person is also feeling. So, when you try to stop him from practicing his religion, conflict will arise, you understand. So there has to be accommodation because you have, even prophet Muhammad (SAW) lived with non-Muslims, Jewish ma, they were inflicting pains on him. So, conflict is not necessary because we have to, we have to accommodate each other, we have to just, God created us, if God wanted, he would have created you in one faith, but he decided to make us different so that we can understand ourselves, this is what he said. If he loves, he would have created us in one religion, but we are different. So the fact that we are different, we can say, depending on the way we understand the religion, there is a conflicts situation. I may say because this one believes in this, another person believes in this. So, when we are able to manage it the conflict will not arise even though the conflict situation is there, but when we are able to manage it, we are able to understand each other that conflict will not arise. But if it is at the time when one religion is trying to stop the other person, follower of the other religion or another faith trying to stop him, to stop him from practicing his religion that is when conflict will arise, which we don't pray for.

KD9 [45995-46078]

I think we've talked about that too, that conflicts sometimes cannot be avoided so

KD10 [36491-36781]

Yes it cannot be avoided all the time because they may prove to transgress or to step on our toes, toes of the Muslims. So the Muslims will be disturbed and be annoyed and then they will just start fighting, causing public disorder, killing people, destroying properties, place of worship.

KD12 [39711-39784]

It can be avoided when the government of the time draws a parallel line.

KD13 [18210-18308]

It cannot be avoided all the time because the knowledge and the perspective of the people defers.

KD14 [23692-23770]

Yes it cannot be avoided all the times, but we can reduce it to the minimum.

KD15 [30267-30632]

Ah conflict with other religion cannot be avoided all the time. It cannot be avoided all the time because there is no understanding between the two religions or the religions I believe what leads to conflict is just ah misunderstanding of each other ah so I think it is just misunderstanding, if the two religions can understand their self there won't be conflict.

KD16 [18881-18956]

That is true it cannot avoided, but we have to be mindful of our reaction

KD17 [55478-55672]

It can be avoided whereby everybody knows his limit. By the time you go beyond the limit, the law is there and it can catch up with you. So it can be avoided by all manners, it can be avoided.

KD20 [30179-30577]

Yes, con conflicts with other religions cannot be avoided in the sense that if eh a conflict may arise anytime. You may not even have the you may not even know the cause of the conflict sometimes, you will just discover that people were fighting you understand maybe your religion and another religion even though your tribe and another tribe you understand, so that is what I understand by that.

KD21 [28595-28967]

Yes it can't be avoided all the times, people are different, some are very judgemental, some are temperamental, some are fanatics. When you attack somebody's religion, some people react extremely high, such as say conflicts can hardly be contained there. For some that keep quiet and for some can look and see reasons like what you have actually done is very, very wrong.

KD23 [28469-28554]

It can be avoided, it can be avoided, yes if the government are willing to avoid it.

KD24 [83380-83925]

Ah actually it cannot be avoided all the times, its true because if you have ah ah for example, two religions, two religions, they both have leaders as far as today is concerned they are living in peace. One day or the other one of the religion will have leader that he is not happy with this peace living, he wants fight. So no matter what you will think no his own decision is he want that fight to go on, so you see this I think it cannot be avoided only that it can be avoided by knowing who to put there so that people will live in peace.

KD25 [97396-97455]

That is true, but to some extent it should be ameliorated.

KD26 [33037-33210]

Yes it can't be avoided all the times. There are people that just want to push you to the wall. They want you to react and definitely you have to take a stand for your din.

KD27 [31464-32003]

Yes conflicts with other religions cannot be avoided all the times because the basis of our religions differ. We believe in Allah and his prophets and his books and his angels and even the last day. We believe in predestination. Most other religions do not believe in that. They believe-they don't believe in Allah, they believe that Allah has a son, some of them believe in predestination, they don't believe in the prophet (SAW), they don't believe in all the books Allah. So conflicts do arise but how you manage them is what matters.

KD28 [40012-40350]

I, one has to be very careful you know with other religions, as long as you are and you know that your own religion has given you a limit and yet other religions, you have to seek peace between yourself and other religions. We know that you have to try and try and avoid any misunderstanding between you and those of the other religion.

KD29 [25841-25925]

Well my view on this statement ah is that of ah having dialogue within one another.

KD30 [46362-47440]

I think what keeps people from being the fact that ah people are of different religion ah shows that of course there is conflicts between your religion and his religion, your religion and their religion ah what I'm trying to say is that is that ah misunderstanding between the two religions because if the two religions have all things in agreement then I don't think why other, the others will keep away from the other religions. So there are things that these religion feel that they don't agree with that religion that is why they choose to stay in that religion so of course it can be avoided because these things or this one is agreed ah this one might feel it alright while this one will see this as and then when they come together maybe in practice for example in India what we have where the Buddhists perceived ah the slaughter of cows as ah as being insulting while the Muslims ah look at it as ah as a normal thing where there is no harm and is I think that is given to them and they can be able to feed on it, then you see that is normal conflict in understanding.

KD31 [23049-23305]

yah conflicts with other religions cannot be avoided all the times because in life I must in my religion must always go against something you feel it is right in your own religion that is why conflicts can never be avoided between two different religions.

KD32 [33654-34267]

Yah there are, people don't really understand the religion they are practicing, so this leads to an intolerance and sometimes there is some injustice in some communities, trying deny some people some rights because of their own place of worship because of their own religions, so this is what totally bring conflicts, so when there is justice, irrespective of their own place of worship, irrespective of their own religion, so we should totally expect peace and this justice must come from leadership and this should not be possible at all time, so this is why we should be expecting conflicts most of the times.

KD33 [29827-30051]

Yah it cannot be avoided all the times because some people even with non-Muslims they misunderstood their scriptures, their verses, their books, the teachings of their religion, so you cannot avoid emm religious conflicts.

KD34 [36635-37007]

okay that means a violent conflict with other religion it can be avoided because as long as, as long as there is understanding between the two religion, I will not say something that will provoke you, you will not say something that will provoke me, within the freedom of religion there is limit of what I should do or I should not definitely it will prevent a conflictq

KN1 [70554-70656]

All the times, it depends on what you mean by all the times. In the shorter run or in the longer run?

KN1 [70772-71217]

Even between husband and wife, between father and son you cannot avoid conflicts in the long run except it may not translate into violence. That is the key issue. Conflicts may not necessarily become violent. So that is it. But in the long run conflict is necessary no matter what even within a religion, within a family whatever relationship there is in the long run there will be a conflict it depends on the maturity of the parties involved.

KN2 [42438-42450]

Yes it is

KN4 [55353-56027]

That is the most simple way that you can in fact it, it is more easier to avoid conflict between, is this the question, this is not it conflict with other religion cannot be avoided all the time. It can be avoided since there is leadership like in Nigeria the followers are- has more and much respect to their leaders. When leadership is good and there is control and there is standard of preaching amongst the conflict can be in fact erased among the religion. The conflict can only be between exist in the community but not among the big religions it can be- is avoidable but only if there is understanding amongst the leaders of the religion and there is good government

KN5 [36744-37346]

Yes of course ehh eh the way this our counters do in Nigeria, you cannot say you always be avoiding conflict because it is not Islamically based. If you allow them to be touching the personality of the prophet and they would do more than what is expected even with leadership or without leadership of an Islamic leader, even with the provisions or the conditions of jihad or not, you have to fight that where necessary but with the aspect to issues that are very sensitive not to personal issues. Conflicts cannot be avoided because of this thing because if you leave them they will continue doing it

KN6 [41670-42197]

Ahh, it can be avoided because when you, if you take the history of the prophet Mohammed (Saw) and the history of his Sahaba, this-those time the conflict between Muslim and Christians are minimized. So conflict can be avoided some certain aspect and some certain aspect that cannot get be avoided because conflict may even arise between a Muslim-between Christian and Muslim and between Christian with Christian and less- conflict is part of our behavior, is part of the behavior of human being. So conflict must be arising.

KN7 [37465-37555]

Has I have said earlier on, no. I don't think this is right. This statement is incorrect.

KN8 [35592-35678]

It is very wrong because, any religion that preaches conflict is not a good religion.

KN9 [31820-31899]

This is true. Conflict is bound especially where there exists two beliefs, yes.

KN10 [25416-25544]

It can be avoided, it can be avoided and because once there is understanding among the people so there will be no any conflict.

KN11 [33865-33892]

I disagree with this. No.

KN13 [36964-37269]

Hmm, yah more or less cannot be avoided, definitely there must be issues that must start even directly from prophetic era, there has been crisis that has been happening between Muslim and non-Muslims, so that is the major, it is a philosophical question that can't be answered it is a catch two question.

KN14 [30296-30321]

It can never been avoided

KN15 [25378-25474]

I think yes, it cannot be you know avoided because of misunderstanding you know between people.

KN16 [15101-15174]

Yes, yes it cannot be avoided because of misunderstanding that they have.

KN17 [29297-29496]

Uh it should literally be correct because uh there are some times definitely in religions we must have religious crisis it has been happening right from time and definitely it can't stop happening.

KN18 [51670-51908]

It can be avoided, it can be avoided. Why what will you say with many multi-religious okay many multi-religious societies, many multi-religious and they were able to multi-ethnic, multi-religious, can be avoided when there is tolerance.

KN19 [34192-34327]

Uh I think it's true because mostly religion is a means in which conflicts ensues as a result of differences in the beliefs of people.

KN20 [24204-24324]

It can be avoided because even the prophet avoided it not until he got the instruction to fight them. You can avoid it.

KN21 [17306-17326]

I disagree with that

KN22 [35105-35353]

Yah, actually because of the ideological difference, because of the difference in terms of religion, it cannot be avoided but can be managed, it can be managed yes. So my view is to set a mechanism where this conflict will be managed if it arises.

KN23 [23219-23236]

I don't believe

KN24 [21559-21577]

It is not correct

KN25 [34802-34901]

Well it could be avoided; it could be avoided if only there is understanding. It could be avoided

KN26 [38214-38658]

It can be avoided though not all the times but it can be avoided. Conflict itself as a phenomenon is something that can be, not necessarily be avoided but it can be contained. Sometime you don't see it, it just comes and when it comes at least the presumption is that you will be able to manage it or to resolve it, which is the most difficult one. It is easier for you to manage a conflict than to resolve a conflict but it can be resolved.

KN27 [27208-27461]

It can be avoided if there are-it can be avoided let me say it. it can be avoided considering the fact that conflict can't solve every problem and I don't think that conflicts can solve problems, it can only, let me say, in most cases add to problems.

KN28 [20848-20992]

Well it is a world of diverse opinions. A lot of people have their own interests. Conflicts must surely exist in the global world we are today.

KN30 [19067-19079]

Yes I agree

KN31 [35012-35152]

Well it is something that is avoidable it all depends on our understanding among ourselves but it is something that is very, very avoidable ah who told you that conflict cannot be avoided all the time. But it can, it has been so shall it be ah your statement is not correct.

KN32 [17548-17682]

KN33 [13197-13257]

My view is no and there can be understanding between them.

KN34 [23862-24034]

It can be. It is not a prophecy. Had it been it is a prophecy, you can say that but since it is not a prophecy, it is something that can be avoided through understanding.

KN35 [22930-23335]

Yes conflicts ah since you say, the question says all the time, it cannot be avoided all the time because in the situation whereby Muslims are being persecuted and injustices are being faced by the Muslims, so this things can lead to conflicts and the Muslims cannot continue to fold their hands and be looking at Muslims being persecuted by the non-Muslims. Yes but the conflicts cannot be all the time.

KN36 [22744-23004]

Yes it cannot be avoided because some non-Muslims and Muslims always act sometimes out of the jurisdiction, but if you really want to go and respect each other's freedom of practicing their religion without accusing each other I think the peace will take it.

KN37 [21913-22222]

I think I shouldn't totally agree with that statement okay because my acceptance to that statement may give way for people to draw in line of misunderstanding between them and other faith. So let me just say at all times diplomatic means should be applied to solve conflicts between Muslims and non-Muslims.

KN38 [16400-16413]

I disagree.

KN39 [25541-25668]

Actually no because there are so many procedures laid down particularly in Islam of how a conflict can be resolved peacefully.

KN40 [20615-20736]

Conflict can be avoided between both of the religions in the sense that when you have a negotiation between two of them.

KN41 [17847-17964]

Religious conflicts can definitely be avoided if there is going to be unity and respect for other people's religion.

KN42 [46746-47352]

Dialogue. They should come together, they should solve the problem. They should get a mediator that is very, very effective not the ones that want to see both of the parties in conflict. They should talk to each other, they should apologize, there should be room for amend not revenge. Let people stop embracing the idea that I must pay back what is done to me in ten folds. It doesn't work that way. People shouldn't be unrepentant; they should try to forgive. Every religious body be it Christian, Muslims, other or other one should try preach forgiveness. If you forgive then you can definitely forget.

KN43 [33915-34043]

It can simply be avoided always and all the time provided the followers of different religious groups will respect one another.

KN45 [38607-39160]

No, conflict can be avoided with other religions eh conflict can be definitely avoided and it should be avoided with other religions because I don't think no religion encourages conflict at all. Christian religion is very eh is very peaceful religion, is a very peaceful religion. Islam is a very peaceful religion. Judaism is a very peaceful religion. Eh what is happening even in the Middle East, in the conflict between Israel and Palestine is not part of Judaism maybe Jewish are involved, but this is not the teachings of the Judaism at all, yes.

KN46 [59668-59975]

Yeah it is true because ahh, you cannot claim to have control over all the followers of your religion. So you will tell them to behave in a certain way and some of them, for one reason or another, they go and behave differently. So ehh that definitely sometimes will lead to conflicts with other religions.

KN47 [56657-56736]

Yes, the statement is true because conflict is always with us as human beings.

KN48 [19206-19344]

Actually it is right but everything what I just say, the main thing that cause that is lack of understanding and respect for each other.

KN49 [29683-29863]

I think conflicts can be avoided especially in the religious sense because both religions practice and preach peace. So it is actually quite avoidable, it is very, very avoidable.

KN50 [16912-16991]

It can be avoided inasmuch as we have respect for one, of one another's faith.

KN52 [57052-57639]

Well conflict in the sense of disagreement, misunderstandings, competition for converts, like I mentioned earlier, the struggle to win converts that is basic in all society historically, but conflict in terms of confrontation I don't think this is necessary, I don't think is necessary. Why should religions fight? I mean it is completely unnecessary as far as I am concerned, but because of certain interests I mean these are things that would continue and we would continue to experience, but I do hope that we intensify our interreligious dialogue and entrench harmony in the society.

KN54 [12353-12377]

Well it can be avoided

KN55 [14390-14424]

Hmmm I think it can be avoided

KN56 [24520-24907]

Conflict with other religions can be avoided provided that there is no transgression and every other religion sticks to its teachings why because I don't think between Christianity and Islam if followed accurately I think there is no religion among them that preaches violence. It is just a matter of misinterpretation and selfish interest by some preachers among these two religions.

KN57 [20656-20805]

If there is misunderstanding, there must be conflict. If there is understanding and tolerance with one another there must be absence of conflicts.

KN58 [46666-46870]

It is true because you are always having a different worldview. Once there is difference you would have conflicts. Conflict is all about difference. I disagree with what you said conflict has started.

KN59 [49254-49779]

Yes it cannot be avoided all the time. The reason is that since we exist, since there is this differences in religion, definitely there must be conflicts, because everybody, why there must be this conflict is because everybody want to claim his own religion is the best and if you want to claim that your own is the best then definitely there must be misunderstanding and if there is this misunderstanding conflict would arise; so it is something that is not avoidable, it is part of us and we have to groom and maintain it.

KN60 [35376-35426]

Actually it is true I agree with that statement.

KN61 [18379-18511]

Yah, it is true, there must be disagreement between religions, there must be because everyone feels that his own institution first.

KN62 [57794-58437]

Conflicts with other religions can be avoided not cannot be avoided. It can be avoided, yah. It can be avoided. It is not that it cannot be avoided, it can be avoided definitely. How can we avoid it? The only way to avoid it is by understanding one another. Hmm the noble prophet before did the same, he understood the fellow Jews he lived with although after sometimes, they betrayed him. They betrayed him. Banu, Banu what? I forget the name, yah. Those people actually betrayed him and they connived with his enemies and ah that is why Allah (SBUH) actually ordered him to fight them. So I believe that we can live, we can avoid conflicts.

KN63 [49493-49945]

It can be avoided and if you look in fact even in the teachings of Islam, the teaching of Christianity, they are never the same or let us be, let us say the truth because no the Christians say ok Jesus is the son of God and we Muslim say no, he is not. He is a prophet of God. So that is a different view, huh so you know if you have that proper understanding, there is nothing, life goes on, it doesn't stop anything, it doesn't take anything from us.

KN64 [28977-29109]

Hmm, it cannot be avoided because there is something that ah needed to do if you want to avoid this ah conflict in our nation, hmm.

KN65 [36018-36046]

No, it can be avoided, yes.

KN66 [24737-25001]

Conflict with other religions, in one way or the other I believe conflict and other religion are, are yah, conflict can be avoided provided other religions do not attack Islam because when they attack Islam, Islam would fight back, Muslims will fight back rather.

KN67 [25408-25749]

Well it depends. I think it may be true because even though on your own side or on the side of Islam, there, if there is no any plan to subjugate other religions and some other things, there may be some other plans in one way or another, directly or indirectly that may create conflict. So I don't think it is something that can be avoided.

KN68 [12281-12301]

It can be avoided.

KN69 [43846-44070]

Is true, is true to the fact that each of the religion that we are having is contending that it is the true religion, it is the best religion revealed by Allah (SBUH) to this world. Therefore, conflicts are bound to happen.

KN71 [73097-73744]

Yes, when you say all the time, it is true, but it can be avoided most of the time. Why, because as long as I agree to it, as long as I agree to reason, as long as I know that I have the right to my own opinion and so you should have your own opinion too, as long as I have the heart of tolerance we can avoid conflicts, but not all the times because there is no way you can deny or stop the society and whatever society no matter how good from having some bad eggs or some fools among that society who are many a times are the headache of that very society. That is why it cannot be avoided all the times, but it can be avoided most of the time.

KN72 [38585-38733]

This is not true. It is not true, because when there is eh tolerance among the different religions, there is no any conflict, it is only lack of.

KN73 [40083-40106]

Ah, it can be avoided.

KN74 [49154-49241]

Ah it can be avoided, it can be avoided. Conflict with other religions can be avoided.

KN74 [49271-49442]

Hmm we can't say with all the times, but it can be avoided. I have told you that if it happens in one way, we cannot call it as a conflict; we just call it as self-defense

KN75 [52115-52223]

Yes, it can't be avoided, but it is through dialogue that we can be able to resolve the issue of conflict.

KN76 [45237-45517]

Yah it cannot be avoided all the time, but it can be managed because by the time we recognize the right of other, and the other person also recognize your rights and you agree to live, then you can avoid conflicts by managing the conflict when they arise or even before they arise

KN78 [61887-62265]

it can be avoided for as long as we stayed away, I mean, we abide by the teaching of our religion that is by being tolerant to each other, by not trying to ah eh downgrade the teachings of other religion. We can have our disagreements, but we have better way through dialogue we can discuss the differences among our religions, but a better way or really avoiding conflicts.

KN80 [46896-46978]

It can be avoided because no any religion encourages conflicts to it followers.

KN81 [30960-31016]

Of course it will not be avoid, but it is easy to solve.

KN81 [31322-31413]

So this problem can be solved through discussion and dialogue with the affected conflict.

KN82 [32880-32892]

It is true

KN83 [23025-23100]

So my view is that eh I think it can be avoided, but not all the times.

KN84 [26037-26106]

No I think this statement doesn't, no I disagree with this totally.

KN85 [38736-39042]

Yes if we are talking about the conflict, non-violent conflict is inevitable because we have conflicting views about God, we are have conflicting views about life generally, but if you say violent conflicts no I disagree with that because Muslims and no Muslims can coexist peacefully without conflicts.

ZA1 [39082-39181]

No, no, no, no just say that corruption, if corruption is not avoided people will be in conflicts.

ZA2 [48549-48657]

Yes because of the selfish aim in people, just what we have been saying that is the key issue selfish aim.

ZA3 [29324-29766]

Emm of course it cannot now, everybody is selling their own religion so also you just stay and see some people knocking on your door saying just believe, just believe. So they are also trying to market their religion, so in such situation emm the, but the best approach sometimes is to have comparative religion where everybody will show case what their religion is, form there you will have a wider scope and understanding of your religion.

ZA4 [50423-50825]

You know because every religion has his own doctrine, so any time you fight you are trying to impose your believe on them you are cheating them, rather than you impose your own they should impose their own on you. That is where the conflicts always come, but what you are doing is understanding, allow each and everyone should practice on his own way, later won they will know which is the right path

ZA5 [33185-33273]

Because of the way the scholars and the cleric preach. One preach against one another.

ZA6 [72870-73180]

Ahm it cannot be avoided all of the times, but all of the times there are certain measures that will be taken to at least to bring about a resolution or at least to the barest minimum to try ah avoid the conflict and if it happens then there are steps that should be taken to at least bring about resolution.

ZA7 [38879-39204]

It is very true because other religious practices and teaches what their religion tells them to and there is no way two different religions can practice and preach the same thing, you understand, so there is always bound to be conflicts where there are no agreements between the two religions or more religions in question.

ZA8 [76788-77421]

Yes. It can't because like there are good sheep in the family there are also bad sheep. Sometimes its unfortunate that maybe a non-Muslim that you meet is an extremist, for instance, now he is not going to agree on what your religion says, sometimes they even use foul languages and in a religion even though is not my religion, you are not allowed to ridicule or embarrass or even abuse another person's religion. It is obligatory on you to respect everybody's religion says the prophet, you must respect everybody's religion. Now in the case whereby I am respecting your religion and you try to ridicule mine, conflict will come.

ZA9 [43825-43896]

Of course it can be avoided only if we can be tolerant of our selves.

ZA10 [36919-36994]

Yes it cannot be avoided, but it can always be managed. You can manage it.

ZA11 [31778-31808]

Well the perspective matters

ZA12 [19499-19586]

Yes, it cannot be avoided or it all boils down to the understanding of both religions.

ZA13 [20247-20382]

Yes it can never be avoided at all times because it comes, is something that just come and is something that comes within a short while

ZA14 [27417-27573]

Yes because there is disagreement between the scholars and the clerics sometimes. That is why there will always be conflict, they don't agree on one thing.

ZA16 [21330-21550]

My view is that because, it is also stated in the Qur'an that there will be conflicts between you and non-Muslims and other religions practicers, so that is why because it is written in the Qur'an it cannot be changed.

ZA17 [26195-26678]

Conflict can be avoided because it say wala tajadanu ahl kitabi that is if you are making conflicts with them bringing this and they do not say, they do not agree, at times they can bring one thing that you will say kai, I cannot agree about this, we have to fight or something like that, so if you are not bringing that conflicting issue or you are not near, if they talk you say, you silent because the Qur'an is saying ah you don't have something to say, you just remain silence.

ZA18 [31214-31469]

Toh, you know Satan is there, no matter, we can remain in peace for several years, but you know Satan, we believe that there is Satan, and he is going all over to have his companions. So by his, through his avenue or whatever, he can cause some problems.

ZA19 [46665-47252]

Yes, just as I have said earlier, conflict of ideas. There are several occasions where Muslims and Christians where standing and debating, and debate is a, could be seen as a conflict because it is a dialogue and dialogue is a way where you are setting the truth. A Muslims is saying this while a Christian is saying this. Different debates have taken place between ... and so many like Rev. Cambell and so many other comparative religious scholars. So conflict in this context is actually encouraging between the Muslims and the Christians because it does not necessarily mean violence.

ZA20 [31881-31929]

It can be avoided if justice is allowed to reign

ZA21 [35924-36328]

Of course everybody has his way and manner he practices his religion. So there must be conflicts. This is the way and manner I practice my religion and this is the way and manner somebody practices his religion. I have my God, he has his God. Of course, so there should be conflict between the two. And the conflict is not about fighting, but about knowing the ideology that is attached to my religion.

ZA22 [30703-31014]

Yah. There must be conflicts because they are entirely two different things or two opposing things. So there is no way you will avoid conflicts among the religions. So what maybe we should do is we should be having dialogue. Whenever there is conflict between the religions then they should come for dialogue.

ZA23 [39353-39698]

Not even other religions even in Islam, even in the religion of Islam conflicts cannot be done away with, because you may understand something and I understand the contrary. That is what brings conflicts and it remains because it happened during the life time of the prophet (SAW). It cannot be resolved to do away with you can only manage it.

ZA24 [48954-49254]

I do not agree with that. As I said Islam is a religion of peace. We should not engage ourselves all the time in fighting non-Muslims except we are doing self defense. May be as we are talking now somebody now came and said you are talking about our religion, so we can defend ourselves. That is it.

ZA25 [48755-49138]

Yes as I have said, there is a deliberate insertion of gaps between Islam and other religions to the extent that other religions are in darkness as regards the true picture, the true teachings of Islam. And in that situation once they don't understand, once they rate, they tend to perceive Islam by some of the practices of some Islamic adherents then conflicts are bound to exist.

ZA26 [22482-22545]

Please cast religion out. Mind conflict can never be avoided.

ZA27 [21797-21951]

Yes it cannot be avoided all the times because of political issues, and because of personal interests and because of the understanding of the religion.

ZA28 [35494-35602]

Yes it cannot be avoided because even among the religious leaders a times they sit and deliberate and they

ZA29 [49952-50347]

Well depending on the people. Conflicts from other religions can be avoided also, but it just depends on the people. When someone comes with the view on his own religion there is no need to start to bring on conflict. You people talk you know (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) say what is in your mind and I will say what is in my mind and if you are truly the person that is on the right path.

ZA30 [59774-60087]

Hmmm, it depends on the greatness of conflict, irin, I don't know, is really, it depends on the situation may be the way you are conducting yourself, even, let me just say, there are some certain things happening as a result of people, as I said earlier, that they are ahhh, they are illiterate pertaining Islam.

ZA31 [30747-31175]

So is not true, conflicts can be avoided, only if the priests, the religious leaders doesn't want it to be. May be if the conflict, if the conflict is resolved, they will lose their flocks, they will lose, they will lose what they use to have, most a times, religious leaders use to cause conflicts in order to have diversion in religion, in order to, in order, so that they would, so that they won't lose what they are having.

ZA32 [64576-65041]

It is not true, it can be avoided. Let us go back to what, to our proper teaching, proper teachings yes. The only thing I know will never be avoided is the differences, the separate, you cannot say people must be the same in their beliefs, no one can say that because (he recites the Qur'an) is because of that difference that they were created that is ... so you cannot say people must become one, under one umbrella, but the issue of violation can be stopped, yes.

ZA33 [25652-26112]

Yes because conflict is like a fire when you put water on it if you didn't put very well it will light again. So it is like setting a strong committee that can supervise regularly on the various themes that are involved in the conflict in order to avoid he occurrence of such conflicts in the future. Otherwise the conflict can still go without proper supervision, monitoring and doing righteous and justice to all parties that are involved in the conflicts.

ZA34 [44958-45176]

I disagree because you can live in peace with other religions provided you know your religion, they know their religion. They no their boundaries and you know you boundaries, you can live together successfully.

ZA36 [31479-32047]

It is true because normally no matter how close and understanding you are, maybe there will be a time you would bring a topic of discussion or you say something and people go against it, maybe it is not their own view, they don't agree with you, so you may likely have conflict with them. Everybody is free and there is freedom of speech. So it doesn't mean that because you say it everybody would agree with it. No, you agree with what you like and what fits your mind, you agree with that. So if other people do not agree, you may likely have conflict with them.

ZA37 [37632-37729]

It cannot be avoided, but it can be minimized. We should try and minimize it as much as we can.

ZA38 [43941-44107]

Yah it cannot be avoided based on personal understanding, but in the other way it is avoidable when the multi- religions adhere to the teachings of their holy books.

ZA39 [56078-56423]

Conflict with one religion cannot be avoided, like I said and defined conflict as a competing interest between one person and the other or between one set of people and the other. So what is understandable I mean what is seen in this by this people may not be seen by the other. So as long as this people exist, conflict can never be resolved.

Th15.4: Reaction to Tragedy in Religious Conflicts

FG1 [47385-47406]

Just leave it to God

FG1 [47408-47411]

No

FG1 [47413-47493]

Truthfully for me I will have bad picture of the religion that did that to me

FG1 [47495-47560]

And I will try as much as possible to make sure I bring it down

FG1 [47562-47596]

But there will be so much hatred

FG1 [47597-47669]

It is unforgivable (at this stage there was argument back and forth),

FG1 [47671-47719]

I will retelling it to my children to remember

FG2 [26518-26675]

Sir my reaction to this if I will be at the age that I am able or I will be able to challenge these people in return, I will never think of sparing a life.

FG2 [26677-26866]

Sir I disagree with what he said because as a Muslim it said that you should leave everything to God. Anything that happens it is destined by Allah, you should leave for God to intervene.

FG2 [26911-27366]

(F) Of course I have a different opinion as regards to what both of them said. I think my opinion is combining the both of Instead of not sparing anybody's life, for my properties that are destroyed I have to go for compensation. It is going to be tough fight between me and the government that is if I have the means. They have to compensate me. Then with regards to the loss of lives of family members I think I will leave that to Allah to recompense.

FG2 [27367-27642]

(F) This is something you can't even think of because to me I think the world has come to an end that is like generally. So me fighting, even if you don't kill someone, they must sure kill you, so it is better for you just to look for your own. Do me I do you that is all.

FG2 [27644-27893]

To be candid, I don't think there could ever be someone in this world today that could be able to hold it on when he lost everything in a religious crisis and have something to do and will not do anything. I don't think such kind of person exists.

FG2 [27894-27928]

(F) You rather go and die kawai

FG2 [27931-28328]

in fact most people, if you look at, let's take a wider view of Pakistanis and what is happening in the world today, you realize those people are having, those young men that are picking guns today and calling themselves freedom fighters, they are having this kind of mind due to what happened to them. They lost everything so they are ready to die and that is it. And this will happen to anyone.

FG3 [63637-64720]

My reaction I will go back to the scripture. Because there was somebody that came to rasul and asked him you should tell me something Islamically, he told him that (He quotes a Qur'anic verse) do not be angry, do not be angry, do not be angry. He repeated it three times. So whatever happens to you just take it as an act that God has already written to happen to you. When you leave somebody it might happen that, that person will be, how can I say it anyi masa gafara (he has been forgiven). So to also kill another person, there are conditions in jihad like I said earlier, even during war when you come across somebody that is not holding weapon, you cannot use your own weapon and kill him. You will keep your weapon and use your hand to catch him and tie him. You can't kill him. That is the condition. Rather maybe somebody kill my brother in Ilorin or let me say in Umahia then I will come and start killing somebody in Jos or somewhere, what did I do? We are all equal. The thing is that just stick to that scripture that rasul said that whatever happens leave it to God.

FG3 [64722-65315]

Yes to what he said. It is not easy let us say the truth. The fact is it is not easy to take it and consume it. We can say it now because it has not happened. But when it happens that is when you know it is not easy. But that notwithstanding (he quotes a Qur'anic verse) God is with the patient ones. So let's say, let's assume that we can try. The truth is that we always face it, but it is not easy to know that yes this set of people killed my father, my own mother at the same time. Destroyed my home and my property, you know it is not easy to take. But let's assume that we can take it.

FG3 [65317-65744]

But when we are talking about this issue, because we are talking islamically maybe what Islam, you know the reason why we are going out of Islam that is why all such things are happening. There is no condition that; there is not warranty in Islam to allow somebody to take laws into their hands. Not at all. The question is asking what will be your reaction-meaning taking law into your hand. It is not permitted islamically.

KD2 [30320-30463]

I just have to take heart and believe in destiny because that's what Allah has destined for me will happen. There's nothing I can do about it.

KD6 [48178-48469]

I have lost my properties all before and nothing like my reaction or this. So, I pray to Allah, Allah still give me other, he still give me abundantly. That time I don't have a car, I don't have a house, I don't have a wife, I don't have children, but now, I have everything, Alhamdulillah.

KD7 [38385-38526]

I cannot say, I just pray to God that I will be able to keep my heart, give my heart, the right push at the right at that moment of anguish.

KD8 [68446-68815]

I will not be happy, I will not be happy if it was created by people or deliberately, I will not be happy with the people, but if it is destined to happen like that, as a Muslim, I believe that anything that is good or bad it has been destined. So, I will have to now stick to my faith and believe that it has been destined and I will just be patient and pray to God.

KD9 [46791-47362]

What will be my reaction? Toh ah Inna lillahi wa inna ilahim rajiu from Allah we are and to him we shall return. It has been ordained ah it has been written that is going to happen. So what was going to affect you or what was going to happen to you was never going to miss you in the first place. So as a Muslim, you take it by your stride. But you go to the street to take revenge, you can't do that. You take it by your stride, you pray to allow Allah to give you the iman to accept what has happened to you and replace it with good in this world and the hereafter.

KD17 [56444-56819]

Sincerely speaking, as I said earlier it is a trauma because during that sharia time we lost some of our goods and up till now it still affecting our main stay, our source of employment, but we thank, we just keep the faith that it is God that provided the previous one and he is going to provide in the future, so we just keep up the faith and continue with the hard work.

KD19 [37894-38001]

Well, I'll be very sad, because it is not easy for one to lose everything for one to start all over again.

KD21 [29683-30194]

This is a difficult question to answer, looking at the fact that we have not been there before. Every particular single man has his own story. The man you see there today was there as a result of pain he has withstand. I have lost couple of friends I have lost couple of friends not by death but only because they find the environment not friendly to stay anymore. It was very painful. So I think it is less painful compared to the fact that somebody has lost his beloved family members and all his properties.

KD23 [28959-29108]

Okay my reaction will be ah pleading to the ah respective authority to compensate me, if I don't have, if I am not capable to recover my properties.

KD24 [87075-87353]

That is my reaction, I will feel sad, not that I will carry knife and say okay can you locate the house of those that kill your family, let's go and I will help, no, I will not do that because that one will not kill the fire. It will quench, it will bring the fire, inflame it.

KD26 [33423-33842]

Though I can react ah I won't react. I can only say that what I have got here you know all what I have it is given to me from God to Allah despite can if I can see myself without any properties I can also say that you it is God that you known taken is things because the property is not everything it belongs to Allah not that so what am I going to react I cant go and react to anybody and any parties you understand.

KD29 [26538-26837]

Well I will react ah as an internally depressed, I will become depressed with the situation and ah as a result of that I share an unsatisfactory ah view on the way the whole issue was resolved because it was ah politically hijacked and ah in turn it becomes something that ah has prolonged itself.

KD30 [48514-48972]

Well if, God forbid, in a religious conflict where we have ah the conflicts of course and I happen to lose loved ones, we are not praying for that, but if that happens, as a Muslim I should always accept ah qaddara accept it as a qaddara as something that is made to happen to me and there is no amount of grieve I would grieve to bring these people back, so I have to give thanks to God and ah and try to see how I can live the remaining days of my life.

KD31 [23803-23876]

Yah I will just accept it in good faith that is from the almighty Allah.

KD32 [35050-35741]

Ah this should be the post conflict trauma and this is another thing that is causing the occurrence of a conflict. I should expect the government or the international organization to be assisting people assisting people affected in the conflict because this post conflict trauma that this thing it used to stay in people's mind so they need assistance, they need help. So ignoring them is just like causing another conflict. This is what causes the reoccurrence of these conflicts, so I should be expecting the international organization, the government, all the NGOs trying to assist these people that are affected during these conflicts in order to prevent the recurrence of such a thing.

KD34 [37814-38231]

Ehm my reaction there, is very painful to lose a family or relations or property, but the reaction that I should take is that I will just take it as a qaddara that is a destiny because Islam teach us that we should embrace, that is one of the article of faith that we should embrace destiny either good to bad then I will pray for a recovery because definitely some you may recover, some you will not so that is it.

KD35 [36065-36433]

Ah in a situation where you lose your properties, you lose your members of your family ahh there is no ahh there is no I mean there is nothing to do other than to be calmed and say Inna lillahi wa ilayhim rajiun as God instructed. You stay aside and then be patient look at the situation of things, think of what to do next. I think there is nothing other than that.

KN1 [72395-72780]

As a Muslim there are seven conditions for you to be a complete Muslim. Qadr or destiny is part of it in good or evil I have to accept destiny whether it is good or bad. So if it happens in that way I have to as a Muslim based on my training as a Muslim I have to submit to God and say it is from him Inna lil lahi wa ilay him raji un – from God we are and back to him we are going.

KN2 [42771-42800]

It will not be a good one.

KN2 [43022-43285]

It has become something which is the order of the day in Nigeria so the best way is to go to the judiciary, write, make sure that it doesn't happen again because that does not mean it is not going to happen again. So take measures that it doesn't happen again.

KN4 [57035-57267]

Ah hmm, I can forgive because conflict has never done a good to any person. Conflict the only good things of war is its end.

Revenge has nothing but to cause another conflict and I can't survive as an animal in the wild. I forgive.

KN5 [37814-38041]

I will start looking for another ones and property and as for the family I pray for them eternal blessing of Allah especially what intention made me to fight that is what matters, eh what made them to fight it is what matters.

KN6 [42573-42936]

So, ahh I will try as much as possible to leave peacefully so maybe if ah this conflict is happening in some certain place, if I see that there is no way ah, unless to leave this place so I can leave this place but I would not involve myself into any conflict because Islamically, the Islamic does not teach us to involve in this conflict unless it is necessary.

KN7 [38250-38707]

Hmm mm that is faith. Ehmm as a faithful Muslim and as a Muslim that believes qadar that is faith, you believe in destiny, I think that is destiny. I have no other thing rather than saying alhamdulillah, saying Alhamdulillah for saving my life and saying alhamdulillah because Allah has all reasons for doing things maybe, maybe if I don't lose all my properties and families maybe things that are worse than that will happen to me, so I say alhamdulillah.

KN8 [36041-36060]

I won't be happy.

KN9 [32160-32347]

Well I am going to accept that as fate that has been ordained to me by Allah, but then I would also grieve my loss because it is natural for man to, you understand, to grieve for losses.

KN10 [25772-25926]

My reaction is that I will look for vengeance if it continues, but once it is resolved or solved, so that is all I can, I will be happy for it to solve.

KN11 [34142-34208]

So, you are-my reaction is to make patience, yes to make patience.

KN13 [37491-37598]

There is nothing you will do than to plead to Allah, than to plead to Allah to bless you with another one.

KN14 [31183-31318]

Very bad, very, is not something that is ah that's good, it's very bad and it will result to some psychological ah ah negative things

KN15 [25730-25933]

Hmmm, I think that's the most important you know part and is the most you know attribute that the holy prophet always asks us to do, I will be patient and I will submit everything to the almighty Allah.

KN16 [15400-15438]

I will take everything back to Allah.

KN17 [29972-30355]

my reaction is ah I don't there is no way I will react except I will just have to start back again because there is no court for you to go and fight for, just like ah a kind of ah its an unplanned crises whereby people are just actually galloping here in and out and they will destroy your property, so you just have to reorganise yourself and start there is nothing to do about tha

KN18 [52291-52617]

There will be post-conflict trauma, you will face a trauma. I think you have to take it, you have to bear it and you have to fight it within the confinement of the law, you have to seek for your right within the confinement of the law, report those that if you know and follow get your rights through the appropriate channels

KN19 [34629-34695]

Hmm, I will feel very bad, and so in a nutshell I won't be happy.

KN20 [24897-24957]

Ah God forbid but no human can take that in a lightly mind.

KN21 [17766-17799]

Inna lillahi wa ilayhim raji'una

KN22 [35713-35759]

I will leave everything in the hand of Allah

KN23 [23739-23822]

Well I will just have faith in God. I believe everything that happens is from God.

KN24 [22050-22065]

It will be bad

KN24 [22120-22151]

I won't fight back. It is fate

KN25 [35418-35534]

Well I will accept that as what has been ordained from Allah (SAW) although as human, I will feel terribly grieved.

KN26 [39653-40546]

yah I will take it to be kaddara that is just it, like I said, under normal circumstances the state is supposed to come in. There are certain responses to conflicts and along the line there are also strategies to resolve the conflict but the annoying thing about the conflict is that the deed, after the deed has been done you can't reverse it. For instance properties you can easily-you can bring back properties, some things are very valuable you can't bring it back, but largely a life cannot be replaced that is something we cannot...with so it is forgiveness, you just have to that is just it, you can't hold a grudge all the time you just have to forgive and it will be much more easier, like I said, if justice is being carried out. At least in a place that will give you solace to feel a bit relaxed at least you will be appeased is that even though that will not bring back your things

KN27 [27845-28016]

Well thank God for Islam and as a Muslim, as a true believer and as a mu'min you take everything as fate. Everything that happens to you comes from Allah, so it is fate.

KN28 [21541-21777]

Inna lillahi wa ilayhim rajiuna This is not what we are actually praying for because Islam is religion of peace and we never pray for such to occur and it is not what we are actually praying for. Isha Allah this will never come to us.

KN30 [19531-19667]

Ehm everything belongs to almighty Allah so he is the one that gives, he is the one that takes, so I will be contented and I will pray.

KN31 [36266-36511]

Well just like we know in Islam when something happens to you know they are bound to happen. You just have to take fate and we know that God is going to fight back for you. Even like secularly we know that you don't take laws into your hands.

KN32 [18039-18192]

as a Muslim I have been thought to accept this as a sign of faith and we call it Gadara in Islam. I'll take it as a sign of faith and I will simply say...

KN33 [13465-13496]

Well, leave everything to God.

KN34 [24787-24892]

My reaction, I will just wait for the law enforcement and the law to do what is right to do the justice.

KN35 [23531-23587]

Actually I will feel so bad so the situation will be...

KN35 [23612-23745]

So I can't do anything but ah just to take a critical look at the causes, I mean the genesis of the problem itself, why it occurred.

KN36 [23803-23949]

Yes I will react but I will believe that almighty Allah gave life and take away the life. So it is the work of almighty Allah that happens to us.

KN37 [22758-22835]

Unhappy honestly, and I think I might live with that for the rest of my life

KN38 [16650-16954]

I will be upset yes. I will feel very bad, but I don't think that will be a cause whereby I will engage into conflict myself. Islam has always put a barrier, try to make us understand and try to create annexus between us and peace that we must create peace we must make peace in a living in the society.

KN39 [26271-26631]

Ahm really of course missing some members of the family during conflict or religious conflict is something that will really keep on irritating the person, but I know whenever death comes, really one must to go, which means that death is necessary. Therefore I will really accept the situation because no one is immortal. Everybody should die one day one time.

KN40 [20990-21095]

I will react normal. I will just try to ignore it rather than involve myself or engage myself in conflict

KN41 [18266-18316]

I will believe that, that is how God ordained it.

KN42 [48208-48281]

I would be sad, but that would not make me want to hate or to revenge.

KN43 [34344-34568]

I am not hoping or aspiring to find myself in such kind of ah situation, so since I am not aspiring to find myself or to face this kind of ah problem, I don't think I have, I ehh, ehh, I would answer ahh, this ah question.

KN45 [40069-40857]

Yah ehh how I would react ehh I think hmm it is the political leaders that I would blame and maybe eh, I would never forgive because ehh if there is a good political leadership, they must ensure the protection of lives and properties of citizens and also political leadership shows the way for the citizens to live in peace. If there is that good leadership I don't think there would be a conflict in ehh in Nigeria because what I believe in is that Nigerians love ehh we love ourselves. The Christians love the Muslims, the Muslims ehh love the Christians. Ehh the Yourbas love the Hausas, the Igbos love the Hausas and the Hausas love the ehh two. What we need is ehh a leader, a leader that will bring out that love for ourselves, yah that would bring out ehh and actualize it, yah.

KN46 [60973-61372]

I will feel very sad, that is why I always feel sad when these things happen because I feel for my ahh other fellow citizens, how they find themselves. I never lost ehh a family member in such conflicts, but I always feel very very sad when it happens. Yes some family friends have lost some members and I happen to know about their loss and I really, really felt bad when I came to know about loss

KN47 [57763-58041]

Well, I will just follow proper channel. I will go to the government and report maybe there is this kind of ah ah intervention that the government does to the victims of such kind of menace then I would try to get help by them, by the government and my friends, you understand.

KN48 [19557-19608]

Hmm, it will be pained, it will be painful rather.

KN49 [30127-30184]

Actually, I would be very disappointed with the society.

KN50 [17205-17322]

Actually, I won't be, I won't be happy and ah all what I will, I will just believe that is everything is from Allah.

KN52 [57993-58148]

Ah this is quite a very difficult question because it involves emotions, it involves, you know, a decision that one has to make at a very emotional level.

KN54 [12655-12689]

Well that is destiny from Allah

KN55 [14766-14821]

Ok I can just say that is destiny and that is qaddar

KN56 [25482-25859]

Ok if I lose ah my reaction would be that I would take that, as a Muslim, I would take that in good faith why because in the past my family and properties are things that I don't know I would acquire but I acquired them. So I would take that as destiny and I would say that Allah that gave me in the first place without my knowing is the one to replace the ones that I lost.

KN57 [21133-21186]

I would only seek Allah's intervention in the issue

KN58 [47220-47319]

It is the will of God Allah has ordained it to happen to me like that. I accept it in good faith.

KN59 [50234-51014]

Actually if I am a victim of this, I would not forget, it would be something that would be very fresh in my memory, ever green in my memory and whenever I see those people involved in that, that led to the destruction of my property and my family members I would not be kind of friendly with them. It might always lead me to being aggressive whenever I see them, but as a Muslims I have to have faith and kind of overlook things. But to be sincere with you that hatred is there in me because I cannot just lose my family member and properties by some crooks or some non-believers and I would take it lightly with them, but nonetheless I can still bear it and accommodate what has happened to me which is Qadar in Islam which means that is how God has destined for you to be.

KN60 [37252-37624]

You see though it depends upon individual actually. to so many other people if they lose their family and properties, they would take it to be what God has ordained and that is part of what we call qaddara, you understand, and it is part of Faith, they are part of the pillars of Iman you have to believe in what we call Qaddara, anything that befalls you is from God.

KN61 [19176-19231]

As a Muslim I will leave everything to Almighty Allah.

KN62 [59765-60019]

Yah, I will just be patient because I know the God who gave me that can replace them with some more because when I came first, I did not have anything, and now I have it and it, it's all gone in a wink of an eye. It doesn't matter, no it will come back.

KN63 [50419-50799]

I will take it as act of Allah, you know, you know because when we have something like that, when we have a sort of conflict in the society, nobody knows the extent that it may go, you know, you lose your property, lose your people whatever, whatever in the essence, so you just have to turn to Allah and continue praying to him and be more devoted and pray against such things.

KN64 [29481-29566]

There is nothing I can do, what I, I try I submit everything to Almighty Allah, hmm.

KN65 [36626-36796]

Well there is nothing we can do, we just go back to what Allah has said Inna lillahi wa ilayhim rajiun that is all, we don't have much to do, there is nothing we can do.

KN66 [25436-25625]

I would be very, very sad, that would be my reaction, I would be sad. I would be very sad indeed but I would accept it because Islam teaches us to believe in destiny, so I would accept it.

KN67 [26556-26723]

Well you know as a man you will feel sad, but that would not be a reason for you to take arms against others as retaliation. So, my reaction would be as it should be.

KN68 [12605-12656]

Ehh as a Muslim, ahh I would take it as a destiny.

KN69 [45169-45452]

Well, as a Muslim I have to believe that whatever happen to me is from God and if I exercise patience as God commanded me to so, definitely I know that I will get, I shall get my reward during the day of judgment of Allah (SBUH). So I have to, I have to bear it, I have to bear it.

KN71 [75004-75047]

I will say inna lillahi wa ilayhim rajiun.

KN72 [39335-39570]

The only reactions on this is to, is to avoid any factor that leads to the existing of such occurrences. So I will say inna lillahi wa ilayhim rajiun which means I revere to God, and he is the only one that can solve such occurrences.

KN73 [40847-40944]

Ah I will have peace in my mind and have it that that is what Allah (SBUH) has planned it to me.

KN73 [40962-41178]

That when I lose my family or my property, and by conflict, I will have it in my mind that this is what Allah (SBUH) really destine for me and that there is nothing that I should fight back, I should not fight back.

KN74 [50120-50233]

I will just take it has a destiny, I will just say Inna lillahi wa ilayhim rajiun because is musibah it is fitna

KN75 [52673-52741]

I have no option, it is the will of Allah, it is an ordained thing,

KN76 [45907-46198]

Well actually, my reaction would be devastating, I would be devastated and ahh actually I would seek for well ahh what do you say, ahh what do you call this ahh for authorities to address the issue. All culprits or all those that participated in the conflict should be punished accordingly.

KN78 [62622-62640]

Is an assumption

KN80 [47485-47528]

I will submit myself to the will of Allah

KN81 [31942-32142]

Of course really I can be patient because am an human being, so I can bear because I am a human being, so it happened to other people before me so there is nothing I can do rather than to be patient.

KN82 [33212-33228]

It is very bad.

KN83 [24196-24386]

Wow. This is a serious case. What I can only do, I think , I will totally submitted myself to the holy, to the almighty Allah for him to provide solution for me. I think it will be better.

KN84 [27025-27167]

I will totally feel somehow bad, but the only way I will do is just to hand over everything to God because with him everything is possible.

KN85 [39830-40079]

This does not necessarily mean one should take ahh a revenge or a kind of vendetta, no. Aah whatever comes to a muslim he knows that it is from God, God has ordained it as such one will try to always try to be pacific because conflict is not good.

ZA1 [40188-40375]

One, I will accept this is destiny, as a Muslim this is how Allah (SBUH) destined it. Secondly, if I see there is a way to recover it, I will channel my problem through the right channel

ZA2 [49242-49594]

You see, if emm this is, we call it accident because some accident is when such kind of things happen, is what emm accidentally occur unexpectedly and at the end of the day we need to just understand what causes it and who caused this so that that person that cause it will call him why and how? Why does it occur? So the answer must be there, yes.

ZA3 [30272-30516]

Of course the reaction will be as terrible as when even your neighbor too will also lose their property and family members. It is never and is not the wish of the religion of Islam that you will make someone to lose his properties unlawfully.

ZA4 [51159-51240]

(he recites a verse of the Qur'an) What Allah has destined that is what happens.

ZA5 [33749-33826]

I will take faith ehnn I will take faith now. I will not be like Palestine.

ZA6 [74159-74221]

I will feel very bad of course. It is a very bad experience.

ZA7 [39336-40029]

Well I must say sincerely I don't think I will really be the same person and I think that is why most of the conflicts haven't stopped yet because if you lose someone you love or someone dear to you and you know who is responsible for that ahh for who is responsible for you loosing those persons or property or whatever you have lost that is dear to you, I don't think most people have the forgiven heart to let go. So I possibly, I am somebody that I don't think will just let go. I might not let go by fighting or by committing or causing it or casing violence, but I personally will be a changed person and though I have not really experienced that, but I think I will be a changed person.

ZA8 [77990-78994]

Hmm may God never allow that, but in my religion whatever, we are also taught to believe in God. There is what we call Qadar that is the destiny. So we are taught to believe in destiny whether good or bad. Now in a case where that will happen as a true Muslim am urged to believe that this is what God wants to happen and it might be a test for God to see how I will react. So there are many ways that we are taught that God can test us and God already mentioned it in the Qur'an, holy Qur'an that God says do not think that just because you are Muslims we are going to leave you alone like that, we will test you with hunger, loss of wealth, loss of a family members, loss of beloved ones to see if you actually are true in faith and believe in God. So as a Muslim, God has already said this in the Qur'an, holy Qur'an. Now if it is happening to you, you are supposed to believe that this is a test from God and you should always thank God and pray God to replace it with a better one and God will do.

ZA9 [44297-44849]

Well I can't really say now because most of the time, most at times when things have not happened to us we don't tend to know how we will feel to be, truth be told. There will be depression. I believe it will shatter my plans for the future, it will shatter my plans, depression will set in, different things and like they say an idle mind is the devil workshop. If at all I lose most of my valuables family members that can move me to like call for a revenge and bloodshed will never stop like that. It will be, the consequences will be very grave.

ZA10 [37317-37512]

I will accept that as fate, as what my religion told me that every good or bad that comes your way, be it conflict or any other thing, is from God. So I accept it as fate. So I will do nothing.

ZA11 [32055-32116]

That is how it is destined to be. That is the will of Allah

ZA12 [19925-19948]

I will keep to faith.

ZA13 [20673-20820]

Well, I will take it as a fate, this is a fate that comes from Allah. Allah has already designed it, it has already been put in place from Allah.

ZA14 [28162-28243]

I will take fate and I will believe that is the way Allah has destined it to be.

ZA15 [29465-29799]

Definitely you have to be patience because we have been told we will be tested (he recites a verse of the Qur'an), do you think you believe in the almighty and you just be left alone? So you must be tested. So is a way of test that is what I believe. So you be patient, is not through, you cannot achieve everything through violence.

ZA16 [21873-21925]

I will accept it in good faith that it is from God.

ZA17 [26951-27156]

That is qaddarat. I took it as qaddarat, you may lose any without the conflict of Islam or any religion. So if you, it happens that way you just have to submit to the will of Allah, (he recites the Qur'an)

ZA18 [31887-32045]

Toh I will say Inna lillahi inna wa ilayhim raji'un, as a Muslim whatever that happens to you, you refer everything to Allah, so he will come to your rescue.

ZA19 [48102-48452]

Well as a Muslim we are always been teached or taught rather that ah to submit everything to God almighty that is destiny. When actually you lose something, you know, is God almighty that gave you and confiscate that particular thing. That is why in my first statement, I said God gives and takes, he kills and he gives life, he wounds and he heals.

ZA20 [32254-32433]

I will pray unto God and think of how to think of other solutions that are suggested by the Islamic sharia. I will go by those suggestions that Islamic sharia allowed me to go by.

ZA21 [36838-37060]

Whatever you get is from God and whatever you lose is from God. This is one of the tenets of Islam. So whatever I get and I lose it during the conflict there is nothing I can do than to pray for God to give another time.

ZA22 [31395-31608]

If I should do that, if I am not the cause I won't mind. I know Allah will replace me with better even if it is me I know insha allah Allah will reward me for the calamity that falls of me if I am not the cause.

ZA23 [40014-40174]

It is something that Allah Subahana wa ta'allah has made us what do you call it a destiny. It is something that is destined and a Muslims believes in destiny.

ZA24 [49621-50014]

Hmm that is a great question and in fact if somebody loses his properties and members of his family. It depends on the magnitude of the conflict. Let's say the conflict is being established by Christians or by Muslims and a Christian loses his properties there is no how you will preach to that person that Islam is a religion of peace to agree with you. So it not good it is a bad eh habit.

ZA25 [49593-50189]

Hmm I am a Muslim, so I will know that eh one of the six cardinal principles of belief that is iman in Islam is al-iman bal qadab, whatever happens-if something if a particular thing has happened it has happened. If there is a legal means of getting a redress I will employ it. If there is none or it is impracticable and it is going to contribute into wasting of more properties and even lives then I will just have to pray for the departed, for the lost souls, members of my family and I will pray and trust in God that Allah that gave me the lost properties he is able to give me other ones.

ZA26 [22829-22857]

That is destiny, my destiny

ZA27 [22254-22441]

I will go back to book as a good Muslim you go back to book the teaching of the religion. What the book says about all these things. You cannot not just take laws into your hands.

ZA28 [35843-36014]

Well as a true believer you should know that whatsoever comes to you is from God. Allah and he can take away anything he feels like so you should just take it like that.

ZA29 [50890-51364]

Well to me when it comes to property and when it comes to members of my family are two different things. One, when it comes to my property those properties are given to me by the God almighty and I was born naked with no clothes on me, and God gave me all the clothes and property and he decides to take it away nobody can take it away from me, he decides to take it away. And when it comes to taking of my own family all living are to die, anybody that lives he is to die.

ZA30 [60979-61309]

So, my reaction will be, I know anything happens to me is written already that it will happen. So I will also refer back to God, whatsoever I lose, I know he will also pay me back. If I lost somebody, I know the time of that person has already reached whether with a conflict or without it, everything will never exceed that day.

ZA31 [31488-31616]

So conflict in religion as initial I said I didn't buy the idea of conflict, I believe conflict can be solved through dialogue.

ZA31 [31811-32351]

You see, like Islam teach us to be patient because God knows better, even though something miserable happens to you, if you can't fight it back, just leave everything in God's hands. I believe that will solve more problem because, let us assume because of religious conflict they kill your people and you said you don't agree even no matter some extent you reach, you can't get them back. So I believe before that happens, you should try by all means to avoid it, to avoid it not to even engage in other to be damaged, to damage your life.

ZA32 [65916-66318]

Hmmmm so I will react by exercising patience as a Muslim, I put my believe in what, I believe in destiny be it bad or good and it is part of ahhh the pillars of faith in Islam. So I will react by what, by praying and asking Allah for the way out from that because I believe Allah has given me all what I possess and when lack I it or when I lose it, I know it is from Allah yes. (recites the Qur'an).

ZA33 [27082-27704]

Yes, first I have to endure and leave things to almighty Allah because he knows and he is the knower and he knows everything. So now I will now plant a plan on how to see that such conflicts shouldn't occur in future through proper dialogue of various parties. However, some donor agencies- I can seek some help from donor agencies on the loss of the properties I have lost, but I can't and of course to some extent I can go to Insurance company I registered to have a life compensation with the family members I lost. But the proper thing is to endure and leave things to almighty and through a kind of harmony setting.

ZA34 [46555-46928]

I agree that it is a test from Allah- wa lalna bulu wannaku (recites more) just agree that it is from Allah that Allah wanted to test you and Allah assured you that he will be testing you in your wealth, in your life and other things. Just take it as a test from Allah. And then forget about what happened, know that it is a test and Allah (SBUH) is going to reward you.

ZA36 [33325-33577]

I would be sorrowful, I would be so morose and sad though there is nothing I can do, I would hand everything to my creator Allah and I would be praying for mercy because it is beyond my power, there is nothing I can do, I would hand it over to God.

ZA37 [38069-38240]

To create another conflict for me to revenge? Should I do so? What can I do next? Should I create another conflict for me to revenge? I should not do that. I should not.

ZA38 [44789-45041]

The reaction would be a sober mood, you understand, the reaction would be a sober mood, but then what would you do in a society? God is the Supreme Being, you leave the whole thing for God, but you should make sure that this thing should be avoidable.

ZA39 [57054-57225]

Ahm I would react, I will consider it to just be an act of God, one and I would strive hard to make people understand that religious conflict does not change one's faith.

Research Question 3

Th16: Consequences of Fundamentalism on Christian-Muslim Relations

Th16:1: Non-Muslim Religious Propagation within Muslim Territories

FG1 [52883-52973]

No it is not like that. They should be allowed to but sometimes they can be so annoying

FG1 [52975-53029]

In a secular state like Nigeria it should be allowed

FG1 [53030-53461]

In state like yours if they want to preach they just enter your house without permission and in Islam it is not right. For example somebody that is not married to your wife will just come and ask your wife anything. That is where they are mistaken. They enter houses without permission. There should be a proper way. Because I know people in my state talk to them, they sit down and chat together with permission not forcefully.

FG1 [53463-53577]

And there are times when things not ought to be done like late in the night you will hear them reading something

FG1 [53578-53629]

There should be ethical and cultural observations

FG1 [53631-53688]

They should learn the ways of others and live with them

FG2 [43129-43259]

(F) In the first place who even made the place a Muslim environment? When during the life of the prophet there were Christians.

FG2 [43262-43377]

F) If I may ask, does that mean the Muslims should live on their own and the Christians should live on their own?

FG2 [43431-43778]

(F) No I don't think that is avoidable because all we are trying to have is a whole Nigeria. No no that is not an idea because all we are trying is to have a single, a whole, just one where there is peace and stability. Meanwhile if you are allowed to go on your own stop calling me towards what you think right for me then I don't think.... kai

FG2 [43780-44581]

Well to me to be frank I think, I would not say it shouldn't be allowed, but I will say it should have limits because if there is anything that could easily spark conflict, let's come back to conflict now, in the society in the northern Nigeria today is non-Muslims propagating their religion to Muslims. It is totally prohibited for a Muslim to renounce his religion to another and most especially in Nigeria today where Muslims and non-Christians are the majority. For the non-Muslim in the Muslim territory should I say territory as you mentioned, calling for Muslims to leave their religion could easily spark misunderstanding. They will this people are calling us to Kufr and it sparks, so I think even it would be allowed it should have some specified limit in order not to cause conflicts

FG2 [45567-46140]

My opinion is that in as far as they will be allowed to live in an Islamic environment or in a Muslim environment, they should be allowed their own rights also to propagate their religion because in Nigeria I believe the problem we are having is that the problem emanate from Southern Nigeria, this is where the problem emanates from. That is why most places in the north they don't allow Christians, if it is a Muslims environment to build their places of worship. But ideally, ideally any person living in an Islamic state is allowed to practice his own religion.

FG2 [46171-46478]

I think they should be allowed, they should be given assurance that any Christian that are in the state of Muslims should be given opportunity freedom to express their religion because even in times of the prophet there was an unbeliever where there were giving the freedom of preaching and other things.

FG2 [46480-47456]

(F) Just as they say, abi doka a zauna lafiya (follow the law and live peacefully). The provision of the constitution contemplates whether a state can adopt a single religion as its state religion. If we are to go by that since there is no state that is permitted to adopt a single religion as its own state religion then any person can have the right to stay wherever he wishes if it is within the territory of Nigeria and practice whichever religion he wants to in so far as he does not violate or cause any Chaos within the society. That is the only thing. So if we can go back to the provision of the constitution by not saying ah this is our state so you will not do this and that we can have peace. He should practice his religion and I also practice my religion. I believe also there is a verse of the holy Qur'an that says this. You do your own and I do mine. So there is no compulsion in religion. Do your own and I do mine and we live peacefully. That is just it.

FG3 [81942-81955]

I disagree.

FG3 [81968-82103]

because every Sunday I use to receive pamphlets inside my shop and inside my room. Usually I have pamphlets uncountable so I wonder.

KD1 [62431-62910]

That would amount to infringing their, infringing their right to freedom of religion and speech or expression. But I think restrain should just be made because at every instance, we have our own em intuition and we have our own reasoning. So you don't come to a mosque and be preaching Christianity there, you don't go to a church and be preaching Islam there. Because by that, you actually insulting their sensibility and will cause some provocation that will not be palatable.

KD2 [33782-34077]

No, both should be allowed, in fact, I don't think there is any territory that for Muslims or any territory that is purely for Christians. They can both live together and do their responsibilities. They can go there and propagate their Islam, their religion without being disturbed or harassed.

KD3 [24576-24663]

They are permitted to propagate their religion, their faith within Muslim territories.

KD4 [56896-57019]

I disagree with this assertion. Islam does not say you should deprive anybody from propagating or practicing his religion.

KD5 [33166-33229]

I think they should be allowed, but they should do it slowly.

KD6 [50858-51121]

I can say no everybody is free. So, for a while, I understand what you people are saying. If Muslims cannot go to predominantly Christians' place to preach, why Christians cannot come to, I still tell it, is still we just have to sit down and talk and dialogue.

KD7 [40048-40223]

If they are in a wholly Muslim society, I believe it is calling for problem. They shouldn't propagate there. They can go and propagate where they believe their followers are.

KD8 [73883-74175]

They should be allowed, they should be allowed because by the time you will say you will not, I mean you will not allow them to come, you are denying them of their constitutional rights and you also have, you have the right to go and preach in their own community. So they should be allowed.

KD9 [50111-50558]

I won't agree with that. Like I said earlier, it is just that it should be streamlined. Why or how? They should preach what their book says and they should be ready to dialogue and with that there will be peace. I said it earlier, if they say it the way it is in their book and I compare it with what I have as my opinion then we can move forward. Then that will be true preaching not forcing your opinion on me or I trying to force mine on you.

KD10 [38321-38510]

Ah they should be allowed. The Muslim territory ah the Christians and non-Muslims? They should be allowed now, but it must be, you know, in a very good way that will not be in provocation.

KD12 [41649-41781]

Yes it is true, if it is within the Muslims territory it means the religion that is attainable around that area is only the sharia.

KD13 [19746-20225]

There is no how we can stop this because the Christians are saying, are required by the Bible to go outside there and reach out to the people, so also the Muslims are required to go outside there for da'wa. Now you see there is no how we can avoid people from one community not going to another community, only there should be tolerance because perfectly whatever you accept for yourself there is freedom of worship. So they are bound to keep moving from one angle to the other.

KD14 [25313-25341]

I have no comment on that.

KD15 [32778-33004]

It is not possible. Christians are free, Muslims are free, everybody is free. The life itself, the world itself is a free world. So you can go for any religion you want so far you won't go against the law of other religions.

KD16 [21292-21324]

I don't think that is possible.

KD17 [59239-59857]

Yes because issues like this you know can cause conflict, by the time you start calling other people's children then the dad is around or the people are around, you are calling them and trying to confuse the children on the practice of their faith, they will not be happy. This can cause issues, if you know these are the limits of these people, respect their religion, respect their limit and you know your limits so just leave it, by the time okay just go to the media house anyone that wants to follow you will follow, but you don't need to come and start meeting people one on one, no, I think that is very wrong.

KD19 [40508-40982]

Well, eh I quite agree with that because the religion of Islam does not permit conversion, once somebody has accepted the religion or is born into the religion, you cannot change. So I don't think there is any room for a non-Muslim to come and start preaching to a Muslim to convert to his religion. Perhaps it is the other way round, everybody is born a Muslim. So if somebody is a Christian, the religion allows for you to go and try to revert him back to the religion.

KD20 [33770-34452]

I think they should be allowed to propagate their religion in the Muslim territories in the sense that in a Muslim territories, let's use Zamfara as an example when Yarima was their governor, we still have some Christians and they are still practicing sharia in Zamfara. So the Christian are allowed to go to their church every Sunday even though even though there are some Christians that use to go to their fellowship apart from Sunday and Muslim people were doing their own, so I think they should be given the equal right to practice their own religion since they are not going to interfere in our own in our own rules and regulations which is being given to us by Allah (SAW).

KD21 [33607-33896]

I think the writer here is right. How they said eh they say vaccine is ah better than medication. You don't want to suffer the loss of converts, killing converts as such, so I think the best avenue is to deny them the environment to come and pick on your weak points to join their faiths.

KD23 [31139-31299]

No, ah they should be allowed, yes they should be allowed because they are living in the state or they are living in the country, they have rights to do that.

KD24 [90796-91418]

Well, if a church will be allowed to be built in the Muslim territory, then I think the church is a place whereby the religion is being propagated, well is allowed only that the way it should be propagated should be well noticed and orderly because if someone is not a Muslim, a non Muslim or a Christian and living within the territory of the Muslim and bringing out loudspeaker preaching his religion and while he is one out of hundred, this one we will say is bringing problem and he is causing problem and he wants problem, but if he enters into his church preach there anyone that wish to hear him he will follow him.

KD25 [100183-100473]

Well in as much as the faith they are propagating is in their places of worship, there is no problem. But for them to come out in an open places and start calling people that to come to come and ah and embrace Christianity for that is the only religion that one, it will not be tolerated.

KD26 [35651-35846]

I don't think it is allowed within Muslim territories. Yes as long as it is any other place, it is fine, but because if you come in to propagate and anything happens to you, you are on our own.

KD27 [34893-35024]

Ordinarily they shouldn't, ordinarily because it forms the basis of the conflicts that we always encounter in northern societies.

KD28 [43572-44079]

Well I don't believe in that. I don't believe in that because the Christians or the non-Muslims they come if they are propagating their own religion to your own level of understanding you can ask them this from that and let them you know where they have misstep because all they have caused even Christianity as it is, is already compare completely in Islam and you can tell them better in Islam what it means. Let them understand what it is. It is not that yes they should not be allowed to, they can do.

KD29 [28245-28424]

Ah this one will not be the solution because through positive propagation all these differences, all these vices that ah bring about conflicts within the two will be trashed out.

KD30 [52397-53010]

Well in a secular state you will see you see we don't have any other, there is nobody that can stop you from practicing or propagating your religion wherever you so wish unless you feel ah maybe too scared because you can't just go in the middle of an Islamic ah locality and maybe open up to start ah calling people to directly join your religion, but there is no any rule that say you should not do it and there is nobody I think that will even come and confront you but naturally you feel you are the one that is just going to feel something or maybe not so secure, but there is nothing wrong and is possible.

KD31 [25050-25231]

Eh actually is not like it shouldn't be allowed that's if we have proper understanding of both religions I don't think that should be a problem to us that shouldn't be any problem.

KD32 [37819-38297]

Eh in a totally participated Islamic state I think eh in a religious community it is not accepted, but it is not compulsory, there is not any compulsion for anybody accepting any other faith. There is tolerance for that, but it has its own limitation based on the agreement under the Islamic law, based on Islamic state, when you are living in Islamic state we have an, we used to have an agreement with the people of that state, but preaching to fellow Christians is allowed.

KD33 [32229-32412]

Yah I believe I agree with that, Muslims, that non-Muslims or Christians should not be allowed to propagate within Muslim territories because this will engineer or lead to conflicts.

KD34 [40912-41020]

Hmm definitely they were allowed to do so as long as there is no misquotation, misinterpretation of Islam.

KD35 [39239-40059]

Ah depending on the number of people in a particular area. If for an instance a Christian should go to Rigasa in Kaduna in Igaba local government in Kaduna state, a Christian should be allowed to go there and preach then there must be trouble. If ehm a Muslim preacher should be allowed to go to Sabon Tasha or Turkaniya or whatever definitely there should be trouble. In such a situation you use mass media system and preach, he who likes to hear that will go by his own radio set or TV set and listen to the preaching, so this is it, not personally you carrying yourself down to an area where 99 percent of the people there are Christians while you are a Muslim, a Christian will walk down to Rigasa when ninety nine percent or hundred percent people there are Muslims to preach then he is causing a lot of trouble.

KN1 [81223-81440]

I disagree that is the statement of cowards. I am a business man, if my goods are superior to your own come to my territory ehn market your goods, my goods will speak for itself, simple.

KN1 [81555-81965]

It is not a serious ...I told you about the treaty of hudabiyya when the non Muslims are saying that when somebody converts into Islam he should be returned to them and while if somebody converts from Islam to ... he should not be returned and the prophet has mentioned that as far as you are a Muslim, that is our belief, you will not convert to other religions as far as you are practicing the right religion.

KN2 [47944-48008]

Well that one might simply be defensive. It is simply defensive

KN4 [60382-60733]

It is not true, Christian or Bible church before the coming of this democracy or before 1999 they move around though some from Jehovah witness they even share books among amongst amongst people even I have one book that is called searching for God. They interact with everybody it is just the politicians that makes things to be so. They are allowed

KN5 [39412-39553]

Yes they should not be allowed to do that as that may lead to some conflicts, which is not good, which is not what is needed in the society

KN6 [46291-46908]

we can allow them to propagate their own religion because in Islamic state there is provision of building this church and other Islamic and other religion propagation but it should be based on some certain rules and regulations. So there is no violation of right, there is no violation of other religions, so you can do this and even Muslim preachers must be what, must be ah must be ah for, must be treated with some certain rules and regulations. So we can't allow even a Muslim to go and preach without some certain rules and regulations. So, how can you allow a Christian to do it without rules and regulations?

KN7 [41107-41413]

Ehm, I don't think that is ehm relevant enough. I don't think it is. You can propagate your religion as long as it does not affect and as long as it does not cause any crisis within the society. I don't think it is relevant enough to not allow both Muslim and non-Muslims to propagate their religion. Yes.

KN8 [37960-38160]

Yes, I think is, is not something encouraging enough. It is better for them to relocate somewhere else or create an avenue for them to live peacefully, so that they would not be conflict of religion.

KN9 [34151-34350]

Well in order to avoid conflicts you have to, you have to trim all the avenues for promulgation of their religion. if they have to do that, they have to do it elsewhere in order to ensure peace, hmmm.

KN10 [28339-28624]

Ah because it is impossible in a Muslim state, a non-Muslim to come and become a superior in his activities, so of course there ah must be restriction for them if they want to propagate their faith or whatever, they can first accept the condition that will be given to them at first.

KN11 [36092-36154]

No, they are all allowed to propagate their ah religion, yes.

KN13 [39091-39249]

Hmm, why? they should be allowed because definitely they should be given a particular leverage of worship since they are a member of that particular society.

KN14 [33121-33124]

No

KN15 [27071-27199]

Yeah I think they should not be allowed honestly to propagate their faith within Muslim territories. Yah, I think this is that.

KN16 [16487-16584]

They should not be allowed to propagate their faith within Muslim territories, it is a good idea.

KN17 [32746-33045]

They should they should be allowed to propagate because even Islamic states there are still some sects that is actually they are members of this particular societies, but they are non-believers they are not and they are being allowed. So I think they should be allowed to propagate their religions.

KN18 [55418-55460]

I can't say anything about this because

KN19 [36131-36197]

Yes, because their view will be negating the view of the Muslims.

KN20 [26582-26763]

Islamic states, ah ideally they should have their own rights, but when it comes to Islamic state, they can't propagate their own religion at all, it is a totally wrong thing.

KN21 [19073-19248]

Ah what will I say, what will I say, what will is say, ah I have told you earlier on that I am not that versed in Islamic studies, so you have to refer it to Islamic clerics.

KN22 [37439-37635]

Yah, actually going through the teaching of the prophet and going through that treaty of early, Christian treaty of early generation, non-Muslims are given the rights to propagate their religion.

KN22 [37706-38487]

It is not Hudabiyya. Hudabiyya, treaty of Hudabiyya is a treaty between the Muslims and non-Muslims on how to perform hajj, you understand, in which the non-Muslims were saying, were of the view that Muslims cannot come to Mecca from Medina and perform hajj. you understand. So there is this in which Muslims are then outnumbered or is strong in terms of military capability. They can go there forcefully and perform their hajj but the prophet said no, the prophet did not in one time advocated for violence. He said no, let's have a consensus, let's have agreement. They said ok this hajj can be performed next year. Then in which some of the prophet's companions were no, why next year, we every capability, he said no, let's leave it till next year. This is Hudabiyya treaty.

KN23 [25150-25177]

No I don't believe in that

KN24 [23727-23746]

No, it's allowed.

KN24 [23803-23856]

They should be allowed to propagate their own faiths

KN25 [37584-37900]

Well Christians should not be allowed to propagate their religion within Muslim territory because it is a breach of contract. It is like a threat to walk into an Islamic conference trying to promulgate your religion. So I think whatever the Christians will do it has to be outside the confines of an Islamic state.

KN26 [42572-43736]

Hmmmm I don't know how to largely put this but the most important is that just respect other people's space, you understand, you can practice your – you can have a church to Christian area but, you know, there have been reports of various Commissions of Inquires into crisis in Kaduna, Plateau state, which I have been privileged to lay my hands on some of the documents and largely some of the underlying factors that these committees recommend at different levels of different states is that speakers that is amplifiers should not be mounted on external walls of places of worship. For instance you don't put, you don't echo what is it in the church outside, do you understand, and also Muslims also, yah though for Muslims it can be because of the adhan it will be a bit difficult but it can largely be implemented and also some states like-in the Fiba Lagos mostly in the island at some point I think-I don't know how established that is but there is-I think it is not a law as such, no it is a law that has passed through that all these external speakers or amplifiers should be removed yes and some communities in Lagos, very small anyway are observing that.

KN27 [30831-31089]

There should be as long as it does not affect the practices of Islam. I think they should be giving a separate place for them to practice their own religion for as long as there is freedom of religion. So they should be allowed to propagate their religion.

KN28 [23168-23246]

No, no, no this is just a tentative issue. This statement is not even correct

KN30 [20822-20844]

This shouldn't be so.

KN31 [40756-41212]

Well they should be allowed to because everybody has his own faith. God who laid down these religions have a reason for doing that. Just like you who is writing an exam and you have a question that is A, B, C, D, which means they are giving you an option. The right answer is there but you tick which you think is the right answer. So that is how religion is. Any which one you feel you can take to hereafter. So everybody should be allowed to propagate.

KN32 [19730-19942]

I think I have answered this question before, even if Christians are allowed to propagate their faith in Muslim communities' think it should be restricted and limited in some way because it is an Islamic state.

KN33 [14484-14554]

Well they practice their religion but only in their own territories.

KN34 [26905-27100]

I don't think this should be allowed. They are entitled to their own opinion that is the beauty of a secular state. They should be allowed to propagate their own religion without any hindrance.

KN35 [25862-26317]

No I can't agree with this assumption because the Muslims and non-Muslims and Christians they are also inhabitants of the earth, so they have the right to live on the surface of the earth and so they can practice their religion since Islamic state that is a state where sharia is being practiced did not prohibit them from staying in that society or that very land, so definitely they have a way of practicing their religion, they can coexist peacefully.

KN36 [25657-25941]

No they can be allowed as far as it cannot go contrary to the sharia because even during the Rasulu we are being taught that Result lived peaceful with non-Muslims and because of his justice and fairness to them he even encouraged some and convert some to practice or become Muslims.

KN37 [24406-24438]

Why not they should be allowed.

KN38 [18645-18774]

Yah I think they shouldn't be allowed because the religion prohibits so. In order to prevent conflicts issues, they should not.

KN39 [28587-28814]

Actually we cannot say so because we have already been taught by Islamic rules and regulations that Islam is not a type of religion whereby adherence or converts are needed through force but rather through peaceful procedures.

KN40 [22773-22899]

Christians should be allowed to worship their God and make their preaching within themselves especially in their territories.

KN41 [19724-19802]

I think this is true to some extent because doing that can lead to conflicts.

KN42 [52043-52142]

Hmm, it shouldn't be like that. They should be given freedom of their own religious worship as well

KN43 [37334-37366]

I cannot say anything on this.

KN45 [44034-44491]

No, I don't agree. Ehh propagation at least if ehh if there ehh should be a right, yes. If that propagation is ehh conducted within the law. So there is nothing wrong with it. If ehh for a Christian, for Christians to propagate Christianity in the Muslim's community, there is nothing wrong in that. They can do their preachings if they are within the law, within the law of the land and ehh they are free to move freely anywhere in the Muslim communities.

KN46 [65593-66259]

Well I don't get it, I don't get the, but if they, they, they question means that Muslims should not be allowed to propagate their religion and ahh controlled Christian territory, and also Christians are not or should not be allowed to propagate their religion in a Muslim controlled ahh territory, then I would say that depends on what the leadership ahh ahh sees will bring the peaceful coexistence we are looking for. If it would serve that interest, then it should be promoted because all what we are looking for is peaceful coexistence. If that is achieved through employing that mechanism, I don't have problem with that because the end is what matter, peace.

KN47 [61445-62090]

I think I say they should, they should be allowed because I say there are, there is even one way which is very difficult for the society to even hinder you from propagating your religion which I call ah senior, social media, you understand. So if you use social media, you can just propagate your religion and actually even in the Muslims society you should not be discouraged, or you should not be ah ah forbidden to propagate your religion if you are a Christian or if you are following other African religion, you understand. You should be allowed to it because you are allowed to go to church you just go and do your religion and propagate.

KN48 [20962-21078]

I think this world we are is a free world, hmm nothing like that actually, there shouldn't be something like that.

KN49 [31422-31573]

I think it depends on the existing order. Its eh it's a scenario in which eh we have to look at the situation before we can give cogent judgments.

KN50 [18687-18790]

This is absolutely not true because in a Muslim society there are places for worship, for non-Muslims.

KN52 [63418-63835]

That is very wrong it is not Islamic, it is anti-Islamic because it contravenes the fundamental principles of religious freedom which is one of the things you know that is categorically enshrined in the sharia. There is no compulsion of religion and therefore non-Muslims must be allowed to also practice their own religion and practicing their own religion will entail by extension also preaching their own religion

KN54 [13600-13663]

Ok they should also allow us to do that in their territories

KN55 [16243-16391]

Ok if they want to propagate their faith in our own territory, they should also allow us to propagate faith in their territory. That is vice versa.

KN56 [28092-28559]

Actually ah this is, let me say, this should be a tit for tat thing. If they allow us or if they are allowing us to propagate our Islamic faith and teachings in their territories there in the South, the East, and the Western part of Nigeria I think we can also allow them. But if they are not allowing us, I think we should not allow them. We should not allow them because the way they view their religion as superior is the way we view our religion as superior,

KN57 [22649-23141]

You see, I believe that Christians and non-Muslims propagate their faith in Islam or Muslim states. Take an example, Kano, Kaduna, Jigawa and other states. Christians build their Churches, do worship all the times especially Saturdays and Sundays and I see no reason that people would say that Christians are not allowed in Islamic territories to propagate. You see, it is something that is open, we see it, we hear it and we experience it. So they are allowed, they are allowed, honestly.

KN58 [50013-50206]

If it would cause crisis then there should be a demarcation, but if there would be mutual understanding between the Christians and the Muslims, they should be allowed to propagate their faith.

KN59 [54782-56731]

Yes the Christians should not be allowed because by being allowed it can lead to misunderstanding because if you take a look at the Muslim, it is not because I am a Muslims that I am siding my own religion, hardly would you see a Muslims man engage himself in evangelism, hardly. It is very rare. To me I haven't seen a Muslim engage in evangelism. They don't even it is not that they don't encourage but they don't impose force on you to practice their own din unlike a Christian man, they would use money, they would use all sorts of things, they would use prayer, they would use magic just for you to practice their own din, but a Muslim man's action and good deeds is enough for you to embrace Islam and that is what is even happening because there is one guy in my school during the Ramadan fasting, not in my school, in the place I served during Ramadan, wallahi tallahi the way he sees the cooperation among our Muslim brothers, he felt envy because you see a person, one person would just volunteer for our iftar bude bakin mu, a person would just volunteer, he would just call the Muslim brothers within that locality that they should come and break their fasting in my place, you can see a person would spend N5000 just for breaking of fasting, he would cook food, so he was asking are we the ones that contributed the money we said no, we didn't contribute any money, he then said how? And I responded that is our own nature because we are brothers and we live in peace that is how we normally do, not only in this state, when you go to other states that is how they are doing. So he was moved with that love, with that thing we did, so he was like had it been I was there he would even have felt to embrace Islam but due to limitation of time so I did not give him the courage to embrace Islam. So by allowing the Christians to kind of propagate their din in a Muslims state it can lead to problem. Let their action speak for them.

KN60 [39202-39256]

I think I have said something about this in the past.

KN61 [20529-20643]

Yah, it is true, it is supposed to be like that because the majority are Muslims, they are not supposed to do it.

KN62 [63854-64033]

They should be allowed, Christians and non-Muslims should not be allowed, I don't believe in that. I believe that everybody should do what he can to propagate his religion, yah.

KN63 [55333-55979]

Nobody is preventing them from doing that. They should do it in a proper manner. Stay in their worshipping place and propagate their religion. Ahh ah we do have various churches here in Kano, even close to us here there are churches and in their-what do they do? Are they not preaching their faith? Ahh so preachers are going there and they are propagating their faith, nobody is stopping them ah, they should have a proper manner of- not like just bribing people, given them arms, and trying to use that to convert them or provide them with jobs, all those things is abuse, influencing them because, before they become the Christian whatever.

KN64 [31017-31043]

Nobody ah prevent them.

KN65 [38692-38991]

No. well for now since ah already a mindset has been formed, for peace to reign I think Christians should not be allow to propagate their faith within the Muslim territory, yes I think ah for peace at least for now. Things have gone very, very bad, so for that I think ah it should be like that.

KN66 [27120-27196]

No. That is not right because in Muslim, Islam, they shouldn't be allowed.

KN66 [27260-27281]

Yes, for peace sake.

KN67 [28832-29137]

No. They should be allowed because when you are not allowing them that is when you are creating problems and that is when you are telling other people that your own religion is not the true religion. So allow them, then you compare, people would be given the choice to choose which one is best suit them.

KN68 [13624-13684]

They should also allow us to do that in their territories.

KN69 [51198-51823]

Is it, you say Muslim territories, we have Muslim sects I don't understand you. If you say Muslim territory, probably it is not necessary to be a Muslim state, but if you say Muslim state, your statement is definite. Definite in the sense that a state where Islam is operating, no that is sharia, but Muslim territory could be any other territory whereby the Muslim are dominant but sharia is not applicable there. So whether Muslim territory, based on my interpretation or on my understanding, whether Islamic state, a Muslim, a non-Muslim could be allowed to live in a Muslim state subject to certain terms and conditions.

KN71 [80476-81892]

Because if, as far as I am concerned there, we must understand this issue of individual difference. That individual difference took us to the point of giving each and everybody as a citizen of Nigeria the right to practice his own religion. If you should say a Christian should not come to my religion domain and preach, what if they say there is same thing? Then there is a problem because they have that right too. But as I am saying and I keep saying, the whole issue is dialogue. If you are coming to preach, as issue of trinity, you must have carried with you concrete reasons that will, to convince me that God is three, instead of one and if I am coming to do that, I should do the same thing. I avoid abusive words a Christian coming to preach to Muslims, you should know the term to use, you shouldn't be using abusive words. If you are coming to preach to me about the, I come with concrete reasons that convince you that God is one instead of three, when we understand ourselves, that is all. But the issue is this whenever you see a Christian coming to preach we say ah he is just trying to abuse us. His religion says God is three, let us understand him that, that is the teaching. My own religion said that God is one. Jesus is not God, he is rather a son and a servant of Allah. They should know this is the teaching of my religion. So let me prove myself, let them prove themselves too, that is all.

KN72 [42023-42422]

I can't say that because in Islam or Islam, there is no hindrance on any non-Muslims to propagate his religions. The only thing is that it is necessary for the Muslims or it is prohibited for any Muslims to be persuaded to convert into another religion. It is a part of the Muslims only, but not a part of others. They can propagate them, their religions I mean, they can propagate their religions.

KN73 [42758-42827]

They should not be allowed, they should not be allowed to propagate.

KN73 [42876-42950]

Because that is what Islam has guided us that they should not propagate.

KN73 [43258-43536]

we don't know how this propagation to them means. That's why we say they would not allowed. If it is just normal propagation as we have it in Islam, let them come and do it. But we don't know to what measure and instruments they use to propagate their religion or their faith.

KN74 [52466-52914]

This, am not agreeing with this because we live together with many non-Muslims and yes they are doing it, even if you go to the hospital you will find out that every Sunday non-Muslims that is the Christians use to go to the hospital, visit the patients, distribute the pamphlet and whatever it is and preach the people to their religion, even in our radio station, we have the program that will give them to propagate their Christian activities.

KN75 [57319-57421]

Is not possible to deny their right of a religion, their right of a religion should be given to them.

KN76 [48145-48427]

Actually I agree that they should not be allowed to propagate their religions to Muslims because as we all know that religion is a very sensitive issue, but if somebody finds his way to where they preach, and they do not come directly to preach for him, there is nothing bad in that

KN78 [65847-65919]

Why not we are living in one country call Nigeria in a secular Nigeria.

KN80 [49221-49547]

Yes, but not only Christians even the Muslims ah should not be allowed to propagate directly, but they are propagating indirectly within the places of their own worship, but it is against the ah ah ah humanity to spread into the ah habitation or areas where predominantly belongs to the other religions and propagate...

KN80 [49950-49999]

Yes because it is in order to avoid the crisis.

KN81 [35479-35606]

Okay yes I understand they could not propagate the meaning of the propagation of their faith okay propagation now I understand

KN82 [34594-34663]

No it is wrong. They should be allowed to propagate their religion.

KN83 [26786-26809]

No. They are allowed

KN84 [29613-29865]

I think Christians they shouldn't just be disturbed by saying they must build a church inside where Muslims are living, they should just be, you know, they shouldn't bother of say that they taking away to participate their faith and so on and so forth.

KN85 [42885-43443]

No, non-Muslims can exist, can live in the Muslim society and they should be allowed to practice their own religion as it is in their own sacred books. They should be allowed, is just that some of the activities should not be carried out in Muslim localities. For instance, if they want to build church near a mosque or predominantly Muslims areas, no is not allowed or if they want beer parlor's or carry out some religious rituals within Muslim, predominantly Muslim localities, no. But they can live in Muslim societies and practice their own religions

ZA1 [42366-42658]

Go to Sokoto state of caliphate, go to Adamawa, Christians, go to Kano, but go to Onitsha or this Bayelsa, you cannot see mosque, but due to that we Muslims we give them that, this big, big churches you are seeing, is not belong to the indigene of Christian eh northern Christian indigenes.

ZA1 [42908-43023]

It means that we Muslims we have to complain to the federal government that we have been denied to build a mosque.

ZA2 [54896-56817]

Ammm well is I think is a freedom. when we say, lets come back to Nigeria as a secular state, freedom of worship, if there is freedom of worship, I should be allowed to propagate my religion, go preach, but do it in a peaceful manner that there will not be crisis. See it as it is written in your book that I can present to defend to you that what am saying it is here look at it that is how God said it. Am not, it is my own personal saying, am interpreting the words of God to you. So that is clear and that will be accepted. So I don't know if you do your own, is when I your own contradict my own and my own contradict your own and you are not called, look is mode of interpretation that causes the problem my brother, if you interpret exactly as God does, as God say it and as our prophet, were the earlier prophets interpreted it, they don't interpret with insult. Today people, many at times came with insult in time of propagation. That is why at the end of the day we get crisis or quarrel, but if not so it is a freedom, go and preach, I preach of my way. When you come you are there standing talking I know say I don't what you are saying is not sincere, but let me give you one key issue, let everybody try to read, read here understand the religion, understand the religion of your opponent that will give you a key standard of making harmony more, give him freedom because when I read the Bible enough, when I read the Qur'an enough, when I come to do studya, when you are talking, what you are saying is it true? Is it selfish interest you are bringing in? Is it personal affairs you are bringing in? From there I will just mark and say this your own now say lakum di lakum I will now go to the verse of the Qur'an and say this is your own religion and this is mine, go on your own religion and I go on my won religion because I have read it enough. I know what you are saying is not in that book ehen.

ZA3 [32611-32683]

For now I don't think that there is an explicit Muslim territory... okay

ZA4 [52737-52834]

Here is no how you can say that, most of them are indigenes of the state, it is their land, right

ZA5 [35393-35959]

Propagating your religion or not propagating, there are different way of propagating your religion, they you understand, you have the freedom to propagate your religion where so ever you are. The way you do your things, they you understand, by the time you talk you say that this is the way your religion teach you how to do things because once, like now am doing things, am doing something here they say amm I like the way you are doing things, this is the way my religion teaches me how to do things, you are propagating your religion that is whether indirectly.

ZA6 [76931-77109]

Is not, no its, that is if, that is part of their religion, you cannot stop them. It is not. I don't think its okay like that. They should be allowed to propagate their faith.

ZA7 [42894-43844]

They should be allowed. They should be allowed to spread their religion, to propagate their religion, to say their minds, to express their doctrines because I think if there is no such activities of their own form of jihad, I think there will be problem because probably maybe when a Christian fellow comes to me and preaches to me about the good of his religion, I might have a different view of this Christians and I might be able to live with them since I have the believe that also in accordance with my religion, so I think they should practice it more, they should be allowed to propagate it more in order to tell the youths and masses or Muslims or whoever it is that look at what our religion tells us and I want to believe that Christianity and Islam there is a very thin line. I think the only difference is that they believe Jesus Christ is God and we believe that Allah is God. I think that is just it, they should be allowed in general.

ZA8 [82887-82915]

hmm no comment on that one.

ZA9 [47132-47256]

They should be allowed. There should be freedom of religion especially in a Muslim territory. Yes so that peace will reign.

ZA9 [47371-47468]

Yes, like I said earlier, as long as it does not stop the Muslim from practicing their religion.

ZA10 [39348-39443]

I will say no, because the more you don't propagate your religion the more people go astray.

ZA11 [33871-33980]

No, depend on how you express it, shouldn't go in a violent way because you are entitled to your religion.

ZA12 [21075-21134]

They should be allowed to operate in a Muslim territory.

ZA13 [22235-22384]

I think they should be allowed in as far as you believe in your faith, you stand up to your faith, if he doesn't have faith other person has faith.

ZA14 [30370-30478]

Yes because if they went to the Muslim territory to propagate their religion, it may simply lead to crisis.

ZA15 [32262-32274]

I disagree.

ZA16 [23305-23321]

No, disagree.

ZA18 [34828-35180]

They should be allowed, they should be allowed ai you see, you know your religion, I know my religion, my children too, I teach them, they go to school, they know what their religion is all about. Good and fine let the Christians come and propagate, mu ma we will go and propagate with facts and figures, that is what matters, with facts and figures.

ZA19 [52882-53388]

Ah so long as Nigeria is not a sharia state, disallowing Christians to propagate their religions is another way of creating violence and conflicts because we have Muslims in other part of the country which is dominated by Christians and of course they are preaching, they are praying and so many other Islamic teachings. So can you also say they should be disallowed from doing so? No, no I don't think disallowing Christians to propagate their religion is another peaceful means for peaceful coexistence.

ZA20 [35070-35439]

I need to understand these terrorists. We don't have terrorists in our own case in Islam. We don't have Muslims terrorists. The terrorists that we have so available in today's Nigeria, they are the foreign terrorists being employed by the former PDP if I put it that way into our Nigeria where they are trying to destroy it using those people. They are not Nigerians.

ZA21 [39023-39160]

I suppose no because Muslims and Christians can both live under one umbrella and practice their religions as it is supposed to be done.

ZA22 [33441-33733]

No they have the right to do it. They can propagate their religions. If at all Muslims are well taught nobody will even listen to them. Even the least among the Muslims, the least knowledgeable person will come and challenge the highest pastor or any other religious leader they have. Yah.

ZA23 [41587-41923]

The issue of propagation of religion is a responsibility of the people of the religion. If Muslims will allow non-Muslims to live with them, they must allow them to propagate their religion. Only that you as Muslims teach your people your religion the way it is so that even if there is that propagation they will not be carried away.

ZA24 [53332-53771]

Christians also can be allowed to propagate his religion within Muslim territory. The only thing is that we Muslims should have more knowledge. We should know that Allah says we should not come and meet him except being a Muslim. If anybody is preaching it is left for Muslims to know that Muslims are already groomed that we already know what we are doing. So no Christian can come and preach to us now and we also accept his preaching.

ZA25 [55081-55471]

That is absolutely incorrect. As I have said even in the sharia compliant state non-Muslims are allowed to practice their faith, but if it were complete Islamic state they are allowed to practice their faith and they should pay jizya. But to make it enduring there should be a lot of serious, a lot of reasoned logical preaching to them and exemplary practice which is the most important.

ZA26 [23992-24128]

It is a wrong notion but I believe even the Islamic scholars were not allowed even in Christian states to propagate their religion why?

ZA27 [23801-24020]

Either Christian, Muslims or pagan, each individual should be allowed to propagate his-the teaching of his religion, but they should avoid anything that should cause conflicts, any statement that will cause conflicts.

ZA28 [38380-38707]

Well in every setting there are certain freedoms; freedom of speech, freedom to live, freedom to express so and then I think everybody should be allowed to practice his religion accordingly so far it is not an Islamic state and it is not a Christian state. So everybody should be allowed to practice his religion accordingly.

ZA29 [54011-54060]

No that is a very big fat lie. In which states?

ZA29 [54171-54298]

NO, no, no why? Why shouldn't they be allowed? Besides we are leaving in a secular state you have the freedom to move around.

ZA30 [64528-64676]

This one is not true. They are propagating anywhere, even on Sunday, you can see them coming to me, to my shop and I allowed them to say their own.

ZA31 [34660-34766]

No, there is no religion that stops any other religion to preach against as in, as in their own religion.

ZA32 [68976-69245]

Ah we can, we can allow them to propagate and through that we can even defeat them, we can even ah by discussions, we can even, the issue can be in turned, can be, it can be otherwise, they are trying to call us and eventually they might end up in being defeated, yes.

ZA33 [31596-32306]

They should be allowed to propagate their faith irrespective of their religion because propagating a religion is not the key to all these, because Allah said in his holy Qur'an that he puts whoever he likes on the right path and he puts whatever he does on wrong path. So whatever the intensity of preaching if the almighty Allah says you are not going to be Muslims definitely you are not going to be Muslims. So they should be allowed to propagate their religion. As such when they do that they will see that they have the freedom, freedom of speech as well they can even convert to Muslims with the good characters and the behavior of the Muslims. They can convert to Muslims within the Muslim territories.

ZA34 [51192-51512]

Well it depends on the area. They are allowed to preach their religion if they have their followers there. There is no compulsion, may be if they don't have followers there and the Muslims are not interested in their this thing, they should be prevented from, likewise the Muslims also in order not to cause conflicts.

ZA35 [23596-23762]

Yes. They should not be allowed, because by the time they allow them even the children, by the time they get the younger ones they can use them against the Muslims.

ZA36 [36598-36784]

They should be allowed, we have freedom of, there is freedom, so whoever feels that he is comfortable with a religion, he should go ahead and practice it, there is freedom of religion.

ZA37 [39878-40069]

It is not true, within Muslims territories, it is not true and what is happening presently in this northern Nigeria here in Zaria, even in Zaria city, is a great evidence even in Zaria city.

ZA38 [47281-47652]

Actually it is wrong for any religion especially Islam to stop someone that is non-Muslim to preach Christianity in their territories. It is allowed because as I said it earlier and I will continue saying, there is no compulsion in religion. Allow everybody to do, you only take, as a missionary, you take the good news to them, but don't force them into it. Allow them.

ZA39 [59500-59629]

Ever since the creation of Nigeria Christians and Muslims have been practicing and propagating their religion without conflict.

Th16.2: Operation of Religious Propagation in an Islamic State

KD2 [23907-24115]

It should be persuaded through, it should be done through persuasion and through good deeds, good activities so that one will have an interest in the religion and for him to convert, come into that religion.

KD4 [47084-47878]

In a state where sharia is in place that is to say that state is totally governed by the rules and regulations of almighty Allah and the totality of the way of life of the Quran and the Sunna. So, in that state, there are rules and then the non-Muslims in that state they agree that they will live under the tenets of Islam. Then, I don't see any room, any rule, any accepted rule that when will agree to live under the tenets of someone and you should go contrary to his own wish, to be even try to bring out his own son out of his own house. It is just like bringing a stranger into your house and that stranger turn out to pull out your son out of the house and then emerge the owner of the house. You in person will not accept it. I think I have answered your question with this assertion.

KD5 [23574-23939]

I think this should be addressed for non-Muslims that aspire to convert Muslims into accepting their own faith. So, I think what they should do is to practice it lowly because everybody knows they may encounter a problem in which for them to try to convert a Muslims in an area where it is predominantly occupied by Muslims. So, they should do it lowly and slowly.
KD7 [31127-31331]

I do not know the laws that, that is the Islamic laws that states or take care of a non-Muslim preaching to seek converts. I do not know. But, I believe that they should be done within the true contexts.
KD8 [54776-55553]

It is a normal thing, it is a normal preaching, you come and preach, but before the preaching, your behavior, your have to be an embodiment of moral or morality. Your character should be, you should be seen to be a modest person. You should be seen to be an upright person. You are very fair, you relate well with people, you have the knowledge and all that. That is the first thing that a non-Muslim will see and would be interested in converting to your religion and that's one. Two, you can also go and preaching just like the Christians have the right to go and preach in buses, in offices, and all that. So, the Muslims also have the right to be preaching openly to people so that any one that is willing to convert should convert, but there should not be ehm compulsion.
KD9 [37504-38127]

This is the part of the regulation we are talking about. Leave it open, but follow the rules. Give us what you want to tell us, organize, make it very, very organized. We've seen the work of Ahmad Deedat, for example. Bring what you have and I will bring what I have. There is no quarrel about it. But don't force your opinion on me. I want to assure you that if that is done, he himself will see the emptiness that he is trying to preach to you. So if that is done, they know that if that is done, very organized, majority of them will embrace Islam and that is why they are taking the back door to try to convert people.
KD10 [30988-31235]

Ai they cannot allow that in a sharia state, they can never allow that ehen they can never allow that now. To be propagating their religion so that they convert Muslim to Christian or to Jew, they cannot, they don't allow that in a Islamic state.
KD11 [33108-33453]

When there is sharia in place, well I think there is presently there is, what do they call it, this inter-faith debate, such could exist through inter-faith debate and whichever faith one deems fit or prevails or anyone chooses, I mean it is very much attainable through inter-faith debate, yah, very much attainable through inter-faith debate.
KD12 [34610-34937]

Ah in fact Islam where the real practice of Islam is, there is no disguising, there shouldn't be any disguising like during the time of the prophet people who are non-Muslims they really saw the practical aspect of Islamic behavior of the prophet, merely behaving people accepted Islam through him, through his behavior only.
KD14 [19107-19185]

Mostly in places where sharia is, as I said earlier, the majority are Muslims

KD15 [27249-27652]

Islam, I have said earlier on, Islam is a religion of God and I must say this, no religion will be accepted or will be accept by God except Islam. So any religion you make is your own choice, so its you choice. I think no conflict no whatever, Islam is Islam, Christianity is Christianity and conversion from religion to religion is someone's desire. It is what a human wants for himself, so I think...

KD16 [16146-16220]

The government should regulate. It should be regulated by the government.

KD17 [49153-49550]

In a state where sharia is being operated, before you come there, you should know that it is an Islamic state, it has been established, everybody there wants to stay in the Islam or all the Muslims there are happy with Islamic state, so you don't need to come there coming to blacking the faith, to corrupt their faith or the believe they have in their faith by trying to propagate your religion.

KD19 [29942-30188]

Well, in a sharia state, I don't think sharia will allow conversion from Islam to another religion, so even the idea of allowing other people to propagate their religion with the notion of converting other people is not allowed in the religion.

KD20 [24705-24901]

I think it is not allowed to convert a Muslim into non-Muslim in a sharia state because when they try, the conflict may arise, there's going to be conflict and fighting between the two religions.

KD21 [22729-23169]

First and foremost go back to early days of prophet, he was called the trustworthy right from onset before the code of conduct was given to him, good behaviours in an Islamic state we don't have to force the non-Christians, non-Muslims to convert. We are the ambassadors of Islam, we tend to market the religion, we advertise the religion, but within good characters it's going to be an avenue to attract non-Muslims to convert into Islam.

KD23 [23706-23860]

Okay I earlier said and I will say it again and now I am saying it now that ah people that is propagating their religion should do it in a talented way.

KD24 [73425-73466]

I don't know what to say about this one.

KD25 [88493-89109]

Well it all depends everybody is allowed to do his own religion, but others are listening, so anybody who so wishes to embrace Islam or Christianity is welcomed. You understand, and ah but there is no, there is no verse in the Qur'an which said that the Muslim must force somebody who is not a Muslim to accept Islam, no. That is wrong. That is Islamically wrong because Allah said la iqra ha fid din, there is no compulsion in religion. You as a Muslim shouldn't force or compel somebody who is not a Muslim to accept Islam. That is not right because Islam is not a religion of force, forcing no, no, no, is not.
KD26 [26255-26546]

It shouldn't be allowed now because it is not supposed to be allowed in a sharia state. They agree to comply with the laws of the sharia and that is why they are being allowed in that state. So part of the laws is not for them to come and try to revert Muslims, they should not be allowed.

KD27 [25815-25914]

There is no room for that for converting others to a religion other than Islam in an Islamic state.

KD28 [34191-34402]

Where sharia is in place is just like the da'wa people who use to preach Islam to people let them know what Islam is and the beauty of Islam is to make it known to them by then you can convert people to Islam.

KD29 [21515-21680]

Well the teachings, the Islamic teachings eh has entrenched in the sharia law has made provision, enough provision with regards to other faith practices and rights.

KD30 [36820-37636]

Ah you see in an Islamic state there is hardly ah condition where ah where we have ahm conflict of ah of understanding. This issue of ah whether if we are to be allowed for non-Muslims or other religions to take such advantage in an Islamic state it's is hardly an issue to even discuss because you see is just that the non-Muslims are being are being scared away from Islam ah by the action of such militant groups like the boko haram or other thing while in an Islamic state everybody sees the beauty of Islam and everybody accepts it even the non-Muslims that are under the Islamic watch sometimes they are the ones that mostly come and say they have that case where non-Muslims ah converts or take ahm Islamic Muslim convert back into other religion mostly in most cases where we know non-Muslims joining Islam.

KD31 [19892-19967]

Like I said and will always say that is true dialogue and a peaceful one.

KD33 [25178-25359]

They should, but if a state where sharia is in place is not permissible for a non-Muslim to come inside the state where sharia is to seek convert or to propagate for their convert

KD34 [29346-30250]

Ehm its it should operate in a normal dialogue without instigating because, as I said earlier, others I painting a particular religion in other to get the attention of a particular person, like now somebody may come and meet a Muslim or you meet somebody that was known neither a Muslim or a Christian, you want to advertise a particular religion like Christianity, they will use a word jihad, trying to instigate, trying to show that Islam is a violent religion, Islam kills here, kills there, so that you should converted. If you are doing so, then a Muslim heard of it definitely it will generate anger and it will lead to something else, so also a Muslim should not just come and criticize a Christian by advertising his own religion saying that a Christian here Christianity did this although I did not come across that, saying a lot of negative things about Christian it will even generate anger.

KD35 [28818-29334]

Once the non-Muslims preaching to seek for the convert ahh their indigenes of such an area they should be given that mandate, they should be given that right to do that because the moment you stop them from doing that means you deprive them from their right of religion, so allow them, but let them conduct themselves peacefully and wisely, you know, let them carry out their preachings without provocation, without any insult, without any I mean trespassing so the moment they do that, then they should be allowed.

KN1 [60668-60814]

It should be operate through enlightening people, tell them about Islam, show them the good side of Islam, show them the beauty of the religion

KN1 [60916-61672]

They can, as far as they don't attack religion, as far as they mock religion because this is what is creating problem in Nigeria now. A times and in my opinion those that are mocking religion attacking religion they don't know religion they have no respect for religion. In Islam even when there is struggle between Muslims and non-Muslims I mean physical struggle if somebody enter a church he is safe because it is a sign that he has surrendered to show you how Islam respects Christianity and other religions, as far as you go into church you are safe and destruction or burning of church is not even allowed even during the peak of jihad physical struggle not during the time of peace even during jihad, church is not allowed to be burnt or destroyed.

KN2 [35629-35673]

It has a limitation. It has a limitation.

KN2 [35706-35863]

They may not be given full rights to propagate in an Islamic state. Of course they would be allowed to propagate not as when it is not under sharia state.

KN4 [50031-50146]

That is social influence. You can influence somebody and you can convert it to if you are of good character. simple

KN5 [30365-30840]

Ahhh as we said ah in an Islamic sharia place like Kano state, the people that want to convert should do it in a peaceful way and ahh the government should try as much as possible not to pave way for that in any way so because if that way is open a lot of people who are suffering from poverty, a lot of people who are suffering from ignorance may lead to confusion and in other things and may be converting to other faith leaving Islam even though hardly would that happen.

KN6 [32640-33456]

Yes, you can convert your, sorry you can preach, it can happen through the preaching so there is no problem sharia state would allow anybody ah maybe even traditionally they can preach ah so it depends on how maybe you call your people without maybe, without maybe by letting the rules and regulations because there is some such rule even in this preaching even Muslim to go and preach there is a certain, for example, it happens in Saudi Arabia you can't go and start preaching without some certain rule so similarly it can be applied in Islamic state, it can be applied for non-Christians and even in the Islamic state, a Muslim cannot start preaching without some certain rules and regulations because there is some basic requirement ahh which is needed before you start this preaching so they should follow it.

KN7 [30789-31339]

Most religion yes propagate their religion to seek converts or to seek ehm converts. Well ehm in one way or the other, you should ehm when we say yes, we want to look at ehm, we want to look jihad. We said earlier on that ehm, jihad can be done in different and separate ways. If you look at the settings of a state and how the people live, their ideology that exists between and within the state, I think that is when you should look at how you can generate an appropriate way of calling people to the cause of Islam and definitely not by conflict.

KN8 [30086-30277]

It will be very difficult because to convert people in a sharia state means you are bringing people from one religion to another. So as such, I think such should not occur in a sharia state.

KN9 [27018-27386]

Well in a state where sharia is in place ah I would say it doesn't have to be preached, conflict doesn't have to be preached. I think ah as a last result only you can resort to conflicts or you can resort to use of arms and ammunitions but basically it should be, it should only be as a last result when all other instruments have failed, then you can resort to this.

KN10 [20961-21312]

A non-Muslim can convert to a Muslim, to Islam but a Muslim especially in a sharia state, it is a very, very offense to convert to other religion, but among other religion for them to convert within themselves is nothing that it is ah prohibited in Islam but within Islam to convert to another religion that is where the consequences must be followed.

KN11 [28102-29193]

Most religion propagates their religion to seek convert how should this operate? A Muslim welcomes other religions to teach their faith because there are-debate is allowed in Islam, and islam welcomes this because during prophet (SAW) even the Christians came to him with cross on their neck. They ask prophet (SAW) to accept their religion. You prophet (SAW) why didn't you accept Jesus Christ as God, you see, it was like they were trying to convert the prophet to their religion, but the prophet didn't fight them. So they were trying to convert prophet saying look you know Prophet (SAW) Jesus Christ was God, and he died for our sin, the prophet stared at them and said no. Jesus Christ is not God, but God. So it was like a debate between the prophet and the Christians so Allah (SBUH) says ok come let us curse on each other. If you believe Jesus Christ is God, so let us pray and I say me prophet (SAW), I prophet (SAW) no I say Jesus Christ is a holy spirit, the prophet of God, but not God. You say is God not son of God ahh not prophet, so let us come and pray. So they refused.

KN13 [31522-31728]

Yah in combat, definitely, if the sharia is in place, I don't think that word combat should still come in because uhm if you make combat that means it is fighting, so I don't think it is going to come in.

KN14 [24854-24857]

No

KN15 [22352-22413]

Yah, I think they should not be allowed that will be better.

KN16 [12514-12545]

No they should not be allowed.

KN18 [45516-45652]

Well this is a serious eh question which Islamic scholars, Islamic scholars need to answer, so I am declining to answer this question.

KN19 [28185-28218]

Okay, it should be discouraged.

KN20 [20641-20765]

Ah from the Islamic point of view is not allowed, if is a jihad ah is an Islamic state, but in a secular state, is allowed.

KN21 [14202-14282]

They should, it should be allowed but there are there should be ah limitations

KN22 [29465-29680]

It is allowed when we go back through the Christian charter in the then prophetic generation; we've seen that part of the agreement of that charter is that they are having the free will to propagate their religion.

KN23 [19447-19468]

Yeah, through da'wa

KN24 [18604-18734]

It operating right because whenever a state is an Islamic state. In an Islamic state there is handing over of everything to God.

KN25 [30290-30407]

Well it should still go this way I think religion was spread mostly by propagation. So it is a welcomed development.

KN26 [30417-31940]

Well this is largely a double barrel question for me, why, because as a sociologist I would want to be a bit critical. You see largely the first half of your question which says that most religions propagate to seek converts, but I think the first is to secure. I am a Muslim already; I go to tafir, try as much as possible to make me go deep in Islam not necessarily bringing in others. And that is why now the way and manner in which Islam is being spring up in the West, the US, Britain, Australia surprisingly even Eastern Europe-Russia surprisingly. These people were not seeking to naturally bring people even they don't have the number but they first bring out the beauty of the religion so that those that are in the religion should feel more comfortable that their-and also guided on how they can live their lives as better Muslims. But this encroaches outside them and also some that are non-Muslims see the positivity in it and then come to join the religion. Largely I have a lot of them some of these ah people, they are very nice-sometimes you don't have to-you have to preach with sincerity and ease and it is that sincerity and ease that people will see and like what they see. You don't have to necessarily tell people that X is Y, no. Just say it as it is in the religion and in Islam there is one thing-knowing the book is different from the hudhba from actually proclaiming, so but when you weave knowing what is in the book with some practical things, how those can be relevant they get more results.

KN27 [22823-23129]

This should operate in an Islamic way, in a peaceful manner, in a peaceful manner in the sense that you don't go about forcing people to convert into your religion. You should go in a peaceful manner where you go with your preaching and if that person is interested in your religion, he is free to join.

KN28 [17593-17759]

I think they should be able to be cut short because there shouldn't be any chances for the operators to think that should be the only way out to make them convert.

KN29 [3605-4067]

Seeking converts? Ahm while you are seeking converts you are trying to seek other people's opinion to let them know your religion is the way by trying to seek their opinion telling how your religion is. In an Islamic state you should preach to them, tell them this is what is right, this is what is right not like forcing them, let them see the reason why they should be a Muslim, not like forcing them or taking them to the length before they change to Islam.

KN30 [17214-17226]

Limitedly

KN31 [28338-28666]

Well, normally there is always this preaching that is being taken in Islam maybe in the mosque, sometimes maybe just a gathering just to remind people. So I think through that it will propagate Islam and by that you could get people who will become converts into Islam. I think both religions do that to preach in order to get...

KN31 [28794-29533]

Well, you know, actually when you go to an Islamic state it is very, very difficult for you to find out that they are given that opportunity to just move freely around trying to propagate. It is just that as they are humans and they have the same culture or origin to share that is why they are given that opportunity to stay and live. So but normally I know they allow them get a separate place where they worship, but I don't think they allow them going about trying to propagate because if you give them that chance they might easily influence some Muslims to non-Muslims and you will be the one losing and the state is yours. But they allow them to do their own worship anybody who carries himself there will find himself to be blamed.

KN32 [14073-14133]

It should operate limitedly with a number of restrictions.

KN33 [10701-10745]

This is not to be allowed in Islamic state.

KN34 [18070-18321]

It should be through persuasion. Show the beauty of your religion. Show them the rational that you are here through, you just be persuasive and pursue them so that maybe if they see anything good from you, they can be willing to accept your religion.

KN35 [18221-18282]

In Islamic state well established state this is not allowed.

KN36 [19015-19167]

This cannot be allowed because non-Muslim should not be allowed to preach their religion or to seek for converts to their religion in the sharia state. [

KN37 [17833-18042]

In an Islamic state, just as I have said, they should institutionalize a program of orienting its members. Once its members are oriented, I think they will have little or no work to do in trying to find this.

KN38 [12942-13293]

To be frank non-Muslims are allowed to live in Islamic state and practice their religion as they want, but they are not allowed to seek converts from Muslims into their religions. They can practice their religion in their locality and in their locality they can convert their selves but coming to convert Muslims is highly prohibited and not allowed.

KN39 [21593-21966]

Really of course everybody in an Islamic state is asked to live a lively life. That is to say Islam do not force Muslims to do some things that is not Islamic. That is to say Islam has allowed a democratically oriented living life. Therefore, Muslims are allowed to practice their religion in accordance with the rules and regulations as embodied in the Qur'an and Sunna.

KN40 [17436-17440]

No.

KN41 [15033-15069]

They should be stopped in doing so.

KN42 [36256-36588]

It should, there should be a process of simple da'wa. People should be shown the good side of Islam, not the violent side that we have today. People should be, care should be given to the needy. Let them see the essence of Islam; let them see for themselves that Islam is not a religion of violence and actually a religion of peace.

KN43 [27421-28375]

Yes, you know, even in Kano where sharia is said to operate. There are Islamic scholars who engage in Islamic propagation. What they normally do is to engage the non-Muslims, educate them and tell them more about Islam, the real Islam not the Islam that the western world stereotyped. The real Islam which they practice and a number of them accepted the religion and in the case of those who refused none of them had ever use force to convert them. So what I am saying in a word is Islam should be propagated through massive enlightenment and through educating and re-educating and at the same time making the target convert to understand what this Islam is all about. That is the only way you can you know succeed in converting non-Muslims because someone needs to know more about a religion before he embraces it. If you don't know what you are embracing definitely you would not be comfortable and you would not practice it the way it should be done.

KN44 [21093-21531]

There is a freedom of religion, like I have said before, in the Islamic ah, in Islamic state, but what is very clear is that the moment somebody accept Islam, he is not expected to revert to another faith because the moment you ehh you accepted Islam, you are expected to remain as a Muslim throughout your life. There is no provision for somebody to leave his ah religion to another religion. This has been stipulated clearly in Islam.

KN45 [30656-30815]

I don't have any idea on how this operates. I think ehh generally speaking I can say ehh all this kind of preaching should operate within the law of the land.

KN46 [51766-52418]

Ahh in a sharia compliant state, the activities of other religions to convert Muslims to their religions are not allowed. That is how it is because it is one of the responsibilities of Islamic state, one of the responsibilities of Islamic state is to protect the Islamic faith of the citizens from being ahh-because by trying to convert Muslims to other religions, you are undermining the state. So I don't think, just like in ehh any country whether it is democratic or non-democratic. For example, in Russia during the communism, any citizen who, any citizen who is deemed to be undermining the principles of communism is not ah is not ah tolerated.

KN47 [47881-48364]

They have, they have, you know, where to go and practice their religion, they have churches if they are Christians, they go to church and it is where the, they just propagate their religion and nowadays this I think to me is not a question of concern because nowadays you can propagate your religion even on social media. So you have accesses to social media and you ask how can you propagate your religion? You can simply open a group and start to propagating, nobody will say no.

KN48 [15395-15405]

No, idea.

KN49 [25773-25830]

I think it should be handled with ah a lot of delicacy.

KN50 [13546-13619]

The world is now globalized and it should be done through social media.

KN52 [42825-43138]

Yes, through peaceful proselytization that is through peaceful religious, spiritual admonition, right? That, I think, is the best methodology through which you can win converts and another important methodology would be, like I said earlier, by demonstrating and showing good examples of what a Muslim should be.

KN54 [10463-10493]

Well it should be regulated.

KN55 [11401-11498]

In a regulated manner. (Mr ... you are running faster than your shadow can you reduce your speed?)

KN56 [19253-19593]

Actually in a state where sharia is in place, no religion should try to seek converts as what we currently have in Kano here where you would see Christians going about with their pamphlets trying to share it to the Muslim umma, trying to convert them to their faith. Actually if sharia is established in its entirety this shouldn't operate.

KN57 [17578-17604]

It should not function.

KN58 [39116-39429]

Where sharia is in place, a true Islamic system should be established. And as we said earlier on, non-Muslims should be given all the opportunities if they are found in the state and then justice to prevail to each and every member in the community should be treated equally. That is what should be obtainable.

KN59 [36254-37159]

Actually in a state where sharia is being practice, there is no need for you to propagate your religion for someone to be converted to it. Your deeds are enough to convince someone to be a Muslim, you understand. You can only propagate the good aspect of the din, the dos and don'ts of the din, what you should do, you shouldn't go astray, you understand, the good aspect of the din is enough for you. Y our muamalat alone is even enough for someone to envy you and to easily be converted. The propagation of Islam is not mainly for non-Muslims, you understand, it is for both, you understand, is like what we call wa'a zi or like what the Christians call evangelism, you understand, just to go to an outskirt and propagating their din. It is just a kind of reminder because we are being carried away with activities in the world, you understand, they would just come and preach this and preach that.

KN60 [29107-29492]

They shouldn't be allowed to- propagating their religion could be allowed, you understand, but in an Islamic state if they are living in an area because sometimes they are confined to certain areas, if they are propagating their religion among themselves is allowed, but to come and try to convert the Muslims brothers, that would not be allowed, they would not be given such chances.

KN61 [14981-15003]

Through public media.

KN62 [50063-50273]

This is the same thing, we propagate, we preach of course, we preach and ah propagate the religion through this ah, let's say, preachings and other things and that is how we actually take new members, hmm mm.

KN63 [37995-38634]

Of course now, the Muslims, the Christian we all want to have more, more and more converts, but eh in Islamic state, in a sharia state, you know, just like I mentioned the other time, you know, the Christians were being allowed to practice their religion in their various churches or whatever worship place, you know, and the Muslim as well, the same applies to them. So, you know, it depends on the person that have the maybe the true talk among them, that maybe people will see, but not by bribing or not by a way of maybe trying to impress through monetary or whatever, huh, you know, is not ideal, that is not how to convert people.

KN64 [24757-24847]

All religion should be allowed to propagate their religion, hmm without any problem, hmm.

KN65 [32006-32562]

Actually, like here in Nigeria already we are saying Kano, Zamfara, almost nineteen northern eh state, they are all sharia state, you understand, and but because of the constitution, you know, gave us right that okay everybody has a right to practice his own religion, you understand, so you cannot stop anybody from practicing his own religion. So rather you should try as much as possible to enlighten the Muslims fellow why they are a Muslim and why they should remain a Muslim I think that is just the only way, ah that is how it should be operated.

KN66 [20121-20354]

Indeed some religions will always, will always, will always preach to convert to other religion, that is what most religion do but that doesn't stop a Muslim from going to preach, to preach to other non-Muslims from converting.

KN67 [20700-21152]

They, ah I think there are so many ways and ah if the Muslim practice their religion as it is, then there is no problem even if other religions are seeking converts from among. So I think eh if the state also wishes, it can eh organize a kind of debate between other Muslim eh the Muslims and non-Muslims ah other religions to come and clarify their views and the ah the position of their religions, so this will not create any problem, I think.

KN68 [10151-10173]

In regulated manner.

KN69 [34272-34446]

Based on, based on my own understanding I think it is not allowed for a non Muslim to convert Muslim to his religion in an Islamic state. I think there is no basis for that.

KN72 [32411-32671]

It can be, it can be possible because sharia does not impose people to convert only Islamic or to obey only Islam because sharia believes that there is eh right of religions so you can, you can belong to any religions you like, yes, there is no enforcement.

KN73 [33622-34057]

The issue is allowed or is not allowed ai is not implied because to convert someone is not by force. It is not by force, it is by wish. If you wish, if you prefer that now, somebody as Muslim, should be converted, he wish to convert to Christianity ah it is not allowed ai. It is not something we can talk about whether it is allowed or not. It is a wish. If he feel it deemed, let him go, but there is punishment provision for that.

KN74 [42637-43260]

Okay if there is a eh, this is what I have told you before, if there is a Muslim let us go back a little bit to the previous question, if a Muslim converting to the other religions, the Muslim converting to the other religions, if the place that they were living, if there is no implementations of sharia the person will be treated according to the law of that place, but for this case the religion, you said that most religions propagate their religion to seek converts, if the place is an Islamic state that kind of activity must be stopped. It will not allow to such eh such non-Muslim to propagate their religions.

KN75 [46657-46716]

Yah, Islam allow, it does not deny their right of worship.

KN76 [37696-37799]

Well where sharia is in place, I think ah the Muslims should have the right to preach to non-Muslims.

KN76 [37839-38037]

Non-Muslims should preach to non-Muslims, but not to the Muslim because the Islamic state cannot and would never recognize the rights of non-Muslims to try to convert the Muslim to their religion.

KN78 [54741-55480]

Well for us, when you say ah sharia, like for instance in the northern part of the country where they say there is an implementation of sharia, since sharia itself is ah guided by the secular law, I think ah, I think we should be tolerant to this extent for as long as Nigerian constitution is concerned, it gives the freedom of all religious believes, all religious groups to convert. Muslim have the right to convert non-Muslim, just as non-Muslims have the right to convert those that are not Muslims, but Muslims should be very active, as I said, in trying to demonstrate the beauty of the religion through their daily activities.

They should be very honest, they should be very fair, they should be known by good virtues of Islam.

KN80 [41981-42097]

Yes ah in a state where sharia is in place is, it is only Islam, Islamic, Islam that is allowed to be propagated.

KN81 [26384-26404]

It is not allowed

KN81 [26500-26541]

Yah, to my own view, it is not allowed.

KN82 [28534-28767]

Okay in a sharia state the attitude, the behavior of the Muslims is the key instrument that attracts others to like the religion. Yes it is our behavior; it is our attitude that impresses someone to feel interested in our religion.

KN83 [19120-19195]

Ahm I think it is allowed if propagation means to convince other faiths.

KN84 [22618-22713]

I think is not allowed non-Muslims to propagate their faith in Islamic state. Is not allowed

KN85 [30962-31261]

In a state where sharia is in place non-Muslim should not, should not be allowed to try to convert other people to their religion because after Islamization, I mean after you have converted to Islam, there is no reversion, you cannot revert to other religion, therefore, that should not be allowed.

ZA1 [32727-33403]

If Islam, a state is, an Islamic state is being established that one I told you in the initial stage, a non-Muslim will stay as far as he didn't transgress. In a state where in Saudi Arabia presently now, you will not, you will never, never try and say that you will go, you can't try it because this is no go area. Like now presently in what, in even America only you can just propagate through this internet, but you cannot take your speaker and say hey, you can't do that. So Islam cannot leave non-Muslims to propagate in Islamic state, but in northern Nigeria we are presently now, go and see in this, in North East they are propagating their religion nobody stop them.

ZA2 [33878-35158]

hmm well it is, in sharia state normally since am preaching the religion am saying the sincerity of the religion, so people who are non-religious with me, are not in my religion, they will listen to my saying, they will watch my practice that is why I say as a leader or as a scholar you must be a model, after being knowledgeable, you must be a model and when we say a model you know what it is, people should be able to copy from you, to learn from you and what they will learn from you is morals, so give an example of this now, is it moral, is that what will make people to say kai this man is you, by your life, your life, you are moving in sign. Take for example now you say I should not go for women, I should not be a womanizer and am in religion am preaching this, God say this, God say, God say I should not be a womanizer, I should not be a drunkard and you saw me, I should not be corrupted, I should not cheat, I should not do this, you saw me really on that change, you give people's money, save this money in 20 hours you come back say what about that money, I brought it I give you, you say ah will this one reach myself to save this money, you see you have a believe he will say no this one man what he is preaching, the faith is with him I love that religion.

ZA3 [24620-24755]

In a state where sharia is in place signifies that Islam is the predominant religion so other religion will have to just be there.

ZA4 [46565-46671]

Okay Alhamdulillah they have do that in the media system and all that and with your behaviors and labor.

ZA5 [27313-27492]

So far they have the freedom of preaching their religion, they should be allowed, you don't have right over anybody that say okay oo because you want to convert, you understand.

ZA6 [65463-66047]

Since you have the ah since it is allowed, sharia allows for the freedom of religion and like I said now, if really it is an Islamic state that practices the sharia based on the Qur'an and hadith, definitely there should be a justice system that everybody will benefit, be happy and be contented with. If there are people which, if there are people that want to convert to other faiths that means they are not being, the system has not been fair to them. And that means the other faith has shown more fairness and justice to him and he wants to go there and benefit from that faith.

ZA7 [31477-31862]

Yes, propagation I think has to do with spreading of the doctrines and teachings of the religions, right? So it is necessary to do that in a peaceful way and in a way that does not contradict probably the laws since that particular state is a sharia law, it should be in accordance to the sharia law, it should not, I mean, it should not have, it should not break any of the laws aha.

ZA8 [66042-67838]

Hmm I think you allowed to propagate your religion in an Islamic state because, like I told you, if actually the people that are in that state are true Muslims, all the propagation will be in vain because they will not heed your word, they will even try to even, I have seen some place may be a Christian is trying to preach to a Muslim, the Muslim is preaching back (he laughs) are you getting it? he is preaching back, he is telling him that he is the one that is on the wrong path, he is saying you are on the wrong path, he is saying you are on the wrong path you see. That is, for instance, is a true Muslim he already has the knowledge of his relation. The other non-Muslims has the knowledge of his religion, now the case of I will not hear you will not agree. I no go gree you no go hear. So that is what I think. If you are allowed, nobody will harm you to propagate that is if there are true Muslims there, they will even tell you, practice your religion, propagate it, like I told you, even in Islam you can't, you are not the one that will change somebody, you can only tell him this is what Islam says. God tells you no compulsion in Islam, tell them is left for me to change who I want to change. It is now left for God to enter their mind for them to see reason because no matter your preaching, if the person is not seeing reason, if God is not ready to change the person, there is nothing you can do about it. We have seen cases whereby you will see prophet, their mother, their sons do not believe in them because there are prophets of God that they come and preaching to people O, his own child does to believe in him, another people do. So what will you call that? He is a prophet. Just to show you that it is God that converts, is not you, you are only allowed to tell them.

ZA9 [34575-34823]

Is not as if this sharia law that we are talking about is very harsh or something is too harsh, it does not negate the rights of an individual as long as this people do not force Muslims to accept their faith, I don't think conflict will arise.

ZA9 [34970-35251]

I believe as long as force, the word force is not in it, if they sit down with the person they try to make things, make him understand some things, if he does not understand those things if they press him, but when you are pushing the person too far that is when problem arises.

ZA10 [31803-31902]

In a place where sharia is in place non-Muslims are not expected to be propagating their religion.

ZA11 [26585-26682]

There are institutes for that. They follow the appropriate institute and channels to achieve that

ZA12 [16395-16401]

Next.

ZA13 [16302-16320]

This, no comment.

ZA14 [21976-22147]

They should regulate the way they preach and they should know what they are saying in public, even though you want to convert somebody you have to be doing it tactically.

ZA15 [25100-25160]

Yes to be sincere I do not know what to say regarding this.

ZA16 [17720-17868]

This should operate only that is only to Muslims, to my understanding; they are the only ones that should be preaching to propagate their religion.

ZA18 [26016-26243]

Normally you preach, whoever that, you don't force, In Islamic religion you don't force anybody yauwa la iqra ha fid din, you don't compel people, but whoever comes, you teach him on how to practice the religion effectively.

ZA19 [36567-37012]

Well ah because there is something we need to look into actually, just as I have said earlier, there is no state that lives in isolation. So any state must enter into treaties, that is in their foreign policy, there must be a peace treaty between one state and the other and there is no restriction in freedom of, I mean restriction in one society from travelling into another society, so in the course of that, ah religion could be propagated.

ZA20 [24324-24577]

Yes we urge people-Sharia state Muslims urge Christians, they are urging them not they are fighting against them, no they are urging them, they are appealing please come back to Islam it will be good for you, for your life and everything. That is it.

ZA21 [28981-29409]

That is what we have been saying; you should propagate your din. The Islam you think you are a Muslim you should propagate your Islam and make sure that by even-you propagate by example. You cannot just be saying I am a Muslim, you are preaching Islam and you will be doing unnecessary things elsewhere. So that is what we have been saying. You should, as a matter of fact, propagate your religion with kindness and generosity.

ZA22 [25698-25970]

By the time we truly implement those teachings of the Qur'an and sunna based on the understanding of the past the way it is practiced by the rasul (SAW) and the sahaba, there is no need to be much talking our actions our behavior will be attracting many to accept Islam.

ZA23 [34598-34773]

Through preachings, through calling others to Islam, through doing what is right that is on their own conduct-their behaviors, by doing that you are calling others to Islam.

ZA24 [41415-41811]

Most religions that propagate their religions to seek converts, in Islamic state we should not allow that because Islam doesn't allow-you can convert from other religions to Islam, but from islam to convert to another religion is a sin in fact it is a very great sin. It has a sharia on it, therefore, if it is in Islamic state where we are using Islamic sharia we should not allow that.

ZA25 [38401-38686]

As I have said Muslims should be exemplary in the common values and the virtues worldwide as I have enumerated before such as honesty, good neighborliness and truthfulness as well as homeliness. So they should not be -Muslims should be able to exhibit -to manifest the beauty of Islam.

ZA26 [18635-18718]

I told you that sharia give anybody right to partake in the affairs of their life

ZA27 [17485-17519]

I don't have any idea about this

ZA28 [31083-31520]

Well this can be a very difficult task. For whosoever want to come to an Islamic state and already sharia has been established and proper understanding of the religion has gone into people's mind, they really understand what the religion is all about, so I don't think it is going to be easy for an intruder to come into such a state and try to influence the belief of people within that state. It is going to be a very difficult task.

ZA29 [45047-45525]

Well when you have sharia in place and some people come to propagate their own religion by making converts, well when sharia is in place and it is being practiced, well all the Muslims have no fear because they believe that people living there have strong faith. So you coming to seek converts is like you coming to keep them company and instead of you converting them, they end up converting you or giving you unanswered questions or uncomplete prophecies that you come with.

ZA30 [53603-53729]

It is also written in our book, anything, refer back to our book. Whether Qur'an or the hadith, you will find out the answer.

ZA31 [25148-25162]

I don't know.

ZA32 [62715-63020]

Ahhh, when sharia is in place, Islamic sharia is in a particular area, no one have that chance, the chance to be denied to call people to the religion because sharia is the best there and ah if someone decide to on his own to convert to other religion, in Islam, he is going to be stopped actually, yes.

ZA33 [21572-21828]

They should do the same because Islam they should also use their religion to propagate their religion that is to propagate Islam in order to seek for converts that can convert to their religion. And this is a very good place where Sharia is taking place.

ZA34 [41935-42230]

They should teach the faith of their religion by educating them to become more conversant with the religion and there are ways that people can be allowed to go about their preachings. There are some rules and regulations that must be put in place for people to follow not to cause any problem.

ZA35 [17102-17278]

In a state where sharia is in place, I think they are forced, the non-Muslims are forced into the religion that is where sharia is in place, but I don't think it should be so.

ZA36 [24863-25292]

In a place where sharia takes place I don't think they would have room to do that because the moment they start the leaders would react to that and that is what some people are doing now. That is why they are gaining more converts because they use ah people who live in hamlets, the uneducated people who live in hamlets, so they go there and preach to them and then they entice them. That is why they are gaining those people.

ZA37 [33778-33857]

The same issue, the same procedure, the same method with the previous answer.

ZA38 [38601-38678]

It is allowed, a Christian can come and preach, yah they do, it is allowed.

ZA39 [50873-51124]

It is allowed under sharia or under Islamic law everyone has a right to practice religion be him a Muslim or non-Muslim. So if you are a Muslim you can propagate your religion, if you are not a Muslim you are also allowed to propagate your religion.

Research Question 3.1

Th 17: Current Christian-Muslim Relations

Th17.1: Factors Behind the Current Conflicts between Christians and Muslims

FG1 [47982-48333]

Politics and the way our preachers use to preach and scholar use to preach. They are preaching too harsh. They will tell you if you want to be a real Muslim you have to do jihad but they can't explain what jihad means. Like me or if an illiterate person hear the word for the first time jihad when the scholar say jihad he will assume it is fighting.

FG1 [48441-48551]

What I think is the cause of this present conflict is ah intolerance, segregation and then denial of rights.

FG1 [48553-49659]

For me since formally, in the past days in Nigeria, the leaders of the past people like Saradauna as a northerner irrespective of religion if you are just a northerner your life is important, but for now the leaders we are have the interest of only the northerners irrespective of those who are residing in the north. Take for example this present governor, this Sabon Gari roads are not constructed when they lay this claim to him that they need, since everywhere is being rehabilitated in Kano state they now laid this complain to him that we need our roads to also be repaired so the answer he gave to them, I heard him with my ears, the answer he gave to them (Ku ai ba ki ne, kuma zuwa kuka yi yanzun kasuwa kuke zuwa. Sai ka ga mutum da narkeken gida amma haya yake yi. Muka dole mu gyara ma mutanen wuri saboda su muke yi wa aiki) meaning, you are visitor or settlers and you just came and presently you are only interested in commerce. You will see someone with a big house but he is just renting it. And we, we must repair places for our people because we are working for them. That is the point

FG1 [49661-49943]

The problem also is this we against them that is the case in the past republic what they try to do is they try to unite the country all we are equal but now there is this difference of south and north. We are seeing them as our enemies and they too are seeing us as their enemies.

FG1 [49945-50303]

There is no this kind of brotherhood between us like in politics too when two people are fighting for the same position one from one religion and one from another religion, people from that religion will always try harder to make him what he wants to be and then the other if they are in the minority and they couldn't do anything they will be antagonistic

FG1 [50305-50504]

It is just that nowadays the reverse is the case because we have the case of, we have some political consciousness now developing among us. People are now more politically conscious than before so.

FG2 [28697-28809]

Like I earlier said politics is one of those reasons. There could be many other reasons but political factors.

FG2 [28811-28846]

(F) Are there no politics before?

FG2 [28848-29136]

The politics that was existing then was not a stable one, it was more of military, politics, it wasn't stable but when democracy came political individuals, politicians started manifesting selfish interests over social interests (interject: he has introduced another factor: selfishness)

FG2 [29138-29212]

Yes sir to my own understanding, sir actually lack of individual tolerance

FG2 29216-29920]

Sir if am really going to state my opinion concerning the peaceful coexistence between the Muslims and the non-Muslims in the past which cannot be found in the present. In the past there wasn't much preachers as compared to now in the present. Now in the present we have so many preachers who are putting people astray instead of putting them on the right path. Some of the scholars, in both religions, hardly will they further their studies to a certain level before they start preaching. They will start interpreting the Qur'an or the Bible from the peripheral aspect of it. I believe this is the cause why there isn't peaceful coexistence between the Muslims and the Christians now as it was before.

FG2 [29922-30222]

Like this case of Niger Delta militants against the government, I don't know how to place the thing that cause it exactly but like those Niger Delta people are fighting that their land is neglected, they are not taking care of them and it is from their own towns that they are taking the resources

FG2 [30305-30437]

(F) In my own opinion I think individual differences with respect to the quest for power, wealth, status and religious sentiments.

FG2 [30439-31134]

Sir if I am going to further my opinion also concerning my own area of origin, that is in Plateau state, one of the primary cause of the crisis there, because I use to remember when I was in primary school we used to go to church together with my friends and we go to mosque together, but later there was this enmity that arose between the Muslims and the Christians' living standard, the Muslims people are living well, their wives don't suffer, they don't do anything but they still feed three square meals per day and most of these things arose and caused serious enmity between the Muslims and non-Muslims, I think, which is one primary cause or causes of the 2001 religious crisis in Jos.

FG2 [31185-31262]

I am describing it as lack of tolerance to the social status of each person.

FG2 [31407-31721]

Well in my own opinion the problem which cause this kind of thing is just that everybody has his own personal interest to the extent that maybe if mister A has so and so kind of issues then maybe mister B may have personal interest on the issues then the conflict now arise between the Muslims and the Christians

FG2 [31722-32506]

(F) Hmm excuse me I have something, our leaders, our leaders have a vital role. In fact they are responsible because our traditional leaders and the preachers are the most respected personalities in the society. So whenever there is little problem instead of them to calm the minds of people so they tend to ginger them towards going after what they lose and to me which is not right. It is better for them like to settle everything. Just like should I say the xenophobic attacks, initially it was a traditional ruler that should be responsible for everything and the recent ones here the ones occurring as in today, tomorrow, day to day or the daily ones most of the times you get to hear this mallam saying this that pastor saying that, it is really mitigating these things.

FG2 [32630-32774]

but it has to do with stable leaders, credible leaders (she interjects- the leaders are too sentimental yah they tend to mislead the followers)

FG3 [65947-66981]

me I will refer to this very brother's talk. That he said there are some talks inculcated in the youths present youths nowadays. Right from their own homes hatred is inculcated in their minds so such groups of people are never your friends, never go close to them. And you will never get to know me if you are not my friend. And it is the reason why I am a Muslim I mustn't have to be friends to Muslims. I am a friend to most of the Christians everybody can testify to it as we sit down. You will never know that I am a Muslim unless you see me in the mosque. And that does not stop me from praying or being what I am or respecting and doing what my God asks me to do. You understand. So what I see the most reason, because I have heard it and I went to some of my friend's house and they think that I am also a Christian and they said it. I am not just saying it, from first hand I heard it that mingling with them it will spoil your spiritual something. I can't remember those kinds of things, to me are the major factors

FG3 [66993-68337]

Even in my department I have been facing some challenges there. Like most people will say are you a Christian or Muslim and I will say ah but you heard my name-Lukman. I am a Muslim of course. But they will say you come from Lagos because they believe most people from south western Nigeria are maybe are Christians, just bear the name they are not, they just bear the name but they don't practice. So I say I am a Muslim so they say but you don't behave like one. So most of my friends too are Christians, most of them. So I have people in my department that will come to me and say why are you walking with this one? He is a Christian. Like if we are having tutorial like maybe the call like MSS (Muslim Student Society) tutorial if any Christian should come to that tutorial they will say no, this for only Muslims. Like one day I stood up and said why? This is tutorial, this is education we all have to benefit from it, they say no it is only Muslims and they told me if I, they know I am not a true Muslims if I want to stand up and go with him that I am only covering I came from Lagos. So they told me to stand up they said, because if they see you walking with a Christian, they will say why, why are you walking with that guy? Even some in my department they don't talk to me. They won't talk to me because am walking with this guy.

FG3 [68367-69646]

I want to make a contribution to what this man has said initially that the reason for conflicts between the two religions can also be subject to lack of adequate knowledge. You see it is good you have the knowledge of your own religion. Both Islam and Christianity I believe do not preach war. They do not preach ahhh how do I call it, unsettlement. They do not preach bloodshed and unrest. Both religions are there to guide you on how to live your life, there are peace principles of living. And therefore both religions or individuals of all religions should inculcate in their minds that religion makes you to live healthier and live a better life without you being involved in any aspect of conflicts or bloodshed. Muhammad rasulillahi (SAW) during his time he lived with Christians and...with them. He lived with non-believers. And they lived in peace. And it is believed that anywhere you found yourself the closest person that is the closest person to you at that place is your neighbor. And your neighbor is your friend and your neighbor is your family and whosoever is not in good terms with his neighbor is not in good terms with himself. And therefore both religions have close principles because none of them support bloodshed. And therefore one should seek knowledge.

FG3 [69648-72205]

Really in addition to what he just said, I think we have already answered this question before as he said because we just the case with inadequate knowledge for both the parties that is both Muslims and Christians. It is only through education that you can know who is your friend and who is your enemy. If to say maybe we can take the example of the holy book, let me say the holy Qur'an, how did it describe Jesus? There are verses completely named suratul Marya that is the name of the mother of Jesus she gave birth to Jesus; so the kind of witness the Qur'an testified, he called her virgin, the virgin Maryam that is what the Qur'an called her. The book also called Christians Ahl kitabi. It also legalized marrying Christians. So when you look at all these things as long as you are learned then you will know that these people are not enemies. Take back maybe to Christianity, Christians believe in crucifixion although we Muslims we don't believe in it but who crucified Jesus? It is not the Muslims, it is the Jews. So it is like we can say when we go back to the scriptures we learn a lot we could know who is a friend and who is an enemy. The question related us back to, they say Nigeria we were living peacefully before. I think we can relate it to the question we answered already that introduction of that inadequate knowledge and also introduction of politics. Before there is no this politics. I think we were living peacefully as I even told him during the first interview I said there was a time when the Fulani people that is the cattle rearers are the ones maybe propagating Islam in southern Kaduna and maybe Jos area. When they reached some certain locations the people came to them around wanting to convert to Islam, but they will tell them go back who told you someone like you can convert into Islam. But they still liked the way they were conducting their lives. When they give birth to children they usually brought the children to them to name them for them. So you know those fulanis they are very wicked they will look at the baby and say her name is Lami Tsakuwa. So they would be happy that they name them- fine name. It was later when they came to realized, they started to understand Hausa and said ok these people are not friends they are enemies. So it is true if to say they know their religion very well-those Fulanis, also they can propagate Islam, I think they would have occupied a lot of land there. But they are illiterates and also the people there were illiterates and they developed hatred for one another.

KD1 [59894-60331]

That's it, that's it, the main, what is causing it is because the Christians over time have become suspicious to the Muslims and the Muslims over time have become suspicious of the Christians owing to recent happenings of how some few people, some isolated members of society have acted and people have used that to generalize and use that to name other people, others and think everybody is the same. That is the cause of the problem.

KD2 [30617-31488]

The present conflict I think emanated purely from sentiments. It is sentiments that caused all these conflicts that is going on and another thing that caused this conflict is some kind of political ideology that are put in place like segregating the country into different geo-political zones, in the form and ensuring that if a Muslim is the president, a Christian has to be the vice-president or the speakership or the president of the national, of the senate and what have you. All this caused relationship. So the major thing that caused these conflicts in the present, in this present Nigeria is purely, is this political ideologies. And sometimes our scholars do try to imbibe the followers with some ideologies, with some teachings that are contrary and that are biased, so all these too contributed in forming some form of, causing some conflicts in the country.

KD3 [22936-23075]

The present conflict relationship in northern Nigeria are political, are politically order the way just to gain power and to keep, and to...

KD4 [55089-55241]

Yah, the only thing that has compromised that peace that was existing before is that the religion has been politicized both Christianity and Islam.

KD5 [30189-30487]

Toh, on my opinion, what brings about the present conflict relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in the northern Nigeria that should be ignorance, should I say ignorance? Yah ignorance is part of it, lack of patience with each other, lack of understanding, and the high growth in tribalism.

KD6 [48624-49387]

It's when they say this guy, this religion hate you, the other one hate you and without you confirming. The Christians will say no Islam is too hard they hate Christianity, they do this, the Christians, the muslims will say no, Christians hate us, but the problem, the irony of it is go to the market, you will see a non-Muslims' shop at the side of Muslim shop and they were neighbors and they were together, selling together, collecting his money, collecting my money, going to the same hospital, entering the same car, but when the time comes, we now fight. So, what brings about that? I will still say after the fighting, we will still come back to the same market to buy things and we can't stop that. If we can't stop it, so, we have to stop the conflict

KD7 [38681-38788]

Because the reason for the conflicts is that we are selfish in our lives, in our homes, in our businesses.

KD8 [68970-70304]

As a result of that Kafanchan crisis. That was what brought about a conflict in northern Nigeria. That Kafanchan crisis was the beginning, prior to that, I schooled in Christian community, I did my secondary school in Christian community and I was treated very well in fact better than the Christians, we lived very well together, we lived happily, in fact we were like brothers and sisters. So, I grew up in the mist of the Christians and I appreciate them as at that time, there was no any problem, we were together, they took us, were a minority in that area, but they treated us very well. We had the very good relationship, we were given prefects. We were given all those kinds of things. When it was time for fasting, we get all we needed, in fact we and the Christians would come to our room to be living together because during ehm fasting, there used to be a lot of food, everything is available, so we are together with them, sometimes we leave our room open and go and join them and be living with them. So, I feel very comfortable with the Christians. So as at that time, there was, it was very peaceful. Immediately 1987 came, that crisis came, that was the beginning of suspicion, Zangon Kataf came, Miss world came, thereafter crisis after crisis. So, this breeds mistrust yah between the Muslims and the non-Muslims.

KD9 [47517-48413]

One, media hype. Living together as Muslims and Christians under, there has always been undercurrent of conflict. It is just that today the media has blown it to the extent that ai it is the Muslims that are bringing the jihad, it is the Muslims that are doing this, no it is the Christians and so on and so forth and these things even when you are not there, they tell you something is happening, for example, in Maiduguri ai a lot of Muslims have been killed then you that are here maybe a Christian, you say ahhh my brothers have been killed and then or you know, stuffs like that. How did that happen? Through the media. The social networks too have not helped the matters in that aspect. Things are happening, of course it is progress, technological progress, but the way people spread these kinds of things, it can fuel the bad blood and then you see conflict happening all over the place.

KD10 [37029-37098]

Ignorance, self desires. Lack of tolerance, transgressing the limit

KD12 [40222-40424]

Ah in fact it is necessary because encroachment into peoples rights is not eh is now made a law within the people, so if that one is taken proper care of, there wouldn't be any conflict argument again.

KD13 [18571-18645]

Lack of the true teachings and perfect Islamic education on both parties.

KD14 [24024-24262]

I will say the present conflict relationship with the Christians in the northern Nigeria has political impact by both some people planning in order to attain power in order to attain their goals, so do cause those confusion and division.

KD15 [30872-31389]

I think it is self interest and ahm let just say self interest because Christians worship and do their religion while the Muslims in olden days they practice Islam and live peacefully and Christians in the olden days could practice their Christianity, live peacefully because they believe okay let say the Christians believe in one God or they believe in God and the Muslims believe in God also so I don't think religion can lead to conflict or whatever, so I believe what really leads to conflict is self interest.

KD16 [19200-19363]

Because we have lost the peaceful co-existence between them in the past. So we want to bring it back. It is an effort to restore the peace they had in the past.

KD17 [56970-57185]

I say it is due to the lack of understanding and proliferation of scholars of those that are not scholars and lack of understanding of the din of the religion by the two main faiths in Nigeria that is causing this.

KD19 [38150-38293]

Well, I think eh politics; politicians took advantage of our level of intolerance to create conflicts among followers of different religions.

KD20 [31053-31232]

I think the answer to that is political interferences and lack of understanding and tolerance, yes if we can able to understand ourselves, there is going to be peace, that's all.

KD21 [30343-31361]

I will go with politics. From 1983 when the Maitatsine sect emerged in Nigeria and they were wiped out by the then General Muhammadu's government, coming down there was only one notable violence in Nigeria, it happened in a single local government in part of northern Nigeria, Zangon Kataf, the military intervened, they did a thorough research of the cause, did a good settlement and the late nothing happened. But from 2000 onwards, there are series of conflicts starting from 2000, the Odi violence in Bayelsa though it was tribal. But 2000 in Kaduna which was a sharia violence, it was fuelled by politicians here in Kaduna state. They succeeded in galvanising their followers telling them that they are going to lose their financial and educational values in the state. These facts fuelled a lot of this violence and until date these politicians have always been fuelling these. The large number of embezzlement they have succeeded in doing in government. I still go with politics, politics has been the reason.

KD23 [29258-29404]

Yes, Muslims and non-Muslim are living peacefully and the ah and the major contributing factor is politics that is the major contributing factor.

KD24 [87515-87541]

Politicians and politics.

KD25 [97746-98030]

Yes, the political deception of the politicians, so called politicians. And unless we bring, we fight that, if not conflicts will continue to escalate. I don't pray for that. If we don't attack it, we leave them to continue then that is how the conflict will continue to eh come up.

KD26 [33981-34006]

I think it is political.

KD27 [32234-32279]

Politics and the politics of power so to say

KD28 [40592-41476]

Well this baffles me a lot. Since the present day we continue to see a form of you know like presently now even the Islam and the Christianity the form it in the form of an enterprises now which people are trying to seek, seek his own personal interest or trying to attract people then making eh as in form of establishment. The understanding of each other between in other to know what really is Islam and do you know that all these, if you have the believe as a Muslim that your sustenance, everything is from God, and then you submit yourself to the will of God then you continue to pray to God, you will, sustenance Allah is the one that provides, but we continue to see that dama God made it that yes you have to seek for sustenance and by his own means he provide us. It is not that we sit down and then we get our own provision. But they have form it in form of an enterprise.

KD29 [27044-27142]

Well politicization of religion. This is what caused the friction between Muslims and Christians.

KD30 [49135-49826]

I think is possible, it is politics, I think I will have to give this to politics because if you look at before, the problem was I think used to be tribe, used to be tribal problems, you look at the south-south uprising and things like these even then with the tribal problems you always find politics somewhere in the problem, in the issue and I think that has to that comes to this generation where we have maybe the politics, the politicians think that maybe the political differences is not enough for people to kill even though now we are still having some case of political tribal ahm uprising in some parts if Nigeria, but I think the politicians is taking more advantage of religion

KD31 [24021-24082]

Is just the introduction of democracy in Nigeria that is it.

KD32 [35905-36139]

The major things I can say is democracy because most of these conflicts are politically oriented. Some people are denied their rights in some of the parts of this country, injustice, so this what cause it, it is politically oriented.

KD33 [30397-30531]

Well as I said it earlier is the politics that brings all this misunderstanding, conflicts, fighting each other in northern Nigeria.

KD34 [38403-38522]

Definitely is most of it is the selfish interest, selfish interest and then the political gain as we defined earlier.

KD35 [36588-37259]

Ehm the reason for this is the greed, the selfishness I mean the unfairness to the followers, the lack of proper enlightenment, lack of proper guidance from the preachers, the pastors now live on the scale of the people, the Muslims preachers live on the scope of the people in order to aggrandize their personal belongings in order to make more money not to preach for the sake of Allah for people to live in peace. Once people are living in peace the so-called imams, the so-called preachers will not make what they want to make, will not achieve what they want to achieve, they remain by the side in poverty, in whatever. So I think that is that should be the reason.

KN1 [73016-75067]

Thank you very much I have been telling you fairness, fairness-adalci. That was the period of Sardauna. To some extent when he was alive they were accusing him of not being fair to all but within the northern Nigeria agree that to some extent he was fair. I know Sunday Awoniyi to some extent personally I have contact with him I know his opinion about Sardauna. Sunday Awoniyi is there, he is one of the favorite of Sardauna, Michael Audu Buba they are the ones that were near Sardauna. In fact when Sardauna was killed by the military then Michael Audu Buba was among the only people who stayed, that were with his corpse that attended his funeral. He is one of the few key officers that attend his funeral. This is something that is well known and then the general ideology was about northern Nigeria not about Christianity or Islam because they all know as he said to Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe, you know the popular saying, they met and he was telling them Sardauna let's forget our differences and he said no Dr. let's understand our differences. So that was the general concept then that was the ideology. So that is it.

Q: So you mean there is a shift in ideology in the present situation?

Ans: There is. We don't have leadership and the leadership is not fair. That is why our children the younger ones and almost everybody is in poverty no employment the economy is poor everything is down. And the leadership is about self building and the leadership does not care about its subjects. It is just about myself and my immediate family. That is the current leadership and before it was not like that. If Sardauna as a premier or the president of the northern Nigeria will die and is owing somebody sixteen thousand pounds and now compare that with a local government chairman. This is somebody that was controlling the nineteen northern states as at then and compare him with somebody that is controlling only a unit, local government compare that with what they are amassing now and what they are getting. So you can see what is happening actually.

KN1 [75312-75593]

I mentioned it to you that under an Islamic state a Christian can serve, a Christian can be appointed and that is what has been done under the regime of Sardauna. I gave you example of Michael Audu Buba, of the Sunday Awoniyi and the rest, they are all the children of Sardauna.

KN1 [75736-75823]

Our leaders are narrow minded. That is it, they are myopic. That is the main problem.

KN2 [43482-44086]

As I told you Muslims and non-Muslims in Nigeria have been taken for granted by politicians. Ahmed Sani Yariman Bakura introduced sharia on a purely political basis. Another governor from Benue state was calling on his Christian fellows that they should vote for him to ensure that Christianity continue to prosper that is George Akume, the same with Jonah Jang and Johsua Dariye. See all of these people are using religion to achieve a political image and to maintain themselves in power. That was the beginning of crisis, the beginning and the end of crisis in Nigeria between Muslims and Christians.

KN2 [44136-44173]

It is because of political undertone

KN3 [38454-39133]

I told you when politicians have nothing to offer they resort to religion and tribalism because they are too sensitive areas that can easily provoke people to emotions and that is why. They, unlike the leaders in the past, who had the interest of the country at heart, the present leaders have their personal selfish interest. They don't care about the people. They want to make money so they can be everything and they are not thinking of the welfare of the people, they are thinking of their personal welfare and the best way to do it is to confuse the people knock their heads and bring tribalism and religion to divide them in order to achieve their selfish aim. That is why

KN4 [57413-57468]

Hmm, democracy because people are struggle for power.

KN5 [38198-38261]

The terrorist effect which is engineered by political leaders.

KN6 [43092-43717]

I said it earlier, it is at the result of injustice by our leaders. It is as a result of illiteracy, it is as a result of poverty, etc and sometimes, so it is all as a result this because sometimes maybe ahh sometimes, our leaders or our politicians try to implement this idea to divide and rule, which is happening. This is a, they got this idea from their forefathers or from their colonialist, from the colonial masters. Because when they invaded our homes in those time they try to be divide us because they have this siri-divide and rule, so sometime the politician use this company in order to divide you and rule you.

KN7 [38861-38997]

I think the governing ehm reasons for introducing the conflicts are more of political ehm reasons; they are more of political reasons.

KN8 [36216-36456]

I think, an hungry man is an angry man. If someone is self-sufficient will not wish to embark on conflict, lack of knowledge, low level of literacy, ignorance, lack of commitment, you understand, they are factors responsible for all these.

KN9 [32515-32610]

Lack of understanding I would say. There is no practical understanding between these two, hmm.

KN10 [26084-26292]

Because before in the past they are not many in the northern part, so now they are more than before in terms of population, so they are expecting that one day they can dominate so that is why conflict occur.

KN11 [34370-34521]

Like you, some ignorant people, also ignorant scholars, the so-called scholars can claim that they are the revivalist and they came with this conflict.

KN13 [37758-37828]

As I have said it earlier, it is as a result of communication barrier.

KN14 [31673-31685]

Our leaders

KN15 [26092-26163]

I suggest it is political reasons; it is because of political reasons.

KN16 [15592-15624]

It's just a political reasons.

KN17 [30664-30741]

It's ah its ah its a religious political, its a religious political conflict

KN18 [52784-52994]

Manipulation of religion and political manipulation. Politicians using religion to divide people to gain support... they always use of religion to divide ah people for them to gain political support.

KN19 [34861-35033]

I think religious conflict, religious differences, ethnic differences, you understand, as well as low level of civilization are parts of the factors responsible for this.

KN20 [25109-25402]

Is not as if the both religions are causing problems but I'm seeing it from the aspect of divide and rule. It is not as if we are conflicting; the Christians and the Muslims but the government and other things are using their divide and rule to cause conflicts between us and eat our money.

KN21 [18014-18076]

Most of these conflicts are being politically motivated, yah.

KN22 [35913-35928]

It is politics

KN23 [23976-24001]

It is greed and politics

KN24 [22305-22524]

I think the presence conflict relationship there is politics. Our political leaders are the ones that influence us with that mentality in order for them to continue ruling and stealing our money so that we won't react.

KN25 [35688-35951]

Well it has to do with one, improper understanding. I think secondly, the desire by some to dominate some. I think one of these religious group's desire to dominate the other. And each time whenever the concept of domination comes, conflict will definitely follow

KN26 [40694-41119]

Conflict largely in northern Nigeria. Yes ethno-religious whether we like it or not ethnic factors jump across religious factors. But largely conflicts in northern Nigeria came back with a very full force or came to be with a very full force from the return of democracy in 1999. That is why many people argue that the so-called religious conflicts happening in Nigeria are in a way being concocted with political factors.

KN27 [28183-28373]

Let me say it is part of what is bringing this he conflict is proliferation of Islamic extremist scholars. That is number one of the significant factors that is warranting all these crisis.

KN27 [28423-28634]

From the part of the Christians, I think even them they tend to force their religion on other Muslims, they want to be. So I think from their side too, this would be a factor that will give rise to conflicts.

KN28 [21927-22000]

Well I think this has to go with ethno religious issues and selfish ego.

KN30 [19821-20024]

Basically it is just the understanding. There are different perceptive on that, you understand, so it is just that there is no understanding between the Christians and Muslims. No proper understanding.

KN31 [36665-37390]

Actually we lived, some years behind, let me say between sixties and seventies, Muslims and Christians lived peacefully in northern Nigeria because I think then, what really existed then was not even a religious conflicts rather what see mostly existing now is more of ethnic and even the ethnic they are intra-ethnic clashes may be between just communities. So I think as a result of these things –the coming of democracy we started taking sides. The Christians want to vote for Christians, the Muslims want to vote for Muslims and I think that started dividing our heads and you know politicians now they started using religion as a tool for campaigning and I think those are the things that resulted in this barrier.

KN32 [18357-18524]

Simply code again as I have told you it's something very simple greed, lack of understanding of the both religions. These are the two major reasons why they conflict.

KN33 [13647-13675]

To me all this is politics.

KN34 [25042-25080]

Is the elite and the political class.

KN35 [23895-24265]

Actually the non-Muslims and Muslims lived peacefully in the northern part of Nigeria even par the relationship has been part of the colonial intervention. Then this is the legacy of colonial, is what said opens some people's feeling like that of to politics and they have to be dominant in the society and whenever everything is been politicized there always be chaos.

KN36 [24099-24124]

It is political problem.

KN37 [22984-23160]

I think I have answered this question before. I said it is just a mere political factor and lack of enlightenment between the both parties especially at the grassroots level.

KN38 [17104-17113]

Politics

KN39 [26780-27173]

Actually I can say that it is the present administration or just recent administration really lead us to being in conflicts because we are not being treated equally that is to say the persons in power really have physically shown inequality with regard to his administration. Therefore I can say really this is a great factor or great impact with regards to the religious conflict in Nigeria.

KN40 [21247-21364]

It is because everybody is struggling to get the power or the resources in order to use it within their territories.

KN41 [18470-18611]

Based on my understanding, I think politics is the major factor that is fueling the conflict between Muslims and Christians of present time.

KN42 [48432-49452]

It could be said in different light. It could be considered political whereby the leaders are only interested in what works for them not what is meant to be. The way we see ourselves since a lot of occurrences around the world is showing that Muslims are destroyers, are the ones responsible for bombing here and there and the Christians is seeing like they haven't been considered for a long time because they've been hmm, what is it called, they've been marginalized so they try to get their own voice by deciding that the only way for people to see them is for them to be criticizing on, to have a negative view of this religion. We ourselves haven't helped either. We have always, the new trend of adopting violence into the religion has really made it worse because a lot of death is said to be associated with this religious uprising here and there. So lack of trust between the two sects, the lack of patience and we don't have tolerance and then we don't trust each other and that results in a lot of conflicts

KN43 [34720-35158]

Yes ah, if you take ah Plateau and to be specific Jos, Muslims and non-Muslims used to live peacefully in the past, but ah recently they involve in series of conflicts with one another. To me, the only or the principal reason that precipitated conflict in that part of northern Nigeria is issue of politics. Their elite have succeeded in using politics to divide them, because of this they constantly engage in conflict with one another.

KN45 [41009-41400]

Ehh I think it was ehh, it was introduced ehh to achieve ehh a political gain. It was introduced to achieve ehh it is a way, to me, of divide a rule tactics. It is a divide a rule tactics to divide the North between the Muslims and Christians so there would be no unified North as it is a very strong powerful North as it used to be during the times of ehh Sir Ahmadu Bello.

KN46 [61531-61636]

Mis-governance, like I said before, with a good governance in place all these things ah will disappear.

KN47 [58181-59831]

Of course there was a better orientation and the respect of values of the people. You know the people of Nigeria, both Christians and Muslims in the past, are related together, they do business together, they live together ah peacefully without serious antagonisms between them. So the factors responsible for their peaceful relationship was at that time, the respect they have for the values of one another is greater than the respect for values of one another in this time because I raised, when I was very young, I just you know I just found myself sitting in an area in Katsina state whereby there are you know a lot of you know people in our neighborhood who were not Muslims, who were not even Hausa's so and we lived together with them, we grow up with their children you understand, we went to school together we did everything, we played together, but nowadays if you go to the area, you will simply see that the persons that we had this kind of understanding before are no longer living in the area so you see, those people, new generation who just come after us, they didn't find this kind of you know harmonious relationship. So I don't know how they should or how they will interpret the values of those kind of people, if it is during the Christmas, you can simply come to our house and see Christmas things, Christmas you know ah booties and what do you call it, all these things, you know, that you can present to someone for Christmas, you can see them in our house. So also if it is Sallah time, then you can, we take them, we give foods and meet and other things to them. So you see we respect and teach each other's values.

KN48 [19760-19894]

Then because they understand each other, they, they work hand in hand and everybody, everybody respect each and everyone's religions.

KN49 [30336-30543]

Ahh, Politics, politics and politics and greedy politicians and ah people who want to hang on to power at all cost not minding the repercussions and not minding the price or the people pay for their greed.

KN50 [17474-17568]

Ahh, I think contestation of power is responsible; contestation of, for power is responsible.

KN52 [58311-59685]

I think this present situation in which the relationship between Muslims and Christians or Muslims and non-Muslims in Northern Nigeria continue to deteriorate I think has more to do with politics than religion itself. Politicians manipulate religion for political, selfish end and in this way religion suffers. So people are not really fighting for the sake of religion as such, but they are fighting although sometimes they fight you know with the wrong, under the illusion that they are fighting for the sake of their religion, but in the real sense they are merely fighting for the elite, they are fighting for the elite, so the elite manipulate these sentiments for their selfish ends. So because of that manipulation of religion by the elite groups in northern-Nigeria, I think, religion has in recent times has become a weapon, a political weapon in the hands of the elites and of course you could have some religious leaders who a times ferment troubles, misunderstanding between religious groups, but there are lots of factors like religious factors, political factors and sometimes even economic factors, poverty, people are susceptible to all forms of manipulations when you know they are poverty stricken, when they do not have access to this basic necessities for survival: food, water, health and education, they become instruments in the hands of the elites.

KN54 [12842-12861]

Bad leadership.

KN55 [14978-15243]

Ok. The present conflict we are facing in northern Nigeria between the Muslims and the Christians is as a result of some factors which include bad leadership, mismanagement, poverty, illiteracy, corruption and the rest. There are many of them I just listed a few.

KN56 [26013-26328]

Actually what is responsible for introducing the present conflict relationship between the Muslims and non-Muslims in Northern Nigeria even though they lived peacefully in the past are, as I said earlier, corruption and some selfish interest by some preachers in these major religions and even bad governance.

KN57 [21338-21605]

You see, as I did mention earlier, the leadership of our great country plays a vital role in this issue and also there is no respect between Christians and Muslim religion in Nigeria as before. This brought all this issues to reality in our modern or present day.

KN58 [47474-47813]

Colonial element. I told you earlier on, colonialist came and found us living in peace side by side each other now. They created this vacuum between the two of us. They created this vacuum between the two of us by inciting the Christians that they are the majority why should they allow few microscopic Muslims to rule them. That is it.

KN59 [51171-51808]

Actually Muslims and Christians lived peacefully in the past. The reason is they didn't show our leaders, our Imams, our pastors, our clerics did not show us the difference in it because we are brothers keepers, we are friends, we are relatives because we even encourage intertribal or interreligious marriage then because of the peace that exist. But with the advent to these leaders that have some western ideology or western Islamic ideology or preachers, they bring out the negative perceptions of the Christians or of the Muslims. So that is the major factor that leads to present conflict between the Muslims and Christians.

KN60 [37780-37790]

Politics.

KN61 [19383-19453]

Ehen, it is just misunderstanding and maybe issue of power, politics.

KN62 [60174-60445]

Ahh, what is responsible actually is ah, let's say, the caprices of some leaders, let's say, wishes, bad intensions of some leaders who put the two heads at logger heads, let me say, put two parties at loggerhead all the time. They create a kind of tension all the time.

KN63 [50954-51851]

You know, is because of the conflict they are having in between the two religions and that is why the government is now set-up something like that for proper understanding of ourselves or maybe for proper-to inform their followers on proper understanding of ourselves and that is the main reason as I observed huh. So there is no doubt about it, you know in the past we do have such, in the past, you know in some people okay, just in the 80's you know 70's - 80's we don't have such things, but now in the recent time, the conflict have now somehow being reduced again, because it seems as if we are now getting to understand each other better. If you look at, in the year 2000, there is no much proper conflict, religious conflict, if you know look at that religious conflict or that are now coming up these days, is being influenced tribalism, is being influenced by tribalism, you understand.

KN64 [29720-29735]

Politics, hmm.

KN65 [36951-36971]

Politics, politics.

KN66 [25787-25908]

The present conflict relationship between Muslim and Christian in Nigeria is a conspiracy that cannot even be explained.

KN67 [26862-27193]

Well the, there are so many factors. Many people use the religion ah to gain, to achieve their own goal maybe politically, people are using religion, the name of the religion in order to achieve their goal. So this and so many other reasons led to the present conflicts that ah are between the Muslims and non-Muslims in Nigeria.

KN68 [12814-12827]

Colonialism.

KN69 [45613-46811]

The issue is that of, the issue is that, is lack of good leadership. Reference can be made to so many countries in this world whereby you can see that a particular country having Muslim as well as Christians those in particular countries like in Saudia can you actually say that the 99 percent of the people of the Saudia are all Muslims? There are those that are not Muslims, but because of good governance they are living in harmony. We have so many countries, let us go to the United States, we have Muslims there. They are living in harmony because of good governance. Let us go to some countries in Europe like England, we have Muslims there though they are the minority, but they are living in harmony because of good governance. The problem we are having here in this country because of bad governance. If a particular leader is emerged, either from the northern part of the country or the southern part of the country he feel his region only and the people of his region. And at times, they use politics as an instrument to instigate people in order to raise alarm of dispute in the country so that they will be able to achieve their goals. That is what is currently happening in Nigeria.

KN71 [75199-75318]

Divide and rule by the politicians and of course among whom are the clerics of the mosques and of the churches, simple.

KN72 [39721-39858]

It is politics. It is only politics that reveals or introduce the present conflict between Christians and the Muslims in the societies.

KN73 [41331-41347]

It is politics.

KN74 [50416-50469]

Ehh is nothing more than politics. That is politics.

KN75 [53005-53015]

Politics

KN76 [46584-46741]

Well, as I told you before, there is, there are economic undertones and there are also unregulated preachings on the side of the Muslims and the Christians.

KN78 [62825-63143]

That justifies is what I (laughing) is what I have previously told you. That is why I say most of these conflicts as we see them today are not really religious in a way because we have been living peacefully side in line for decades. This really justifies what I am trying to say. So back to your question you said ahh

KN78 [63217-63756]

Oh yes, introducing the present conflict relationship. Yah I remember, I remember, you see, as I said, for as long as we don't have a legitimate government, we have massive unemployment rate among the youths, certain issues that are not addressed as it should be addressed in terms of distributing the wealth of the country ahh fairly among members of the same, among citizens, we tend to have conflicts. They say a hungry man is an angry man, if you don't educate people, you don't empower people naturally conflicts are bound to happen.

KN80 [47875-48152]

So nowadays scholars from both religions are not preaching the actual saying of the religions, but before both there is consensus between both scholars, both people of the ah from the different religions hereby the true notion of the religion is been taught to ah ah people.

KN81 [32594-33229]

Well presently there is ah political agitation amm between Muslims and non-Muslims, so this causes all the problem. Before in the past Muslims and non-Muslims, as you said, are living peacefully, but this time around many factors have cause to live where they are ah such factors that cause this problem include one, poverty, illiteracy and so on and so forth. All these are caused a lot of problem to the Muslims and non-Muslims and also ah political causes also cause this ah problem because most of ah the politicians they use the Muslims and non-Muslims to make them, sorry, they use them to serve their political interest.

KN82 [33419-33626]

The present conflict relationship was as a result of first, misconception of the religion. Second, politics and the third, modernization. That is importation of foreign ideology or interpretation of Islam.

KN83 [24776-25140]

I think is based on the way our pastors and fathers are teaching, are preaching in their in their place of worship and based on even the Ulama that is those known as mallamai, Sheikhs, the way they are preaching is now, they are using some ideologies, they are not preaching, few of them that are teaching the right Islamic, but they are putting some interest.

KN84 [27318-27516]

I think the emm what makes this thing is lack of ah respect in religions, respect in tribes, respect in, you know, lack of this thing-creativity in ah their somehow literature so on and so forth.

KN85 [40233-40706]

Yes so many factors one, the politicization of religion. Politicians try to divide people along religious lines that cause conflicts. Two, there is misconception of religion and misinterpretation of religion, some scholars will misconceive or misinterpret religion or they may conceive it rightly but misinterpret it wrongly or misinterpret it for their own ah ah selfish reasons. And so these are what cause the friction in relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims

ZA1 [40530-40793]

Is politicians, they want to get votes. If a non-Muslim maybe a Christian want to represent maybe house of assembly or senate, he sees that he don't have a vote, so he will try to create a problem of religion so that he can convince his people to vote for him.

ZA2 [49746-51226]

That is what am telling you, when we look at the north, we are peaceful in those days the same house a Christian we see stay together, a Muslim will stay together everything everybody Is allowed to worship his God, but today we come to worldly materialistic nation, we come to everybody acquisition of wealth, I want to acquire ehen. So it is this acquisition of wealth that brought to this problem. That time people don't bother, his own concern is just to get what he is going to eat, what is going to help his eh today politics can- that is, what brought about the acquisition? Look at politics today, is it only politics to work? Politics is not to work. The politics is just to acquire. If you are coming for politics to work, you will not agree I should be there today, tomorrow I should be there tomorrow. The work will be too much for me now. How will I, am not a slave now, why should you know that, look at take example of emm a state in this nation, where a governor called himself chief servant. The real fact is, the real fact if you are made a leader, you are a servant because the responsibility of the people must be surrendered to you and you will propounding solution, you will go up and down there to find out how do I solve the problem? Are you not going, are you not a servant? You are going up and down to find out how I create peace for my people. How do I make them enjoy their lives, so that is the issue behind it, but today that is not the problem.

ZA3 [30669-30906]

I don't know who is introducing it, but as I have said earlier, part of it is the global village. In part too is due to, the two sides the Christians are having the aversion to trust Muslims and Muslims and what happens along, globally.

ZA4 [51392-51565]

Media controversy, bad scholars, they are preaching bad doctrines to people contradicting the society, science and technology, all these things are contributed negatively.

ZA5 [34029-34119]

Yes everybody want is own sect, shey you understand, to be taken as the most important one

ZA6 [74373-74593]

That is why I told you it is not a religious conflict. It is the manipulation of religion in Nigeria and especially it is prevalent in the northern Nigeria. It is just a political manipulation not a religious conflict.

ZA7 [40179-40692]

Yes like before now sincerely Nigerians have lived peacefully before democracy came into Nigeria. I think basically what I feel is responsible for all these is ahm is just politics, is just politics to be sincere because most of the politicians have gone under cover of the religion and just to achieve their selfish desires because as you know there are several parties now and everybody with his or her desires and everybody will want to use religion as a tool to achieving their desires. It is just political.

ZA8 [79144-79153]

Politics.

ZA9 [44987-45329]

I believe, in my own opinion, it is greed on the part of our politicians, it is greed on the part of our politicians, they have used their own personal, their personal interest to brainwash us into believing things according to the teachings of our religion and misbehave as such it is not good for our democracy and our country at large.

ZA10 [37659-37982]

Like I have stated earlier, I said our scholars that we have some have different, they belong to different sect with different believe. So when they preach it gives some people some wrong information about faith, and some unbelievers they are not aware of our teaching, so this cause conflict between two people recently.

ZA11 [32268-32601]

That is a real practice of the value of the religion most make, but now the perspective is different, the instigation of the difference and the damning of other religions, let's say the Muslims being the westernized, westernization since it has come in it has changed every perspective of it. That is what has brought the conflict.

ZA12 [20104-20156]

Maybe it is the political structure of the country.

ZA13 [20972-21090]

Honestly I think this is where I am really struggling with because one particular factor that affects it is politics.

ZA14 [28379-28447]

Is because of political, it is a political issue and self interest.

ZA15 [30701-30911]

Is coming of democracy because before 1999 we never new anything like Muslim- Christian, all of us where living together, but when democracy came in 1999 that is when all these problems started happening.

ZA16 [22080-22182]

The reason for this is ah, is that, is the way now Christians and Muslims teach their own followers.

ZA17 [27314-27349]

Is selfish interest and ignorance.

ZA18 [32200-32779]

You see first and foremost, politics has brought a lot of conflicts. In those days there were politicians, but the kind politicians we have in those days are quite different from those tenable these days, honestly speaking. Our nowadays politicians, most of them, I am not saying all, but most of them are out to enrich themselves. But in the past, honestly speaking, they are good statesmen, they are serving the people (RE: just like the first chancellor of this school Ahmadu Bello) yauwa toh ka ga ni, of course Ahmadu Bello ehen Tafawa Balewa, they didn't leave anything.

ZA19 [48584-49195]

Is actually misunderstanding and so many other factors because scholars of various disciplines have tried to explain the genesis or antecedent, the remote and immediate causes of this violence between Christians or misunderstanding between Christians and Muslims. So actually what is particularly responsible for this kind of mistrust or misunderstanding between Christians and Muslims of the northern Nigeria which were hitherto living harmoniously, is not unconnected with political reasons and of cause some kind of political reasons and some kind of economic sentiments and regional sentiments as well

ZA20 [32588-33124]

This issue of conflict resolution or conflict relationship is not only in northern Nigeria. It is a world order in fact. It is a universal phenomenon. I can remember I received a text message inviting to attend a certain ethno-religious conflict seminar at Rwanda, I was invited by email to attend. So you know I have no such financial resources you know I lack the financial capacity to attend so it happens everywhere in Rwanda, in America itself, everywhere, but in the case of Nigeria it is created by politicians, fine and simple.

ZA21 [37213-37503]

I said it is politics and nothing more. Everybody is into leadership. You will come and say to your people that this, this are doing this, this, this are doing that only to further your own political goals. So this has to do with non-mutual coexistence as a result of political interests.

ZA22 [31760-31824]

I said politicians are the ones igniting all these conflicts.

ZA23 [40328-40339]

Politics.

ZA24 [50163-50552]

It is politics. It is politics that brought all these things. You know when we had military rulers although there were conflicts, but they were rare unlike now. In fact if you go to plateau states now they are saying that Muslims are strangers now. Those in Plateau if you are not a Christian they will say Muslims are strangers there. So it is politics that brought all these conflicts.

ZA25 [50341-51379]

As far as I am concerned, Muslims and Christians, it all depends on how you look at it, have never lived in absolute peace at any point in time because an absence of violence is not the same thing as existence of peace. Yes, where there is misunderstanding and people are just laughing with each other that does not constitute eh an enduring peace, but all these decades there have been lack of understanding, there is this misunderstanding of these religions especially Islam on the part of the non-Muslims. But for now it only happens that the conflicts have been developing and it now just erupts into a kind of what we are facing now, this terrorism or what have you. And part of that is may be not embracing the conventional educational system. Yes, and brazen adoption of what is happening in other parts of the world. So but in terms of terrorism and I still insist the lack of care of some parents for their children especially male children which to a large extent are more energetic, are more exuberant than their female ones.

ZA26 [23007-23028]

Political Interests.

ZA27 [22594-22603]

Politics

ZA28 [36167-36792]

Well Nigeria I am seeing is a truly blessed nation if not so Nigeria would have turned to something else. At this juncture I would like to mention very important statement that Nigerians or I would say the poor people in Nigeria both the Muslims and Christians are saying are the best to me because they are too patient even with the ruling I would say with the governance bad governance of our leaders still we are able to live in peace. So except for some instances you actually definitely find some conflicts among Christians and Muslims but it is quite a very long time now we have heard about Christians-Muslim clash.

ZA29 [51520-51674]

It is leaders and the religious proliferators let me say the religious preachers are responsible for whatsoever is happening today and it is killing me.

ZA30 [61463-61502]

Political, (Sir) sir, sorry, politics.

ZA31 [32511-32924]

Is because of politics and our political leaders they are the ones that cause it. If you want to have, if you want to have, if you want to get political advantage, let us assume a Christian and a Muslim, they are, they are seeking for seat, they are seeking for position, they will start throwing religion into the issue. So I think, I believe it is the political, it is the politician that bring this diversity.

ZA32 [66471-67257]

Yes truly they lived peacefully in the past before and now there are some obstacles emerged with their relationship and the causative agent of that is that political issue, political issue, if we cannot avoid a sentiment and biasness between us. For example, if a Muslim is a leader, if you cannot treat the all governed with what, with justice and equality. So the conflict will still remain with us and so also if a Christians cannot treat not to see Muslims are many in the country, you should not consider that, but you should consider them as citizens and treat them equally and treat them together with his brothers equally, there should be no any ah distinction between the two or variation because that political issue really is the causative agent of all this conflicts, okay.

ZA33 [27857-28548]

Yes they lived peacefully in the past because our forefathers laid a solid foundation where they didn't discriminate, no bias in terms of selection of political offices, we eat together, we drink together, a times we sleep together. We mingle together, we play together and we go to school together. So there is love and cordial relationship that exist in the past. But as of now today the conflicts arise because such manners, we left our values, our cultural values has been of course thrown overboard and because of the selfish politicians that we have. And the statement says if our cultural values are thrown overboard therefore we have conflicting issues. And some interests come in.

ZA34 [47080-47647]

Just as I have said, one, ignorance. Some Christians don't even really understand their religion. Some Muslims don't really understand their religion they only have the zeal of the religion in their hearts. But knowing what is the teaching of the religion they don't have. Even the way their religious leaders are teaching them is also sometimes contradicting. Some religious leaders are putting their selfish desires, selfish interest in teaching whereby this is what the real teaching of the religion, now they are deviating from it. That is what causes conflicts.

ZA35 [22196-22315]

Hmmm in the past they lived peacefully, but presently they are not because of the new government and political issues.

ZA36 [33733-34731]

Hmm this is a serious problem, it is true that is exactly what is happening now because I could remember when I was in secondary school most of my friends are Christians because they are more serious in the class, we always move about we always go to prep, we read together, do everything together, but these days I don't know what is happening, honestly I don't know where the problem arises because in schools now you hardly see a Muslim student and a Christian student sitting together or being friends I don't know why, even in the hostel, you go to the hostel they isolate themselves, you see some are in this side and the other ones are in this side. I don't know and recently in our staff room we use to seat here, the female staff here, the male staff sit there, but just recently, it is of, as of this term am telling you the Christian staff ahm teachers have moved out of this place, they are no longer here, I think they are about 4 or 5 and they no longer stay here, I don't know why.

ZA37 [38394-38896]

I have said this one earlier and even about 4 or 5 years ago there was a committee that was set up for it to investigate the issue of this conflict and it did its work and it present it to the government, but the result was not, doesn't correspond with the government interest that is why the government neglect it and abandoned it. Everybody living in northern Nigeria knows it. That is why I say why is it that the conflict, the conflict always happens in the area where the non-Muslims are dominant.

ZA38 [45198-45737]

Yah Muslim-Christians during the post independence are living peacefully, because our political leaders have known their differences in terms of religion, in terms of ethnicity, in terms of socio-cultural life and that is why they made a conducive environment for this thing to go smoothly. Presently now our politicians use these things as a yard stick to remain in power, the divide and rule system to remain in power and this triggers the present day conflict; conflict of mistrust, conflict of dishonesty and conflict of disharmony.

ZA39 [57381-57471]

Actually I can summarily say it is the attitude of our politicians, northern politicians.

Th17.2: Description of Current Christian-Muslim Relations

FG1 [52539-52563]

Not a good relationship

FG1 [52566-52587]

Even friends fight

FG1 [52589-52746]

In my opinion I may describe this relationship as a rice and beans relationship. Sometimes it may be sweet to eat and sometimes it may not be sweet to eat.

FG2 [41661-41712]

In my own words the current relationship is tense.

FG2 [41714-42050]

I think the relationship, they are living harmoniously, but they are living with one eye open. No seriously. Harmoniously yah they interrelate hello hi they smile at each other but there is still something under their mind. That is why you see whenever a single thing happens everything sparks, they are all living with one eye open.

FG2 [42052-42317]

(F) Fear. I think they are living in just fear. The Muslims and the Christians in northern Nigeria there is fear for the unknown. We don't know what might happen tomorrow so am scared of my Christian fellow he is scared of me being a Muslim. But we live together.

FG2 [42319-42523]

(F) The relationship is normal because if in so far am staying with you with a double heart I think need for staying together.

There is no any essence in staying together, but the relationship is normal.

FG2 [42751-42788]

But we still have fear in our minds

FG2 [42894-42942]

(F) On a general note, there is no relationship

FG3 [80249-80257]

Moderate

FG3 [80260-80705]

Actually I will say it is moderate but we will need a little bit more time because we have a lot of damages. I will call it damages so maybe with time because people are now aware of their short comings. Because the short comings that happened made them act in a negatively in the past but as in currently they are enlightened they are aware that actually they were doing the wrong thing. So maybe with time the relationship will come to stay.

FG3 80725-80910]

As it is now it is not too cordial because there are those that happen to be the victims of the previous crisis they are still nursing that grievances. So the wound is not yet healed.

FG3 [80912-81799]

You are really right because these things have happened over time. I think there is one commentary I watched it is kind of politics during Sardauna during the first republic. So during that first republic I saw that Nigeria was divided into regions. Igbos had their own party, Yorubas have their own party, Hausas have their own party. So you something that gave birth like 50 years back, it cannot just be wiped away one time. As time goes on people will begin to understand like just what we see now like even in Christianity there are people that I think we can listen to now, somebody like Rev. Ijike Mbaka, you see they have started coming up from deep far from Igboland, but he is speaking the voice of the northerners and I thinking he is speaking the truth. He spoke the truth. So I think with time maybe we begin to know those people are not enemies we are friends. With time.

KD1 [61804-62302]

Certainly it is suspicious, certainly because recently in the news you hear so, so attack, so, so attack and even when somebody is wanting to be practicing the Sunna, the next thing, he will be named, they will name that person boko haram and even the case of farmers- elders conflict is not help the case because most of the Fulanis are assumed to be Muslims, it might not be true and most of the farmers are assumed to be Christians. So such cases can escalate from tribal into religious crisis.

KD2 [33627-33652]

Harmonious, very cordial.

KD3 [24397-24437]

I could say they are living peacefully.

KD4 [56209-56767]

The current relationship that exist between Christian and Muslim in northern Nigeria today, I will say that, in my own opinion, is just a situation whereby everybody is just living with one another, but no, there is no sincerity in it because let me cite an example with Kaduna where I am familiar with, you will see that there is an area in Kaduna which is purely dominated by Christians and there is an area which is totally dominated Muslims. So, you see, in that aspect, you see that we are only living together, but there is no sign of sincerity in us.

KD5 [32095-33038]

I think the current relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims is complicated due to the fact that Muslims hate Christians at the moment and also Christians hate Muslims at the moment. Though they are not showing it, but I understand that, I understand this from the way, from the attitude of the Muslims towards a Christian and the attitude of a Christian towards a Muslim and let's take for example, if you look at the just concluded election, during the electioneering time, whenever a Muslim candidate come and begin campaigning for a political office, you will notice that it is when Christians people will be accusing him and abusing him and you will notice that whenever a Christian candidate came out on campaign for a particular post, so the Muslims will be accusing him of this and that and I think all this is because of the hatred that Muslims develop on Christians and so does the hatred also the Christians develop on Muslims.

KD6 [50702-50731]

Not cordial, not so cordial.

KD7 [39864-39919]

The relationship is that of suspicion, deep suspicion.

KD8 [72897-73480]

Ehmm the relationship is not bad. We are understanding ourselves. Christians are understanding the Muslims, the Muslims are understanding the Christians. Only that the perception is not very good like the issue of the militancy or insurgency, some Christians will be perceiving that it is the Muslims that are doing it and some Muslims will be perceiving as if it is the Christians are doing it generally in order to accuse Muslims. So, this situation is not good and therefore, there is that kind of perception, there is that kind of mistrust. Okay, what is the question all about?

KD9 [49429-49970]

Hmm presently in northern Nigeria, I think we are living peacefully. Presently no conflict because people are beginning to be enlightened and that is what we have been agitating for enlightenment, education and people know that, like the beginning of this treatise, discussion that has been referred to as jihad, we know and a lot of people are knowing or are realizing now that this is not issue of jihad, it is just conflict and ah it is conflict based on lack of knowledge. So awareness is becoming more and so people are becoming wiser.

KD10 [37817-38189]

Well the Muslims and Christian in northern Nigeria, you know, before they are living peacefully with one another, but now due to the riot that happens almost every time, you can see that the Muslims are now relocating, the Christians are relocating to another area while the Muslims in a particular area where the Christians are the majority, are also relocating as well.

KD12 [41124-41510]

Hmm in fact I can say that is eh fair, is fair because most especially, like what has happened in Kano during the time they bombed some areas and some Mosques and I know that some Christians, Igbos gathered people, they gathered money gathered everything and give it to Sanusi they said that they should, as a compensation or what they can do to help Islamic people that is in problem.

KD13 [19568-19606]

For the now I will say it is perfect.

KD14 [25103-25175]

We will say they are living harmoniously and very fine and peacefully

KD15 [32514-32639]

Ahm in northern Nigeria Christians and Muslims I believe they are living peacefully because yes they are living peacefully.

KD16 [20270-20811]

The relationship is not too sour. It is only been instigated by some people because, as far as am concerned, I don't even believe that there is a problem between the Muslims and Christians because where the Muslims dominate, if at all there is a problem between them and the Christians, they would not allow the Christians to even build a church and where the Christians dominate supposing there is a problem between them and the Muslims, they will not allow Muslims to even worship at all. So whatever is happening, I see it as political.

KD17 [58719-59103]

Ah as far as I can say, it is, if you see like most parts of northern states they have shared it into two, the Christian area and Muslim areas that is due to the issues of conflict that has been in occurrence in recent time, so actually speaking it is very, very bad so it has led to the diversion or disintegration of the state, which is not good for the co-existence of the state.

KD19 [40116-40382]

Well, the current relationship now, the relationship is not too cordial, I wouldn't say it is eh not too hard eh not too violent, it's not too cordial as well. It is neither violent nor cordial, but it's not too cordial. We live and trust each other with suspicion.

KD20 [33052-33644]

I think there is no mutual understanding between Muslim and non-Muslim in the northern Nigerian in the sense that let us use the politics, the northern post politics as an example look at what is happening in Jos, the Muslim and non-Muslim they are always at loggerhead even here in Kaduna and in some parts of the country, let's use this election some the Christians vote for Christians, the Muslims vote for the Muslims and I think this can be corrected if there is mutual cooperation and understanding and tolerance. With all those things I mentioned, there will be peace and harmony, yes.

KD21 [33120-33335]

I will say it's hostile. It is not as it used to be, say Kaduna one part of the state is for the Muslims and the other part is for the Christians. Everybody lives in fear, anything can happen any minute any second.

KD23 [30399-31004]

My yes my current relationship okay the current relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria nowadays is somehow ah or is, people are living based on religious sentiments, based on religious sentiments. In everything that these two religions will do so there must be a disparity between the two of these religions. This one will say my religion, this one will say my religion, yes, even though if you say my religion and ah and your religion is good, is good, but you should not use it as an instrument to bring any problems so that is how ah the, what the two religions are living.

KD24 [89213-90461]

As far as we are concerned now the relationship is good and is going to be good insha Allah because after this election, in fact even before the election, the other election if I could remember the Muslims and Christians were together on the queue and they were together eh running about inside the streets ah for they are looking for their rights you see that ah the Muslims, they told you that they are together with the Christians, Christians will say yes we are together with the Muslims. We know who is behind these problems, they are the politicians, now we want to bring our heads together, our thinking together, our, what we are trying to achieve is one goal, so we are bringing up our forces together to see that we achieve what we want to achieve and ah based on our own neighbours that we are living in our business places, if you are discussing with them they will clearly tell you that they are sure that yes these things that are happening, before they used to think that it is the Muslims that used to do such things, the same thing we will tell them we thought that you are the ones that cause problems but now everything is getting clear and people are getting more wise being elaborately well skilled with what is happening.

KD25 [99830-99906]

Well is eh is average. I will score it average, it is not even up to half

KD26 [35379-35516]

The relationship is stressed, it is like a thin thread. What I want to say is that there is this grudge in the hearts of both parties.

KD27 [34744-34756]

Fractious

KD28 [43213-43436]

As I have earlier told you the way I look at it, is just a form of a competition between the Christians and the Muslims and you know because all are just struggling to see how I can get myself known in the service of God.

KD29 [28091-28113]

Is not satisfactory.

KD30 [51451-51483]

I think we have an improvement.

KD30 [51494-52245]

I think we are beginning to have awareness between the two religions. Now the Christians are coming to see that the problem is not the religion, they are made to ah the politicians are mostly using the Christian scholars ah so that they can be able to make them do what they want and or the some politicians can use some Islam scholars in order to do some other things that will make little, can bring misunderstanding and the politicians can take benefit. Now both the Christians and Muslims in Nigeria are coming to understand this problem they are having, they are coming to identify their problems and then they are adapting and understanding each other's differences and now I think they are improving a lot and living in peaceful harmony today.

KD31 [24884-24942]

Is bad actually, it is bad, it is very, very, very bad.

KD33 [31673-32090]

Well it is very bad, very bad because the Christians are always criticizing Muslims saying that they are the engineers, they are the source, they are the foundation, they are the founders of any conflict that will happen in the northern Nigeria and Muslims as well they are there, they are saying that the Christians they are the source, they are the back bone of every conflict because they want to rule over them.

KD34 [40382-40782]

The way I will define the relationship honestly the relationship was not so good, was not so good because sometimes when somebody make a religious comment on social media, I normally took my time to read other people's comments, so that is how I normally get the view of the people so there is a strong division and there is strong hatred and there is strong misunderstanding within the both parties.

KD35 [39033-39108]

The relationship between Christians is not cordial really, is not cordial.

KN1 [79958-79986]

I call it a sorry situation

KN1 [80017-80109]

Yah because they are fighting each other and out of ignorance. That is it out of ignorance.

KN1 [80148-81065]

Understanding the religion as you are supposed to understand it because you cannot just stay at your home without going to the relevant school or the church or the mosque to understand or to read about the religion and start bragging and executing religion based on your interest it cannot happen. Look I have been telling some Christians that a times some of those that will be making noise they are not even Christians. I have been asking them in how many churches cultism malpractices are practiced and I have been asking them. Does Christianity allow you to go and slaughter somebody in the name of religion? Does it allow you to engage into blood something-rituals of human beings and call yourself a Christian? So this is one of the things that you are supposed to understand. Let's be sincere about our religion, let's be sincere with ourselves and not be hiding behind religion to achieve our personal aims.

KN2 [46333-46364]

It is not cordial in Nigeria.

KN2 [46408-46957]

because they have already had this mutual distrust as a result of previous experiences of what happened. People that were friends in Kaduna state are no longer friends. Families that were family friends are no longer friends because of political crisis in Kaduna, crisis that were as a result of politics. People that were friends in Plateau before the 1999 politics, there wasn't much crisis the only crisis in Plateau was ethnic, communal, but now because of the coming of third or fourth republic the politicians used the religion as a weapon.

KN2 [46996-47085]

Religious crisis have never taken place in Plateau state before. It was only communal.

KN4 [59700-60248]

The current relationship amongst the leaders and amongst the masses is suspicious. They love themselves but there is suspicion among them because of the past experience but having a good government, having a standard government, having a conscientized government, having a loving government, have an uncorrupted government, having a disciplined government can take the suspicion because it is not part of them, is not them, is just those that are seeking for power that change their own mentality and now people begin to think the way they think.

KN5 [39201-39275]

The relationship is not cordial actually. The relationship is not cordial.

KN6 [45717-46007]

So, sometimes it depends to the location you are but on my area I can say that the relationship is good. Maybe in some part of Nigeria for example in Jos, somebody will say the relationship is not good, so it depends your place, or your time but to me the relationship is somehow is good.

KN7 [40609-40965]

Hmm mm I will describe it as a cat and rat relationship. Because, let me say, we or most Muslims and Christians have been inculcated with this ehm let me say, idea of the fact that we are not one and we cannot live as one. So, I don't think, I don't think there is any other way I can ehm describe this relationship different from cat and rat relationship.

KN8 [37404-37815]

The relationship is very narrow in fact, to some extent, it is nothing to write home about, it is not encouraging because especially the Muslims they discriminate the Christians a lot then I think there should be freedom of religion you hardly see, you hardly see churches here in northern Nigeria but you can, even within the campus, you can see more than 15 mosques, you hardly see a church, which is unfair.

KN9 [33693-34010]

Well ah, currently the relationship between Christians and Muslims is a hostile relationship although no matter how close you see them ah each and every one of them has a hidden agenda in their heart and having hatred for the other, but I think it is basically semi-antagonistic relationship, hmmm haka (That is it).

KN10 [28117-28194]

Of course there is misunderstanding currently, yes there is misunderstanding.

KN11 [35910-35951]

Really the relationship is bad nowadays.

KN13 [38916-38950]

Hmm, the relationship is cordial.

KN14 [32569-32875]

The current relationship is ah, the current relationship between Muslims and Christians is peaceful because of ah even though what is happening, Christians and Muslims understand that this thing is not ah, Muslims believe that this is not Islam and the Christians believe that this is not ah Christianity.

KN15 [26884-26927]

I think it's really good but some extent.

KN16 [16315-16354]

It is good to some extent, it is good.

KN17 [32105-32509]

he current relationship is ah is ah is fair. They have good understanding especially back in the southern part of eh the country, they have good understanding. In the northern part of the country is actually fair except in some places normally where crisis normally but right now I think from five years ago, five years back. I don't think they have been much religious crisis, it has been completed.

KN18 [54975-55077]

Is just a relationship of mutual suspicion, each one is suspecting the other, is just the suspicion.

KN19 [35864-35879]

It is very bad.

KN20 [26303-26380]

Uh is not too perfect but at least is in progress, they are working on it.

KN21 [18889-18942]

Cordial, it's cordial, to some extent it is cordial.

KN22 [37234-37255]

It is very peaceful

KN23 [25012-25019]

Chaotic

KN24 [23513-23558]

Yah, it's getting better now not like before

KN25 [37274-37457]

Well I think at present the relationship is a semi-tensed relationship whereby no matter what this people would do; they always have each other that is hatred for each other in mind.

KN26 [42351-42427]

Hmmm it is tolerable, it is not that cordial but it is largely is tolerable

KN27 [30284-30693]

The current relations in my own words I take is as a rat and cat relationship. A very dangerous one because the Muslims are there, they are watching the Christians, they are waiting for the Christians to make little mistakes, mutual suspicion and the Muslims also both or let me say the Christians are, in short they are both waiting for little chances, slight chances to happen so that the crisis can arise.

KN28 [22871-23038]

Well this is a clear and a hidden agenda between both religions which I believe a lot of them kept in mind. It is just like the relationship between the cat and rat.

KN30 [20650-20695]

You know what they say, it's not bad at all.

KN31 [39789-40621]

Well I think presently we are living in a harmonious situation as in we live in peace because I can really remember when last we have this religious conflict. I think what has really been diverted now I think is to –has been diverted to this insurgency of a thing. So I know initially when the insurgency came it was trying to channel it to religion, it was just like the Muslims attacking the Christians but I really thank God that sometimes even the Christians came to understand that it was not just an Islamic thing but it was just the people who are nuisance to the society who are just trying to create a conflict between these two religions because they came to realize that the Muslims are more attacked because the situation like in the north east, that part of the country is more deadly than other parts of the country.

KN32 [19512-19608]

Relationship is not that too bad but we can't say it's good let me just say it is somehow fair.

KN33 [14312-14351]

It has been polarized by our leaders.

KN34 [26530-26790]

It is so regretful. When you look at what is obtainable before and you say you are going to compare it with now, you are going to weep because before we take each other as brothers when you look at even our relationship but now we take each other as enemies.

KN35 [25456-25729]

The relationship currently between the Muslims and Christians in northern part of Nigeria is very pathetic, is something that is not cool for the human development entirely. So there is need for harmony, to work together in order to achieve our goal, a better the society.

KN36 [25402-25533]

It is worst because we can't believe in each other. Both Christians and Muslims cannot believe each other in northern Nigeria now.

KN37 [24121-24272]

I will say that it is a very, very fragile situation, but I hope that somehow there is an external force that can intervene and everything is solved.

KN38 [18416-18521]

Current relationship. I will not say it is a friendly one, but I will say it is a peaceful one for now.

KN39 [28212-28452]

Really of course the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in the present Nigeria actually sometimes it looks intolerable because sometimes Muslims I mean non-Muslims do not tolerate Islamic teaching and sometime even Muslims do not.

KN40 [22449-22637]

Both religions, Muslims and Christians, are living in peace because everybody has understand their own religion and they try to follow the rules and regulations that guide both religions.

KN41 [19503-19589]

As far as I am concerned there is no problem between Muslims and Christians nowadays.

KN42 [51710-51907]

It is very, very, it is not good. It's like both of them are treading on a needle. They are just waiting for the other issue to drop; so it can get better, it is not perfect but it can get better.

KN43 [37042-37199]

Honestly, in some parts of northern Nigeria, the relationship is cordial and harmonious and in the other part it is antagonistic and, you know, conflicting.

KN45 [43410-43897]

Yah the current relationship as I, as I see it ehh yah is something ehh is not without its tension yah, this can be said, but when the root causes of this problems are analyzed and are then weighed then I don't think there is any conflict. Everybody: Muslims, Christians, northerners, southerners, everybody likes to live in peace that is the most important thing that is dear to our hearts as human beings. What we want is real political leaders that will take us to the destined land.

KN46 [64518-65268]

It is disappointing; it is disappointing and does not inspire confidence at all. Yes if you go to certain places you would like what you see, but generally the relationship is deteriorating by the day. Where you use to have friendship being built between the followers of the two faiths, now is being eroded. I am very, very disappointed with what is obtained right now in northern Nigeria. The last time I went to visit one of my friends in Lagos he invited one of his friends to go with us to show us, because we went there on site seeing ahh to site see the Island. So he brought one of his friends who happen to be a Christian and I like how the relationship was between them and I wished that would be ahh replicated, here in northern Nigeria.

KN47 [61072-61309]

The current relationship Muslims and non-Muslims ahh in northern Nigeria is getting more and more sour because we can simply say that nobody wishes another well, you understand, so it is so negative, it is unfortunate relationship now.

KN48 [20768-20826]

Their relationship presently, very, very bad, so woeful.

KN49 [31280-31288]

Frosty.

KN50 [18487-18501]

Ahh, no idea.

KN52 [62386-63269]

The relationship as it is now is relatively harmonious and peaceful following, you know more than a decade of conflict or decades of conflicts and confrontation especially around the Middle Belt, Jos and southern Kaduna for instance, but some of these people are coming to say now, coming to the table to say no let us forget about all of these differences because we have seen that after years of fighting we have not achieved anything, we have only done more damage to our own society, to our own peaceful coexistence, to our own community, you see how we have destroyed schools, market and our religious places of worship, so it has not done any good to us so let us now embrace peace so that-that is why recently we have witnessed a shift in terms of the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria, more and more harmony, I think, is now being experienced

KN54 [13451-13465]

Hmm. Terrible

KN55 [15993-16105]

The current relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern-Nigeria is partially ok. It's not fully ok

KN56 [27902-27956]

The current relationship I can say it is ok. It's ok.

KN57 [22483-22513]

Somehow good and somehow bad.

KN58 [49357-49866]

It is cordial to some extent and peaceful because some few elements have tried by all means to create a serious crisis between the two by bombing churches and bombing Mosques yet their secrets were exposed by Allah. So only few Christians that are being brain washed still believe that it is the Muslims that attack them, but those right minded Christians know that it is not Muslims that attack them because most of culprits if they are caught they are mostly Christians even, those that attack the churches

KN59 [54149-54646]

Hmm the relationship is peaceful and amicable. There is no difference. There is no conflict because basically our Imam some of them are preaching and advocating for this peace. So there is no much differences, like this current election that came you see that everybody vote, the Christians even voted for the Muslims irrespective of the fact that he did not belong to their own faith but after change, positive change I think there is peace and their relationship is friendly, they are amicable.

KN60 [38840-39067]

You see the relationship, politics has brought about distrustfulness, distrust among the Muslims and the Christians, but at least with enlightenment I think we would achieve the harmonious living together we are hoping for.

KN61 [20364-20386]

Ah, it is partially.

KN62 [62971-63711]

The relationship is really ah not in actually good condition. The relationship is a little bit bad especially ah because of this Boko-haram insurgency, some mal-informed, or un-informed Christians do believe that the Boko-haram people are ehh Muslims and that is why General Muhammadu Buhari even in his ah inaugural speech, you understand, said that ah Boko-haram is just a kind of godless associate, godless group who is, which is as far away from Islam as anybody can think of. Means we Muslims we believe that this is un-Islamic, even anti-Islamic practice, but there are mal-informed, un-informed or poor informed Christians who still believe that Boko-haram insurgents are Muslim. So that is why they hold us with a certain animosity.

KN63 [54675-55194]

Today, at least there is more cordial relationship. We have not been having problem as we do have in the past, in the 80's, in the 70's. There is a remarkable improvement, proper understanding of oneself and all what is being influenced now although we have not been having that, but all that, that has been happening is as a result of tribalism. They use tribalism, they use tribalism with the religion and have merged them together and but we have not been having proper maybe a sort of religious conflict as before.

KN64 [30850-30876]

It is not in good terms.

KN65 [38494-38553]

The relationship now is ah terrible, very, very terrible.

KN66 [26666-26984]

Currently, previously it has been, it has been not okay, because where Mosques will be attacked, later churches will be attacked seriously it was bitter, but currently right now that all of those is like it is getting to an end and understanding is like is coming into the situation, things are getting to be alright.

KN67 [28651-28697]

Well the relationship I think is fairly okay.

KN68 [13477-13489]

It is okay.

KN69 [50085-50847]

Currently I can say that the current relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria is good. We have evidence to that effect. The issue of politics arose, but if you see it critically you find out that this election which took place, there is no any issue of religions because Muslims and the non-Muslims agreed to vote Muslim in order to see that the problem that are having here in the northern part of the country to be solved because they have good expectations. That is how it is supposed to be. Initially it is our rulers, our leaders that are using us to draw a line of demarcation that is line of conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims, between Christians and Muslims now we became enemies with each other which is not supposed to be.

KN71 [80186-80335]

Ehh the relationship is sour because there is mistrust, there is a lot of misconceptions about one another, that is the relationship.

KN72 [41657-41877]

There is good relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria up to date because as some visited each other during sallah and during Christmas and even during ceremonies that is personal ceremonies, yes.

KN73 [42388-42464]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims is now very partially, yah

KN74 [52136-52292]

Okay in present condition that or that in a current condition or situation that we are now, the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims is somehow sour.

KN75 [55684-56944]

Yah, the relationship is limited presently, presently because of the current problem we are facing of insecurity because majority of the Christians they believe that Muslims are the boko-haram, let me use that word because of that, they have that stigma especially I was a victim of such, I entered a luxury going to my state, you understand, so on my way going I was the only, we are two of us that we are Muslim inside the luxury bus, then when they they inside the luxury, they use to pray when we stand up from Sabongari they use to pray, so they hold a, when they are praying they use to hold self hand, everybody should hold their hands pray, so they found that, they have closed their eyes, they find that I did not close my eyes, because of that, when one look at me, they find that ahh this is a problem, we don't believe in this one, that was 2012, I was a victim of such, so because of that, they whisper themselves that there is a problem in this motor, even they went and tell the security that they do not trust somebody from this motor that while we were praying the person did not, me I have stopped them from Kano going to Onitsha with them because of my trip wallahi they have to search my bag, luggage, everything that they do not trust me?

KN76 [47716-47848]

Hmm the current relationship between Muslims and Christians or Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria is actually not cordial.

KN78 [65649-65711]

Well for me, from my limited experience it has been cordial.

KN80 [49057-49088]

Is partial, it is partially.

KN81 [34348-34869]

Now the relation ah the current relationship is not good talk less to the past because ahh in the past, if I could remember if I could remember ahh we stay, we living with one of my neighbor which is a Christian while am a Muslim but we lived peacefully during the Sallah celebration we use to give him a food and a lot of things and also he too during the Christian ahh sorry during Christmas he offer me a lot of things, so the current, the current ahh condition is not comparable. Now we are living in bad situation

KN81 [35000-35082]

Yes of course because now we are not together with him because of this conflict.

KN82 [34370-34456]

The current relationship between Muslims and Christians was not very cordial indeed.

KN83 [26635-26651]

Ah is too bad.

KN84 [28773-28805]

Is partially, is partially good

KN85 [42288-42754]

Actually we cannot say the relationship is bad. What is happening is just that some people are causing the divisions in order to leverage the gains of the division. Political leaders, the religious scholars are dividing people, but the people themselves they see each other as brothers and sisters, they live peacefully, they are only incited, induced to engage in violent, violence and conflicts by some group of people who want to take advantage of the division.

ZA1 [41923-42229]

A'a we don't have conflicts. I told you it's a political, please refer to report of ehm 1986 during Kafanchan is a problem of land. Go to Plateau, indigene, go to Adamawa is a problem between the farmers and herd cattle rearers. So what are you talking about the religious conflicts. Do we have conflict?

ZA2 [54320-54770]

Look at, can you recall back this emm what are they called this boko haram affairs emm sometimes when it... is it Kaduna state or which state is that, when the Muslims will be in the mosque and Christians will be outside protecting them, protecting them protecting then when they finish prayer when Christian are in church Muslim go down also and protecting them, This is so that the we come to understand it is lie, it is not religion affair, ehen.

ZA3 [32365-32473]

It is not cordial and is looking as everyone is not certain and in fear, no trust between the two religions

ZA4 [52550-52600]

The relationship is not strengthened like before.

ZA5 [34976-35255]

Aammm the way I will look at it is like, most, in the northern Nigeria because if you look at in Jos now there are some places that a Muslim cannot go there and build a house and some places Christians cannot even go there to like, even the business that one is something else.

ZA6 [76475-76743]

Hmm to some extent in certain places you will find out, like in Samaru here, there is peaceful coexistence, but there are certain places you go where there have been crisis before. It is a gradual thing you don't expect them to start relating well as they do before.

ZA7 [42290-42761]

I think it is fair. It is fair in the case that in some parts of northern Nigeria, there has been peaceful coexistence, places like Kogi state and some states like Benue, there have been peaceful coexistence. While in some state like Jos I think there its fair because there are part of Jos that some Muslims do not want to go and do business easily, build house and likewise same for some Christians they do not want to go to some parts of Jos. So it is fair generally.

ZA8 [82741-82754]

Insensitive

ZA9 [46705-46995]

Hmm is like an issue of cat and rat. We tend to suspect ourselves anytime and we don't trust ourselves again, even if your best friend is a Christian or a Muslim once religion comes in everything will change. We've forgotten the personality of that person and just misbehave to the person.

ZA10 [38963-39219]

It is not good because the non-believers they have been taught or they have been intoxicated with a lot of negative things about Muslims. So they always have them in mind so even if they tell them good things about Muslims, about Islam they don't see it.

ZA11 [33713-33747]

Well, it is not appealing enough.

ZA12 [20905-20936]

Is almost getting out of hand.

ZA13 [21711-21723]

It is poor.

ZA13 [21810-22102]

Yes, why it is poor is because we don't understand ourselves and non-Muslims do not seek to know what the true Islam is and Muslims do not seek to know what non-Muslim is and if this come in and we understand ourselves, I think everybody can play his own role without involving in conflicts.

ZA14 [29962-30225]

The current situation between the Muslims and the non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is very critical these days, but thank God we have come over it, they try to divide the Christians and the Muslims, but God is so good, they are now sitting, they are now together.

ZA15 [32118-32132]

Not too good.

ZA16 [22971-23167]

the relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria is unlike before because now there is no cordial relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria unlike before.

ZA17 [28506-28808]

Is amicable now, it's more pleasant than before because we are understanding each other more better than before, because of the dialogue, sorry, there is dialogue, there is some ah understanding that if it is the Imam that is preaching ah wrong both the side are bringing him to the right than before.

ZA18 [33904-34700]

Well, so far there is a lot of improvement honestly speaking and as you can see there has not been this religious tension as it happened in the past eh. There is some understanding; there are a lot of understandings. In those days, you could remember the scenario, some people will go and drop bomb in a church hmm, so when the Christians see that, they will assume that it is the Muslims, but they have understood really that it is not the real Muslims that are bombing them. You could remember too when a Mosque, one time in Kano too, was bombed, if there wasn't understanding between the Christians and the Muslims, there could be problem because this ones will come and say you are the people that came and dropped this bomb then they will start fighting. So there is understanding really.

ZA19 [52258-52756]

Well its somehow antagonistic because ah the Christians were living in fear actually because some of them were still ignorant of what is actually or who are behind the crisis or insurgencies, the killings of Muslims and non-Muslims. So still some of the Christians that were found in the northern Nigeria are living in fear by not knowing who are exactly behind all these crisis, but actually the relationship between the Muslims and the Christians at the present Nigeria is not as it was before.

ZA20 [34786-34931]

Today as of this month we are is very cordial, is very cordial and in the subsequent time it will be very mutual. I am very optimistic to this.

ZA21 [38781-38887]

The relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria is not that cordial as it is before.

ZA22 [32931-33304]

Up till now, up till now there are misunderstanding between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria. Some non-Muslims think that Muslims are there to overwhelm them while some Muslims think that the non-Muslims are a problem. To the best of my knowledge and Allah knows the best hardly you see a Muslim maybe maltreating a non-Muslim in northern Nigeria, it is rear.

ZA23 [41448-41453]

Fair

ZA24 [52559-53196]

This time around I would have said the relationship is cordial but before it was cordial more than now, but the preachers they have already polluted our minds that we should not relate with them. Their leaders also pastors have already polluted their followers' mind that they should not relate with Muslims. I could remember when my lecturer said that when they were young if Christian want to slaughter either cow or fowl sorry goat they will call Muslim nearby to come and slaughter the goat or the fowl for him or her, but now they are doing it themselves because people polluted their minds. The relationship is not cordial again.

ZA25 [54413-54945]

Wow. In one word hypocritical. That is we interact with each other we play, we laugh but to a large extent am afraid we don't really like one another as in everybody is still hiding some aspects from the other and what have you and that is not too good. So we are supposed to be coming to the open, every opportunity you have to interact with a Christian try to look for a way of telling him or passing across what your religion entails says so that he or she can understand and see the beauty of Islam especially in your practice.

ZA26 [23837-23855]

It is harmonious

ZA27 [23620-23664]

They are in peace. They are living in peace

ZA28 [38237-38246]

Moderate

ZA29 [53686-53756]

Well I can say it is moderate or let me say a bit, you know, medium.

ZA30 [63922-64392]

There is something is really, is impressive at the moment, as I said earlier, if the government did what it is supposed to do. So now Muslims, both Muslims and Christians voted for this government, as long as they will do the right thing, what they are expecting to do. So the differences will reduce to some certain level, but it cannot just go away overnight, it has to take time, because it build up more than fifty (50) years before. So it cannot just go over time.

ZA31 [34393-34526]

Men, I think there is, there is more, there is problem because our political leaders have imposed the hatred between both religions.

ZA32 [68715-68835]

Ah I can describe it as the relationship that is going that is trying to move out of control if care is not taken, yes.

ZA33 [30738-31454]

Well it is to some extent bitter because with the inception of politics, the so-called politics that we have in Nigeria, so the politicians now uses both sides to achieve their desired aims and objectives whereby breaking the bond that exists between the two parties whereby the Christians among the Muslims see themselves as enemies unlike before when they were living together and these politicians when they go there they live together with their fellow Christians. They do all things together and they loot the masses of both parties when they come down to the grass root they tell them they are not together. But when they are up there they tell them they are together. So that relationship can still be up.

ZA34 [50344-51053]

Well it is the worst. I call it worst because you as a Christian living and dominating one side, you only want Christians to follow you, as a Muslim dominating one side, you only want Muslims to follow you. It is quite something worse and not welcomed in the religion because as I said there must be an understanding between one another. During the time of Rasul (SAW) there were so many examples of Christians, Jews coming to him. During Umar (Rabiyyalahu) there were so many examples of Christians coming to him. During other companions there are. So if Rasul (SAW) who we are claiming following can do that what of we and the Qur'an emphasize the following of Rasul (SAW) (recites a verse of the Qur'an)

ZA35 [23404-23460]

They see each other as enemies in the northern Nigeria.

ZA36 [36418-36463]

Honestly it is bad, the relationship is bad.

ZA37 [39692-39742]

It is just a sort of, what can I say, off and on.

ZA38 [46915-47145]

Yah, I would say averagely, it is cordial, peaceful not too bad because of understanding even though we are still lacking behind in terms of education, religious education. But at least we are growing and we are going somewhere.

ZA39 [59228-59362]

Actually the relationship is sour unlike before because of the activities, because of frequent religious conflicts among themselves.

Th17.2.1: Current Relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims

FG1 [54936-55122]

To me it is right. That will try to mould or create mutual understanding. Trying to seclude them like go away I don't like talking with you or something like that will only create hatred

FG2 [49091-49669]

Actually the life we are living presently we are not actually tolerating each other in the sense that actually our political leaders have really inculcated some habits in our minds. The habit they have inculcated is that of not accommodating each other. Being a Muslims I have been putting the a habit that is the I habit I have inculcated in my mind, I am even feeling that I will not be friendly with non-Muslims. Therefore for us to live a harmonious with Muslims we must purify our minds. By purifying our minds as Muslims really we will live peacefully with non-Muslims.

FG2 [49702-49859]

Generally the coexistence between the Muslims and the non-Muslims in the northern Nigeria is living in fear of one another. We live in fear of each other.

FG2 [49860-50185]

I believe it is positively improving now. Like the present change we are having in the country whereby we are now beginning to understand that religion is not our problem. It is politics and political individuals. So we are all understanding that we can put religion aside and also put social living aside. It is improving.

FG2 [50302-51097]

(Interrupts) (F) I think I have something I want to add. I think we live in a bilateral society where everyone is living on his own. Because the Muslims are living are on a different side and the non-Muslims are on a different side. Even among the Muslims we have everyone living on his own. The Christians also you will see you have this sect and the other one so differently. The Muslims are not organized most unanimous much to the extent that they can come in mass to join with the other side. The other ones also have segregation that they cannot come in mass in one hand to join with the other ones. So you see we have a diverse society now. We don't know, we have many Muslims different from the others, the Christians too different from the other, different sects and different things.

FG3 [89363-89398]

I have one word for it- moderate.

FG3 [89434-89457]

To me it is moderate

KD1 [64248-64778]

Relationship presently is very fragile. It is very fragile because of the recent happenings especially the case of boko haram has not help matters, the case of Maitatsine did not help matters, and several other cases and for Muslims that have been to south-east and south-south, the fact that they are not, any little thing, they call you aboki, they are not given respect, and even, you are not allowed to build a mosque even if you have the land, you will not be allowed to build a mosque. So such cases are causing challenges.

KD2 [35369-35417]

The relationship is very cordial, very cordial.

KD3 [25649-25691]

The region, they are living peacefully.

KD4 [57813-58713]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims especially in northern Nigeria today is just a relationship we are living in a situation of non-sincerity and I hope that one day all of us we will believe that one and then live under the umbrella of one because all of us are origin of the creator God and we are from the offspring of Adam and the Muslims we call him Adam in the Christianity, they call him Abraham, and in Christian Adam and in Christianity they call it, they call him Adam, Muslims we call him Adam, Christian they call him Adam. So, we are, is the father and everything. Even as Christians say Abraham is their father and Ibrahim in Muslim is also the father of Muslims. So, the day we will wake up to believe that yes, we are one and we practicing, we are from the one creator and God almighty is the creator of heaven and earth, then we will live harmoniously with one another.

KD5 [34811-34859]

I thought I have answered this question before.

KD6 [52301-52341]

I think I have told you not so cordial.

KD7 [41238-41375]

It is of lukewarm. We see each other, we do not trust each other wholly because there is suspicion, deeply rooted from generations back.

KD8 [75614-75996]

The relationship is not bad, is okay ehm but it is a life of suspicion to be candid. There is a suspicion. If you go to Christian dominated area, you will see that the Muslims there are not very free. If you go to the Muslim dominated area, you will see that the Christians are not very free. So, there is that kind of ehm that kind of ehm that kind of distrust or discomfort, yes.

KD9 [51894-52452]

The relationship as far as we are concerned, we are peaceful people, we want to be friends with them, we don't know what is in their heart, but I think presently there is peace especially with the new government in place and like I said, the awareness, they themselves know that it is just conflict. Nobody likes conflict, we've seen the result of conflict. Is it the loss of property especially loss of lives. Nobody wants that, so everybody is behaving himself now, so we just hope that we will continue to dialogue and talk to ourselves and preach peace.

KD10 [38959-39150]

Alhamdulillah they are living in peace and harmony before, but now even alhamdulillah they are now living also in harmony, they want everything, they want understanding between one another.

KD11 [36908-37344]

The relationship is cordially and, I mean the relationship is cordial and it has always been cordially. To know this you need to go to, when you go to secondary schools you see the way Christians and the non-Christians alike, Muslims and Christians and are co-existing as if they are brothers and sisters. However, conflicts as I have said earlier only arises when there are competitions over who gets what, over scarcity of resources.

KD13 [20885-20946]

By now I will say it is perfect the relationship is perfect.

KD14 [26209-26249]

I could say they are living peacefully

KD15 [34044-34307]

The Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria, their relationship is tight and okay ahm the only problem I may say which comes is from the bad ones who don't want peace to reign. So I think the Muslims and the Christians in the northern Nigeria, they are okay.

KD17 [61591-62102]

Ah it is not the way it used to be actually because you see due to the recent bombing of churches, bombing of Mosques and retaliatory attacks, the Fulani herdsmen and the villager's attacks in some states. So it is very, very pathetic the way things are going, but we just pray that the way the new government, we pray that God will help the new government, in terms of security and whereby there is justices in terms of sharing of the national cake, I think all of these problems will be solved insha Allah.

KD19 [42123-42321]

The relationship is not too cordial, is not too cordial because we live and trust each other with suspicion like I rightly said, so we should try as much as possible to improve on the relationship.

KD20 [36238-36975]

Yes, the relationship between Muslim and non-Muslim in northern Nigeria, as I said earlier there is no any relationship, I mean before there is a good relationship, there is a good rapport, ut since the political interferences there is a problem of the Muslim and Christians and other and non-Muslim because now Muslim vote for Muslim and Christians vote for Muslims, but that does not stop, after the elections that does not stop us to relate together we are still relating together but when election comes, the Muslim vote Muslim and Christians vote Muslims eh Christian vote Christian and we have some Christians that they vote Muslim and we have some Muslim that vote Christian depending on the people you choose, your choice, yes.

KD21 [35012-35283]

As I said earlier, politics have succeeded in dividing us not only in the religious, but also in the ethnic lines. The Hausas, the Yorubas don't get along even if they are from the same religion. It is hostile. It is not as it used to be. The relationship is very cold

KD23 [32534-32891]

So the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is not ah working properly the way it ah the way it is, so because eh all the almost all the cities that is combined between Muslims and Christians ah so ah conflicts have already happened, so in that areas so and that make the relationship somehow not cordial at ah as it is before.

KD24 [92874-92969]

Then it is bad, but now we are praying it will be good and it will continue to be insha Allah.

KD25 [101214-101445]

Well I will also score them average. But we hope that with the advent of the new government under the leadership of ah our president Muhammad Buhari insha Allah things will work fine and things I believe there will be improvement.

KD26 [37112-37503]

As I earlier said the relationship is stressed, there is this issue, there is this, I won't say hatred, but is this, I don't know, they don't really jell, they don't really blend right now because I think of past conflict and everything that has happened, there is this problem of sentiments, they have sentiments, there is sentiments in this country, so the relationship is on face value.

KD27 [36289-36374]

Like I said there is so much frictions, but it could be better, it could be better.

KD28 [45441-45906]

Well I think it is cordial but they need knowledge to, the Muslims have to seek more knowledge and then know their duties then to avoid conflicts between them and the non-Muslim because the understanding is the issue. Once you as a Muslims you understand your religion, you know the implication and you know your role, let them understand and they have their own limit. You don't have to oppress them from whatever they are doing. Give them way and give their own...

KD29 [29366-29442]

Ah the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims I can say satisfactory.

KD30 [54686-56179]

Ah the understanding the relationship between northern Muslims and non-Muslims ah you see to a lot of ah surprises you will see people coming from other countries or other states in the southern part of Nigeria or in the eastern part of Nigeria and then when they come down to the northern part of Nigeria they will be surprised to see the harmony that is living between the Muslims and the Christians, you will be surprised to see how Muslims embraces the non-Muslims like their brothers, they live together, they do other things together. Muslims can't even go to the eastern part to practice such; you see they have been ah called all sorts of names or being threatened with all sorts of threats. You see that is why I am even saying with an Islamic state people will come to see the beauty of Islam, most of the youths that have been sent for youth service come down to the north with the fear that there is tension, they can be massacred or slaughtered or machete or bombed and then at the end of the day they learn that the northern part of Nigeria is far more peaceful than the southern part, that the Christians live in more harmony, they live peacefully like brothers with the Muslims and most of them find that ah at a certain place in northern part and stay they don't used to go back to their places, a lot of the misconception have been owed to misunderstanding and not really ah learning and understanding what is happening in the northern part of Nigeria.

KD32 [39208-39644]

Ah there are some states that I can say they are living in harmony, like far north west in Zamfara, Sokoto is the major Islamic state, so this are the one of the most peaceful state in the northern parts, but if you look at some other states, we have some little kind of conflicts like in the north east, north central and so on. So it depends on the region some have tolerance, they do tolerate each other while others can't in some.

KD33 [33451-33572]

Well in some cases the relationship is good, is mutual with understanding but in some cases, in some areas is very bad.

KD34 [42121-42972]

Eh the way I consider the relationship, the relationship is normal, but eh conflict do come time to time which we pray it should not come, but the most funniest thing, anything or any little thing that would come misunderstanding between two groups then the next thing you will see it ends up in religion ahh let me give example of that like eh during two thousand two thousand and ten or eleven immediately after the election that is the first post election violence that took place, it took place between the two political parties, so what I expected is that to see a one political party house is burning with the other, but within a twinkle of an eye it totally changed to religious eh religious ehh party, you will see mosques and churches, Christians and Muslims killing themselves, they forgot about even the so called political party.

KD35 [41056-41127]

Is as I answered this is not cordial, is not cordial, is not cordial.

KN1 [87208-88064]

Well if you are talking about percentage on the higher role there is problem. You see there is a funny thing about our people, they will transact business together, they will go to party together, they will play football together and all those kind of things, it is only when there is this kind of jealousy associating the business you are doing that some things will start to erupt and I told you a times it is not based on religion because most of the times they are propagating this something they are not religiously sound. I have been saying this. So definitely there is need for a better relationship as of the olden days, before it was northern Nigeria if we are voting we are voting as northern Nigeria, if we are disagreeing, we disagreeing as northern Nigeria. That is how it was before and that is because there was a good leadership unlike now

KN2 [48433-48485]

As I said it is not cordial but it can be improved

KN4 [61962-62486]

Fine and ok. Whenever there is crisis, there is politics. Our politicians have very bad intention on the Nigerians. Our politicians worship juju, our politicians they are not God fearing type, our politicians they are corrupt they only cause conflict amongst the citizens in order to continue stealing. Against that back draw we found ourselves in the present bad situation. It is the act and design and the architectural work of the politician that lead us to the current mayhem in the northern Nigeria; struggle for power.

KN5 [40218-40261]

It is not cordial, this one repeat itself

KN6 [48278-48548]

So, the relationship is, to some extent, I say this question it depend to your place, for example, the people who live in my area, you can say the relationship between Christian and Muslim is good. So, it depends to your place. So to me I would say that this statement.

KN7 [42703-42985]

This religion ehm well ehm, the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is ehm en is relationship of non-understanding. Non-understanding in the sense that if both parties understand their religions in-depthly, they wouldn't have any cause for alarm, yes.

KN8 [39766-40080]

The relationship is very, very bad because there are differences in religion especially the northern region they are-most of them are extremists in religion. So the way they perceive things is very, very harsh. So as a result of this, the relationship is very, very shallow, the relationship is not smooth enough.

KN9 [34917-35194]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in Nigeria has always been a relationship of antagonism ehh the hatred that both of them have due to their differences in faith has always been the order of their interaction. So I think it is a very hostile relationship, yes.

KN10 [29300-29606]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria? Ehm the relationship is somehow. There is a lot of misunderstanding, yes, in the relationship. And the only way is that they can, it can be possible to resolve this ah misunderstanding, once they are ready, once the both side are ready

KN11 [37071-37527]

As I have said, some really like in Kaduna when this war began ahh Zangon Kataf, some Christians, some Christians are escaped Muslims because they were in good terms likewise in Kano state whenever this conflict arises, you find that some Muslims are escape the non-Muslims because they are in good terms and they understand one another. So as I have said, in any organization, some are good and some are bad and you can't deny this, you can't avoid this?

KN13 [40404-40791]

As I have said, the relationship is cordial, it has been as from 10 years now, we have seen less conflict. The major conflict now we have seen now is maybe is more political and if it is political and ethnic conflict it has been more-religious conflict has been less although after it has been political and ethnic, there are actually a bit of religious conflict normally come into it.

KN14 [33968-34167]

Yes, their relationship nowadays is good is good nowadays because there is no any ah conflicts between Muslims and non-Muslims in recent ah ah ah days, but before there is the condition is very bad.

KN15 [27730-27790]

It's good to some extent as I said early, yeah it is good.

KN16 [17086-17126]

It is good to some extent, it is good.

KN17 [33634-33668]

They have a cordial relationship.

KN18 [56222-56298]

I said the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims is a suspicious one

KN19 [37230-37248]

Is very very bad.

KN20 [28182-28464]

Uh is not too perfect is not too perfect then it used to be very very cordial relationship but not things maybe because of the the the problem in the country, because of the divide and rule interest and the rest of it, but basically things are working well and it's getting better.

KN21 [19769-19797]

The relationship is cordial

KN22 [39740-40238]

It was very normal, the relationship is cordial, is cordial, the relationship is synthetic because in the northern Nigeria there are parts of Northern Nigeria where you will find Muslims and non-Muslim families all together. For instance, like the part of Taraba state, part of Nasarawa state, part of Kogi state, Benue state, they co-exist. You will see a situation where a father is a Muslim, the mother is a Christian or the children are Muslims, some- so they coexist in a peaceful atmosphere.

KN23 [25672-25694]

Like I said, chaotic

KN24 [24364-24387]

Very good relationship

KN25 [38526-38768]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is a relationship of, yah as I have said earlier, semi-antagonism; they live in peace and harmony but deep within there is primary hatred for each other: Suspicion, hatred

KN26 [44265-44281]

It is tolerable

KN27 [32336-32396]

I consider it as a relationship that needs to be reshaped

KN28 [24043-24214]

This is just a relationship I believe is not a clear one. Everyone has his own hidden agenda and as I have said before it is like the relationship between a cat and rat.

KN30 [21379-21514]

Their relationship is working fine and they tolerate each other, they do businesses together, so I think they accommodate each other.

KN31 [42307-42384]

I think some very, very reasonable extent I think I will call it excellent.

KN33 [15067-15094]

This has not been cordial.

KN34 [28914-29221]

The relationship is so pathetic because the relationship is now, we are taking ourselves as enemies unlike what is obtainable before where we take ourselves as brothers and sisters. But now we are just viewing ourselves as enemies, that is what is obtainable in northern Nigeria or in the country at large

KN35 [27340-27502]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is just a relationship that has to be well coordinated in order to achieve a better society.

KN36 [26908-27052]

Yes for now there is little partiality because both Muslims and non-Muslims are not sincere to each other. They consider each other as enemies.

KN37 [25025-25083]

I think I have said that before just a fragile situation.

KN38 [19628-19712]

As I've earlier said, it is not a friendly one but I will say it's a peaceful one.

KN39 [29548-29681]

Really the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria really of course they are living a normal peaceful life.

KN41 [20302-20341]

Harmonious, they are living in peace.

KN42 [53316-53397]

Frankly, I can say it is ok, it can get better, it is not perfect, but it is ok.

KN43 [38755-39072]

Is double edge sword. On one hand is peaceful on the other is antagonistic, as I told you, in some areas in northern Nigeria, the Muslims and Christians live peacefully. They have never engaged in conflicts. In the other areas the relationship is antagonistic because of the series of conflicts that they involve in.

KN45 [46976-47477]

Ehh, I consider the relationship for now ehh it is peaceful, it is peaceful, but I am not aware of any tension under ground between the Christians and the Muslims in Nigeria. Ehh I don't think there is any changing, but there are little complains here and there I heard sometimes especially about establishing the places of worship eh but I think it is not eh, eh something of significance to eh put them into or bring about a bad relationship between Muslims and the Christians in northern Nigeria.

KN46 [68364-68415]

I think I answered, I answered this question in

KN47 [63226-63531]

The relationship, I consider this relationship as sour and then I consider it as something that can be remedied, that can be better off, so long as we bring understanding and then we become patient and we respect the values eh and beliefs of others then we can have a better situation of living together.

KN48 [21788-21818]

They are not doing very well.

KN49 [32279-32442]

I think the current eh challenges to Christians and Muslims, I think its, its more of a culture thing, its more of ok, its not very cordial, I think it is frosty.

KN50 [19204-19216]

Unfriendly.

KN52 [65940-65996]

I don't know but I have answered this question already

KN54 [14148-14162]

Partially Ok

KN55 [16867-16981]

Ok it seems I answered a similar question to this. But let me answer it again. It is partially ok, not fully ok.

KN56 [29597-29612]

Partially Ok.

KN57 [23709-23789]

The relationship is very fine especially in business and in other issues, yes.

KN58 [52211-52241]

To some extent it is cordial

KN59 [58178-59304]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria? The relationship is good, it is peaceful, it is amicable, it is interesting, and there are no any differences. We carry them along and they carry us along, we do things in common when it comes to business, we do business together, when it comes to celebration, events we do this together. The relationship is amicable, it is in peace, it is in order, it is very good. There are no differences because we accommodate each other. Let me give you an instance during this Issue of boko haram where Muslims Umma said that they should engage in prayer so that peace would be restored back to the north, they engaged in too Rakat salat in an open floor it is the Christians that gave the Muslims protections, let them pray so that peace would be restored back to the north, so I think the relationship is good since they can protect us and observe that prayer because you don't know who might come and attack you, some Christians do engage in dry fasting too just for peace to be restored in the northern state so the relationship is that it is very good.

KN60 [40178-40218]

We have spoken about this in the past.

KN61 [21376-21419]

Is the same question with the other one.

KN62 [66333-66389]

Ahh, I think this question was answered before, hmm mm.

KN63 [57158-57311]

The relationship is very cordial, you know they have been working harmoniously, they do trading together, we school together, everything we do together.

KN64 [31539-31650]

The relationship, the relationship is not in good terms, like I said in the, what they need to modify it, hmm.

KN65 [40812-41049]

Ahh to some extent, the relationship is very, very bad, very very bad because it has come to a state that a Muslim does not trust non-Muslim in every aspect of our life: business, ehh social, economic and political, so there is no trust.

KN66 [28111-28159]

The relationship is getting better I would say.

KN67 [30173-30212]

Ehh, I think I answered that question.

KN68 [14258-14275]

Partially okay.

KN69 [54491-55226]

Well their relationship to me now is cordial because of the intervening factor, prior to this intervening factor that is insurgency, the relationship was very bad, but at the end of the day the Christians in the northern part of the country as well as the Muslims in the northern part of the country understand, understood that this insurgency is not only aimed at Christians and it is not only aimed at Muslims both Christians in the northern part of the country and the Muslims in the northern part of the country suffer. So for this reasons, it serves as a factor which mitigates the misunderstanding that is between the Muslims in the northern part of the country and their counterpart Christians in northern part of the country.

KN71 [84476-84639]

As I am saying and I think the relationship is so sour because there is this mistrust and misconceptions and it has to be cleared for us to understand ourselves.

KN72 [44410-44468]

It is mutual eh relationship, it is mutual relationship.

KN73 [45031-45074]

I've said it, it is partial relationship.

KN74 [54438-54590]

Okay the relationship between them for now we can say that it is going smoothly because there is no much eh conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims.

KN74 [54637-55059]

We are talking of now talking about the present time because most of the conflicts now that are taking place is not about the difference between Muslims or non-Muslims, but the things we are resolved but there is some places you find out that there is some conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims, but if you compare it with the previous situation you will find out that it goes very, the number of conflicts going down.

KN75 [59589-59924]

The as I told you, the relationship is limited, before there was a coexistence between the Muslims and non-Muslims in the northern Nigeria, but now the coexistence have ah, have a limitation, a lot of limitation because of religion and tribalism that have bedeviled the people of Nigeria or the people of northern Nigeria presently.

KN76 [50037-50396]

The relationship I said is not cordial, is not cordial, before it was cordial and ah we accept each other and we accept to live together, respecting the rights of other, but when the conflicts started there is mistrust, so I cannot say that it is not cordial and there is higher level of mistrust between the Christians and the Muslims in northern Nigeria.

KN78 [67894-67917]

It should be cordial.

KN80 [50581-50599]

So it is partial

KN81 [36465-36485]

Yah it is cordial.

KN83 [27888-27928]

Wow the relationship is completely bad.

KN84 [30461-30546]

You know the relationships is somehow at times is friendly and at times is somehow.

KN85 [44682-44852]

The relationship is cordially, is good, is okay, as we have said earlier on, is only that some people are causing division and order to take advantage of the divisions.

ZA1 [44018-44174]

A'a we don't have any conflict, we are staying in peace and stability. All these conflicts, I tell you is a political indigene-ship, is a problem of land.

ZA2 [57571-57662]

Ahhh well look we don't have problem, is peaceful, is very peaceful we don't have problem.

ZA3 [34852-34875]

For now is not cordial

ZA4 [53662-54073]

The relationship is not strong like before because of all this believes that maybe this one is trying to kill me, to destroy my din, this one is trying to do this thing, to destroy my din, everyone believes that this one is doing all the necessary thing they can to destroy Islam and also Christian are doing all that is necessary- Muslims are doing to destroy- this type of ideology leads to misunderstanding.

ZA5 [37153-37546]

The relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is something that we cannot talk much about because the relationship now is no more there. Before there was this relationship, but with introduction of democracy in Nigeria since 1999 that is when crisis started because of their political interest that is when they come, they bring division between Muslims and Christians.

ZA6 [80747-81059]

That, like I said previously, in some communities it is cordial, in some that have experienced crisis is still, you know, reforming gradually, but in some though it is hypocritical, where you just talk and greet but, you know, you hate each other, but like in Samaru now, you see its cordial, we relate well.

ZA7 [45389-45936]

Yes, like I said earlier, it is fair and although most people now, the learned ones, they learned Muslims, the learned Christians have come to understand that most of these conflicts have not been caused by, it is not really religious crisis, it has been politicized, political. I want to believe that even this boko haram do not operate completely in a doctrine of Islam. Islam will not permit people to be slaughtering people just because they are not Muslims. So I want to believe the learned people that have lived eh have lived okay for now.

ZA8 [85924-85946]

Like I said sensitive

ZA9 [48849-49018]

The relationship is not smooth at all, it has been tempered with and it will take a long time and very strong policy to bring things back to order again in the country.

ZA10 [40476-40582]

Like I said earlier, it is not good, because of our different beliefs and understanding of our religions.

ZA11 [35038-35076]

The relationship is ok to some point.

ZA12 [22041-22093]

Relationship, I think I will give it below average.

ZA13 [23131-23176]

As I have said earlier on, it is poor sir.

ZA14 [31978-32379]

The relationship is not so good and is not too bad, because if I might give example of a place, look at a place like Jos, there are some certain places that a Muslim, is just only Muslim majority that are living there, there are some places in Jos that those places is just only Christians that are living in that particular place, you can't even, you as a Muslim you can't even do a business there.

ZA15 [32878-32892]

Not too good.

ZA16 [23795-24144]

I consider the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria as that's, or as the way ah Allah (SBUH) combine, mix them to be because it is Allah (SBUH) that created us and makes us to be in the same community, the same locality. So there should be good relationship, cordial relationship between the Muslims and the non-Muslims.

ZA17 [30481-30758]

It's amicable now, it is not like before, there is understanding, and there is dialogue before there is no any dialogue you can't talk to a Christian or a group Christians like that, is not, their faith is not allowing it, even if you can talk to them, they cannot allow it.

ZA18 [36592-36653]

Nowadays the relationship is, you know, is getting stronger.

ZA20 [36043-36766]

I have answered this question earlier. It is cordial as today Nigeria in this very month we are this very 2015 the relationship between Christians and Muslims is very cordial and in fact in the subsequent time if the atmosphere is restored is maintained and sustained, it will be mutual. But if the political climate as it was in 16 years ago it will be wrong, you know, it will be bad. But if the present political climate under President Muhammadu Buhari, you know, it will be mutual understanding. See how we are dining with them, see how we are dining with them I mean, we are dining with them, eating together you know having discussion together all around. All we are saying is Buhari is ours so that is good. It is.

ZA21 [41096-41228]

I said it before that the relationship is not that cordial, but still there are elements of cordiality between the two religions.

ZA22 [34998-35352]

The relationship is somehow good. I am sure many places we co inhabit together, we interact together in working places, we buy from one another like that. When you go to market, when you go to places like Jos where you have Muslims and non-Muslims even Kaduna or Zaria here where you have this ... we are living harmoniously to the best of my knowledge.

ZA23 [42825-42887]

I look at it as fair relationship. The relationship is fair.

ZA24 [55130-55488]

The relationship is cordial. So they have cordial relationship now because with the intervention of the Sultan of Sokoto. In fact I could remember last week or so he advised the leaders especially religious leaders to preach peace. So with this interfaith conflict resolution, now they are regaining cordial relationship between Muslims and eh non-Muslims.

ZA25 [56636-57238]

The relationship is to a large extent strained, will say so, in the sense that we are always suspicious of one another, if truth would be told. And strained relationship is being strained by the hypocritical political class because most of the politicians many of them, I will not say most, many of them neither practice, they neither know the true teachings of Islam neither do they practice the one they even know, but when you come to electioneering period they will stress the religious aspect and that tends to increase the hatred, the unfriendliness between the adherents of the two religions.

ZA26 [24687-24916]

It is ok. I guess if you can ask me how is the relationship between politicians in northern Nigeria and southern Nigeria, this question I can answer you there is conflict, but there is no conflict between Christians and Muslims.

ZA27 [24735-25035]

I think the relationship is cordial; the only thing, the problem is this issue of politicians that are creating problems. The relationship is cordial. I have many friends –Christians we are relating freely and helping each other and we are doing well together so I don't think there is any problem.

ZA28 [39577-39586]

Moderate

ZA29 [55139-55170]

Like I said medium or moderate

ZA30 [66469-66816]

I said the relationship really needs some, the effort will be done by the government because people will bring themselves together now. It is like the some states that are even non-ah let me just say that people have accepted bringing themselves together. So when the government did the right thing, it will also bring more unity between the two.

ZA31 [36598-36794]

The relationship so far, if before it is hundred percent (100%), I believe now it is fifty percent (50%) because of our political ambition, political leaders that impose hatred between religions.

ZA32 [71193-71397]

I consider it to be eh somehow peaceful and somehow otherwise. It is eh to some extent or in some part of the northern Nigeria, it is peaceful while in some part of the northern Nigeria, it is otherwise.

ZA33 [33470-34088]

Very good and very very good. The only problem is the so-called politicians, the politics and the politicians of present day they use that political inclinations as an avenue to exploit their various followers at the grass root. But if they are at the supreme or the peak level they assume to be together but when they come down to the grass root they preach different to their different followers thereby telling the two parties not to agree with one another in northern Nigeria, but in another sense we lived before and we can still live today if we have a good sound and remarkable leadership in northern Nigeria.

ZA34 [53876-54166]

The relationship is deteriorating now. Why? Everybody is on his own. The non-Muslims, the Christian side they are on their own, the Muslims they are on their own. As I said even the settlements, you see the one side the Christians, the Muslims one side. It is deteriorating unlike before.

ZA35 [24538-24580]

The relationship between them is cordial.

ZA36 [37298-37582]

Toh will I call it fair? It is not even fair ma. I can't call it poor because I was born and bred in Kano in Aviation and you know in Aviation is all sorts of tribes from different states, so and we relate good with them, so I can't say it is poor, we relate fairly with them, but...

ZA37 [41155-41213]

I answered this one also, it is just on and off actually.

ZA38 [48894-49298]

As I said earlier, we are growing, we are trying, we are laying a foundation of peaceful coexistence even though far back, a decade ago it was not easy, a decade ago it wasn't easy because of misunderstanding and because as a result of our politicians using religion as a yard stick to cause all forms of trouble, but now we have laid the foundation of peaceful coexistence and it would come and stay.

ZA39 [60993-61323]

Like we said that the relationship was very cordial in the past, but because of the constant persistent religious conflict, it makes the religions to be sour, sour in the sense that people become more subjective both the Muslims and the Christians, hatreds, it has encourage hatred and dislike unlike what was obtainable before.

Th17.3: Perpetual Entrenchment of Conflicts between Christians and Muslims

FG1 [50683-50985]

I don't believe that whatever has a beginning must surely have an end and we look forward to that. What I think will bring that solution now is that there should be tolerance among us. Let us try to sit down together and talk some senses and try to iron issues out. Am sure that will resolve issues

FG1 [50987-51162]

Even our leaders to some extent can control this conflict between Christians and Muslims. If we have good leaders like now we are praying that Buhari can resolve some of this

FG1 [51164-51588]

And then religion should be minimized in politics. What I mean is that there should be a limit in using religion in politics. Even now in this present government the feeling is now that Muslims are now in power and control. So then the Christians will now be asking is this how we will live for four years. And they will do things in a way that it will affect the well being of the country. So it will affect the progress.

FG2 [32957-33373]

(F) No I disagree; whatever has a beginning definitely has an end. So for the fact that I am a Muslim I have personal hatred for another person's religion, it all began one day and since it began one day, one day it can be scrapped out of my mind so I don't believe that anything in this life is permanent even my life itself I am not the owner of it. I might die and whatever sentiments I have dies along with me.

FG2 [33398-33749]

Sir I agree with it because, I agree with the point because nowadays if you look at Nigeria today or northern Nigeria as a case study we have a high number of youths doing nothing. So I believe most of the youths in both religions use the medium of crisis to gain material things for themselves. So hardly will this enmity be resolved in totality.

FG2 [33783-34377]

Yah and my reasons are, I think whenever someone witness something like what he said concerning his family, this thing will be in your mind that any time such a thing happen and if you are opportuned to participate and revenge, your mind will always be on revenge. How to avenge what happened in the past because you always remember of that last born and what happened to them, what happened to him in that place and all those kind of things. Someone can hardly forget, and if you cannot forget this issue since while you are in primary school, I don't think you might ever forget it in life.

FG2 [34470-35554]

So I agree that it could be resolved. I have this political mind and most of my talks are on politics. Given a kind of view from the political angle, before in the north or let me say within the 2000s within the democratic era when this crisis started, Muslims and Christians always have a line of demarcation whereby even when it comes to politics and elections, it is always Muslims for Muslims, Christians for Christians. The typical example is what happened in 2011 which at last led to crisis which if not for God it would have manifested into a religious crisis because some houses of Christians have began to be destroyed. But take example 2015 today, what happened in the recent elections. I saw Muslims and Christians joining the queue together playing, smiling at each other, voting on one procession. I saw a Muslim raising the hand of a Christian and a Christian raising the hand of a Muslim, proclaiming change as she said. So I believe there could be change in Nigeria, nothing is constant. So the fact that there is crisis today doesn't mean it will continue forever.

FG2 [35592-35834]

Actually this change will come from the grassroots. What I mean by grassroots is actually at individual level. Jihadi nafs Everyone must purify his mind. By purifying our minds, therefore the change that we are in need of will become history.

FG2 [35838-36361]

Change will come through institutions ...religious institutions since every mind or every individual in Nigeria has his own beliefs and every belief have an institution where the conduct of his activities and everything is being guided upon. That is the leaders of the religion, each religion, at least should put and should instill the mind of tolerance or the concept of tolerance in the mind of their followers. I believe by doing this through one institution then we will achieve peace.

FG2 [36393-36915]

But I would like to add something that is very important creating social awareness. That is one of the keys of resolving any kind of conflict or any kind in fact whatever problem it is social awareness is one of the greatest keys we need. We should try and create a medium like through the institutions like he said or through the medium that will tell the people look this is the way it should be and this is why it should be. Creating awareness telling people that it should be this way, so I agree with what they say. FG2 [36917-37152]

In addition sir, we have been talking about religious crisis in the north, we have forgotten to bring up the role of media in resolving most of this crisis. I believe the primary means of resolving this religious crisis is the media.

FG2 [37154-38982]

(F) amn not even the media, just like I said it is inbuilt in we the humans because just two year old kid will be telling you that, most especially in this our local community, like a counter neighbor or something he will be telling you that ai arne ne, arne (he is an infidel, an infidel) so you see that is an offensive word. The arne (infidel) won't be happy hearing that it means he is maligned. So now it all begins with us we the humans, it begins with I, you at home with the mother, we should try to like eject that should I say mentality or what in the mind of she herself and the kids because the moment she can start with her own self and the kid it can go out. It will develop so from there like this one, the other ones, I don't know we can do something. It doesn't have to be in the media because there are some that don't have to do with religious institutions. They don't listen. There are some that don't work with anything that has to do with the media. The moment this particular station is centered on those things that oh they will start thinking ahh su ma ai they are going for him that is why they always talk on this. That is how it is. So it all begins with here myself the other one. And when it comes to the media through social networks we should try to push everywhere. I don't know if this can be a medium towards increasing amn encouraging something. There are some pages mainly for influencing or mitigating conflicts because you see a post today ahh your prophet is this, the other person will come ahh no your Jesus, not knowing even the Jesus he himself was a Muslim that is how it is, we are all blinded, we close our eyes towards seeing the truth. So if only we can like try to stop all this I think we can reduce the number of conflicts or the conflicts we will be having in the society.

FG3 [72391-72953]

I want to comment on this. (quotes from the Qur'an) Whatsoever you want to do is based on intention. So you see sir, what is in your mind is your compass. It gives you direction of what to do, where to go and how to do it. In Islam, Islam did not teach how to quote three verses against one another. Islam taught people how to let go of your grievances. Islam taught people how to settle scores amicably without bloodshed or quarrel or conflict. And therefore I believe that these conflicts can be solved. Let us go by the scripture – The Qur'an and the Hadith.

FG3 [72955-73427]

As it is now in Nigeria it can only be managed or check mated, it cannot be resolved as at now because the two leaders of the religion they need to play roles because they are the ones even fueling this things because some of the utterances of some of these religious leaders is even responsible for the crisis we are even experiencing in this part of the country. Until the two parties are ready to try to resolve this matter that is when it can definitely be resolved.

FG3 [73429-75450]

Me I believe it can be resolved because on the practical aspect that is we, we can just, maybe I can give example with myself or ourselves. I don't think we are really enemies to that extent because I think I have a shop in Taraka here, so the opposite that my shop is facing is a Christian. There was a time I woke up, I usually stay in the house where the shops are, so I usually come out in the night and check the shops. I came out one day around 1.30 – 2.00 and I saw her shop opened. So I went I located the house, I didn't even know her house, but I went and located the house I got her and told her to come and lock her shop. She said is the shop open? I said it was open in that kind of the night. She had some workers that are doing shifts, and the last one I don't know what happened, she sent her and she forgot to lock the shop and left it open. So as I went to her and called her she came and locked down the shop. I didn't even know that the woman was planning to leave because her husband has been transferred to one, he got a new job in this new university in one place. So many people are looking for the shop, I didn't even know. Some of these people are even Christians; they followed her that they want the shop. But she said even if she is leaving this shop, she will give it to so and so person. Because I didn't stay with her as an enemy. My shops are mainly part, she gave me the shop, she even denied her people, if there is hatred between us I don't think, if there is hatred between Christians and Muslims this thing will not happen. Most of my customers today in my shop are Christians. We are attending the same market, attending the same school, befriending each other both males and girls. I wonder to say we cannot resolve our case. It is just our leaders who are you some, let me say some not all, some religious leaders, to fuel the problem. But as long as people keep on attending school, it is through knowledge as I said you can know who is your friend and who is your enemy.

FG3 [75451-76186]

I want to lastly comment on this issue. You see I want to refer back to a scholar that said all men are born innocent. His name is Abraham Maslow. He said that all men are born innocent. But later on due to the circumstances of the world, you understand, the mind tends to be corrupted. So I believe that when we were born, we were born with pure and clean minds without we knowing anything about the world, but it was later on that now we realize how challenging the world has become due to things we learn and things that interfere with us. And we have a different definition about the world. So I believe that since we are clean from the beginning and in the middle we are wrong, and definitely as we go things will become right.

KD1 [60523-60626]

They are actually very entrenched, but they can be resolved through dialogue and mutual understanding.

KD2 [31678-32515]

No, no, no, no this can be resolved. Hundred percent, it can be solved hundred percent, but right now the way we are especially after this 2015 election, people had been clamoring that Nigeria will be divided, this and that, Nigeria will be turned into Muslim and Christian countries, Nigeria will be divided into south and north. It has all come to pass. Nothing happened and nothing will happen. And right now, the minds of Nigerians, both Muslims and Christians is purely one nation, one country, people are trying to live together, be happy and move forward, both as Muslims and Christians. People are not thinking of any form of conflict right now and no thinking of segregating from their fellow Christians or Muslims or Christians ah segregating from their fellow Muslims. They are planning to live together in peace and harmony.

KD3 [23266-23655]

The statement that some people are of the opinion that these conflicts are now so entrenched in the minds of Christians and Muslims that it cannot be definitely resolved, yes. And my agreement to that is because of most of the conflicts between the Christians and Muslims these days, nowadays anywhere in the world are mostly political for some people just to earn, to get what they want.

KD4 [55433-55547]

I agree that conflict cannot be totally resolved because conflict can only be minimized, it can never be evicted.

KD5 [30679-31109]

I agree, no I did not agree. I agree that the conflict situation is entrenched in the mind of the youth or of the people both Muslims and the Christians, but I believe that the situation can be resolved through enlightenment, education, and understanding both the religion by both Muslims and Christians. If Muslims understand Christianity and also if Christians understand Islam, I don't think there will be any conflict any more.

KD6 [49578-49818]

I agree. It has eaten deep in us. So, we hate ourselves when we are seeing each other so, how can we do that is still by dialogue, I understand you, you understand me, I understand your position, you understand my own position. That's all.

KD7 [38979-39196]

It can be gradually resolved. Only when we make a sincere move to, it's all a matter of suspicion from the both sides, if we manage to allow our fears over each other, I think we will be going in the right direction.

KD8 [70510-71104]

It is true, it is now so entrenched, but we need to do a lot of things to actually remove it. They are not so entrenched, you understand, they are not so entrenched to a certain degree o, but when you look at because when look at, anyway let me not be biased, but to a certain degree it is, but it is not to the extent that it cannot be resolved ehen, but it is entrenched so much because when it is politics, you see how Christians will just vote for their person and Muslims will vote for their person. So, it is so much entrenched to be sincere, but it can be, it can be resolved of course.

KD9 [48601-48839]

Yes. I will agree to some extent because media hype, media propaganda, like I said earlier, has really made it to be entrenched. So it will take a lot of education about the true teachings of religion to take it away from people's minds.

KD10 [37281-37470]

In fact it is very difficult to be resolved. The way I see it is going, it is very difficult to be resolved. May Allah just preserve us and protect us and our properties from destruction.

KD13 [18825-18948]

I disagree with this because the conflict for this present generation we are now, I can probably say it has been resolved.

KD14 [24438-24626]

I agree with this. I agree because, as I said earlier, it is, most of all those religious conflicts anywhere in this world even in this present in country Nigeria are normally political.

KD15 [31568-31921]

I don't agree with that because you see in our Nigeria today I believe what most lead to conflict is just self interest because in Bible I don't see where Bible preaches conflict or preaches killings or whatever. In Qur'an likewise, so whoever go for conflict I think is for his own self interest not for the interest of the majority or the community.

KD16 [19554-19754]

I strongly disagree with that because human beings are dynamic isn't it? We are dynamic we are not static. If somebody can leave his religion for another religion, why can't he has a change of mind.

KD17 [57370-57728]

Of course, what I can say to that is that most people have lost one or two family members or friends due to the previous conflict so they are still holding that grudges in mind, but I believe with time the kind of co-existence we are having between Muslims and Christian presently in Nigeria, with time I believe all those things will be story of the past.

KD19 [38473-39305]

I disagree with it that this conflict is so much entrenched in the minds of an average Nigerian that this is because it tends to shape one's perception about whatever happens in the society. These days even a minor accident that happens on the way people tend to look at it from the religious angle. If a woman should go to the hospital she is in labour and something happened to the pregnancy, some people sometimes will have to look at who is the nurse on duty? Who is the midwife that attended to her? And they will begin to give eh different version. She is this that is why we lose the baby, this, this, this is what happens. So this issue of religion has so much entered the minds of Nigerians that today we find it difficult to think something natural could happen without blaming it on the followers of other religion.

KD20 [31417-31885]

I disagree with that in the sense that the Muslims, in the both religions, before, the problem I think is that the especially the other religion the they Christians some of them use to put the hatred of the Muslim into their children, yes I think that is one of the causes, but this even the Muslim as well is like they are doing that, but they can still be living together peaceful when there is a mutual understanding and tolerance in the state or in the countries.

KD21 [31548-32405]

I agree with the saying that what goes around comes around. What has a beginning must surely have an end. It has a beginning, surely will have an end. The people have tend to realise that the politicians have always been playing them all along. When it comes to the conflicts between the poor man next door and the poor man next door, he has never been a victim. You pay attention clearly to the recently concluded election in Nigeria. Pay close attention to Jos, they have voted out their incumbent governor's ahm cousin Jonah Jang who has been fuelling crisis in the state and then supported the opposition for the first time in the history of the state both the national and federal level. ... became the incumbent governor, General Muhammadu Buhari the sitting president. The people have come to realize that nothing can be achieved through violence.

KD23 [29592-29807]

Yes ah I agree that ah everything in terms of conflicts will be solved, but unless if the government are willing to solve it because they are the ones that usually created it for their personal political interests.

KD24 [87714-87779]

No. It can be resolved. No any problem that cannot be resolved,

KD25 [98239-98672]

I don't agree. I don't agree there's nothing in this world that cannot be resolved. in as much as the right channels are followed. Already the politicians that are politicking the religious leaders and I think clerics in as much as the Muslim scholars and the Christians clerics ah they should turn their backs on these so called ah politicians then eh things will be right because the followers are always looking at their leaders.

KD26 [34191-34544]

Well to some extent hmm to some extent I do agree because you know it has been planted, it is a seed that has been planted and it will grow. There is already that decision in the minds, but Allah is always, so he knows what can happen tomorrow and what cannot happen tomorrow, but I do hope that it can be resolved. But I do agree it will be difficult.

KD27 [32468-32987]

I believe it will take time, it will take time to completely eradicate that in the minds of Muslims and Christians in northern Nigeria because it has become so entrenched. I remember in one of the elections in 2015 that Christians were asked in Kaduna state not to bother voting since the two main contenders are Muslims, so they shouldn't bother to vote because whoever they vote for is still going to be a Muslim. And this was told to them in the church that is to tell you how entrenched these factors have become.

KD28 [41661-41974]

I don't agree. It can be as long as if everybody will go back and yes you go to the Qur'an and the hadith of the prophet and you are able to believe that yes it is God that provides and you may your mind says you too look to God then at least you will be able to get all this one and you will be able to resolve.

KD29 [27340-27475]

I did not agree because ah means of ah reducing these conflicts or eliminating these conflicts has not been entrenched in the society.

KD30 [50033-50407]

Ah of course it has taken a lot of ah it has, the Muslims and the Christians have come to have this ah belief for each other and is not going to be easy to take it away in a particular time, but ah the society needs reorientation and ahm with time generation, with time change generation and if the proper steps are taken then I think we can achieve it, why not, with time.

KD31 [24247-24324]

Yah it can't because anything that has to do with religion is very delicate.

KD33 [30722-31168]

I did not agree because we can go back to our normal state. In the first place if all the Christians can go back to their churches, to their families to tell their people the true teachings of Christianity and all the Muslim can go back to their families, their mosques, their society and tell their people the true teachings of their religion, if this is done as it is in the past, so I think really definitely all the problem will be solved.

KD34 [38714-39293]

Definitely I disagree because it can be resolved, one, our leaders from the top, if from the top they will settle themselves they will not take a religious division lightly or use it as a tool of gaining a particular political aim. Definitely it will be resolved with the period of time and then again secondly the social activities of the people of the society because socially when somebody doesn't have what to do, what to eat, he was so angry then somebody offered him little to satisfy that his own immediate need, you can inject him with some ideas and he will take it up.

KD35 [37451-37747]

Ahh I disagree that is not going to be resolved because the moment people are enlightened, people are been told the truth, people are guarded, people who offend should be punished properly and with fairness then things will come back to normal, things will come back to normal emm way of life.

KN1 [76058-76962]

I disagree. You see actually what is happening is this a times I laugh. You see I am a Muslim but based on the little I know about Christianity I laugh at pastors because they will utter statements that probably an illiterate is supposed to utter that statement. You will be very sorry and imagine this is somebody that will gather people and will be preaching for them. The reason why I give a pastor as an example you know I am not a Christian and I know very little about Christianity but still I laugh at him based on his utterance. If I say that I am laughing at some imams it will be said it is because am a Muslim probably I know a little about Islam that is why I give you example of a pastor. Two, it's quite, I don't even know what to call it, the way things are done its quite embarrassing and people will be calling themselves religious leaders, they will be calling themselves men of God.

KN1 [77144-79022]

Probably by understanding our differences. You see a times the problems that are happening in this country, I am not trying to defend the Muslims, now as a Muslim you know that if you burn a church if you are knowledgeable you know about Islam if you burn a church you know you're dead in Islam. I told you that even under jihad you don't burn or destroy a church, you don't burn priests, you don't kill women, you don't kill old people and you don't kill children. That is the condition you don't kill all this one and you don't destroy it. And now if at you own convenience because a jihad need a leadership now just because you are an area boy you gather people and go and burn a church, who are you? And you claim that you are doing it under the pretense of Islam, who said so? Shay you are understanding me, and from the other aspect if you will understand your religion and I will understand my religion some of these things will not be happening. I once told a pastor, a popular pastor of Christianity that you are the problem of this country, he said why, me I said I mean your institution both Islam and Christians, I mean the pastors and the imams, they are the problems of this country a times because a Muslim will go and steal from the government coffers and run to the Imam and because he is a man of God he don't imagine some things he run to him and say they are persecuting me because I am a Muslim, they want me out of office and he will believe him. He will stand up and start telling Muslims you have to rally around him and help him and equally it the same thing in the church because I am a Christian they are against me they are ganging up against me. So you see even the religious leaders they are helping matters towards this issue and a times innocently and a times out of bribery the little they are getting out of corruption. It is all happening.

KN2 [44372-44674]

No I don't. There should be a committee that will go round to talk to the politicians, collect their opinions. If you violate a certain aspect of interreligious relationship, what should be the punishment and the judiciary should ensure that it maintain that.

KN4 [57662-58258]

No, it can be it can be it can be changed and can be erased from their mind is very simple to inculcate law in the mind of individuals than hatred. If you look at it before the coming of this ah republic from 1999 till to date, there is no conflict. It is the people that can change their morality, that can change their attitude, there behaviors towards their neighbors, towards the other ethnic groups that can determine peace and bring peace back to our country and society. It is our attitude, is our behavior that can be changed and it would help much and people can live in peace as before.

KN5 [38450-38678]

Ahh actually I agree because the non-Muslims have a bad perception towards Islam and ah the way they relate to Muslims is not something very tolerable until, which is very difficult. They resolved that conflict is inevitable.

KN6 [43909-44282]

I didn't agree as to some extent, but to some extent I can agree because the conflict, the conflict ah can be only resolved when we remove this injustice, when we remove this poverty, when we remove this ah ah illiteracy so if there is-it depends on the level of illiteracy because this conflict it can happen even at the America but it is different from our own conflict

KN7 [39179-39897]

I do not agree, I do not agree, it can be resolved as long as Muslims and non-Muslims, Muslims and Christians do view themselves as one. We shouldn't, I don't think as matured minds we should engage in conflicts before we can understand ourselves. Why not sit, ok, call Islamic clerics, call Christian clerics, call the leaders of non-Muslims let's sit together, let's look, what are the problems facing, or what are the problem we are facing, what are the problem that are disturbing our peaceful coexistence within the society, let us come and resolve it. Let us come and find a possible way forward. I think ehm, I think that would ehm be more of advantage and would ehm make conflicts insignificant enough.

KN8 [36650-36758]

I disagree because everything could be resolved. No problem that would start now and would not have an end.

KN9 [32817-32840]

I agree with this, yes.

KN10 [26489-27066]

It can be resolved because once, once the preachers can preach based on what is in their book because I have realized that, or even come across that most of the ah non-Muslims that are converting to Christianity what there preachers is just preaching them is that Muslims are their enemies, so this what is always growing in their mind. So they always look at Muslims as their, as their enemies, so this will always bring a conflict, but once the preachers will preach based on what is exactly in the book, based on the teaching of the book, so there will be no any conflict.

KN11 [34715-34952]

I disagree with this, yes because there are-in Christianity, some rarely understand the teaching of the religion and they, they don't mean to hurt anybody, likewise in Islam only that in any organization, some are good and some are bad.

KN13 [38018-38033]

True. I agree.

KN14 [31882-31989]

Yes I agree because of the ah believes, different opinions from, because it is like positive and negative.

KN15 [26360-26433]

Yes, this can only be resolved you know when they understand each other.

KN16 [15823-15879]

No it can be resolved when they understand each other.

KN17 [31091-31248]

Because it depends on, it depends, it actually depends on why things-actually because they are meant to believe that other faiths are the cause of the action

KN18 [53236-54534]

It can be resolved now, it can be resolved. Have we ever witness such a conflict like that of the genocide of Rwanda? Ah ah it is not as that scale as deadly as that whereby in just few months, in a month more than eight hundred thousand people died close to a million, we have not reached and they were able to settle and they have resolved the conflict and they are living peacefully and harmoniously with a post-conflict reconstruction ah Regakaka, Regakaka they applied, some called it Gashasha, but the Regakaka, Regakaka it is like a settlement, a settlement is a grazing area whereby people of a community will come. You will come and say say the truth of what you did and that it is a kind of traditional set up, a community to either forgive you or to appropriately give you a certain punishment, communal punishment to sanction you for that action and the parties, the warring parties will be around to either forgive and it is forgiveness, a kind of a council of forgiveness and reconciliation. At their level they were able to employ post-conflict reconstruction program whereby they were able to get rid of their problems. We too here we can, we can-it has not even reached that extreme level of decaying relationship as that of Rwanda and they were able to get rid of their problem.

KN19 [35205-35312]

I disagree because, no conflict cannot be resolved everything that begins must come to an end.

KN20 [25589-25819]

I disagree because conflict is not a thing that is, it is not a good thing per say one, then two, Muslims and Christians are good loving people, we are peaceful people. We can always resolve and live together as human.

KN21 [18234-18257]

I disagree with that.

KN21 [18332-18390]

Because there is no problem that doesn't have a solution.

KN22 [36142-36286]

It can be resolved that is why there is this department of religion, religion adherence. So in order to manage this conflict, it can be resolved

KN23 [24173-24522]

I can't agree because if you check the 2015 election exercise there are people who are saying Christians, vote Christians but we see a different result like Benue state in particular where Buhari as a Fulani man and they are having Fulani-Tiv crisis and yet General Muhammadu buhari won Benue which is a Christian state. So I don't believe in that.

KN24 [22700-23144]

No it can be resolved because we can see it from the present election, it was, this thing was already, like I said before, it was influenced by our politicians so now the changes have come. If you can see the present elections there are changes because a Muslim came and contest between the Christians and all the Christians were backing the Muslims through and giving him support through votes. That means there are little changes.

KN25 [36125-36540]

Well I agree because an average northern Muslim no matter the business or the dealings he will conduct with a non-Muslim he has it at one side of his mind that this is my enemy, the same thing with a Christian. So as long as this notion is not eliminated I think-there is still ah both of these religious groups are only waiting for the slightest possible means to explore out their hidden hatred for each another.

KN26 [41297-41718]

I don't agree. It can be resolved. It can like I said, as a development worker, somebody that has conflict resolution as his area, I have done a lot of mediation, a lot of dialogue, work of reconciliation. It is all about commitment, you know when all stakeholders, the government, Muslims, Christians, organizations and all that come to put their heads together. Conflicts can be resolved. Many have been resolved, yes

KN27 [28826-29394]

I don't agree because even though you can forgive but you can't forget. So Muslims both Muslims and Christians they tend to forgive their selves but they don't forget things. They don't forget because they don't want to. They keep grudges in their minds and malice in their minds against themselves that is why they feel it can't be resolved, but in a situation whereby you feel yes you have forgiven this person why not forget about it since conflict wouldn't be of advantage to your lives rather it causes damages. So if you do forget it, it can be resolved, yes.

KN28 [22176-22244]

It can be resolved and through understanding and mutual connectivity

KN30 [20192-20226]

I don't agree. It can be resolved

KN31 [37572-38604]

No, no, no, I doubt if this statement is true because this is something that has to be done away with because I have two circumstances now that I use as yardstick or as an example. If you remember when we had this fuel subsidy you could observe that there are some situations that happened then it was the Christians and Muslims that came out to now fight or protest against this fuel subsidy. You find situations whereby Christians were there protecting the Muslims while they were praying, you find the Muslims protecting the Christians to pray. So you see if we have situations like that I doubt if this statement is true. The same thing this election you find out that in so many states despite the fact that the president was a Muslim and the deputy is a Christian but you find out that there are some states that are not even northern there are more Christians, but you see that even if they don't win election there but at least they packed some votes. So you can see which means we can easily do away with those barriers.

KN32 [18710-18872]

No no no no I don't agree with that because a lot of conflicts have been solved so why do you think that of Nigeria won't be solved it can be solved definitely.

KN33 [13858-13912]

I didn't agree because there can be peace in future.

KN34 [25267-25874]

Yes I agree because if you are having may be discussion with people from the other religion you will agree with me that the damage has been done. The politicians have tried to use their rule and divide to poison the minds of the, should I use, members of other sects of other religion, to poison that so and so person or particular person is against you, his policies are against them. So they were able to penetrate and poison their minds, which will take a long time before we can be able to revive the glory of the past that the way we used to respect one another and the way we used to live before.

KN35 [24444-24678]

No I don't agree with that assumption. Simply because since there was a time that we are all together and there is no conflict, so definitely we can move back to that step again since there are changes in the human society.

KN36 [24296-24519]

No I do not agree because it can be resolved; when we have a leader that can justify the truth, which can allow equality and equal distribution of resources and well utilization of resources happening in the society today.

KN37 [23339-23721]

Yah to some extent I agree with that because you see the people at the grassroots, most of them are not that educated and not that enlightened, their minds have been poisoned by most of their political leaders to see their fellow grassroots brother as their enemy in religion. I think that will take a long time before that will be completely erased from their hearts.

KN38 [17297-17725]

I totally disagree, as we have just seen recently in 2015 now whereby I saw Muslims and non-Muslims coming out in mass to vote for someone who is not of their religion. They put religious sentiments aside and vote for someone and I could remember also in 2011 when there was this religious conflict in Jos, I saw a picture whereby Muslims were praying and Christians were around them safeguarding them from conflicts.

KN39 [27351-27654]

I do not agree because even Islam, Islam always insist that Muslim should live peaceful lives with regard to their living with non-Muslims. Therefore, I can say that there is no way people will be saying that living or the present religious conflicts will never be eliminated, no actually.

KN40 [21551-21716]

Conflicts can be resolved in the sense that everybody or both religions understand each other or by making a kind of negotiation or bargaining to resolve conflicts.

KN41 [18798-18946]

Conflict between Christians and Muslims can definitely be eliminated if the Muslims and the Christians will have respect for each other's religion.

KN42 [49647-50544]

Yah conflicts have been entrenched in the life of, in the minds of Muslims and Christians through the political leaders and so as to fuel this ehm, these problems and divert peoples mind from the national questions. But there is also a way forward. If there is problem, there is definitely a solution whereby we should learn to sit together, we should face our problems head on and we should find solutions to them. Tell your brothers, your neighbors, your fellow, your Muslim, your Christian counterparts, this is what I want, this is what I don't want, this is what do you that make me hate your religion so much. This is what you also do that makes me hate your religion. Then how do we find a way forward. There should be mediation, there should be room for solutions and there should definitely be a way forward, but the problems are solvable as long we are ready to meet ourselves half way.

KN43 [35347-35925]

No, I don't agree with this because there is no society that can live in eternal war. Any society that engages in eternal war is bound to disappear. So if you say the conflict is estranged in the mind of Muslims and non-Muslims, and it would never be resolved then by implication you are telling me that this society is going to be erased in the near future which is not true. So I believe with time, especially if we have a good leadership in those, you know, states affected by the conflict the, you know, misunderstanding will be resolved and the people will leave in peace.

KN45 [41589-42106]

Ah I don't agree because nothing cannot be resolved especially conflict. Conflict is something contra eh temporary and it has its causes. So if one look at the causes, the root causes of the things and ehh I don't think ahh why it can't be resolved. It can be resolved if we look at the root causes of the conflict and resolve them using justice. Justice is the root cause of all problems if there is justice, then I don't think there is any conflict. There would not be conflict between Muslims and Christians, yah.

KN46 [61826-62042]

No. It will disappear, it will go, but if we have a sustained good governance. But if, for example, you have good governance today, tomorrow you switch back to a bad leadership, then the suspicion will remain there.

KN47 [60020-60145]

I don't agree because in social science there is no problem that is permanent, you understand, so change is always possible.

KN48 [20086-20235]

Hmm, it can't be resolved because everyone would want to believe in what they are doing is ok for them, the line they are following that is the best.

KN49 [30732-30890]

I think, I think eh with a lot of understanding, it can be it can be resolved. Its all about eh eh partnering with each other to see how we can forge peace.

KN50 [17756-17887]

I do not agree because if conflict, if conflict cannot be resolved it could gradually lead to eradication of nation, of a nation.

KN52 [59873-60647]

A lot has to be done by the Government, a lot has to be done because so much damage have been done already, so much damage has been done on the psyche of religious people in Nigeria that it would require a lot of time, effort and commitment on the part of the government to really heal the wounds that have been created so far. So I would recommend for instance, the regulation of preachings I mean the government must regulate preaching. Who is to preach for Juma'at prayer, Sunday sermons and other religious like that. If you don't control the proliferation as you put it, proliferation of Islamic preachers and things like that, I think there would be problems. This type of problems would continue there should be some form of regulation governing religious practices,

KN54 [13047-13073]

No. Nothing is impossible

KN55 [15431-15473]

I did not agree, nothing is impossible.

KN56 [26513-26923]

Actually you make me laugh by saying, by asking this question why because there has been so many conflicts in the history of mankind that are even more disastrous and more serious than what we are having currently in Nigeria. You can talk about Rwanda where we have the Hutu and the Tutsi, they lived violently and now thanks to almighty God all things have been resolved through dialogue and understanding.

KN57 [21795-21826]

I am not agreeing with this.

KN58 [48002-48278]

Yes because the Christians have always being brain washed that Islam is terrorism. So as such they don't want to see anything Islam until they made a personal research that they now rediscover that what they have been told is wrong oh. It is not true.

These are the reasons.

KN59 [51993-52122]

I agree that it cannot be resolved, presently it cannot be resolved but I don't know maybe in the future or sometimes to come.

KN60 [37976-38114]

I don't agree. There is no situation no conflict that cannot be resolved. Western and eastern Germany where divided now they are united.

KN61 [19634-19776]

No, I cannot agree, if before there is no conflict now there is a conflict definitely there will be a way whereby the conflict will go again.

KN62 [60640-61168]

I agree that they can be resolved. What happened in ah Rwanda, ah you know, Rwanda genocide is now more than 20years ago. It was in 1994 April, right? And now in 2015 ahh which month? June, right? So it is more than 20years and ah it is resolved amicably through Gakaka or Gachacha or something like that, Gakaka peacemaking treaty. So I believe that it's through peaceful talk, you understand, not signing treaties or whatever, just talk. If you have people that can talk eh persuasively, then we can resolve things amicably.

KN63 [52032-52520]

It can be resolved, it can be resolved, but you know for those victims of the past maybe that have been involved in these conflict and they might have lost so much in the conflicts, there is no way they can just let that thing go, it is not easy. They cannot just wipe it all of a sudden, so it will still be in their minds. But such people now if they have an opportunity, they may want to take a revenge on what has happened to them in the past. That is one of the problems of today.

KN64 [29931-29984]

No, it can be, it can be, it can be resolved, hmm.

KN65 [37163-37514]

I do not agree that it cannot be definitely resolved. It can be resolved. The reason is if only, if only, if only we can respect each other's religion. We agree that the Christians, we the Muslims agree that the Christians are ahl kitab and we should treat them the way Qur'an and Sunna asks us to do. So insha allahu the conflict would be resolved.

KN66 [26153-26228]

It can be resolved, yes. Is a matter of, of communication and understanding

KN67 [27382-27790]

Well if you say definitely you mean it will never be resolved. I don't think so. If you follow our teachings, you know that there are so many problems, the Muslims they don't follow their teachings and the Christians also they don't follow the teachings of their religion. So if we follow the teachings of our religion and we have leaders that would lead us in this direction, then everything can be resolved

KN68 [13016-13043]

No, nothing is impossible.

KN69 [47321-47341]

It can be resolved

KN69 [47389-47866]

We have to consider two things, to my point of view, in the first place our scholars, our Ulama, our bishops, our pastors; they must fear God in the course of their preaching to make sure that they are doing it because of God. To make sure that they are not using the talent of their followers for the purpose of instigations and at the same time it is responsibility of our leaders to put the yearnings and the aspirations of our country as well as the people of the country.

KN69 [48156-48641]

No, I didn't agree with that view because here in Nigeria we have two predominant religions that is Islam and Christian. And if we agree that we want to live in peace, all this problem can easily be solved in the sense that our scholars, if I say scholars, that is our Ulama and our pastors, and bishops have roles to play in this regard and at the same time, government have so many roles to play. But I don't know whether I answer you, if you want more elaboration, I can elaborate.

KN71 [75512-76623]

I believe it is so entrenched, but it can be removed and I believe it can be removed because if there is, when we are resolute both our traditional rulers, both our clerics that is the religious leaders and the governments. If we are ready to do, we can do it and it would be as simple as A,b,c,d. Let me give you an example, when you had pastor x visiting Imam y to eat and share their sitting room for day and on the other day you have Imam x or Imam y visiting Pastor x to eat, drink and share his sitting room for a day. Would that not signify something? It will, of course it will. And when you have a situation whereby the scholar, Islamic scholars no matter how bitter, agree to tell the truth of the religion that la iqra ha fid din. You should stick to your religion and allows others to do theirs and in the church they say the same thing because we see nobody on top but our scholars, isn't it? And they see nobody on top but their apostles, so one which each and every one of us will embark on telling the truth as it is. In, within no time we will clear all these conflicts and I am sure of that,

KN71 [76654-77105]

Don't forget, don't forget even Islam allows for a Muslim to marry a non-Muslim wife, should you marry a girl, from a non-Muslim family, will they ever fight you? No. Consider the case of Safiyatu Bintu and Zainab Bintu Zahashin married by prophet (SAW). What happened? For the sake of that marriage, these two families and all clans embraced Islam and there was peace. So what is wrong in we taking this sir eh step other one in resolving ourselves

KN72 [40052-40225]

No. I did not agree with that because eh very soon eh it implies that Muslims and Christians can live together peacefully in case of Kaduna when Muslims guard Christians.

KN73 [41541-41759]

Ah it can be resolved. Ai there is nothing that cannot be resolved definitely when the Muslims and non-Muslims come and realize their differences and we remove the politics and everything will be solved and resolved.

KN74 [50855-50977]

Am not agree, there is nothing in the world that cannot be resolved. Everything there can be resolved, it can be resolved.

KN74 [51012-51195]

Ehh through dialogue, dialogue and it can be controlled by I have seen that is dialogue negotiation and discussion and also even the confrontation, it can be resolved, the issue of

KN75 [53209-53721]

It can be, it can be resolved. By using dialogue, by having some eh sitting or gathering between the Christians and Muslims will tell them look this is, we are one, we call ourselves eh we call ourselves one Nigeria, why will we use politics or conflict or religious sentiments to disintegrate ourselves, you understand, a lot of things is through dialogue, when a Christian and a Muslim will sit down to resolve their differences, you will see that we can move forward without any problems.

KN76 [46926-47064]

No. I don't agree with it. It can be resolved because it is not religious per se because nobody can compel you to practices his religion.

KN78 [63983-64683]

No. I disagree. It can be resolved for as long as we have people, leaders who are willing to articulate policies, leaders that are willing deliberately willing to ahh to in a way, you know, ahhm ahh address issues that bothers people, address issues of un-employment, poverty rate, you know, insecurity, all this are some of the factors that succeeded in giving birth to the present state of affairs in Nigeria. So if you want to address those, go to the root of the problem. The root of the problem is addressing the problem squarely. You should stop embezzlement, corruption should be eh eh should be reduced, I mean, these are the basic steps if you really, genuinely agree to solve this problem.

KN80 [48325-48449]

It can be, no I did not agree, I disagree with this because nothing ahh ahh ahh whatever damage, it is subject for repair.

KN81 [33416-33757]

I disagree with this idea because whatever problem happen so there must be a solution so this problem can be solved especially when we got ah when we get a good leader because ahh most cases the leaders they are the ones who cause these problems, as I told you, they use the Muslims and non-Muslims for their own interest. I hope you get it

KN82 [33814-33938]

I agree that it is very hard to ameliorate this conflict because of the deep ahh level it has rooted itself into the society

KN83 [25328-25804]

No I did not agree. This case can be resolved because ahh initially government should first provide job for the youths because they are the agents of conflicts, of this conflicts ehen. So when they are educated, they have jobs to do ehen, they know their rightz and they cannot involve in killing their lives because they know that their life is very important so they will not do that so some youth don't know that their lives are very not important ehen so they will not..

KN84 [27699-27712]

I disagree.

KN84 [27752-27807]

It will be solved, it will be definitely be resolved.

KN85 [40893-41408]

No. We cannot say that is so deeply entrenched that it cannot be resolved. I think what is needed is one, for the political leaders to be sincere and honest. They should stop using religion as a tool for political gains, the scholars on both sides should teach people the true religion, they should try to teach people the essence and significance of peaceful coexistence and respect for each other's religion and the people themselves should try to imbibe the spirit of peace, tolerance and peaceful coexistence.

ZA1 [40972-41455]

No, no there is no conflict, the issue is a political problem. Muslims and non-Muslims, I stay, I was born in Plateau state, am an indigene of Adamawa state, during 1982-83, non-Muslims use to bring food for us to for a Christmas and even the Qur'an Allah says that (he recites the Qur'an) the food of the non-Muslims, food means their meat is lawful for you, it means that there is no any conflict or rather than political issues and problem or property and of indigene-ship.

ZA2 [51402-52247]

Yes it can be resolved, although due to my agreement here, do you know that if you can, let me give you one big thing that even making this even get a ground, do you know that there is no discipline? That is the key issue because we come to identify them we know the problems, we knew at the end we identify what is causing this, but when there is no discipline people now pretend at the back that no is because of this, is because of the religion, because- they use now the religion in politics. Take for example, when election commenced, when people will manipulate what do you call it election malpractices will commence, the person is seen, is identified, but at the end nothing become the result. Don't be surprise when the manipulated or made election malpractice form, he still remain the leader. I don't know how this peace should come.

ZA3 [31093-31413]

I quite agree Oo as far as this statement is concerned right now because no matter what you tell somebody, no matter how good a Muslims is in the face of a Christian he is not good so also no matter how good maybe performing somebody will be of a Christian faith as far as a Muslim is concerned he is not good for now.

ZA4 [51746-51751]

Yes.

ZA5 [34304-34461]

Yes. I agree with that because some people have been brain washed, you understand, they don't even have time to see what the other religion have said about.

ZA6 [74774-75514]

Yes I agree with that. It is very entrenched in the minds of both Muslims and Christians in Nigeria. You find out that ahm the level of hatred between both religions is growing and though, from my view, I believe the the previous government really did well in promoting and entrenching this religious division to score cheap political goals. They tried as much as possible to divide, to make sure the people are not united along religious lines so that everybody can come and seek support from his own religion where he knows he has, like the north where, you know, you have the majority of Muslims, you come to use religion to manipulate them so that they would support you at the expense of a better candidate and likewise in the south.

ZA7 [40882-41301]

Well I want to believe it is not going to be possible to achieve the complete peaceful state as it where before sincerely because in states that, from statistics, states that have been indulged in crisis, bloodshed, have had long and hard time recovering from such crisis. And so it is going to be very difficult, even if it means it is achievable, I think it is going to be a very long period of peaceful coexistence.

ZA8 [79342-79793]

I agree, why, because many people have lost a lot in all these conflicts and it cannot be easily removed because is a very, very sensitive matter because one way or the other somebody somewhere has lost a very loved one due to the conflict or lost his property or his brother or his mother or whatsoever he has lost. So this has etched into his mind that one day he is going to wait for his own time to take revenge. So it will not be easily lifted.

ZA9 [45586-45862]

Human beings we are dynamic, change is constant at some point in our lives we were tolerant and some things happened and brought us to where we are now. I believe things will change and if things change we can still go back to, things can go back to normal as it used to be.

ZA10 [38169-38498]

I did not agree because, like I have said, jihad we said will bring revolution to any country. When we jihad, when we actually go for jihad that is like Da'wa, let me use that word to propagate Islam more. It will actually bring this conflict to an end because it will enlighten both the believers and unbelievers of our faith.

ZA11 [32791-32961]

To some point, I agree to that because when you take the media and other things, the instigation goes on. So it is something that is inbuilt, it is a continuous process.

ZA12 [20342-20411]

It can be resolved when we understand how we live with one another.

ZA13 [21283-21299]

I do not agree.

ZA14 [28640-28834]

Yes, that is why I say is politics, self interest of our leaders because they are so selfish to the extent that they just want the masses to be killing themselves and they are eating the money.

ZA14 [29025-29388]

No, I do not agree that the conflict cannot be resolved. The conflict can be resolved. How? By sitting and bringing issues together, let us see what is good and what is not good and bringing so many things in place, then we have to agree on one thing and even though you want to preach about your religion, preach it in a way that you will not affect the others.

ZA15 [31104-31388]

To be sincere I partially agree, why I am saying so is if you look at what is happening now in most of the places you see that Muslims vote for Muslims, Christians vote for Christians. So it is still in us and the only way we can do to uproot that in our minds sir it will take time.

ZA16 [22373-22465]

I did not agree, it can be resolved when we go back to our previous, yah previous teaching.

ZA17 [27540-27910]

No. I do not agree, so many times it has resolved, I saw a conflict, I saw it that the, the issue of fight it has been operate and after the fighting understanding is ah it arrives to the extent that the Muslim are guiding the Christian to go to the church or to go to do their own and the Christian is guiding the Muslim to the mosque, in Kaduna here it has happened.

ZA18 [32969-33203]

It could be resolved if a lot of things change. The politicians should fear God and do what they are supposed to do. They should not be subjecting people's children to death, they use them as thugs, political thugs and what have you.

ZA19 [49378-49878]

Well this could actually be resolved despite the fact that it has been entrenched because on several occasions it is not only Muslims that were masterminding all these attacks, bombing and so many other things. Christians and so many other non-Muslims were also being caught guilty, yes. Therefore, this could be resolved when we are actually able to subdue the power of this terrorism or insurgency; definitely people will have a kind of awareness and a proper way of orientation program. ZA20 [33313-34035]

I don't agree. It is the politicians that have created all these conflicts. And they created it because they use three tools in creating those conflicts between Christians and Muslims. They use three tools I will tell you. They use injustice, they use insecurity, they use impunity; injustice, insecurity and impunity. These are the three tools that Nigerian politicians especially in the north use in attacking us. So if you can observe very clearly both Christians and Muslims unanimously stood up together in electing Gen Muhammadu Buhari though now President Muhammadu Buhari not on the basis of religious difference or political differences or regional differences or whatever, but on the basis of whatever it may be ZA21 [37690-38029]

I do not agree. And this can be solved amicably only if the two religions sit down, their leaders should sit down and their people or followers that look this is not religion you are practicing and that whatever somebody will come and tell you that is against the dictates of your religion you should leave that person with his things. ZA22 [32011-32160]

I strongly disagree. By the time we have good leadership the leadership will be able to resolve all these conflicts within short period. ZA23 [40529-40777]

I do not agree simply because maybe some of us that knows how people live in the past and we have the little knowledge of our religions if we will practice it and guide people to practicing the religion, instantly peaceful coexistence will reign. ZA24 [50741-51383]

I do not agree. We can still do the way we are doing before. The only thing is that both Christians and Muslims leaders-preachers should preach peace. In fact it is allowed even- prophet said that we can eat their food if it is not during their salah. If they are not doing their Christmas or whatever if they bring food to you, you can eat. So for instance if you are eating non-believers food there must be rapport between you and them, so therefore we can still go back to the old era. But the only problem is that the major problem is the preachers, the major problem is the preachers of both religions. They are not preaching peace. ZA25 [51569-52441]

It can be resolved if we are ready to be resolved. Yes I disagree with that. The conflicts can be resolved and as I have said it has to start with us. Preaching to ourselves, we Muslims, some of us are acquainted with Islamic knowledge some of us only attend tafsir during Ramadan. Thereafter all the remaining eleven months some the Muslims they hardly listen to, they partially attend neither do they attend or listen to Islamic lectures. So they don't know what Islam is all about and so they will just say I believe, believe in what? So that is the major problem and eh what I said exemplary practice of Islam. And I think knowledge comes before the practice. That is where the problems come from and if you are practicing good, the correct Islam non-Muslims-the more you practice Islam the more you win non-Muslim's heart into-and conflicts will be resolved easily. ZA26 [23218-23403]

It can be resolved because if there is justice ah justice is justice even if you are a...a Christian or pagan whatsoever if you do justice to people they will respect you.

ZA27 [22793-23196]

Yes I can agree to some extent and I disagree to some extent. I can agree in the sense that none of the two parties are ready to – I can agree if none of the parties refuse to come down to book. And I can agree it cannot be solved if the two parties refuse to, but if the parties now agree to come back to the book whether Christians and Muslims they can resolve the problem. The issue can be resolved.

ZA28 [36982-37624]

Well thank God I would like to digress a little and attribute or like not to really attribute but to really link this to the just concluded amn elections that have been held peacefully in this country. So a set of people have been governing us and then people were not actually happy with what is going on irrespective of their religion, so now that people are tired of it both Muslims and Christians, both tribes come together and make sure that they really find a solution to their long lasting problem of which this constitutes both Christians and Muslims. So I think with this I think our problems can be resolved between both religions.

ZA29 [51864-52293]

Ah to me there is nothing that I cannot amn not a pessimist I am an optimist. So whenever there is diplomacy or talks or let me say arrange symposia or public lecture based on the issues causing all these conflicts definitely there is hope and light at the end of the tunnel so no matter how hard or no matter how this hatred is inculcated in our minds definitely one day it will be washed away we cannot keep hating ourselves.

ZA30 [61694-62426]

I agree that it can be resolved, but with time. Something that was imparted like fifty (50) years ago, you can be expecting people to take it away within just a year. We would remain in this one, but when there are is good government, government are doing what they are suppose to do may be with time the something we will reduce, drop to certain level.

That is why even during the first politics when Christian voted for Christian, I did not see anything there and because he did his religion, we were divided ever since. But what make me surprise is when I see eeeh those within you turning to other people to... I will be surprised, but I know the way we were divided, so, may be with time, we will get to know each other better.

ZA31 [33121-33642]

I disagree, I disagree because I believe and am hoping, am still hoping that Christians and Muslims, they will once more come together because, but the only way they can come together is by having neutral government, neutral, as in traditional leaders and we the masses need to walk to in order not to be biased in any favor, as in favoring this and one faith to another, as in than the other, I think that one, that processes, that process will help and will help the Christians and the Muslims to be united once more.

ZA32 [67456-67802]

I don't agree why because, once we can go back to the religion of Islam and Christianity as well the ahn enmity or conflicts in the minds of or aggressive intentions we have over one another can be resolved and I, am sure that once we can go back to that proper teachings of the both religions, so the thing, the problem can be resolved easily.

ZA33 [28724-29280]

No I don't agree with this. Why? Because it was induced in the first place, so since it was induced it can be removed. Before it was not there so it can be removed. It was there because of the selfish interest of the our preachers that preach to some illiterates and non-believers that result to that, so we can revive that through proper dialogue annually in the community, playing together, we school together, before we school together. Today we see differently so we can still bring that if we definitely coordinate ourselves and do as we do before.

ZA34 [47832-48502]

I agree. As I said right from when conflict of religion started in Nigeria believe me up till today there are a lot of Muslims that are seeing Christians as enemies and a lot of Christians are seeing Muslims as enemies. But if the Muslims can forget and forgive and Christians can forget and forgive, as I said as I did, after just few maybe one week, I just visited one of my Christian friends; he was surprised when I visited him we chat together, the wife cooked and I ate. The next day I visited the other person they were surprised when we came back together and we continued our lives. If Muslims will do such then the life, then the relationship will come back.

ZA35 [22503-22841]

Yes, it has entered in the mind of the Christians and even the Muslims because presently the christens and the Muslims are enemies of one another because the Christians believe, the Muslims believe the Christians are the ones killing while the Christians say that the Muslims are the killers so I don't think the issue can be resolved.

ZA36 [34926-35828]

I agree O! Honestly it is a serious problem though I don't know what is actually causing this problem, but the way people are taking this now, they have isolated themselves from here, they have allowed us, we are more than them, they are not even more than 4 or 5, so I can't say, I don't know how this problem is going to be, but I don't know, maybe if the principal, she is the leader of the school, may be if she would give a command that all teachers should stay in the staff room, this is where you are supposed to stay and you must stay here from morning till closing time. And then she would give the students also a command and a very stern warning that even in the classroom, they should be mixed up, two-two per seat and it should be a Muslim and a Christian student, even in the dormitory your neighbor should be a Muslim or a Christian maybe that would bring change, maybe.

ZA37 [39087-39206]

No. I disagree. It can be resolved because the sources of these conflicts, we all know the sources of these conflicts.

ZA38 [45925-45961]

I disagree. It would be resolved.

ZA38 [45973-46163]

We have, in the center, we have a honest political figure in the center that give a ground or that give a field for each and every person to practice religion the way he know how to do it.

ZA39 [57660-58104]

Actually I do not agree because people live, Christian and Muslim lived with one another in the past peacefully without conflict without religious conflict, let's call it religious conflict that is without resort to violence and now that it is caused by a particular factor, so that factor can be controlled. When it is controlled, then the issue of religious conflict between Muslims and Christians would come to an end, would be a history.

Th17.4: Muslim Relations with Christians under Sharia

FG1 [51679-52019]

I have been with them. I have learnt things from them. They are people who always want to be heard. They need attention. And they want you to talk to them. Keeping your ideas in your mind will not solve the issue. They always try to bring things out and if you can tolerate them sit down and talk to them am sure you will achieve success.

FG2 [39141-39166]

Peacefully and friendly

FG2 [39167-39611]

(F) Respect for every religion. You see in Nigeria, in fact there is no constitution that does not give or that gives another person the right to look down on someone else's religion. There is freedom of practice of religion irrespective of where you find yourself. So in the Sharia context, am very much aware that sharia too acknowledges other religions and respects them to some limit. So everybody should respect everyone else's religion.

FG2 [39613-39888]

(F) Besides there are even laws for non-Muslims that are within the territory of Islamic state. And they have to be law abiding and then there are some norms of which they have to follow. I think if only we will apply all those things there can be stability in the society.

FG2 [39890-40298]

From what I understood actually there is lack of practicing the religion in accordance with how it has been revealed. Really of course Islamic religion has really taught Muslims tolerance, it really teaches us to accommodate non-Muslims. I can even cite and example with the life of the holy Prophet. Really he lived with non-Muslims, they lived under an Islamic state and they really lived a peaceful life.

FG2 [40300-40765]

Sir Sharia, based on Sharia as per the case study, the Muslims and the non-Muslims live peacefully and in unity in the sense that even if a non-Muslim have any grudges with a Muslim, he will be given an option to which court to institute his own case. Is it the Sharia court or the customary court or the magistrate court. So I believe Islam as a religion introduced, made a provision for a better and peaceful coexistence between the Muslims and the non-Muslims.

FG3 [76278-76289]

A'a normal

FG3 [76292-76342]

Chorus) you should move freely with them, normal

FG3 [76344-77337]

Well it was specified in the holy book also, we can also refer back to the time of rasul. He stayed with Christians, he stayed with Jews. There was even a time he stayed under constitution. What they called Suhl hudabiyya. They came with the aim to perform hajj, but none Muslims stopped them that they could not enter, they even barbed their heads, they got ready but the rasul asked them to stop. They stopped then they wrote a constitution that is just a paper he called a treaty. So within the paper there was even a place where Aliyu wrote me Muhammad Rasulillahi, they said if to say we believed you are a prophet of God we can't come to write this thing so delete that place. Aliyu said I cannot delete rasulillah, he said show me the place, rasul used his hand and deleted rasulillah. So you see as long as rasul stayed with Christians and Jews under the constitution. he dropped the Qur'an aside used that paper, it is an agreement and he followed it, so why can't we stay together

Ok I am just giving an instance here briefly. All of us here know that sharia that the first place sharia was endorsed is Zamfara. And I have a friend, some friends that are Christians that they lived in Zamfara as of that time. And the testimony they gave me was that the best place to live in Nigeria is the place where they are doing sharia. The only thing they were deprived of is, you know when you said that ok I want my freedom, I am being deprived of my freedom, what we call freedom today is flirting, moving around drink and live a reckless life that is what we call freedom. And that is what Sharia denies you both the two religions do not encourage that and when you hear somebody that if you do sharia it will be deny you your freedom that is the freedom even the Muslims themselves they don't want that freedom to be taken away from them. I am saying the truth. I know why as in because it is the real fact that happened. So she told me that she enjoyed living there because she, nobody, as normally now if you see a girl working like mostly those that dress with small clothes or something that exposes their nudity. You will walk confidently and hold her hand how far what's up like confidently nobody will talk to you. She said there you dear not come close and lean your body, you dear not. So I have that respect and privacy, respect as in well taken care of.
FG3 [78006-78764]

KD1 [60708-61341]

You should relate with them with understanding, you should relate with them as your neighbor because even prophet (SAW) told us that we have three cadre of neighbors. A neighbor can be somebody being a Muslim, it can be somebody being that you share boundaries with the person like maybe forty to the left, forty to the right or whatever. I can be a neighbor because you have kinship, blood relationship tying you together. So certainly, you can have the blood and the eh neighborliness and be a non-Muslim. So you have to enjoy some rights from me, you some rights which I have to give to you effectively without denying you of them.
KD2 [32598-33076]

Islam has provided teachings in the way the Muslims should relate with one another, both the Muslims and the Christians. If you are a Muslim in a sharia state, you will be guided by the teachings of Islam and if you are a Christian, you will not be guided under the teachings of Islam except where you agree that you should be guided under the teachings of Islam. In that case, you will be guided. But if otherwise, you will be guided under the teachings of your own religions.
KD3 [23739-24052]

The normal way that I will operate with Muslims is the same way I will operate, but to some limit. What kind of the operation is it if a co-worker you give him his right and him too will give you your rights? There is no limit in terms of operation between a non-Muslim in a state that is operating under sharia.
KD4 [55630-55728]

Well, Normally since they stay under the Islam, I will relate with them just as any other Muslim.
KD5 [31192-31667]

Under sharia, the way Muslims should relate with Christians under sharia is still the way Muslims should relate with Christians under any circumstances because sharia state is not different from any other state, the reason why I said so is because sharia state has laws and principles and sharia law tries to protect, sharia state tries to protect the life and e.g. freedom of whatsoever you wishes to do as long as they are good behaviors. So does any other form of state.
KD6 [49901-50335]

You relate with him according to what sharia or according to sharia, what it says, you give him his freedom even the one that is not living under you, if he comes to you to buy things, he's under somebody's tutelage, you are not allowed to harm him, his everything is intact, you are not allowed under sharia. So, if he is paying his jizya anything that you do, you let him know, anything that you are sharing, you share it with him.
KD7 [39279-39516]

You should relate with them as how prophet (SAW) related with them. He visited them, he consoled them when they were in need, he helped them, he did business with them. So, he lived with them, but their religion was theirs, his was his.
KD8 [71188-71608]

I personally or? Christians are not new to me, I grew up in a Christian community. They are very good people by the time you understand yourselves, there is no problem. You try to demonstrate, as a Muslim, you try to behave as a Muslim and if Muslims should not have any problem with any good Christian, any good Christian is a very good person, any good Muslim is a very good person so there should not be any problem.
KD9 [48925-48960]

You show them the beauty of Islam.
KD12 [40510-40716]

They are good to be related with under sharia because they might have known that the government of the day is under sharia and then they might have been informed of the dos and don'ts of the government so.
KD13 [19033-19155]

Love. The way a man should be treated is the way you want to be treated so also you are commanded to treat your neighbor
KD14 [24710-24801]

The relationship I will give to a Muslims will be the same thing I will give a Christian.
KD16 [19837-19901]

Peacefully, harmoniously, we treat them as brother or sisters
KD17 [57809-58069]

You can operate with Christians because they have their own freedom in their religion and the Islamic state also gives them their freedom. So you can buy and sell from them, you can even, the Islam even permits you to marry a non-Muslim, a Christian or a Jew.
KD20 [31964-32337]

Yes, I can relate with Christians like what, like what is happening presently in Nigeria now and we even we've been doing this before because before we've been living together with peace even now we can still do it. Yes, so the relation to Christians is is nothing, is just a normal relation because our religion and the Qur'an taught us to be good to anybody. That is it.
KD21 [32484-32618]

You should operate normally. I think there is no particular reason to avoid them whatsoever, just don't cross the law, that's simple.

KD23 [29886-30055]

Yes I think there is no any role ah I think there is no any rule even in the Qur'an that say that you should not interact ah in any way or the other with a non Muslims

KD24 [87901-87999]

The way my religion says, the way my religion says I should cooperate with them I will follow it.

KD25 [98765-99313]

Yes comparative ah comparative religion conferences and seminars should be organised from time to time for us to come together at least try to understand one another and ah live in peace and respect each and other's opinions and interest. It is not that ah respecting each other's opinions does not mean that you must follow something no, no, no even if that person is not at right, you are at right, he is wrong, but try to show respect to his opinion tell him that okay that is your opinion that is good, but know that this is the right thing.

KD26 [34625-34719]

We relate based on what the sharia has asked you, how sharia has asked you to relate with them

KD27 [33058-34505]

There is nothing that stops you from relating to them. Just that there are lines that are drawn. We don't do what they take for granted and being part of them, we know what Sharia says, the Sunna requires of you, what the prophet (SAW) requires, the hadiths of the prophet (SAW) said should be guiding principles, what the Qir'an says about your relationship with them. There is no clear, there is no conflict between your relationship with them and your relationship with other Muslims. They are your neighbors, they are your neighbors, what applies to a Muslims neighbor it also applies to them. The only basis is that where it comes to religious issues yes there are lines that are drawn but whatever applies to a Muslim brother applies to them. Their lives are sacred just like the lives of other Muslims are sacred except of course where issues bothering on religious matters come up. Then their wealth too, their integrity, you know, all these things are sacred too. The life of a Christian is no less sacred than the life of a Muslim except where the laws of Islam have to be applied; apostasy laws, where hadh. So as long, during the time, there are Christians that lived in Muslim lands all they did was pay the jizya. That protected them and that did not stop the prophet allowing them to have their churches to worship. The best times that Christians and Jews lived under –lived peacefully in Jerusalem was under a Muslim leadership.

KD28 [42058-42189]

Love, the way a man wants to be treated the way you want yourself to be treated so also you are commanded to treat your neighbor.

KD29 [27569-27619]

Ah I will relate very positively with Christians

KD30 [50495-50914]

That should be the way I am operating with them now as normal, in that sharia, the Christians that is the problem, the Christians are being perceived, made to see it as if under the sharia law they will be treated as slaves or something. They are just normal individuals like any other people, is just that they will need to pay the little the tax and then as and then they will enjoy everything like any other Muslim.

KD31 [24403-24586]

I should give to Caesar what belongs to Caesar, I should treat everybody with respect and according to the law. I should respect his view and whatever I think will bring about peace.

KD32 [36218-36664]

The best teachings in Islam is the teachings of the prophet Muhammad (SAW). Just look back to history how prophet lived with the non-believers in Mecca during those times the unbelievers when they came, there are traders, traders coming into Mecca, when they came, prophet do accommodate them and even sometimes give them mosque to sleep overnight, so there is tolerance of non-believers in Islam unless somebody who does not know what Islam is.

KD34 [39373-39941]

How I should relate with Christians, I should relate with them normally according to the teachings of Islam. What I mean I said normally, the word, I use that word normally is that the sharia law is a law guiding the activities of a Muslim when there is ehh the way you should, the way you should, the way you should react because a non-Christian will take a category of a neighbor and there is a lot of things that Islam told us about our neighbor, so Christians that we are living together, they are our neighbors, so I will apply those goods things that Islam said about our neighbor.

KD35 [37831-38291]

I go, I practice, I agree with whatever qisas come my way and the Christians should be there to be judged by his own way of judgment then I believe in qisas, I preach to him my religion does this say that, prevent you from doing this, prevent you from doing that, you should stay your own way, I should stay my own way in terms of religion, but in terms of relations any other thing in market whatever we come together and do it then there is no much wahala.

KN1 [79165-79199]

I will relate with them very well

KN1 [79238-79364]

I do business with them, I attend their marriages and a times they are my neighbors. All kind of things it happen between us.

KN2 [44769-45497]

I relate with them freely. I have a number of Christian friends across Nigeria. I traveled so widely on a number of projects. I have friends that are Christians and non-Muslims and I stay in their houses, I eat their food, I visit them when I visit their states for one project or the other. I don't have problem with them, I respect them and they respect me. I could recall one of my friends I have missed-Moses. I met him during NYSC, he is from Maiduguri, he is Yoruba and his parents were in UNIMAID. He is a friend who is a Christian-Moses we have been very cordial with him. All my friends during my NYSC days, am the only Muslim among them. And they really missed me when I am away from my place of primary assignment.

KN4 [58345-58669]

Very good. I can give them their own right. I love them in fact I would give them more attention because if they are cheated, God will ask me. In fact, even me without a neighbor or without a stranger I can't survive I must protect them and give them their own right and must be conscious, conscious in whatever we are doing

KN5 [38759-38822]

Ehh by consulting the provision of Islam with respect to that

KN6 [44492-45119]

So, I would follow all the teaching of my Qur'an because it is very clearly my Qur'an and the Sunna of the prophet Mohammed (SAW) Allow us to relate with our Christians because even the prophet Mohammed (SAW) after his death ah it is ah the, ah his wife said that his own, his own shirt or his item that he used with jihad is with the Christian because he go and give him ths eh, what will call it ah something which (SAW) give it to this Jew and he collect ah food in order to eat. So this is how the prophet Mohammed (SAW) ah ah make this good relationship with even Jews, you know. Also it depends on how you get yourself.

KN7 [39983-40099]

Hmm I don't think there should be a separate way to relating with them as long as it does not affect your religion?

KN8 [36843-37016]

They should be persuaded and accommodated, you understand, but they should be encouraged to also be part of the sharia rather than having conflict or disagreement with them.

KN9 [32926-33153]

Well, the relationship has to be primarily based on ah, I would say, a careful relationship. You have to watch your back and never let your guard down because an unbeliever is always antagonistic towards a believer, hmm yes.

KN10 [27155-27255]

I would treat them with mercy and I would at least give them a freedom in some certain activities.

KN11 [35035-35186]

Yes, I would relate with my Christians brothers in peace and I would make sure that whatever I do, I do it for them to see the goodness of my religion.

KN13 [38119-38321]

You should relate with them normally, there should not be secluded from the part of the society, but the major thing is that they should actually follow the doctrine of sharia in that particular state.

KN14 [32144-32252]

By making good to them, anything that is good you do it so that as a result of that, they can be converted.

KN15 [26517-26594]

Uhhmm, I think based on sharia's provision, yes based on sharia's provision.

KN16 [15964-15992]

Based on sharia provisions.

KN17 [31330-31414]

The major thing normally there is eh right from the prophetic era they are relating

KN18 [54661-54680]

As a friend, normal

KN19 [35392-35432]

It should be a diplomatic relationship.

KN20 [25900-25991]

They should be they should have their own rule they should have their own right peacefully.

KN21 [18470-18525]

Having a cordial relationship, a peaceful one at that.

KN22 [36372-36517]

Yah, I will respect them, I would respect their ideology, I would respect their opinions and would tolerate them in order to peacefully coexist.

KN23 [24599-24649]

Hmm I should have a good relationship with them

KN24 [23223-23227]

Good

KN25 [36619-36710]

Well the relationship has to be based on mutual cooperation. There should be cooperation.

KN26 [41804-41841]

You should be fair and just to them.

KN27 [29476-29917]

Well thank you for Islam. Islam teaches you how to do everything, how to relate with everybody even though al-Qur'an Karim says lakum di lakum waliyyadin. Do your own that is practice your religion and let them practice their religion. For as long as you are practicing your religion and their religion doesn't entrenches your own way of practicing your own religion, I don't think relating with them in a peaceful manne should be a problem.

KN28 [22320-22512]

Well I think relating with Christians while operating under sharia, this is just by letting them understand the mighty and the strength of Sharia itself and the way you Muslims regard sharia.

KN30 [20313-20324]

Peacefully

KN31 [38686-39006]

Definitely it is just that just like I said now the Muslims know that they have to live under Islamic injunctions, the Christians you give them their rights, allow them to trade because they have to earn a living, they should allow them to perform their religion and do their own culture. I think things will go right.

KN32 [18955-19047]

peacefully, peacefully, peacefully I should relate with them peacefully no grudges at all.

KN33 [13988-13996]

Normal.

KN34 [25952-26044]

I will operate with them based on-according to the principles that is governing the state.

KN35 [24758-24894]

The injunction of sharia is to treat non-Muslims with respect, dignity because they are also human and they are even potential Muslims.

KN36 [24597-24703]

I can relate with him as far as my relation cannot go contrary to the sharia tenet or sharia principles.

KN37 [23800-23813]

Peacefully.

KN38 [17803-17828]

Peacefully and friendly

KN39 [27732-27823]

Really of course I will relate with non-Muslims as I will relate with my Muslim brothers.

KN40 [21795-22011]

I will relate normal in the sense that I know what sharia is all about. That it is meant for the Muslims, but I won't let them reach a stage I which sharia is not allowed for them so in order to avoid the conflicts.

KN41 [19025-19101]

I will relate with Christians the way I will relate with my fellow Muslims.

KN42 [50625-51078]

You should still treat them like a normal human being. They should not be discriminated. There is no discrimination of whatsoever in Islam. We should treat them nicely, we should be neighborly towards them, we should care for them if some of them are sick, we are expected to visit them. We should show them love, care and help them when they are in need. We shouldn't shun them just because they are not Muslims; we should be very, very accommodating.

KN43 [36006-36459]

Yah, I will relate within the confines of the law because there are certain laws that govern my behavior, my attitude, my conduct, and there is no law that says if you are relating with someone who doesn't belong to your religion you should go and kill him or attack him. So I would operate within the confines of the law, I would respect him and he would also respect me. I would respect his, you know religious, inclination and he would respect mine.

KN45 [42187-42614]

I would relate with Christians just like I would relate with a Muslim. I would relate with a Christian just like I would relate with a Muslim. No difference at all. Maybe eh if the Christian is of ah high good manners than a Muslim then ah I would interact with him more than a eh a Muslim and I would draw him closer to me than I would draw a Muslim if he has a good manners, if he conduct himself morally and the rest, yes.

KN46 [62169-63360]

Like I do now. I have some Christian friends some Christians neighbors and I would like them to be asked about how I relate with them so that the, ah you can get the answers from them. I love them and I care for them and when they are not around, I feel certain vacuum in my heart. I even ask my wife when I don't see there is one female ah neighbor, when I don't see her eh I would ask my wife to go and find out what happens because I do not usually go into her house because she is a female and I don't feel comfortable going into her house, I will ask my wife to go, I will ask my, when she fell sick, or she falls sick I would ask each and every one of my grown up children, have you gone and visited aunty so, if they say they went I would say good boy or good girl, and if they don't, I would tell them why? I would ask them why they didn't go. So I encourage them to relate with ah those neighbors of ours ah who are from different religion, just like they ah treat their ah Muslim neighbors. I don't even want them to notice that this people eh there is any difference between me and these neighbors. So actually I would say just like I do and I am proud of what I am doing.

KN47 [60226-60312]

Well you can relate well with them, try to be nice to them, try to be good with them.

KN48 [20316-20386]

Yah you relate with them the way you are relating with other Muslims.

KN49 [30972-31001]

I think in a cordial manner.

KN50 [17968-18002]

The same way I relate to Muslims.

KN52 [60728-61087]

Ahm you should relate openly, freely with them in harmony, there should be that peaceful coexistence and in Islam there is what is called, you know, Kafiran Amana right? That they are not Muslims but who should be held by Muslims with trust, you know they should trust them and trust them with all the things that they could do with their own fellow Muslims.

KN54 [13154-13170]

Well peacefully.

KN55 [15554-15666]

We should relate with Christians peacefully. We should live with them. We should interact with them peacefully.

KN56 [27006-27178]

I would operate with Christians as if they are human beings provided that they did not transgress and abuse my religion or deny me some right of practicing my religion.

KN57 [21907-21944]

According to the teaching of Islam.

KN58 [48359-48408]

The way I should relate with my Islamic brother.

KN58 [48494-48790]

I would relate to him the way I would relate with other Muslim brothers unless when it comes to certain issues. I don't see him as my brother because we don't share the same faith. I cannot tell him some of the secret we have in Islam because he can use that and injure me and the entire Umma.

KN59 [52203-53341]

I would operate with them as friends, as neighbors. I have Christian friends; they invite me to their occasions. (interjected with question in the church) yes I actually visited a church wedding ones, but I heard from one of my friends that it is not allowed for me to go, but I told him the instances that happen during one caliphate I can't really recall, by having consensus you understand, so when the consensus, I think the consensus took place in the church premises, so when the time of prayer came and they wanted to observe prayers, so the Christians gave them a place to worship within the premises but the Muslims say that no they would not worship within the premises let them go a little bit further outside the premises to perform their prayers, the reason why they would go out is not because it is not allowed but just because that it shouldn't be something that is mandatory for us to pray within their own place of worship because if we pray within their own place of worship it can lead to problem so but there is no big deal or harm in that, so I visited the church and we did the marriage rights and we all went out.

KN60 [38195-38435]

That is the time you operate peacefully with them because Islam has asked you, it has ordained that you live peacefully with the people, you embrace them, you give them their right automatically, you are allowed to live in peace with them.
KN61 [19856-19919]

They practice their religions, we also practice our religion.

KN62 [61248-61558]

Even today we are, we are somehow interacting with Christians in our places of work and ah we live peacefully. There is nothing, ah there isn't any problem, we live peacefully. So I believe that even if it is under sharia, we would relate with them ah peacefully too without any violation of anybody's rights.

KN63 [52619-53276]

Ahh ha, just as we are relating with them in the normal set-up. There is nothing preventing me from relationship, me and myself as a Muslim and they as-there is nothing preventing me, as normal. Ahh you look at the time of the prophet, many or during the time of Sahaba, many people too, too accept Islam as a result of their behavior, not even preaching to them but what they see, what they see, the way they welcome them, the way they treated them, you know, they were so impressed with the way they treated them and because of that they become ah, a Muslim. So there is nothing stopping a Muslim from welcoming or treating non-Muslim in good condition.

KN64 [30125-30230]

Like the prophet did when he came to Medina, he go and sign the ah agreement with the non-Muslims, hmm.

KN65 [37594-37697]

Give them the freedom they require, you understand, as prescribed in the sharia guide, so that is all.

KN66 [26316-26348]

I would operate with them well.

KN67 [27877-28040]

We should give them their rights, their rights as it is in the sharia, and their rights as it is in their own laws and also the secular laws if they are existing.

KN68 [13123-13133]

Peaceful.

KN69 [48848-49557]

I can relate with them in a harmonious way in the sense that a state operating sharia it has rules and regulations comprehensively in which, but summarily I can say that a Muslim in an Islamic state can relate with a non-Muslim by exhibiting the teachings of prophet Muhammad (SAW) to show good morals in his dealings, to make sure that he is abiding with the rules and regulations of Islam as Allah (SBUH) told the prophet Muhammad (SAW) by saying that (he recites the Qur'an) if each and every Muslim will abide, will follow this Qur'anic injunction strictly, definitely he will live with any other people peacefully and at the end of the that particular non-Muslim will appreciate what Islam is all about.

KN71 [77193-79665]

Wallahi with absolute respect, regard and love and Alhamdulillah I have, have demonstrated the same while in school. Let me give you an example, this is our room MSS headquarters, the next room was a Christian room, all of them were Christian, they were a ... operating high level CD that when they operate, the whole floor will be vibrating. So we met in our room that this people are disturbing us and they are Christians so it is better we go and destroy everything in the room. I said no, leave it to me. So one night I knock unto their door, when I entered I said to them please and I am sorry for disturbing your peace in the first instance but may you please lower your radio. They did. I said, why are you in this school? They said to read and what about me? You too and I said then. Do you know what it means, what the word tolerance means? He said what do you mean? I said tolerance you know what it means? He said no. I said it means you respecting my right and I respecting your right. So I said of course you have the right to listen to your music, to whatever loud, but within your immediate territory while I have the right to do my own thing outside because nobody outside interested in this your music, only you. So please enjoy while you are still so they understand, so we are sorry, we are sorry and I left and they stopped. Two three weeks later, they started again. Then there were agitations from our room and said please allow me, allow me I will do it again. So I went there, I just hold on to the hand of their, of their leader I took him to my room, sat on my chair and I said please read. He said I don't understand. I said yes please I want you to read. He said but why? He said no I am just trying to portray something. How will you feel if you are the person in this room wanting to read and I were the person in your room operating that CD? He said I will feel insulted. So, so you are insulting me oh no, no, no, I have never meant that. From that day onward wallahi there were never such things. We contested an election, he was an agent to the Christian community me too I was agent of Muslim community, my vote will fall into his own he will pick it out, his vote will fall into my own and I will pick it out. When the election was declared, we are the winner and we embraced one another and we moved to the room. What other thing do you want? Is it not practicable? Can't you do it? I can, any other person can do it so that is all.

KN72 [40654-40958]

Yes, we can related ehh with the Christians ehh in amicable manner because they are our brothers. We Muslims we believe in Jesus, so because no man or no one in Islam that can refuse to believe in Jesus and became a true Muslims ehn, so that ehh ah our fellow Christians are our brothers, so we can say

KN73 [41844-41879]

The way the Islam guided me to do.

KN73 [41903-41987]

Just to make, to feel, to mingle with them all the time. So there is no difference.

KN74 [51381-51647]

Okay, I will treat him as how sharia or how Allah (SBUH), Qur'an teach me to treat him that is according to sharia. You know that in sharia there is nothing that ehh everyone has the right to live, therefore, I would treat him as I was directed according to sharia.

KN75 [53806-54304]

A lot of ways that sharia gave us to relate with Christians are there, like in business transaction, you have relation in mu'amalat, you have relationship especially when they are neighbors, you care for them, where they are in need you assist them, do you understand anything that you know you can assist them fi sabilillah when they even came to you assist them, a lot of things that Islam give you as ehh a Muslim to assist a non-Muslim, you try your possible best to make sure you assist them.

KN76 [47152-47274]

Well I would respect their rights for their religion and I would also expect them to respect the Sharia and the Muslims.

KN78 [64774-65001]

I will operate just as the Qur'an allows me to operate and the hadith allows me to operate and operating, especially if the Christians tend to be a very peace loving Christian, you should equally extend a hand of peace to him.

KN80 [48529-48608]

I can relate with Christians in the way and manner prescribed by my religion.

KN81 [33840-33910]

I can treat them ahh in a good manner because they are human being s

KN82 [34024-34065]

I will relate with him very peacefully.

KN83 [25883-25943]

So I will treat them according to the law and the sharia.

KN83 [26014-26102]

They are two different things. They are both different, they are two different things.

KN84 [28272-28353]

Wow I will just, I will just interact with them according to the Islamic law.

KN85 [41492-41798]

Yes ahh as we are here emm, we are under amm sharia state, but we have so many friends, colleagues as Christians, we live peacefully with them, we relate peacefully with them, we do business with them, ahh actually if Muslims, whether under sharia or not, should try to relate peacefully with non-Muslims

ZA2 [52328-54048]

We don't have problem. you give them their legal, they have their rights, they have-the barrier is there, he is not a Muslim, the rules here say is for the Muslim, if you are a Muslim you are to do this ,do this, stop this. Then that is all, you are not a Muslim we allow you to go by the religion. The only thing here is that, what is your religion saying? You also don't violate it ehen and you see often, I have been saying this, do you know that the two- this religion, if the teachings is to be followed, if the teachings to be followed, we won't be having problem. I want to tell you one thing is only when I observed ehn is only that practices that is the problem. That is the mode of worshiping that is the difference we have much. Go back to the Bible, the Qur'an, I went through the Bible, I read the Bible many at times emm maybe human being appearing nakedly or half naked we call it, not covering yourself, today we come back to why we say women are putting hijab. Is that not true? Muslims are putting hijab, go back to Christianity religion self why did they tell you, you should not cover your head? So the rules go back to this emmm what I mentioned there, this ribbah we call it paying money interest after borrowing money, go back to Bible why did they tell you, you should collect that money interest? So when you go back to the rules, entire rules. Kai my brother go back to the ATR, the African traditional religion, they only give you food, they never give you something go and bring go and bring more go and put more, more than that no, no, no, no, when you look at, it just what I am telling you is acquisition of wealth that brought the key problem today. Even also is not a religion affair

ZA3 [31496-31719]

Of course is the normal relationship you can have business transactions, have everything, but the rule is that there are clear terms defined, no cheating, issue of interests, all these are taken care of, we do not do that.

ZA4 [51832-51905]

I will be kind to them. I will be just to them and I will not force them.

ZA5 [34588-34692]

I relating well as in taking them along when so ever want to do something and necessary they are there.

ZA6 [75596-75844]

You relate with Christians very well just like you relate with Muslims. You try as much as possible to respect their religion and what they do as far as it is part of their religion and it does not bring about, you know, conflict in our religion.

ZA7 [41379-41765]

You should respect their religion. You should respect them. They have the right to their beliefs. They have the right to their religion. So you should respect them. The fact that you are under sharia does not, sharia does not say you should, you should treat anybody that is not a Muslim wrongfully, so you should respect them, respect their beliefs and respect their religion as well.

ZA8 [79872-80006]

Like is said you are going to relate with them with fairness and justice now, you have to be fair to them and truthful. That is all.

ZA9 [45943-46351]

We should relate with them like any order day. You don't, like I said, sharia law, if we really understand what sharia law means, is not as if sharia law is very stiff or something as long as someone is righteous, you do what you are supposed to do and you do what you are not supposed to do, sharia law, I don't think sharia law has a, I don think a person will have any problem dealing with sharia law.

ZA10 [38584-38626]

Just as I operate with my Muslim brother.

ZA11 [33049-33079]

The relationship is friendly.

ZA12 [20492-20591]

Under sharia there are rules that govern it, so if we go by that, I think everything will be okay.

ZA13 [21380-21424]

I will be fair with them, fair and justice.

ZA14 [29473-29499]

You relate with them well.

ZA15 [31472-31726]

You should give them their due rights, you should leave them to do what according to, but they should not exceed limits because there is no how in an Islamic state, you allow people to come and be drinking beer and so on, definitely it is not possible.

ZA16 [22549-22611]

I will give them their right, their equal rights as Muslims.

ZA17 [27995-28232]

By giving them their rights and since they can, they cannot my right, is me that have the right since I am the one operating of the sharia and they, I give them their rights no any hindrance of or touching of their property or anything.

ZA18 [33274-33472]

Normally, in fact, they will even enjoy most honestly speaking, let it be tried, let the sharia be tried, the Christians too stand a better chance to enjoy under the auspices of the Islamic state.

ZA19 [49958-50218]

I will relate with them peacefully and harmoniously, I can even marry from a non-Muslim ah from a Christian brethren that is to marry a lady from a Christian because it is Islam that said we should marry among the Christian people or non-Muslim, ahlul kitab.

ZA20 [34120-34338]

It will be most pleasing than how it is before sharia. It will most pleasing than how it is before sharia. It will be most pleasing. It will relate with them objectively in accordance with the dictates of Islam, yes.

ZA21 [38110-38191]

We should live peacefully with one another so long as they will not be hostile.

ZA22 [32241-32355]

I will relate with them peacefully. I will operate with them as normal as Islam directs me to relate with them.

ZA23 [40857-40942]

You relate with them in accordance with the teaching of Islam. Nothing is left out.

ZA24 [51465-51896]

I can relate with them. I can be their friend, but the only thing is that they cannot convince me. I should not allow myself to be convinced to convert to their religion because I know that I am converting to their religion being in an Islamic state I know that after three days I will be killed. So therefore I can be their friend, we can do business together, we can do whatever together, but religion we cannot do it together.

ZA25 [52521-53033]

As I have said before we relate with them with justice, with trustworthiness, with good neighborliness, with constant preachings and exemplary practice of what you are teaching. But if your practice negates, is entirely different from what you are preaching then there comes a problem there. So you greet them, when you meet you greet them if they don't see you. When they greet you then you heartily return their greeting. And so those are issues that is how we should relate with Christians even under sharia.

ZA26 [23484-23540]

They have their own rights given by Islamic provision.

ZA27 [23276-23324]

Ah equal, freely, I will relate freely with him

ZA28 [37705-37867]

Ah according to what sharia says. You should be patient, you should be friendly, you should not cheat on them even if you cheat on them Allah will not allow you

ZA29 [52376-52639]

I relate with them with the way my prophet relate with them in the past. He relates with them the way he relates with some brothers. He relates with them the way he relates, but with some exception, but I relate with them the way they will love to be who I am.

ZA30 [62509-62694]

Nothing will change, I will operate with them, enter the same motor with them, going the same market with them, staying, attending the same school with them and there is no separation.

ZA31 [33730-34079]

You have to, you have to relate to them as normal, as normal which is not religion, which is not religion, you can stay and discuss things with them and the you should keep religion issue aside both of you should respect each other's religion or faith. I think by so doing, you will live together with; both religions will live together peacefully.

ZA32 [67885-68086]

I will be relate by them in accordance with the Islamic provision, what Qur'an provides and the Hadith of the prophet, authentic hadith of the prophet, yes I will relate to them with yes, in that way.

ZA33 [29362-29940]

Let me say good and fair relations because operating under Sharia does not hinder you from relating with fellow Christians because they are also human beings as you are; so you treat him equally as you treat your Muslims fellow. Give him equal rights, equal freedom and equal justice as you give to Muslims. If it is where you start Sharia he can face some tax, you can impose some tax to him and he pays and you live in harmony because prophet (SAW) he lived with such Christians when he was in Medina and he lived peacefully with them under his own Sharia, under the Sharia.

ZA34 [48584-48873]

I will live amicably, living in peace. Living in Sharia or non-Sharia is the way and behavior you react within yourself and the others. It is not the Sharia that will compel you to do this or not to do this because everything of your life has been explained in the religion, just follow.

ZA35 [22922-23095]

Well you should take them as a friend, as a sister, but not intimate friend because you don't know if one day they would still come back and want to join your own religion.

ZA36 [35908-35975]

I would relate with them normally the way I would relate to them.

ZA38 [46243-46488]

The first thing you do is that give them their own right, there should be justice, there should be equality. Give them the rights according to the sharia. Allow them to do their business when it is legal business then this thing would prevail.

ZA39 [58183-58404]

I would relate with them when I make them or when I orient them about the effect of sharia on Muslims and its non-effect or and that the sharia does not affect the non-Muslims because they are not bound by Islamic law.

Sub-Research Question 3.2

Th 18: Challenges to Christian-Muslim Relations

Th18.1: Muslim Difficulties in Relating to Christians

FG1 [55904-56219]

There is this form of conspiracy, this conspiracy among, if somehow you are in a good relationship with a Christian, so there is this conspiracy they have either from his friend and he too I think probably will be having this conspiracy from his friends so there is this form of arrogance that usually exist among ...

FG1 [56221-56508]

And then there are teachings that are contrary to each other. I do have a friend too and most of my friends are male and when we meet we shake hands and we laugh and chat but when I meet his friends some are ladies I can't shake them I will just say hi hi and move on. So that is it.

FG1 [56510-56537]

Cultural and belief system

FG2 [52950-53274]

(F) Yes their moral conduct. You get to imagine where a Muslim, no matter how immoral she is or he is will not strip in front of a fellow Muslim like taking a bath or his bath, but a Christian might irrespective of your religion or tribal differences, she might strip in your presence and take her bath so that immorality.

FG2 [53276-54012]

I found it difficult because they are not trustworthy and they are not people that you are going to bestow your confidence on them based on my experience because the woman who was an immediate neighbor to us when they did share letters concerning the crisis and were being informed and very unfortunate she was a close friend to my mum, but she didn't tell my mum what was really happening. It was later after the crisis she came to my mum and started telling her that they gave her letter but she never knew that this is how it was going to be and she never thought that the thing will come to reality so I don't trust any non-Muslim. I don't bestow my confidence in him. And I never live a very good relationship with a non-Muslim.

FG2 [54244-54589]

...as we earlier discussed about the conflict issue like what he said based on his own experience now it can cause conflict. Like we said earlier said the other time when you see a bad attitude you try to correct that person and if the person refuse to correction himself you just let him be and may be you just be on your own and do your things

FG2 [54626-55042]

Yes of course sir most of the times actually you know having friendship with non-Muslim sometimes am sorry to say they may have some selfishness with them because the non-Muslim will not always reveal the right thing to you or maybe you seek for his advice or something he may tell you the wrong thing. I have experienced such betrayal, actually there was one of my friend who was close to me and the guy ... atimes.

FG2 [55043-55340]

I had a lot of Christian friends but I have never witnessed such betrayals from them maybe it depends on the way you relate to them. It is what he gave that he will receive though there could be extent where fingers are not equal in that betrayal but I have never witnessed such kind of things.

FG3 [89939-90953]

Well I want to say something, cite an for example on what has happened to me not quite long. You see a Muslim and a Christian, there is this belief that one on the other party and the other on the other party believes that you are not compatible. And just as this man has said the other time that in Islam it is legalized for you to marry a Christian is that not so? But in the world of nowadays, once you approach somebody else, you know it has happened to me and more especially we people that bear the name Muhammad, I approached someone, spoke to that person on the level of friendship, but there was a kind of sign that that person gave me and made me understand that yes there is going to be a friendship, but at the end of the day, what is your name? I said Muhammad I think the face now changed. The face now changed, now I know that something has come in. The issue of religion has now come in because you are not practicing the same religion with this person then definitely there will be disagreement.

FG3 [90955-91009]

Basically a misconception about the religion of Islam.

FG3 [91571-91591]

Lack of tolerance

FG3 [91593-91740]

And also the interest of a particular religion, to study a particular religion. There is not mutual interest to understand each other's religion.

FG3 [91742-93540]

The difficulties I came across I think in relation with Christians is like they don't allow me to come in fully, let me say, not they don't allow me but the appearance. Maybe I want to appear as a Muslim but when I come close to them they will be running away because it is sunna for me when my beard start to grow that I shouldn't cut it. So when I allow beard now I become like aee, I don't even know, a terrorist to them. It is sunna also for me to one day raise my trouser and some day to release it down so maybe when I raise it up and allow beard, they don't feel comfortable with me. And it doesn't mean that it is an appearance of those terrorists but it is a symbol. I want them to understand that that one is also a symbol. When I leave the beard I will keep on having rules, it is like what somebody said before anything a Muslim is doing he is doing it as an ibadat unless if he did it outside sharia. If you are going to sleep, there are some certain ways that Islam teaches you to lie down. Even if you are going to toilet to bend down the direction you are going to face. Anything you do as long as you are going to do it according to sharia you have rules. So anything that Muslim is performing, this is what reminded me to even talk of other question that I wanted responding but I forgot the question which says why do Muslim put their interest above anything else. I want them to know that everything a Muslim is doing he is doing it in an ibadat. Everything, I mean everything. Putting my eye glass, wearing clothes, sleep, anything a Muslim is doing he is doing an ibadat unless if he did it outside Sharia. So that is just it. Anything, Islam did not leave everything, the book is saying (he quotes the Qur'an), the book did not leave anything everything is inside it.

KD1 [65490-66660]

Ehm, one of the difficult experience I have in relating with Christians is principally their disregard for most Muslims and looking at most Muslims as illiterates and then having little respect for Muslims. But all these are changing and will change on few conditions if you stand your ground, you know your onions, you are intelligence, you are educated and if whatever they want to prove or they want to be proud of, you can also boast of it. They have no choice than to succumb to your will. A Christian will not say because you are a Muslim, he cannot work in your company, he's looking for money, a Christian will not say because you are a Muslim, he wont come to learn from you because you are brilliant, a Christian will not say because you are a Muslim, you dug a borehole or you are powering the street with electricity and he will say you will not tap from any of those resources, a Christian will not say because you created a school bearing a Muslim name and offers the best of education, he will refuse to attend. All those things, they are exceptions. So when you are exceptional, they have no case than to break their own rule and succumb to your wishes.

KD2 [36427-36780]

Hmm I don't think there is any difficulty I have ever experienced in relating to, in relating with any Christian. Rather I have, in all my relation, all my activities, all the activities I engage with fellow, with Christians, I find them with ease. I haven't ah I have not encountered any form of difficulty as a form of experience with any Christians.

KD3 [26130-26205]

I have no difficult experience in relating with a Christian or non-Muslim.

KD4 [59076-59360]

I don't have any difficulty relating with Christians only that I feel that, there is a sign of marginalization whenever you are engaging with your Christian counterpart or your somebody that is not of the same religion with you and I pray that one day that obstacle will be relieved.

KD5 [35477-35709]

Hmmm I don't think I have any difficult, I don't have any difficulty in relating with Christians because I know I have couple of Christian friends and I enjoyed being friends with them so do they also enjoyed being friends with me.

KD6 [52681-52859]

I don't too much have difficulties in relating with Christians with my own knowledge and the kind of exposure that I have made, so, I don't have any difficulties with them at all

KD7 [42108-42501]

I went to school with so many and I was free, we did eat together, we played together and but now we communicate, but that is the bottom of what we do. We don't do more than that. Our children do not even mingle with their children because like I said, we are suspicious of each other. We always feel that there is agenda behind what we are doing.

So, we are not free with each other anymore.

KD8 [77115-77404]

I have not experience any difficulties. In fact, I just experienced good things with the Christians, very good. I have a very good experience with them. During my secondary school, I interacted well with them, during my service, I was favored by Christians. So, they are very good people.

KD9 [53163-54039]

The difficulty that I have sometimes is still what we've been saying. They keep trying to make it look as if what they have is superior. I disagree with that, but I wouldn't want or at the same time I wouldn't want you to impose what you have on me, but they try to do that. Sublimely sometime, sometime through the background, most times they won't come face to face to you because they know subconsciously that what they are having is null, is nothing, but at the same time they still want to impose themselves on you and so they want to dominate most of the time. So on one hand they want to impose Christianity on you because a good number of times in this our society it is Muslims and Christians and then secondly they want to dominate, if you are working together they want to dominate even if it is Muslim owned whatever, they want to dominate and usurp if possible.

KD10 [39984-40162]

Me I don't relate with Christians. I don't have any business with Christians, me don't relate with Christians. I only relate with Muslims oh, I don't have any wahala with them.

KD11 [37897-38629]

I don't think there is a difficult experiences aside the politicization of even sharia itself by the likes of Yarima. I will not curse him, but they have done a lot of damage to the faith itself. They have caused a lot of crisis between Muslims and Christians and this has bifurcated the northern Nigeria especially in states like Kaduna state along even settlements, residential settlements along Muslims and Christian. When you go to Sabo you hardly see any Muslim there living, you understand, and when you come to areas like Tudun Wada you hardly find any Christians, any Christians in Tudun Wada except very few. I think when you look at Tudun Wada you can count very few houses of Christian there, very few, the same with ah.

KD12 [43461-43798]

You see we don't, I personally or islamically we don't have much eh difficulty within ourselves, if because most of the houses we are living here that are rented we live together with them, Muslims and non-Muslims. It is only they, we know their areas of un-touched, untouched areas and they don't go near to our own untouched area too.

KD13 [21553-21772]

One thing I will say is that there is no difficult way in relating with the Christians, there is no difficult way in relating with them. The only thing there is that they stand by their faith and you can't change it.

KD14 [26796-26868]

I have no difficult experience relating with Christians or non-Muslims.

KD15 [34737-35102]

You see this question, I will be honest with you, let say 50% of my own friends are Christians and we work, we do things together, everybody lives in peace so far their laws and their rules won't go against mine and mine won't go against them, everybody lives peacefully so Christians and Muslims lived together peacefully in northern Nigeria, the north generally.

KD16 [22280-22805]

As for me I have no difficulty in my relationship with them. I know the way I relate with them. I treat them as Christians and they treat me as Muslim and I know I have no cause to force anybody. Islam has said it la iqraha fid din there is no compulsion in religion of Islam. Leave people to God, they are creations of Allah (SBUH) so allow them to, yours is just to preach to them, if they like they accept, if they don't like, you leave them to God. It is Allah that will judge. That is my own way of relating to them.

KD17 [62881-63641]

Hmm the difficulties am having with them is just this although I have very few Christian friends because of they are no more here, and most of them have left this part of the country due to one issue is other although they always like to any time you are around, they always want to put their religion ahead, they will always try to preach their religion to you whereby of course even though series of time you try to stop them they still want to try to preach their religion, even when they preach to you and you preach yours also to them, they are not happy because you've convinced them that yours is above theirs of course next time they will still want to try, just to try to make you angry. I think that is just part of the difficulty I get with them.

KD19 [43361-43891]

Well the experience I'm having in relating with Christians is trying to change their notion, their notion about the bad things they heard about Islam. I have an experience of a Christian who always tells me that any time Muslims tells you they are fasting, they maybe hide in the morning and eat food. Then I told him it is not so. What we do is, from so, so time, even the even the eating in the night is not truly in the night, it is at eh dusk, he find it difficult to believe me until maybe I had to invite him to witness it.

KD20 [38217-38248]

I do not have any difficulties

KD20 [38286-38357]

I have them as a friend. Yes and we are good to each other. That's it.

KD21 [36021-36220]

Fear, has always been fear between both parties. Each and every other of the party is afraid of being double crossed, be it in a political environment, be it in a financial institution and whatever.

KD23 [33335-33574]

There is no any difficulty in relating with Christians. There is no any difficulty, so there is no any difficulty, so unless people ah unless a person character is not good and that you can find in even in your ah fellow religious member.

KD24 [93845-95849]

Ah there is, which is misunderstanding. Ah I personally had the a conversation with a pastor when the former head of state was in ah power that ah why is it that we, we've seen people like General Sani Abacha, he is a Muslim we see what he laid and what he wants to make sure that the country has become within some certain years, those things assuming he is still alive and things went the way they supposed to be we know that today Nigeria will be better than what it was before, and what it is now. Why is it that they killed him? We said secondly, we see Umaru Musa Yar'adua for example, we know that many Christians in military, police, soldiers, they've been pressuring the president that that man is a good person immediately when he came into power, he increased their salaries, teachers, he increased their salaries because they are the ones that are, he put into place to considered first before any other person, teachers, doctors and the force, armed forces and he tried to make sure that, but they killed him.

Why did I say they killed him, because actually is rumours but based on what happened that's what we will say. I asked him later on to say that why is it that this one that come into power, the Nigerian law says no one is to be put into power as president more than two times, he has to be sworn only two times not more than two, this person has been sworn for the first time, he has been sworn for the second time, why is it he is going for the third time? He was just telling me that no consider this chair you are sitting, you are the head here will you like someone to just come and say okay you are done your time is finished just get up?

You see that man you will fight with him until your power is exhausted, you don't have any other thing to do that is when you will surrender. That is what he told me, okay what about the law of Nigeria? He said that one is written document, it is human being that write that one, but not God, so it might be right, it might be wrong.

KD24 [95920-97706]

Ah sometimes I consider this as one of the major problems of the Christians usually if discussing with them the like tribalism or side sentiments, something they used to and they think the same thing that the Muslims that's how they are, for example, we've seen and we've noticed and we've heard even evidence that many of these ah non Muslims that have ruled the country, you will see if they want to remove some posts in the higher level maybe you will see they will remove, if they are removing hundred people you will see eighty are Muslims, if they are sending some people abroad for one good activity they will send eighty Christians, but twenty Muslims but we've seen the Muslims that's not ah how they are doing, they used to do it fifty if even they will favour their own side you will see fifty five it will not be that much that someone will be even annoyed and complaining, but they used to do their own openly, they will not fear anyone and no one will talk. That is one of the major thing I use to ask myself, confused with these ah the Christians, but apart from that all things we used to receive lectures in the same class, we can even eat food the same restaurant, even if possible the same plate, go to excursion the same, tourism if possible, the same car, the same place, we will sleep even in the same hotel. But the major problem is this sentiments, is it sentiments we will call it or what? You will see it till be very hard for a Christian to believe you that yes this is a Christian and what he do is not good, no, he will try to tell you that you did not understand, it is just that you did not understand, but what he did is solid theright thing that even no matter who is there that is the best thing he should do. I think that is what I consider.

KD25 [101904-101965]

Their inability to look at us as their brothers and sisters.

KD26 [38003-38176]

I don't think I have any right now. I try as much as possible to mind my business, but if I can't then I relate to you the way my religion has asked me to relate with you

KD27 [37049-38144]

I have Christian friends but I am always careful when I relate with them not to be overtly anti-Christian in the sense that there are things that are clear even to them, the conflicts, the lack of, you knowooow- their religion, the present day Christianity is not the same as what is practiced by Jesus and his followers. The present day Christianity, there are too much conflicts, confliotions in them. If you look at the Old Testament compared to some verses in the New Testaments they are, they don't-what will I say?

How do I put it? You know they are divergent as you can find. And most of the Old Testament rules, you know, are in concurrence with Islam, you know, and some of the rules, their canon laws that should have been practiced by Christians if they actually claim to be Christians, their canon laws are more stringent than what the Sharia says. Like where a woman who goes around with her hair open, her hair should be shun. In Islam it is not like that. But then you see women going to church dressed in attires that will put a prostitute to shame yet she is going to worship.

KD28 [46653-47037]

Well to me as an individual I don't have any difficulty because since if I know my role as Muslim and I know my role to my neighbors and all, I give them their rights, I give them their chance, whatever assistance you can give them you give it to them, let them understand you that yes this is your own way of religion, this is your own way of life, then I don't have any difficulty.

KD29 [29866-30002]

Well the difficulty is that of understanding ah about the religion of Islam. In most cases the preachers do misinform their followers.

KD30 [56753-58404]

Uh I think part of the major problems the northerners, not just me particularly or the Muslims have with ah the Christians is on the issue of understanding. We go on social media, we have friends where we have ah social almost social environment where everybody participate, participates or comments then it provides them the liberty for everyone to at least comment or participate in a discussion and you see that there is tension and is not easily, is not easy to even ah to convince someone even if for example we are having a situation where something happens in the country maybe between a Muslim and a Christian and maybe the Christian is wrong, is clearly wrong and you try to say the Christian is wrong, but simply because the Christian then you will see the Christians are trying to defend the Christian because he's a Christian and before you try to convince them you see because there that tension and little tense condition then they are easily start insulting and they will hardly understand you. So issues of misunderstanding are not giving that ah free, I don't know, awareness maybe I don't know whether it is our fault, but I always tie this to the government and the politicians because had it been they allow people, they educate people and they did not use these channels of ah religion and other things in order to create problem in the society, we wouldn't have actually come to this where we are now, so we need to address these problems, we need to ah see we've understand our differences between both the Christians and Muslims and ah I believe we will always have a way forward as now we have been achieving very great deal.

KD31 [26411-26553]

Actually I don't have because I don't have ah I don't try to go into their private lives as well I don't give them room to interfere in mine.

KD32 [40105-40244]

Ah like from the part I came from like I said ah Muslims are a little bit denied their rights so which causes some conflicts in that part.

KD33 [33907-34064]

Well I the only problem difficulties is that whenever you try to relate with any non-Muslim or Christian they are seeing you as a terrorist or an Islamist.

KD34 [43249-43752]

Hmm I don't have difficult ehh difficult relationship with them because I live with them, I advertise my religion to them by doing good things, telling them about religion, sometimes they would ask a question or a provoking question or allegation against my religion definitely it hurts me, it hurts me, it even sometimes makes me to go mad, but I control my temper and I explain to them, I refer them, I give them a lot of references when they do they find out a lot of good things comes out of that.

KD35 [41615-41782]

Ah the difficulties the Muslims have in relating to Christians or vice versa are understanding each other's religion, is giving the right to he or deserves the right.

KN1 [88714-89208]

Most of the difficulties I encountered are that of suspicion. This Muslim Hausa man that is the conclusion, he has a hidden motive. You should not trust him you should not allow him, but the enlightened ones probably those that you attend school with them or you are doing business together with time after understanding each other... in fact I have a Christian friend that calls me my brother that is how he addresses me if I call him on the phone he will say oh my brother how are you straight

KN1 [89258-89286]

Yah there is that suspicion

KN2 [50429-50542]

I have not experienced any difficulty. Whenever I visit my Christian friends they supply food for me and drinks.

KN4 [62798-63278]

I don't have because I understand them, they understand me, I understand their culture, I understand their like and unlike. I don't have and I as a human being, I have my own challenges I even sometimes exercise patience with my own self so why should I not allow why should I allow my emotion to go against my thinking. In fact, there is nothing like that I interact with anybody or everybody and I love everybody and I give everyone an each person his own right when it is due.

KN5 [40573-40732]

Their attitude of-their disdainful attitude and not only the disdainful attitude but their bad perception to the Islam and my people particularly the Hausas.

KN6 [49454-49518]

So, I never have this difficulty, I never have this difficulty

KN7 [44065-44560]

I don't, yes am a Muslim but I don't, I relate with Christians a lot. The only, the only situation where, where you feel ehm, the only situation where you feel yes you are going to be affected is a situation whereby you design your life absolutely and totally ehm the way Christians do, but as long as you have your own belief, you have times, you have your times you worship your God and this times are specific enough. I as a person don't think I have encountered any problem with them, yes.

KN8 [40721-42246]

Hmm, I think, I have faced a lot as regards this, but the most nearer one I could mention was when I was in 300 level, you understand, I sometimes I a roommate like that, so we stayed together in the same room. But on problem I do face about him as a counterpart of religion is that whenever they want to pray is like they are use to shouting in their prayers whereas such is not found in us. If I could remember the, even Allah (SAW) said in the holy Qur'an that not until you shout, though shouting, shouting is not is not negated in prayer (he recites a verse) that whether you make it in louder voice or you speak silently, I your creator knows everything that resides in your mind. Before you say it he knows so most of the time even before he will shout Jesus name, in you understand, everybody, they will challenge him, he will strike against you that you, didn't he have the right to pray, are you telling not to pray, you understand. There should have been a better way to reply but most of the times that has been the challenges we face with him. He will shout then the prayer is not 30mins, is not 40mins, is not an hour. I think you understand. You can speak silently with your God. That has been one of the challenges I have encountered but as regard others aspects, there even many Christians that are even good to relate with even than Muslims. You understand, the way they relate, the way they talk, the way they behave, if-they should not be segregated, only that there are some challenges you can face with.

KN9 [35766-36181]

Well you see, whenever a believer is having dealings with an unbeliever, it should be rest assured that the unbeliever will always remember that you are not one of his kind and he would be cautious of whatever he would do with you knowing fully well that you do not share the same faith. So I think the relationship I had with them is ehm more of an imperfect one because there is no trust between the two parties.

KN10 [30733-30839]

I never have any relation with any Christian, so I don't, I never have, I don't have anything to realize.

KN11 [38163-38620]

The difficulty is wherever you approach a Christian, a non-Muslim has been told that Muslim are very dangerous, yes if you communicate with him you will find it. They have this notion or they have this feeling in their mind kai this muslim is very dangerous because they have been told that if you go to northern Nigeria or if you go to a Muslim's place don't trust them because they are very dangerous and they can kill you. So all this notions are false.

KN13 [41251-41337]

I have not had any difficulty experience, but rather I have good relations with them.

KN14 [35358-35858]

Yes I have been with Christians for long, we stayed, we lived peacefully, but the difficulties that I experienced from them is that of ah something that my religion says that you should do, that if I do sometimes they feel that I am too so religious or extremist. For example sometimes if the if the prayer is called, if I if I have to perform my ablution or if I go or if I am to go to the mosque, they should be ah ah not happy, they are not happy with that, so me too I don't ah like such things.

KN15 [28305-29150]

Honestly, I don't have any difficulties, right from my childhood you know I have been befriending you know Christians and they are one of my greatest friends up till now but I have never faced you know any problem of you know let me say maybe trust or maybe you know let me say day to day activities, so we used to sometimes sleep together, we used to go to school together we used to eat together many things and they are Christians that you cannot even say that we are not from the same religion, so I think I find it at the first instance I found it peculiar but after then you know, honestly I really enjoyed being with them and at least they don't use to interfere in my religious issues as well as I do you know keep myself away from their religious issues too, so I have a very peaceful moment with them and I think its unforgettable.

KN16 [17460-17476]

No I don't have.

KN17 [34595-34630]

I don't have difficult experience.

KN18 [56954-57005]

I don't think there is any difficult relationship

KN19 [37811-39930]

Actually one, in a nutshell, one problem that I have found to be very common that I do come across with Christians is that whenever it comes to religious aspects they also segregate a lot and again there are very anyway don't let me put it that way probably that is their general way, you understand, of observing their prayer, they are too harsh, very lousy and they are very they didn't they didn't take their process of prayer very easy, you understand, a case study of one of the roommate I have whenever he wants to pray he disturbs everybody whereas in the teaching of the holy Qur'an, (recites a verse of the Qur'an) whether you shout you do it gently, or you make it loudly, you understand, Allah can even hear, can even see, can testify to what is in your mind before you say it out. I think this is part of one of the problem am having. Then again the segregate a lot as regard the issue of our prophets. We say alayhis salatu wassalam when it comes to their own prophet but whenever you mention the holy prophet you in fact most of them will squeeze their face they don't want to reason whereas even the holy Qur'an has mentioned prophet Isah alayhis salatu wassalam Jesus Christ in various ways in fact it is even prophet Isah that gives us, that give us the testimony that the holy prophet is coming (suratul saf-he recites a verse of the Qur'an) he was the first person that give us the holy the name of the holy prophet that a prophet is coming he is a true man of God, that he is the one that will end all the prophets, when he comes accept from him his name will be Ahmed, these thousands of years before the before prophet Muhammad will emerge. At the end of the day it becomes the truth. If you go to suratul Saf towards the middle of the chapter of the holy Qur'an, wherever you call Jesus we embrace him. How many places can you even count that Allah has mentioned prophet Isah the Jesus of the Christians? We believed in him, we see him as a prophet but they always disagree with us. This is also another challenge we face with them. They also negate our prophet whereas we embrace theirs.

KN20 [29234-29634]

The major obstacle the major problem we are having in relating with Christians is a kind of pre-knowledge they have about the religion, some of them are seeing Islam religion as a very difficult extreme thing that they don't really want to come close even when they are working under you so is been a very difficult challenge but if you are a good Muslim, you know the terrain of Islam then you can

KN20 [29695-29873]

I have once had experience with them but thank God because maybe because the ah of the knowledge of my Islam eh whatever we have really been coping and things are working well.

KN20 [29918-30008]

It's very difficult at the beginning but things really worked out at the end of the day.

KN20 [30164-30298]

Is not, is not as if is a wrong thing to have relationship with female you can't deprive us from having a relationship with females.

KN20 [30309-30474]

But the truth about it is in the northern area where we live there is there's always a limit to relationship with females maybe because of the culture and whatever.

KN20 [30613-30809]

Yeah they are more difficult in relating with compared with the males, because they have this attitude of you are a Muslim they can't come close to you coupled with the culture of the of the area.

KN21 [20175-20233]

I don't have any difficulty in relating with Christians.

KN22 [41283-43130]

There are quite number of experiences, obstacles, yes stumbling blocks if I may describe it that way in relating with Christian faithfuls honestly. You see, they are having this narrow thinking, this myopic attitude, thinking attitude that Muslims are going to Islamize, Muslim is to dominate, so Muslim is going take over, so whenever you are with them, they are taking you to be a Muslim, they are not taking to be a Nigerian. They are taking you to be that Arab descendant that is in Nigeria. So that is why the unity of Nigeria is in question contemporarily, you understand. So they are still seeing us to be Muslim terrorists, you understand. Whenever you go to them-before, prior to this problem of fundamentalism and extremism in the global polity or movement, before you will see where Muslim will go to Christian churches to go and rejoice with them. I have done that. There was a time I was in a church yes, I was there to see a friend because his wife give birth and I was there, they were preaching, I sat down in the church. (interjected- inside the church sir?) Inside the church, so I was imagining if there would be a terrorist attack it is a problem honestly it is going to be a problem because I was there and this my actions did not contradict Islamic principle and it is in line with Islam. During the prophetic era, the early generation, there are Christians or pagans or Jews that came to the prophet, you understand, he invited to the mosque in which one of them even challenged the prophet to the extent he urinate in the mosque, to the extent one of the Khalifa, one of companion of the prophet stood up and like want to slaughter, you understand, the very person, the prophet said no, no, no, no, don't do it. Islam is peace. Islam is peace. So having done that they realize what they did and they converted to Islam.

KN23 [26179-26216]

I don't have any problem with them

KN24 [24652-25343]

Eh the experience am having is that, difficult experience. You know whenever you a Muslim there is some kind of attitude that you will develop through the practice of Islam, so most Christians the way they are behaving you will say that may be that is how their religion made them. I don't know if they read it and they came through and that is how their religion asks them to practice or the way they are dressing because if you come to north here you find the northerner person, the way he is dressing he is going to be religiously dressed, very good like our females. If you find the way their females are dressing it is going to be different from ours. So that one I find it very harmed.

KN25 [39255-39535]

Well the difficult experience I have in relating with Christians is the fact that I am a Muslim. The fact that we are of two different religions creates a kind of division and primarily there is mistrust in whatever relationship you would encounter with non-Muslims. So I think...

KN26 [44766-44801]

I don't have any, I don't have any

KN27 [32803-33175]

The only experience, I think, is in relations-well in Islam you are not, as Muslim you are not permitted to shake Christian females or people or females that are not your blood ties. So as a Christian woman, I don't think in Christianity that is forbidden. So I think that is the only little difficulty and challenges I am having with them, but others are in significant.

KN28 [24613-24980]

It is just has to do with the issue of understanding. They always cease to understand that Islam is always the best religion and it is a religion of peace which they have the references given that Islam is a violent religion which doesn't want peace and that is just a false accusation which I believe we always have issues with them when it comes to understanding.

KN30 [21874-21898]

Actually there is none

KN31 [42987-43359]

Well I don't think I have any difficulties and that may be because of my own personal personality. I think you know people have different character and characteristics and when we are talking about something in religion it is something that is very, very insensitive. So just like I said when you understand people's religion there are –I find I have Christian Friend

KN31 [43418-44312]

I don't have any difficulty with them because if you want to tell me about your religion, two things are involved. I might come and tell you that maybe I am not interested today, I might give you a listening air but not compulsory for me some times they go around sharing may be their pamphlets or fliers. I can collect it but it is not necessary I – to him maybe he has passed an information of his own religion but in a situation whereby may be you are trying to preach –get out or may be turn it into a conflict because you are trying to tell me –you see it could result to- we start may be we are two in number it could lead to the whole nation. So it is just the understanding that should exist between us. If we could stay and trade may be you have a shop and people come both your Muslims and non-Muslims they come to buy so why will it stop other things relationship in other aspects.

KN31 [44393-44864]

Yah actually you know it is just the state of the mind, you find out may be there are some people that when other people come who are not of their own religion immediately some hatred will just come to their mind and may be they react badly but I don't think that is – if then just like I said during the prophet they allow them and they had a relationship, they do business bilaterally and they sat down very close to each other as neighbors then why can't it exist now?

KN32 [21279-21471]

no no no not at all, I don't think I am having any difficult experience maybe it is because of the level of the Christians I am relating with so far far I don't have any difficult experience.

KN33 [15390-15433]

Having to understand at least each other.

KN34 [29558-30376]

When actually sometimes you are dealing with Christians most especially if I can be able to remember during my service, they are just viewing all Muslims like we are the ones supporting or this issue of insurgency. When you look at their perception they are viewing every Muslim as he is supporting the issue of insurgency and like every Muslim, if I may use this word, is a member of this deadly group boko haram in one way directly or indirectly. So I find it difficult when-even there is an Igbo man when we met in camp, he is telling me that is there perception and until when he found himself in the camp that he realize that there are some good Muslims who are not even in support of this issue of, he find from what he heard, he found what actually have been written here about the north is totally different.

KN35 [28057-28317]

The difficulty I was having with Christians was that the way they take their religion, they feel superior than anything even when they see the truth they pretend not to see it and they try not to even see it as truth so they are less objective in a nutshell.

KN36 [27716-28103]

There is a lot of difficulties because most of Christians they are like westerners, they think that they are always superior and they don't want to believe on anybody, they think that they have or they are wiser than the Muslims. So there is a lot of difficulty because they do not believe in us and we Muslims it will be difficult for us to believe them and to practice their religion.

KN37 [25779-25853]

It is just that of understanding just that of understanding that is all.

KN38 [20347-20497]

A very friendly one. I have friends who are non-Muslims and we live peacefully with them. They are my friends, I like them, I call them they call me.

KN39 [30412-30603]

Yes of course there is. Actually sometimes I use to find it intolerable, for example, when I find myself with those non-Muslims who are always trying to invite me to the religion forcefully.

KN40 [23818-23906]

I don't have any difficulty with Christians because I try to understand their religion.

KN41 [20799-21016]

Actually Christians are so good in preaching, in trying to convert somebody to their own religion. I think that is the only thing that I view as their problem. They are always after you converting to their religion.

KN41 [21143-21253]

No actually I don't have any difficulty with them. I didn't face any problem with them. I am okay with them.

KN42 [53776-53877]

None. I am very friendly with the Christians; I have a lot of friends that are Christians actually.

KN43 [39611-39733]

Noooo, I don't have any difficulty in dealing with ahhh, my ahhh, Christian ah counterparts, I live peacefully with them.

KN45 [48112-48492]

Ah, to me personally, I don't have any problem relating with a fellow Christians. Ahh I relate with them peacefully just as I relate with the Muslims. I have good friends who are Christians so good friends who are Christians and I respect them so much, I respect them so much. Sometimes I respect them ehh because of their character more than I respect other Muslims personally.

KN46 [70779-70831]

No, I don't think I have any difficulty personally

KN47 [63896-64639]

Well it is the you know what we can say cultural ah cultural problem or inter-cultural problem because nowadays some non-Muslims look at you if you are a Muslim as someone who is extremist even though you are not because somebody will just try to interpret or try to, to assert your behavior you understand try to assert your behavior and say you are that kind of person while you are not and the problem is that that person did not come near you to understand you better and then he start having opinion about you and you go with that kind of opinion and there are-if of course you can have time and come together, to become close, to understand one another then that would be better and it will result into kind of harmonious relationship.

KN48 [22096-22139]

So, I don't have any difficulty with them.

KN49 [32774-32803]

I think it is eh prejudice.

KN50 [19487-19712]

The difficult experience I am having with relating to Christians is whenever the Christians see me, they would reserve some of the things they want to do with me, just because I am a Muslim which is hurting and uncalled for.

KN52 [66779-67472]

That is a very interesting question, like I mentioned earlier I think the difficulty I had confronted most in relating with my Christian friends is their ignorance of Islam you know in as much as they are very kind, liberal people who are ready to tolerate alternative views or alternative religious believes, for instance their ignorance of Islam is an impediment to my sort of relations with them, but because of the fact that they are liberal in nature that is an opportunity for me to engage them in productive inter-religious conversations through which I have been able to educate and enlighten some of them about the principles of Islam about you know what Islam actually stands for,

KN54 [14435-14440]

None

KN55 [17558-17593]

I have none, I have nothing to say

KN56 [30082-30469]

Actually the difficult experience I am having or rather that I have in the past in relating with Christians is that sometimes they are too strong headed. You hardly have time to reason with a Christian. If he has a healthy opinion about you, he hardly changes that and he hardly listen and reason out things with you. But not all of them some of them are peaceful and understanding.

KN57 [24108-24443]

You see, as I do mention also, we lack proper orientation. We do not understand what the religions are all about and we lack knowledge and our leaders contribute immensely toward this. So a lot of things that could bring obstacles about this, but I can only mention this and maybe later in another discussion maybe I would elaborate

KN58 [52911-53477]

One of the difficulty was when we had a debate with a Christian, I was trying to explain to him the meaning of Islamic religion, he was still of the believe that Islam is a devils religion that even the prophet Mohammed (SAW) is even a demon. So it was one of the difficult times I had and all praises due to Allah I overcame that difficulty despite the fact that I was not able to convince him, but I overcame the difficulty because of even controlling my anger when he mentioned that Prophet Mohammed (SAW) was a demon. Wa iyazu billah. It is blaspheming indeed.

KN59 [60181-60707]

Actually to me I don't have any difficulties with my Christians and friends because I do, we accommodate ourselves and actually the reason why we accommodate ourselves is that we didn't normally talk about religions in our dealings and in our discussions and whenever we discuss about our religions then definitely there might be misunderstanding, there might be conflict which can invariably lead to some challenges and difficulties, so to avoid that we don't normally discuss about our religious aspect in our dealings.

KN60 [40518-40843]

You see I relate with so many Christian, but the difficulties you have with some of them is that they are sentimental that is why you bring about points, you tell them this is what is the truth and they would just close their eyes and they would not accept the truth you are giving to them, many of them are so sentimental.

KN61 [21732-21816]

I don't have any relationship with them, there is no difficulties that is there ...

KN62 [68568-69297]

The difficulty I have in relating with the Christians is that some of them really, really want to ahh convert you into their religion. So they preach, they preach every day, they give you their leaflet, pamphlets, books, they are never tired. Even in cars, you understand, if you are going to the East or West in Marcopolo, you understand, luxurious, you have them in buses, taxis, you have them preaching for you, inviting you to their religion, they are never tired. This is the only problem I have with them. I believe that they should exercise patience, they should know their limit, they should know that, they should know when to preach, when to call people, they should know when to preach, when to call people, ahh, hmm.

KN63 [58386-60492]

You know to be realistic, what I observe is that Christians wherever they are, they try to take up the mantle of leadership in an organization or in a set-up. If you imagine this Kano state is a more or less like an Islamic state, Muslim dominate, but yet they were still competing with them in this state, trying to take up the mantle of leadership in this state. I am not talking of maybe the, maybe the state government of a thing, but look at various organization huh maybe like this ehh our school now, they are competing with us, trying to take, for me I don't have anything to do with, but I see no reason why of course, I don't mind ehn like this is a school now, something like this school, they are ever there to try to feed their people there, making sure that maybe the principal whatever, all these posts belong to them. So that at least if they in that post now, they may be able to have a sort of ah ah influence huh, maybe on the student whatever, whatever, and the something like that. And that is also what I was saying earlier that it is necessary for Muslims also to go into politics. We cannot just fold our arms and let things go and we say ahh no we are less concerned politics is not part of Islam no, we have to go into politics and try to take up this leadership of a thing. If you allow them to continue like that, we are going to become more or less like their servant, they are going to be directing us here and there huh. So is that is one of those things that I am having with those Christians in my own locality, trying to take up leadership position in an Islamic state, why not leave it for the Muslims? It can even generate problem, it can even generate problem because there is no way a Christian now take up a leader, a leadership position and he doesn't have the principle, he doesn't have what Islam says about those values and coming out and saying whatever he likes which is against our own teaching, no there is no way, we are going to go against it if it is against our religion, morals and teachings. So that is one of the problem I am having with them for now.

KN64 [32119-32336]

I am relating with Christians, I don't have any problem because I know how I can relate with them, I relating to them different times and there is no any problem, therefore define the people who are doing the issues

KN65 [41336-41462]

The major difficulty I experience is trust, trust, trust, I cannot trust them and they cannot trust me, so that is the major.

KN66 [29288-29560]

I am not having any difficulty in relating with any Christians because I am alhamdulillah I am a very understanding somebody and I just when I communicate with Christians I do it in a way they would understand my view, and I would understand their view and that is all.

KN67 [30933-31225]

Well most of the difficulties, as I can say personally, is sometimes not trying to reach out to them. Try to understand them.

These are some of my difficulties. Ahh sometimes I may not even be able to open my mind and speak to them freely and ah this is, these are my difficulties actually.

KN68 [14567-14573]

None.

KN69 [55799-56040]

In terms of social life, I think we don't have problem with them. We are respecting each other, they are respecting us, but the only problem is some Christians, they under-rate our religion that is Islam. That is where the problem emanates.

KN71 [85133-85364]

I think as a person I don't have any difficulty with any Christian I live with because I try as much as I can to know myself whenever I am in company with any non-Muslim and I know who he is, then I will know my dealings with him.

KN72 [45394-45555]

I have no difficult experiences in relating to the Christians because ehh I understand what Islam means so I think I have no any difficult experiences in such.

KN73 [45732-45804]

I don't have any difficulty now. I don't have any difficult experience

KN74 [55973-56248]

I in person, no if you look at this question you find out that, okay the Christians the difficulty that I experience is the Christians kill our people in terms of ahh conflicts. Many, many, many people lost their lives that is the only difficult ehh that I have experience.

KN74 [56354-56466]

They are my relatives because if they are Muslims, I am also a Muslim, and we know that a Muslim Akhul Muslim.

KN75 [60627-60875]

Me in particular, as I told you, there are some states I cannot dress as a Muslim to enter now in Nigeria, yes or there are some communities I cannot enter as a Muslim in Nigeria, they will look at me as ehh there is ehh terrorist, you understand.

KN75 [60918-60943]

In the southern Nigeria

KN75 [60973-61110]

Even in the north there are some selected places the latter community, a pure ehh Christian community now, you cannot just enter there

KN75 [61397-61752]

Like if you stand up in northern Nigeria and you go to southern Nigeria now if you dress in your normal Muslim dress with your cap and everything, you find a some element of ehh hatred they have for you. My, they will not believe in you even wherever you go there is some monitoring because all there believe is that Muslims are the terrorist in Nigeria.

KN76 [53772-54478]

Actually I have so many Christian friends and ahh some I can even call them we are close friends, some even when at times I even ask them why you don't go to church, when I was in school actually. Actually I had a program in the southern part of Nigeria and majority of my friends were Christians and we live in harmony and I can, I could remember when I was having my masters in life, in one regional center, UN regional center, we the Muslims ahh we break our fast together about 20 about 18 of us and when we are breaking that fast, most almost every day we will find some Christians joining us to break the fast together and I can say that I don't have any difficulty in relating with the Christians

KN78 [68323-68627]

I never heard a difficulty, although I know you have fundamentalist Christians but quite a number of persons I really interacted with, are very friendly, they are very peace loving Christians. We do have our disagreement in religion, but I think through dialogue we do discuss the religious issue, yah.

KN80 [50934-51425]

Yes most of the, most of the Christians were driven, their minds were driven by their scholars without to necessarily examining the true picture of ahh ahh of the event or the current state because I often here a, what do you call ahh, a pastor preaching against the Islam and which was not true to his followers. So doing this will definitely bring gaps because what he was preaching was not exactly what was happening in Islamic religion and was not directly the behavior of the Muslims.

KN80 [51519-51569]

Yes, yes, yes poor interpretation of ah religious

KN81 [36846-36960]

I have never encountered a difficulty with Christians especially in the past. So we are living in a peacefully.

KN81 [36963-37079]

But what about in present, do you have any difficult with Christians?

A: Hmm no partially it is unlike in the past.

KN81 [37209-37520]

ow, as ahh as I told you, now there is ahh political interest in our minds in our, not only we the Muslims even the Christians. The leaders are use us in order to gain their interest, you understand. They use them, they use us, sorry, we and the Christians, you understand, for their own interest that is why.

KN82 [35843-35877]

I didn't experience any honestly

KN83 [29210-29703]

So I think there are, I think there is, there was one person that we met ahh when I was in the university. So there was one of the persons from emm Taraba state, what he was thinking is that always, he don't even differentiate between am character and the religion. You know there are some emm among the Muslims, there are some bad Muslims and even the Christians. He thought that every Christian is good, so he don't even differentiate between their characteristics and the religions every.

KN84 [31382-32566]

Hmm I think the difficult experience I ever had is when I was in school. There was a Christian guy come from, is it, Makurdi. His name is Francis. So he always considers, this thing, Muslims as terrorist, as terror as a words always used by United States because they always consider Muslims as terrorists. So that is how this guy always considers us as terrorists. As he comes to interact with me, he noticed that, even he wonder, he just felt, he at times have the face of, you know, am not a Muslim. So I said am a pure Muslim, no, he did not see the spirit of a Muslim in me. Why did you say so? He said that because Muslim are bad. And I see that this is the little aspect of a Muslim, you know, the kind of spirit you see in me is just a little aspect of, if you are interact with a good, just try continue gather with the Muslims you will come to understand what Muslim, what Islam is all about. So as I talking, as I am talking to you now before we leave the school, the guy even has the right to even come to our house to greet my parents and so on and so forth. He becomes so friendly with a Muslim, so that is what if I used to remember I used to feel happy for that.

KN85 [45469-46038]

Yes, trust, it has been ahh ahh ahh let me say, put in us that you cannot a Christian and it has been put in Christians that you cannot trust a Muslim. No matter how good you try to reach to each other, you find difficult to trust each other, you will be a very good friend to a Christian, you do whatever ahh ahh is good to maintain the relationship or the friendship, but at the end you will understand that he do not trust you. Now that trust is very critical in any relationship and it is lacking because of what our political and religious leaders preached to us.

ZA1 [44558-45671]

My problem now people are bringing religion into politics, means when somebody wants people's votes he will try under the umbrella of religion and propagate this. Like my .percent of residence in that zone are Muslims, but go to senate, who is representing Mubi north senatorial? He is a Christian. We just [in Adamawa?] yes of course. In northern central we aside a Muslim because we have is record, he do commissioner, he cheat us, he do representative, he cheat us and then non-Muslim stand to contest, we have to we look at profile and she is clean in APC, we vote for her and even her own people didn't vote for her because the former governor of Adamawa state, Ngilari stand for the senate and he failed because he is a Christian, he tried to use Christianity as a weapon, her won people because they came from the same area, she is from Minchika, he is from Minchika, but her own people didn't vote for her, but the Muslims of the area vote for her. You see because she had a record, she did it rep twice and we have her record, no any bias, we vote for her. So we don't have problems with non-Muslims.

ZA2 [59487-60089]

In fact the difficult experience am having in them or watching in them, many at times I always observe that their lack of understanding in their mind meaning they don't understand the doctrine of that their religion itself. That is the difficulty I have in them. They refuse to understand the doctrine. Yes and that is why the interpretation many at time come in wrong way, perception will come in wrong way because they just to me, I don't know? Is it because they turn it to be a business sector may be that is the vision of understanding the understanding is not there that is my problem with them.

ZA3 [35168-35346]

Emm the difficulty is that of everybody is looking at the other person as either with tendency to cause harm to individual. There is no, we do not feel at home with each other.

ZA4 [54993-55194]

Yes sometimes, if I don't have friends, I have friends that they always believe that always Muslims are there to implement sharia, bad understand that we want to impose sharia on them, which is not so.

ZA5 [38307-38781]

To me I have no one because I relate with almost everybody. Is just only we have some that are, I can't call them extremist because once you talk about religious, you understand, somebody have to know more about the religion before start talking about it, you understand, and once I want to relate with you and I understand that you are very myopic in terms of religious this thing, I will leave you because you have to be rational when you are talking in terms of religion

ZA5 [38855-38890]

No I have never had any difficulty

ZA6 [81733-82216]

Ahm the difficult experience I have with relating with Christians is just the belief, is just the belief I think. There are certain there are certain things sometimes we disagree maybe this religion believes it should be like this and other believes it should be like this. In my own case, in such situation I try as much as possible to leave it, to leave the argument not to further, but you know some people will go further as much as creating hatred and disharmony between them.

ZA7 [47277-48129]

Personally I don't have any difficulties because I think most of my growing up, I did grow up around Christians and I have had very good relationship with the few that I know and as well some have been extremists, they wanted me to be like them. So I think not even my father today if he is a Christians can force his believes on me. So I think generally, it is not about the religion, it is about the person that practices the religion. So I think its just like saying a carpenter, a harmer in the hand of a carpenter. I think it is well used than just someone who is not a carpenter using a harmer. So it is just the person and his beliefs and how he brings out the religion in him that makes you like and dislike the person. So it is not about the religion. I have lived fairly, I have lived wonderfully with them and I think they are good people.

ZA8 [86210-86268]

I don't have any difficulty in relating with Christians.

ZA9 [49599-49708]

My only experience I have with them is like half of them believe all Muslims are terrorists which is not so.

ZA10 [40911-41194]

Yes, we face a lot of difficulties when we are relating with non-Muslims here in the north because the northern Christians or non-believers have a thing in their mind or I don't know maybe is from their place of worship, they use to tell them some negative things about the Muslims.

ZA11 [35469-35746]

Well, to some point, they all believe their religion supersedes any other religion, so there is nothing you could say that they don't know, so your religion is inferior to them and then in any way you try to talk they will look at you as if you don't know what you are saying.

ZA12 [22485-22537]

I don't have any difficulty in relating with them.

ZA13 [23709-23811]

Well I don't have any difficulties because yah we live friendly, we talk and friends with each other.

ZA14 [33482-33727]

I don't think I have any difficulty in relating with Christians, so far you are free minded, but once a Christian is not free minded and is not friendly to like to stay with you, I don't think I can really have anything to do with that person.

ZA15 [33184-33552]

Difficult experience. do I have, because there is no trust again since 1999, they no longer trust each other. If you as a Muslim you are talking to a Christian or you want to give, you want to do something; you see that if it is his secret at the end of the day it will leak out, even though it is a Muslim, in fact there is no trust. I don't know what is causing it.

ZA16 [24568-25314]

The difficulty is that whenever you are relating with a Christian, he will not, he will not accept you as a friend, he will just accept you as somebody that we meet and we depart because: one, like this conflict or the kind of jihad some people are claiming or are propagating that is Islamic jihad which is fought especially in the northern eastern part of Nigeria, of the country yes. So one that is one, because whenever they see you as you dress as a Muslim, they will, many people especially the Christians even the Muslims, but especially the Christians, they will not agree that yah you are a good ah that yah you are a good Muslim or they will not agree as if they saw somebody the is going to bomb them (laughed) or something like that.

ZA17 [31073-31677]

The difficulty is understanding because the way, this knowledge is by taught, when you are taught you get the instrument of knowledge, but they, they cannot listen and they cannot allow to say, you cannot call any of the prophet I did not mention any one, any one you cannot call anyone that you are not with because if you agree they were send by the Allah (SBUH), then you have to accept, toh they their own they cannot accept Muhammad Rasulu rasurulla (SAW) that is the, and they do not understand, is he existing or he is not existing, they are calling it as if it has not, it has not exist at all

ZA18 [36977-37256]

Toh gaskiya, ni dai left for me, I don't have any problem relating with them. Look at my colleague here, we have a lot of Christian colleagues here, we relate, we interact, we joke, we eat and dine together. So me I don't have any problem, so we are very free with one another.

ZA19 [55975-56504]

Well actually this difficult experience is mostly attributed to the economic aspect of living because most of the economy in the northern part of the country, I mean the north eastern part of Nigeria, is being controlled by Christians and now about ninety something percent of them were no longer staying there, their business was shut down, every business was shut down, so these are virtually the difficulties that they are facing and of course the northerners who were actually presently in the northern part of the country.

ZA20 [37408-38037]

There are some Christians and even some Muslims-there-from both Muslims and Christians, you know, there are those myopic who are naïve to understand the situation and challenges that our today's Nigeria is facing. This is one of my problem with the Christians as a Muslim, is my problem the Christians. I want Christians to understand that my Islamic sharia that is made for me to govern by, you know, is not applied to them. They should understand that. They should maintain their status quo I will maintain my status quo. We are all equal before God. Unless who is more faith, you know, who is a believer more than the other.

ZA21 [41928-42210]

The difficulty is that everybody sees his religion as the best. If you can say ok my religion is the best, but somebody has the right to practice other religion and you cannot be looking down on other people because they are not from your religion then certainly peace must reign.

ZA22 [36197-36350]

I think to me I have never faced any difficult experience- I don't have any difficult experience with Christians even though I live together with them.

ZA23 [43426-43509]

In relating with Christians as far as I am concerned I don't have any difficulty.

ZA24 [56438-56731]

I don't have any difficult experience with eh Christians. I have Christians as friends and I have not seen anyone of them ask me to convert to their religion because there is nothing they can tell me that I don't know about their religion. So I have not experienced any difficult experience.

ZA25 [58077-58653]

One of such is you know we meet as I am now I am a student and a worker so there are some occasions that they will like to be organized that some of the practices they are going to do there are not Islamic. Once you want to show them that you will not be a party to that and you show them that Islam does not legislate that, that Islam does not accept it, and this is why it is not even good to do it not just that-they will start seeing as an extremist. They can even mark your name down that maybe you are a secret member of one of the terrorist groups. That is one of it.

ZA26 [25195-25260]

I told you there are no conflicts between Christians and Muslims

ZA27 [25364-25521]

No I don't have any difficulties because I have many good friends who are Christians, I understand them and they understand me. So I don't have any problems

ZA28 [40257-40507]

Well personally I don't actually-I use to have Christian friends very good ones, very, very good ones we share our ideas both of us understand ourselves and we respect both religions, we respect opinions so I actually did not have any difficulty
ZA29 [55629-55956]

Well to me I relate with them very well. It is only few that I have encountered some problems with, which you cannot absolutely say hundred percent all them are alike... but if I am to rate them I will rate them like let me say moderate or good because those that I have related and mingled with actually we mingled very well.

ZA30 [67091-68006]

Hmmm, I could remember when I appear the way I suppose to appear, in may be mode of dressing, sometimes I might be pointed. It is recommended in my religion when the beard started coming out that I shouldn't cut it, it is also Sunna sometimes to raise up my trousers, sometimes to reduce it. So due to the present situations now, when I leave beard to goes round my face and I raise up my trouser, it is usually looks challenging, may be when I enter any public areas, may be let me say an enter, may be for an, of an eeeeh this transportation car, how can I put it, this commercial, commercial cars, I might be disappointed that people will begin to be scared because people with such dress usually react in different ways due to what those boko haram are doing. Although, we should, as I said earlier, boko haram are far away from being a Muslims, but they borrowed our appearance, that is the challenges offer.

ZA31 [37169-37665]

Is during this boko haram issues, bomb blast, you will see church is been, is been bombed down and the religion, the Christians, the Christians, they are staying close to you, they will be having bad thoughts about you because there are some times when I leave beards, so I enter car, so the person that was, that was sat close to me was a Christian, toh I noticed that she was not comfortable because of my beard, I have to talk to her and convince her before, before her mind is being settled.

ZA32 [72151-73151]

The difficult experiences that the Christians they always consider you as what, as an enemy not as a friend to live to, live together, but rather as an enemy. That is a difficult experience, for example, ah I once, I was once in my town when I see during the time of the election, there was a Christian who is living harmoniously for since before I was born, and when it comes to the election anytime it comes to the time of the election, he use to move, he never believed that we are his friends, he never believed that we can live together, he can live with us for three years amount, but when it comes to the time of the election, he use to run away. So see this and when it is after the election you will see him coming back, you will see him coming back to where he left and this is a problem, they don't consider us to be what, trustful, they do not trust us, yes and that lack of trust as they have given, as they do not trust us and we too we don't consider them to be trustful, actually.

ZA33 [34734-35235]

There are no much difficulties. The only difficulty is that they are to some extent very hard to understand- they hide some things to you-they hide some things to you what they were taught in their various places of worship. Unlike we Muslims we expose whatever we are taught so that is the only problem. But their relationship is very, very cordial and they are very, very fair, in short you can give them your errands and they cannot take it. So they are fair, they are very, very good to go about.

ZA34 [55136-55725]

May be on my own I don't have any problem because up till today I have so many Christian friends that they do visit me and I visit them. We do sit together; we eat together, e chat together. I don't have any problem with them. Even to some extent we even exchange views and ideas of religion. I talk about my own religion and they talked about their own religion and sometime though it contradicts my own religion, I will not may be go against them as that is your own idea. If I bring my own they say that is your own idea we just laugh and chat together. I don't have problem personally.

ZA35 [24919-24959]

I don't have any difficulty with them.

ZA36 [37957-38101]

Hmmm trying to tarnish each other's, tarnishing each other's ahm what will I call it, is it affairs now or like tarnishing each other's image.

ZA37 [41657-41689]

No any difficulties as for me.

ZA38 [49956-50554]

The difficulties are not much it is just like because even in the Christianity, there are different doctrines in different churches. Some of them, according to their preachers, that they preach to them that they shouldn't relate with an unbeliever, they call Muslims unbelievers too, but with that we still try to push closer to establish a relationship, it is difficult but I know we are winning the game and we are establishing a relationship of trust even though it was difficult in the past, but presently now there is understanding now and there is trust and this is what we walking towards.

ZA39 [63147-64217]

The difficult experience I have when I relate with Christians is when I was in school, when it came to the issue of relation of just a representative, class chairman, it started from there, it is a lot of strategy people came and hid under the religion and it also happened when I was, when it came to issue of election of the student representatives, a serious politics was played under and student politicians, those people, students that participated hide under the banner of religion and even it was about to even cause a religious conflict in the school, but with the help of God and the school authority and those serious minded people among the Christians and the Muslims use their knowledge to suppress the misunderstanding because the student were instigated that they should only, Christians should only vote Christians and Muslims should only vote Muslims which at the end all the representative that where elected connived together, both the Muslims and the Christians to perpetuate, to commit very financial misconduct. So this is the experience I had.

Th18.2: Obstacles to Interreligious Harmony

FG1 [55313-55334]

Politics, ethnicity

FG1 [55335-55527]

In Nigeria now whenever you say Islam what first comes to your mind is northerners. There is this feeling that anybody that is not within northerners definitely is non-Muslim even if he is.

FG1 [55529-55732]

There is this aggressive nature of all Nigerians today because Nigerians we are highly depressed in all forms of social activities. We are depressed to the extent that we can't even tolerate ourselves.

FG1 [55734-55778]

We don't normally do things in a normal way

FG2 [51270-51729]

To my opinion at present the major obstacle now is this issue of insurgency of Boko Haram because today there would be blast in a church which happened recently in Madallah, Niger State, last in Kano state in a mosque. So nobody knows who is killing who. There is blast in the church blast in the mosque. So this person accusing this one and this one also is accusing the other one in return. So to me this issue of Boko Haram insurgency is the major obstacle.

FG2 [51733-52383]

For me it is political rivalry and political propagandas. In fact the Boko Haram many people argue that it is politics. Many people are of the opinion that it is politics that gave birth to it now you cannot say whether Boko Haram are Muslims or Christians. You will see a Christian in a church kind of bomb a church and you will see a Muslim in a masjid in a mosque kind of bomb a mosque. You see you just can't say so politics and political propaganda and political rivalry as I rightly pointed out are one of the major obstacles to harmonious living between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria. And this is due to their selfish interest.

FG2 [52385-52586]

(F) Tribalism and sentiments in the sense that the Christian will look at a Muslim as a terrorist and the Muslim will look at a Christian as immoral. And you can't just judge a human by his religion.

FG2 [52587-52848]

I think religious preaching too is part of it in our churches and mosques. Because there are some preachers now coming up telling you that what these Christians are doing is wrong. When you see them attacking you, you should attack back those kinds of things.

FG3 [89603-89677]

Number one is illiteracy, number two -politics and number three- distrust

FG3 [89679-89692]

Our leaders

FG3 [89694-89706]

Corruption

FG3 [89708-89726]

Selfish interest

KD1 [64924-65380]

Yes one of it is misinformation. People actually tilt information or facts in the way that suit them to actually appease the sensibilities of those that know that they will be sympathizers to them. Misinformation is there, then that sense of suspicion based on things that happened before and then that intolerance that, that intolerance that our parents had that made them able to co-exist is actually winning now presently. That's one of the challenges.

KD2 [35563-36317]

The things that are obstacles to harmonious relationship between Christians and Muslims in Nigeria or in the northern part of the country is political ideas, political ideologies. That's some of them. And then, another thing is, another obstacle to harmonious relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria is understanding of each other's religious teachings. At times, most Muslims do not understand the exact teachings of the Christians and the Christians also do not understand the pure teachings of Islam as they do misunderstand it. So that is the major obstacle to a harmonious relationship among them. If both of them will understand each other's religions, then to me, there will no problem and they will co-exist harmoniously.

KD3 [25837-26020]

The things I think are, the present obstacle is either lack of understanding between the two religions and may be shallow knowledge of some of the followers of each of the religions.

KD4 [58859-58966]

Ignorance. Ignorance is the obstacle that brings unharmonious relationship between Christians and Muslims.

KD5 [35009-35367]

In one of these days, I think the great obstacles between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria or in Nigeria entirely, that should be the political class because the politician uses that concept of divide and rule, they use religion to divide the people and also they use ethnic to divide the people in order for them to achieve their negative aim.

KD6 [52486-52571]

I think if you have upright leaders then the true dialogue will start and commence.

KD7 [41521-41982]

The obstacle is the inner goings of each religion. We all have an agenda, but what, the question to ask is what type agenda do we have on both side? We all have an agenda of, we want to be the dominant one. We want the other one, we want to overshadow the other religion, but if we are honest and we have justice being the number one basic ingredient of living in our society. I believe the waters will be calm and we will learn to accept each other as we are.

KD8 [76144-76972]

Lack of understanding, it appears that we don't understand ourselves, there is a need for Christians to understand, to be reading the books of Islam, to understand what Islam is talking about. They should not just use perception thinking that Muslims are enemies of Christians, they need to understand, to read our books and see what Islam is talking about, protecting the right of somebody that does not belong to your faith, to see the beauty of Islam. The same thing with the Muslims, they need to be reading the books of Christians and be able to understand them and at the same time we need to be interacting together so that we can be able to understand ourselves. There is a need for us to be interacting, to be discussing on issues that are, that can, I mean on issues that are very critical that to our co-existence.

KD9 [52608-53065]

Ahhh obstacles can be seen as an encompassing what we've been saying all along. Respect for each other, respect for each other's opinion, respect for your stands, believe in your religion. I am a Muslim I believe in Islam, but I respect your opinion. I preach Islam to you, but I don't enforce Islam on you. If you have anything to say I listen to you and so that is the way it should be. So if we have that of course there is going to be continual peace.

KD10 [39289-39866]

Lack of tolerance hmm and transgressing. You know me, you know I am a Muslim don't provoke my heart by words of mouth and behavior. are you getting me? I should know you are a Christian, I should respect you, respect your din, the first din. I should not utter a provocative statement and actions. I should avoid provocative statements and actions. I will just call you, Islam is the religion oh, don't die as a Christian oh, do not enter fire oh, whatever oh. Then you also you are calling, you call me in a good way, good manner. So we should not fight. Are you getting me?

KD11 [37471-37785]

Well I think this is not unconnected with the economy of the country, issues that have to do with poverty, education and the welfare of the citizens. These are the obstacles. Once these things are sorted out, I think once these things are being sorted out, there won't be any conflict between these two religions.

KD12 [43002-43349]

Hmm to harmonize things presently in Nigeria with the Christians, is only, as Sardauna ha said that the Muslims in the north, the Christians in the south we are under one nation is only that we have to know our differences, when we know our differences, we can harmonize things, but where the harmony cannot occur means we have to go differently.

KD13 [21095-21443]

The only thing I can say is still the issue of illiteracy within the two parties, the two religions, the teachings they have there, you see, there are descent people who knows the scripture and there are also illiterates who doesn't even know what the scripture is saying, but because of the love they have for their religion things are mixed up.

KD14 [26400-26678]

I could think the main thing is that everybody, the main obstacles is that those that are trying to put in their political ambition into religion the main things for the Muslims and the Christians is to go back and stick to their books because no religion practice conflict.

KD15 [34454-34626]

As I said earlier on all this is just self interest by hiding under the umbrella of Islam or religion to achieve their aim through politics, so all is just self interest.

KD16 [22115-22169]

Religious politics is one of it and the major truth

KD17 [62246-62773]

One is the disparity in religion whereby one person is trying to put the other person's religion in danger, of course I will not be happy whereby I cannot practice the religion, my religion the way I ought to, so with time there will be that anger for me to go and fight and then retaliatory attack will come and then there will be conflict whereby politics especially, our politicians use religion as a basis for politics for their own self ambition which is the main key for all the conflict we are having here in the north.

KD19 [42462-43250]

Well, those things that are obstacles are many, but let me just list some. You see, the type of preaching, we do we need to change it. As long as we preach and we do not tell followers of other religions the good side of Islam, we will continue to have problems with them. The relationship will not be harmonious. Then secondly, our acts and conducts needs to be improved upon eh sometimes eh a non-Christian who is a habitual drinker will find it difficult to believe you when he sees you as a Muslim you all end up in a in a drinking bar. So he will tend to look at you with suspicion and yet everyday you keep calling him a drunkard that drinking is prohibited and you endorse it, so for the relationship to be harmonious we need to preach the religion as it is and show good conduct.

KD20 [37267-38037]

Ah I think we have many obstacles that eh the Christians, their pastors, they are the obstacles. The Muslims too they have their own problems, because in churches you will see some pastors they will be spoiling the minds of their followership against Muslim and you will see some eh some Muslim scholars they will be poisoning their the children of their mind against Christian and that is the major obstacle we are having, then another obstacle I think we have is the political, is our political leader especially when the election is coming they will go to their own people and tell them all these lies against other people who is not their, who does not belong to their religion. So they use to do this so these are the obstacles that use to cause the problems, yes.

KD21 [35424-35910]

I think there has always been lack of trust, lack of understanding and then we have succeeded in not checkmating the activities of our scholars. They have succeeded in eh propagating negative information about the religion. They kept doing it time and time and time and time over again until they have won the hearts of their followers. These are actually part of the obstacles to the harmonious relation, harmonious relationship between the Muslims and Christians in northern Nigeria.

KD23 [33032-33229]

So the obstacles to this is that ah politicians are the instruments for all these irregularities, so if we follow the teachings of our religions the way it is, so there will be no ah any conflict.

KD24 [93114-93736]

They should be careful with politicians because what we know and we see and we are still make, trying to be careful about is the politicians are those that use to intervene, enter here and enter there, send money here and send money there try, to correlate and bring problem within, create some hypocrites that can take the news from here send it there spread it in the internet, Facebook, WhatsApp, things like that before you notice they will not know who is the first one that placed that thought, before the mention, they follow to know who is the first, who is the first, they kill three hundred people or thousands.

KD25 [101531-101590]

Eh lack of understanding, misconception and ah impatience.

KD25 [101749-101781]

Politicking of the politicians.

KD26 [37661-37896]

I think the number one obstacle we have is this issue of terrorism, militancy. I think if we can surmount that whatever then we can learn to live with each other and try to overlook some things then we can surmount those differences.

KD27 [36518-36940]

I think basically it is just that we are toooooo-well in a way you can put it and encompass them in one or two sentences: political power, the need to dominate but then I have never seen anywhere in the world where a minority, a minority seeks to dominate a majority. It is not done. There are only-the majority rules with minority rights. The rights of the minority are always protected. That is what Islam is all about.

KD28 [46058-46538]

Like I have earlier said the only obstacle is the understanding, the knowledge especially in the Muslims because the Muslims once you have the knowledge and you know your role as a Muslim what you understand in the Islamic aspect and your hadith or whatever, or the Qur'an the hadith everything you know that the Bible as it is if not now that it has been tampered with, all are completed in the Qur'an and you have the knowledge you tell them on what...this is the only obstacle.

KD29 [29588-29737]

Well what I think ah that ah use to go through to be a barrier to Christian and Muslim relationship is on all honesty we should check our preachers.

KD30 [56328-56587]

I think it should be politics because politics with good politics and if politicians will not use eh religion as a tool to achieve what they want and educate the people, I don't think there is any problem that is gonna be between the Muslims and Christians.

KD31 [26228-26303]

The only thing that is obstacle is just political interests, nothing more.

KD32 [39784-40000]

Eh the lack of tolerance, that is intolerance between interfaith, misunderstandings of one's religion eh injustice, trying to deny some people their rights because of their own religion, this are the basic things.

KD33 [33716-33798]

Lack of true understanding of the true teachings of both Christianity and Islam.

KD34 [43114-43139]

In one word the leaders.

KD35 [41271-41505]

The so called imams, the so called pastors and the non-knowledgeable preachers, the fake Muslims, the fake Christians, you know there are fake Muslims, there are fake Christians, they don't abide by the word physically but verbally.

KN1 [88331-88619]

Ignorance, lack of sincerity and oppression from the leadership because both religions as I told you both or most of those that are engaged in those kind of activities are not even sound religiously they don't even understand their religion, they don't know the position of the religion.

KN2 [49887-49900]

Politicians

KN2 [49981-50283]

That is the main and only, politicians. If I say ignorance, the politicians take the ignorance for granted. Even in the past there was that mass ignorance but there was no conflict because the ignorance have not been provoked. It is only when the ignorance is provoked that people will act or react.

KN4 [62634-62691]

Justice, there is just justice, corruption and poverty.

KN5 [40403-40463]

Ahh enlightenment and ahh sentiment by the religious leader

KN6 [48697-49349]

So, this is the only answer that already I repeat it, so it is the level of illiteracy we should remove it, we should to remove all our grudges, we should do justice, justice, justice and we should follow our teaching of the religion. If we follow the teaching of Quran and the teaching of the prophet Mohammed (SAW) we would treat those Christian ah in a good manner, we would treat our people but now see, not only ah we cannot, ah I cannot say the Muslim treat it ah the Christian badly and those even among the Muslim between Muslim and Muslim, they can treat themselves badly so this is the issue of misunderstanding of total ah Islamic teaching.

KN7 [43133-43950]

Well ehm, the things I think are obstacles are; the number one thing is the political activity, the political settings that exist even within the society and number two ah, the so called Islamic extremist that are clerics, they call themselves clerics and ehm they feel yes they can come into the society and inculcate, inculcate other followers, their followers with their ideology and ehm, this, I think I think ehm clerics tends more to influence even ehm Islamic extremist this days. And then in way or the other, they advise or let me say, they welcome crisis as a way of welcoming people to the way of Islam. So, I think ehm, checking into, maybe creating institutions that would, that would serve as a check and balance within the society ehm would be more of, would be more useful and more of advantage, yes.

KN8 [40228-40609]

I think is ehm, lack of understanding, you understand, and low level of perseverance, you understand, on the side of the Muslims in northern region, you understand. Lack of the word of Allah, you understand, not having adequate understanding of what the Qur'an is saying because Qur'an doesn't preach violence, I think you understand, and other factors that might be responsible.

KN9 [35343-35653]

Most of the things that are obstacles are they still rely on greediness and some political gain of the leaders of these two religious groups, you understand, and basically most of these people have their hidden agendas behind whatever they do. So I think these are the factors that actually contribute to this.

KN10 [30092-30622]

If ah anyone can try to learn the ah the knowledge of his religion it can help because if you go through the books, all of the books, you may find that they are always teaching ah the how you can peacefully live together among each other. So once they have the knowledge, I don't think-all such word that causes such crisis whatever, is just some that lack that knowledge that use to cause such crisis but those that are educated well educated within them they don't have, they are not participating in such crisis or condition.

KN11 [37691-38050]

Firstly is ignorance, because most of us are ignorant of our religions ah be it Christians or a Muslims. You find out that a Christian doesn't even know what the Bible, what his book teaches about likewise Muslim. You find out a Muslim doesn't know what is the teaching of Quran, what is the teaching of his prophet Mohammed (SAW) so there must be a problem.

KN13 [40939-41137]

Hmm, I think ehm the major thing that are just harmonious, you said harmonious? I have said it earlier, that it is the communication, is as a result of there should be good communication channels.

KN14 [34617-35113]

Free of worshipping. Muslims should be allowed to perform their religion and the Christians ah should be also should also be allowed to perform their religion and the positions, and ah the positions, the appointment should be based on the population, therefore, what I mean based on the population, that based on the percentage of the population, for example, if we have 50% Muslims and the Christians 50%, the appointment should be 50/50 likewise if the ahhhh population increases or decreases.

KN15 [27937-28131]

I think it is just the misunderstanding between the two religions that is the Muslims and the non-Muslims so they find it difficult to understand each other at times, so this is what you know...

KN16 [17273-17349]

It is just misunderstanding between two religions, just a misunderstanding.

KN17 [33814-33866]

I think communication barriers and ah propaganda.

KN17 [34111-34482]

eah lack of proper communication there is ah like for example they might actually bring ah an idea that we heard so so so some Christians sects saying so so so or abusing the prophet Muhammad (SAW) which they are not sure and they might start killing of some Christians in another place, so this is lack of proper communication. There are no good communication channels.

KN18 [56563-56842]

That lack of tolerance and respect for each ones religion. If Christians will respect and tolerate Muslims and his religious ah ah recognise his religion and religious practices well and so also Muslims to respect ah Christians, allow them to practice their religion, it's normal

KN19 [37398-37671]

Lack of understanding, lack of patience, lack of accommodation, low level of ah ah low level of literacy, you understand, as well as lack of a good economic standard, because a good person that is living comfortably will not even want to ensure a conflict or disagreement.

KN20 [28612-28781]

The first think is the government itself, the government has to come down to the level of both religion and try not to really support one religion if you are a Muslim.

KN20 [28962-29114]

The selfish interest of both religions is always the obstacle, the reason with one religion to grow wider than the other one that is just the obstacle.

KN21 [19997-20059]

As I said earlier on, greed, hatred, selfishness, that's all.

KN22 [40384-41154]

It is corruption and bad governance in leadership. Yes and I can translate this, you know, though it is a religious question but ah it is just corruption because it has already taken all the fabrics of the society. So, because of corruption in place, the religion's faithful don't even know about their religion, they don't even know the true teaching about their religion. For instance, Muslims- the doctrine for Muslims is peace and the doctrine for Christianity is mercy. Then how can somebody that is advocating for peace and somebody that says no, whatever these do, let's have mercy on him, fight. They cannot fight. So it is just the political and these political officers have enshrined corruption into our society to the extent we no longer think about religion.

KN23 [25835-25852]

Selfish interest,

KN24 [24527-24547]

That would be greed

KN25 [38908-39140]

Well I think the basic obstacle here is lack of accommodation. These two religious groups find it difficult to accommodate each other. I think this is a very big problem. If it is not solved it will go a long way in causing chaos.

KN26 [44428-44661]

Justice and fairness by all parties and the state at the center is very important. Muslims should be just and fair, Christians should be just and fair but more importantly the government should be just and fair in dealing with all.

KN27 [32537-32682]

Well hmmm one of the obstacles that is affecting the relationship between Muslims and Christians in northern Nigeria, I think it is sentiments.

KN28 [24355-24507]

I think I have come across this before and it is just talking about the political, socio-cultural and economic values which everyone actually is after.

KN30 [21654-21769]

Ahm the basic thing is religious opinions, you understand, but once that is tackle, there will be less conflicts.

KN31 [42529-42876]

It is just allowing everybody to practice his religion like I said, understanding each other and try to overlook some things because just like we said that conflict is inevitable because what I want may not be what you want. But trying to understand each other and avoid or do away with some certain things. I think it is what will be the solution ahh you see Kabiru you are just repeating this questions, I have answered this questions before I said that greed and lack of understanding and of course the inability of the both follows of the two religions to understanding religions as it is.

KN32 [20923-21169]

KN33 [15235-15286]

The activities of political and religious leaders.

KN34 [29362-29452]

One is injustice, secondly the elite, third the political class. These are the obstacles.

KN35 [27643-27947]

Main things is their religious intolerance and we do not respect each other's so we do not care for other people's welfare, so all this things can always continue to be problems for all likewise the activities of political leaders and elites in the northern part of Nigeria are also part of the factors.

KN36 [27197-27611]

The first thing is the political class that is operating because they are always hiding under the umbrella of religion: Muslim religion or Christian religion. And when they get to there- they continue diverting people's resources without fighting there, but when they come back to do their campaign they use religion to serve as a medium of disagreement between Muslims and non-Muslims which is not an ideal way.

KN37 [25340-25678]

I think the lack of justice, as I have said, you see, according to the eighteenth century scholar late Sheik Usman bin Danfodio, he said a kingdom can survive by unbelief but it cannot survive by injustice, so for every relationship to succeed harmoniously, justice needs to be applied and they will live harmonious by the grace of God.

KN38 [19853-20240]

I think one of the biggest hindrance to this is politics, politicians nowadays try to use religion through scholars, pastors and Imams I will not lie to achieve their dreams and create misunderstandings and conflicts so as to enable them reach to positions where they want to reach for their selfish interest. So I think this is one of the biggest problems we are having in the country.

KN39 [29822-30310]

Actually the the problem which led to we Muslims and non-Muslims having experiencing problems actually is sometimes lack of religious knowledge because as we have said earlier really Islamic religion has taught us economic, religious and social and the political way of life. Therefore, we have being taught to live a peaceful life with those non-Muslims. Therefore, I see it being actually wrong for those Muslims that are not, for example, being sociable to those that are non-Muslims.

KN40 [23636-23716]

One among the obstacles is their resources, also power and also land and so on.

KN41 [20482-20698]

I think politics is part of it and what is so called lordly minded as in feeling like my religion is superior to my counterpart. I think this can be classified as an obstacle to harmonious relationship between them.

KN42 [53541-53670]

Discrimination and feeling of superiority and they just have this feeling that they are more superior than the other religions.

KN43 [39215-39504]

One, disrespect of each other's religion. Two, ignorance very important. Ignorance contributes to most of the ethno-religious conflicts in northern Nigeria. Thirdly, misunderstanding, there is a need for the followers of the two religions to understand each other. This is very important.

KN45 [47620-48006]

Hmm, to me ehh, the obstacle is ehh for everybody to be objective especially the religious and the political leaders. They should say the truth without any sentiment to their followers. To me if political leaders are religious leaders did this, then there would be no problem. But if they do the opposite then the problem would persist and we don't know when this would come to an end.

KN46 [68559-70672]

They are many. The obstacles are number one, I keep repeating it-leadership, I mean political leadership. Two: religious leadership itself. The leaders of both religions do not encourage their followers to relate with others in a way that we all desire to achieve. So I think religious leadership must be open and also we need to be, religious leaders need to be, not only behind the curtains, no. Muslims should be visiting; Muslim leaders should be visiting Christian leaders, not only at political level because we have that, at religious level. We would like to see some Imams visiting some pastors and reverends in their churches discussing with them just like we want to see pastors and reverend visiting Imams in their mosques to discuss issues that are affecting their followers. By doing that the tension would be doused and the followers would start to understand that what unite them and what bring them together are higher and greater than what brings them apart and they would start learning from their leaders. Without ahh having this in place, this suspicion would be there and it would remain. In fact some certain religious leaders ahh will be promoting this suspicion because they have interest in that. So I think anybody, whether is a Muslim or a Christian, who is ah ah ah who have any utterances which stand in the way of having this harmonious coexistence should be ah prosecuted. I am not calling for separation of freedom of expression, but freedom of expression should have a limit, you cannot come and utter things that will cause disturbances then and state looks ah ahh folds its arms and looks at you just like that without ah having, calling ah without calling that person to order. I don't like this idea of freedom of expression. Freedom of expression should be exercised with a responsibility and government should use its ahh apparatus to address that. Any religious leader who utters or who engages in any ah utterances that would lead to destroying the harmonious or the harmony or the peace that exists between the followers of religion should be ah brought to ah justice.

KN47 [63667-63799]

The obstacles is that we don't really see ourselves as one, that is a big obstacle that we don't see ourselves as one, that is it.

KN48 [21961-21989]

Intolerance by the society.

KN49 [32584-32668]

Bad governance and greedy politicians and corruption, endemic corruption actually.

KN50 [19359-19380]

Ahh, bad governance.

KN52 [66137-66671]

Well I think, like I have mentioned earlier, to ignorance of the religions on both sides, Muslims or some of the Muslims who do this do not properly understand Christianity and Christians who paint Islam as terrorist religion do not understand Islam. So education should be I mean is a very important instrument through which we can remedy this problem. But I think also the manipulation of religion by politicians as well as the way and manner in which some religious leaders handle religious preaching, struggling for converts, etc.

KN54 [14303-14328]

It is misunderstanding.

KN55 [17124-17451]

Ok I also answered a similar question to this. The obstacles that's the problem that brings misunderstanding, if I get the question right, that brings misunderstanding between the Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria are bad leaders, bad leadership from our leaders, mismanagement, corruption, illiteracy and the rest

KN56 [29754-29976]

Actually obstacles to harmonious relationship between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria, like I said earlier, they are misunderstanding, lack of tolerance, corruption, lack of knowledge and to mention but a few

KN57 [23931-24002]

I mentioned it and I would mention it again, our leaders, our leaders

KN58 [52382-52804]

Yah there is kind of what we call stigma that is created between the two and hatred. Religious leaders especially the Christian religious leaders always preach and instill hatred in the heart of their followers of Muslims. Whatever problems they are having or crisis they are having, it is we Muslims that cause it. So that instilling of hatred is what leads to the series of problems that we are having with Christians.

KN59 [59446-60069]

The obstacle to me now is basically the method our cleric men do preach because honestly they are the cause of all conflict in the state because whenever they preach conflict then definitely their followers must adhere to that conflict and they might see other people that are not in their faith as their enemy. So whenever a preacher or a cleric man preaches peace that you should take your non-Muslim, your non-Christian as your brother, then definitely they might, they would accept his ideology and doctrine. So they are the promoters of peace and they are the promoters of conflict because we do follow them strongly.

KN60 [40358-40411]

I said politics and I am still repeating politics.

KN61 [21562-21614]

Is understanding, hmm if they can understand, fine.

KN62 [66531-68357]

The, the, the hypocrites, you understand that, there are hypocrites, there are, let's say eh, agents that work under the devil himself. These agents are the people that have been fanning the fire, yes, they have been fanning the fire. They have been instigating one, let's say, the Muslims, both the Muslims and Christians to go against each other. And an example is this book, Who is this Allah? Is Allah the God of the Bible by G.J.O Moshe? If you look at this book, if you read this book, you will see that of course there are people who work for the devil. They are neither Christians nor Muslims. They just put the two heads, put the two, let's say camps at loggerheads and they know that they cannot earn their lives, maybe, without these conflicts. But through this conflict they get money. Let me tell you eh this is not a kind of ahh ah conspiracy or conspiratorial something, but we generally believe in the fact that in the world, there are some people who work tirelessly in the night in order to see that ah eruptions, conflict, wars erupts between two parties. It is only through that war and conflicts that they earn their living. They sell weapons, one, and after selling weapons, they ahh, what do you call it, they get contracts to rebuild the destructed the destroyed places. There are people like that, (interjections: that is what we call in the political science the military industrial complex), ahan we have that. (We have them and they are residing in their majority in the western ... countries), very good Russia, (United States, Germany and the rest), and they still have their agents down here, yah. So that is what I believe. So these people, if we can get these people, if we can find them, if we can get rid of them, then we will all live harmoniously, peacefully ever after as in cartoons.

KN63 [57443-58273]

You know, for now I don't think there is so many impediments as such between Muslims and Christians. In fact every, merely everything we are doing together today, talk of it huh, the only thing I can say really is not even possible is that maybe marriage huh, huh, I cannot, I cannot ah no, no, no even though it is even happening ... you know so but you know in fact almost everything today we doing everything together, almost everything, we are doing everything together. And today, what I can only advise is that to be more proper understanding of oneself and more proper understanding of one's religion. If you know that this thing is not good for this particular set of religion you don't have to be, even though I am not a follower of that religion, I should try to abide by it, I shouldn't abuse it, something like that.

KN64 [31792-32007]

Problem is with the, is politics all. If you want to have this harmonious relationship between Christians and Muslims, all should respect hmm, the other's religion, all religions should respect the other religion.

KN65 [41193-41223]

Enlightenment, enlightenment.

KN66 [28308-28789]

Ahh, the things that are obstacles are, are is majorly that causes this crisis is majorly the ah sorry, the obstacle mostly is this conspiracy which is mostly political and lack of understanding with some Christians and non-Muslims ahh Muslims and non-Muslims who are not patient of situations just like the example of in Zaria where churches were being attacked, immediately some impatient Christians blocked the road and start killing Muslims. so this is one of the main reason.

KN66 [29064-29162]

The conspiracy is both internally, externally, political, lack of understanding, just mention them

KN67 [30355-30804]

Actually, it is the issue of knowledge. People should learn, at least should learn both the two religions. If you learn what is in your own religion, you should also open your mind and learn from other religions, from that you can also know that your religion is better or not. So I think this are some of the things that ah we are not doing. We don't open your mind, open our minds to do that. If we do that, I think all obstacles will be removed.

KN68 [14418-14454]

We have religious misunderstanding.

KN69 [55354-55687]

Meaning that there are obstacles. To harmonize the relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims, particularly in northern Nigeria, is because of lack of understanding. If I say understanding maybe we have so many cultures, you have so many things, you are expected to value it and somebody who is not a Muslim is expected to value.

KN71 [84786-84844]

The churches and the Ulamas, the politicians, the press.

KN72 [44795-44940]

Yes, the only obstacle is lack of tolerance, lack of sincerity, and the lack of eh what we should eh lack of trust issue, yes, and trust issue.

KN73 [45214-45289]

It is politics. Politics is a great obstacle for harmonious relationship.

KN74 [55207-55775]

Ehh eh now in Christian, in northern Nigeria, the problem is that there is a lot of organizations of Christians that were exaggerating many things that if the Muslim people were not exercising patience many things would will happen, but the to my perception the most of the crisis or eh that most of the obstacles are the politics, that is are the politics, you find out that most of Christian leaders use to participate in politics and using such kind of opportunities to ehhh to make some statement that might create a conflict between a Muslims and a non-Muslims.

KN75 [60022-60279]

stians and Muslims in northern Nigeria?

Ans: One of the obstacle if boko-haram because the Christians believe that the Muslims are the boko-haram, boko-haram emanated from the Muslims, so because of that, they have that stigma that they put on the Muslims.

KN76 [50539-51602]

Well there are many things that may hinder harmonious relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria. First and foremost is for the right of all to practice their religion regardless of where they come from and regardless of where they are and find themselves. And secondly is for the authorities to address certain socio-economic issues that is the need to empower a lot of communities: Christians and Muslims where those communities are at disadvantage, economically and educationally by promoting the economy of the people, the education of the people and many other things would come, well and many other aspect of their lives would ease in such a way that there, we may attain harmonious relationship between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria. All I am saying is that we need to know why, by knowing why what are the social and economic consequences of these conflicts and how do we address them by addressing those socio-economic issues, then we can be able to attain harmonious relationship between the Muslims and non-muslims.

KN76 [51674-52035]

The obstacles of this harmonious relationship first and foremost is the seriousness and level of our government first, seriousness on the part of our government and that seriousness can be seen first that some people ah may take arms against other people and those people remain unpunished. So that encourages other people to do it. Secondly there may be some.

KN76 [52368-52812]

That is what I am saying, it is mistrust and you can't have that trust without addressing the origin of the problem. There is no way you can clear an obstacle without tracing the origin, the origin is only when you understood the problem that you can have a solution. What I am saying is the solution, the solution to obstacles lies with knowing the origin of the conflict, when you know the origin, origin then you can prescribe the solution.

KN76 [52930-53660]

The origin I told you is socio-economic, you have to address this socio-economic issues for you to have harmonious relationship, I cited the example of ahh ZangonKataf, I cited the example of Plateau state, I cited the example of ahh Kano state and many other places in Nigeria. So when you look at all these places and the conflicts that occur in those places and the reasons behind the occurrence of those conflicts, then you can have a solution to the problem. Actually the major obstacle is for us to know the origin of the problem and to be serious about addressing the problem. If you talk of major obstacle I can say lies all with seriousness of a constituted authorities to address the issue, is the major obstacle to me.

KN78 [68095-68189]

Poverty, intolerance, poverty, intolerance, insecurity, intolerance not tolerance, intolerance

KN80 [50739-50828]

Yes the inability of both the religions to follow the right teaching of living together.

KN81 [36671-36706]

I think it is religious conflicts.

KN82 [35490-35508]

Gaskiya politics

KN82 [35570-35733]

politicians will never allow this religion to harmonize, they must, they are trying to keep them apart, be parallel with one another because of political reason.

KN83 [28077-29105]

Well I think I have to categorize this into two or three factors. So number one, there is abject poverty in the area, so you know at times if you are living, if you don't have anything to eat, you don't have anything to spend, so therefore you will be easily tempted. So I think there is a condition of economic, we don't have ah our economy is getting low we don't have source of income, we don't have jobs that is why I think we have this kind of, first I can relate this problem to economic situation, economic hardship. And then secondly, is the issue of illiteracy. You know most of the northerners, almost about forty percent are illiterates.

Yes even the religious, we are illiterates, we don't even know our what-both the Muslims and the Christians, they do not even master their religious beliefs, so because we do not understand what our religion is teaching us. So that is why we are, that is why Christians may be thinking that every Christian is above a Muslim and Muslim is-we are all have this kind of things.

KN84 [30899-31270]

I think ahh there is what we call lack of creativity, there us that and secondly, there is selfish interest, selfishness, you know as a Muslim I will just consider all the Muslims are good while if someone is a Christian, you just consider all Christians are good and Muslims are bad. Me I will just say we should just avoid using expression of words chen to ourselves.

KN85 [45008-45364]

Yes, the activities of our political are religious leaders. They always want to create division and take advantage of that division. That is the obstacles, the people themselves understand each other, they want to live in peace, they want to live harmoniously, but these leaders are causing the division and they are taking the advantage of the division.

ZA1 [44316-44452]

A'a what do I think, is corruption. So please let us eliminate corruption totally you will see all these things are no more on ground.

ZA2 [57805-58119]

You see when you look at, I was saying something, is lack of emm understanding, you don't understand, you don't know my, lack of you knowing the religion is number one. People don't know their religion. And another thing is not understanding the right of one another. People don't give people their legal right.

ZA3 [35019-35063]

Lack of trust and confidence on most of us

ZA4 [54216-54885]

Actually we need to make sure we have the good understanding of each other, you understand, and know that they are friends, neighbors, we are their friends and their neighbors and live in harmony for the progress and development of the country because we are in the same country. We said we are one Nigeria, so there should be that unity, you understand, yes because there is no how you can achieve development without unity, unity in the sense that the Muslims and Christians are one in terms of their all the opportunities that is going to be given to each and everyone, know that everyone has his own freedom to practice his beliefs and no one should be suppressed.

ZA5 [37691-37941]

The obstacles that I see are like, between Muslims and Christians in Nigeria is just, it is just the politics between, this are politics, is the politics, is the introduction of politics that is what is bringing up this thing into the whole issues.

ZA6 [81203-81625]

The mentality that mentality we have that this religion is superior to this eh is not to a good one. We should all try to live together as one hmm, but the major thing, the major setback in northern Nigeria is the political leaders. They do, they use all means to make sure they manipulate the people based on religion. If they should stop that, I don't think there will be conflicts of religion in the northern Nigeria.

ZA7 [46077-47173]

Well like I said political, political influence, interest is one of the reasons because people who want to impose their selfish desires on others and that is better done by politicians. And secondly, historical past, you understand, historical past in the sense that I think there was one time I was discussing such, about such issues, about crisis with someone from Jos, he said most of these things happened due to the way some of the Muslims treated their forefathers before now, ehm you know some of the Muslims have very bad way of ehm of talking, sometimes they call them Arna some words unbelievers, infidel, hell goers and whatever, so most of these grandparents or forefathers of theirs have told them the stories and I think if you are the one that have been told such stories over and over, you tend to hate this people, this set of people that have said that to your forefathers and also their beliefs which is of course their religion. So I think it is basically one of the, one of the many reasons that is being obstacle to day and probably will be in the future if not resolved.

ZA8 [86086-86105]

Political agendas

ZA9 [49160-49495]

Well apart from tolerance, selfishness. Selfishness is the big problem we are having too. Illiteracy is there too. The corruption, even corruption is there when the leader is corrupt just because he belongs to your religion, we tend to like cover him up or to support him or to justify him, his reason for being corrupt or something.

ZA10 [40731-40802]

Our medium of disseminating our religion, our Medium of communication.

ZA11 [35342-35357]

The teachings.

ZA12 [22226-22379]

I think it is the way and manner the people that preach about the two religions, the way and manner they go about it, so it is just their understanding.

ZA13 [23319-23602]

I think one, basically is understanding, understanding of both religions will harmonize the relationship and understanding, once we understand, we know the limits we can go to, where we stay...that's one thing that will bring harmony. Everybody should stay within his own restriction.

ZA14 [32523-33373]

Yes the obstacles is just like hmm let me say, if I may look at it this way, the obstacle that there is no cordial relationship between the two of them, there is no understanding between the two of them that is between the Christians and the Muslims, if there is proper understanding a think they will like, they will be in harmony with each other. There is some order like Muslims, they say that there is no blind follower in Islam because when so ever a scholar say something, you are allowed to question him, but in Christianity there are some people that are like ok what their pastor say they can't question it, is just like the word of God that you cannot question it, which is not possible because of that they use that one as in something that ok they will use it against the Muslims and the Muslims we will not allow that thing to happen.

ZA15 [33034-33074]

When everyone is given his due rights.

ZA16 [24291-24457]

One, is the way, is the way we teach, the way the Muslims teach and the way the Christians teach their followers. Two, is the understanding of each other's religion.

ZA17 [30895-30966]

Selfish interest, ignorance, selfish interest that the main...actually.

ZA18 [36798-36867]

Ok you see, lack of proper understanding of one another's religion.

ZA19 [55285-55872]

Ah there are so many things which were seen to be obstacles for harmonious relationships between Christians and Muslims in the northern Nigeria, among which there is this issue of vested interest by the political elites. Most of the political elites use this insurgency to siphon money, to accumulate an appropriate and expropriate money for their own personal gains, so when you eradicate this vested interest or you minimize it, definitely there will be a certain achievement in times of peaceful coexistence between the Muslims and the Christians in the northern part of the country.

ZA20 [36910-37301]

Fortunately enough I have answered the question. If the present political climate, the very political atmospheric condition we are now, if it is sustained and maintained by the present leader under the hand figure of Muhammadu Buhari I believe Nigeria will be good. A Muslim will give a Christian a seat to sit. Likewise Christian will give a Muslim a seat to sit unlike how it was before.

ZA21 [41434-41819]

It is interest, political interest for this matter. If Muslims should look at it from the angle that our Christians are friends they are just people like us who we can eat we can do that, we can dine together, the same thing that applies to time immemorial then there should be harmonious relationship. And that leaders should lead people with justice, fair play and equal treatment.

ZA22 [35555-36090]

Misunderstanding. Some Christians really misunderstood what Islam teaches and according to a source, but I don't know its authenticity, they say they are pastors, they are the ones igniting such a fire like I challenge everybody, anybody in this world let him go to any mosque if he hears any imam preaching against non-Muslim that he should forward that he should not have that relationship with them, but in churches we heard severally that the pastors use to incite their followers that they should be careful with us. So I know.

ZA23 [43089-43318]

It is the present political dispensation. That is the only thing I am looking at because people use to hide behind the masquerade of politics and they are bringing disunity among the people using Islam or using Christianity.

ZA24 [55631-56329]

It is politics, politics and property. Property in essence that some people can create problems now and when there is problem; they will hide under the umbrella of religion in order to enrich themselves. So if there is no property, there is going to be cordial relationship or if politicians have not polluted our minds to hate ourselves there is going to be cordial relationship. But the main the main of it is poverty. If there is conflict now some people will go and loot people's shops, they loot their properties and take it to their own house. So those people they will find all ways to create conflicts. So therefore I will appeal to government to eradicate poverty in the northern states.

ZA25 [57380-57967]

Well those things that constitute obstacles; one-ignorance of the teachings of Islam as I have said. Two-ignorance about the scope of Islam. Three- We have so many non-practicing Islam yes they are ignorant as well as non-practicing and there are those that the extent to which they know they don't practice as much that is they are hypocritical and hence once the beauty of Islam is not exhibited, it is not manifested to non-Muslims, the non-Muslims will continue to view Islam as a religion or as a religion of barbarism, terrorism and what have you and backwardness which it is not.

ZA26 [25059-25087]

Corrupt political leaders.

ZA27 [25178-25248]

Number one: politics. Number two: true understanding of the religion.

ZA28 [39730-40152]

Well as we all know what we hear from those people we truly believe they will tell us the truth and those people we really respect is definitely what—whatsoever they tell us that is what we decree into our minds and we hold it fast to see that we use that as our tool to run our daily lives. So I think if there is proper preaching, truth, telling the followers truth both religions I think there is going to be harmony.

ZA29 [55318-55511]

That is the misunderstanding of their own religions, self and at the same time selfishness and the selfish interest of the preachers like I said and the people they believe they know the truth.

ZA30 [66962-66981]

Agree politicians.

ZA31 [36945-37059]

Is only religion differences and if we can be able to solve it, both religions can be united and live peacefully.

ZA32 [71545-72036]

As I made mentioned, above that there are some obstacles like political issues, lack of an abiding by the provisions, the rules and regulations provided by the two religions. Muslims, some Muslims are not abiding by the real teaching of Islam as well as non-Muslims, almost and, almost all of them do not abide by the provisions of what, of the Christianity. For example, their dressing and other things, they are not even allowed to move nakedly, but they do it and other things like that.

ZA33 [34224-34621]

The only obstacle or barriers that hinder the coexisting harmony that exists between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria is lack of trust. Lack of trust that have been inculcated in them by the politicians and misinterpretation the various doctrines that is the preachers preach what is not to some extent in their books rather they preach selfish interest thereby hindering that harmony.

ZA34 [54309-55027]

One, sometimes the religious leaders. The way the religious leaders are teaching their disciples is a problem. They put desire in their hearts. Two, even the way the followers are receiving the knowledge of the religion, sometimes it is half baked. You see somebody who is not knowledgeable now boasting to become a mallam or a pastor. Three, look at our settlements before and now. Before, as I said, Christian neighbors a Muslim, a Muslim neighbors a Christian but now Christians on their side, Muslims on their side. That is a problem. Unless we come together, know our differences, know our needs and know our aspirations, so that we can protect each and others need and aspirations, we can't live together.

ZA35 [24721-24813]

Their problem is based on religion hmmm it one another, is on religious basis and culture.

ZA36 [37839-37850]

Hypocrisy

ZA37 [41459-41548]

It is just interest, personal interest because everything is clear to each and everybody

ZA38 [49773-49849]

It is misunderstanding and our politicians have not being helping matters.

ZA39 [61393-62622]

The current challenges that we are, both the Muslims and the Christians, are facing in Nigeria and especially in northern Nigeria where religious conflict is rampant or is more common is that people first of all should be educated about the actual position or about the true religion, the practice of the religion, true practice of the religion of both religion, Christian and the Islam. First of all people should be educated, they should seek knowledge, understand their limits, understand the true teachings of the religion, one. Number two, if this is done it would help them to understand the maneuver, the methods, the connivance of the politicians, both the Muslim and the Christian politician connive to encourage divide and rule system among the northern or among the people in Nigeria. So if this thing is done and also it would assist both the Muslims and the Christians if sound education, though sound education of the religions are acquired, is acquired to make them to understand that top priorities that is social amenities, their expectations, job creations, health care system, all other things that are supposed to be provided by them, would assist them in promoting peaceful coexistence among themselves.

ZA39 [62764-63040]

The ignorance about the religions, we don't understand, when a Muslim doesn't know how to treat a non-Muslim or how to treat a Christian and when a Christian does not know the actual teaching of Christianity, definitely it would aggravate more problems in the relationship.

Th18.3: Desire to Convert Muslims as Source of Conflicts

KD1 [52708-53150]

That's true in some cases because we have seen them come into some villages, just come to plait their hair, give them sweets and biscuits, give them little clothes and they want to change their beliefs. But that shouldn't be a source of conflict, it's an option, it's a case of like marketing, I sell something to you, am advertising something to you, it is either you accept to buy it or you refuse to buy it. There is no compulsion in it.

KD2 [23206-23425]

There is no religion that tries to convert anyone to another's faith. So ehm the, attempts to convert one from one faith to another is not a source of conflict in Nigeria especially in the northern part of the country.

KD3 [18946-18950]

No.

KD4 [46106-46138]

I disagree with this assertion.

KD5 [23171-23219]

I don't think so, I don't think so. That's all.

KD6 [37271-37571]

That's what I told you before. Did they force you to come back to their faith? They preached to you, you agreed because of non, you don't have knowledge about Islam. If you as a Muslim, you have true knowledge about Islam, you preach to them also. So, you will now see the one that will come at all.

KD7 [29870-30220]

That is not the conflict that really arises. As I said earlier on, the conflicts that arise between, the problems between Muslims and non-Muslims is a problem of suspicion between each other. We have left our laws and regulations, that is on both sides, we have not been practicing them to the fullest that is what has brought us to these conflicts.

KD8 [53608-54130]

Even in Islam it says la iqraha fid din there is no compulsion religion. All the conflicts that have been going on in northern Nigeria, there has not been any one that is religious. There has not been any one that has to do with conversion and you don't, there is not any Muslim organization, I don't see any Muslim, I don't know of any Muslim organization that is forcing people to convert to Islam that will even lead to violence.

So, this is not even an issue because you don't compel somebody to accept your religion

KD9 [35578-36601]

I can say yes, maybe not the only reason, but majorly yes. I have witnessed, when I was young also, some people that call themselves the Jehovah witness. They will come right to your door and knock on your door, call you out especially on weekends when they know you are not at your work place and then they begin to force their opinion on you as far as their religion is concerned. They will give you books, they would you know and so on and so forth. And they would, even when you indicate that you are not interested, they will want to force their opinion on you, so that is even the softer ones. And then we have seen the situations where, you know, conflict situations, when it gets to conflict situation, there are some areas even within the north where you have population of, larger population of non-Muslims even a Muslims cannot be free staying in that kind of place. You will be thrown out of that kind of enclave, you know, maybe it is mosque is burnt, even within Islamic northern Nigeria. That is serious.

KD10 [29735-29817]

It's not true. No. It is a lie. It is a white lie or black lie eh it is not true.

KD11 [32617-32712]

Well the issue of being converted into a faith is ah I don't think conflict arises from such.

KD12 [34238-34268]

It is not totally acceptable.

KD13 [14623-14765]

You see, what I will say do happen at time is the inability to have education concerning the din if you discover anybody with this attitude.

KD14 [18785-18800]

This is false

KD15 [26563-26899]

Ah in Nigeria ah I think what really happens is just selfish interest and all these political gains ah and whatever. So as I said Islam is peace and there is no where in Qur'an or in Islam that says okay kill your neighbor or achieve, so that you will achieved whatever you want, no. So I don't think that is proper, it is not okay.

KD16 [15775-15795]

I have no comments

KD17 [48497-48816]

Yes I will say that by time you see non-Muslims coming preaching trying to disturb people though they don't even have much knowledge about the Islamic religion, they just have to convince them, try to confuse them to follow the non-Islamic faith, it makes people to be angry and also leads to conflicts most at times.

KD19 [28998-29401]

Well, I don't agree with that because whenever Muslims go to, go on their da'wa program, I don't think they use the word force because they have it at the back of their mind, that aya there is no compulsion in religion. So Muslim maybe through the call through good practices whenever they move within the north, they try as much as possible to convert a lot of people but not through the use of force.

KD20 [23806-23987]

That is no. We are not trying to force anybody into our religion, the causes of the of their fighting is lack of understanding and selfishness and greediness. That is what I think

KD21 [21719-22017]

Yah it does happen, but Allah is the creator if he has ah created both man and jinn for nothing other than to worship him, he has made his laws by sacred and then they have to abide by them. A Muslim is never allowed to convert into Christianity, Buddhism traditional belief or any other belief

KD23 [22962-23020]

No. I did not agree with this, I did not agree with this.

KD24 [70907-71563]

No, in Nigeria what happened in the, this group of ah Christians, evangelicals, they have their own mode of preaching likewise the Muslims have their mode of preaching some of them use to go inside villages, explain their own religion to the people of those village, give them some gifts, explain details to them, their own religion to the people of that people give them some gifts explain in details, if they wish, their king or their head of the village will decide whether to follow and convert to that religion or so. The same thing apply to the Muslims, but I don't think one side is forcing another, one side is forcing another, I don't think that.

KD25 [86990-87443]

Uh to some extent eh yes to some extent yes, but not perfectly ah all eh because ah the ah look at it very well, only few among the Christian clerics that do that, very few in number and I don't believe that ah where the Muslims are dominant eh somebody who is not a Muslim should come and start playing a...group, it is not possible because other Muslims will not just keep a watch or keep watching eyes on him without ah doing something to curb that.

KD26 [25577-25626]

Yes, not in all cases, but yes in some cases.

KD27 [25533-25537]

Yes

KD28 [33401-33803]

It is true because if you are not faithful on whatever, if you don't have the faith in your own religion and you don't understand what you are doing, those who know better than you they have the method to convert to his own side. So during this one who doesn't know they have to use a way of trying to seek you own...so that they can just make you fall prey to them on their own side. That is a factor.

KD29 [20228-20536]

Not at all. There are a lot of misinformed information from the Christian clerics ah to their followers, so that teachings by the clerics use to bring a lot of friction, very negative relationship between the Muslims sometimes and this is what use to bring conflicts between Muslims and Christians in Nigeria

KD30 [35601-36421]

Ahm I don't think that is mostly the problem. Non-Muslims in northern Nigeria ahm get in trouble with ahm Muslims because they try to convert Muslims to their faith, ahm I don't think that is mostly the, what is bringing the uprising mostly in northern part of Nigeria ah there is always very, very good understanding with ah mutual under ahm agreement where ahm a Muslim can always go about and invite a non-Muslim in a simple ah conversation and there are several debates where the Muslims and non-Muslims sit down and talk and convince and try to convince each other on where or how to come and join a particular religion. I think that have never being the problem, the problem is always just the misunderstanding and the ignorance on both the religions, I think and politics, the politicians take advantage of that.

KD31 [19537-19651]

Ah actually that's not the issue, the problem with Muslims and non Muslims in the north like I said is political.

KD32 [27782-28273]

As I have said earlier there are many reasons for the conflicts in the northern Nigeria, there are some that use politics, but under the umbrella of religion for their own selfish political mind. They are using religion to manipulate some things and creating conflicts so most of the conflicts are not about eh forcing some people to accept other different faith, but is just an intolerance of the people majority in the part of the country they lack the tolerance that is just the problem.

KD33 [24665-24797]

No it is not true as I said politics is one of the big role that start creating problems, conflicts between Muslims and non-Muslim.

KD34 [28175-28392]

It is absolutely wrong and not reality. The conflict with, in northern state with non-Muslims is a word of domination, some part will think that the others are trying to dominate them, but not in a religious aspect.

KD34 [28479-28517]

It is has nothing to do with religion

KD35 [27167-27464]

I don't think is true. The cause of the trouble is not that by trying to convert Muslim to non-Muslims like I said previously the trouble comes only when people preaching don't understand what they are doing, they don't know what they are doing, they only preach in accordance to their own ways.

KN1 [59605-59844]

Ok now let me ask a question. You know and you will agree with me that in the southern part of the country the non-Muslims are higher in number why is there conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims? Are the Muslims trying to convert them?

KN1 [59865-60036]

What of Plateau state, the Christians are higher in population and still there is this violence. Are the minority trying to convert the majority? So that is not the case

KN1 [60064-60128]

I don't agree with that one based on my knowledge of the country

KN2 [34406-34590]

No. Muslims are not fighting non-Muslims because they want to convert them, they are fighting them as a result, I told you, as a result of mob action which has a political under tone

KN4 [48935-49225]

No, conflict only arise in the northern Nigeria when perhaps it comes to power, political power but there is no any non-Muslim that impose his religion on Muslim or Muslim impose his religion on Christian, it is conflict of interest to be in government and property that cause the crises.

KN5 [29224-29883]

No it is not as I said it is because of political reason or second, as a result of insult to the prophet or something like that from a non-Muslim to the Muslims. So northern Nigeria being an area that is predominantly inhabited by the Muslims whenever you insult the prophet, the personality of the prophet or something like that it may lead to a conflict between the Muslims and the non-Muslims not because they want to convert ahh you have them going to this villages in Kano state the not-the Gwarzo town, the Albasu, the Sumaila, you have the Christians seriously working to convert people to their faith so that has never been a cause for a conflict.

KN6 [31994-32164]

No, no, no but I say that earlier conflict in northern Nigeria is, is arising as a result of some term politics, as a result of poverty, as a result of illiteracy, etc.

KN7 [30007-30365]

Hmm, yes, no, yes and no. Yes in the sense that they are ehm religion extremist like belief in conflicts is a way and manner by which you can convert Muslims, but I don't think. Well northern Muslims, they, they enjoy seeing people converting though to Islam but not in the sense that in one way the other, by all means convert every non-Muslim to a Muslim.

KN8 [29551-29576]

Yes, I think it is true.

KN9 [26661-26708]

Am I do not have an opinion on this question.

KN10 [20693-20715]

No, is not like that.

KN11 [27334-27574]

No, I disagree with this. The ignorance, first ignorance mostly cause or causes this because most of the northern Nigerians, I will not say majority, majority of them they want to propagate their Islam but they lack tools that is knowledge.

KN13 [30529-30864]

I don't agree with that because definitely it is very, very hard for you to convert uhm whereby you see a Muslim being converted to a non-Muslim. I heard news, we normally see a situation whereby a non-Muslim is being converted to a Muslim. It is very, very difficult for you to hear that a Muslims is being converted to a Christian.

KN14 [24200-24204]

No

KN15 [21316-21380]

They should do it through calling people into Islam I think so.

KN15 [22003-22063]

I think its not because of that, I think that is not true.

KN16 [12219-12249]

No it's not because of that.

KN18 [44607-44868]

Well to some extent its brings where eh in some places it brings, maybe in rural communities because its against the teaching of Islam and ah committing that is committing ah a serious act of violation to Islamic sharia that to convert as a Muslim to convert.

KN19 [27245-27273]

Uh, no it is not correct.

KN20 [20190-20246]

Ah the truth about it is, no no no no is totally wrong.

KN21 [13500-13525]

No I don't believe that.

KN22 [28639-28845]

I did not agree with it because going through the constitution of federal republic of Nigeria there is no where the constitution stated that there should be compulsion in converting to a particular religion

KN23 [18965-19205]

Ah to one extent it is correct because I can remember in Adamawa state there were some preachers who actually, they are Christian preachers, who are going to the Fulani villages for evangelism and they got attacked by some Fulani herdsmen.

KN24 [18406-18425]

No it is not true

KN25 [29525-29554]

Well this is not always true

KN26 [29432-29752]

No. Largely that is not the case, there are some studies that were conducted though I can't quote exactly but I have read literatures that ah-that was some form of ah recent ahh the early nineties-late nineties yes mostly before the return of democracy in 1999 yes, but then largely now, no it doesn't hold much water.

KN27 [22051-22324]

Yes I agree, I agree because even in recent times, even though we are in the north we see Christians going all about with flyers and some people, some Muslims do feel it is an embarrassment for you to collect flyers from Christians or their preachings. So I think it is.

KN28 [17247-17307]

This statement is not correct. I don't think it is correct.

KN29 [3071-3092]

No that is not true

KN30 [16911-16931]

No I don't agree

KN31 [26984-27675]

Well actually there is always this misunderstanding between these two religions but just like I told you normally I think religion is a thing of understanding and knowledge. That is why I think Islamically it is said may be you will not think may be on the day of judgment you are going to hang on may be so and so scholar, mallam said this said that. They said even if you are to travel for miles even drawing your stomach on top of ice you are to go to seek Islamic knowledge because everybody will be accountable to his own deeds. So I don't think maybe this is mostly a problem. I think the misunderstanding between these two religions is normally minor which can be easily overlooked.

KN32 [13464-13659]

I don't think this position is accurate in short it is in accurate because you see conversion cannot be a major cause of conflict between Muslims and Christians in the northern part of Nigeria.

KN33 [10425-10444]

No, it is not true

KN34 [17384-17403]

No I didn't agree.

KN35 [17809-17821]

Not really.

KN36 [18707-18711]

No.

KN37 [17001-17025]

I don't agree with that.

KN38 [12658-12676]

No I do not agree

KN39 [20852-20877]

Actually I do not agree.

KN40 [17184-17193]

No idea.

KN41 [14690-14707]

Yes this is true

KN42 [35858-35973]

That is not true. Conflicts arise with non-Muslims because there is no, there is no accommodation between the two.

KN43 [26641-26687]

This is very, very wrong. This is very wrong.

KN44 [20422-20754]

No, I don't think this is true, it is not true. There are so many other fundamental causes that has to be answered on the reason why there is conflicts between Muslims and non-Muslims not necessarily restricting to an attempt by non-Muslims to convert Muslim into Islamic ah faith. No I don't think, I don't subscribe to this idea.

KN45 [29763-30148]

They convert, they try to convert Muslims, I don't think this is part of the reasons of the conflict in Nigeria. I don't think this is part of the conflict and I don't remember ehh any of the conflicts ehh of the conflicts that happen between Muslims and the Christians in this country ehh that is ehh that is attributed to this cause at all. So this is not part of the reason at all.

KN46 [50291-50565]

They convert Muslims to their faith? No I don't think so because most of these conflicts ahh we know when it happened and how it happened and I don't think it arises from the attempt of non-Muslims to convert Muslims to their religion. I don't think it happens like this.

KN47 [46466-47081]

No, I don't think there is this as a reason for our conflict because how many people among the Muslims that are always, you know, have the desire of ah of ah, of converting other people to the religion of Islam? You can simply stay with a guy, with non-Muslim for quite a number of years without even making an attempt to convert him. The best way of converting somebody is to exhibit good, you know, Islamic relation towards non-Muslim. So if you see them he copies, then you tell him it is false, you know, the source of that behavior is from your religion then this person can be convinced accept your religion.

KN48 [14979-15117]

Hmmm that is still no, that is too no because everybody no matter what you will still want to be convincing people to your own belief.

KN49 [25298-25552]

Actually you don't compel people to be what they don't want to be or what they do not seem to be, unless you want them to revert. I think ah some people are proactive in terms of getting subject to their religion, but I think that is basically not true.

KN50 [13232-13308]

Ahh, this is not true because there has never been an incidence like this.

KN52 [41551-42401]

That is not true, that is not true. Most of these conflicts, I think, you know, result from lack of understanding: misunderstanding, misinterpretation of the text itself. The question of the proliferation of Islamic teachers as being somehow responsible for the rising conflicts in Northern Nigeria could not be farther from the truth, yes because some of these mallams that emerged from nowhere and lack the necessary and proper training to go about misinterpreting the text and in the cause of misinterpreting this religious text, they invoke all sort of statements that are not really true about the true position of Islam and they end up misleading people, they end up misleading their followers. So it is very possible in that context to endanger some form of hatred, for instance, misunderstanding, antagonism against the other non-believers.

KN54 [10206-10240]

But this is not the only factor.

KN55 [11002-11081]

This not the only factor. We have other factors like politics and illiteracy.

KN56 [18446-18715]

Actually this is not the only factor that is making Muslims and non-Muslims to engage in conflicts. There is the issue of religious misunderstanding, there is the issue of corruption, there is the issue of lack of knowledge and lack of tolerance to mention but a few.

KN57 [17114-17155]

No, no. I disagree with this statement.

KN58 [38162-38165]

No

KN59 [33947-35324]

Actually it is not that it brings about conflict, it is not conflict, it only brings about misunderstanding because the non-Muslims actually normally want to kind of use some techniques to convert Muslims to non-Muslim which is actually in the Muslims state that is not always possible. But them they want to try by all means to see that they use these techniques may be by giving you pamphlets, by giving some incentives, by using some spiritual powers to heal sickness because there is one lady in my area, she is a Muslim, you understand, she was engage in some chronic illness, so she seek assistant from the Muslims but unfortunately the Muslims didn't render assistance to her. So there was a Christian in their area who told her ok let me take you to my church my pastor would pray for you and you would get healed, you understand, so before even going to the church the Christian brother gave the lady some amount of money, so when they gave her this money she was ah my own Muslim brothers cannot even give me money, it is only Christian that gave me the money. So they use some methods and techniques just to draw you to their own faith. So finally she converted wallahi tallahi she converted, but her children said that he was enticed with money. So because she is leaving in a Muslim dominated area may be when they see those brothers again they might attack them.

KN60 [28511-28543]

That is not right they desire.

KN61 [14700-14726]

Is not true, is not true.

KN62 [48650-49414]

Hmm mm, yah conflicts arise, not only a conflict, conflicts with non-Muslims in northern Nigeria, I believe it arises all the time because they all desire to convert Muslims to their faith and ah this is normal. Each faith needs more members. Each religion needs members, right? It is like a kind of market yah, a business, you need customers and beside that we can say that religion has a certain spiritual thing attached to it and we are after the heavenly reward of, lets say, converting to one, from one religion to another. You know there is a huge ehhh reward for that. So that is why people are after it, but I don't believe that these conflicts erupt because of this ah desire of non-Muslims to convert Muslims to their religion. I don't believe in that.

KN63 [35234-35645]

Of course, hmm I mean they have been doing that from time. I mean they have been going out, maybe they have been preaching from house to house, nobody is stopping them from that huh, but you know Islam you know me am Muslim and I pray to die as Muslim. And we don't pray that for someone to be in Islam before and forsake his religion, we don't pray for such because we may not, not you know is a very severe

KN63 [35732-36772]

So, we don't hope for that huh if at all the Christians have to do that, let them do it in the proper manner ahh not just like going out, let them stay in their various churches and do their own preaching to their followers of a thing, but not to try to go into our villages where they have little or no knowledge so much about Islam and trying to convert them or take up the villages and give them something in return so as to convert them to their faith. That is just what they have been doing huh, they give them something, encouraging them and gradually they take over their faith. That is what they have been doing here. So if they can change their various churches and preach their religion, nobody is abusing them or will go against them huh and even all the crisis that has been taking place in Kano religion, I have not come across something like that, that maybe someone is trying to convert another person to Christian, that is why they now take ahh try to attack him or whatever, I have not heard of something like that before.

KN64 [24293-24366]

Ahh, this is not the reason of ah, of our conflicts in northern Nigeria.

KN65 [31397-31419]

No, that is not true.

KN66 [19478-19492]

This is true.

KN67 [19947-20020]

I don't think that is the major issues or reasons for the ahh conflicts.

KN68 [9904-9932]

This is not the only factor

KN71 [57550-58079]

I don't think there should be any conflict as regard to this because the issue is all about dialogue (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) If you want us to embrace your religion, why? If we want you to embrace our religion, why? The only thing is dialogue. I don't think there is any need for conflict to arise. Well maybe you want me to be a Christian? Yes. Ok why do you want me to be a Christian? Is it not an issue of dialogue? Convince me. You want me to be a Muslim? Yes. Why do you want me to be a Muslim? Convince me.

KN72 [31204-31360]

Ahh, I think this is not a reason because when you say converting, you can never convert a Muslim to a non-Muslim society without his eh eh acceptance.

KN72 [31608-31813]

It is not true because I think the conversion of anyone into any religion is based on agreement and acceptance, so if a person accepts or agree to be one of the religions, so he can, she can do or accept.

KN73 [31788-32269]

If you say desire, It is not force. There is no reason why conflict will arise because it is a desire for a Muslim to convert non-Muslim as it is a desire for a non-Muslim to convert a Muslim to Christianity. We have heard it in their books, we have heard it in their practices that they always wanted to convert Muslims to Christianity and there is no conflict and no conflict is arising and even if in Islam, there is no conflict that why I should convert a non-Muslim to Islam.

KN74 [41724-41798]

This is not, this is not true, this is not true, this is absolutely not.

KN74 [41819-42081]

Okay the reason is that eh if you can, we now living in northern Nigeria we know a lot of factors that influence the crisis. I think out of all that eh factors that eh influences the crisis, nothing like this that generate the conflicts in northern Nigeria.

KN75 [45711-45714]

No

KN76 [36860-37156]

Well it is true but ahh you can't say that all the conflicts that arise in northern Nigeria are as a result of ahh effort by ahh the Christians to convert Muslims, non-Christians doesn't convert Muslim to Christianity in northern Nigeria they convert non-Muslim northern Nigerians to Christianity

KN78 [53829-54061]

Ahh no, I disagree with that. Well to be very honest yes to a certain, you tend to have a certain degree of disagreement, slight ahh you know, but that does not mean necessarily it is an agent of violence itself or conflict itself.

KN80 [41080-41317]

Hmm conflict arise with non-Muslims in northern Nigeria yes because amm because they always desire to convert Muslims into their faith, so no, this is not because ahh ahh ahh as far as Islam is concerned there is no forceful conversion

KN81 [26047-26131]

This statement is totally wrong. I disagree with this statement. Its totally wrong.

KN82 [28072-28085]

It is true

KN83 [18823-18875]

I don't think so. This is just a mere assumption.

KN84 [22013-22098]

No it's not true at all. Conversion is not the tool of conflict in northern Nigeria.

KN85 [29919-30545]

Yes, there are instances where there re conflicts because non-Muslims try to convert Muslims into their own faith and this actually should not be allowed. If they are coming into Muslim societies, Muslim localities then they should only practice their own religion. They should not be allowed to try to convert other people to their own side because, to their own religion because they meet them Muslims in their own societies. It is not the Muslims that travel and stay and live with them in their own societies where they can be able to try to entice their religion, but in this situation they should not be allowed to do so

ZA1 [31769-32131]

Let me ask you, no any issue in north as far as I am concerned that is purely Islam. No is not like that. All this issue of Plateau is the problem of indigene-ship. Problem of what is happening in Tafawa-Balewa is land. Kafanchan, land, Benue, land, go to Taraba and see between ehm between two tribes that is between Jukun and Tiv, are not Muslims, land.

ZA2 [32420-33425]

Ehhhhnnn no, no. When you look at that issue there, the issue of converting is a freedom now, is a freedom. We are only I preaching to you, is left for you to just eh accept to what am preaching to you, do you know that what am telling you in Islam as it teaches. It is your attitude, your behavior that calls for people to even follow you. Take an example of the prophet, you have mentioned one example now that the prophet sit with someone who is a non-Muslim, he stayed with him often and often, he is now a, the prophet is not his own enemy, but at the end of the day he din was there when he was not in present in the sitting, the prophet look all round he couldn't see him, he said a'a where is this man? They said he is sick, he went down to see him. That attitude now made him to say ooo so this is what this religion is preaching? I thought this religion that is not what it is preaching I thought is an inimical religion, but is not inimical, it is not against anybody. So that is the change.

ZA3 [24233-24250]

I don't think so.

ZA4 [46254-46264]

Yes okay

ZA5 [27031-27057]

No, I disagree with that

ZA6 [64708-64835]

I don't really know of this, but I believe the conflict in northern Nigeria is mostly a manipulation from the political elites.

ZA7 [30361-30830]

I don't want to believe that. I don't want to believe that is the reason. Conflict as we know is a disagreement between two or more persons, so if you come to me and you preach to me about Christianity and I do not want to be a Christian, I don't think I should emm I should give you a backup answer with conflict or violence. So I don't think it is. I want to believe most of the northern problems has been rooted from politics and probably they are historical past.

ZA8 [62619-64184]

The Muslims to their faith, conflicts are ... Okay the non-Muslims are, like I said, if you already a true Muslim, there is no way, is like a way of life or how will I call it? If already you have accepted Islam and you have the knowledge, you are already true in it, I don't think there is anybody that will come and tell you another region that you convert. That applies to any other region if already you are already deep in it I don't think it will be easy for somebody from another religion to come and convert, come and change you to his own religion because this is something you converted from one religion before to, now somebody, now you are already deep in it and you already know everything about it, now somebody will now start telling you something new again, it will be difficult for you to convert. So that is why they use to say there are true Muslims and there are none true Muslims, is not that they are not Muslims, but they are not true because they can easily be swayed. But if you say somebody is a true Muslim, there is nothing, in fact no calamity, no trial that will come his way that make him to leave his religion. So I think this conflicts do arise because most of the true Muslims or should I say the first Muslims that don't feel like converting to their religion are feeling cheated because this is their child or their brothers or their sister that they are saying this is your religion, this is what you are born into, they will not want to allow you to take them away from them. So I think that is where the conflicts comes from.

ZA9 [33943-34050]

No. I have never come across that. No. I don't think that is the reason; there are more to it than that.

ZA10 [31406-31470]

Yes in some cases it is true, but in some cases it is not true.

ZA11 [25604-26019]

Well if memory serves me right that is ahh, I don't believe that because when you tend to look at it presently, when you go round, you tend to see, whether you are less busy or you are interested or not, you find a non-Muslim come to you, brother let's have a word with you and it is not common within our Islamic community, even when we go for da'wa, it doesn't go that way, we don't force people to the religion.

ZA12 [16187-16189]

No

ZA13 [15607-15614]

Yes.

ZA14 [21383-21717]

Ahh no, there is no crisis in Nigeria that is something like that, that whether the Christians converting the Muslims into their religion, it doesn't happen, I have never seen that and I have never heard of it because the issue of the crisis we have in Kaduna is not all about the converting of Muslims into Christianity, that is it.

ZA15 [24442-24522]

I disagree with that, I fully, fully, fully disagree with that. It is no true.

ZA16 [17117-17121]

No.

ZA17 [20055-20656]

To my own understanding, is not that we are converting them, they are bringing themselves, anytime if you see the Ramadan, those people they are coming without somebody calling them, we are not even doing our work, if we are doing our work, if we are meeting them as they are meeting us, didn't you ever, if you enter a car, you will see somebody just, you don't even know what he is saying about the religion he is talking about, but actually you, you are not doing it, you Muslims you are not doing it, you are not ah meeting people at the motor park at the and saying you wanted to preach to them.

ZA18 [25375-25381]

No.

ZA19 [35941-35960]

This is not true.

ZA20 [23696-23936]

That is wrong. It has never been true. There is no community in Nigeria that were attacked with a desperation for those community of Christians to convert to Islam otherwise they will be killed. That is wrong. It has never happened even.

ZA21 [27543-28360]

Well conflicts arise with non-Muslims in northern Nigeria because they always desire to convert Muslims to their faith, I can say no. I can say no. Conflicts arise mainly because of politics and that is all. People tend to like hide under the guise of religion that I am a Christian, I am Muslim to further their political interest. Once they emerge in those positions they will never think of saying I belong to this denomination, I belong to this, this and that. It is all – the conflicts we do have in northern Nigeria most times is ah it has to do with politics and political affiliations that even it has to do with leadership that even the so call shi'a, the so called Izala, the so called Darika and things like that they are all formed to mainly most of the times because of leadership affiliations.

ZA22 [24634-25124]

Yah they desire but do they achieve it? Hardly you see a Muslim converting from Islam to Christianity. I can challenge anybody, but when you go to our courts particularly sharia courts almost every month you find cases whereby non-Muslims convert to Islam and their relatives take them to court many a times it happens. So hardly will you find a Muslim converting to Christianity. But many multi-non-Muslims are converting every day on daily basis to Islam. So we don't have that problem.

ZA23 [33299-33803]

Ammm really the non-Muslims want to convert the Muslims to their own faith. And also the Muslims also want to revert the non-Muslims to their original religion. And it is the normal practice. During the lifetime of the holy prophet (SAW) it is not the Muslims that if one of them converted that they will all go against him they will call him back to order. He will be given some time for him to come back to order. But the non-Muslims whenever their member reverted to Islam all hatred will be on him.

ZA24 [40247-40734]

Ehn it is true because if you see non-Muslims in northern states some of them are trying to convert Muslims to their faith and if that arise so in fact conflict will arise because the majority of people in northern states are Muslims. In fact from outside – external eh outside of the country people have been sponsored to come to north and try their best to convert Muslims to their faith. So with the knowledge of Islam the people have in the northern states so it may bring conflict.

ZA25 [37103-37662]

Hmmm that is just be one aspect of what could be the cause of conflicts between Muslims and non-Muslims. Yes we have seen that there is a lot of conspiracy of making sure that you can see churches everywhere here and there and that constitute not just churches and even in the schools, primary, secondary and even tertiary institutions and many of them are here and they have started infiltrating the Islamic culture in the northern Nigeria and some uniformed and impatient Muslims brothers they tend to go extreme in their way of addressing this situation.

ZA26 [18280-18307]

It is a wrong assumption.

ZA27 [16799-16977]

No I disagree with that. It does arise because of the political, because of politicians and some people that really don't understand the teaching of Islam and the Qur'an.

ZA28 [30554-30572]

This is not true

ZA29 [44228-44535]

When you say that this happens but not it is not the reason why the conflicts happen. But it is true that Muslims are trying to convert the non-Muslims to their own religion, but not forcefully, not forceful, under no pressure. But rather they preach and conflicts do not arise because of the conversion.

ZA30 [52962-53250]

This statement is wrong because there is no any conflict that resulted as a result of just mentioned fact. All the thing that happen in northern Nigeria is just a fight unless this one, the recent one bring by boko haram, and people know that boko haram are far away from being a Muslim.

ZA31 [24617-24750]

I don't see any state where Christians threaten Muslims to convert or Muslims threatening Christians to convert to their own faith.

ZA32 [61717-62139]

No, it is not because of that conflict, conflicts arise, but rather ah because of the enmity they used to disallowed Muslims to practice their religion and they use to violate the peace, the agreement between them of living in peace. For example, when Muslim is praying and he is, and he is fought by non-Muslims, this is clearly a violation of peace, so things like that are the things, causative agent of the conflicts.

ZA33 [20474-20959]

Conflicts arises with non-Muslims in northern Nigeria because they always desire to convert themselves to their faiths. That is not the case. They do to some extent but in the real sense non-Muslims in northern Nigeria most of their jihad, most of their fighting as so-called jihad is not in the cause of religion. It is rather in the cause of other selfish interest or an avenue to back up their fight to Muslims as they describe it in their religion as they are fighting for jihad.

ZA34 [40417-41335]

Well to that I don't really agree with it. I don't agree with it because one, the Muslims and the non-Muslims have been living together for over a century, over a century and they are living peacefully. It is just later when other things were introduced then it became a problem between the two religions. I can remember during 60s, 70s and even early 80s when there were festivals like Sallah festivals, Christmas festivals and other festivals the Muslims and the non-Muslims sometimes come together, greet each other, exchange gifts and then they come together to celebrate, but when something came one, selfishness, greediness, and others entered that is when the problem started too. The non-Muslims, the Christians going down to Muslim areas converting non-Muslims to Christianity before the Muslims do so but they are living still in peaceful way, amicably. It is greediness and selfishness that entered.

ZA35 [16394-16891]

Yes, most of the non-Muslims, you see them going about, house to house preaching the wording of their God which the Muslims don't do. You would not see a Muslim going from one house to another calling people to come and join his religion. What they do is they believe in public lectures and if it is the will of God that you would become a part of them, then you will. But like the non-Muslims, I think they call or force, I would say, people into their own religion which the Muslims don't do.

ZA36 [24216-24242]

I don't agree with that.

ZA37 [32951-32955]

No.

ZA38 [37049-37877]

Well, you know, because we are in a secular society even though Islamically if you are a Muslim, when you revert, sorry when you convert to other religion that is not Muslim, you have committed riddah, that is what we call riddah, your blood is allowed.

You are to be killed, this is how the religion says about it. But in a secular society that they say in the constitution that there is freedom of religion, I didn't know and we are adhering to this constitution we think, yah good and fine, it is for his own good if you feel like converting, but in the Islamic society if you see that this thing is happening we are the ones to question ourselves. Have we basically have any education, have we given our people religious education? If we have not given, then that is why people are converting from Muslims to non-Muslims.

ZA39 [50376-50380]

No.

Th18.4: Conversion as a Major Source of Interreligious Conflicts

KD1 [53676-54223]

I disagree because you can't say the problem that is arising is conversion. I think what has been causing problem is mistrust, is mistrust because in some families, we have Muslims and non-Muslims in one same family of the same parents or even when the, both religions marry each other and they have children, so how would you say such cases have caused it. I think what actually causes it is cases of mistrust. I have never heard that one person converts or reverts, then that thing caused a crisis in northern Nigeria, I have never heard that.

KD2 [24279-24614]

I don't agree with a fact that conversion is contributing to conflicts between Muslims and Christians in northern Nigeria. What leads to conflict in Nigeria is usually tribal, socio-economic, land dispute and what have you, but conversion into Islam or conversion from Islam to Christianity has and does not cause conflict in Nigeria.

KD3 [19328-19474]

I disagree because most of the conflict in, I have not even heard of any conflicts in northern Nigeria that occurs through or between conversion.

KD4 [48042-48308]

I will disagree with this. Conversion has not been the basis of conflict between Muslims and the Christian in Nigeria rather I will tell you that the conflicts between Muslims and non-Muslims in Nigeria, it has a political, socio-cultural and even material outlook.

KD5 [24103-24515]

Hmmm I don't think so because if I could remember in Islamic religion there is, is it verse or Hadith that said somebody being a Muslim or somebody worshipping God does not contribute anything to the Almighty Allah rather that person is only helping himself. So, converting non-Muslims to accept Islamic religion, yah is an achievement, but I cannot term it as major achievement rather it's just an achievement.

KD6 [38624-39501]

I can't say, I told you as a Muslim da'wa is jihad, jihad is da'wa. We don't do that, but they do that. The call it..., we don't do it. Ours is fighting, no, we don't do fighting is about bringing what you have. I bring what I have, we talk about it, we talk about you, we talk about yours. He gives me prove, I give him my own proof. That's how they do, they don't come to you and say if you are not a Christian, you don't become. So, they come to you and force you to be a Christian or force you to do what? No, in Islam, they don't even force it is we that owns the ...not them. What they mean by... go to the literary meaning of them is jihad, that is the meaning of ...go and check it very well. I am talking about my experience and what I know about it. They are talking about jihad, but they say is...and calling somebody to your own religion is jihad. How do you call him? So,

KD7 [31495-31822]

It is one tool, but it is a very small tool. It is not the biggest tool, like I said, the politics, the is suspicion that is between us, they are the major source of conflicts. That of conversion, it's a small tool of conflict and I believe that if we sit down and understand, everybody's destiny, everybody holds his destiny.

KD8 [55665-56187]

It is not true. It is a huge lie because there has never been a problem of conversion. Converting a Muslim, converting to Christian or Christian converting to Muslim, there are, that is a non issue. There has never been a problem like that. All the conflicts that are going on, they are not religious, they are just fight. Not having root from any of the religions, even Christianity does not believe in violence, it does not, you know, as a religion it does not recognize violence as a means of ehm propagating religion.

KD9 [38286-38797]

Yes it is. When you try to force, I think we are still repeating the same thing. When you try to force your Christianity on me, for example, there will definitely be conflict or you know you cannot get me then probably you want to get my child or my family, definitely I will react to that. So but I think just the last question you asked, if it is going to be on a level playing ground, bring your facts and listen to mine on a friendly basis then we will argue it out, but you don't force your opinion on me

KD10 [31442-31806]

Well I don't know maybe if the Christians convert some Muslims to Christianity then that can cause conflict. You get me right or if some Muslims convert the Christians to Islam that can cause conflicts? Yes it can cause conflict. It could cause conflict. You get me right? It could, but I think it is a matter of dialogue. They should not let that cause conflict.

KD11 [33611-33672]

I disagree. There has never been any major conflict on that.

KD12 [35095-35182]

No it has nothing to do with conversion, it is disobeying the rules of almighty Allah.

KD13 [15313-15336]

I disagree with this.

KD14 [19348-19358]

I disagree

KD16 [16378-16403]

I agree to some extent

KD17 [49705-49930]

I disagree. The major conflict in northern state is being caused by politics or electioneering activities, so if you realize whereby...I have not seen a case whereby it leads to issue of missionary affairs leading to conflict.

KD19 [30351-31005]

Yes, anytime somebody converts from one religion to the other, there tends to be a problem especially in northern Nigeria, why? Because of lack of tolerance. Islamically it is not allowed for a Muslim to convert to any other religion because Muslim have the believe that everybody is born a Muslim. It is when you come to the world your actions or the actions of others that make you change. So it is not allowed sometimes if a Muslim converts there tends to be a problem because he is given time maybe three days to change, if he has not changed, then maybe a committee of shura will have to meet to pass judgement on him, so that may lead to conflict.

KD20 [25058-25270]

I disagree with it because I have not heard that conversion is the one that leads to the fighting or conflicts of Muslims and Christians in the northern states or in any state, so there's nothing like that. Yes

KD21 [23328-23924]

I wouldn't call it a major, but I will call it one of the factors. Let's say eh a Muslim boy due to his selfish eh interest converts ah into Christianity (recites in Arabic) he falls into that he converts into Christianity just to marry a particular lady when the Islamic state seeks for his head or his hand to be amputated, when Islamic state seeks for him to be sentenced according to the book of Allah, I don't think the Christians are going to really hand him over because of the fact that they have won, they have gotten a new convert, who is now their sole responsibility to protect him.

KD23 [24019-24603]

Okay this question I will agree with it and ah and in and in the other hand I will not agree with it, yes because there are some scenarios that happens, so because of this conversion issues so there are some, there are some ah scenarios that ah that usually happens so when a Christian or a Muslim converted to other religions so his relatives will be ah will find themselves ah fighting with the people that they think they are the cause of his or her conversion, but it is not as ah as people think that, so it is that it is the ah eh major contributing factor it is not like that.

KD24 [73699-74493]

Ah I did not agree, I will not agree with this suggestion because human beings as the case looks like, they are allowed to practice the religion which they wish. No one should ordain you that look you must practice this religion and you must not practice the other. What it carries is explanation, what the heart feels is the right way to follow, so for the Muslims, they have their own rules and regulations, if someone leaves their religion turns or converts to another religion they have the way they will do or to treat that person, likewise maybe in the Christian, in the Christianity or other religion they have their own way to treat such people, so you can't say because he converted to Islam, he will not allowed his people to touch him, if you can give him security is good, is good.

KD25 [89286-90163]

To some extent, yes, because eh look at eh most of those Muslims who lack Islamic knowledge, to them they can decided to say, like there is one person I heard from Kano that ah he said eh he is no more a Muslim whereas his parents are all Muslims, he said ah is not a Muslim, they tried to preach to him, he was not willing to listen and later they took him to the psychiatric to see whether maybe he is mad, he said, he told them they should not waste their time taking him to the psychiatric, he said he is no more a Muslim so that kind of a person what we will say.... but maybe right from the beginning even then when he was practicing Islam he was not a Muslim, anybody who is really who is a real Muslim cannot just convert to another religion besides Islam except if right from the onset he has been hiding Christianity in his heart but manifesting Islam with his lips.

KD26 [26706-26734]

It is, I think it is. It is

KD27 [26081-26092]

Partly yes

KD28 [34561-34953]

I agree because right from the onset I make it clearly known to you if you don't understand what you are doing, somebody who can make you understand his own view, you will go with him that one is normally the issue, the factor that creates conflict. But once I can convince you and take you to my side then your people will not be happy that yes that you are reducing their own population.

KD29 [21843-22028]

Well I disagree with that ah because there are conversions, there are conversions and most of these conflicts that arise I can't recall single one that it is as a result of conversion.

KD30 [37804-38768]

It's not a major problem. I think the major problem is knowledge although we have ah few cases where we have maybe someone from the far south or maybe the far east ah where we may hardly know anything about Islam, then they will have maybe one or two people coming to the north then they will learn few things about Islam then they will say they want to convert to Islam and then you will see their parents or the people there in their places rejecting them or things like these and then the people here will then ask them to come here and stay and then you have ah problems of such where these ah the other family there will not let them go, will even threaten to kill them or things like this and then the Muslims here in the north will say let them come and join the Muslim brothers to give them protection and ah join the brotherhood and then that is true the problem once you have you have an issue of such nature, but that is not actually the main problem.

KD31 [20116-20150]

I disagree with that completely.

KD32 [28432-28847]

No. I disagree with it, I disagree with it because if you look at the major conflicts that are that are occurring in this part of the country is with the emergence of political times during the military rule, we don't witness so many of this, so that is why I said this religious conflicts in northern Nigeria it has, it is politically motivated so is not about the converts so to me is just politically motivated.

KD33 [25521-25756]

I disagree with this because, every, all, if you are in northern Nigeria from 1990s to date we you can agree with me or you can disagree with me that conversion is not a major contribution to conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims.

KD34 [30403-30460]

I disagree with this 100 percent. I disagree with that.

KD35 [29515-30193]

Ahh is part of, not only, is part of the trouble simply because we don't to things the way they should be done, we don't do things, we don't preach, we don't preach the way we suppose to preach, we don't carry ourselves as Muslims, the Christians don't go about as Christians, like I said, Christians they are Jesus like people, the Muslims are Muhammad like people. So Jesus during his time preach with mercy, with leniency, with soft manner and soft way of talking, you know, Muhammad when he was alive, he preaches with leniency, with mercy, with soft voice, with every method that would attract people, that will make people comes his way to listen to him, no provocation.

KN1 [62052-62118]

By the way who is stopping the Muslims from looking for converts?

KN1 [62134-62160]

So I disagree with him

KN1 [62219-63783]

The reason why I disagree with him is this, I am in Kano and I think for more than 30 years nobody call me to convert me to Christianity and not only Kano, I have been to some other states and I don't think there is a particular time when I see someone or I saw somebody coming to me to convert me. I know there are some movements in the villages and those are small small areas I know there is that movement. So talking about the aggressiveness in trying to convert, in fact to be sincere with you we the Muslims agree that if somebody is Muslim and truly a Muslim he will remain in Islam nothing will remove him from the religion. It happens during the treaty of hudabiyya. The treaty of Hudabiyya is an agreement between the Muslims of Medina that is the Muslims with their headquarters in Medina and the Kuffar with their headquarters in Mecca. They tried to stop the prophet from entering Mecca for pilgrimage and a treaty was signed. And in the condition given during that treaty by the non-Muslims is that whoever converts to Islam should be returned to the non-Muslims and whoever converts to polytheism from Islam he will not be returned to the Muslims. The disciples of the holy prophet told the prophet that he should not sign that because there is no fairness in that particular condition the holy prophet said they should sign and they asked him why and he said that whoever is a Muslim he will never convert and go to other religion we as Muslims that is our belief as far as you are true Muslim we believe that you will not convert to any religion.

KN2 [36135-36161]

Now it is not the problem...

KN2 [36423-36466]

It is not the issue that leads to crisis.

KN4 [50312-50565]

No, I disagree there is no any conversion crisis in the northern Nigeria. People practicing their religion the way they want, people change their religion the way they want. The only thing that cause crisis in Nigeria is struggle for power and poverty.

KN5 [31000-31444]

I have said it earlier, I have never heard experience of a conversion of anybody being a reason of any conflict ehh if you see even in a family where one girl want of marry a Muslim when she wants to convert it is just going to be a court issue at the end of the day things would be resolved from her to be a Muslim and get married to a Muslim man. It is just that the parents normally say I disown you, but they never fight the other family.

KN6 [33620-33874]

I don't agree with this statement. I say it is not the issue of conversion, it is the issue of poverty, it is the issue of illiteracy, it is the issue of what eh and etc. So this is the issue, it is the issue of injustice which we face by our leaders.

KN7 [31502-31837]

No, I don't think it is a major contribution of conflict between them because in-even though, let me say as young as I am, have never heard the fact that Muslim have gone, have gone into, Muslim and non-Muslim have gone into conflicts just because they want to convert the non-Muslims to Muslims, I don't think it is. I don't think so.

KN8 [30442-30846]

I agree with this because the process through which you are willing to enforce, the process through which you are willing to enforce your own religion on another is always a basis of conflict especially in the case of Kano, Maiduguri, Kaduna, and other instances that religious conflicts have occurred in one way or the other. So, I think it is the truly the basis of conflict between two or more people.

KN9 [27550-28025]

I agree with this because you see when people convert from one religion, it means there is a minus from that religion and the religion will feel threatened. They will feel as though their members are being stolen away from them, so it is basically, it should amount to conflict because if it gets to a level they would believe that their religion is going to be wiped out of the face of humanity. So they have to stand upright and fight for what they believe is right, yes.

KN10 [21476-21552]

Conversion of course I agree is something that is happening, yes of course

KN11 [29357-29423]

Conversion to you changing the religion, no I disagree with this.

KN13 [31919-32346]

Yah conversion has been the major disagreement because definitely the issue of whereby you see someone, a Muslim converting to a Christian and is being shown publicly, it could actually create crisis in a particular society and it will actually lead to some annoyance of some Muslims sects. So I think it has been major issue even causing the conflict among Christians and Muslims in Nigeria and particular in northern Nigeria.

KN14 [25018-25053]

To some certain extent it is true

KN15 [22576-22602]

No honestly, I disagree.

KN16 [12697-12712]

No I disagree.

KN18 [46069-46324]

Ah It is a major source of conflict in northern Nigeria definitely, in some in some rural communities where there are no good ah knowledge of religion, people carry arms as a result of that, either somebody converts to Islam or from Islam to Christianity.

KN19 [28390-28407]

It's part of it.

KN20 [20902-20976]

No no no no no. There are other factors that bring problems in the north.

KN21 [14495-14534]

Oh yes oh yes. Yes it is.

KN22 [29830-29853]

I do not agree to that

KN23 [19597-19609]

Yah it is

KN24 [18907-18924]

No I don't agree

KN25 [30532-30649]

Yes it could be because the next religion will feel threatened, will feel it is losing its members. So it could be.

KN26 [32064-32829]

Like I said earlier it used to be in the early nineties but not now. Mostly now largely the issue is that of lack of respecting the values of Islam. I believe the 2000 and- September 2001 one of the major conflict that has brought through many occurrence of conflict though it is not religious as such, but it is an ethno-religious crisis- the one in Jos, you understand, was just because a Christian woman walked across a congregation praying outside a juma; at mosque for Friday prayers and that was it. You see it is not because of conversion, no it was just largely because of not respecting, you know, rituals of the Muslims and that was the beginning of it. After that you have tens of violent conflicts that have erupted within and even outside the Jos area.

KN26 [32883-33158]

Yes. like I told you from the return of democracy mostly because democracy everybody wants to get the fruit and sometimes our politicians use ethno and political lines to garner support and sometimes they make a lot of concoctions just to get support towards their own side.

KN27 [23253-23268]

I don't agree

KN28 [17883-18008]

Well that is another issue which really needs to be looked at considering the fact that everyone goes for his own interest.

KN29 [4197-4254]

No, it is not a major thing at all. It is totally wrong.

KN30 [17350-17373]

No, no, no, I disagree

KN31 [29667-29689]

I disagree with that.

KN32 [14264-14393]

No no no no no as I have said before conversion cannot be a major cause of conflict between Muslims and non Muslims on Nigeria.

KN33 [10904-10945]

To some extent but it is more than that.

KN34 [18469-18933]

Actually I may agree to some certain extent with this because there are some instances where conflicts may arise as a result that maybe either in the family or village that a particular section or people of a particular family converted to either of the religions. So the others will be saying this and that either it is as a result of influence of money or that or they will try as much to win their minds back, so this sometimes use to degenerate into conflict.

KN35 [18430-18606]

I will agree with this because of the situation always getting on and when you see a Muslim converting to non-Islamic faith, so this can lead to a little chaos in the society.

KN36 [19329-19494]

I disagree because the major problem we are having in northern Nigeria today is the political class that are using religion as a yard stick to achieve their means.

KN37 [18190-18318]

Even if I will agree with that, I will say it is due to the low level of understanding of the both religions by the both parties

KN38 [13478-13600]

I have never seen a nexus-so far the conflicts that I came across in northern Nigeria, this has never been the beginning.

KN39 [22112-22128]

Actually not.

KN40 [17597-17831]

I agree in the sense that other religions they are trying to show themselves that their own, what they are practicing or what they are worshipping is believe is the best while others they feel somehow, so from there conflicts occur.

KN41 [15228-15344]

I completely agree with it. I think this is what is fueling the conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims in Nigeria.

KN42 [36748-37261]

I actually disagree. Conversion has, has not really been the main issue about violent or the killing and what have you. The issue has always been the fact that even within the Muslims itself, there is always conflict but saying non-Muslims and Muslims, even within the Muslims there is conflict. If we are talking about conversion that is not really been the issue for violence. As at now people are not actually looking at conversion or not conversion, people are just embracing the wrong ideas about religion.

KN43 [28536-28831]

Yah, in my opinion, the issue of conversion cannot be seen as a serious factor in ethno-religious conflicts in northern Nigeria because I cannot give a singly example of an incident where Muslims and Christians clash because of the issue of conversion. So to me this is not ah strong ah reason.

KN44 [21691-22978]

I don't agree with that in totality. Issue of a conflicts, there is underlying, there are so many underneath reasons behind the conflicts, many of them are, most of this reasons have to do with politics and contestation for power and perhaps by extension ah economic contestations. So issue of ehh looking at ah conversion as the major cause of conflict in northern Nigeria, I don't really agree with it. Let me give you some ah example, if you look at some of the happenings, perhaps if you can give the example of the happenings in Jos Plateau, if you are to trace part of the problem you find out that it is, it has never been issue of conversion that really led to some of these conflicts. It has been reasons over contestation of power and economic power in particular perhaps to people that are there are dominating businesses which they didn't tell that ah ah that is really against their interest and even if you come down to many other places in northern Nigeria, you find that is not necessarily a thing of conversion of people into Islam or rather into any other religion that led to most of these conflicts. Politics, the role of elites has to be examined. The role of politics, I mean contestation for power, role of ah desire for economic power and so many other factors.

KN45 [30974-31150]

I don't agree, I don't agree at all with this opinion and I eh as I told you that I don't remember ehh any conflict that ehh was attributed to this ehh to this reason at all.

KN46 [52575-53163]

Ahh, well I think it contributes to conflicts or it causes some conflicts because ahh even ahh in maybe ahh in the, about 4 or 3 weeks ago, similar thing happened here in Kano in one of the local governments that someone decided to convert to another religion and the people, youths came maybe all the other followers of the religion, you know, ahh protested against his decision and that led to, led to violence between the followers of the religions and even one place of worship was destroyed, yes, but the Emir of Kano ahh ordered for the reconstructing of that ahh place of worship.

KN47 [48523-49179]

No. I don't agree with this because in northern Nigeria is not about-all the crisis, if you review them, between Christians and Muslims in northern Nigeria, Jos and Kaduna, of course are not geared as a result of conversion. Sometimes it is from, from what do you call it, some activities or some actions exhibited from a member of one group to another then retaliation will come, you know, when somebody ridicule the prophet of, the prophet Muhammad (SAW) there were ah the conflicts, you know, this are not about conversion they have the conflicts, you know, by other or as a result of other reason, you understand, so conversion is not the main cause.

KN48 [15566-15673]

I disagree, I disagree because to me I don't think that is what really brought the conflicts between them.

KN49 [25980-26110]

Yeah I think its eh I think it has a lot of truth behind it, but such should be handled holistically and be viewed holistically.

KN50 [13780-13808]

Ahh this is also not true.

KN52 [43298-43678]

Conversion yes could be a problem in isolated instances, but at mostly family levels where a member of Muslim family converts to Christianity and then the other members feel aggrieved and then, but these cases hardly become political or community issues, but I think that conversion is not really an important or a major source of conflict between religions in northern-Nigeria.

KN54 [10652-10655]

No.

KN55 [11662-11776]

I disagree with this suggestion and it seems that I already answered this question or similar question to this.

KN56 [19761-19815]

Ok I already answered a similar question in the past.

KN57 [17765-17841]

You see, conversion is one of the contributions to conflict, but not major.

KN58 [39590-40408]

I agree very well because it is the Christians that always try or want to convert Muslims to their own faith. We Muslims only preach the gospel of Islam and we did not ask anybody, we Muslims preach the gospel of our own religion we don't ask anybody by force or by cunning to come into our religion. It is only Christians that normally use this tactics by distributing and sharing out their pamphlets or inviting Muslims to their own church or to their own religious forum and then trying to lure them into the religion. So definitely in northern day Nigeria not in today's northern day Nigeria even the olden days, the Umma would react to that because it is alien to us. Since we don't look for your trouble, why look for our trouble? As I said earlier on, definitely if they continue that, there must be a backlash.

KN59 [37320-38000]

Actually I agree, like the instances I gave you that a lady that was converted to a Christian because of health and financial assistance because up till now whenever we see them, we see them as if they are not part of us. There is that hatred especially me whenever I see them despite the fact that I am a little bit knowledgeable with western education, but I see them as if they are inferior, you understand, what about a lay man a person that does not know much about the religion, he doesn't know much about western education, if there is a little religious crisis or misunderstanding they can be attacked. It is a major determinant of conflict in the north, you understand.

KN60 [29653-29679]

I have spoken about this.

KN61 [15170-15264]

Hmm, actually this is the, most of the problem. This is where the most of the problems arise.

KN62 [50421-50697]

I don't believe in, that conversion is a major contribution to conflicts, I don't believe in this. There are other issues actually that lies beneath, only that people who are far away, who are somehow misinformed by the media aha think this way, but we don't believe in this.

KN63 [38801-39114]

I can't, I can be hearing of that although I have not witnessed something like that before, but I have been hearing of that, you know, is possible, is very possible okay that maybe through conversion maybe a Muslim newly converted into Christian or whatever can result into conflict, is so true, is possible.

KN64 [24996-25034]

I answered this, in number one, hmm.

KN65 [32722-32770]

I slightly disagree with this suggestion, yes.

KN66 [20512-20724]

It is indeed ah big problem, conversion. It is a problem that, that is especially northern Nigeria where we have more mixtures of Muslims and non-Muslims it is indeed a problem and it is causing a lot of crisis.

KN67 [21312-21625]

I think I can, I can partially agree because there were so many incidents that happened like the issue of ah Reinhard Bonnke in Kano, who came to ah preach Christianity and as a result of that crisis broke out, many people lost their lives, so I think conversion mostly if not done properly can lead to crisis.

KN68 [10334-10338]

No.

KN69 [34595-35069]

It is not. The problem is from the preachers that is to say usually our scholars they use to instigate people whereby they put them in the state of provocation. In order for them to teach them the true way of life based on the religions they are having, but no, they will be ended by instigating some other people not to respect the religion of other people. I think this is the key factor which leads this problem that we are having in the northern part of the country.

KN71 [59368-59584]

I will never agree because there was never a single Christian who was compelled to convert to Islam. They came first by themselves, sometimes based on their personal convictions. So why should that cause a problem?

KN72 [32821-32906]

I can't agree with this, this is not a true, it is not a true, yes it is not a true.

KN73 [34218-34487]

Conversion is not contributing anything concerning the conflicts between the Muslim and Christians in northern Nigeria. It is not contributing anything. How many people were they converted from Christian to Muslim? How many people converted from Muslim to Christianity?

KN73 [34505-34609]

It's countless and for how long? It didn't contribute anything. And we have heard it, we have heard it.

KN74 [43421-43763]

Am totally not agree with this statement because here in northern Nigeria we know that Muslims are dominant ehh we the Muslim are dominated the northern Nigeria and there is a lot of organization of non-Muslims that are coming in to our area to propagate their religions and nothing happen and no one stop them from making their activities.

KN75 [47254-47925]

I disagree because conversion have never made a Muslim to have a conflict in northern Nigeria because if you watch the method or the manner of the Muslim preaching, you will find that they are not forcing anybody to accept their religion, they use their methodology while some Christian also came to use their methodology by assisting the needy, given them food and other things they need in order to draw their attention on the, while the Islamic use there, Islamic preachers use their own method in preaching and entering nooks and crannies of the northern community to preach the original text of Islam, they never one day force anybody join Islam.

KN76 [38203-38531]

No. I disagree with this entirely. Conversion is not an issue of conflict between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria because the Muslim remain Muslims and the Christians only preach to non-Christians, non-Muslims I mean to non-Muslims. The majority of the converts to Christianity are non-Muslims there are no Muslims.

KN78 [55646-56539]

Well it is both, you will agree that in certain community, for instance, where you have, I think I had a personal experience in community where you have predominant number of Muslims in the same northern part of the country, if a person tend to convert from ahh to Islam, there is certainly going to be some measure of conflict just that, just like ahh it applies to a Muslim converting to ahh other religion that is not Islamic. Ahh yes I agree with that yah, but yah I agree with that I think, okay let me be very honest, yes conversion is a major contribution to conflict between Muslims in certain quarters, ahh in certain quarters, I want to be very specific because I say some of those conflicts are not essentially religious, as I said some few minutes ago ahh, but that does not mean denying the fact that those conflicts do not exist, they do exist in some certain communities, hmm.

KN80 [42256-42478]

I disagree with this suggestion because the the issue of conflict in ahh northern Nigeria is not ahh is not ahh directly affect the conversion. Some are political and they are more on tribalism.

KN81 [26701-26963]

I disagree I disagree because most of religious, most of religious conflicts in Nigeria originated from economic and political tension and converted to look as religious conflict and some began as communal conflict and then it is changed to look religious.

KN82 [28926-29039]

Ahh my perception, conversion is ahh significantly contributing, but the major problem is political activities.

KN83 [19354-19505]

Hmm I disagree. I disagree with this position because there is no any conflict historically which erupted in the north because of conversion reasons.

KN84 [22861-22949]

I totally disagree because conversion is not an agent of conflict in northern Nigeria.

KN85 [31420-31708]

Yes in most cases, this has brought about conflicts and crisis where somebody wants to convert from one religion to another, the adherence of one of the religion would raise eyebrows and there will be conflicts. It has been to great extent part of the conflicts in northern Nigeria.

ZA1 [33566-33722]

No, no, no, no, is a problem of property, is a political issue, problem of land, problem of cattle rearing and the rest. Is not the problem of a religion.

ZA2 [35294-35349]

I didn't agree, is never, is not agree, is not agree

ZA3 [24904-25053]

Well I quite agree because even among families we are having conflicts for somebody converting and some other people feeling he is not supposed to.

ZA4 [46822-47166]

Yes no one loves, no one, no any Muslim love is brother or someone to be converted to Christianity or Christianity love their brother to convert to Muslim this thing. So but you know faith is faith and we have freedom or something. So but no one will feel very good about that because you don't want your faith, a person to leave your faith.

ZA5 [27651-27854]

I disagree with that suggestion. How will you say converting, conversion between Muslims and non-Muslims in Nigeria causing crisis? I have not seen even Kaduna, all these ones that are happening is not.

ZA6 [66209-67224]

Ahh its been, yes it's been a major contribution of, it has caused, I don't know the major conflict it has caused, but definitely if you have a particular, a high number of Muslims converting to Christians in a particular place like in the northern Nigeria, it will be painful, it will be painful, but in an ideal state where you have scholars with right thinking minds, they should know that the northern Nigeria should try as much as possible to promote fairness and equal treatment to the grass root where everybody will benefit from that. Where every, they should try to make people understand the justice system in Islam. Let the people come, let the people be happy and contented with what they see in Islam than what they see in other faiths. So the lack of this is what is causing this and likewise the Christians too, definitely I have told you too where there is large convert of Christians to Islamic faith, you will find out that there is a kind of hatred for that likewise the Muslims, so is normal.

ZA7 [32023-32493]

Yes, I want to think yes because if you take a typical example of a Hausa man and that has his son or daughter converting into a religion, most at times, in most cases I have seen the daughter or son get to be sent out of the house, get to be discriminated upon, insulted as an infidel and all that. So I think I it has, it has had a lot to contribute to conflicts. And when there is conflict, you know, it has to do with disagreement between two or more persons, yes.

ZA8 [67986-69913]

Hmm I will say I agree, not really. I don't think that is the major problem, major conflict, major reason for conflicts. So I don't think so because we have seen cases whereby you see a Muslim in northern Nigeria converting to a Christian and nothing happens. You see a Christian converting to Muslim and nothing happens. I don't think that is the reason why there is conflict between the two. Yes. I agree with that, like I told you from the beginning that sharia is not just for the Muslim. The name sharia is just an Arabic word for the name sharia. In other states, they call it other names, other words, but actually sharia is for the whole world because, like I told you, the consensus of some scholars abroad, some literate men, they are coming to an agreement that if they actually want the world to be in peace, they have to attack some of this sharia laws. Now imagine them agreeing with a religion that is worldly disagreed with. This is a law that God says do this and you will be in peace. People are the ones that are not heading what God is saying. Now sharia law like I told you is not just for the Muslims, is a general something that is binding on the whole world, if people will actually abide by it you will find peace in the world because when they do the consensus and look at why God is putting this reason, this are literate men big, big literate men that they have a say in the world that are doing the consensus that if they critically look at what sharia is saying and the laws that they have laid down, constitutional laws and they now find that what the sharia is saying will actually is the word of all this unrest. So I think is for the whole world not just for the Muslim or Islamic state.

ZA9 [35411-35467]

I don't think. I disagree with it. I disagree with it.

ZA10 [32067-32296]

Yes I will only agree with it in a case where sharia is in place in the state because when in a particular state where is sharia you as non-believer you are not expected to come and start propagating your religion in that state.

ZA11 [26850-27013]

Within the north you tend to see a house, an extended family where exists Christians and Muslims in the same family and they coexist. So I disagree with that sir.

ZA12 [16562-16574]

I disagree.

ZA13 [17189-17235]

I agree with this statement, I agree with it.

ZA14 [22314-22575]

I disagree with this suggestion because, I said it before, and I am also saying it now, I have not seen anywhere because somebody is converting to another religion because we have the right, we are in a secular state, everybody has the right to change religion.

ZA15 [25325-25345]

I disagree with it.

ZA16 [18036-18052]

No, I disagree.

ZA17 [21417-21755]

Conversion is not the main because, actually I do not agree because this, the converted, so many times you are not the one who is giving them the will to convert, no, there are many church that has turned to the Masjid, I do not see any Masjid that turned to church and will that be my problem? They are on radio, they are on everywhere,

ZA18 [26409-26618]

You see, in Islam if one is matured, a matured Christian wishes to convert to Islamic religion, you know he has his senses, he has his everything, why not? You understand. You allow him without any hindrance.

ZA19 [37173-37445]

Well, I disagree because there has never been an incidence where Christians preaching or propagating their religion brings about or triggers conflict or Muslims preaching or propagating their religion triggers conflict, but what are some political and economical reasons.

ZA20 [24738-24961]

That is not the position. It has never been happened that conversion has been a major religious conflict between non-Muslims and- it is a quest for political power that is the major reason for the conflict not conversion.

ZA21 [29570-30126]

Well I to some extent agree because we are one of the diehard religious fanatics in the world, Nigeria for example. Because you can see that somebody is a Muslim and that he doesn't want anybody from his clan to be a non-Muslim. And so it is similar to Christianity. So if you can see the life of Yoruba people in the Western Nigeria, you can see that a father is a Muslim and the mother is a Christian, the son is a Muslim and the daughter is a Christian. Such is not practice in northern Nigeria, why because we are too much addicted to our religion.

ZA22 [26131-26573]

Yah who are those engaging in conflicts? Is it the Muslims or the Christians? As I said earlier, it is the Christians that mainly that mostly convert to Islam not Muslims converting to Christianity. Go and find out everywhere. So we don't have any conflict even if you go to courts at the end of the day they agree and by the time they see the way we treat their people after converting they -some of them use to embrace the religion more.

ZA23 [34934-34956]

I disagree with that.

ZA24 [41973-42436]

Conversion is a major problem because as I said if Muslims convert to Christianity his family might try their best or might lead to conflict when such a person is worshiping another thing and his friends who converted him or her might be around and this may lead to conflict. It is the same applicable to Christians also. If a Christian converts to Islam those who are worshiping together might want him to come back by all means and it might lead to conflicts.

ZA25 [38850-39742]

Yes ahh the problem is that nothing to be hidden, there is not supposed to be anything that is supposed to be hidden in either of the religions that is Islam and Christianity. But we observe that some non-practicing Muslims or groups or Muslims and Christians, they have pushed some of their followers to convert into another religion because they have been into some nefarious activities, which makes such followers to think that kai this is not a religion. And once they convert to another religion then those their former associates will now be afraid that hey he might go there and start revealing some of the secrets and that is one of the causes – and some people have as in they have just closed their minds that kai there is no way my son, my brother will become a Muslim and once it happens they will want to employ every means to forcefully make him come back to his former faith.

ZA26 [18879-19202]

No. it is not. I disagree because. I have a Christian friend. Both sides they don't agree with that. If you convert your own family will disown you even from the Christian family or Muslim family. If you convert they will disown you not only peculiar to Muslims please take note. I don't know why you emphasize on Islam.

ZA27 [17679-17862]

I did not agree with this because many-in northern part of Nigeria we have many Christians converting to Islam and converting from Islam to Christianity and nothing happen to them.

ZA28 [31681-31764]

Well it is not actually and a contribution many factors are contributing to this

ZA29 [45680-45733]

I disagree with that. Conversion is not the reason.

ZA30 [53884-54111]

I strongly disagree with this because we are, I give an example of what is happening in Sultan Bello mosque. Every year, more than fifty people converted to Islam, is there any, any fight or jihad that happened in that mosque.

ZA31 [25328-25940]

Toh, as I have said earlier on, if you want to persuade someone or if you want to preach, you don't have to preach through violence. Like if I want to preach to somebody right now to convert to my faith, I don't have to use, I don't have to use stick, I will use my words and persuasive words. Toh, I believe anyone I use that instrument, that persuasion; I don't see a reason why he should fight me back. So the only, the only thing that cause violence is by through, any religion to seek as in any religion, faith to ask for conversion or is by through violence or through violence but not through persuasion.

ZA35 [17439-17859]

Yes because today some Christians convert to Islam due to one thing or the other, but mostly, you see the Muslims converting to Christians, some of them I think is because of the words while some of them is because they have one problem or the other and maybe they get help through a Christian that is a non-Muslim, they just look and say ah what am I still doing in this religion, since they can't get what they want.

ZA36 [25444-25453]

I don't

ZA37 [34018-34268]

No. I don't agree because many years ago or since many years ago, Christians are converting to Islam and some few Muslims convert to Christianity for long, why was it that there was no conflict by that time until just of recent from the late 1980's.

ZA38 [38838-39022]

I disagree, but the issue is, as I said earlier, it has almost, it has a political tonation, you understand. I don't see anything; conversion cannot be the major cause of conflicts.

ZA39 [51284-51542]

I disagree with this. I have never seen a situation where a conversion, a case of conversion from either Muslim to non-Muslim or Non-Muslim to Muslim caused a religious conflict in northern Nigeria. We don't have such record and we have never heard

Th18.5: Religious Interest of Muslims as above Nigeria and other Nigerians

FG1 [54641-54678]

Yah it is true (in a chorus fashion)

FG1 [54693-54776]

Because they feel like they are too important to be ignored. That is the feeling.

FG1 [54777-54835]

A true Muslim must practice his religion above anything

FG2 [47711-47738]

(F) That is his own opinion

FG2 [47740-48298]

Religious interests when it comes to religious interests where God himself or the messenger of Allah (SAW) says this is what you should do. I believe it should be the priority, the norm over whatever interest, whether it is the interest of the country or in so far as this is what because we are Muslims are being asked to practice their religion sacrosanct, religiously, completely so where the religion says this is it you cannot go contrary to that. If that is what he means by saying Muslims put religious interests over all other interests he is right

FG2 [48339-48898]

(F) As Muslims in my own opinion I know we all believe in the prophet and we believe in Allah as our lord so we follow the teachings of the Qur'an and the hadith. So we should definitely put our religious interest above every other thing as long as we will not use it to violate other peoples' religion. We will not use it to cause any kind of conflicts in the nation. Since we are suing our religious interests we are putting it above any other thing then that is even good for us because we are going to practice everything according to what Allah has said.

FG3 [88217-88246]

I will say yes and no for me

FG3 [88269-88578]

Because as a Muslim what you are expected to put in place in everything you like is Islam, which is total submission to the will of Allah. But you said, if you look at it in the other way round, it said to any other thing, after that any other thing can come. So we take everything after that also priority.

FG3 [88580-89233]

Like he said, but my own is just a little, as in the question talked only about the Muslims but I will want to talk about both, the two parties that is the Christians. The Muslims actually put more priority in their religion. Likewise when you take the Christians also, ask them what do you put as your priority he will tell you that his religion first that is what comes first. If not let's take a very good example that came to our national assembly whatsoever to legalize gays. Who goes against it? Both the two religions went against it. What are we putting first? Religion. So if the Muslim should put his religion as a priority I see no problem.

KD2 [35047-35275]

This is not true. Is a pure misconception in the minds of people trying to convey another form of hatred to non-Muslims, but Muslims have not put any form interest above, any form of religious interest above that of the country.

KD3 [25377-25550]

My view on this, my view to this is right. Yes, religion supersedes anything, even myself, even I myself that I am talking, my religion comes first before any other thing.

KD4 [57545-57664]

That is how it supposed to be, as a Muslim, the interest of your religion has to come first before any other religion.

KD5 [33967-34674]

I don't believe on this because looking at our Muslim political leaders, you will understand that they are not religious enough to put the interest of the Muslims or the interest of Islamic religion above the interest of Nigeria because if you look closely, you will realize that most of Muslim followers, they believe that their Muslim representatives are not representing them well, but rather they are representing themselves. If you look at it closely you will realize that even the religious conflict that has been erupting, it has never affected the political class because the political class of Nigeria always put their interest above any other interest talk less of the interest of their religion.

KD6 [52001-52208]

My first priority is Islam because God created me. He created me and that Nigeria as a nation, we come together. So, we have to agree by our difference. Everybody should know his difference and agree on it.

KD7 [40936-41137]

Islam would always come first. If a Muslim decides to take his deeds, his rights over that of others especially if he is being true to his religion, I see no harm in that. That will always come first.

KD8 [74884-75511]

Of course it is true, as a Muslim, in the interest of your religion, as a Muslim, I cannot deny that. The interest of my religion is above any other one. Then the next one will follow. The interest of the country because if I die, I will not be asked you are a Nigeria or I will be asked as a Muslim to what degree have I observed the rules of Allah (SBUH). By that time nobody will ask if I am a Nigerian or not. So, the interest of me as a Muslim supersedes any other ehm interest. The other interest comes later because if I die now God will not ask me whether I am a Nigerian, no. He will ask me about how I lived my life.

KD9 [51578-51793]

So whose religious interest should we put forward more than any other thing if not our religion? That is what we should put first, Islam first. So that accusation, let it be, it is true and we accept it like that.

KD10 [38626-38857]

Ah they should put it under everything now, as a Muslim you have to put Islam above everything, everything. Everywhere you are a Muslim, you talk like a Muslim, you behave like a Muslim, you want Islam and the Muslims to prevail.

KD11 [35945-36806]

This is not just a thing of Muslims interest, but I think it is the political culture of Nigeria itself. There is this emphasis of intangibles over tangible things, emphasis on religion and ethnicity, for instance, bills in the senate that we have that are supposed to impact directly on the lives of Nigerians are been neglected. For instance, the petroleum bill is till there in the senate without the senators passing it, but when they brought the bill homosexuality both the Muslims and non-Muslims unanimously disagree and pass the bill against homosexuality. This is not unconnected with the political culture we have that ah political culture of laying emphasis on intangibles. I mean if anybody is a gay, it is his private affair. When you are a gay who is concerned? Does it put affect ah food on my table or any other thing? And so many other things.

KD12 [42483-42859]

Ah not Muslims have been putting their interest, when we say Muslims, we are talking of Islam and Islam comes from God and then the rule of law, the divine books or the divine law that guiding the Muslims, the Islamic ways of life is the Qur'an. So wherever Muslims be he knows actually the uppermost aim in anywhere he is he has to uphold Islamic tenets that is the Qur'an.

KD13 [20681-20784]

That is how it was supposed to be because a Muslim is supposed to place his religion above all things.

KD14 [25928-26108]

Yes the view is right because Islam is the total way of life of every Muslim and Islam should come first even, come first even before myself then talk more or less of the country.

KD15 [33561-33946]

Ahm you said Muslims have been accused of putting their religious interest ba? You see, I have said earlier on that, in this life, if you are practicing a religion and yourself interest overcomes your religious interest, I think there will be a problem, but if you can allow your religious interest to overcome your selfish interest I think things will move smoothly that is just it.

KD16 [21947-21964]

Please go ahead

KD17 [60683-61493]

Who said so? Which interest has been put in terms of Nigeria? The recent national conference, how many Muslims were there? Which interest of Muslims did they put there, which interest of Muslims? The interest of Nigeria, how many, okay the present electioneering the was done, a Muslim is the president, General Buhari or president Buhari sorry. The senate president is a Muslim, the vice is a Christian, come down to the house of representative, the house of reps speaker is a Christian, the deputy is a Muslim, so nobody should just say these things. People are not even fighting for our own interest. They are only there for their sake and for their own political ambition. So I don't think anybody will now say that the Muslims are putting their Islamic interest above Nigeria. Who has done that before?

KD19 [41718-42027]

Yes, is not, I wouldn't say accusation per se. I believe whatever one is doing as a Muslim, the religion should come first, so for me as a Muslim, whatever I do, I look at the religion first. So and is the same thing I believe with most Nigerians, so it's not an accusation it is something that is happening.

KD20 [35424-36143]

I think that is true and that is false. It is true in the sense that we Muslims that we we read our Qur'an and the hadith and we have follow Sunna, we know the right thing, we know what is right and we know what is not right, when other religion are doing their own and we feel what they are doing in not right, so there is need for us to come in, to let them know this what they are doing is not good that they we should go to the right we should make sure that we follow the right channel in which Allah has given us has asked us to follow, so when they are going astray there is need for us to call them back, we are going astray we should not go this direction this is the place where we suppose to go, that's it.

KD23 [32066-32439]

It is just a ah baseless accusation well because all what you eh you do in your life you have to put the interest of your religion first before everything, because it is your religion that give birth to you, so you should not I see no reason for you that you neglect your religion and did anything else, so it is not possible your religion is your highest paramount, yes.

KD24 [92217-92767]

Ah because the Muslims believe that Allah (SBUH) says in the Qur'an (he recites in Arabic) I did not created mankind and the jinns but to worship me. Then if that is the case, this worshipping the Muslims usually put it in the first list of their daily activities before considering or viewing any other thing, but no matter what it may be, they should make sure, they usually make sure their religion is their first interest that they make sure that they follow the religion, practice what it says first before coming back to daily life activities.

KD25 [100843-101101]

That is also not true because a Muslim is expected to always live within the teachings of the Qur'an and the Sunna. So no matter what people will say that is their own cup of tea, as Muslims we must abide by the true basis of Islam the Qur'an and the Sunna.

KD26 [36350-37015]

I don't think so, yes some do, but not all. Some have their, not even, the ones that do, if you look at it they do have ulterior motives behind it, But they don't they want the one Nigeria, they want a Nigeria that is politically same that is hmm that is modest, they want a Nigeria that is Nigeria a Nigeria that is corrupt free and I think that is it being under teachings of the sharia law, if they were against that they wouldn't be putting religion above the interest of the country that means they are on the same level putting religion and the interest is on the same level because if you put religion under it, they are trying to make it a better country.

KD27 [35724-36190]

I don't think that is true because I feel that the interest of Muslims is the interest of Nigeria in the sense that whatever is good for a Muslim is also good for a non-Muslim because our rules or the rules that guide Muslims are rules that ordinarily we accept in such a situation, in such a way as to encompass everybody, they go against maybe alcohol, promiscuity, interests and all that.

They are as good for Muslims as they are for Christians and non-Muslims.

KD28 [44863-45340]

Well I don't look at it that way, as a Muslim if you know your religion and you know that you are guided by your religion on whatever you are doing, you cannot take it above anything. You know you as a Muslim, you know that yes you are created by God to serve him and you are in the service of God, and then you know it that it is your own duty to see ...you are living. You cannot use that one to protect you know take your religion above the country or the nation's affairs.

KD29 [29043-29254]

Ah this is another misrepresentation on Islam ah it is not true. Islam teaches us to be obedient. Islam teaches us to respect rule of law. So where do we put Islam above ah the provided, the provided authority.

KD30 [54039-54580]

Of course they are Muslims and they should always put religions first, you see this is the part of the disadvantages of secular government, they have to put government beyond religion and I think religion has to be beyond government and if you are to agree ah for a Muslim is not permitted to accepted a given law above the law of God. God has to be first before, I think these are things that should be reviewed even in the Nigerian constitution and unless these things are done we will always have misunderstanding over issues like this.

KD31 [25809-26083]

Actually, that is not true, that is not true because I ah like where I do school and whatever I have lot of non-Muslims in them they are doing our things normally just the issue of politics like I said and I will always attach politics to all these problems we are facing.

KD32 [38869-39106]

Yah in Islam that is totally submission to the will of Allah, so this should be the first priority, first priority, yah to protect Nigerian interest is also something very important, but Allah's interest firsts before nation's interest.

KD33 [33104-33352]

Well islamically you are not allowed to put any interest first, not your religious, you are not allowed to put any interest above your religious interest, so it is true that Muslims are putting their religious interest above any kind of interest.

KD34 [41499-42015]

Hmmm as I said some people using religious as a tools to have a political gain, definitely whenever somebody comes to make an campaign like the recent election that took place, some people use a lot of churches and then pastors to propagate or to campaign their own candidate, so due to that people told you that they should vote, devoted to your religion here and there after they got that eh you are become devoted then they will start using or accusing the other religion and telling you to go against the other.

KD35 [40734-40950]

That is proper, once you put the interest of your religion above any other interest because religion guides you, it guides you properly, so the moment you put it first you will be law abiding citizen to your nation.

KN1 [83240-84679]

Now you see, one thing that I want you to know about Islam is it has respect for other religions. Like now in Islam it calls Jews and the Christians, it didn't call them non-Muslims or Kuffars or infidels, it calls them ahl kitab-the companion of the books the knowledgeable ones and I told you even under the duress of the jihad-a war, it is said that you should not burn down Christians am church or kill a woman and all that kind of things. It is even allowed for a Muslim to marry a Christian wife, it's allowed. And now because of the respect that Islam has for the marriage of a Christian now if you convert to Islam as a Christian it will not say that you have to remarry, it will change your name of course you change your faith, but your marriage still remain the same thing, it will not say that go to mosque you have to remarry again it will not do that. So there is respect from Islam to Christians and to some other religions but it is those that don't understand religion. Now if you say that Islam come before Nigeria in what way? It doesn't mean that you will burn Nigeria or kill somebody to take his wife or shop and say that Islam is beyond Nigeria that is not really the true position. But yes even before your life your religion is suppose to be first, your faith is suppose to be even first before your life because this is something that is guiding a true believer in whatever religion. This is not only in Islam.

KN1 [85012-85323]

Yah, my opinion is this we have respect for them and the fundamental issue is about the conversion, if you marry a Christian wife it is not that you must convert her to your religion but because of the weakness of the other party if you marry her and said ok I have given you to this man it's about conversion

KN1 [85461-85939]

Yah, When you marry a Christian you should not force into your religion or try to convert her she can still as she is and you are still allowed to marry her. And you should treat her as a wife and you should even take her to church when she needs to go to church that is the requirement. But for the fear of oppression of the Muslims woman, this is a protection of the woman that is the more reason because Islam respects woman it is out of the respect for the woman. Like now...

KN1 [86348-86667]

Yes so what I am saying is this, now in Islam when you wife says I want to go to church you will either take her to the church or you will give her transport fare to go to church. And nobody among the family will say no or anything of the sort, from the other aspect what assurance do you have that it will not happen?

KN1 [86830-87041]

If the man wakes up and says you are not going to church, he knows it is against his religion because the religion says that he should not do that, it is... you married her you allow her to go to her worship place

KN2 [48152-48343]

No. Whoever is putting his religion above Nigeria is a fake politician. The real ones who are really meaning Muslims are not part of that political process where they can even be identified?

KN4 [61590-61862]

Is not true, it is not true when you look at it, is not true. It is a Muslim that solve the problem of Niger delta. There is a group of Muslims and Christians under the leadership of the religious cleric that preach peace amongst the people. It is not true, I disagree.

KN5 [40018-40121]

Because Muslims are created to worship Allah so whatever contradicts that should also be contradicted.

KN6 [47435-47984]

I don't agree with this because if Muslim put the interest of religious so he will not stole the money of Nigeria. She can treat Christians with Muslims equally, he will not do injustice. I don't agree with this, maybe the people that are claim are Muslims, maybe they misunderstand Islam and may be they maltreat this Islamic rule and regulation. So I believe that if Muslim fail in the interest of his religion ahh I can swear that he will treat Christian and Muslim equally and he will not do injustice for those, even those who are Christians.

KN7 [42214-42609]

Well it depends, it depends in the sense that ehm in recent times, we are being ehm, we are being we are lacking behind when it comes to Islamic orientation. So when one tends not to have ehm full Islamic orientation, so definitely he will put even though religion should come over every other, every other activity but not to the extent of ahh, turning yourself to a religious extremist, yes.

KN10 [29172-29189]

Ah, it is a lie.

KN11 [36927-36968]

So, this is not true, this is not true.

KN13 [39609-40301]

Hmm, definitely, definitely, I don't think yah they have been-it depends on, it depends on what particular aspect that is why we have the Islamic revivalism. It depends in particular what kind of particular because Islam has been formed into various forms of sects, this sects are the one causing the major problem in the society. When we have sects like the Tijjaniyya they believe in this or let me say the Qadiriyya whereby they believe in their superior ehm superior leader and definitely or the supreme leader whereby this have caused the major cankerworm of whereby you see ehm a Muslim being more loyal to a particular sect than to his own definite religion of prophet Mohammed (SAW).

KN14 [33732-33760]

This is how it should be.

KN15 [27554-27630]

I think this is what a Muslim supposed to be doing. It is the right thing.

KN16 [16947-16986]

This is what they suppose to be doing.

KN17 [33518-33532]

Yes its true

KN18 [56069-56095]

I don't know of that one.

KN19 [37081-37127]

Especially in the northern region it's true.

KN20 [27849-28086]

Is it only the Muslim? Is not only the Muslims even the Christians, we are saying we the Nigerians we we tend to be too religious so we put our religion before the interest of this country which is not which which is not supposed to be.

KN21 [19626-19646]

I disagree with it.

KN22 [38988-39640]

Yah, it goes in line with what I said just now, you understand, they have been accused. It is just a speculation because already the existence of Nigeria and Nigerians is guided by a binding document and this biding document is constitution. So wherever Muslim leaders are not following this secularist constitution, then that is when they can be accused or implementing sharia legal system and following that of sharia legal system and subjecting the constitution, that is where they will be accused of. So as said earlier, all this has a political connotation. It is just like a divide and rule system that the political office holders are applying.

KN23 [25511-25577]

It is true because as a Muslim God created you to practice Islam

KN24 [24256-24269]

This is true

KN25 [38361-38431]

Well I think sometimes this is correct. Not in all situations though.

KN26 [44127-44162]

Yah this can be true to some extent

KN27 [31998-32241]

I don't think it is, I don't think it is because there have existed different regimes of Muslim leaders and I don't think there is any place that or in history that the Muslim have been imposing the Islamic ideologies on Nigerians as a whole.

KN28 [23767-23947]

Well as a Muslim, if so be it, I would prefer it but due to the secularism which is being practiced in Nigeria I believe it will be possible Nigeria should just be a Muslim state.

KN30 [21266-21283]

That is not true

KN31 [41947-42208]

Actually a very, very religious conscious somebody will always put his religion first because we all believe anybody who has faith know that it is your religion that will take you the hereafter. The only secular thing is just worldly thing and it is a vanity.

KN32 [20406-20501]

Ah this also is not true, it is not true in any way and ah I don't see anything true about it.

KN33 [14917-14971]

Yes because Islam is seen as first by Muslim people.

KN34 [28127-28818]

I don't think this is right because I don't see any reason where someone will even raise this point. When you look at what is obtainable like or an instance majority of our leaders even the way they use to act, you see some of our leaders use to attend church services, or marriages or anything of Christians. So I don't see-even they are still operating using the provision of the constitution not the provision of the holy Qur'an or the hadith. They are still governing the country and some are even submitting themselves to the constitution, to the laws, to the penal court, to the criminal court not the sharia penal court or something. So I don't think this point or opinion is right.

KN35 [26999-27244]

For a Muslim the religion is a first, so he has to practice his religion. If you ask him what, he may put his religion above any other thing even including state itself because the state can subject to religion in that sense of secular society.

KN36 [26630-26810]

Yes because as far as you are a Muslim all your life both internal and external you have to operate it within the limitations of the religion's principles. Muslim principles sorry.

KN37 [24901-24929]

It is not completely true.

KN38 [19472-19533]

Yah. Religious interest should always be above everything.

KN39 [29427-29452]

Actually it is not true.

KN40 [23379-23387]

No idea.

KN41 [20153-20207]

I disagree with this assertion. It is not like that.

KN42 [52645-53218]

Muslims are just, I can just say rather than being biased they are very conscious of the religion. They want to practice their God, their lord and their God according to the way they are told to practice them, maybe sometimes they might too, too impassionate, impassionate about the religion and but it is all for the fact that they want to practice their religion and they want people to know that they are practicing this religion. Maybe they are supposed to be pause and take a look and see how they are affecting the life of others but is just for the pleasure of God.

KN43 [38260-38657]

And if I am to ask you, what is the religion of Nigeria? Is there any you know, ahh general or state religion in Nigeria? The simple fact is that any believer in religion feels that his religion is superior to others that is why he is practicing the religion. If anyone will feel that his religion inferior to other religion, he would definitely leave that religion and join the superior one, so.

KN45 [45799-46879]

Ah I don't think, I don't think, I don't think ehh this is really what is on the ground. This is really on the ground that the Muslims put their personal-religion is the most important thing to any Muslims (knock on the door) Oh what am I saying what is the question? Yah you can't say that I believe that ehh our religion is the most important thing to us and ehh I believe ehh to a Christian that is so because Nigerians are very religious people. We put God first ehh in everything in our lives, but to say we are putting ehh Muslims are putting their religion above that of the Nation, I don't think is true because the development of the country ehh the stabilization of Nigeria, the peaceful coexistence of we Nigerians among ourselves is the most important thing to all Nigerians because as a Muslims ehh if Nigeria is not stable, we cannot migrate to Saudi Arabia. They won't even accept us there because Nigeria is, we believe, Nigeria is our, is our country and ehh Nigeria is dear to our ehh to our hearts and it is the most important thing for us after our religion.

KN46 [67466-68267]

I don't understand this question, what is, are the interests of Nigeria in contradiction with the interest of their religion or the interest of their fellow Nigerians contrary or in contradiction to the interest of their religion. I don't understand this. If they mean putting religious interest first ahh before the other interest, I think that is what religion is all about. Every, everybody should- that is why even in English they use this word, they say you apply this or you hold this religiously, that means you take it to your heart, you prefer it over all things. So I think religion has this nature, not for Muslims only, for everybody. But I don't think Islam and, I mean, the interest of Islam and the interest of the nation of whole the citizens should be in contradiction to one another.

KN47 [62924-63128]

Well yes, they put their religious interest, I don't think these ideas nowadays ah this is not true now because nowadays, people put their own selfish interest above their religion and above their state?

KN48 [21653-21690]

That is, that is a lie. It is a lie.

KN49 [32028-32180]

I think that is not true. People are try, people try to protect their religions and they should protect their religions, but that is not entirely true.

KN50 [18939-19106]

I don't believe this is true also because Nigeria is not an Islamic state, so how will Muslims put their religious interest above that of Nigeria and other Nigerians?

KN52 [65168-65842]

Yes that is one area of conflict that I think scholars should address properly because, like I mentioned earlier, that Islam is a very comprehensive ideology that provides a frame work for human existence in terms of I mean what they should do even how you sleep as a Muslim is regulated. So I think the Muslims are, as I mentioned earlier, Islam is paramount and is supreme as a Muslim you must submit first to the will of God before you do another thing but I don't think that should be a source of conflict in terms of the relationship between the Nigerian state and the Muslims or the non-Muslims, everything is defined in accordingly in terms of the injunctions

KN54 [14017-14051]

Islam is always our priority.

KN55 [16740-16770]

Islam is always our priority

KN56 [29265-29497]

Yah actually as Muslims we take our religion with great priority so there is no way that we should put something which is secular and western and having a Christian outlook to be at the top of our religion. Islam should come first.

KN57 [23530-23608]

Yes. It is true because we respect the teachings of our religion that is why

KN58 [51453-52113]

Yes it is Islamic teaching. Asshadu Allah illah ha illallah wa asshadu ana Muhammadan rasulillah (SAW). In Islam we are taught that Islam first, I am a Muslim first before I become a Fulani man, before I become a Nigerian or a citizen or indigene of Kano.

Wherever I see a Muslim irrespective of where he comes, either he is a Chinese, whether he is a Mongol, whether he is an American, whether he is a Nigerian, he is my brother, so Islam first. Islam doesn't have a defined boundary, it cuts across boundaries, a national boundaries, tribes, opinions, creed or a way of life in as much as you bear that name Muslim, you are a brother, so Islam first.

KN59 [57844-58081]

We Muslims in the north perceive Islam as our culture that is why they might think we put our religious interest above any other interest or Nigerians so our own mode of tradition or culture go in line with our religion, so that is it.

KN60 [39890-40080]

Hmmm I don't agree with this although they are supposed to put their religious practice above any other thing, any other thing that is contrary to what Allah has said should be kept aside.

KN61 [21216-21280]

All Muslims has to put his religion first than any other thing.

KN62 [65091-66229]

Have been accused of putting their religious interest above that of Nigeria? Yes, yes because ah in Islam, we have this that ah our religion comes first then everything comes after. So it is not a problem that a Nigerian ah ah a true northerner puts his religion first before a Nigerian matter or a Nigerian issue, it is not a problem. That is what I believe as long as he doesn't violate the constitutional provision, but wherever ah a certain ah am, let's say, violation of a constitutional provision arises, you understand, we Muslims withdraw our religious practice or our religious beliefs or whatever, we withdraw it because we believe that we are living under just duress, we are doing that under duress and Allah will not hold us responsible for that. Allah himself says this because we are powerless, we cannot actually overrun this very constitution, since we cannot do that then Allah sees it and he pardons us for this. That is what Allah says (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) and that ah the verse I quoted before and together with that very Sunnatic tradition (he recites a verse of the Qur'an). That is what I believe.

KN63 [56746-57061]

It has to be like that, religion comes before anything. The law of Allah comes before anything. So the interest of Allah should come first more than man-made interest. That should come first in anything you do, interest of Islam, interest of Allah should come first before any other thing. It has to be like that.

KN64 [31393-31441]

Yes, religion is about everything, everything.

KN65 [40328-40713]

Well I don't have much to say on this, but one thing we should know is this, as a Muslim, as a Muslim you know that ah you have to practice your religion religiously, you understand. Allah has put ah guide which is the Qur'an and you have to follow the Sunna the way we ought to be. So if that is what they see as putting interest above that of Nigeria, I think they are wrong, yes.

KN66 [27778-28013]

Ahh, my view on this is false, Muslim do not, do not put their religious interest above Nigeria and Nigerians because I have heard of some Nigerians, of some Nigerian Muslims who love their country as much as they love their religion.

KN67 [29761-30075]

Well yes I can say it is true, some that misunderstanding ah the religion or the religious interest or the Islamic interest may think that there are so many places where we can deprive somebody of his own right and use it as an excuse that it is Islam that is given you ah right to do that, which is not correct.

KN68 [14088-14116]

Islam is always a priority.

KN69 [53876-54352]

Of course we were, we were created because of Islam. Allah (SAW) said it categorically (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) even before the, even before the creation of Nigeria our fore, fore grandparents were Muslims. Therefore, Islam is ahead of everything you are expecting in the mind of the Muslim in this world, but Nigeria is our country and we love our country and we continue to safeguard the interest of our country because we don't have anywhere to live but Nigeria.

KN71 [83249-84373]

Yes because if it is an accusation to some extent it is true and to a little extent it is not the right, it is not the fault of the Muslims. My religion dictates to me that (recites a verse of the Qur'an) my life, my prayer and my sacrifices, my life and my death belong to Allah (SBUH) if I die for the sake of Allah, I would be rewarded, if I die for the sake of Nigeria in me dying, say I am a soldier or a police man, in me dying, I am dying together with the whole of my children and all my family because am the breadwinner. So why should I forsake Allah who is guarantee for something that is unreal, you understand, so if there is this accusation, it is because Nigeria refuse to live up to the expectations of its citizens. As a Muslim now I am a soldier, I am taking to Baga, I am killed by the insurgent then myself and my children are all dead because nobody will even take care of their what, of the feeing, of the school fees, but if I die for the cause of Allah, I know I am having an automatic entrance to Al-janna, then do I have to take the interest of Nigeria more than that of my religion? Of course, no.

KN72 [44035-44304]

Yes, it is good for that because Islam is a belief on God that is the supreme God. So anything beside that I think ehh it does not matter because Islam is above anything, yes, Islam is above anything because it is the will of God and God is the supreme to all mankind.

KN73 [44495-44921]

They are not putting their religious interests. Just because Islamic teachers guide them first to serve Islamic interest first in whatever they are doing. It is not even in Nigeria, it is not even in politics that is even there, even on your own, Islam is ahead of you. It is above first then others follow. So wherever you find yourself, Islam first others follow, Islam first then you follow. That is the Islamic guidance.

KN74 [53894-54085]

Yes am absolutely, yes, am also putting my religion above everything because my religion is first then the other things. Yes am absolutely agree with this, am also putting my religion first.

KN75 [58957-59134]

Yes because a lot of things that have been done in the constitution is un-Islamic that is why we have to use our religion first before any other thing in Nigeria.

KN76 [49192-49538]

Well it depends on how the situation and what is in question. You can't expect non-Muslims to ahh a Muslim ahh not to put their religion when it comes to the religious aspect, but when it comes to other aspect that bothers on our coexistence with others, I don't think any Muslim would put the interest of religion above that of our coexistence.

KN76 [49664-49932]

Not only Muslims all other people would put the interest of religion above that of the others. So I don't think it is a misplacement to accuse Muslims for doing so. Christians also do the same thing and the non-Muslims, all other non-Muslims also do the same thing.

KN78 [67190-67786]

Well is natural. It is not even Muslims alone, I think it cut across other tribes as well. There are tribes, there are other religious beliefs that put their religious interest beyond ahh ahh beyond ah other people's interest yes, yes it is a phenomenon but that could be curtailed for as long as we succeeded in addressing, as I said more fundamental issues. Not until the citizens are conscious of the fact that he belongs to a geopolitical area because of the fact that the government are really addressing some of the issues that bothers him, some of the issues that gives him sleepless life.

KN80 [50356-50481]

So they are not doing it solely because of their self-interest, so it is the religion places itself sovereign to our faith.

KN81 [36143-36265]

Only Muslim ahh this is selfish. Other religions have their own not only Muslims that have this selfish even non-Muslims.

KN82 [35128-35263]

It is true that a Muslim must think or must do things according to the dictates of the Islam and Nigeria is not advocating for Islam.

KN83 [27506-27789]

Well this is true because emm you know we Nigerians we really-yes is true because you know we Muslims are living under the Islam and we know our religion is above everything, so I think this is the reason why we are, we use to give a priority to our religion than the other things.

KN84 [30231-30364]

Not only Muslim even the Christians, a good Christian must take ahh this thing, Christianity above anything and as well as Muslim.

KN85 [44306-44585]

Yes, I yes, actually, this is true, this is because to a Muslim Islam first. Islam is a way of life; therefore, Islamic considerations come first before any other thing. You even put Islam before yourself. So you cannot put Nigeria or Nigerians first and then Islam second, no.

ZA1 [43416-43918]

Let me ask you my friend, (background response and laughter), you want me to aside my own religion because I want you to please with me, so now why does Mr. Jonathan and the house of assembly, national house of assembly refuses to agree with gay law by the America, why? Because it is against our tradition of Islam, now you want me to accept it? No. My religion is my religion, is my personal affairs, so you can't say I have to leave my personal affairs because I want you to be pleased with me, no.

ZA2 [57434-57472]

No, I didn't agree that. It is a lie.

ZA3 [33782-34753]

Why? Is it only Muslims? What the Christians too are doing is even more worse than that, so is not the issue of emm what I want to ascertain is that whatever is happening even in terms of religious sentiments, we will check out the real causes, what the Muslims are just doing is trying to revolt what has been transpiring, before now a typical Muslims that will do that is an illiterate, he doesn't know anything, he doesn't ought to get anything so and is all about choice. Even in terms of education, but we can also believe and know that before the coming of the colonialism, there is a time where established system of education eh people were having knowledge, so is the matter of choice whether you want to go to western education in those days, but what made them to be averse is that most of the people that went ended up going become Christians so were akin, relating most times akin Christianity, that was not what made them to be backward in any way at all.

ZA4 [53206-53564]

Emm putting their own interest and Islam as their din that is- Islam is the way of life, is a total way of life, so it has to be supreme, but supreme in the sense that it will not be causing problems and distress ah to other people and inconveniences that will cause you and not just to them, this is not the teachings of Allah, of the Qur'an and the Sunna

ZA5 [36644-37050]

Yes, I you said that Muslims are putting their interest, their religions interest above that of Nigeria and other Nigerians, yes I agree with that, you understand, because everybody have to put is religion first before any other thing, before state, they you understand, that is just the thing. You have to put your religion first before any other thing because the way you do things, is the way of life.

ZA6 [78957-80649]

It is the government that causes that. I still, even likewise the Christians. You can see now, sorry to say, but in the previous dispensation, CAN has never been this strong because they believe now it is their turn, it is the Christian leader, CAN became very vibrant, became very strong, it is not supposed to be like that. In a situation like this, what do you want the Muslims to think? They will want their own person to go there so that they too they can be as strong as this association. If you come to think of it, come to think of it, during the previous regime, the MSS or whatever, the Islamic body, the national Islamic body was not as strong as CAN. CAN became, in fact, the president of CAN, sorry to say, I know you are a Christian, but it is a fact now, Oritsejiafor even dictated some things to the government and you know of that. So definitely that is the reorientation we need in Nigeria, when we have when the Muslims have government, they believe okay it is ours now we should do what we want. If the Christians have government, they believe it is theirs, they should do what they are supposed to do at this particular time when they have the chance, but it is not popper and that is what is killing us and the feeling of okay now because it is a Christian then they do anyhow. I am not saying they do anyhow, but that is the feeling of the average Muslim in the northern Nigeria now. Now even here, they feel okay no, it is not possible. So you see, the unity has been divided. There is no unity now, but maybe like this present government is going, we are praying that he won't put the interest the religions, the Muslims over the interest of Nigerians in general.

ZA7 [44790-45292]

It shouldn't be Muslims alone. I think all religions everyone with his believes has to put is believes first before that of the nation. So if a Christian wants to, I want to tell you to be more patriotic to your religion than the nation, if that is, if you were too patriotic to this nation, so bro please be more patriotic to your religion. Seriously it has to do with ehm religion has to come first before anything. So I think yes, I want to say yes it is true that Muslims put their religion first.

ZA8 [83762-85827]

Ahh like I said we are brought, according to our own view, we are brought to this world to worship God, instances whereby people will start putting worldly gains above that of their God, I think they are lost. By the time you start, now, like I said, if you look at what, if people are to actually follow the sharia the way it is, it will be in the interest of both the people and the state. When people start going against what the sharia says or what law of the constitution says, now it will also be in the negative interest of the state that if people started putting, the Muslims put their religious interest first, they are doing it because they know when the religion is good the state will be good. Okay look at, for instance. Like the states that are affected with all this terrorism, bombing, blasting supposing is a state where people think of what God says first before any other thing, do you think all these things will happen? It will not happen because they will start thinking of the consequences of what they will face, what God will do to them if they commit those murders and atrocities. This is a religious interest, they will think kai my religion says this, it says that I should not do this, I should not kill people, now they will not kill anybody, now there will be no bombing or killing of the innocent. Now it is in the best interest of the state, now that they are killing people without religious interest, they are killing people thinking it is religious interest, but this is not religious interest, this is political interest everybody knows, but people will now be camouflaging in saying they don't want to say that this is who is asking us to kill people, they will now say it is religion and people will now believe is religion and everybody knows is not religion, this is political interest not religious interest because if actually they are putting their religious interest first they will not kill people and innocent people, so you see when they put their religious interest first, is in the interest of the state also.

ZA9 [48180-48752]

Well I believe this comes as a result of the teachings we've received at some point in our lives because we have received that, we were made to know that, we were made to understand that everything in this world is vanity, that everything we work for, we work towards, should be to make paradise. I think this is the main reasons why people are getting it wrong, are getting it totally wrong to do things they are supposed to do and taking Islam, putting Islam on their head and making it look like they don't have interest in the life of others and the nation at large.

ZA10 [40146-40373]

This is also false accusation because as Muslims we are accommodative and that is the reason why you can find a lot of Christians in the northern states and having their place of worship scattered all over the northern states.

ZA11 [34887-34936]

I don't see that as true, I don't agree with it.

ZA12 [21886-21943]

Is the belief in what they worship. I think that's all.

ZA13 [22753-23035]

Basically the view of it I think everybody is trying to protect his own interest and protect the believe that when a particular person is up there he is safe and that is why Muslims believe that if their own is on top or is governing they are more safer than non-Muslims in power.

ZA14 [31267-31526]

Yes. Why they put their religion, you have to put your religion first. Then later any other thing follows toh because of that automatically your religion control your life because simply Islam is all about peace and way of life, sharia means the way of life.

ZA15 [32753-32776]

I disagree with that.

ZA16 [23676-23693]

It is not true.

ZA17 [30315-30381]

Toh me I don't know the, why or why they are putting it this way.

ZA18 [36107-36491]

Toh gaskiya, you see, in the Islamic religion, Allah (SBUH) created us to worship him. That is the prime, primary objective of our creation. So the most important thing one should do is to place God's wishes on top of whatever, you understand yauwa. So after God's likes, you practice, you do whatever he wants you to do, then the rest can follow, Allah first before any other thing.

ZA19 [54368-55147]

This is actually a misconception and misrepresentation of the entire Muslims because most of the Muslims who have a true knowledge of Islam and who also have the western knowledge, does not put their interest ahead of the interest of the Nigerian state, because we seek for political powers and we of course participate in so many other political and social of the country and ah to add more on what I have said so far, ah Muslims are not just Muslims, every human being were created, the essence of creation is to worship Allah and we Muslims strictly adhere to this assertion that (quoting the Qur'an) so ah being submissive to the will of Allah does not mean other religion or other people from various religions on earth or Nigeria in particular, were not to be recognized.

ZA20 [35875-35944]

Every Muslims is expected to be governed by the Islamic principles.

ZA21 [40369-40999]

Then is somebody is doing that then he is not a true Muslim because you can see an extremist he can claim to be a Muslim whereas he is not. So for somebody to say that Muslims are placing their religious interests above national interest somebody is let me say with all sense of respect to that matter, he is lying because we have seen Muslim leaders, we have seen even our current president now General Buhari, you cannot say somebody is placing-if somebody is a president and he is a Muslim and that person cannot Islamize Nigeria then that it entails he is-Muslims are not prioritizing their interest over that of the nation.

ZA22 [34343-34900]

Muslims always put interest ah put Islamic interest, the interest of religion above any other thing even above their personal wishes and desires so what about Nigeria. And there is no any clash between Islamic interest and Nigerian interest. If you should adhere strictly to the Islamic interest it will also be good for Nigerians I am very much sure. For instance now or even Muslims should be good people, should be trust worthy, should be nice and kind people, just people even the Nigerians will see the reflection of it. So there is no anything.

ZA23 [42584-42726]

I want always to be accused of putting my religious interest above everything. In everything I do my religion first then followed by others.

ZA24 [54742-55028]

Yes we should put our religion above everything because God created us to come to this world to come and worship him. So we should not allow ourselves to be diverted by other constitution or whatever. So I agree that Muslims should put their religions first in everything they are doing

ZA25 [56023-56538]

The view is borne out of the fact that non-Muslims and some uninformed Muslims have limited the scope of Islam to just going to mosque and fasting in the month of Ramadan and going to have what have you, unknown to them that Islam is a holistic package; the cultural, religious, socio-economic as well as political aspects of life. So to say that they put religious interest first, it is not religious interest it is Islamic interest. If you say religious interest, the word religion is just a component of Islam.

ZA26 [24472-24588]

Islamic law is supreme over us so we are respecting the Islamic law so what can we do? So we are submissive to it.

ZA27 [24479-24636]

Yes I agree yes because as I said earlier, Islam is a total way of life as a Muslims you have to put the interest of religion first before any other thing.

ZA28 [39455-39478]

That is not truly true

ZA30 [65621-66368]

as I told you Islam is a religion that embodied everything. Anything Muslims are doing is ibadat unless if he did out of sharia. So by doing anything and is, as long as somebody knows his religion, anything he is doing is an ibadat and I wonder how he, so all is also part of the daily activities. So he must practice it according to Islam, so he will be doing his religion, but people will start accusing him, but anything, anything you are doing, Muslim, you know is an ibadat unless you do it out of sharia. As I told you, I give you an example of going to toilet, eating food, sitting down, sleeping, even sleeping, so I wonder, somebody who has this kind of guidance. So, you will refer him to some certain activities that he should exclude.

ZA31 [35725-36500]

To some extent, in every religion we use to have this, in every religion, our past leaders like our past leaders, you will see, if you are a Muslim, if you are a Muslim, you will, there are some religious leaders, leaders that will come to you and be advising while if you are a Christians, I believe, am just suggesting, they shouldn't do that, if you are a Christian some particular leaders, they will come and be advising on one thing or the other that will as in promote their religion and in a politics, you are not suppose to, in politics where you are governing both religion, you are not suppose to do that, you are not suppose to favor one faith or the other, you should be neutral, you should take every religion, religion is suppose to be out of government issue.

ZA32 [70574-71092]

Hmmmm Muslims ah actually are expected to put their religious interest over everything, but in Nigeria I agree some of Muslims, some, not even half, some of them are putting their religious interest over Nigeria, Nigeria, Nigerian interest and other Nigerians. I believe that some, but not all. And actually is recommended for a Muslim to put religious interest over everything else, but with that, it should be, it should be protected he interest of others not to cheat them, not to maltreat them, yes alhamduillah.

ZA34 [53167-53777]

Ah dama mana (Ah that is how it should be) a Muslim must always put Islam ahead of everything because Allah says idukhulu fis-silmika idha fatan-enter Islam completely. That nationalism and other things they are something created to deviate Muslims from the real teaching of the religion because a Muslim is religious completely he doesn't even need to borrow another thing. That is that. So a Muslim must always put religion in his heart above everything because his life in this world is completely a test by Allah (SBUH). He created us and he is testing us so we have to make sure that we pass that test.

ZA35 [24421-24438]

That is not true.

ZA36 [37134-37198]

They are being accused of that, but I don't think that is true.

ZA37 [40889-41058]

It is not Muslims only, each and everybody has his own religion and he has to put the opinion of his own religion first before any other thing, it is not only Muslims.

ZA38 [48510-48791]

I disagree why because as a Muslim, it is even stated in the Qur'an that your society should come first, protect your society to come first, respect your Neighbor in whatsoever religion he practice, respect him. If other people are doing it I don't know, but Islamically I disagree

ZA39 [60588-60895]

Actually I don't believe in this because I have never seen a Muslim leader imposing Islamic religion as a top priority in his government because we experience so many leaders both at the state level and national level and none of them has the record of imposing Islam on people or as an official religion.

Th18.6: Treatment of Muslim Converts to other Religions

KD1 [53222-53512]

It all depends, if Muslims converts are converting to other religions and for example, they are converting to other religions for some reasons, but I think we Muslims should check ourselves in such instances. But in a case of Islamic state the rule is clear (he recites a verse in Arabic),

KD2 [23497-23774]

There is no compulsion in Islam because suratul Bakara it is being said that La iqraha fid din, but notwithstanding that, Islam does not allow one, does not allow one to change, to convert from Islam to another religion because there is strict punishment and penalty for that.

KD3 [19021-19164]

Islam has the way to, has every, for a non-Muslims who eh for a Muslim that converts to other religion, Islam has a way of dealing with them.

KD4 [46210-46952]

Well! Islam is a well organized, recognized religion by the almighty Allah. So, Islam has already laid down its rules and regulations in which converts, I will not call them converts and I will not call them reverts, I think that I will just call them people that have been misled, have been led astray by the Satan to embrace another religion which is not the true religion that is Islam. First, they have to be sat down because of the lack of understanding of the religion, educate their ignorance on the religion and condemn the type act that they have already embarked upon first. If that is done and they don't revert to accept Islam, then Islam already has its laid down rules and regulations in which such people should be dealt with.

KD5 [23303-23443]

I think I don't have fresh knowledge though in this part of the country, I have not witnessed where a Muslim convert to any other religion.

KD6 [37643-38460]

According to sharia in Islam (he recites the verse) have two ayas say that before. In Islam, what Islam mean and the reason behind it is when the, we know God created everybody, he send his messages, now if the Christians say they don't agree with the prophet Muhammad (SAW), the Jews agree with the Jesus Christ, the other prophet agree with them. So, let's take it from up, truly if the God sent you, the next prophet you have to follow him, that's just the rule. Not saying that you revert to them, revert to old religion. Still happens in Christianity against the Jews. The Jews did not even allow the Christians, they did not agree with the Christians, but we, all of them are messengers of Allah, when they comes in different times that is why we have a different manuals. Like old model car and new model. So,

KD7 [30292-30336]

The way Qur'an said they should be treated.

KD7 [30370-30710]

Ahm a person who converts from Islam is being called upon and I think some occasions, I have forgotten the number of times or the number of days, but he is being called upon to come back, you, my brother why have you forsaken your religion, come back to your religion, come back to your religion, if he refuses then there is a final means.

KD7 [30734-30777]

The slaying of, the cutting of his head.

KD7 [30894-30999]

it must be done by an established court, that is, it must be established, it must be from an authority.

KD8 [54202-54645]

Okay, okay, in Islam it is not allowed that a Muslim should convert to another religion,, yes. There is a penalty for that. If you are a Muslim, you convert to another religion, Islam has prepared a penalty for that. He should be given time to come back, but if he doesn't come back, but it's the Ulamas that are in a better position to say that, but it is not allowed.

KD9 [36669-37376]

In an Islamic society, they should be killed (laughing) Muslims converting to other religions. Of course if you are given number of days, told the consequence of what you have done and you are still insisting then you should be killed. That is what Islam teaches us. Unfortunately secular society, it is not an Islamic society, we don't have a Khalifa that will tell us this person should you know the judgment of sharia should be carried out on this particular person. So you as an individual cannot do that. It is not the people of course. It is the Islamic government that should do that, but we don't have an Islamic government so what should you do. It is a dire situation. It is bad, really bad.

KD10 [29886-30856]

Muslims converting to another religion? He is a Muslim and now embraces Christianity eh? Well they should talk to him that you are a Muslim and then why did you change your religion. They should talk to him, but if to say in an Islamic state oh, they will give that person three days, after three days if he did not come back to Islam they should just kill him in an Islamic state, but Nigeria is not an Islamic state, you don't do that in Nigeria. You get me right? The least, what you can do is that you can tell, if you know his relations, the can talk to him, you can talk to his relation and so on and so forth. But in a proper Islamic state, like what am saying now, you and I we cannot do that in Nigeria now. If a family member converted, reverted to Christianity, converted to Christianity, change his religion, can you kill this person? Can I do that? I can't. You can't because we are not a government. It is the work of the government. Are you getting me?

KD11 [32781-32980]

They are heretics, apostates, once a Muslims converts to another religion he is no longer a Muslim and should no longer be given the benefits and the status he enjoys erstwhile before his conversion.

KD12 [34337-34481]

Eh they should they should be move nearer to them and preach to them eh say that it is satan that is bringing do and not do into their heart.

KD13 [14833-15152]

Like people said, there are ways people say it, but what I believe is that if this person because according to the prophet's teaching you are cautioned to warn this person. The warning doesn't mean by getting harsh on him, meaning you should educate him the more concerning his din to see whether he will revive again.

KD14 [18869-18974]

There is no special, I could say Islam has ahm ways of dealing with ah Muslims converting to Non-Muslims

KD15 [26968-27121]

Ah they should be treated normally the way Muslims treats Muslim brothers and I think it is okay that is his own choice. So he should be treated normal.

KD16 [15864-16010]

They should reach out to them and preach to them and they should also find out why have they decided to take that decision.

They should find out.

KD17 [48884-49024]

I don't see a reason why a Muslim will convert to other religion when you know the sweetness Islam and you convert to other religion, why?

KD19 [29468-29816]

Well, first and foremost they should be treated as a Muslim first. If somebody converted to religion today he is more or less the same with a Muslim that has spent many years in the religion. He is more or less the same with somebody who has been born into the religion. so he should be treated in the same way as those people ought to be treated.

KD20 [24054-24568]

It is not common for a Muslim to convert into the other religion, and you know as we Muslim, we are not desperate to convert anybody into our religion but those Muslims convert into other religion, I think they just have to they just have to take it like that the way they treat them, nobody no one knows how they are going to be treated they are the ones that are desperate to convert other religion into their religion, but as we Muslim is not common that a Muslim is converting to other religion, that's it.

KD21 [22086-22420]

Converting or converted, sometimes when you say converting they have not really converted, they are about converting to make them see the light. They it all has to go with ah it all has to go with ah saying ignorance let them know what the fear is but for those that have converted, the rule is simple, we give them their sentencing.

KD23 [23087-23564]

Okay so ah equality is the best solution, equality in terms of when you are running your activities in everything both religious aspect, social aspect, ah economical in everything that is equality should be a, should be your priority in ah everything that you are doing especially in terms of preaching, you have to do it with soft mind. So even if people respond to you in ah negatively, you should resist and you should ah you should always try to convince them that is all.

KD24 [71633-73282]

In Islam there is a way they are supposed to be treated and I don't know according to the other religion, but in Islam if a Muslim converts to another religion he will be given some amount of time that what happened that makes you to convert to, leave your religion? Is it that when you entered the religion in the first place you just come to see what we are doing later on you should go and expose it out? Such questions will be asked and he will be the one to answer those questions, if he say no, then we will ask him what is there in the religion that makes you annoyed of the religion, that makes you to go out of the religion? Explain, then we will say for example, fasting, this fasting is too, I can't withstand fasting, then if you can't withstand it, does that make you that you should leave the religion or you should ask is there any remedy for that? You are supposed to ask. If you are not feeling okay or you are not healthy, there is a ah provision for you in the religion, no matter how you are in the religion, there is a provision which says if someone is in so, so, so state, this is how you should preach him, this is how it should be. Then what happened? If at long last he said no, me I am not coming back, in Islam he will be killed, he will be killed and it is known as riddah. The person that leaves the religion is known as murtadd, he is to be killed. If he has been given rights and some amount of time for this, for him not to go and expose some of the secrets of the religion because even you as a human being, as your path, you have secrets that you don't want even your wife to know, talk-less of a whole religion.

KD25 [87527-88157]

They should be called upon to come back, not insulted in any way. They should be preach to, to the tune of three days, if they accepted and come back fine, if they did not accepted then they should be should be killed because the prophet said in a hadith (he recites in Arabic) anybody that alters his religion you should kill him. The question is who should kill him? Is it anybody? No, because jungle justice in Islam is forbidden. It has to be those in authority in as much as the authority is eh Islamic then they are, it is the government that should that should carry out his execution not an, not on individual basis.

KD26 [25694-26128]

It is haram for a Muslim to concert to another ahm religion, but allaahu alam I think what should be done should be left to Allah to be judge because in this day and age, they've painted Islam with this, I don't know, it is a religion with ah of horror as in loves to shed blood, but any well as in a practicing Muslims should know that it is not supposed he or she is not supposed to revert or convert to another religion.

KD27 [25607-25689]

They should be treated the Sunna of the Prophet (SAW) said they should be treated

KD28 [33875-34063]

In Islam those who convert, those who move from Islam to another religion you know you have to give him a period of time and if he cannot retreat back then the law is to get him killed.

KD29 [20605-20748]

Well eh those converting to other religions ah, the Qur'an has spelled out their position and ah on that note, they should be treated as such.

KD29 [20895-21108]

Well the person should be counseled based on Islamic teachings, he will be counseled to really reason with his ah position and ah it is there entrenched in the holy Qur'an on the how he is supposed to be treated.

KD30 [36497-36689]

In Islam, Muslims ah Muslims that convert to other religion are being asked to come back to Islam within a given time and ah failure to do that in an Islamic state there will be repercussion.

KD31 [19716-19767]

It is completely haram in Islam completely haram.

KD33 [24868-25047]

According to Islam, they should be beheaded or killed. They should be first called back to Islam once and twice, thrice if not they should not be allowed, they should be killed.

KD34 [29000-29181]

A Muslim converting to other faith that is what am talking about, I come across, I can't fit a particular person that was converted, but how he should be treated it is on opinion.

KD35 [27535-27904]

They should be treated with mercy because you have, you sympathize with them, he who is who was formerly on the right path has gone astray, so you should have mercy, you should sympathize with him, you preach to him, you tell him the truth, you preach to him and pray for him maybe he may come back, but there is no force in Islam, there is no compulsion in Islam.

KD35 [28034-28314]

As they said once a Muslim is converted to another religion is beheaded then that what the Qur'anic revolution is contradicted. There is no force, there is no compulsion in Islam, so when you are beheading somebody that means you re contradicting the verses there in the Qur'an.

KD35 [28453-28647]

Not even beheaded, you should have, the Muslims should have leniency on him. They should sympathize with him, they should pet him, call him back, preach pray for him, so that he may come back.

KN1 [60199-60556]

Muslims converting others to their religion is the same way that Christians are converting others to their religion through missionaries or enlightenment that is how every religion is encouraging, because I have been saying this. I think this is almost the third time I will mention this one la igra fid din no force in religion. That is the Islamic stand.

KN2 [34735-34973]

There is a provision of that. If somebody converts toooo from Islam to non-other religions then that person will be given a chance, will be sent a number of preachers, will be sent an envoy to see that they win his mind back to Islam.

KN2 [35045-35175]

There is. If in the long run he decides not to come back he will be declared as an apostate. He will be declared as an apostate.

KN4 [49299-49903]

From religion, Muslims converting to other religions and treated, Islam has its own rules and regulations. You can go and practice there is no force in religion within your people, amongst them you can practice to religion that you want inasmuch as you are a Muslim so when you leave you are around within them, nobody will force you that is it but amongst the Muslims, is not allowed for a Muslim to move to another religion but if he can change it territory and move to another place as in Islam when you are saying that you are restricted you cannot practice your religion you can move is ok for him.

KN5 [29950-30237]

According to the provision of Islam they should be killed, but if we are in an Islamic state and maybe the constitution has not permitted that, then those people should be totally left by even their relatives in order to restrict and to stop the reoccurrence that in an Islamic society.

KN6 [32237-32513]

They should treat it like how the prophet Mohammed (SAW) or how Sayyidin Umar bin Khatab treated them during in those times to follow all those way. You can treat them ah with equal opportunity; you can treat them with justice, so justice is the only answer of our question.

KN7 [30439-30657]

Well ehm, if you look at it even Islam recognizes non-Muslims, so I don't think they should be treated in any way apart from how other Muslims are being treated as long as they are human beings and blood flow in them.

KN8 [29650-29954]

Hmm, they should not be strike with force rather they should be persuaded. They should be encouraged, they should be brought closer, you understand, and let them realize the word of God. Preach to them rather than making it a violent take or making it to be conflictual, you understand; their utterance

KN9 [26782-26885]

They should be treated as though they were never Muslims. They have to be treated as unbelievers, yes.

KN10 [20789-20827]

They are sentenced to death, of course

KN11 [27853-27967]

In our teaching of Islam, if any a Muslim change his religion, he will be killed. That is the teaching of Qur'an.

KN13 [30938-31390]

They should be treated with equally as in ok a Muslim being converted to other religion, definitely they shouldn't, I think they are provisions in the Hadith and the Quran that that actually states how they should be treated that is in an Islamic state and if it not in an Islamic state, I don't think ehm, they have the, they have the power to actually take them down, definitely the best thing for us to do is just to avoid anything to do with them.

KN14 [24276-24356]

By helping non-Muslims, doing good to them, preaching and other good activities.

KN15 [22135-22216]

I think they can be treated based on the provision of the sharia, the sharia law.

KN16 [12320-12360]

Based on the provisions of the sharia.

KN18 [45070-45281]

Then well if it is an Islamic state where there are Islamic injunctions, then they should be treated based on what the Islam says since that is the religion, they should be treated based on what the Islam says.

KN19 [27471-27731]

Eh they should be encouraged, they should be persuaded, they should be, they should be taught the will of God that is the Qur'an and the sunna of the holy prophet through this probably their minds might come back to the rulings of God and Allah that is Islam.

KN20 [20313-20477]

Ah they should be treated fairly. Yes so long we are in a secular state, there is no law ah depriving them from going

KN21 [13593-13668]

Am not versed in Islamic studies so I will refer that to Islamic clerics.

KN22 [28916-29286]

It is already stated in Islam already that ah in Islam, it is what Islam call riddah. If someone is a Muslim and converted to non-Muslim or to embrace another religion is stated in Islam, we are going to outcast that person, as Muslims we are going to banish that person as Muslims, in fact to some extent that person's blood is needed or that person's life is needed.

KN23 [19272-19341]

It has provision in the holy Qur'an and I don't have idea about that

KN24 [18491-18496]

Good

KN25 [29619-30179]

They should be treated as non-Muslim. The clear examples of this could be drawn with the Caliph of the holy prophet Abubakr where his son, the son, you know they were Quraish. So before his son accepted Islam that was the battle of Badr, so the son was telling him after the battle that I had an opportunity to strike you down during the battle of Badr and he told his son that if I were the one that had the opportunity you wouldn't be alive. This is to show that if you are in you are in, if you are out you are out. So you should be treated as non-muslim

KN26 [29834-30291]

Well they should they should be allowed to be treated fairly though to be candid with you it is one of the things that ah the Muslim world, the Muslim umma frowns at. For the umma that yearns to yield in number have a minus that is one of the followers of Islam to convert to another religion. it is actually the thing that they frown at and you rightly pointed it out in earlier-some of the questions earlier that these are source of conflicts sometimes.

KN27 [22391-22714]

Well they are already non-Muslims already. So I think they should be treated as non-Muslims but they shouldn't be treated as people. You see there are different things that mandates or let me say brings about this change of religion. So I think this reason should be looked into critically and it should be taken care of.

KN28 [17373-17485]

I think they should be welcomed and probably if they can be convinced enough, not thinking of going back again.

KN29 [3158-3496]

They should be treated fairly. There is no kind of force in religion. There is no compulsion in religion. Anybody that changes it depends on his opinion about something. That is it. if you choose to be a Muslim and tomorrow you choose to be a Christian there is no problem. It is your opinion. It should be a free movement for everybody.

KN30 [16997-17103]

Well it is their desire to change their religion, so they should be left alone to do what they want to do

KN31 [27750-28223]

Well it is normal I think they have their own conscience and their own deeds to face. It is very, very unfortunate to see a Muslim converting to a Christian or other religions, which means for you being a faithful somebody becoming to somebody who has no faith. But I don't think if there is anything that is supposed to be done to such a person because he has his own fate to face but I think with time he could also be influenced to still come back to his normal faith.

KN32 [13731-13955]

honestly these questions should be rather left for Islamic clarity I think I am not one, am just answering this questions base on my understanding of Islam. I think you should rather meet Islamic claries on these questions.

KN33 [10511-10575]

In Islam or islamically it is riddah and they will be punished.

KN34 [17470-17943]

Hmmmm it depends on the state that you are. When you look at what is obtainable here in Nigeria, it is not all states even in northern Nigeria that are practicing sharia law. So there are certain laws that are governing each and particular state. Those states that adopt sharia laws as part of their laws, they should be judged according to or should be treated according to the laws contained in the sharia law. So I think this is the way that we are going to solve this.

KN35 [17888-18095]

They should treat the Muslim according to the rules of the land since they are part and parcel of the society and every religion also has its own doctrines, the way of doing things that have to be followed.

KN36 [18777-18889]

Islam does not allow those that are involved in such act, they should be allowed to face the wrath of the law.

KN37 [17098-17320]

I think orientation, orientation from the youthful age, right from infancy, how you bring up a child, you imbibe in him the practice and principles of Islam that child will find it difficult to convert to any other faith.

KN37 [17397-17717]

I don't think in this twenty first century you can't go by the classical judgment of that, which says, which they refer to as riddah. They should turn him to that occultist, I don't think in this twenty first century that should be necessary. You should apply a more diplomatic and political means to solve that problem.

KN38 [12743-12816]

Muslims converting to other religions, it is highly prohibited in Islam.

KN39 [20944-21116]

Actually Muslims have to make a calling of non-Muslims into Islam through peaceful procedures. That is to say through non-violence and through democratic oriented methods.

KN39 [21201-21479]

Really of course Islam make Islamic religion to its followers that is Muslims not through forcing them to follow their religion and everybody is at liberty to accept the Islamic teachings and to reject it because the consequences is on him not on any other person beside him.

KN40 [17260-17320]

They are to guide them on how to worship their own religion.

KN41 [14774-14907]

To my opinion they should be allowed to do whatever they want because there is no compulsion in Islam as said by the almighty Allah.

KN42 [36042-36128]

Islamically, they are either stoned to death or they are banished. That is the truth.

KN43 [26756-27293]

Yes, they should do it in a reasonable and responsible way. You should first of all make your target covert understand what your religion is all about, what are the teachings of that religion and what are the expectations of the religion to its followers? Once you do that then you can, if you like, you can propagate the religion to non-Muslims. If they decide to accept the religion, fine and good, it is a welcome development and if they decide not to accept, you shouldn't persecute them and you shouldn't use force to convert them.

KN44 [20822-20966]

Well there is ahh there is a provisions made by Islam. So that should have been the question to be answered by Muslim or by Islamic specialist.

KN45 [30276-30462]

Yah I think ehh looking by the law of the land if a Muslim convert to other religions, I think there are rules ehh in the country that protect him. So I think that should be maintained.

KN46 [50638-51502]

Ahh, a Muslim converting to other religions that one is called in Islam Murtadd. Murtadd is someone, someone who ahh changes his religion, who discards his religion and embraces a new religion. So if as a Muslim you decide to discard your faith and embrace ahh different religion that is very very bad, very very bad and ahh scholars ahh have ahh different opinions as to how this ehh particular person should be treated. In fact there are certain opinion which prescribes death penalty for someone who changes his religion, for someone who changes Islamic religion to any other religion. But ehh ahh there are other scholars who are of the opinion that as long as that ehh conversion is not ahh against the state interest or that particular person does not take arm against the Islamic state then ahh that particular penalty will not apply in his own case.

KN47 [47150-47754]

Well, according to Islam they should be allowed to, they should be called to order, you know to understand that what they did is not right and they should be allowed to decide in a couple of days for them to go back to Islamic religion and if they don't, then there is eh is this explanation or this interpretation which says they should be prosecuted, you understand. So I don't think in this kind of current situation we have, we don't think ahh people should be prosecuted, you understand, because they convert to other religion because there is no proper, you know, Islamic ah ah state in the place.

KN48 [15187-15268]

They should, they should be treated in a nice way. They should be well welcomed.

KN49 [25621-25646]

They should be executed.

KN50 [13376-13419]

This should be left for Islamic scholars.

KN52 [42468-42697]

I think it is clear, Islam has made it clear the punishment that Muslims who have converted to or who have committed apostasy, right? Who have denounced their religion, should be treated. It is clear in Islam. There is a law.

KN54 [10309-10329]

Well opinions differ

KN55 [11150-11273]

On this case we have different opinions. Some said they should be killed and some say they should be given three chances.

KN56 [18784-19125]

Actually on Muslims converting to other faith, opinion differs. Some scholars are of the opinion that if a Muslim converts to other faith he should be giving three opportunities to return to the faith. If he doesn't he should be killed. But some scholars are of the opinion that the moment a Muslim leaves his religion he should be killed.

KN57 [17224-17451]

You see, islamically if a Muslim converts to other religion, he is given an ultimatum of three days notice to come back to his normal religion. If he refuses to come back he would be killed. Yes. That is the teaching of Islam.

KN58 [38234-38988]

Well islamically if you convert to another religion you are given options. You are either allowed to come back and accept the Islamic faith or you if it fails you be allowed to be killed, but that is when you are given the chance three times to come back to your original faith. Now as you said earlier on, conflicts mostly arise because the Christians that are found in northern Nigeria always try to convert us to their own faith. We don't do that because we believe in peaceful coexistence, but because they want crisis and they capitalize on that that we are the ones that want crisis. They always pinch the Muslims and when you pinch the Muslim definitely you must expect what you call backlash. That is what is happening even in the western world.

KN59 [35393-36126]

Actually based on our own faith and belief, if a Muslim converts to a non-Muslim he has done riddah and based on the doctrines, so if he did that riddah they said that they would behead you or kill that you because you have done something that is abnormal in Islam, you understand, but due to the method of our governance in the country we normally beheaded the person that converts to non-Muslim, you understand, because it is not common because we have freedom of religion you can follow... but when he converted we cannot easily kill you, but we label you as an abnormal person, so there is this attachment that this person does not know what he is even doing he would even be considered to be mentally retarded, you understand.

KN60 [28612-28979]

The prophet (SAW) has spoken about a point like that, that when a Muslims convert to another faith if he now decided to migrate from leaving among the Muslim brothers and change his position and migrated to live among the non-Muslims, then Islam has permitted for his blood to be shed, but by the Qadi that is the people in power not by anybody, not by me or by you.

KN61 [14794-14854]

Ahh is not the same thing, this question cannot be aright.

KN62 [49483-49935]

Muslims converting to other religions. Well I believe in Islam, anybody who eh converted to another religion that is the person called ah ah, in Islam we call anybody who converted to the other religion as a sahibul riddah or as a person who did riddah and anybody who actually eh converted into another religion in Islam that person is killed. If you, if anybody dare leave Islam, that person is killed in Islam yah. That is what I believe, hmm mm.

KN63 [36847-37862]

In an Islamic set up, in an Islamic state whoever did riddah that is maybe a Muslim converting to another religion riddah, you know, for somebody that has done that, it has its own penalty, you know, that is in an Islamic state, but when you are now having a non-Islamic state where they don't have sharia, you know, you don't, you cannot take arms by ourselves, you cannot take laws into our hands, even in an Islamic state when you have the sharia in an Islamic set up, they don't take laws into their hands. If there is anything like that, the authority should be informed, the authority now know the step or the procedure of taking, the procedure they need to take huh in making sure that maybe that convertee maybe back to islam or they the consequences will now be faced by him or her, something like that, but, you know, you don't take laws into your hands. Really in an Islamic set-up, in an Islamic state, you don't take laws into your own hands, leave it to the government to take the appropriate action.

KN64 [24441-24618]

Hmm, Muslims converting to other religions, Muslims to other religions, Islam do not agree with Muslim to change his religion eh. This is a no, Islam does not agree with this.

KN65 [31494-31750]

Ehh it has, sharia has come with ah the punishment for a Muslim converting to other faith, you understand, but the problem is this, how do we implement the doctrine of the sharia is what has remained the major problem in Nigeria today, you understand so.

KN66 [19645-19988]

This is because, ah non ah Muslims who convert to non-Muslims should be given opportunities to convert back, they should be, they should be given opportunity to convert back to Islam and those opportunities can take place at, at least, at three times, they should be approached three times, when they refuse to convert, they should be killed.

KN67 [20089-20573]

According to Islam, there are so many reasons or there are so many conditions that Islam gave about somebody that is changing his religion from Islam to another religion. So there are so many views of the ah scholars or I can say the ah the Islamic scholars or regarding those that are leaving their religion. Some gave the opinion that they should be killed, some they think they should be given some time, when they change then maybe, if not then they should be killed, so.

KN68 [10006-10024]

Opinion differs.

KN69 [33999-34139]

Well we could be given an opportunity back to Islam. If he fails to do that he could be executed under Islamic laws. This is the positions.

KN71 [58154-59203]

The issue is this. In an Islamic rule that whoever convert to or leave his religion should be given three days renounce else he should be killed, but that is when it is the Islamic law that is in conquerance of the land, but today it is not the Islamic law. The constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria gives each and everybody the freedom of his religion as long as you are a 18 years, you have the right to or not to and that right of the constitution should be, that right of the constitution should be respected because we cannot take law into our own hand otherwise if we should start taking laws into our own hands, then even the innocent person would be, would mostly be the be what, the victims. So you understand the problem? So looking at this problem there is what is called the (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) he renounce his faith, take him to court, which court anywhere, any court, okay the issue is he eighteen years? Oh he is free to do so. So leave him with his Lord. Otherwise will you take the law into your hand? No.

KN72 [31984-32163]

Yes, he has eh there is three days warning onto him, if he did not convert or come into the, into the real Muslim, so they can be eliminated. That is according to the Islam.

KN73 [32580-32756]

The provision says that if a Muslim converts to other religions, he first has to be guided on why and later if he isn't back, he has to, the punishment, there is a punishment.

KN74 [42151-42246]

The Muslim that convert into other religions, you can be treated as what our religion teach us

KN74 [42283-42509]

Islam says that if the person converted into other religions, that there is a lot of things that we will not allow him in our religion, but such kinds of things will just take place in a place that there is practice of sharia

KN75 [45870-46295]

Its of, we are to refer to the hadith of the prophet (SAW) who said (he recites that hadith) that a Muslim blood should never be dropped except in three occasions, first and foremost, a married man who committed adultery, you understand, a Muslim who kill another Muslim or a non-Muslim or somebody that lived the religion of Islam and live the jama'a of the prophet (SAW), so he need to be treated according to the sharia.

KN75 [46339-46359]

He would be killed.

KN76 [37491-37568]

Wow, actually well they should be treated according to the Qur'an and Sunna.

KN78 [54232-54608]

Well under secular, secular Nigerian government, I think we don't have solution to that except of course Muslims should begin to put in place, ah you know, ah all available resources to educate Muslims, to really practice, as I said, the religion based on the ideals of the religion. That, in itself, will encourage people not to converting to Islam eh out of Islam, yes.

KN80 [41654-41855]

Ah should be killed, he will be put into death as it is ah contained in the Qur'an and said by the prophet himself, who so ever changes religion is bound to be killed according to Islamic sharia.

KN81 [26203-26258]

He should be treated in accordance to the sharia law

KN82 [28157-28403]

How Muslim converting to other religion be treated? Yes it should not be allowed. Muslims, according to the Islamic provisions, any Muslim converting to another faith is becoming infidel, therefore, he is to be eliminated entirely, religiously.

KN83 [18941-18995]

Ahm they should be punished according to the sharia.

KN84 [22166-22322]

No. he should just be killed after three days if he does not back in Islam after all attempts by Ulama to return him back failed, so he should be killed.

KN84 [22366-22491]

Yes is to kill him when he refuses to come back to Islam after three days, legally he has to be killed, he has to be killed.

KN85 [30613-30835]

Islam does not allow Muslims to converting to other religion. That is a riddah and there is punishment for that. So Muslims should not be allowed, whoever does that he should be punished in accordance with Islamic rule.

ZA1 [32207-32599]

If a non-Muslim, if a Muslim convert to non-Muslim, now he has some certain measure to be taken. One, he will be called upon to reverse, in a state where fully under control of Islam, but in Nigeria nowadays, if a Muslim convert to non-Muslim just preaching, if they don't agree, just leave him. But if in Saudi Arabia, let him go and do it and see what will happen, no let him go and do it.

ZA2 [33521-33688]

They should be treated with the equal rights, give them their legal right that will even make them to come back because he is there you won't no, no, no, he is free

ZA3 [24321-24491]

Depending on the circumstance, if it were to be in Islamic state emm is expected be treated as emm a revert somebody who has left his place and there are rules to that.

ZA4 [46332-46434]

We should be warn them because we don't have Islamic state, you can't take any penalty against them.

ZA5 [27126-27185]

They are supposed to be treated in the Qur'an (he laughs)

ZA6 [64906-65335]

Ahh just like a non-Muslim in his place, converting to a religion eh a foreign religion definitely he won't be treated kindly. It is still the same with the Muslims. If you live amongst your Muslim brothers and sisters and you just convert to other faiths, definitely they will like, they would like, you will be an alien within them. You won't be treated well in the present situation like in Nigeria, it is normal everywhere.

ZA7 [30897-31350]

They should be treated nice, they should be treated with respect because I think we all have what, we all have the right to practice whatever religion we want to practice and since that is our right, I think we should be treated as human beings and if someone is been treated as human being, I think he should be treated with respect. So I think he shouldn't be discriminated upon and I think that that is just it. He should be treated as human being.

ZA8 [64252-65913]

Hmm that is a big word. Now in sharia, Islamic sharia, from the what I know of it, if a Muslim is converting, converts to a Christian, the person according to the sharia, I don't know why God put the law like that, they were to give him is it three month or four month calling him, telling him the things ... trying to tell him that what is trying to do is wrong according to the religion, he is not supposed to do that. If he refuses, the sharia law is allowed if it is an Islamic ruled state for the person to be killed because according to the explanation of scholars, they said God put that punishment like that so that others, the hypocrites will know that it is a very grave offence in the religion for you to have been in an a Muslim to convert back to a non-Muslim, now other that are hypocrites because in any religion there are hypocrites that one is sure, the ones that they will come here they will say we are here, they will come there they will say we are here, now they do that put that punishment because of the hypocrites because they are actually, sometimes it is the hypocrites that even cause the unrest, they will go and meet you ahh they are talking this, you know, when there is an hypocrites, he is not here he is not there, he will just come and join you and he will run away. You will be fighting at the end of it, you don't even know why you are fighting, is because of what this person tell me, you too if they ask you, you will say is because of what this person tell me and those are the hypocrites now God put that punishment there, I think because so that the hypocrites will know the gravity of the offence. So that is what I think

ZA9 [34117-34449]

They should respect them; they should respect individual differences and their personal opinion that is what they believe.

Nothing should be done to them. They feel Islam is not their way again and they feel what, something that is missing in Islam is in other religion. They should be allowed to do that. Nobody should be forced.

ZA10 [31544-31670]

When a Muslim converts to any other religion, he should be welcomed, he should be treated well so he can realize his mistake.

ZA11 [26088-26452]

Well, we try to win them back, we try to see the reasons to what has led them, I mean pushed them away or is it a short of knowledge or there about and then, actually to some point, when it comes that he can never come back, it is been stated who God has guided no one could put astray and who God has put astray no one could guide back. So it is the will of God.

ZA12 [16262-16266]

Next

ZA13 [16098-16174]

They should be treated fairly, based on Islam I think they should be held.

ZA14 [21790-21843]

They should be treated the way Qur'an has mentioned.

ZA15 [24596-24968]

Muslims converting to other religions, you see in an Islamic, according to Islam, an Islamic state when you convert you are giving option of three and so, so days, you understand, to revert back, that is when Islam is truly practiced that is in an Islamic state, but in the present state we are now, if they convert you cannot implement sharia on them, so you leave them.

ZA16 [17194-17589]

Muslims converting to other religions, if we are to follow the teaching of the Qur'an and the teaching of Islam, they should be killed, but since we are not practicing sharia, maybe there should be a committee or an organization that is preaching to them that what they have done is un-Islamic and it is, is like their putting themselves into hell fire, they should come back to their religion.

ZA17 [20777-20919]

Anybody who leaves the religion of Islam, you are asked for three days to submit to the will of Allah or you will be killed. That is the law.

ZA18 [25454-25886]

Toh according to the Islamic injunction that is Riddah, you know, we, as I told you, what we are supposed to do is what God has ordained us to do, what God has instructed us to do. So if you now renounce your faith, a Muslim now renounce his faith, if he didn't come back to his religion, then he should be exterminated. That is the God's injunction, you understand, there is a tradition of the prophet that make mention of that.

ZA19 [36029-36440]

Well ah I have never been one actually, so I don't have the knowledge on how they've been treated, but I think anyone who actually cajole someone to convert into his own religion, must have something in mind that is treating that particular individual that just converted in to his religion nicely, so both Islam and Christians, I think, the main aim of treating a new convert is actually treating him nicely.

ZA20 [24006-24197]

A Muslim to convert to other religion how can he be treated? In an Islamic sharia state, in an Islamic sharia territory, in an Islamic sharia peninsular you know, that man should be killed.

ZA21 [28430-28852]

They should be treated fairly. Ideally if you convert to other religions in Islam you should be killed. But then we say there are necessities. For somebody to create tension to... what have you since we are in a secular state somebody has the right to practice his religion they way he feels like then judgment should be by God. You shouldn't say because ok this is conversion you should kill him or things like that.

ZA22 [25194-25569]

They should be treated on what Allah has said. They are supposed to be killed, to be executed. But now since we don't have leadership in Islam nobody can execute them then we have to leave them. Yah because by the time we want to do that there are things that will happen which will be better than not to do so. So we just allow them they will go and meet their Lord.

ZA23 [33873-34469]

Anybody as a Muslim that converted will be called to order. Then he will be given three days within which to come back to order. Islam is the only religion, as far as a Muslim is concerned, is the only true religion that Allah accepts as a religion. So anybody that decided to convert he will be called back to order. A Christian or a follower of any other religion if he comes back to Islam we are not calling him a convert but a revert. He reverted because originally the holy prophet (SAW) say (he recites a verse of the Qur'an) everybody that is given birth to is given birth as a Muslim.

ZA24 [40804-41286]

In Nigeria here –Islamically anybody that converted to another religion if it is not in Nigeria – if it is a place we have establish sharia so we give them three days to renounce they are already Muslims, but if they didn't say so Islam says that we should kill them. But in Nigeria here we are bound by another constitution, which is a secular constitution. so therefore if somebody converted to another religion from Islam we should leave him or her. God will judge such person.

ZA25 [37732-38275]

Ahh preaching as I have said eh the preaching to-preaching is to start with renewing the preaching to them and asking them the question as to why, what did they see bad in Islam that made them to convert to other religions and if they respond then renewed and serious teaching of the real teaching of Islam should be delivered to them and kindness, they should be shown greater kindness because they are in need of it because may be it is out of the unkindness of some Muslims to them that made them to leave the religion in the first place.

ZA26 [18375-18507]

If a Muslim converted to another religion we give him three days within which he repents. If he cannot repent we remove his head.

ZA27 [17047-17361]

Yes it depends on the situation from my own understanding because individual people cannot determine this. It depends on Islamic commentators to talk about this, depending on the situation. It is not that because somebody leave Islam and go back to Christianity you just say kill him. It depends on the situation.

ZA28 [30642-30954]

Well there is a saying amm that states you can be a very good person from the beginning of your life and at the end of your life you can turn to something else. So this is actually a destiny, but if a Muslim is converting to other religion so well I think we should just let be because that is what he chooses.

ZA29 [44609-44914]

Well in this case it is open to us that when someone a Muslims converts to any other religion not only Christianity, any religion in this world. He should be given a memorandum of some days to come back to his own religion and if he refuses and his time elapses he no longer deserve to live. That is it.

ZA30 [53404-53468]

That one is also mentioned in the book, refer back to the book.

ZA31 [24826-25012]

If a Muslim converted to any religion, he need to be called and to be preached, to tell him, to ask him his reasons of converting to another faith through peaceful not through violence.

ZA32 [62211-62583]

Muslims converting to other religion be treated? In Islam, if there is an Islamic state, we believe that if someone is converted, some, if a Muslim is converted into other religions or belief, so he will be given a chance like three days for him to come back, to repent and come back to Islam, If not he will be killed by what, by the authority not by an individual, yes.

ZA33 [21029-21444]

They should be killed because he who converts to-a Muslim that converts to non-Muslim he should be killed because in the holy Qur'an Allah says Summa kafaru summa amanu summa Kafaru summa amanu summa dadi Qufran. If they should convert to non-Muslim their consequences is for them to be killed but if they return they should be allowed. If they did it for the third time then the third time they should be killed.

ZA34 [41466-41804]

I as a Muslim my religion says no person that is a Muslim should be converted to other religion because Rasul (SAW) says mambadala dina faqtulu- whoever change his religion should be executed but he should be given a period to revert back if he doesn't then he should be executed. That is the teaching of my religion and I believe with it

ZA35 [16960-16973]

As an enemy

ZA36 [24311-24692]

Ahm islamically whoever goes out of the religion should be killed. That one, that person already is a hypocrite. He is not a real Muslim in the first place because if really he is a Muslim, there is no how he can leave that religion if really. And you cannot live with a hypocrite that person can be a trouble, a big trouble to you and the society does not deserve such people.

ZA37 [33157-33650]

It depends on your locality now because almost every, it depends on the locality and the environment, maybe if the Muslims are the dominant in that area and you converted from Islam to Christianity, it may be a challenge to you because of that, but if the Christians are the dominant, it would be another or if your family, it depends on your family. This is what happens even if a Christian converts to Islam. It depends on his family and his environment and the challenges he normally face.

ZA38 [37946-38473]

Yah, according to the Qur'an they said he should be killed. That is how the Qur'an said, but presently the issue is a very controversial law in any society, you have no power because we don't have a basic normal legal system that would take this law into its hand, because unless if the whole society knew and they take this person to court before anybody will do something, but now nobody would take you to court, nobody will do anything probably because of secularism you don't have any power to do anybody anything.

ZA39 [50449-50744]

Strictly speaking under Islamic law, when a Muslim converts to any religion, the law is that he should be killed. That is the position, but where the state is not practicing purely Islamic system that position is not feasible because of the freedom of religion as enshrined in our constitution.

Th19: Handling Interreligious Challenges

Th19.1: Addressing Interreligious Relationship difficulties

FG1 [56607-56846]

What I said about not being able to greet the opposite sex, they should accept it as it is and they should not feel embarrassed. Like when they stretch their hands and you now say hi. They will feel like oh my God (Accepting differences)

FG1 [57054-57087]

You shouldn't be ignoring them

FG1 [57089-57328]

To me we have to like always remember the history hearing from our forefathers and other leaders that before in the past centuries Muslims and Christians were living in peace. So we have to remember these things and start practicing them

FG1 [57330-57486]

For me it is for Muslims and Christians to come together and sit and understand themselves. They should forget about the past and look forward to the future

FG1 [57489-57802]

We are Nigerians. Muslims only cannot make Nigeria because surely there are Christians so there are other non-Muslims. We should try to be one. And in aspect of patriotism let's put our nation first. Let us put our experiences behind us. Unity always brings progress, but violence brings nothing but destruction.

FG1 [57803-57941]

For me since Islam allows anybody to practice his religion, let anybody practice his religion with fairness and justice to one another.

FG1 [57943-58163]

My comment is that both the Muslims and the Christians and even those that don't have religion, we should tolerate each other. Our amount of tolerance should be large. We should have big hearts and tolerate each other.

FG2 [35592-35836]

Actually this change will come from the grassroots. What I mean by grassroots is actually at individual level. Jihadi nafs Everyone must purify his mind. By purifying our minds, therefore the change that we are in need of will become history.

FG2 [35838-35878]

Change will come through institutions.

FG2 [55521-55586]

In my opinion the way to solve this is just forgive if you can

FG2 [55588-55939]

Actually to my own understanding we can solve this problem at individual level. At individual level in the sense that if we continue to accommodate the habits of those non-Muslims for example be friends with them showing them no difference between your Muslim brothers therefore this really will bring us to be living in a peaceful life with them.

FG2 [55941-56683]

I think one of the ways in which these difficulties can be solved is always through social awareness whereby either through religious institutions and through other means, telling the individuals, each person that we are one we should learn to live with each other harmoniously always bringing to the mind if possible a means through the social media, a device be created through the social media whereby interrelationships between the Muslims and non-Muslims will be encouraged. Whenever there is interrelationship as she pointed out there will always be a kind of a mind concession whereby you will kind of have an extra feeling to someone and whenever that kind of feeling exists there is hardly could be betrayal or something like that.

FG2 [56685-57200]

(F) If I may add something. Those are all our personal views, you thinking that you can't trust a Christian or just like how the Christian will also think. You think you can't trust them they also look at you like that. It is someone I can't trust maybe that is why he behaved like that. So for you to correct that if he betrays you try to ah change or try to react to him with love and something good so that he can correct that aspect and he can have a change on how he views the Muslims. So that is how I think. FG3 [93600-96109]

Like my own we came to know that there are some certain things that when you leave them maybe you go out of religion and there some that when keep them because of condition as I said that I think I said that Islamic religion is not rigid. It is flexible, it is changing with condition. Eating a dead animal is haram in some certain circumstances, in normal condition sorry. But in certain circumstances when you get a dead animal you can eat you can even safe some to travel with until when you get the ones that are not dead. To work in a brewery company is haram, but there are certain circumstances that that work will be permitted. If you have nowhere to work, when you see that one you can do because they want you to stay alive. So Islam is not rigid. Like maybe keeping beard and maybe raising trousers I now sacrifice because I want them to at least know that we are friends. Not because I want but because I have to force myself to allow them to have see we can have mutual sacrifices. There are certain things that when I leave it I know I did not go out completely so I my sacrifice some part.

- I want to shed light on what this gentleman has said about dressing, the beards and you know either lifting the trouser or down because there is this misconception that other religions have about Islam when they see you dressed that way. So the moment they see you dressed that way they think that you are now a different caliber of person. Most especially that it has to do with this issues that America once had with Osama and the way Osama dress and the moment they see you they say look at this Osama. Islam supports cleanliness and we raising up your trouser is an act of cleanliness. It is just making sure that your trouser is not in contact with dirt. And so that is why you make sure that ok once you are wearing your trousers you make sure that it doesn't go beyond the ankle, the two eyes that are there it shouldn't go beyond, it should just go above. So the wherever you are walking you could not carry dirt along and by the time you are walking when you see people who are dressed that way once they are walking they take their feet one after the other, no it is just because they are making sure they are keeping the art of cleanliness and they are keeping the art of sunna. That is the reason and so people should understand people should get to understand and study both religions just the way it came, get to know why I dress this way and then to understand why I behave this way. FG3 [96111-96169]

My point also is we should always be our brother's keeper

FG3 [96171-97241]

My own is I am coming back to the word that you spoke – tolerance is what is lacking and respect for one another. When you respect my religion and I respect yours. There is one thing with Hausa man today, a Hausa man will not come with any kind of thing you come with but dear not, dear not disrespect his religion. You can disrespect his culture he will be ok with it thinking that ok it is because you don't know but if you touch his religion even though you don't know he will assume you did it deliberately to ignite his anger to see how furious he can be and he will be and be mad at you. And at the end you will find out that maybe the person did not even know you offended him. But some they do know very well. So what I think is respect for one another, respect our religions which we know both the two religions and as in forbid mockery of religion. You don't mock my religion because you do not belong to it. I don't mock yours because the way you believe in yours that is how I believe mine and it is religion you understand. So to me that is what I think. FG3 [97243-97954]

Also forum like this one has to be created in higher institutions like this. By the way I really enjoyed this sitting. How I wish there are outside Christian counterparts, so that I could remember when I was undergraduate here we marked some ballot papers for departmental elections, when I came across any paper as long as I see the first person is a Muslim so the rest will be the same thing for the whole position I know this one is a Muslim paper, when I come across the next ballot paper when I see the first person is a Christian the rest will be like that. So there is need for such a forum to be created in our institutions so that we can see people interacting with one another that one could also help

FG3 [98005-98045]

Yes dialogue forum. Something like this

KD1 [66712-67212]

These difficulties can be addressed by stemming the tide, by creating awareness, by causing, by bringing in interface dialogue and understanding, by making people become more tolerant of others, having patience and of course especially for the Muslim end, getting more educated and when culprits that causes religious violence are caught, when they are brought to book, then all these will actually be, serve as a deterrent to others from doing the same thing that have put some people into trouble.

KD2 [36832-37022]

Actually I told you earlier, there hasn't been any difficulty or any form of ambiguity. All the relationship, all my relationship with Christians is cordial, is ease and without any stress.

KD4 [59412-59636]

These difficulties in relating with the Christians, yah! As I told you, the obstacle is ignorance and the only way ignorance can be overcome is by enlightenment, education that is the only way we can overcome those obstacles.

KD6 [52913-53104]

I told you through our leaders, dialogue, and sit down together to know each other, to know ourselves and embrace ourselves and we say the truth about the matter, just the truth, not lying.

KD7 [42605-43080]

We can start by been honest, but we have to understand that the conflicts that arise does not necessarily mean your Christian neighbor is the cause for it. There are people who are out there to benefit from conflicts, from crisis, from killings and destroying properties of people. They are the people who we should know, they are not people who mean well for us whether they are Muslims or they are Christians. So, once we overcome that, then we can build something better.

KD8 [77529-77988]

Yes, there is a need like I said, we need to understand ourselves very well, we need to be interacting with each other, we need to be reading each other's books, and at the same time we have to be displaying good attitude, good behavior, we have to show love. The same thing with the Christians too, they need to understand us, they need to be morally okay and we continue to relate with each other very well and where we have issues, we try to resolve them.

KD9 [54087-55407]

Well we will just continue to preach peace. We will continue to preach peace and show the beauty of Islam. If you do that with time they themselves will calm down and succumb. I have had an experience where two Christians were arguing and they were talking about Muslims. The other one was, you know, in their usual the way of saying it, Muslims ah sometimes they can be wicked, they are jihadists and so on and so forth. The other Christian was saying no, this is an example, pointing at me then. That ah we've been together with this brother for some time now, you know, this is a good Muslim, he is one of the good Muslims. That one was trying to tell him that this is how Muslims are basically, in fact if you want to categorize probably am one of the worst of them, you know, generally Muslims are good people. So is it the propaganda that you listen to or have you had interaction with Muslims? Now that you have interaction with me, you are able to talk, but all this one that you are saying, giving examples here and there, have you really lived with the people, have you really interacted one on one with the people? Interact with people and see and learn about their religion and you find out that these things are just hearsay and propaganda that goes very far and cause a lot of bad blood among the people.

KD11 [38678-38940]

Well there is no any other way of addressing this difficulty other than or which will be better than giving each group what is due to them and I will still stress justice, fairness and equity and the distribution and allocation of National Resources, thank you.

KD12 [43874-44147]

ah If for example in a way where a Muslim wants to marry a non-Muslim, if the two is unmatchable you see by the way of consulting them that this are our brothers opinion pertaining to marriage you see it means if it cannot go it has to be cut immediately and find a match.

KD17 [63691-63855]

Religious tolerance and understanding of the religions based on what the books or based on what is established in the holy books of the Muslims and the Christians.

KD19 [43939-44067]

Well the difficulties can be addressed through regular enlightenment of the non-Muslims. They need to be enlightened regularly.

KD21 [36268-36719]

I think we have to go back behind to our past generations, we look at how they have succeeded in doing that, borrow part of their ideas and then fix up with modernisation, curb away these nepotic acts, educate the people, enlighten the younger ones, they are the future generations. I think when they have an awareness of what the current situation is, these difficulties can be addressed, not just addressed, I think they are going to be eradicated.

KD23 [33622-33847]

Yes, as I said now I said there is no any difficulty, there is no any difficulty and so I think there is no any ah there is no how can this difficulty be addressed since to my own perception I see there is no any difficulty.

KD24 [97773-99159]

First, it can be addressed by making sure that majority of the citizens are not ignorant people they are not Dundee's that is we should all make sure that if you are addressing people you should know the people you are addressing and ah make sure that as far as you are concerned, as a leader, no matter Muslims or Christians you should make sure that give both sides each and every side, give them their rights. Let them feel that they are humans, let them feel that they are citizens, let them feel that yes the leader knows with them, he knows something about them, he knows that they are present in the county, but is not good for a leader to just show one side that ah for example, they are my own so I use to, I will always consider them, any issue which been given to me I will make sure I take care of the issue so that I should go and check what is their own another next complain. I will take care of it, but if the other ones come, they are not my people I will say no, come back next month, this next month it will be next month, next month till he finish his tenure, maybe if another one is coming into power, maybe he will do what he can do, but him, he will not do it. You know maybe one country, one people, if we are talking about countries, in country we should be what we look like yes it's country, this one is not religion, is country sake, people of the country.

KD25 [102031-102049]

Through dialogue.

KD27 [38194-38867]

We suppose to face the truth. Like one of our elders once said Nigeria is one but we are different, let's recognize our differences not forget them, not put them aside if we recognize our differences then we can create avenues for protecting, for not impacting into the laws of the rights of others. We keep within our own boundaries, we know that this is wrong, when it comes to relating with a Christian, we know that you should not overdue this, we know that this are his beliefs-these are his basic beliefs and try as much as possible to stay away from creating the sort of acrimony or tension that will result from you being insensitive to his own religious beliefs.

KD29 [30065-30269]

Ah these difficulties will be addressed through dialogue between the two, ah when we go about dialogue between the two religions; I believe this will ah go a long way in addressing the issue of conflict.

KD31 [26601-26834]

The difficulties can only be addressed if everybody will go back, understand his religion properly and then practice it the way it should be that is the only thing that will bring about the solution to these difficulties that is it.

KD32 [40278-40779]

So there should be total fairness in anything, try to be just to each other and respect each other's religion because if you respect as they have said respect is reciprocal respect your own religion I should respect mine, if I respect yours, you should respect mine too, and I should not mock or I should not eh I should not underestimate your God so try to respect your believe and give your own right and if there is justice there should be tolerance and there should be peaceful and harmony living.

KD33 [34115-34273]

If these difficulties can be addressed when both the non-Muslims and Muslims go back and teach or tell their people the correct teachings of their religion.

KD34 [43807-44211]

Hmm they the difficulties should be addressed by patience and then eh proper presentation of ah of your opinion and then trying to study a particular person that you met by explaining what you like and what you don't like and then understanding what he likes and what he don't like, trying to do what he likes if he is not against your religion and then he too should do the same thing and vice versa.

KD35 [41847-42393]

By seeking for knowledge. A Christian should have knowledge about Islam. A Muslim should have knowledge about Christianity, knows what is the dos and the don'ts in Christianity, the dos and the don'ts in Islam, once we intermingle with that then half of the problem is solved. But the moment you are ignorant of the Christianity as a Muslim, the Muslim is ignorant of the, I mean the Christian is ignorant of the word Islam then that means trouble will continue, trouble will supersede any other understanding the other parties have for another.

KN1 [89403-89630]

Suspicion is not something that you can eliminate instantly or within a short period. It is with tolerance and enlightenment. Show somebody your true motive and tolerate him and let him understand so with time it will go away.

KN1 [89752-91388]

What I would like to say is this there is need for the Muslim to fully understand the position of Islam on non-Muslims generally and there is need for Christians to understand the position of Christianity on non-Muslims because a times some people are imposing their ideas manipulating ideas as if it is religion. I told you a times they may not be adherents of that particular religion. Out of espionage of the world, out of this clandestine operation of the world ok I want to destroy this country let me join it to religion so I will come and make the Muslims and the Christians fight while am achieving my aim advancing my own interest that is how a times it goes but if you understand your religion you know Islamically you are not allowed to kill Christians and you know what it takes to launch a jihad and what is jihad if you understand this one and it is not any how that you will start killing people and calling it a jihad and equally if you are a Christian you know the position of Christianity on violence, you understand that one and you will not just anyhow start killing people and you say that you are into crusade because it is not only Islam that has jihad even the Christians have crusade and a times they have all sort of meanings attached to that crusade and Muslims are attaching meaning to jihad, Christians are equally attaching meaning to crusade. That is actually how it is. Yah I can recall particularly one of the leaders of this country stand up publically and talking about crusade, crusade. So you see it is not only about one religion so that is why am saying there must be understanding and fairness.

KN2 [48518-49734]

There was a time EFCC wanted to reduce the rate of corruption in Nigeria and they introduced what is called interreligious, interfaith, not dialogue as in using religion to preach against corruption. They wanted to train the trainers which I happen to be among unfortunately I have not been called so I don't know whether the project took off or not. But it was a very perfect and good model that they will train us and we will design quarters of preachers like myself I will have a number of imams and preachers that I will enlighten on current issues vis-à-vis religious injunctions and then show them how to discourage people from becoming corrupt. The reason why I brought this example is to show you that a committee of such, a model of such can be designed by the federal government. Get good persons, respectable and reputable persons who will now train the trainers on mutual understanding. Most of what is happening in Nigeria is because the local, the rudimentary and the grassroots do not actually understand whether they are expected to attack Muslims or expected to attack Christians they only do that when they are provoked to do it. Not because they know that it is right for them to do it or not.

KN4 [63339-64175]

These difficulties can only be addressed if those in authority feel like they are ready, if those in authority provide economic prosperity. If those in authority provide basic infrastructure, if those in authority understand and agree that we are their servants and we are their children that we are kids and pamper us as they pamper their children. Society is grown and built similar to how you build and grow your home. You can exercise patience, you can take somebody, you can love him as you love your wife, love everybody with an open hand. Take everybody along. The difficulties can be addressed, since there is rule and regulations, since there is constitution, since there is rule of law, doing it according to the rule of law whether impunity, the crisis, the difficulties can be addressed and achieve peace today and forever.

KN5 [40793-41074]

Through enlightenment and what we call cultural relativism, when you respect them they will respect you. When you respect their religion they should respect your religion. You should not abuse or insult them with respect to their practices especially openly and in their presence.

KN8 [42361-43401]

Ahmm, I think the only thing that will just we just need to ensure in order to correct this is that there should be high level of tolerance. Let us tolerate ourselves, you understand. If you are to be religiously sentimental and biased, this problem will persist but only if you can, if there can be high level of tolerance, there can be more understanding of the word of God that we should not make any conflict or problem; you can understand the major context of the word Islam which preaches peace, you understand, you will not embark on fight with anyone, you understand. In fact throughout, we celebrated ourselves in the room at the end of the semester. When I was writing exam, for exsample, when I was in 300 level, they gave to me the most tolerant person during our celebration during the room that I so much accommodate. That should be a very good example and instances we should find in every Muslims, to tolerate and accommodate everybody for that is the best way this could be resolved and there can be development among us.

KN9 [36244-36582]

This difficulty can be addressed only if proper understanding has been condoned. You see when these two religious group understand each other, they would get to find out that each and every one of them can actually live and promulgate his religion without affecting the other. So I think basically the keyword here is understanding, hmm.

KN11 [38674-39161]

It can only be addressed, as I have said, through enlightening people, through educating Muslims, to know there true teaching of Islam, yes to communicate. If a Muslim or if Muslims would practice their true religion, I assure you, I assure you if you would be, if you would live as companion or if you would imitate their teachings, the teachings of companions and prophet (SAW), I assure you all the Christians would be converted to Islam because they would see the goodness of Islam.

KN14 [35908-35956]

By allowing each other to perform his religion.

KN19 [39974-40538]

Eh I think, as I have said initially, it should be a very diplomatic eh a diplomatic means. Let it be a diplomatic jihad, jihadin nafsi wa jihad tafaqur. Let it be a jihad of thinking. What are the possible ways? What are the medium we can call them into order? How can we make them to realise their mistakes? But not by making it forcefully or by compelling them or by disagreeing or same conflicts with them. I think in various ways and manners of understanding one another, we can achieve the best of our aim rather than making it to be conflictual in nature.

KN20 [31201-31665]

It can be addressed if only we know what our religions are, both Christianity and Islam are two religions that have revelation from God. If we can really come together to harmonize your religion and believe that our religions did not really teach us-we are humans, we are humans, we are Nigerians we should live together. There is no problem if you don't accept my faith doesn't still deprive us from being good friends. We can really live together as brothers.

KN21 [20714-20789]

When we learn how to love one another, appreciating ourselves, that's all.

KN22 [43226-44504]

Yah, that is why I will appreciate Nigerian government yes, I will appreciate Nigerian government for setting a committee or kind of department of religion, Islam religion, they call it Religion and Peace Movement, you understand, where there are imams, where there are pastors, where there are traditionalists to come together in other to expose those areas in Islam where prophet is saying we should tolerate, we should adhere, we should see them as brothers, after all they are people of the book, they are Ahl kitab. We should respect Ahl kitab, you understand, so their pastors nowadays are exposing those areas where they are saying a'a one of our king, king Najash in the Byzantine Empire, you understand, accommodated this people. There was a peaceful coexistence to the extent the hypocrites from Saudi Kingdom then went to Ethiopia, the Byzantine empire, present day Ethiopia, Eritrea, went to Ethiopia to go and inform that king that they are rebels, they are rebels, they should be sent to their kingdom. He has refused, he dispersed the justice, you know amicably. So I appreciate government of Nigeria for setting an institution like this where pastors and imams will collaborate and expose the right teaching of Islam, you understand, to the various faithfuls.

KN23 [26422-26520]

First of all the government of Nigeria should be just to its citizens. It will bring about peace.

KN23 [26596-26814]

Yah they can address it if they clear-they should go back to their religious books, so that they should know, they should have clear view, they should be enlightened religiously and I believe peace will be maintained.

KN24 [25480-25700]

Hmm that is why sometimes you see the struggling of sharia that is why they say the implementation of Sharia in northern country is supposed to be done because of all this dressings. I think that is the only way we can.

KN25 [39582-39760]

These difficulties can be addressed if proper learning is ensured. If both these two religious groups, if they preach the true word they believe, I think this will go a long way.

KN27 [33221-33505]

It can be addressed for as long as you yourself know your limitations. Know your religion, know what your religion warrants, know what eh I think when you know your religion properly I don't think you will have any problems. So I think more religious orientation will address this.

KN28 [25035-25119]

I think these issues could be addressed through mediation and as well consultation.

KN31 [44920-45709]

Yah well first and foremost since we are talking about religion, it has to be from the religious heads, because I think every person that is faith minded should always go for worship in his own religious center. So I think there the religious head should always try to preach against, showing love even to somebody who is not from your religion. It is not as if that you must go to his place to worship but at least let's try and live in peace. Everybody is practicing his own religion based on he felt this is what is taking me to heaven, but I don't think there should be a problem there as far as everybody will be allowed to practice his and understand and does not look at somebody's religion as maybe something that is not necessary or allow them to do theirs and you do your own.

KN32 [21641-21951]

ahh it's as simple as anything Kabiru they should just built an institution which can regulate and orient each of these parties so that they can understand the religion very well and be able to practice it to the fullest without any grudges and such as ahh I think difficulty when they address to the fullest.

KN33 [15499-15568]

Let us all understand each other and respect each other's religion.

KN34 [30423-31371]

One, the media should try as much as possible to do justice even when it comes to issue of separating information or sometimes any information that will generate tension or confusion or something, they should try as much as possible. Secondly, our leaders, both the religious leaders and the political leaders, should be mindful of their utterances, they should not utter a word that maybe will create or generate tension in the society. Likewise our religious leaders when it comes to issue of propagation of preaching in their places of worship, they should be mindful of their words. This are some of the things once we are strictly following, we can be able to achieve what we want to achieve and we can be able to bring the glory of the past, the glory, our past glory of Nigeria or northern Nigeria whereby we will respect one another, we respect the religion of one another, we live as brothers and sisters irrespective of religion or tribe.

KN35 [28384-28518]

It can be addressed by mutual understanding, then religious tolerance and then respect for one another all these things can be done.

KN36 [28149-28747]

It can be addressed. First if Muslims and non-Muslims, that is Christians, can have a democratic freedom of practice of one's religion because for example now if a Christians can practice religion without any fear and Muslims can practice without any fear and our political class should be restructured, they should always take the fairness, justice, equality and the good address or directing the resources of the people to the people so that poverty should be removed from the society, everybody should be educated and Muslim and non-Muslim should guide their utterances whenever they teaching.

KN37 [25901-26012]

Just enlightenment and a kind of confronting them and telling them the true practices and principles of Islam.

KN38 [20609-21142]

They can be addressed on, through awareness as I have earlier said. Two, through creation of interrelationships whenever we mingle just Like in Kano now. If not for politics there would have been a 100% harmony between Christians and Muslims because if you should go to, for example, Bata market today, you will see Muslims and non-Muslims staying in one shop and doing business harmoniously. So one of the ways it can be addressed is through creation of relationships, they will live together and they will learn to live together.

KN39 [30650-30741]

These difficulties can be addressed very easy because when they stop doing so, that's all.

KN40 [23953-24276]

By understanding their religion too, by trying to have a representative from the elders and also from the religion leaders, try to have a negotiation and a bargain between them in order to know what cause the conflicts between both Muslims and Christians and also find the way out of the conflict between them. Thank you.

KN41 [21297-21439]

I think since I am not having any difficulty and problem with them this your next question has already been answered, so thank you very much.

KN42 [53926-54715]

For people that are facing them, they might, it is just that they have been judging them from afar. If you get to know this people, you will find out they are wonderful, they are very tolerating, and some of them, most of them are not perfect, but when you get to know the ones that are very good, the ones that are nice, you end up being friend to them forever. I had reservations too but once I get to know them, I found out that they can be really good people. All you have to do is to get to know them, make the first step and with the first introduction, be friends with them even if it is just to greet them, make them feel like they are something rather than worthless. Don't discriminate against them, eliminate ehm, the feeling of superiority. Only God knows who serves him best.

KN45 [48541-49346]

This difficulty of relation is just the issue of maybe orientation, awareness and education. If people are properly educated, then I think there would be no problem at all the relating with ehh fellow human beings ehh be them Christians or they are Jewish or they are Buddhists, you will not have problem ehh relating with educated human beings if you yourself are educated. If ehh they are of ahh moral standard at least you don't have-education, education ehh should be the best instrument of resolving the crisis because when people are ignorant they can accept all kinds of liars yah, and eh somebody will be in charge of their life, will be dictating who they should like, who they should love or they should not love. So when people are properly educated, then there would be no problem at all, yes

KN47 [64688-64952]

This difficulty can be addressed you know by correcting the notions of people in the society you know by creating awareness, by you know showing someone some gesture of you know ah ah integration of culture and religion and then we see ourselves as one as I said.

KN48 [22188-22438]

So, for those having difficulties, I think they should imbibe in, so they should imbibe in a manner whereby be pleasing each other as in they shouldn't be addressing each other arrogantly, love each other, respect each other and tolerate each other.

KN49 [32852-32972]

By gaining an insight and an understanding about each other and by working harmoniously together to solve our problems.

KN50 [19761-19904]

These difficulties can be addressed by having respect for one another, by having respect for one another's religion and tolerating each other.

KN52 [67519-67961]

First and foremost I think well in terms of my own personal experience with Christians, well like I told you I have been able at my own level to address does problems through dialogue, you know I have engaged my friends in dialogue so I think dialogue is key to remedying you know inter-religious conflict that has been used effectively in other times and I think it is very possible to replicate that methodology here without any difficulty

KN56 [30518-30621]

They should be address through tolerance; understanding and the people should go in quest of knowledge

KN57 [24489-24755]

It can only be addressed when leaders and the people, when leaders come in and the people are educated to understanding what the Christians and Muslims are all about. What the roles everyone can play in understanding the differences between Christians and Muslims.

KN58 [53531-54101]

That is we can start telling our religious leaders to start addressing this issues that followers of different faiths should respect other religions. If I am a Muslims I should respect either the religions of either the Christians, the Jews or the Buddhists because the way I look at my religion that is the way that they look at their religion, relativity. If I don't want my religion to be cursed, I should not curse anybody's religions rather we should coexist harmoniously. I believe if this is addressed, we can overcome all these crisis and all this difficulties.

KN59 [60753-60927]

I don't have any difficulties, to me, if there is should be difficulties, the difficulty can be addressed by not having religious discussions, but there should be dialogue.

KN60 [40892-41062]

By continuous enlightenment, enlightenment do solve so many problems and dissolves so many differences and it erodes distrust among people, among people living together.

KN62 [69346-70407]

Well the difficulties to me should be addressed only ah through maybe enlightenment, enlightenment. The government should enlighten those kind of Christians, should tell, maybe we need to put some ahh if you like, preaching laws or acts or preaching ahh, let's say measures. The government should actually ah prescribe when to preach, where to preach and how to preach. Not only ehh preachings we have between religions, you understand, even in the same religion, let say, in Islam. There are people who have been committing wrongs, who have been committing mistakes, let say, blasphemies, you understand, through this, through this, you understand, people who have been committing mistakes here and there in the religions, in the preachings, just because ah because they ah ah allowed to say whatever they want to say. so maybe the government should provide a certain provision which should actually enact a law that would restrict ah the number of words to say or what you should say, hmm, simply put, the government should regulate preachings and preachers.

KN63 [60547-62255]

You know they need, you know like in our, my own case now, in my own case, my problem I am having now you know the problem is coming from the head office left to us here huh, if it just within this vicinity they cannot, they cannot do anything but because over there, in the head office they are the majority, in fact they are the everything, they are the ones that have everything there, so they give them the directive, they give them the appointment, they do this, they do that as they like it huh, but left to us here, they can't take anything here, but the being that they are being supported over there, so that is why they are able to influence us. But one thing they too over there, they need to realize is that they are breeding, they are breeding conflict because even this thing as the way I am looking at it, it is not they generate into conflict in the nearest future because we in the teacher aspect, we know the way we are managing these things, we know the way we are managing, trying not to go, extend to the student or whatever, trying to forestall it, but by the time I know that it get to the student, from there it get to the parents, they will have a different view of this school. There is nothing bad, this school can come out and say, okay for example, this is a Christian school huh, huh, nobody will doubt it, but let their, let their mission be clear, okay is a Christian school, so they can take the mantle of leadership whatever they do and nobody will compete with them, but when they know say no o this school is being set-up for them, is being set-up for the northerners whatever, whatever, whatever, something like that. So let us know our faith, something like that.

KN65 [41516-42433]

Ehh is first and foremost we should all understand that we are serving one God even though we are using different means or ideology. As a Muslim you are following a different ideology, as a Christian you are following a different ideology, but what the Qur'an told me is this, I cannot be a full, a complete Muslim if I do not believe in the book of Moses, if I cannot believe in the book of Jesus, which is Isah, if I cannot believe in the book of Dawud that means I am not a true Muslim. So if we should all understand this that to become a full Muslim we should believe in whatever other books comes with and also the Christians in their own way they should try as much as possible to understand what has Islam, what is Islam all about, what are the teaching and practice of Islam. I think if both of us would embrace this attitude, am sure we would be able to address all this issues of ah conflict insha Allah.

KN67 [31280-31558]

I think we need to train ourselves. There is need for training on how to preach, how to talk to other ah religion ah followers of ah ah other religions and ah how will you go about doing that without creating any problem, I think this should be training that is very essential.

KN69 [56100-56560]

Yes, these difficulties could be addressed by making publications, a write-up in form of publication or by using some of our leaders or Ulama, pastors purposely to be done to cause attentions of the Nigerians. Whether you are Christian or whether you are Muslim that is to respect, to respect the religion of each other, to understand our differences. If these are done, definitely it will solve our problems and we will continue living in the harmonious way.

KN71 [85413-85895]

If there should be any, I said and I would keep saying the issue is for me to understand myself and to understand the second person I am with. To understand the individual differences and so to understand the difference between I and him, thenwe should then know what line of action, but when I don't have a knowledge of who you are, when I don't believe in tolerance, when I don't believe in individual difference of course there may be difficulty even between you and your wife.

KN74 [56864-57226]

Okay, I address it as Prophet Muhammad (SAW) address Ehh unbelievers because during Prophet Muhammad (SAW) many of his companion have been killed even his uncle, that is Sayyidina Hamza at that time Allah (SAW) says that (he recites) and Prophet Muhammad (SAW) says that we have choose to exercise patience, therefore I will take it as destiny, so that is all.

KN75 [61949-62445]

I can confront the person one on one, tell them the actual context of Islam. See Islam is more than what you think, what you are taking Islam is more than that, and one thing they fail to understand, they believe in, they have one mentality especially in the southern Nigeria, they believe that anybody can from the northern Nigeria is a Muslim some of the Christian did not believe up till now, there is a Christian in the northern Nigeria, up till now they have that mentality, you understand.

KN76 [54630-56965]

I don't have any difficulty but some other people have difficulty because they find it very difficult to even recognize or the right of other people to practice their religion and some times, some people have very little exposure because when you never find yourself outside your immediate community, at times you find it very difficult to relate with other people and apart from that there should be dissemination of information about the life of other people, about the religion of other people, and about the lives in other countries where Muslims and non-Muslims live together in harmony. If you can disseminate such information and we set so many example and expose everyone and all Muslims, non-Muslims, the entire society to be exposed to, have information about such things, I think that would reduce the level of difficulty of others recognizing the or ahh living in harmony with other people and actually there is another thing, for you to recognize somebody you must understand that person and you must understand his religion. You must understand the teaching of his religion. What I am saying is you can go to South Africa, you can see the Muslims and non-Muslims are living in harmony. You can go to northern ahh south western part of Nigeria you see that the Muslims and non-Muslims live in harmony, even in one family you can have a Muslim and non-Muslim even though we cannot encourage that here, but what I am trying to say is, is only when you understand the religion of another person that is when you can be able to view, to see things through his own eyes, and that can allow you to avoid some sensitive part, some sensitive part, some sensitive areas in your relationship with him. You can't expect to live with a Muslim and at times say things that may be so sensitive to his religion and expect him to remain calm, likewise you can't live with a Christian and try to say so many things that may be very sensitive that are so sensitive to his religion and you expect him to keep mute, all I am saying is level of information and the level of education and exposure and dissemination of information under are also interchange between when the Christians and the Muslims communities that will reduce the level of obstacles and difficulties in living harmoniously with each other and in relating with each other.

KN80 [51689-51833]

So the measure of addressing this, like I said earlier, is to go back to the religious ethics, religious principles and use them appropriately.

KN81 [37661-37988]

So these difficulties ah these difficulties can only be addressed through dialogue, through understanding each other, through remembering that we are all human beings, we can live in a peaceful, you understand, forgetting with religious differences. We are all human beings, so we are allowed to live in ahh in the same area.

KN83 [29908-30515]

Yes this thing can be solved through, first through education, by applying both western and religious education at least, so for people to know themselves at least. That is first government should create some especially some amm schools that deals with especially the adult education schools because they are the ones that will teach the younger ones and they are not literates. Secondly, is the issue of economic hardship that we are facing here especially in northern Nigeria, so at least we should, government should first avoid the poverty. So I think when we apply these things, things will be clear.

KN84 [32609-32768]

Is by, you know, is by exercising patience, you know, displaying your good behavior to them. That is what will make them to understand you and your religion.

KN85 [46086-46865]

Yes, first, is for the leaders: both political and religious leaders to understand that we need to coexist harmoniously, they need to understand that we should live in peace, we should trust each other, we should do business with each other respecting each other's religion, culture, and tradition. Second, we ourselves have to understand that whoever tries to preach violence, whoever tries to create conflict between religions is not a true adherence of any religion because all the religions practice peace, I mean they preach peace and peaceful coexistence. We need to trust each other, we need to see each other as brothers and sisters, we need to understand that we can practice different religions, but live harmoniously, coexist peacefully and make progress together.

ZA1 [45721-46121]

A'a if you have a difficulty, you are talking about solution, we don't have difficulty. Our problem is problem of corruption, problem of corruption and illiteracy because some other politicians are using religion as tools for what, to win the election, so just try to convince them to understand that religion is not an instrument to be used in gaining people's vote, only competency and good works.

ZA2 [60136-60983]

Ahh this is just, when difficulty will be I addressed we sit one on one with, we see together getting it clear, getting it clear, make you understand this thing you are saying, this is how it is, this is the truth, this is the wrong thing and these are the evidence to tell you that it is wrong, these are the evidence to tell you that it is right and you come to get it clear. I understand myself and understand you. when am, you don't know what am saying, is not issue of going angry, is the issue of what I say I don't understand this thing and when I give you understanding difficulty have gone, we now come, yes, we now come together, we now move, but when you understand me it will continue, you start saying, irrespective of any religion, you understand the difference, understand ehen come together sit down and iron things together, yes.

ZA3 [35395-35552]

Let's try and build confidence and lets exercise patience and see how and let's understand ourselves in terms of understanding the content of each religion.

ZA4 [55246-55384]

We should have a good understanding that Islam is not there to suppress anyone, right? Islam is there to create peace. Toh Alhamdulillah.

ZA6 [82262-82767]

Hmm first the government has a responsibility of, you know, reorienting the citizens on the need to live harmoniously with each other and secondly, we ourselves, we will need to reorient ourselves and in fact the major thing is going to learn the religion properly, we both, both the Christians and Muslims only listen to what some people or some preachers tell us. We don't go to read the Qur'an and Bible to understand it, to understand the real meaning of it. So I think that should solve the problem.

ZA9 [49755-50231]

Well like they say only you can change the way others perceive you by making yourself a very good individual, like a person they can emulate not living your life anyhow, like following the right teachings of the Qur'an and not your personal interest. I believe this will bring respect and if, we have to respect other people's religion too. If all these things can be put in place, I believe there will be peaceful coexistence between Muslims and non-Muslims in the country.

ZA10 [41248-41336]

Yes, through frequent da'wa that is spreading the word of God that is Allah all the time

ZA11 [35818-35968]

Patience is the best way, you have to use patience, let them see the exact properties and nature of Islam and gradually they tend to come back to it.

ZA14 [33780-33997]

The way the difficulties can be addressed is by staying together, sharing ideas and talking more about your religion in a peaceful manner so that you can understand one another and by reading all both the scriptures.

ZA15 [33605-34106]

Yes it can be addressed by educating both the Muslims and the Christians, it can be addressed by educating them, maybe you tell their religious leaders to educate them on the need for unity, to unite because if you look at what is happening presently, in the present day, you see that there is no, that harmonious relationship is somehow missing in the hearts and minds of both Muslims and Christians. We only believe that we can still reverse back to the present day before the coming of democracy.

ZA16 [25367-25621]

These difficulties can be addressed only by going back to our previous teachings, to teach the followers on how and also to understand my religion, the Christian understands his religion and I understand his religion and he also understands my religion.

ZA17 [31726-32185]

By preaching, that is saying the right thing that Allah (SBUH) has taught us and the prophet (SAW), when we are preaching and we are dialoging with them, telling them the right path, even by viewing their own book, they are following injil, we are following injil we know what is injil, so by showing them through their book, there are so many, that is the Bible, you will see so many things that is inside which is saying the right thing through the Qur'an.

ZA18 [37315-37854]

Gaskiya me there isn't any problem provided, the most important thing is that if one should do the real tenets of his religion, gaskiya there won't be any problem. People bring sentiments, religious sentiments and if you go back to the teachings of the religion, you find out that there is a lot of differences between what this man is calling people to do and what the religion says, you understand. So if you go to school, you will learn from learned Ulamas, gaskiya you will never find yourself in any trouble, you will live in peace.

ZA19 [56553-57029]

Of course these difficulties could possibly be addressed when we, first achieve peace in the northern part of the country and we create awareness and of course ah delimit people from having a kind of ah adherence to some kind of propoganda and so many other media campaigns that people do to blackmail one religion over the other or to actually label one religion against the other. So I think these are the possible solutions that we can follow to achieve peace and harmony.

ZA20 [38084-38339]

The difficulty can be addressed and redressed by the leaders, traditional rulers, political leaders and the elites who in the God's infinite mercy if they come together and sit together and ensure the concept of justice and fair play amongst the people.

ZA21 [42259-42529]

The difficulties we enumerated can be addressed as one: Good leadership. Two: There should be harmonious working relationship and scholar should try as much as possible to tell their followers that this is the reality and this is what is applicable all over the world.

ZA24 [56781-56988]

Since I don't have any difficulties, but for instance since I don't have any difficulties with them so I cannot say much on how to address those difficulties. So I think I have answered all your questions.

ZA25 [58703-59617]

It is by making sure that we have open discussions and we practice especially the virtue of peace that Islam emphasizes, stresses and enjoins and as well that cuts across every other culture, race and religions such as honesty, trustworthiness, good neighborliness and what have you. If you just start a relationship with Christians with the differences between you and him or her you might as well have closed the door to his listening ear and he might just close his ears to you. If you just start by telling him that eh hey you are not practicing what is in the Bible or you are not a follower Jesus. He will now start asking are you not a follower of Jesus. So you have to start from the common ground. He should start seeing you as a righteous person. To a large extent in terms of your honesty, your trustworthiness, your good neighborliness and all these ones are seriously enjoined and stressed in Islam.

ZA26 [25309-25329]

Through politicians

ZA29 [56010-56183]

Well they can be addressed based on the understanding between the Muslims and the non-Muslims and also between the preachers of the two religions, simply as short as that.

ZA30 [68072-68621]

By sticking to the teaching of the holy book, as I said, Qur'an and hadith, when we sticks to them, and express the content of Qur'an and the hadith, to insha Allahu by doing so, there will be that understanding way we are not enemies, we are friends. Somebody who reminds you to do what is expected even in your book, in their book, it is haram to do prostitution, it is not good, it is haram to shed blood, it is haram to everything. So when you help them doing a such, and they will began to understand that we are a friend, we are not enemies.

ZA31 [37736-38223]

These difficulties can be addressed through religious leaders, they have to sit down and talk about the religion, talk about the differences, where there are no differences, where there are no differences, they should talk it, they should iron issues out and talk to their followers, preach to their followers that all this religions they shouldn't be biased, they shouldn't be hatred. They should live peacefully. I think by so doing that, everything, all the problem will be resolved.

ZA32 [73199-73635]

Yes they can be addressed yes by avoiding the fear, the fear in our mind and dealing with one another with what, with a trust. Let us not violate any trust. To live together is a trust from Allah, let us keep that trust intact, let us try as well as possible and I pray all this problem of northern Nigeria and other part of the world not only Nigeria only, will be resolved Insha allah by the Grace of Allah Alhamdulillah rabilalamin.

ZA33 [35285-35865]

The can be addressed by bringing two parties together, addressing them through their various religious organizations that is organizing interreligious organizations that can propagate, that can address, that can harmonize, of course that can differentiate, that can elaborate on things that makes this things difficult or conflicts arise in between them. And of course through seminars, workshops and through the use of drama, football and other things to bring harmony to the people involved that is Christians and Muslims alike in order to address these difficulties. Thank you

ZA34 [55810-56434]

Yes it can be addressed through one, the Muslims and the Christians should come together, as I said, revert back their former settlements, Christian house Muslim house. Revert back to their mode of interaction. When there is festivity the Muslims and the Christians should come together, laugh together, enjoy together like that. Three, they should revert back again to the real teaching of their religion. The Muslims and the Christians-both, they should revert back to the real teaching of the religion. That is how this thing is going to be –the difficulty is going to be eliminated and then control within our society.

ZA36 [38246-38291]

Preaching through the media and in schools.

ZA38 [50601-50969]

First and foremost what they should do is that they should establish a center, a co-existent religious center that would make it as a form of a seminar or workshop or fora or a forum whereby people would discuss the aspect of religion basically and would throw more light and awareness and other things that will, the both religion would understand themselves better.

ZA39 [64266-64762]

It can be addressed easily, one, the Christians and Muslims should understand about their religions, they should have a full understanding of the teachings of the religion. Religion does not mean you should just hate one another or you hate somebody that does not belong to your religion. Two, people should be honest in practicing their religion. If they do that, I believe every conflict that we use to have before would become a history among the people, both the Muslims and the Christians.

Th19.2: Requirements for Interreligious Harmony and Its Possibility

FG1 [52165-52191]

(Chorusly) it is possible

FG1 [52245-52256]

Tolerance

FG1 [52258-52300]

And allow them to practice their religion

FG1 [52303-52349]

Everybody should practice their religion well

FG1[52352-52381]

Respect should be there also

FG2 [40875-40946]

(F) Harmony is very possible between the Muslims and the non-Muslims

FG2 [40948-41371]

(F) We live in a society where we depend directly or indirectly on one another for every basics of life. A situation whereby the Christian might be working in a firm where I need a job he has to employ me not because I am a Muslim but because I have something to offer to him and he has something to offer to me. So harmony is very very necessary. What we need to create that harmony is to remove that personal sentiment.

FG2 [41424-41461]

- Respect for each other's religion

FG2 [41462-41481]

(F) Love and peace

FG2 [41485-41493]

Justice

FG2 [41496-41506]

Fairness

FG2 [41508-41513]

Trust

FG3 [78895-78923]

(chorus) yes it is possible

FG3 [78954-79039]

What is required is for them to be enlightened about both religion and scriptures.

FG3 [79040-79076]

Everybody's right must be protected

FG3 [79080-79104]

Their religious rights

FG3 [79106-79168]

People should understand their religions before practicing it.

FG3 [79172-79215]

People should know the dos and the don'ts.

FG3 [79217-79591]

And at the same time as these people said, the scholars, those that the people believe in, they should publicly come out and say that yes you people can have peace among yourselves, because all believe that what we believe today is what mallam said or what pastor says. It is the only thing it is the saying of God. So when the say it we believe that nothing in this world...

FG3 [79593-79632]

Let everybody go back to the scripture

FG3 [79633-80089]

Now everybody has began to do away with the saying of those pastors and mallams, if you remember the just concluded election. I think in the history of Nigeria there is no time that a single party dominated the two regions unless maybe after the election then they will amalgamate but this time around people of Nigeria became one and voted for one person. So I think when this government maybe do the right things I think the effect of it will be felt.

KD1 [61468-61680]

Is very possible because since it has happen before, it can happen again. What is simple is mutual understanding and when there is any challenge there should be dialogue and everything, I believe will be solved.

KD2 [33202-33503]

It is. This harmony is possible actually. A harmonious relationship is very possible to exist among the non-Muslims and the Muslims alike and what is most important here for this harmonious relationship to exist is love. Love for one another, love for the country, and love for peace and development.

KD3 [24178-24273]

There is no limit, but the main thing is that everybody should respect one another's religion.

KD4 [55854-56080]

It's possible and the thing that is needed is enlightenment, awareness and knowledge because I believe that now the lack of knowledge especially is the back bone, it is the main bone on contention that is bringing the conflict.

KD5 [31793-31966]

The harmony is possible, as I mentioned earlier, the harmony can be achieved through enlightenment, education, and also if poverty can be eradicated, it will also contribute

KD6 [50461-50573]

It's possible but we have work. It need a great work and still dialogue. To know who I am and know who you are.

KD7 [39642-39663]

It is very possible.

KD7 [39690-39735]

When there is justice, anything is possible.

KD8 [71734-72767]

Very possible, we need knowledge, we need to be educated both western and in terms of the religion. We need to be educated, we need to be exposed, we need to leave our comfort zone and be mixing up with them and they need to be mixing up with us. Like a Christian needs to be living around Rigasa so that they will understand the Muslims not that when they, the moment they hear of Muslims, they feel that these are objects of hate and Muslims need to be living around Sabo and all that so that they will be comfortable with them. So, we should not be living in our comfort zone, we should be going out to be exposed so that we understand how the other person feels about his own religion and then we also understand how we feel about them so that good understanding will be established and we will relate well. So there is a need for us to be exposed, to be going outside our comfort zone and there is a need for us to be educated. We need to be educated, we need to be knowledgeable, and we need to understand the religion itself.

KD9 [49087-49304]

Education, education, serious education and please the media should take it easy. Education, leave it you know let true Ulamas come on air to speak about the religion and not carrying rumors or spreading propaganda.

KD10 [37598-37692]

It is possible if we respect the religion of each other, and we did not transgress the limit?

KD12 [40844-40995]

Yes we have been marketing together, we have been working together in offices, it is only, the harmony can be averagely done, but not in totality yah.

KD13 [19283-19442]

It is possible if we all abide by the truth because apart from the scripture mankind knows what is truth and mankind knows what is justified for their living.

KD14 [24929-24979]

It is possible now and there is nothing required.

KD15 [32049-32388]

Ah it is possible and why I said so is that if we can follow the laws and rules of God, that means obeying the Qur'an, obeying the Qur'an and ah I think Christians and Muslims will live peacefully not follow self control or self interest. I think if they can follow the law of God, both the Christians and the Muslims things will be okay.

KD16 [20029-20149]

It is possible, very, very possible. All they need is education and tolerance, they need education they need tolerance.

KD16 [20942-21152]

I think I have answer those questions I say it is possible what they need is education and tolerance of each other and leave each other to God whatever you do they should be accountable to God not human being

KD17 [58194-58594]

You understand, the harmony is very, very possible because it has been there before so it is very, very possible just look at the back what was the reason why they lived harmoniously, everybody respects each other's religion and there is what we call inter-tribal marriages and also respect for each other's religion were some of the reasons for the harmony coexistence that was experienced before.

KD19 [39427-39997]

Well, what is required is just love and tolerance. Yes it is possible if we could all love one another, if we could follow the teachings of the prophet, the Sunna of the prophet that says none of you is truly a believer until he likes to his to his brother Muslim what he likes to himself, none of you, in another narration, they said none of you is truly a believer until he likes to his neighbor what he likes to himself. The thing here is they said neighbor, they didn't specify. The first narration was a Muslim, this one is your neighbor could be a non-Muslim.

KD20 [32459-32534]

The harmony is possible and the Muslims and Christians can live together.

KD20 [32556-32787]

The Muslims and non-Muslims can live together in peace if there is understanding and mutual tolerance, if we can be able to understand each other, I think there will be peace and we will live in harmony in that state or countries.

KD21 [32740-33001]

I think its understanding, understanding, let's have a good education no source of this misunderstanding, get to the root, wipe them out and ensure they don't have a ground to be cultivating any more. I think we are going to live harmoniously with each other.

KD23 [30178-30280]

Yes it is very possible, it is very possible because you do your religion and I do my religion, yes.

KD24 [88134-89083]

s possible, actually we need to bring back our senses into our body into our hearts if things are happening the way they are not supposed to be happening we should not just be thinking with our senses and hearts, we should not be thinking with our hearts only, we should be sending the information into our senses that why is this thing happening? Before it doesn't use to happen, why now? Definitely there should, there must be cause for that thing that is happening, we should look for the problem then the need arise why? From who, from which location? We should go there and see what happened? Who is the cause? We should take action on him, we should, if he is to be removed from that place, change, we should, but to just go and take weapons and start fighting ourselves if we see this one ask what is the cause of this fighting me I just see my people going out with weapons I just try to help them, but I don't know what is happening, see.

KD25 [99449-99699]

Is possible, forbearance, in as much as we are ready to forbear, forbearance and tolerance these two words. Forbearance and tolerance in as much as ah we are ready to forbear and to tolerate one another that is all we will live in peace insha Allah.

KD26 [34844-35253]

Yes it is possible. I think what is required is that everybody practices what he believes in, but without trying to derogate the other party's religion because it will definitely cause conflict when you say my religion is better than yours or your religion is better than mine, so why not everybody do believe in what he or she believes in as long as you don't harm my religion I won't harm your religion.

KD27 [34630-34638]

It is.

KD28 [42317-43088]

It is possible and what I have earlier said when you seek knowledge and you understand what you are doing and you know that yes this is it, this is the implication on this then if you are true to go by it then you will be able to live with your own neighbor ,with whoever, whether a Muslims or non-Muslim. Then you will be able to live together. And then the understanding, let men understand you and you too understand me. This is your own way of life, this is my own way of life because I don't, if my own religion does not allow me to embarrass you, to oppress you, and if I don't use my religion to oppress you, my own is to use my wisdom, the knowledge I have to pray to God and then guide me so that at least I can put you aright if I see you going the wrong way.

KD29 [27761-27944]

Is possible if we will retract ourselves back to the period where harmony existed between Muslims and Christians and then ah find a point of reconciliation to our present situation.

KD30 [51040-51323]

It is very much possible, it is very, very much possible, but I think the requirement is good understanding of both religions; both the Muslims have to understand their religion first before even knowing other party's religion so that they can respect their beliefs and differences.

KD31 [24687-24767]

Is just for me to understand your religion and you understand mine, that is it.

KD32 [36797-37694]

Yah it is very possible, first of all there should be justice in the leadership ah mostly these eh during this democracy era no certain people should deny their own rights and give all people the privileges they deserve and if this is given, when there is justice, you should expect peace, if you are opportuned to be a leader and you found out that the people you are representing among them there are some Muslims, so try as much as you trying to protect their own interest, you shouldn't deny them their own interest, so you shouldn't be looking at their own religions and trying to favor others in terms of them. This is what brings, this is what causes all these eh conflicts. So when there is justice and there should be tolerance, when there is justice there must be peace, so I believe justice in leadership, justice in representation will give peace irrespective of religious difference.

KD33 [31293-31551]

Yah this harmony is possible, harmony is possible as for, harmony is possible to for non-Muslims and Muslims to live together because we have lived together before with harmony and everything, so if we can go back as we are before, harmony will still exist.

KD34 [40067-40261]

Is very possible, is very possible and what will be required is understanding, is understanding and again the leaders when I use the word leaders earlier I mean both the imams and the pastors.

KD35 [38426-38908]

Yes the harmony is possible once the Christian is God fearing, the Muslims are God fearing, they treat each other with respect, they teach, they treat each other with respect with concern I mean without been myopic, without been ahh self centered thinking people, consider other people, consider other religions, whatever you are doing you should consider yours to respect each other, respect each other's religion. live within truth way of living I think there should be normalcy.

KN1 [79498-79828]

By understanding and practicing their religion according to their books not according to their opinion and selfish interest or understanding but according to their books as ordained by their creator. Let each party understand his religion and practice it according to divinity not according to opinion and self interest, simple.

KN2 [45654-46185]

It is possible because it happened in the past. It can happen now. It is possible only when politicians don't provoke their follows. If a governor will provoke his followers to vote for him because he is a Christian in the church and a governor will provoke Muslims at the jumaat sermon or other preachers to provoke Muslims so that they vote for so so person into power there is not going to be harmony. That is why I said that the committee should go round and ensure that it sends a warning to the politicians on such attitude.

KN3 [39203-40153]

Let the people elect good leaders. The answer is yours actually you the young people tomorrow is yours. You are the leaders of tomorrow. You are the answer. You are the solution to the problem. You are the panacea to our ills. You are the vanguard of the revolution. There must be a revolution and I call not for a bloody or violent revolution. I am calling for a bloodless non-violent revolution like that of Mahatma Ghandi when he led his revolution with his philosophy of Satiya Graha-non-violent resistance. We have recently had a revolution you know, non-violent revolution. The election is a revolution. This is the kind. If young people like you, tomorrow is yours you can pave the way for a good tomorrow, you can mar the future, you will inherit whatever you do. If you make up your mind to refuse to succumb to the machinations of selfish and greedy leaders and you stand firm and elect good leaders you will have a change for the better.

KN4 [58798-59564]

Is possible and is love and justice. Those that are in the authority are the cause of the problem because the common man in Nigeria of any of religion is loving person, they love themselves, they live together, they are related, they share happiness and sadness, they live together in wideness, they love themselves before. It is only the government if I have been cheated and the person is from my own ethnic group, I should bring him to justice and justify him accordingly, the other ethnic group would be ok with me and be satisfied but if there is bias or I look at the crisis in an unbiased fashion, it would affect the entire scenario, it would affect the entire community so I think that justice is necessary and being just and justice can solve the problem.

KN5 [38950-39045]

Yes it is possible if each of the religion would respect the provision of the other religion.

KN6 [45249-45593]

Yes it is possible I say just the answer is you can answer all the way that you can take all my previous answer. This harmony can be happen when we practice this justice, when we remove or we reduce the level of illiteracy, the level of poverty. So, we can do all this when you, when we remove all the grudges of our mind. So, we can do this.

KN7 [40228-40483]

Harmony is definitely possible. In every setting harmony is possible. So as far as we both understand ourselves. We understand that yes as a Muslim this is our dos and don'ts and as a Christian this is my dos and don'ts. So then harmony is possible, yes.

KN8 [37153-37278]

Hmm, it is very possible it depends on the perseverance of the Muslims and the level of accommodation they can give to them.

KN9 [33282-33566]

This is possible of course. All it has to take is for the leaders to come to a consensus and actually settle your differences in order to move forward yah. I would basically suggest they come to an understanding because it is lack of understanding that causes all the contradictions.

KN10 [27385-27991]

Harmony ahm, the only way is by being educated because sometimes lack of education brings a lot of misunderstanding. And also lack of poverty maybe you may find that a Christian is suffering from poverty and he is always looking at some Muslims in wealthy, so he use to jealous and he just need a chance, once he gets a chance he can eliminate them so, but if ehm they are educated, they would not care, they would not even care because they are now wise and they would always need something that would bring peace, even then they can create the way that they can live in peace without having any trouble.

KN11 [35316-35783]

Yes, it is very possible. This can be done by educating people to know the actual, the actual-because Islam-what Islam is teaching all about is to know your God. This Christians, they have held the view that Jesus Christ is God well, as a Muslim you know that Jesus Christ is not God, so you can discuss, you can discuss it in a polite way. Look at Ahmad Deedat how he propagated Islam without any conflict and he converted a lot of Christians to the house of Islam.

KN13 [38450-38788]

What is required is ehm it is actually, let me call it ehm, there should be, there should be uhm institutions set up for communication, there should be communication channels, that should be the most important thing that should be required whereby there would be the major channels to pass information when they are having opposing views.

- KN14 [32380-32442]
No it is it is not possible, conflicts can only be minimized.
- KN15 [26722-26758]
Simply by understanding each other
- KN16 [16120-16188]
To understand of each other, it's just to understand of each other.
- KN17 [31599-31653]
Yah it's possible except in some crisis ridden area.
- KN18 [54811-54843]
Respect for each ones religion.
- KN19 [35601-35622]
Yes it is possible.
- KN19 [35646-35737]
Only if they can even understand and study the concept of Islam itself which preaches peace
- KN20 [26086-26135]
Just understand yourselves and know your limits.
- KN20 [26171-26186]
It is possible
- KN21 [18648-18668]
Loving one another
- KN21 [18709-18729]
Yah it is possible.
- KN22 [36612-37055]
Tolerance. What is required is tolerance. There should be tolerance between Muslims and non-Muslims and there should be trans-valuation of all values. Ah this is the ability to respect and accept the values of the adherence of Christianity and the ability to respect the values of another religion, Islam. So when there is this respect of values and there is this utmost tolerance among people, I think that will definitely solve the problem.
- KN22 [37092-37112]
Harmony is possible
- KN23 [24740-24843]
In northern Nigeria, Well it all depends on individual differences, you just have to change yourself.
- KN23 [24875-24894]
Yah it is possible
- KN24 [23321-23394]
Hmmm good minds and absence of greed, Yes
- KN25 [36802-37031]
Well I think the most important thing here has to be everyone should have the right to practice his or her religion within the spheres of their confine. So I think if that is done, it will go a long way in solving the problems.
- KN25 [37063-37155]
Yah this harmony is possible. It was possible. It happened before so it could still happen.
- KN26 [41941-41993]
Simple, respect the tenets of each other's religion
- KN26 [42036-42225]
It is very possible. You see for instance there are local governments here in Kano that have some Christian population in them reasonable to some extent and they live largely peaceful, yes
- KN27 [30010-30034]
Mutually understanding
- KN27 [30071-30165]
Yes it is possible for as long as you understanding yourselves and you see yourselves as one.
- KN28 [22605-22669]
The need a mutual consent, cooperation and relativity I believe
- KN28 [22702-22753]
Yah it is possible as long there is understanding
- KN30 [20416-20485]
They should tolerate each other and be peaceful in their interaction
- KN30 [20521-20532]
Yes it is
- KN31 [39134-39667]
It is very, very possible that is what I have said, first thing first, we have to understand these religions. We need to go and read. The Muslims should go and read what is Christianity, the Christians should go and read what is Islam. By the time we have an understanding of these things, I think that will allow us-since we have understood, you know, this is what is his religion allow him to do his religion. This is what is their religion allow them to practice it. I think by so doing things will move smoothly and harmoniously
- KN32 [19173-19253]
Understanding, enlightenment and sacrifice with good followers of the religion.
- KN32 [19293-19390]
very very possible, very very possible as I said it has happened before and why can't it happen.
- KN33 [14118-14194]
Yes it is possible; they should organize and respect each other's religion.
- KN34 [26179-26416]
Yes it is possible. It's just justice. Once -anything that you see in the world, any crisis, any conflict is as a result of injustice once the leaders are going to be just then I am telling you is something that is going to be achieved.
- KN35 [25016-25278]

What is needed most is to trust one another or the things both Muslims and non-Muslims to trust themselves likewise religious tolerance is very important. So when you recognize their religion they also feel that they are being together, so there will be peace.

KN35 [25312-25341]

Yah the harmony is possible.

KN36 [24825-25282]

They can live in harmony; harmony is possible but first of all our government has to do justice. They should not use religion or hide under the umbrella of religion to be doing their campaign and be carrying their political activities. They should make sure that, they should ensure that whatever they want to do they should fear almighty Allah first. The almighty Allah fearing first or believe in almighty Allah, Iman should be their first cardinal point.

KN37 [23937-23946]

Justice.

KN37 [23968-24007]

It is possible if justice is applied.

KN38 [17951-18302]

Yes it is possible and what is required is creation of awareness we should bring to the people. Most of the people that try to create conflicts are, I will not say illiterates, they are people who do not have the basic knowledge of the religion which try to let them understand that religions do not preach conflicts they preach peace and compassion.

KN39 [27945-27985]

Yes of course this harmony is possible

KN39 [28039-28097]

Really of course we need a peaceful and equal leadership.

KN40 [22133-22334]

Yes. I believe both Muslims and non-Muslims have their rules and regulations that guide their religion in which everybody should just try to follow the rules and regulations in order to bring harmony.

KN41 [19223-19385]

Yes it is very possible as I said earlier that respect for each other's religion is the most important aspect and vital yard stick that can lead to that harmony.

KN42 [51203-51589]

The requirement eh first and foremost is, we should be at peace. All religion is from God. We should know we are worshipping God and God has always preached that we be in peace with one another. We should be at peace all the time. Once there is peace, there is love and there is love, there is harmony, and then when there is harmony, there is justice and then tolerance build itself.

KN43 [36583-36921]

Yes ah, the harmony is possible based on the three reasons or conditions. One, both Muslims and Christians should understand the teachings of their religion. Two, they should respect each other. Three, government should create a kind of, you know, forum where the two believers would come together and interact and understand each other.

KN45 [42737-43285]

Yah, the harmony is possible and eh is not eh even to say is not possible. Eh the root cause as I said before can be attributed to maybe eh the politicking in the land, in the land because before there was no this type of conflicts between the Christians and the Muslims in the north, and eh in the near future, in the near future if we have a good leadership, if we have a good leadership I think this issue of conflict between Christians and Muslims in the country or specifically in the northern Nigeria would be a thing of the past, yes.

KN46 [63484-64398]

It is possible, very, very possible. It is to respect ah one another and to respect their religions and their convictions and also to seek to abide by the laws but like I said before, the bottom, the biggest problem ah that is standing in the way of this harmonious life is our political leadership. They seem to be taking advantage of these religious differences to foment trouble and to cause all sort of conflicts. So, to me, it is very, very, all hands must be on deck in order to achieve that and I am not saying it is easy, but it is possible, very, very possible because we had achieve that before, and it is achieved in other climes, so why are we so different from others? I don't think we are all human beings, we have similar feelings, we have similar aspirations, we are like any other human beings. So I don't think we are different from other people, we can live harmoniously ah with one another.

KN47 [60435-60949]

Yah, it is possible, is possible because before we use to have it and nowadays we have some element in the socio you know ah social coexistence of the group you know. So we think that if we have some factors that will simply favor that harmonious relationship, we can have it and the ah, what do we call it, what do you say is this is want to say ah what is required to live in harmonious relationship between Muslim and non-Muslims is the value and the respect of other people's culture and religion, simple.

KN48 [20510-20648]

Hmm, what require is no, not much I think they respect each other like I said earlier and they they should still understand their selves.

KN49 [31124-31159]

Justice, it is possible, justice.

KN50 [18125-18163]

Yes respect for one another's belief.

KN50 [18284-18360]

Kai the way they live is uncomfortable because of lack of misunderstanding.

KN52 [61211-62259]

What is required to live harmoniously between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is first and foremost respect. You should have respect for people who do not belong to your own religion. So whether you are a Muslim, you should respect Christians and other non-believers or non-Muslims as well. They don't have to be Muslims for you to respect them and if you are a Christian you should also respect Muslims as well. And the other thing is that people should learn the religion of other people who are not members of their own religion. So in that way I think it would encourage understanding and mutual understanding because in most cases this sort of misunderstanding emanate from ignorance of the other, most of the people who complain about Islam today in northern Nigeria do not understand what Islam is. So the idea that Islam is a violent religion, terroristic religion, terrorist religion and things like that, is all ignorance because anyone who understand what true Islam is would know that Islam is not a religion of terrorists

KN54 [13294-13324]

It is possible. Understanding

KN55 [15790-15868]

Yes. It is possible. We can understand ourselves and we can live peacefully.

KN56 [27302-27776]

Yah harmony between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern-Nigeria is very possible and what I think is required are too many things. There should be understanding first of all, there should be tolerance, the followers of this major two religions in Nigeria should be knowledgeable, they should go in quest of knowledge because it is only when they have full knowledge that they would come to understand that both Islam and Christianity doesn't in anyway encourage violence.

KN57 [22068-22357]

You see, respecting one another's religions and tolerant with one another would bring harmony towards the development and peace in our great country Nigeria especially in northern Nigeria where there is misunderstanding, where there is conflict, where there is insecurity in the North

KN58 [48913-49231]

Yes it is possible if the Christians would stop impinging the Muslims, if they should stop looking for crisis. In the history of crisis in Nigeria or northern Nigeria, there has never been a day or a time when Muslims started the crisis, it is the Christians that mostly start this crisis because they want crisis.

KN59 [53470-54023]

Yes the harmony is possible, the reason is that if our imams you understand can forget about our differences and preach peace all the times, we can live in harmony with our Christians, we are all Nigerians, you can see in a family that there are Christians and there are Muslims, they are family, I mean they are of the same family, having the same father and mother but this one is a Muslim and this one is a Christians. So it's all about our cleric men to preach peace forgetting about the differences. Their preaching should basically be on peace.

KN60 [38558-38714]

It is very, very possible because the prophet (SAW) lived with non-Muslims, so Muslims should live in harmony with non-Muslims anywhere he finds himself.

KN61 [20178-20235]

Yah, it can be possible to some extent on condition maybe

KN62 [61682-62851]

The harmony is possible first and ah ah the Christians and the Muslims to live harmoniously in the northern Nigeria, in the northern part of the country is something that can be done with a kind of good effort put by a leader. If we have an understandable leader, a leader who is very well meaning, a good one with a kind of all principles, all the principles we may need with a leader, you understand, all the qualities we may need with a leader just like ah ah Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa and ah Sardauna of Sokoto, this people united the Christians and the Muslims alike and ah I think even this General Muhammadu Buhari can do that because even in his house, you see his driver is said to be a Christian and there is even a Christian in his kitchen cooking for him, you understand. So it is just like that, like what Sardauna did. You go and practice your religion, but when we meet as Nigerians, we discuss Nigerians issues, but privately go do your religion and you shouldn't infringe my right when it comes to ah religion or religious matters in the public affairs and I should not infringe yours too when it comes to public affairs, yes, that is what I believe.

KN63 [53407-54552]

Is possible, is very possible. Ahh one of those things that we should, there should be proper understanding of oneself, now understanding maybe the Christian faith, understanding the Muslim faith, this is what Islam says I mustn't encroach into ah what they doesn't like huh just as I said the other time, our own holy book is very, very important to us, for somebody to now tear pages of Qur'an and be abusing it, is not or somebody to be abusing our prophet, all those things are not. So if somebody, if they can guard against all these, and the same thing applies, is applicable to Muslims because I can remember one of the hadith says ah the prophet was advising his followers that ah something like eh don't abuse another person's religion because there might be another person, huh huh, it is a verse of Qur'an so if you abuse a person's religion, don't be surprised, they will abuse your own religion back. So and you have no anything to say about that because there is no way I can stay and somebody abuse my religion and just keep mute, I have to reply him or her, something like that, so proper understanding of one person's religion.

KN64 [30596-30606]

Yes, hmm.

KN65 [37866-38368]

What is required is understanding. I should never criticize your religion because I don't know much about your religion, you understand. We should believe that we are all serving God, a Muslim is serving Allah and a Christian is serving God, but they all mean the same thing, in Arabic they all mean Allah. So you can see a non-Muslim in Arabic will say Allah you understand, so if only we can try as much as possible to understand each other's religion very well, so I think we can live harmoniously.

KN66 [26478-26539]

Is very possible and what is required is just understanding.

KN67 [28163-28529]

Yes it is possible. There are so many things that we need. Actually if we can have the order of the country, the country has to be restored in order that is the issue of the economy, the example of electricity, the lack of social infrastructures and others, then people would mind their business. They won't try to create a problem. So I think these are necessary.

KN68 [13257-13294]

Yes, it is possible, understanding.

KN69 [49689-49851]

Good governance. Trust worthiness. Our leaders and our traditional rulers and our Ulama, our pastors are to make sure that they put God fearing in their minds.

KN71 [79814-80061]

Yes, what is required is one: the understanding of individual religion and the understanding of individual differences and the understanding of individual rights to live in a land that is called Nigeria, when we do that, the harmony is possible.

KN72 [41096-41392]

It is possible and what is required is that trustworthiness, so each and every one trust at, should be trusted. So then willingness to live together and peaceful coexistence, each and every of them believe and will have a will to live together peacefully. So they can live without any conflict.

KN73 [42113-42264]

This harmony is very, very possible. Whenever there is understanding between Muslims and non-Muslims that is all. They will sit and live harmoniously.

KN74 [51780-51965]

If you can remember you said previously in Nigeria we lived peacefully, it means that it can be possible. If we lived before peacefully, now we can live peacefully, nothing can change.

KN75 [54590-54612]

Yes, it is possible.

KN75 [54679-55566]

Is tolerance and perseverance between the Muslim and non-Muslims. If we can tolerate ourselves, we can be able to live peacefully, you understand, let me ehh put one thing, this peace and conflict you see, this conflict you see in the northern Nigeria is heritage from the western colonials, you understand, they distorted the state in the into our mind, before the Christian and the Muslim have been living peacefully in the, in Nigeria in particular, not only in northern Nigeria we have been living peacefully, there is nothing like robbery, we do trans in ehh ehh exchange by barter, we do things together even when there is a ehh ehh festival, Islamic festival, they do celebrate with us and other things, we share food, we share a lot of things to the but now that things have died off between the Muslims and the Christian because of the distortion they have put into our mind.

KN76 [47404-47586]

It is very possible because it happened before and all it takes is for all to embrace each other and to agree that the other has the right to live his life and to live his religion.

KN78 [65130-65525]

Is very possible because it has happened. Look at ehh, during the time of Sardauna, I think you can see even non-Muslims living in the north, agree in one north, but then how suddenly do they now disagree in this middle belt politics, is a result, direct result of the inability, unwillingness of some of those leaders to address issues that Sardauna succeeded in addressing during his lifetime.

KN80 [48735-48939]

Is possible because the religion, Islamic religion touches ah teaches justice and simplicity. So if we if Muslims will abide by the commandment attached to this ah aspect, people will live harmoniously.

KN81 [34037-34227]

It is possible and only thing it requires is good understanding between them that is Muslims and non-Muslims. If there is a good understanding they can live peacefully without any conflict.

KN82 [34190-34247]

It is possible, it is possible, justice and benevolence

KN83 [26225-26516]

Of course is possible, but this can only be solved through, the government at least should use the pastors and the sheikhs so and teach them how they should preach in such way that they should not temper or they should not make, they should not touch the areas that would create conflicts.

KN84 [28484-28653]

Yes, yes it is possible because we even see the positive side of it now as we are praying to have a good leader and we are now through with a good leader.

KN85 [41921-42168]

Yes what is required for both sides is understanding, tolerance and respect for each other's religion. And this harmony is possible, nothing is impossible unless we don't want it happen. If we want live peacefully actually we can live peacefully.

ZA1 [41580-41796]

What required is for everyone to seek peace and stability. Let us reduce corruption. Let the leaders on top to know that definitely they will not, they will rule by the rule of law. This is a problem of corruption.

ZA2 [54175-54201]

Is possible, is possible

ZA3 [31843-32243]

It is very possible, it is very possible. The serious challenge has been our leaders as a typical poor Christian or Muslim family we don't have, we just have our three square meals go and sleep majority of this crisis are as a result of political meandering who want to hold on to power or want get to power by all means and will now be insinuating their local people to react on false allegations.

ZA4 [52039-52154]

Allow every religion to practice it own thing, there should be justice so that they should not oppress each other.

ZA4 [52189-52360]

Because of the bad preaching of the bad scholars and also the society, the media and all that have created problems and conflicts in this, so it will be very difficult to...

ZA5 [34815-34855]

Yes by preaching peace all the time.

ZA6 [75968-76352]

It is very possible, you know, we have to like what ah reorientation of the mind now, we have to try as possible to reorient ourselves hmm to like change our minds into, you know, loving each other instead of hating each other, to understand that peaceful coexistence if it's there, you live happily and then, you know, you are even more successful in whatever endeavors you pursue.

ZA7 [41888-42162]

Yes what is required is to sincerely avoid being manipulated by politics, by historical past of crisis and conflicts, religious or whatever conflicts they have had before and try to know all peacefully. I think if we do that we can live harmoniously. It could be achieved.

ZA8 [80146-82621]

I think basic understanding of knowledge is required that is number one. We need more scholars true scholars of religion and two, we need God fearing leaders because there cannot be crisis when there are God fearing leaders and one thing with this crisis is, in every crisis you see, there must be a leader that is inciting it, a man of power that will back them up that whatever happens they should not fear or whatsoever that nothing is going to happen to them. So if we have God fearing leaders people that when they talk people listen. We have, we use to have one here in Zaria Sheikh Albani, there was a time that riot was about to break in Zaria, they have already brought out, I saw the video, they did not tell me this. People have already started, all the Muslims have started coming out that they will kill the Christians this and that, the man came out and talked, people know him as a righteous person, as a true scholar, a true mallam, when he talked he say Salama alaykum, all of them answered, they are already ready to start going for, they brought out arms whatsoever that they are going to kill all the Muslims in Zaria today ah all the Christians in Zaria, they want to go and start committing riot, he called them into order, he said they should sit down, they sat down on the ground with their what, he talked to them, he addressed them that this things are being incited by politicians, this is not a religious fight, he told them everything there that when you lose, you kill yourself, they will be benefiting, so we should not give them that privilege, everybody should go back, everybody dispersed that was how riot did not happen again. So when you have true scholars, true leaders that people listen to in a community because it starts from the grass root, gradually if you come to our community you say let's go for riot, we say we no dey go, you go. You go there they say they no dey go, you go there they say they are not going, how will it happen? It can't happen from out of thin air. So is when you have true leaders in community especially from the community level, the community through God fearing community leaders when you have them I think peace will reign and the way that have true understanding of knowledge that whenever they see that their followers or their people are being incited to go and start a war or riot, they will talk to them and they will listen, I think through that peace will reign and it is very, very possible.

ZA9 [46474-46586]

Is still one point that is required. Tolerance. If we can be tolerant of ourselves, anything can be achieved.

ZA10 [38755-38836]

Yes it is possible because when you go by the teaching everything will go fine.

ZA11 [33278-33587]

Yes, it is possible when the moral teachings of each religion are been practiced, it is possible. There is no religion that preaches war or conflict. So if the moral teachings actually are being preached and everybody practice their religion the way it ought to be, there will be harmony between two of them.

ZA12 [20717-20784]

It is possible when we understand the teachings of both religions.

ZA13 [21547-21590]

Is the understanding from both religions.

ZA14 [29628-29837]

Yes the harmony is possible when so far you can admit that any other person is your brother because of that you can easily adapt with him and agree on conditions that okay you want to stay with him like that.

ZA15 [31854-31993]

It is very much possible when they unite and give everybody his due right, freedom to do whatsoever he wants to do, but with limitations.

ZA16 [22738-22836]

Yah it is possible because you understand my religion, I understand your religion.

ZA17 [28359-28381]

It is very possible.

ZA18 [33600-33780]

It is very possible. It is very possible when we respect one another, you understand. So if these things could be done, I believe we will bring back peace and normalcy amongst us.

ZA19 [50342-52138]

It is very possible and what is require is the knowledge, the knowledge of these two religions that is when both Muslims and Christians are, I mean, are involved, you understand, or delved or ponder into knowledge seeking, most definitely all of them will be aware of what the religions, the various religions preach. Well in respect to the recent question I have just answered actually about the relationship, how can I relate with Christians in a sharia state or non-sharia state, actually just as I have said, I can marry from among the Christian brothers and sisters is because Islam has encouraged me to marry a lady from a Christian religion, I mean a Christian lady because I believe in Jesus Christ and in fact there is no religion, there is no religion on earth that make it an article of faith that is to believe all the messengers and prophet of God except Islam. It is been enshrined in the Christian Bible so also the other Islamic or the Qur'an so and none of the Christians believe in Muhammad. So we the Muslims believe in Jesus Christ and no Muslim is a Muslim if he does not believe in Jesus Christ. Islam make it article of faith to believe in Jesus Christ and all other prophets and messengers of Allah and I repeat that there is no any other religion on earth be it Hinduism, Buddhism, Shintoism or Christianity that make it an article of faith that is to believe in Jesus Christ than religion of Islam as it is confined and it is enshrined in the Christian Bible; the book of Acts chapter 3:4, the book of Acts chapter 4:30 and also the book of Matthew chapter 12:20. It has been stipulated that Jesus Christ is nothing other than the servant of God and we believe in him and no Muslim is a true Muslim without believing in Jesus Christ in his true personality and nature.

ZA20 [34463-34662]

The harmony is possible where social justice is allowed to reign. This issue of social justice is what we need in every ramification in northern Nigeria. Justice, fair play is all we need in Nigeria.

ZA21 [38317-38660]

Let me start with the second question. The harmony is possible as we said. We should live peacefully with one another. And what is required with Muslims and non-Muslims is justice and fair play. If you can treat people equally with all the sense of belonging then I suppose there is nothing that will come up as conflict or things like that.

ZA22 [32480-32810]

Yes. Living harmoniously between Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria is possible. Let everybody understand his rights and his privileges and let everybody has respect for the other. I think when there is this we continue and if there is any misunderstanding or conflict we should quickly come to dialogue and resolve it.

ZA23 [41066-41326]

The harmony is possible only where you understand your differences. The issue of let's forget our differences that will not arise but try to understand your differences and try as much as possible to respect each and everyone's opinion. That brings harmony.

ZA24 [52020-52437]

Yes it is possible. We can live harmoniously. We can live together we can be brother's keeper. So as I said it is politics that brought all these things all these conflicts all these killings to his religion. When Sardauna was governed northern state there was no religion, but now when all these politicians came they use religion to separate us. Therefore we should not allow ourselves be separated by politicians.

ZA25 [53158-54287]

The harmony is very, very possible. What is required first of all Muslims should endeavor to show non-Muslims that Islam is not a regional religion, that it is not a northern religion to start with. They should make the Christians understand that Islam is not an Arabian religion neither is it a northern Nigerian religion. It is a global worldwide religion. And they should treat the non-Muslims with respect, a lot of respect and eh justice and they should be exemplary in their practice of Islam. Because a non-Muslim does not know the meaning of la illah ha ilallah Muhammadan rasulillah if you are reciting a Qur'an they will just be looking at you. They want to see you practice it. It has to be demonstrated in your practice. There are certain things, you can say you are a Muslim you have recited the whole of the Qur'an and he finds out that you are a liar you lie a lot, that you womanize a lot, that you people you meet at beer parlors. Those are not the ways to –in that situation there will never be harmony because that peace is just a bourgeois one. The harmony is quite possible as the last line of the question.

ZA26 [23665-23684]

Yes it is possible.

ZA27 [23453-23498]

Justice and equal rights and it is possible

ZA28 [37991-38114]

It is very possible. It is very, very possible when our religious leaders choose to tell the followers the truth always.

ZA29 [52768-53560]

What is required of them is to put in their minds that they are meant to be together for them to see themselves together? And what they should understand in the first place is the two religions, these ones are saying that the prophet as in Isah alaihi salam is the God and the son of God and this ones are worshipping the father, the so-called father of the God the Christians are worshipping. So can't they even see the similarity, can't they even see the closeness? Even the two things they are fighting for, they are worshipping the two things are very close. So can't they even keep themselves closer also and think that yes God joined them together, one day they will understand the truth. Fighting will never tell you the truth, but rather make you separate. Make you hate each other.

ZA30 [62820-63795]

Yah, it is possible, but it depends on the way, may be as we are started getting, a may be as the way it just happen this 2015 January general election, may be as we keep on doing and those people we voted if they are doing the right thing, may be with the issue of this eh religious difference will come to an end because in the history of Nigeria, there is no time that one single party is involved all the major ethnic groups together unless this time around. Even during Shagari, it was after the election that they did the amalgamation, but to have a party that will involve both north and south; I think this is the first time. This is the first time that we had a party that involves both north and south together. So, this is the first time. So by doing this practice, if those people elected into power as long as they did or they will do the right things, may be the effect of that differences will reduce to some certain level but it cannot happen over time.

ZA31 [34206-34264]

Yes, it is possible, by respecting each other's religion.

ZA32 [68215-68587]

Yes, living in harmony is possible. Living in peace is possible and the things required here, and the things required here is what, are the issue of protecting one's dignity, we should protect the dignity of one another. Let us not, let us not what, let us not fight one another. Let us protect the dignity of one another, let us abide by the teachings of our religion.

ZA33 [30065-30613]

Yes it is possible to harmonize Muslims and non-Muslims in northern Nigeria through proper coordination of both parties, through conferences, lectures, through interreligious organizations that is between the Muslims and non-Muslims. So bringing out some papers and delivering at the conferences and making sure that the religious preachers of the various religions preach peace and harmony in their respective domains; and of course in their various places of worship, and to encourage that in the total – the generality of the entire community.

ZA34 [49000-50223]

Yes it is possible. One, they should come together know maybe their weaknesses and their differences that is one. Two, understand the teachings of their religions. I always emphasize on knowledge because knowledge is the key for living in peace because you know your religion, I know my religion. I know my dos and know my don'ts, you know your dos and you don'ts then we try to abide by our dos and the don'ts that is one. Leave or fish out all the selfish desire that will bring conflict just because of the worldly maybe this, this we should remove it, remove it from our heart and come together. Then by coming closer, interacting with one another, for example, after that crisis of-religious crisis of ah 80s and 90s you find out that even the settlements is now changing. Christians are dominating one side, Muslims are dominating one side. Unlike before you see one house belong to a Muslim the next house belongs to a Christian whereby the children between the Christians and the Muslims they are all coming together. The neighbor and the neighbor are coming together, but now one side for Christians, one side for Muslims. That is not the way the religion taught us about. Rasul (SAW) has a neighbor a Jew.

ZA35 [23218-23272]

Yes it is possible, they can still live peacefully.

ZA36 [36099-36292]

(She laughs) toh fa I don't know if it would be possible, but once you respect my religion and I respect your religion, I don't see if there is going to be any conflict, we respect each other.

ZA37 [39465-39566]

Yes of course it is possible. It is just for them, it is just the best understanding for each other.

ZA38 [46612-46789]

Yes what is required for them is understanding and trust. And in the aspect of possibility, I agree it is possible when you know your right as a neighbor and you work with it.

ZA39 [58528-59102]

It is very, very possible because it has existed before. So when one observes the rights, observes and respects the rights and interests of one another and when politicians, when we understand or when we orient ourselves or when the Muslims and Christians are oriented on the divide and rule that is by the politicians which promote religious conflict among themselves, so when people understand that it is promoted not just for the peace or for the betterment of the religion, but rather the selfish interest, I believe it would work among the Christians and the Muslims.

ijtihad. This is independent reasoning. It is generally accepted as the exercise of a scholar to obtain or derive a rule of divine law from the Qur'an and Hadith without depending on the opinion of other scholars or schools of law. It is, therefore, the disciplined verdict of a jurist applicable to matters where no precedent is set by ijma or qiyas. Ijtihad was supposedly closed and theology and law were frozen by the end of 10th century (Schacht 1982) with the four schools of law firmly established (Hannafi, Shafi'i, Maliki, and Hanbali). It is the door of ijtihad more modern scholars like Maududi have opened which they claimed gave them the right to the interpretation of Islam. This perhaps provided them the avenue to a more modern interpretation of Islam which often appears at variance with traditional Islam. ikhwan. This literarily is the Arabic word for brothers. The Arabic term for Muslim Brotherhood of Egypt is Al-Ikhwān al-Muslimūn.

imam. This is the person that leads prayer in a mosque. It is also a title used for Muslim leaders.

iman. This refers to or means faith. In practical terms, it refers to belief in the six articles of faith in Islam.

injl. In Islam this refers to the true gospel bestowed upon Jesus by Allah (God). The word Injil is used in the Qur'an, the Hadith and early Muslim documents to refer to the revelations made by God to Isah (Jesus).

islah. This is the Islamic word for reform. The basis for reform is found in such suras as 7:170, 11:117, and 28:19 of the Qur'an, occurring in about 40 verses. This is seen to refer to the reformist activities of all the prophets through time sent by God to warn their communities to turn away from sin and return to God. The sense is to improve, make better or put into better position.

islam. The word means submission or surrender. It is derived from the word salaam which means peace. One who submits to Allah is called a Muslim. Islam, therefore, is the religion founded by Muhammad which calls for submission to the will of God.

istidlal. This is the process of inferring a thing from another. It is more the use of reason and logic and not from textual analogy or interpretation. It is the legal reasoning that is, in essence, not covered by Qiyas. This allows the jurist to avoid strict analogy where clear precedence cannot be found and public interest is the basis for this decision. Most Islamic schools of law affirm the use of istidlal. Some see the marriage of istihsan and istislah in istidlal.

istihsan. The literal meaning of this Arabic word is to approve or sanction or deem something preferable. In theological terms, it is the use of one's own judgment to decide the most appropriate solution to a religious problem that cannot be derived by citing or using the sacred text (Qur'an or hadith). This often comes as Islam encounters new challenges as it spreads to new territories. This is only recommended when solutions cannot be found through Qiyas or ijma. Some schools of law forbid this due to fear that incorrect interpretation will lead to error. Fundamentalists do rely on this for interpretation. It is akin to ijtihad.

istishab. The literal meaning is escorting or uninterrupted companionship. In its jurisprudential use, it means a rational proof can be assumed if there is nothing existing to the contrary. It, therefore, means that any legal position which has been proven to exist or not exist is presumed to remain so for lack of any evidence to change it. This continuation is not necessarily proven by positive evidence, but by the lack of new evidence, and it is assumed that this state will also continue in the future. For example if someone is known to be alive, and there is no news or evidence to the contrary, then he must be presumed to be alive until there is evidence of his death. The application of istishab varies in the schools of Islamic law.

istislah. This is to consider as proper. Theologically this is employed to solving confusing problems which have no clear answers from the sacred texts (Qur'an or hadith). Usually the jurist or judge reaches a decision by determining what is substantially most beneficial to the larger community (public good or interest), then to the local community and then to the individual. Generally, most Islamic schools of thought accept the usefulness or legality of this approach.

izala. This is a Muslim society originally established in northern Nigeria formally as Jama'at Izalat al Bid'a Wa Iqamat as Sunna (Society of Removal of Innovation and Re-establishment of the Sunna), to fight what it sees as the bid'a, (innovation), practiced by the Sufi brotherhoods. It was founded by Sheikh Ismaila Idris in Jos who is a student of Sheikh Abubakar Gumi. There are two types of qiyas: transparent and hidden. Often qiyas is applying a ruling to another matter of similarity. Ministry Goals and Objectives

The researcher's goal is that through the ministry of The Complete Gospel Ministry, he will train church leaders and laity on Christian-Muslim Relations for the promotion of genuine dialogue. Majority of Christian leaders in northern Nigeria do not understand Muslims and their religion in spite of the fact that they are close door neighbors. Part of the vision is also to build certificate awarding Institute for Interreligious education and center for peace and reconciliation. Christianity and Islam are evangelistic religions that do not need to be at war with each other. Islamic Da'wa need not to be a threat to Christian witness and vice versa. To achieve this, Christians and Muslims need appropriate education.
